SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2620]

ALGONQUIN GAS TRANSMISSION CO.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF FIRST MORTGAGE PIPELINE BONDS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 21st day of June A. D. 1951.

Algonquin Gas Transmission Company ("Algonquin"), a subsidiary of New England Gas and Electric Association, a registered holding company, having filed an application-declaration and amendments thereto pursuant to sections 6 (b) and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rule U-50 promulgated thereunder with respect to the following proposed transactions:

Algonquin, a natural gas pipeline company, proposes to issue and sell privately to insurance companies $24,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Pipeline Bonds, 3¾ percent series, due 1971. Under certain circumstances described below, the company may issue and sell an additional principal amount of such bonds not to exceed 15 percent of the $24,000,000 specified above. The names of the companies to which the bonds are to be sold and the respective amounts of bonds to be sold to each of them, subject, in the cases of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company and New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, to a possible increase of up to 15 percent of each of the amounts shown and, in the case of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, to a possible increase of up to 17.5 percent of the amount shown, are as follows:

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.	$12,000,000
John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co	8,500,000
Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co	2,000,000
New England Mutual Life Insurance Co	1,500,000

The bonds are to be issued under and secured by a First Mortgage and Deed of Trust to be dated as of March 1, 1951. In accordance with the terms of a bond purchase agreement entered into between Algonquin and the purchasers, the bonds are to be sold for cash at 100 percent of principal amount, plus accrued interest, and will be issued and sold in lots of not less than $4,080,000, principal amount when and as funds are required. A commitment fee will be paid at the rate of ½ of 1 percent per annum for the unused balance of the total commitment from the date of the purchase contract to the date the commitment is exercised.

The filing indicates that the proceeds from the issuance and sale of the bonds will be used to provide a portion of the funds required for the development and construction of pipe line facilities to supply natural gas to distribution companies in New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts. It also indicates that, based on present price levels, the estimated cost of such development and construction, including an allowance of about $2,000,000 for working capital, amounts to approximately $32,000,000. Of this amount, $5,609,325 has been obtained through the issuance and sale of common stock, and subscriptions have been received for the purchase of additional common stock in the amount of $2,390,675 or an aggregate of $8,000,000.

The applicant-declarant states that the cost of labor and material and of acquiring rights of way may increase during the period of construction. In such event, Algonquin contemplates increasing its capitalization by not more than 15 percent in such a manner as to maintain the presently contemplated ratio of bonds and common stock to total capitalization of 75 and 25 percent, respectively.

Applicant-declarant requests an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50.

Said application-declaration having been filed on April 24, 1951, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said application-declaration within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said application-declaration, as amended, that all the applicable statutory standards are satisfied and that there is no basis for adverse findings, and deeming it appropriate in the interest of investors and consumers and that said application-declaration, as amended, including the request for exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said application-declaration, as amended, including the request for exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, and to the reservation of jurisdiction with respect to fees and expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions.

By the Commission.

UNITED GAS CORP. AND UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE AND GRANTING APPLICATION WITH RESPECT TO ISSUANCE AND SALE OF COMMON STOCK THROUGH RIGHTS OFFERING, ISSUANCE AND SALE OF BONDS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of June A. D. 1951.

United Gas Corporation ("United"), a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company, a registered holding company, and United's wholly owned subsidiary, United Gas Pipe Line Company ("Pipe Line"), having filed a joint application-declaration, and amendments thereto, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, with respect to the issuance and sale by United of 1,055,320 shares of its $10 par value common stock, pursuant to a rights offering to its present stockholders; the issuance and sale by United of $50,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50; the issuance and sale by Pipe Line to United of $25,000,000 principal amount of Pipe Line's 4 Percent First Mortgage Bonds, and $45,000,000 principal amount of Pipe Line's 4½ Percent Sinking Fund Debentures; and the payment by Pipe Line to United of $7,000,000 of unsecured indebtedness;

Appropriate notice having been given of the filing of the said joint application-declaration, and a public hearing having been held thereon at which evidence was received concerning the proposed transactions, and the Commission having issued its Findings and Opinion with respect to said transactions in which the Commission finds that such transactions are in accordance with the applicable standards of the Act, which Findings and Opinion are filed herewith;

It is ordered, That the joint application-declaration of United Gas Corporation and United Gas Pipe Line Company, as amended, be and is hereby granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24 under the Public Utility Holding Company Act, and subject to the further condition that the issuance and sale of the First Mortgage Bonds by United Gas Corporation shall not be consummated until a further order shall have been entered in the light of the facts shown upon the completion of the record with respect to the results of the competitive bidding.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and is hereby reserved with respect to the fees and expenses of counsel, auditors, accountants and financial agents, pending completion of the record and the entry of a further order with respect to such matters.

OSCAR F. KRAFT & CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER APPROVING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of June A. D. 1951.

In the matter of application of National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., for approval of continuance of Oscar F. Kraft & Co., in membership in the association with Carter Harrison Corbrey as a controlled person, File No. 16-1A35.

National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("the NASD"), a registered national securities association, has applied, pursuant to section 15A (b) (4) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("the act"), for our approval of the continuance of Oscar F. Kraft & Co. ("Kraft") in membership in the NASD, with Carter Harrison Corbrey as a registered representative thereof.

Appropriate public notice was given of the filing of the application and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to request a formal hearing. No such request has been filed. On the basis of our review of the record we make the following findings.

As applicable to this case, under section 15A (b) (4) of the act and Article I, Section 2, of the NASD bylaws, except in cases where the Commission approves or directs admission to or continuance in membership as appropriate in the public interest, no broker or dealer may be a member of the NASD if any person controlled by such broker or dealer is subject to an order of this Commission revoking his registration pursuant to section 15 of the act, or expelling him from membership in the NASD.

On April 12, 1949, we revoked the broker-dealer registration of Carter H. Corbrey & Co. (not Inc.), the name under which Corbrey had been engaged in business, and expelled him from membership in the NASD, pursuant to sections 15 (b) and 15A (l) (2) of the act.[1] As bases for our disciplinary actions we found that Corbrey, in willful violations of our rules and statutory provisions, had falsified his books and records and an annual financial statement and that he had used the mails to effect security transactions with customers otherwise than on a national securities exchange at a time when his aggregate indebtedness exceeded 2,000 per cent of his net capital.

Kraft, a registered broker and dealer[2] and a member of the NASD, now proposes to employ Corbrey as a salesman and has applied to the NASD for Corbrey's registration as its registered representative. Because of Corbrey's disabilities, Kraft, in accordance with the provisions of the Act and the NASD by-law previously cited, may not remain a member in the NASD with Corbrey as its controlled person except with our approval.

In its application, the NASD stated that its District Committee for District No. 2, after reviewing the entire matter, particularly the representations by Kraft as to the manner of supervision and type of activity to be engaged in by Corbrey, has recommended to the Board of Governors of the NASD that Kraft be continued in membership with Corbrey as a registered employee.[3] The application further states that the Board of Governors has approved the recommendation and has concluded that our approval of Kraft's continuance in membership would be consonant with the stated purposes and policies of the act.

After consideration of all the circumstances, and giving due weight to the recommendation of the NASD, we find it is appropriate in the public interest to approve the continuance of Oscar F. Kraft & Co. in membership in the NASD with Carter Harrison Corbrey as its registered representative.

It is ordered, therefore, Pursuant to section 15A (b) (4) of the act that the continuance of Oscar F. Kraft & Co. in membership in National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., with Carter Harrison Corbrey as a registered representative thereof be, and it hereby is, approved.

By the Commission.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2932

ENLARGING THE MUIR WOODS NATIONAL MONUMENT, CALIFORNIA

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the Muir Woods National Monument, California, was established by Proclamation No. 793 of January 9, 1908 (35 Stat. 2174), and was enlarged by Proclamations No. 1608 of September 22, 1921 (42 Stat. 2249), and No. 2122 of April 5, 1935 (49 Stat. 3443), to protect a most extraordinary growth of redwood trees (Sequoia Sempervirens) of primeval character; and

WHEREAS the said monument is comprised of various parcels of land conveyed to the United States, as donations, from time to time for national-monument purposes, as separately described and set out in the above-mentioned proclamations; and

WHEREAS the William Kent Estate Company, a corporation of the State of California, has conveyed to the United States, as a donation, a tract of land adjoining the southwesterly boundary of the monument to afford better protection to the monument and to promote its administration and development; and

WHEREAS the United States has acquired from the State of California a leasehold interest in a tract of land adjoining the southeasterly boundary of the monument to afford better protection to the monument and to promote its administration and development; and

WHEREAS there lies at the entrance to the monument a tract of land belonging to the William Kent Estate Company which is needed for additional visitor parking space and for other purposes incident to the proper development and administration of the monument and which is in process of acquisition by the United States for such purposes; and

WHEREAS it appears that it would be in the public interest (1) to enlarge the Muir Woods National Monument by adding thereto the said tract of land donated to the United States by the William Kent Estate Company and the said tract of land leased to the United States by the State of California, (2) to extend the boundaries of the monument so as to include therein such additional lands and the said tract of land owned by the William Kent Estate Company, and (3) to provide that the last-mentioned tract of land shall become a part of the monument upon acquisition of title thereto or control thereof by the United States:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 2 of the act of June 8, 1906, 34 Stat. 225 (16 U. S. C. 431), do proclaim that, subject to all valid existing rights, the lands within the following-described boundaries which are now owned or controlled by the United States shall constitute the Muir Woods National Monument, and that the above-described tract of land within such boundaries which is now owned by the William Kent Estate Company shall become a part of such monument upon the acquisition of title thereto or control thereof by the United States:

Beginning at a point shown as A-14 on the map included with and made a part of Presidential Proclamation No. 793, dated January 9, 1908 (35 Stat. 2174), establishing the Muir Woods National Monument, which is the northernmost point of the said monument as presently constituted.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Regs., Serial No. SR-363]

PART 40—AIR CARRIER OPERATING CERTIFICATION

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

PART 61—SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER RULES

LONG-DISTANCE DOMESTIC SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER OPERATIONS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of June 1951.

Special Civil Air Regulation SR-346 which currently expires June 30, 1951, provides special operating rules for scheduled air carriers operating in accordance with Part 61 at altitudes in excess of 12,500 feet above sea level east of longitude 100° W. and at altitudes in excess of 14,500 feet above sea level west of longitude 100° W. in long-distance operations. At the time that special regulation was adopted it was anticipated that a revision of Parts 40 and 61, which would incorporate provisions similar to those contained in SR-346, would be completed prior to June 30, 1951. However, while the Board's Bureau of Safety Regulation has been actively engaged in that project, the revision has not been completed. It is, therefore, deemed desirable to extend, in the interest of continuity in scheduled air carrier operations, the effective date of SR-346 until June 30, 1952, or until such earlier date as the projected revision may become effective.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this rule, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter submitted. Since this regulation imposes no additional burden on any person, it may be made effective without prior notice.

In consideration of the foregoing the Civil Aeronautics Board makes and promulgates the following Special Civil Air Regulation, effective immediately, to read as follows:

Flights of scheduled air carriers while at altitudes in excess of 12,500 feet above sea level east of longitude 100° W. and 14,500 feet above sea level west of longitude 100° W. shall comply with the applicable provisions of the Civil Air Regulations except as follows:

(a) Such flights need not comply with the requirements of § 60.45 Right-side traffic, § 61.252 Deviation from route, or any sections of Parts 40 and 61 concerning civil airways.

(b) Such flights need not comply with the requirements of § 60.43 Air traffic clearance, § 60.21 Adherence to air traffic clearances, § 60.47 Radio communications, and § 61.171 (c) Weather reports, except to the extent which the Administrator may prescribe.

(c) Each pilot in command engaged in these operations shall be qualified for the route, if he is qualified for operations over any regular authorized route for the air carrier involved between the regular terminals for such operations.

(d) Each dispatcher who dispatches aircraft on flights authorized by this regulation shall be qualified under § 61.154 of the Civil Air Regulations for operation over an authorized route for the air carrier involved between the regular terminals of such operations: Provided, That, when he is qualified only on a portion of such route he may dispatch aircraft only after coordinating the dispatch with dispatchers who are qualified for the other portions of the route between the points to be served.

This regulation supersedes Special Civil Air Regulation SR-346, and shall terminate June 30, 1952, unless sooner superseded or rescinded.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply secs. 601, 604, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended, 1010; 49 U. S. C. 551, 554)

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] M. C. MULLIGAN,
Secretary.

[Amdt. 2 to Rev. May 7, 1949]

PART 560—REIMBURSEMENT FOR DAMAGE TO PUBLIC AIRPORTS BY FEDERAL AGENCIES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following amendments are designed to implement a provision contained in the appropriation headed "Claims, Federal Airport Act", appearing in Public Law 45, 82d Congress, as follows:

• • • no request for reimbursement of the cost of rehabilitation or repair of a public airport filed under Section 17 of the Federal Airport Act shall be considered by the Secretary unless filed prior to July 1, 1951, and the Secretary shall make no certification to Congress after July 1, 1952, of the actual or estimated cost of such rehabilitation or repair.

Acting pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Federal Airport Act (60 Stat. 170; Pub. Law 377, 79th Cong.), I hereby amend Part 560 of the regulations of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics as follows:

1. Section 560.3 is hereby amended by adding a new paragraph (e) thereto, reading as follows:

§ 560.3 Eligible requests for reimbursement. To be eligible for consideration by the Administrator, a request for reimbursement must: • • •

(e) Be supplemented and supported by the supporting information and materials required by § 560.10 (a), submitted sufficiently in advance of July 1, 1952, to permit the Administrator to ascertain and determine the amount due and certify such amount to the Congress on or before July 1, 1952, as required by Public Law 45, 82d Congress (see § 560.10 (d).

2. Section 560.6 (b) is hereby amended by adding a second proviso thereto, so that said §560.6 (b) will read as follows:

§ 560.6 Time limitations. • • •

(b) No request will be considered by the Administrator unless such request is submitted within six months after the occurrence of the damage upon which such request is based: Provided, however, That in the event the damage was caused by operations of a military nature during World War II, such request must be submitted within six months after October 10, 1949, unless the airport was under the control or management of the United States on October 10, 1949, in which event the request may be submitted to the Administrator within six months after transfer of such control or management of the airport to the public agency involved: And provided further, That no request will be considered by the Administrator unless submitted prior to July 1, 1951.

3. Section 560.10 is hereby amended by adding thereto a new paragraph (d), reading as follows:

§ 560.10 Form and content of requests. • • •

(d) In order that the Administrator may have sufficient time to consider, ascertain and determine the amount due and certify such amount to the Congress on or before July 1, 1952, as required by Public Law 45, 82d Congress, all of the supplementary and supporting information and materials required by this section should be submitted to the District Airport Engineer not later than September 1, 1951.

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SEC. 141, I. R. C. CONSOLIDATED RETURNS.

(a) Privilege to file consolidated returns. An affiliated group of corporations shall, subject to the provisions of this section, have the privilege of making a consolidated return for the taxable year in lieu of separate returns. The making of a consolidated return shall be upon the condition that all corporations which at any time during the taxable year have been members of the affiliated group consent to all the consolidated return regulations prescribed under subsection (b) prior to the last day prescribed by law for the filing of such return. The making of a consolidated return shall be considered as such consent. In the case of a corporation which is a member of the affiliated group for a fractional part of the year, the consolidated return shall include the income of such corporation for such part of the year as it is a member of the affiliated group.

(b) Regulations. The Secretary shall prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary in order that the tax liability of any affiliated group of corporations making a consolidated return and of each corporation in the group, both during and after the period of affiliation, may be returned, determined, computed, assessed, collected, and adjusted, in such manner as clearly to reflect the income- and excess-profits-tax liability and the various factors necessary for the determination of such liability, and in order to prevent avoidance of such tax liability.

(c) Computation and payment of tax. In any case in which a consolidated return is made or is required to be made, the tax shall be determined, computed, assessed, collected, and adjusted in accordance with the regulations under subsection (b) prescribed prior to the last day prescribed by law for the filing of such return; except that the tax imposed under section 15 or section 204 shall be increased by 2 per centum of the consolidated corporation surtax net income of the affiliated group of includible corporations. If the affiliated group includes one or more Western Hemisphere trade corporations (as defined in section 109), the increase of 2 per centum provided in the preceding sentence shall be applied only on the amount by which the consolidated corporation surtax net income of the affiliated group exceeds the portion (if any) of the consolidated corporation surtax net income attributable to the Western Hemisphere trade corporations included in such group. For the purposes of the tax imposed by section 430, the sum of the excess profits credit and the unused excess profits credit adjustment of the affiliated group shall not be increased under the last sentence of section 431 to an amount in excess of $25,000 for the entire group.

(d) Definition of "Affiliated Group". As used in this section, an "affiliated group" means one or more chains of includible corporations connected through stock ownership with a common parent corporation which is an includible corporation if—

(1) Stock possessing at least 95 per centum of the voting power of all classes of stock and at least 95 per centum of each class of the nonvoting stock of each of the includible corporations (except the common parent corporation) is owned directly by one or more of the other includible corporations; and

(2) The common parent corporation owns directly stock possessing at least 95 per centum of the voting power of all classes of stock and at least 95 per centum of each class of the nonvoting stock of at least one of the other includible corporations.

As used in this subsection, the term "stock" does not include nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends.

(e) Definition of "includible corporation". As used in this section, the term "includible corporation" means any corporation except—

(1) Corporations exempt from taxation under section 101.

(2) Insurance companies subject to taxation under section 201 or 207.

(3) Foreign corporations.

(4) Corporations entitled to the benefits of section 251, by reason of receiving a large percentage of their income from sources within possessions of the United States.

(5) Corporations organized under the China Trade Act, 1922.

(6) Regulated investment companies subject to tax under Supplement Q.

(7) Any corporation described in section 449, or in section 454 (d), (f), and (g) (without regard to the exception in the initial clause of section 454), but not including such a corporation which has made and filed a consent, for the taxable year or any prior taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, to be treated as an includible corporation. Such consent shall be made and filed at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary.

(8) Regulated public utilities described in section 448 (d) which compute their excess profits credit under section 448 but not including any such regulated public utility which has made and filed a consent, applicable to the taxable year, to compute its excess profits credit without regard to section 448. The consent shall be made and filed at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary. The consent shall be applicable to the taxable year for which filed and to each consecutive subsequent taxable year for which a consolidated return is filed.

(f) Includible insurance companies. Despite the provisions of paragraph (2) of subsection (e), two or more domestic insurance companies each of which is subject to taxation under the same section of this chapter shall be considered as includible corporations for the purpose of the application of subsection (d) to such insurance companies alone.

(g) Subsidiary formed to comply with foreign law. In the case of a domestic corporation owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 100 per centum of the capital stock (exclusive of directors' qualifying shares) of a corporation organized under the laws of a contiguous foreign country and maintained solely for the purpose of complying with the laws of such country as to title and operation of property, such foreign corporation may, at the option of the domestic corporation, be treated for the purpose of this chapter as a domestic corporation.

(h) Suspension of running of statute of limitations. If a notice under section 272 (a) in respect of a deficiency for any taxable year is mailed to a corporation, the suspension of the running of the statute of limitations, provided in section 277, shall apply in the case of corporations with which such corporation made a consolidated return for such taxable year.

(i) Allocation of income and deductions. For allocation of income and deductions of related trades or businesses, see section 45.

(j) Includible regulated public utilities. Despite the provisions of paragraph (8) of subsection (e), two or more regulated public utilities each of which has made and filed a consent, applicable to the taxable year, to compute its excess profits credit under section 448 only, shall be considered as includible corporations for the purpose of the application of subsection (d) to such regulated public utilities alone. The consent shall be made and filed at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary. The consent shall be applicable to the taxable year for which filed and to each consecutive subsequent taxable year for which a consolidated return is filed.

§ 24.0 Introductory. (a) The regulations in this part, authorized by section 141 (b)[1] of the Internal Revenue Code, are prescribed as a supplement to the income tax regulations and the ex-

[1] In connection with the revision of section 141 of the Code as enacted by section 301 of the Excess Profits Tax Act of 1950, the report of the Committee on Ways and Means (Rept. No. 3142, 81st Cong., 2d Sess., p. 74), after describing certain substantive changes proposed, states:

"Aside from these substantive changes in section 141 for taxable years ending after June 30, 1950, and several clerical amendments to the section, the other general rules and provisions of the section are continued unchanged."

With respect to the corresponding section of the Revenue Act of 1928, the report of the Committee on Finance (S. Rept. No. 960, 70th Cong., 1st sess., p. 15) accompanying the revenue bill of 1928 contains the following statement (a similar statement being contained also in the statement of the managers on the part of the House, accompanying the conference report upon the bill, see H. Rept. No. 1882, 70th Cong., 1st sess., pp. 16–17):

"Among the regulations which it is expected that the Commissioner will prescribe are: (1) The extent to which gain or loss shall be recognized upon the sale by a member of the affiliated group of stock issued by any other member of the affiliated group or upon the dissolution (whether partial or complete) of a member of the group; (2) the basis of property (including property included in an inventory) acquired, during the period of affiliation, by a member of the affiliated group, including the basis of such property after such period of affiliation; (3) the extent to which and the manner in which net losses sustained by a corporation before it became a member of the group shall be deducted in the consolidated return; and the extent to which and the manner in which net losses sustained during the period for which the consolidated return is filed shall be deducted in any taxable year after the affiliation is terminated in whole or in part; (4) the extent to which and the manner in which gain or loss is to be recognized, upon the withdrawal of one or more corporations from the group, by reason of transactions occurring during the period of affiliation; and (5) that the corporations filing the consolidated return must designate one of their members as the agent for the group, in order that all notices may be mailed to the agent, deficiencies collected, refunds made, interest computed, and proceedings before the Board of Tax Appeals conducted as though the agent were the taxpayer."

The report of the Committee on Ways and Means (Rept. No. 1860, 75th Cong., 3d sess., p. 44) accompanying the revenue bill of 1938 (the pertinent provisions of which were reenacted without change in substance in the Internal Revenue Code) contains the following statement:

"Among the matters to be detailed in regulations which the Commissioner is expected to prescribe under the provisions of subsection (b) of this section are (a) the treatment of inter-company dividend distributions, (b) definitions of the 'net income,' the 'adjusted net income,' and the 'special class net income,' of the affiliated group, and (c) the computation of the 'net operating loss,' the 'basic surtax credit,' the 'dividend carry-over,' the 'dividends paid credit,' and the 'capital gains and losses,' insofar as these several factors may pertain to the case of an affiliated group."

In connection with the original enactment authorizing the filing of consolidated excess profits tax returns, the report of the Committee on Finance (Rept. No. 2114, 76th Cong., 3d sess., p. 17) accompanying the cess profits tax regulations applicable generally under the Code. They are applicable, in the case of all corporations (with certain statutory exceptions), to all taxable years ending after December 31, 1949. With respect to taxable years to which these regulations are applicable, they supersede all prior consolidated returns regulations.

(b) The several sections of the regulations in this part, have been given numbers corresponding respectively to the section numbers of prior consolidated returns regulations but with the Code number 24.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 24.1 Privilege of making consolidated returns. (a) Section 141 gives to the corporations of an affiliated group the privilege of making a consolidated income and excess profits tax return for the taxable year in lieu of separate returns. This privilege is given, however, upon the condition that all corporations which have been members of the affiliated group at any time during the taxable year for which the return is made consent to these regulations, and any amendments thereof duly prescribed prior to the last day prescribed by law for the filing of the return; and the making of the consolidated return is considered as such consent. The last day prescribed by law for the filing of the return includes the last day of the period of any extension of time granted by the Commissioner.

(b) The tax liability of the members of the affiliated group for the taxable year involved will be determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations to which consent is given and without regard to any changes of the rules therein prescribed made subsequent to the last day prescribed by law for the filing of the return for such year.

§ 24.2 Definitions—(a) Code. The term "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and the sections of statutory law referred to in these regulations, unless otherwise stated, are sections of that Code.

(b) Affiliated group. (1) The term "affiliated group" includes the common parent corporation and every other corporation for the period during which such corporation is a member of the affiliated group within the meaning of section 141 of the Code as amended; it does not include (i) any corporation which, under section 141, as amended, cannot be included in a consolidated return, (ii) an insurance company taxable under section 201 or 207 in the case of a consolidated return for corporations taxable under section 13, 14, or 204, (iii) a corporation taxable under section 13, 14, or 204 in the case of a consolidated return for insurance companies taxable under section 201 or 207, (iv) an insurance company taxable under section 201 in the case of a consolidated return for insurance companies taxable under section 27, (v) an insurance company taxable under section 207 in the case of a consolidated return for insurance companies taxable under section 201, (vi) a regulated public utility computing its excess profits credit under section 448 in the case of a consolidated return for corporations other than such regulated public utilities, or (vii) a corporation other than a regulated public utility consenting under section 141 (j) to compute its excess profits credit under section 448 in the case of a consolidated return for such regulated public utilities.

(2) In the case of a domestic corporation owning or controlling, directly or indirectly, 100 percent of the capital stock (exclusive of directors' qualifying shares) of a corporation organized under the laws of Canada or of Mexico and maintained solely for the purpose of complying with the laws of such country as to title and operation of property, such foreign corporation may, at the option of the domestic corporation, be treated for income tax purposes as a domestic corporation. The option to treat such foreign corporation as a domestic corporation so that it may be included in a consolidated return must be exercised at the time of making the consolidated return, and cannot be exercised at any time thereafter. If the election is exercised to treat such foreign corporation as a domestic corporation, it must be included in the consolidated return of the affiliated group of which it is a member for each consecutive year thereafter for which such group makes or is required to make a consolidated return.

(3) An affiliated group of corporations, within the meaning of section 141 of the Code, is formed at the time that the common parent corporation, which is an includible corporation, becomes the owner directly of stock possessing at least 95 percent of the voting power of all classes of stock and at least 95 percent of each class of nonvoting stock (not including nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends) of another includible corporation; a corporation becomes a member of such an affiliated group at the time that one or more members of such group become the owners directly of stock possessing at least 95 percent of the voting power of all classes of its stock and at least 95 percent of each class of its nonvoting stock (not including nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends); and a corporation ceases to be a member of such an affiliated group at the time that the members of such group cease to own directly stock possessing at least 95 percent of the voting power of all classes of its stock, or at least 95 percent of each class of its nonvoting stock (not including nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends).

(4) In the determination of the includible corporations of the affiliated group for a taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, a personal service corporation as described in section 449 or a corporation otherwise entitled to exemption from excess profits tax under section 454 (d), (f), or (g) shall be treated as an includible corporation only if it has made and filed pursuant to section 141 (e) (7) its consent to be treated as an includible corporation for such year or for a prior taxable year ending after June 30, 1950.

(5) A regulated public utility as described in section 448 (d) shall be treated as an includible corporation only if it has made and filed—

(i) In the case of an affiliated group consisting wholly of regulated public utilities or of one or more regulated public utilities together with other corporations, a consent to compute its excess profits credit without regard to section 448; or

(ii) In the case of an affiliated group consisting wholly of regulated public utilities, a consent to compute its excess profits credit under section 448 only, and without regard to sections 435 and 436.

(c) Consolidated return period. The term "consolidated return period" means the taxable year 1929, or any subsequent taxable year, for which a consolidated return is made or is required, income tax return, excess profits tax return, or both, including the period during which a subsidiary corporation is engaged in distributing its assets in liquidation.

(d) Subsidiary. The term "sudsidiary" means a corporation (other than the common parent corporation) which is a member of the affiliated group during any part of the consolidated return period.

(e) Tax. The term "tax" means the normal tax, the excess profits tax, and any surtax imposed by chapter 1, and the surtax imposed by subchapter A of chapter 2, and includes any interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to the tax, payable in respect thereof.

(f) Excess profits tax taxable year. For excess profits tax purposes, in the case of an affiliated group filing a consolidated return for the taxable year, the prior taxable years of the group shall be the prior taxable years of the common parent corporation, whether or not consolidated returns were filed and whether or not the members of the group were affiliated for such prior taxable years. For any period during which the common parent was not in existence, the taxable year of the group shall be determined with respect to such members of the group as were in existence on the basis of the annual accounting period established by the common parent for its first taxable year. If the common parent was in existence on July 1, 1950, the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group is the first taxable year of the common parent ending after June 30, 1950. If the common parent was not in existence on July 1, 1950, the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group is the first taxable year of the group ending after June 30, 1950, determined under this paragraph, during which any member of the group was in existence.

(g) Terms defined in Internal Revenue Code. Terms which are defined in the Code shall, when used in the regulations in this part, have the meaning assigned to them by the Code, unless specifically otherwise defined.

§ 24.3 Applicability of other provisions of law. Any matter in the determination of which the provisions of the regulations in this part are not applicable shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code or other law applicable thereto.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

§ 24.10 Exercise of privilege—(a) When privilege must be exercised. The privilege of making a consolidated return under these regulations for any taxable year of an affiliated group must be exercised at the time of making the return of the common parent corporation for such year. Under no circumstances can such privilege be exercised at any time thereafter. The filing of separate returns for a taxable year does not constitute an election binding upon the corporations in subsequent years. If the privilege is exercised at the time of making the return, separate returns cannot thereafter be made for such year. (See, however, § 24.18, relating to failure to comply with the regulations in this part.)

(b) Effect of tentative returns. In no case will the privilege under paragraph (a) of this section be considered as exercised at the time of making a so-called "tentative return" (made, for example, in order to obtain an extension of time for making the return required by law). However, if any such tentative return is made upon the basis of a consolidated return or a separate return, the return required by law must be made upon the same basis, unless upon the making of the return required by law (either a separate return or a consolidated return, as the case may be) the payments theretofore made and to be made are adjusted in a manner satisfactory to the Commissioner.

§ 24.11 Consolidated returns for subsequent years—(a) Consolidated returns required for subsequent years. If a consolidated return is made under the regulations in this part for any taxable year, a consolidated return must be made for each subsequent taxable year during which the affiliated group remains in existence unless (1) a corporation (other than a corporation created or organized, directly or indirectly, by a member of the group) has become a member of the group during such subsequent taxable year, or (2) subsequent to the exercise of the election to make consolidated returns, chapter 1 of the Code to the extent applicable to corporations, or these regulations which have been consented to, have been amended and any such amendment is of a character which makes less advantageous to affiliated groups as a class the continued filing of consolidated returns, regardless of the effective date of such amendment, or (3) the Commissioner, prior to the time of making the return, upon application made by the common parent corporation and for good cause shown, grants permission to change.

(b) Effect of separate returns when consolidated return is required. If the making of a consolidated return is required for any taxable year, the tax liability of the members of the affiliated group shall be computed in the same manner as if a consolidated return had been made, even though separate returns are made; amounts assessed upon the basis of separate returns shall be considered as having been assessed upon the basis of a consolidated return; and amounts paid upon the basis of separate returns shall be considered as having been paid by the common parent corporation. In such cases the making of separate returns shall not be considered as the making of a return for the purpose of computing any period of limitation or any deficiency. If a consolidated return for such taxable year is thereafter made, such return shall, for the purpose of computing periods of limitation and any deficiency be considered as the return for such year.

(c) When affiliated group remains in existence. For the purpose of the regulations in this part, an affiliated group shall be considered as remaining in existence if the common parent corporation remains as a common parent and at least one subsidiary remains affiliated with it, whether or not such subsidiary was a member of the group at the time the group was formed and whether or not one or more corporations have become subsidiaries or have ceased to be subsidiaries at any time after the group was formed.

(d) When affiliated group terminates. For the purpose of the regulations in this part, an affiliated group shall be considered as terminated if the common parent corporation ceases to be the common parent or if there is no subsidiary affiliated with it.

§ 24.12 Making consolidated return and filing other forms—(a) Consolidated return made by common parent corporation. A consolidated return shall be made on Form 1120 by the common parent corporation for the affiliated group. Such return shall be filed at the time, and in the office of the collector of the district, prescribed for the filing of a separate return by such common parent corporation.

(b) Authorizations and consents. (1) Each subsidiary must prepare duplicate originals of Form 1122, consenting to these regulations and authorizing the common parent corporation to make a consolidated return on its behalf for the taxable year and authorizing the common parent (or, in the event of its failure, the Commissioner or the collector) to make a consolidated return on its behalf (as long as it remains a member of the affiliated group), for each year thereafter for which, under § 24.11 (a), the making of a consolidated return is required. One of such forms as prepared by each subsidiary shall be attached to the consolidated return, as a part thereof; and the other shall be filed, at or before the time the consolidated return is filed, in the office of the collector for the district prescribed for the filing of a separate return by such subsidiary. No such consent can be withdrawn or revoked at any time after the consolidated return is filed.

(2) The filing of Form 1122 for a taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, by a subsidiary which is either a personal service corporation as described in section 449 or a corporation described in section 454 (d), (f), or (g) shall constitute the making and filing of its consent to be treated as an includible corporation under section 141 (e) (7).

(3) If the common parent corporation is a personal service corporation as described in section 449 or a corporation described in section 454 (d), (f), or (g), the making and filing of the consolidated return for a taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, shall constitute the making and filing of its consent to be treated as an includible corporation under section 141 (e) (7).

(4) A corporation which consents under section 141 (e) (7) to be treated

"Second Revenue Act of 1940" contains the following statement:

"The regulations which the Commissioner is authorized to prescribe are such regulations as he may deem necessary in order that the tax liability of any affiliated group of corporations making a consolidated return and of each corporation in the group, both during and after the period of affiliation, may be returned, determined, computed, assessed, collected, and adjusted, in such manner as clearly to reflect the excess-profits tax liability and the various factors necessary for the determination of such liability, and in order to prevent avoidance of such tax liability in addition to the matters which, in the light of current and previous consolidated returns regulations, are expected to be covered in detail in the regulations to be issued by the Commissioner, are the extent to which and the manner in which the following items, among others, will be computed and given effect in determining the excess-profits-tax liability of an affiliated group: (a) Equity invested capital, borrowed capital, and invested capital, (b) admissible and inadmissible assets, and excluded capital, (c) net capital additions and reductions, (d) consolidated net operating losses, net operating losses incurred by members of the group in taxable years prior to that for which the consolidated return is filed, and the net operating loss deduction of members of the group in taxable years following that for which the consolidated return was filed, and (e) excess-profits net income and adjusted excess-profits net income."

The report of the Committee on Finance (Rept. No. 1631, 77th Cong., 2d sess., p. 133) accompanying the revenue bill of 1942, amending section 141, contains the following statement:

"The consolidated normal tax net income, the consolidated corporation surtax net income, and the consolidated capital gains and losses of the group are among those factors with respect to which the Commissioner, in view of experience with current and past consolidated returns regulations, is expected to prescribe regulations in order to reflect clearly the income and excess profits tax liability of the group and of each member thereof and the various factors necessary for the determination of such liability. In addition to these matters, your committee expects that such regulations will provide for the application of the excess profits relief provisions, and the provisions of section 710 (a) (1) (B) limiting excess profits taxes, in cases where consolidated returns are filed. Although the present regulations with respect to the determination of consolidated net income quite properly limit the deduction of the net operating loss carry-over of a member of a group from years prior to that in which its income is first included in a consolidated return to the amount of the separate income of such member, this section provides that such limitation shall not be applied to prevent the portion of the net operating loss carry-over which is attributable to a 1941 war loss of the member (see sec. 158 of the bill) being taken into account in computing consolidated net income."

as an includible corporation for a taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, shall be treated as an includible corporation for all subsequent years, regardless of whether the affiliated group of which such corporation is a member during such subsequent years is the same as the affiliated group of which such corporation was a member when such consent was filed. No consent to be treated as an includible corporation under section 141 (e) (7) can be withdrawn or revoked at any time after the consolidated return is filed for the first taxable year for which the consent is filed.

(5) A subsidiary which is a regulated public utility as described in section 448 (d) shall indicate on its Form 1122 filed for a taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, whether it consents, pursuant to section 141 (e) (8), to compute its excess profits credit without regard to section 448, or, pursuant to section 141 (j), to compute such credit under section 448 only.

(6) If the common parent corporation is a regulated public utility as described in section 448 (d) or (e), the making and filing of a consolidated return for a taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, subject to the provisions of section 141 (e) (8), or to the provisions of section 141 (j), shall constitute the making and filing of its consent to compute its excess profits credit without regard to section 448, or to compute such credit under section 448, respectively.

(7) A consent made by a regulated public utility under either of the two preceding paragraphs cannot be withdrawn or revoked at any time after the consolidated return is filed, and shall be applicable to the taxable year for which such consent is made and to each consecutive subsequent taxable year for which a consolidated return is made or is required.

(c) Affiliations schedule filed by common parent corporation. The common parent corporation shall prepare Form 851 (Affiliations Schedule), which shall be attached to and made a part of the consolidated return.

(d) Persons qualified to execute returns and forms. Each return or form required to be made or prepared by a corporation must be executed by the persons authorized under section 52 to execute returns of separate corporations. In cases where receivers or trustees in bankruptcy are operating the property or business of corporations, each return or form required to be made or prepared by such corporation must be executed by the receiver or trustee, as the case may be, pursuant to an order or instructions of the court, and be accompanied by a copy of such order or instructions.

(e) Signatures in case subsidiary has left affiliated group. Since Form 1122 is required even though, during the taxable year of the common parent corporation, the subsidiary (because of a dissolution or sale of stock, or otherwise) has ceased to be a member of the affiliated group, it may be advisable for the common parent to obtain the proper signatures to the form prior to the time the subsidiary ceases to be a member of the group.

§ 24.13 Change in affiliated group during taxable year[2]—(a) General rule. Except as hereinafter provided, a consolidated return must include the income of the common parent corporation and of each subsidiary for the entire taxable year of the affiliated group.

(b) Formation of affiliated group after beginning of year. If an affiliated group is formed after the beginning of the taxable year of the corporation which becomes the common parent corporation, the consolidated return must include the income of the common parent for its entire taxable year (excluding any portion of such year during which its income is included in the consolidated return of another affiliated group) and the income of each subsidiary from the time it became a member of the affiliated group.

(c) Complete termination of affiliated group prior to close of taxable year. If an affiliated group is terminated prior to the close of the taxable year of the group, the consolidated return must include the income of the common parent corporation for its entire taxable year (excluding any portion of such year during which its income is included in the consolidated return of another affiliated group) and of each subsidiary for the period prior to the termination. (See paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 24.11, in determining whether the group has terminated.)

(d) Addition to affiliated group of a subsidiary during year. If a corporation becomes a member of the affiliated group during the taxable year of the group, the consolidated return must include its income from the time when it became a member of the group.

(e) Elimination from affiliated group of a subsidiary during year. If a subsidiary ceases to be a member of the affiliated group during the taxable year of the group, the consolidated return must include its income for the period during which it was a member of the group.

(f) Period of 30 days or less may be disregarded. A subsidiary may at its option be considered as having been a member of the affiliated group during the entire taxable year of the group (or during the entire period of the existence of the subsidiary, whichever is shorter) if the period during which it was not a member of such group does not exceed 30 days. If a corporation has been a member of the affiliated group for a period of less than 31 days during the taxable year of the group, it may at its option be considered as not having been a member of the group during the taxable year. An option under this paragraph must be exercised at or before the time when the consolidated return is made.

(g) Separate returns for periods not included in consolidated return. If a corporation, during its taxable year (determined without regard to the affiliation), becomes a member of an affiliated group, its income for the portion of such taxable year not included in the consolidated return of such group must be included in a separate return (or, if a member of another affiliated group which makes a consolidated return for such period, then in such consolidated return). If a corporation ceases to be a member of the affiliated group during the taxable year of the group, its income for the period after the time when it ceased to be a member of the group must be included in a separate return (or, if it becomes a member of another affiliated group which makes a consolidated return for such period, then in such consolidated return).

(h) Time for making separate returns for periods not included in consolidated return. If a corporation, during its taxable year (determined without regard to the affiliation), becomes a member of an affiliated group, the separate return required for the portion of such taxable year during which it was not a member of the group must be made on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of its taxable year (determined without regard to the affiliation). For example, Corporation P, reporting its income on a calendar year basis, acquires on January 1, 1951, all the stock of Corporation S, which reports its income on a fiscal year basis ending March 31. P and S elect to make a consolidated return for the calendar year 1951. The separate return of S for the taxable period April 1, 1950, to December 31, 1950, should be made on or before June 15, 1951.

§ 24.14 Accounting period of an affiliated group. (a) The taxable year of an affiliated group which makes a consolidated return shall be the same as the taxable year of the common parent corporation; and, upon having elected to file consolidated returns, each subsidiary corporation shall, not later than the close of the first consolidated taxable year ending thereafter, adopt an annual accounting period, fiscal year or calendar year as the case may be, in conformity with that of the common parent.

(b) If a change of accounting period is necessary in order to conform the accounting periods of the common parent and of its subsidiaries, and if the requirements of § 29.46–1 of this chapter (Regulations 111), relating to notice of change, cannot otherwise be complied with, such notice shall be furnished at or before the time of filing the consolidated return.

(c) With respect to computations for years involved in the change to the consolidated basis, see § 24.32.

§ 24.15 Liability for tax—(a) Several liability of members of affiliated group. Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the common parent corporation and each subsidiary, a member of the affiliated group during any part of a consolidated return period, shall be severally liable for the tax (including any deficiency in respect thereof) computed upon the consolidated net income of the group.

[2] This section has no bearing upon the question whether a consolidated return may or must be made, but relates only to the effect of changes in the affiliated group during the taxable year.

(b) Liability of a corporation in bankruptcy or receivership. If, at the time of filing a consolidated return, one or more, but not all, of the members of the affiliated group are in bankruptcy under the laws of the United States or in receivership in any court of the United States or of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, then the liability under paragraph (a) of this section of each such member of the group with respect to the period covered by such return shall not exceed such portion of the consolidated tax liability for such period as the several corporations included in the consolidated return may, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, agree upon, or, in the absence of such an agreement, an amount equal to its liability for such year computed as if a separate return had been filed.

(c) Liability of subsidiary after withdrawal. If a subsidiary has ceased to be a member of the affiliated group, its liability under paragraph (a) of this section shall remain unchanged, except that if such cessation occurred prior to the date upon which any deficiency is assessed and resulted from a bona fide sale of stock for fair value, the Commissioner may, if he believes that the assessment or collection of the balance of the deficiency will not be jeopardized, make assessment and collection of such deficiency from such former subsidiary in an amount not exceeding the portion thereof allocable to it upon the bases of income used in the computations respectively of the normal tax, any surtax, and the excess profits tax, included in such deficiency.

(d) Effect of intercompany agreements. Any agreement entered into by one or more members of the affiliated group with any other members of such group or with any other person shall in no case have the effect of reducing the liability prescribed under this section.

(e) Liability of transferee not affected. This section shall not be considered as extinguishing or diminishing any liability, at law or in equity, of a transferee of property of a taxpayer, including any liability under any provision of law, State or Federal, relating to liabilities pursuant to corporate dissolution or transfer or distribution of assets, whether or not in connection with a merger or consolidation.

§ 24.16 Common parent corporation agent for subsidiaries—(a) Scope of agency of common parent corporation. Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section—

The common parent corporation shall be for all purposes (other than the making of the subsidiary consent required by § 24.12 (b)), in respect of the tax for the taxable year for which a consolidated return is made or is required, the sole agent, duly authorized to act in its own name in all matters relating to such tax, for each corporation which during any part of such year was a member of the affiliated group. The corporations, other than the common parent, shall not have authority to act for or to represent themselves in any such matter. For example, all correspondence will be carried on directly with the common parent; notices of deficiencies will be mailed only to the common parent, and the mailing to the common parent shall be considered as a mailing to each such corporation; notice and demand for payment of taxes will be given only to the common parent, and such notice and demand shall be considered as a notice and demand to each such corporation; the common parent will file petitions and conduct proceedings before The Tax Court of the United States, and any such petition shall be considered as having also been filed by each such corporation; the common parent will file claims for refund or credit; refunds will be made directly to and in the name of the common parent and will discharge any liability of the Government in respect thereof to any such corporation; and the common parent in its name will give waivers, give bonds, and execute closing agreements, offers in compromise, and all other documents, and any waiver or bond so given, or agreement, offer in compromise, or any other document so executed, shall be considered as having also been given or executed by each such corporation. Notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph, however, any notice of deficiency, in respect of the tax for a consolidated return period, will name each corporation which was a member of the affiliated group during any part of such period, and any assessment (whether of the original tax or of a deficiency) will be made in the name of each such corporation (but a failure to include the name of any such corporation will not affect the validity of the notice of deficiency or the assessment as to the other corporations); any notice and demand for payment will name each corporation which was a member of the affiliated group during any part of such period (but a failure to include the name of any such corporation will not affect the validity of the notice and demand as to the other corporations); and any distraint (or warrant in respect thereof), any levy (or notice in respect thereof), any notice of a lien, or any other proceeding to collect the amount of any assessment, after the assessment has been made, will name the corporation from which such collection is to be made. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply whether or not a consolidated return is made for any subsequent year, and whether or not one or more subsidiaries have become or have ceased to be members of the group at any time. Notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph, the Commissioner may, if he deems it advisable, deal directly with any member of the group in respect of its liability, in which event such member shall have full authority to act for itself.

(b) Effect of withdrawal of subsidiary. For the purpose of the assertion, assessment, and collection of any deficiency, and of a credit or refund of any amount paid by a former subsidiary as a deficiency determined under § 24.15 (c), but for no other purpose, the agency of the common parent corporation in respect of any subsidiary which has ceased to be a member of the affiliated group shall be terminated upon the expiration of 30 days (or prior thereto if the Commissioner consents) from the date upon which such subsidiary files written notice with the Commissioner that it has ceased to be a member of the affiliated group and that it is terminating such agency. For example, if a subsidiary has ceased to be a member of the group (and if the 30-day period has expired) prior to the mailing of a notice of deficiency to the common parent, a separate notice of deficiency will be mailed in due course to the subsidiary in respect of its deficiency if it becomes necessary to enforce its liability.

(c) Effect of dissolution of common parent corporation. If the common parent corporation contemplates dissolution, or is about to be dissolved, or if for any other reason its existence is about to terminate, it shall forthwith notify the Commissioner of such fact and designate, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, another member of the affiliated group to act as agent in its place, to the same extent and subject to the same conditions and limitations as are applicable to the common parent. If the notice thus required is not given by the common parent, the remaining members of the group may, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, designate another member of the group to act as such agent, and notice of such designation shall be given to the Commissioner. Until a notice in writing designating a new agent has been received by the Commissioner, any notice of deficiency or other communication mailed to the common parent shall be considered as having been properly mailed to the agent of the group; or, if the Commissioner has reason to believe that the existence of the common parent has terminated, he may, if he deems it advisable, deal directly with any member of the group in respect of its liability.

§ 24.17 Waivers—(a) Effect of waiver given by common parent corporation. Any consent given by the common parent corporation (or by an agent in accordance with paragraph (c) of § 24.16) extending the time within which an assessment may be made or distraint or proceeding in court begun, in respect of the tax for a consolidated return period, shall be applicable (1) to each corporation which was a member of the affiliated group during any part of such period (whether or not any such corporation has ceased to be a member of the group), and (2) to each corporation the income of which was included in the consolidated return, or which filed Form 1122, for such period, even though it is subsequently determined that such corporation was not a member of the group.

(b) Acceptance of waivers from common parent corporation and alleged subsidiary. In no case will a separate waiver be accepted from a corporation the income of which was included in the consolidated return (for example, a corporation which the Commissioner determines was not a member of the affiliated group), or which filed Form 1122, unless a waiver is also obtained from the common parent, or unless the Commissioner is dealing directly with such corporation to enforce its liability.

§ 24.18 Failure to comply with regulations—(a) Exclusion of a subsidiary from consolidated return. If there has been a failure to include in the consolidated return the income of any subsidiary, or a failure to file any of the forms required by the regulations in this part, notice thereof shall be given the common parent corporation by the Commissioner, and the tax liability of each member of the affiliated group shall be determined on the basis of separate returns unless such income is included or such forms are filed within the period prescribed in such notice, or any extension thereof, or unless under § 24.11 a consolidated return is required for such year.

(b) Common parent corporation incorrectly designated in consolidated return. If a consolidated return includes a corporation as the common parent and such corporation was not (under the provisions of section 141) the common parent, the tax liability of each corporation included in the return will be computed in the same manner as if separate returns had been made, unless, upon application, the Commissioner approves the making of a consolidated return, or unless under § 24.11 a consolidated return is required for such year.

(c) Inclusion of one or more subsidiaries not members of affiliated group. If a consolidated return includes a corporation as a subsidiary and such corporation was not a member of the affiliated group during the consolidated return period, the tax liability of such corporation will be determined upon the basis of a separate return (but see paragraph (a) of this section), and the consolidated return shall be considered as including only the corporations which were members of the group during such period. If the consolidated return includes two or more corporations which are not members of the group but which constitute a separate affiliated group, the tax liability of the corporations constituting the separate group will be computed in the same manner as if separate returns had been made by such corporations, unless the Commissioner, upon application, approves the making of a consolidated return for the separate group, or unless under § 24.11 a consolidated return is required for the separate group.

(d) Effect of authorization and consent filed pursuant to notice. If Form 1122 is filed by any corporation, pursuant to a notice under paragraph (a) of this section, such corporation shall be considered for all purposes as having joined in the making of the consolidated return.

(e) Allocation of payments in the event of change by one or more corporations to separate returns. In any case in which amounts have been assessed and paid upon the basis of a consolidated return and the tax liability of one or more of the corporations included in the consolidated return is to be computed in the same manner as if separate returns had been made, the amounts so paid shall be allocated between the affiliated group composed of the corporations properly included in the consolidated return and each of the corporations the tax liability of which is to be computed on a separate basis, in such manner as the corporations included in the consolidated return may, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, agree upon, or, in the absence of an agreement, upon the bases used in the respective computations of the normal tax, any surtax, and the excess profits tax, as shown upon the consolidated return.

§ 24.19 Tentative carry-back adjustments—(a) Groups with constant membership; consolidated returns only. In the case of an affiliated group the membership of which remains unchanged and for which consolidated returns are made or are required for the taxable years involved, any statement filed under section 3779 of the Code with respect to an expected carry-back and any application for a tentative carry-back adjustment filed under section 3780 shall be filed by the common parent corporation and shall disclose all material facts and circumstances relating to the group as a whole. Such statement or application shall be filed on the appropriate form prescribed for such purpose, Form 1138 or Form 1139, as the case may be. Any refunds allowable under any such application will be made directly to and in the name of the common parent. The making of any such refund will discharge any liability of the Government in respect thereof to the several affiliated corporations. The common parent corporation and its several subsidiaries shall be severally liable for any amounts assessed pursuant to section 3780 (b) or (c) or 294 (e), together with any interest or penalty assessed in connection therewith.

(b) Groups with changing membership; cases involving a separate return period. (1) The membership of an affiliated group may change during a taxable year for which a net operating loss or an unused excess profits credit arises, or in the preceding taxable year affected by such net loss or unused credit. Or an affiliated group making a consolidated return for the year of such net loss or unused credit may have made separate returns for the preceding year; or a group making separate returns for the year of the net loss or unused credit may have made a consolidated return for the preceding year. In any such case, the statement provided for in section 3779 (b) of the Code and the application for the tentative carry-back adjustment provided for in section 3780 (a) shall be a joint statement or application concurred in and executed by each corporation which was a member of the group at any time during either of the taxable years involved in the deferment or adjustment sought. The time for the payment of taxes shall be extended under section 3779 and the adjustment provided for in section 3780 shall be made only in accordance with an agreement of the several corporations involved to be made a part of such statement or application. Any refund allowable under any such application with respect to a consolidated return period will be made directly to and in the name of the common parent corporation, and the making of any such refund will discharge any liability of the Government in respect thereof to the several affiliated corporations. The common parent corporation and its several subsidiaries shall be severally liable for any amounts assessed pursuant to section 3780 (b) or (c) or 294 (e), together with any interest or penalty assessed in connection therewith.

(2) In the absence of an agreement between the several corporations, or in the event of their failure to set forth the provisions of such an agreement as a part of their statement or application, no extension of time for the payment of any tax under the provisions of section 3779 shall be granted, and no tentative adjustment shall be made under section 3780.

(3) Nothwithstanding any agreement between the several affiliated corporations, no tentative adjustment shall be made with respect to either a consolidated or a separate return period in disregard of the several liability of the several corporations with respect to any taxable year for which a consolidated return was made or was required.

COMPUTATION OF TAX, RECOGNITION OF GAIN OR LOSS, AND BASIS

§ 24.30 Computation of tax—(a) General rule. In the case of an affiliated group which makes, or is required to make, a consolidated return for any taxable year, the tax liability of each corporation for the period during such year that it was a member of such group shall be computed, subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, upon the consolidated normal-tax net income and the consolidated corporation surtax net income of the group, or, in the case of the taxes imposed by section 102, section 201, subchapter A, and subchapter D, upon the consolidated undistributed section 102 net income, the consolidated adjusted normal-tax net income and the consolidated adjusted corporation surtax net income, the consolidated undistributed subchapter A net income, or the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income, as the case may be, determined in each case in accordance with the regulations in this part. In the case of an affiliated group realizing long-term capital gains and computing its tax under the alternative tax provisions of section 117 (c), the tax shall be computed with reference to the consolidated net income, and the excess of the consolidated net long-term capital gain over the consolidated net short-term capital loss.

(b) Special rules. The general rule prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section is subject to the following special rules:

(1) In the case of Western Hemisphere trade corporations—(i) Years beginning after June 30, 1950, and calendar year 1950. If the affiliated group filing a consolidated return for a taxable year beginning after June 30, 1950, or for the calendar year 1950, includes a Western Hemisphere trade corporation, as defined in section 109, the increase of 2 percent provided in section 141 (c) in the corporation surtax rate shall be applied only on that portion of the consolidated corporation surtax net income attributable to the members of the group other than the Western Hemisphere trade corporation.

(ii) Other taxable years. In the case of an affiliated group filing a consolidated return for a taxable year other than one subject to the provisions of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, and including as a member of the group a Western Hemisphere trade corporation, as defined in section 109, the surtax of the group shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the surtax computed on the consolidated corporation surtax net income as the portion of the consolidated corporation surtax net income attributable to the other members of the group bears to the entire consolidated corporation surtax net income.

(2) In case of abnormalities. If the affiliated group for any taxable year is subject to the provisions of section 456 (relating to abnormalities)—

(i) The excess profits tax liability of the group for the taxable year in which the whole of the abnormal income would, without regard to section 456, be includible shall not exceed the sum of (a) the excess profits tax computed upon the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income of the group computed without the inclusion in gross income of the portion of the net abnormal income which is attributable to any other taxable year, plus (b) the aggregate of the increase in the excess profits tax which would have resulted for the taxable year (computed under subdivision (a)) and for each previous taxable year to which any portion of such net abnormal income is attributable, computed as if an amount equal to such portion had been included in the gross income for such previous taxable year of the corporation deriving such portion;

(ii) The excess profits tax liability of the group for any future taxable year shall be the excess profits tax computed upon the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income of the group computed with the inclusion in gross income of the net abnormal income attributable to such future taxable year, but shall not exceed the sum of (a) the excess profits tax computed upon the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income of the group computed without the inclusion in excess profits net income of the portion of the net abnormal income which is attributable to such year, and (b) the decrease in the excess profits tax for the previous taxable year in which the whole of such abnormal income would, without regard to section 456, be includible, which decrease resulted by reason of the exclusion of the whole or a part of the abnormal income from the gross income for such previous taxable year; but the amount of such decrease shall be diminished by the aggregate of the increases in the excess profits tax which would have resulted for the future taxable year (computed under subdivision (a)) and for the taxable years intervening between such previous taxable year and such future taxable year because of the inclusion in gross income of the portions of such net abnormal income attributable to such intervening years.

(iii) Whether or not an abnormality within the meaning of section 456 exists shall be determined in the light of the aggregate business and of the collective experience during the four previous taxable years of the several members of the group.

(3) In case of Merchant Marine contracts. If the affiliated group for any taxable year includes a corporation subject to the provisions of section 457, relating to corporations completing contracts under the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, the excess profits tax liability of the group shall be the tax under section 430 computed on the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income or the tax computed in accordance with the provisions of section 457 (b), whichever is the lesser. The computation under section 457 (b) shall be made as if the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income and the payments made or to be made to the Federal Maritime Board were the adjusted excess profits net income of and payments made or to be made by a separate corporation.

(4) In case of profits from mining strategic minerals. If the affiliated group for any taxable year includes a corporation a portion of the income of which is, pursuant to section 450, exempt from excess profits tax by reason of such corporation having engaged in the mining of strategic minerals, the excess profits tax liability of the group shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the excess profits tax computed on the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income as the portion of the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income not exempt from excess profits tax bears to the entire consolidated adjusted excess profits net income. The portion of the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income not exempt from excess profits tax shall be determined in the same manner as if the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income were the adjusted excess profits net income of a separate corporation.

(c) Limitation on excess profits tax. The consolidated excess profits tax liability shall be whichever of the following amounts is the lesser:

(1) An amount equal to 30 percent of the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income, or

(2) An amount equal to the excess of 62 percent of the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for the taxable year over the tax which would be imposed for the taxable year under sections 13, 14, and 15, supplement G, and supplement Q, whichever are applicable to the affiliated group, computed (subject to section 108, if applicable, and to section 141 (c)) as if the amount of the consolidated normal-tax net income and the amount of the consolidated corporation surtax net income (or the amount subject to the rate of tax in such supplement) were equal to the amount of the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for such year.

(d) Several liability. With respect to the liability of the several members of the group, see § 24.15.

§ 24.31 Bases of tax computation. In the case of an affiliated group of corporations which makes, or is required to make, a consolidated return for any taxable year, and except as otherwise provided in the regulations in this part, the tax liability determined under § 24.30 shall be determined subject to the definitions and rules of computation set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(a) Definitions—(1) Consolidated net income. The consolidated net income shall be the combined net income of the several affiliated corporations—

(i) Minus the sum of—

(a) Any consolidated net operating loss deduction,

(b) Any consolidated section 117 (j) net loss, relating to net losses from involuntary conversions and from sales or exchanges of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j), and

(c) The aggregate amount of any contributions or gifts made by the several affiliated corporations during the taxable year, subject to the provisions of section 23 (q), but not in excess of 5 percent of the consolidated net income computed without regard to such contributions or gifts, and

(ii) Plus any consolidated net capital gain, or

(iii) Minus, in the case of an affiliated group including as members one or more corporations subject to the tax imposed by section 204, the combined additional capital loss deductions of such corporations authorized by section 204 (c) (5), but in an amount not in excess of the consolidated net capital loss.

(2) Consolidated net operating loss deduction. The consolidated net operating loss deduction shall be an amount equal to the aggregate of the consolidated net operating loss carry-overs and of the consolidated net operating loss carry-back to the taxable year reduced by the amount, if any, by which the consolidated net income (computed with the exceptions and limitations provided in section 122 (d) (1), (2), (3), and (4)) exceeds the consolidated normal-tax net income (computed without any net operating loss deduction and without the credits provided in section 26 (h), relating to dividends paid by public utilities on certain preferred stock, and section 26 (i), relating to western hemisphere trade corporations).

(3) Consolidated net operating loss carry-overs. The consolidated net operating loss carry-overs to the taxable year shall consist of—

(i) The consolidated net operating losses, if any, for the five preceding taxable years (not including as a third, fourth, or fifth preceding taxable year any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1950) to the extent that the consolidated net operating loss for any such preceding taxable year was not attributable to a corporation making a separate return, or joining in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, for the taxable year, and was not absorbed as a carry-over or carry-back by the consolidated or separate net income for preceding or intervening taxable years, and, with respect to a net operating loss sustained by a corporation in a taxable year for which a separate return was filed, or for which such corporation joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, but subject to the limitations prescribed in section 24.31 (b) (3),

(ii) The amount of the net operating losses, if any, of such corporation for the five preceding taxable years (not including as a third, fourth, or fifth preceding taxable year any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1950) to the extent that the net operating loss for any such preceding taxable year was not absorbed as a carry-over or carry-back by consolidated or separate net income for preceding or intervening taxable years.

(4) Consolidated net operating loss carry-back. The consolidated net operating loss carry-back to the taxable year shall consist of—

(i) The amount of the consolidated net operating loss, if any, for the succeeding taxable year to the extent not attributable to a corporation making a separate return, or joining in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, for the taxable year, and with respect to a net operating loss sustained by a corporation which, for the succeeding taxable year, files a separate return or joins in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group but subject to the limitations prescribed in § 24.31 (b) (3),

(ii) The amount of the net operating loss, if any, of such corporation for the succeeding taxable year.

(5) Consolidated net operating loss. The consolidated net operating loss, computed for the purpose of the net operating loss deduction, shall be an amount equal to the excess of the sum of—

(i) The combined net operating losses of the several affiliated corporations having net operating losses (computed subject to the exceptions, additions, and limitations provided in section 122 (d)), and

(ii) The consolidated section 117 (j) net loss, over the sum of—

(iii) The combined net income of the several affiliated corporations having net income (adjusted with respect to the exceptions, additions, and limitations provided in section 122 (d) in connection with the computation of net operating losses), and

(iv) The consolidated net capital gain.

(6) Consolidated section 117 (j) net loss. The consolidated section 117 (j) net loss shall be the excess of the aggregate of the recognized losses of the character described in section 117 (j) sustained by the several affiliated corporations over the aggregate of the recognized gains of the character described in section 117 (j) realized by the several affiliated corporations.

(7) Consolidated net capital gain. The consolidated net capital gain shall be the excess of the sum of—

(i) The aggregate of the capital gains of the several affiliated corporations, and

(ii) The consolidated section 117 (j) net gain, over the sum of—

(iii) The aggregate of the capital losses of such corporations, and

(iv) The aggregate of the consolidated net capital loss carry-overs to the taxable year.

(8) Consolidated section 117 (j) net gain. The consolidated section 117 (j) net gain shall be the excess of the aggregate of the recognized gains of the character described in section 117 (j) realized by the several affiliated corporations over the aggregate of the recognized losses of the character described in section 117 (j) sustained by the several affiliated corporations.

(9) Consolidated net capital loss carry-over. The consolidated net capital loss carry-overs to the taxable year shall consist of—

(i) The consolidated net capital losses, if any, for the five preceding taxable years to the extent that such losses were not attributable to a corporation making a separate return, or joining in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, for the taxable year, and were not absorbed by net capital gains for intervening taxable years pursuant to the provisions of section 117 (e) (1), consolidated or separate, as the case may be,

and, with respect to net capital losses sustained by a corporation for taxable years for which separate returns were filed, or for which such corporation joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group—

(ii) The net capital losses, if any, sustained by such corporation for its five preceding taxable years to the extent that such losses were not absorbed by the net capital gains of such corporation (or, if the income of such corporation was included in a consolidated return, by the consolidated net capital gain) for intervening taxable years pursuant to the provisions of section 117 (e) (1).

(10) Consolidated net capital loss. The consolidated net capital loss shall be the excess of the aggregate of the capital losses of the several affiliated corporations over the sum of—

(i) The aggregate of the capital gains of such corporations, and

(ii) The consolidated section 117 (j) net gain, reduced, in the case of an affiliated group including as members one or more corporations subject to the tax imposed by section 204, but only for the purpose of net capital loss carry-over computations, by whichever of the following amounts is the lesser:

(iii) The combined additional capital loss deductions of such corporations authorized by section 204 (c) (5), or

(iv) The consolidated corporation surtax net income computed without regard to capital gains and losses.

(11) Consolidated normal-tax net income. The consolidated normal-tax net income shall be the consolidated adjusted net income minus—

(i) The consolidated section 26 (b) credit, relating to dividends received, and, for taxable years beginning after June 30, 1950, and for the calendar year 1950—

(ii) In the case of an affiliated group including as a member a public utility as defined in section 26 (h) (2) (A), the consolidated section 26 (h) credit; and

(iii) In the case of an affiliated group including as a member a western hemisphere trade corporation as defined in section 109, the consolidated section 26 (i) credit.

(12) Consolidated adjusted net income. The consolidated adjusted net income shall be the consolidated net income minus the consolidated section 26 (a) credit, relating to interest on certain obligations of the United States and Government corporations.

(13) Consolidated section 26 (a) credit. The consolidated section 26 (a) credit, relating to interest on certain obligations of the United States and Government corporations, shall be an amount equal to the aggregate of the interest, of the class with respect to which credit is allowed by section 26 (a), received by the several affiliated corporations.

(14) Consolidated section 26 (b) credit. The consolidated section 26 (b) credit, relating to dividends received, shall be—

(i) An amount equal to 85 percent of the aggregate dividends, of the class with respect to which credit is allowed by section 26 (b) received by the several affiliated corporations, not including dividends on preferred stock of public utilities subject to the provisions of (ii), and

(ii) With respect to the aggregate dividends received by the several affiliated corporations on the preferred stock of a public utility described in section 26 (h)—

(a) For taxable years beginning after June 30, 1950, an amount equal to 59 percent of the aggregate of such dividends received in such year, or

but in an amount not greater than 85 percent of the consolidated adjusted net income computed without regard to the consolidated net operating loss deduction.

(15) Consolidated section 26 (h) credit. The consolidated section 26 (h) credit, relating to dividends paid by public utilities on preferred stock, shall be—

(i) With respect to a taxable year beginning after June 30, 1950, and the calendar year 1950, an amount equal to 30 percent (33 percent for the calendar year 1950) of the lesser of—

(a) The aggregate of the dividends paid by members of the affiliated group which are public utilities within the meaning of section 26 (h) (2) (A) on preferred stock within the meaning of section 26 (h) (2) (B), or

(b) The portion of the consolidated adjusted net income attributable to such members minus the portion of the consolidated section 26 (b) credit attributable to such members; and

(ii) With respect to other taxable years, an amount equal to the aggregate of the dividends paid by members of the affiliated group which are public utilities within the meaning of section 26 (h) (2) (A) on preferred stock within the meaning of section 26 (h) (2) (B), but in an amount not greater than that portion of the consolidated corporation surtax net income (computed without regard to this credit) attributable to such members.

(16) Consolidated section 26 (f) credit. For taxable years beginning after June 30, 1950, and the calendar year 1950, the consolidated section 26 (f) credit shall be an amount equal to 30 percent (33 percent for the calendar year 1950) of the portion of the consolidated normal-tax net income, computed without regard to this credit, attributable to those members of the affiliated group which are western hemisphere trade corporations.

(17) Consolidated corporation surtax net income. The consolidated corporation surtax net income shall be the consolidated net income minus the sum of—

(i) The consolidated section 26 (b) credit relating to dividends received (computed for taxable years beginning prior to July 1, 1950, other than the calendar year 1950, without regard to dividends received of the class with respect to which a public utility is allowed a dividends paid credit under section 26 (h));

(ii) In the case of an affiliated group including as a member a public utility as defined in section 26 (h) (2) (A), the consolidated section 26 (h) credit; and

(iii) In the case of an affiliated group including as a member a western hemisphere trade corporation as defined in section 109, for taxable years beginning after June 30, 1950, and for the calendar year 1950, the consolidated section 26 (i) credit.

(18) Consolidated net long-term capital gain. The consolidated net long-term capital gain shall be the excess of the sum of—

(i) The aggregate of the long-term capital gains of the several affiliated corporations, and

(ii) The consolidated section 117 (j) net gain, over

(iii) The aggregate of the long-term capital losses of such corporations.

(19) Consolidated net short-term capital loss. The consolidated net short-term capital loss shall be the sum of—

(i) The aggregate of the short-term capital losses of the several affiliated corporations, and

(ii) The consolidated net capital loss carry-over, minus

(iii) The aggregate of the short-term capital gains of such corporations.

(20) Consolidated section 102 net income. The consolidated section 102 net income shall be the consolidated net income, computed without regard to any capital loss carry-over and without regard to any net operating loss deduction, minus the sum of—

(i) The combined Federal income, war-profits, and excess-profits taxes (other than a tax imposed by subchapter E of Chapter 2 of the Code for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940) paid or accrued during the taxable year by the several affiliated corporations, to the extent not allowed as a deduction by section 23, but not including the tax imposed by section 102 of the Code, or by a corresponding section of prior income tax laws,

(ii) The combined contributions or gifts of the several affiliated corporations, payment of which is made within the taxable year, not otherwise allowed as a deduction, to or for the use of donees described in section 23 (o) of the Code for the purposes therein specified, and

(iii) The excess of the sum of the capital losses of the several affiliated corporations (computed without regard to any capital loss carry-over) over the sum of the capital gains of such corporations.

(21) Consolidated undistributed section 102 net income. The consolidated undistributed section 102 net income shall be the consolidated section 102 net income minus the consolidated basic surtax credit.

(22) Consolidated subchapter A net income. The consolidated subchapter A net income shall be the consolidated net income computed with the adjustments provided in section 505.

(23) Consolidated undistributed subchapter A net income. The consolidated undistributed subchapter A net income shall be the consolidated subchapter A net income minus the sum of—

(i) The consolidated dividends paid credit with the exceptions and limitations provided in section 504 (a),

(ii) The aggregate amount, subject to the provisions of section 504 (b), used or irrevocably set aside by the several affiliated corporations to pay or to retire indebtedness incurred prior to January 1, 1934, not including such portion of any such indebtedness as was owned on January 1, 1934, or at any time thereafter, directly or indirectly, by another member of the group, and

(iii) The aggregate amount of dividends paid by the several affiliated corporations after the close of the taxable year, subject to the provisions of section 504 (c).

(24) Consolidated dividends paid credit. The consolidated dividends paid credit shall be the sum of—

(i) The consolidated basic surtax credit, and

(ii) The consolidated dividend carry-over.

(25) Consolidated basic surtax credit. The consolidated basic surtax credit shall be the sum of—

(i) The excess of the aggregate amount of dividends paid by the several affiliated corporations during the taxable year (computed, in the case of the tax imposed by subchapter A, of Chapter 2, with the qualifications provided in section 504 (a), relating to dividends paid after the close of the taxable year) over the consolidated section 26 (h) credit, relating to dividends paid by public utilities on certain preferred stock, and

(ii) The combined consent dividends credit of the several affiliated corporations provided in section 28, and, in an aggregate amount not exceeding the consolidated section 102 net income or the consolidated subchapter A net income, as the case may be, the sum of—

(iii) The consolidated net operating loss credit, and

(iv) In the case of an affiliated group including one or more holding company affiliates of a bank as defined in section 2 of the Banking Act of 1933, the consolidated section 26 (d) credit, relating to earnings or profits devoted to the acquisition of readily marketable assets other than bank stock.

(26) Consolidated dividend carry-over. The consolidated dividend carry-over for the taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) The amount, if any, by which the consolidated basic surtax credit for the first preceding taxable year exceeds the consolidated subchapter A net income for such year, to the extent that such credit and such income are not attributable to a corporation making a separate return or joining in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, for the taxable year,

(ii) The amount of the consolidated basic surtax credit for the second preceding taxable year reduced by the consolidated subchapter A net income for such year and further reduced by the amount, if any, by which the consolidated subchapter A net income of the first preceding taxable year exceeds the sum of—

(a) The consolidated basic surtax credit for such year, and

(b) The excess, if any, of the consolidated basic surtax credit for the third preceding taxable year over the consolidated subchapter A net income for such year, to the extent that any such basic surtax credit and any such subchapter A net income are not attributable to a corporation making a separate return, or joining in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, for the taxable year, and, with respect to the unused basic surtax credit of a corporation for taxable years for which separate returns were filed, or for which such corporation joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group—

(iii) The amount, if any, by which the basic surtax credit of such corporation for the first preceding taxable year exceeds the subchapter A net income of such corporation for such year, and

(iv) The amount of the basic surtax credit of such corporation for the second preceding taxable year reduced by the subchapter A net income of such corporation for such year and further reduced by—

(a) The excess, if any, of the subchapter A net income of such corporation for the first preceding taxable year over the sum of—

(1) The basic surtax credit of such corporation for such year, and

(2) The amount, if any, by which the basic surtax credit of such corporation for the third preceding taxable year exceeds the subchapter A net income of such corporation for such year, or

(b) If the income of such corporation is included in the consolidated return for the first preceding taxable year, the excess, if any, of the consolidated subchapter A net income for the first preceding taxable year over the sum of—

(1) The consolidated basic surtax credit for such year, and

(2) The amount, if any, by which the basic surtax credit of such corporation for the third preceding taxable year exceeds the subchapter A net income of such corporation for such year.

(27) Consolidated net operating loss credit. The consolidated net operating loss credit shall be an amount equal to the sum of—

(i) The consolidated net operating loss for the preceding taxable year, computed for the purpose of the credit, to the extent not attributable to those corporation making a separate return, or joining in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, for the taxable year, and, with respect to a corporation which filed a separate return or joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group for the preceding taxable year,

(ii) The net operating loss of such corporation for such preceding taxable year, computed subject to the exceptions and limitations provided in section 26 (c) (2), and further limited, as the case may be, to that portion of the consolidated section 102 net income, or the consolidated subchapter A net income, attributable to such corporation for the taxable year, but not in excess of the consolidated section 102 net income for the taxable year, or the consolidated subchapter A net income, as the case may be.

(28) Consolidated net operating loss for purpose of credit. The consolidated net operating loss, computed for the purpose of the net operating loss credit, shall be the excess of the sum of—

(i) The combined net operating losses of the several affiliated corporations having net operating losses, computed subject to the exceptions and limitations provided in section 26 (c) (2),

(ii) The consolidated section 117 (j) net loss, and

(iii) In the case of an affiliated group including as members one or more corporations subject to the tax imposed by section 204, the combined additional capital loss deductions of such corporations authorized by section 204 (c) (5), over the sum of—

(iv) The combined net income, computed with respect to the exceptions and limitations provided in section 26 (c) (2) in connection with the computation of net operating losses, of the several affiliated corporations having net income, and

(v) The consolidated net capital gain.

(29) Consolidated section 26 (d) credit. The consolidated section 26 (d) credit, relating to bank affiliates, shall be an amount equal to the aggregate of the earnings or profits of members of the group which are holding company affiliates of a bank as defined in section 2 of the Banking Act of 1933 devoted to the acquisition of readily marketable assets other than bank stock (not including any asset acquired, directly or indirectly, from another member of the group), subject, in the case of each such affiliate, to the limitations imposed by section 26 (d) determined without regard to the qualifications expressed in (b) (1) (ii) and (iii) of this section.

(30) Consolidated adjusted normal-tax net income of life insurance companies. The consolidated adjusted normal-tax net income, in the case of an affiliated group consisting of corporations subject to the tax imposed by section 201, shall be the consolidated normal-tax net income minus the consolidated section 202 (b) credit, and plus the consolidated section 202 (c) adjustment.

(31) Consolidated adjusted corporation surtax net income of life insurance companies. The consolidated adjusted corporation surtax net income, in the case of an affiliated group consisting of corporations subject to the tax imposed by section 201, shall be the consolidated corporation surtax net income minus the consolidated section 203 (b) credit, and plus the consolidated section 202 (c) adjustment.

(32) Consolidated section 202 (b) credit. The consolidated section 202 (b) credit, relating to reserve and other policy liabilities, shall be the consolidated normal-tax net income multiplied by a figure to be determined and proclaimed by the Secretary for each taxable year pursuant to section 202 (b).

(33) Consolidated section 202 (c) adjustment. The consolidated section 202 (c) adjustment, relating to certain reserves provided in section 202 (c), shall be an amount equal to 3¼ percent of the combined unearned premiums and unpaid losses of the several affiliated corporations on contracts other than life insurance or annuity contracts, computed in the case of each corporation pursuant to the provisions of section 202 (c), but the combined unearned premiums shall not be considered to be less than 25 percent of the combined net premiums on such other contracts written during the taxable year.

(34) Consolidated section 203 (b) credit. The consolidated section 203 (b) credit, relating to reserve and other policy liabilities, shall be the consolidated corporation surtax net income multiplied by a figure to be determined and proclaimed by the Secretary for each taxable year pursuant to section 202 (b).

(35) Consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income. The consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for any taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, shall be the consolidated normal-tax net income increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the consolidated section 433 (a) adjustment.

(36) Consolidated section 433 (a) adjustment. The consolidated section 433 (a) adjustment shall be the net amount of the aggregate adjustments provided in section 433 (a) (1) (D), (E), (F), (G), (I), (K), (L), (M), (N), (O), (P), and (Q), computed and determined in the case of the several affiliated corporations, except as otherwise provided in (b) of this section, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if separate returns were filed, increased or decreased, as the case may be, with respect to—

(i) The excess of the aggregate amount of the dividends received by the several corporations of the class with respect to which adjustment is provided for in section 433 (a) (1) (A), computed subject to the limitation relating to dividends in kind, over the consolidated section 26 (b) credit;

(ii) The sum of the consolidated section 26 (h) credit, relating to dividends paid by a public utility, and the consolidated section 26 (i) credit, relating to western hemisphere trade corporations;

(iii) The amount of—

(a) The consolidated net capital gain, or

(b) The combined additional capital loss deductions authorized by section 204 (c) (5), but not in excess of the consolidated net capital loss.

(iv) In the case of life insurance companies subject to the tax imposed by section 201—

(a) If the consolidated excess profits credit is based on income, the excess of the product of the figure determined and proclaimed under section 202 (b) and the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income, computed without regard to this adjustment over the consolidated section 202 (c) adjustment, relating to certain reserves, or

(b) If the consolidated excess profits credit is based on invested capital, 50 percent of the excess of the product of the figure determined and proclaimed under section 202 (b) and the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income, computed without regard to this adjustment, over the consolidated section 202 (c) adjustment;

(v) The consolidated net operating loss deduction adjustment.

(37) Consolidated net operating loss deduction adjustment. The consolidated net operating loss deduction adjustment shall be the difference between the amount of the consolidated net operating loss deduction for the taxable year otherwise computed under these regulations and the amount of such consolidated net operating loss deduction computed subject to the provisions of section 433 (a) (1) (J).

(38) Consolidated adjusted excess profits net income. The consolidated adjusted excess profits net income shall be the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income minus whichever is the greater—

(i) The amount of $25,000, or

(ii) An amount equal to the sum of—

(a) The consolidated excess profits credit, and

(b) The consolidated unused excess profits credit adjustment.

(39) Consolidated excess profits credit. The consolidated excess profits credit shall be—

(i) In general—

(a) The consolidated excess profits credit based on invested capital, or

(b) In the case of an affiliated group one or more of the members of which would have been entitled in a separate return to an excess profits credit based on income, either the consolidated excess profits credit based on income or the consolidated excess profits credit based on invested capital, whichever results in the lesser excess profits tax; or

(ii) In the case of an affiliated group consisting wholly of regulated public utilities, in conformity with consents made under section 141 (e) (8) or section 141 (j) applicable to the taxable year, either a credit determined under the general rule of this paragraph, or the consolidated section 448 excess profits credit.

(40) Consolidated excess profits credit based on invested capital. The consolidated excess profits credit based on invested capital shall be the sum of—

(i) The consolidated invested capital credit reduced by the consolidated inadmissible asset adjustment, and

(ii) The consolidated new capital credit.

(41) Consolidated invested capital credit. The consolidated invested capital credit shall be the sum of—

(i) Twelve precent of that portion of the consolidated invested capital not in excess of $5,000,000,

(ii) Ten percent of that portion of the consolidated invested capital in excess of $5,000,000 but not in excess of $10,000,000, and

(iii) Eight percent of that portion of the consolidated invested capital in excess of $10,000,000.

(42) Consolidated invested capital. The consolidated invested capital for the taxable year shall be—

(i) In general—

(a) The consolidated adjusted invested capital for such year, or

(b) At the election of the affiliated group exercised by the common parent corporation at the time of the making of the consolidated return for the taxable year, the consolidated historical invested capital for such year, or

(ii) In the case of an affiliated group of mutual insurance companies taxable under section 207, the sum of—

(a) The mean of the combined surplus of the several affiliated corporations, and

(b) Fifty percent of the mean of the aggregate of all reserves of the several affiliated corporations required by law, such surplus and reserves being computed in the case of each affiliated corporation pursuant to the provisions of section 437 (b) (3) and as if such corporation were making a separate return.

(43) Consolidated adjusted invested capital. The consolidated adjusted invested capital for the taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) The consolidated equity capital as of the beginning of the taxable year,

(ii) The combined capital addition for the taxable year of the several affiliated corporations,

(iii) Seventy-five percent of the consolidated average borrowed capital for the taxable year, and

(iv) The consolidated recent loss adjustment, minus the sum of—

(v) The combined capital reduction for the taxable year of the several affiliated corporations, and

(vi) If the amount of the consolidated adjusted invested capital so determined, but without regard to this subdivision (subdivision (vi)), exceeds $5,000,000, the consolidated net new capital addition.

(44) Consolidated equity capital. The consolidated equity capital as of any time shall be—

(i) The aggregate of the total assets of the several affiliated corporations held at such time in good faith for the purpose of the business, reduced by the aggregate of the total liabilities of such corporations at such time, or

(ii) In the case of an affiliated group including one or more insurance companies (other than mutual and other than life or marine), an amount determined under (i) increased by the sum of—

(a) Fifty percent of the combined reserves of such insurance companies required by law (other than reserves used in computing borrowed capital under section 439 (b) (2)), and

(b) The combined organization expenses of such insurance companies.

(45) Consolidated recent loss adjustment. The consolidated recent loss adjustment shall be the excess of the combined net operating losses of the several affiliated corporations for the taxable years in the consolidated recent loss period, computed under section 437 (f), over the combined net income of such corporations for the taxable years in such period, computed under section 437 (f).

(46) Consolidated recent loss period. The consolidated recent loss period shall be whichever of the following results in the higher consolidated recent loss adjustment:

(i) The consolidated base period, or

(ii) The period beginning on January 1, 1940, and ending December 31, 1949.

(47) Consolidated net new capital addition. The consolidated net new capital addition for the taxable year shall be—

(i) The excess, divided by the number of days in the taxable year, of the aggregate of the consolidated daily new capital additions for each day of the taxable year, over the aggregate of the consolidated daily new capital reductions for each such day, reduced (but not below zero) by

(ii) The consolidated increase in inadmissible assets for the taxable year, less 25 percent of the excess, if any, of such consolidated increase in inadmissible assets over an amount computed under (i) without regard to the amounts determined under (48) (iii) and (49) (iii), relating to borrowed capital.

(48) Consolidated daily new capital addition. The consolidated daily new capital addition for any day of the taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) The aggregate of the amounts of money and property (other than excluded equity capital) paid in to the several members of the affiliated group for stock or as paid-in surplus or as a contribution to capital, after the beginning of such taxable year and prior to such day;

(ii) The amount, if any, by which the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the taxable year minus the amount of the aggregate of the excluded equity capital paid in to the several members of the group before the beginning of the taxable year and after the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group exceeds the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of such first excess profits tax taxable year; and

(iii) Seventy-five percent of the excess of—

(a) The amount by which the consolidated daily borrowed capital for such day is greater than the consolidated daily borrowed capital for the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, over

(b) The amount by which the consolidated excluded borrowed capital for such day is greater than the consolidated excluded borrowed capital for the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year.

(49) Consolidated daily new capital reduction. The consolidated daily new capital reduction for any day of the taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) The aggregate of the distributions by the several members of the affiliated group to shareholders (other than members of the group) previously made during such taxable year which are not out of the earnings and profits of such taxable year;

(ii) The amount, if any, by which the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group plus the amount of the aggregate of the excluded equity capital paid in to the several members of the group after the beginning of such first excess profits tax taxable year and before the beginning of the taxable year exceeds the amount of the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the taxable year; and

(iii) Seventy-five percent of the amount, if any, by which the consolidated daily borrowed capital for the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group exceeds the consolidated daily borrowed capital for such day.

(50) Consolidated daily borrowed capital. The consolidated daily borrowed capital for any day shall be the aggregate of the daily borrowed capital of the several members of the affiliated group for such day.

(51) Consolidated excluded borrowed capital. The consolidated excluded borrowed capital for any day shall be the aggregate of the excluded borrowed capital of the several members of the affiliated group for such day.

(52) Consolidated increase in inadmissible assets. The consolidated increase in inadmissible assets shall be the excess of the consolidated average inadmissible assets for the taxable year over the consolidated original inadmissible assets.

(54) Consolidated original inadmissible assets. The consolidated original inadmissible assets shall be the aggregate of the original inadmissible assets of the several members of the affiliated group.

(55) Consolidated historical invested capital. The consolidated historical invested capital for the taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) The combined average invested capital for the taxable year of the several affiliated corporations computed in the case of each corporation without including any accumulated earnings and profits, and

(ii) The consolidated accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of such taxable year.

(56) Consolidated accumulated earnings and profits. The consolidated accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of the taxable year shall be an amount equal to the excess of the combined accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of such year of the several affiliated corporations having accumulated earnings and profits over the combined deficit in accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of such year of the several affiliated corporations having such deficits.

(57) Consolidated inadmissible asset adjustment. The consolidated inadmissible asset adjustment shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the consolidated invested capital credit as the aggregate inadmissible assets of the several affiliated corporations bears to the aggregate admissible and inadmissible assets of such corporations.

(58) Consolidated new capital credit. The consolidated new capital credit for any taxable year shall be an amount equal to 12 percent of the consolidated net new capital addition for the taxable year except that such credit shall not be allowed—

(i) If the consolidated invested capital for the taxable year (computed without reduction by the amount of the consolidated net new capital addition) is $5,000,000 or less;

(ii) If the consolidated invested capital is the consolidated historical invested capital; or

(iii) If the affiliated group is composed of mutual insurance companies (other than life or marine).

(59) Consolidated excess profits credit based on income. The consolidated excess profits credit based on income for any taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) Eighty-five percent of the consolidated average base period net income,

(ii) Twelve percent of the amount of the consolidated base period capital addition, and

(iii) Twelve percent of the consolidated net capital addition for the taxable year, minus 12 percent of the consolidated net capital reduction for the taxable year.

(60) Consolidated average base period net income. The consolidated average base period net income shall be the consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income unless the affiliated group is entitled to the benefits of sections 435 (e), 442, 443, 444, 445, or 446, in which case the consolidated average base period net income shall be whichever of the following, applicable to the group, results in the lowest excess profits tax for the taxable year:

(i) The consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income,

(ii) The consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income,

(iii) The consolidated alternative average base period net income.

(61) Consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income. The consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income shall be one-third of the aggregate of the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for each month in the consolidated selected base period.

(62) Consolidated selected base period. The consolidated selected base period shall be—

(i) The 36 months in the consolidated base period remaining after eliminating the 12 consecutive months having the lowest aggregate consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income, or

(ii) The 36 consecutive months in the consolidated base period having the highest aggregate consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income, whichever produce the higher aggregate consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income.

(63) Consolidated base period. The consolidated base period shall be the base period of the common parent corporation.

(64) Consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income. The consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for any month shall be an amount equal to the excess of the combined excess profits net income of the several affiliated corporations for such month determined under section 433 (b) over the combined deficits in excess profits net income of such corporations for such month determined under section 433 (c).

(65) Consolidated section 435 (c) average base period net income. The consolidated section 435 (c) average base period net income shall be whichever of the following is the highest:

(i) The aggregate, divided by two, of the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for the last 24 months in the consolidated base period; or

(ii) The aggregate of the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for the last 12 months in the consolidated base period; or

(iii) The sum of the aggregate of the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for the six months beginning July 1, 1949, and ending December 31, 1949, and the aggregate of the consolidated weighted excess profits net income for the six months beginning January 1, 1950, and ending June 30, 1950; or

(iv) In the case of an affiliated group entitled to the benefits of section 435 (e) (2) (G), the sum of the aggregate of the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for the six months beginning July 1, 1948, and ending December 31, 1948, and the aggregate of the consolidated weighted excess profits net income for the six months beginning January 1, 1950, and ending June 30, 1950.

(66) Consolidated weighted excess profits net income. The consolidated weighted excess profits net income for any month shall be an amount equal to the excess of the combined weighted excess profits net income of the several affiliated corporations for such month over the combined weighted deficit in excess profits net income of such corporations for such month.

(67) Consolidated base period capital addition. The consolidated base period capital addition shall be the sum of—

(i) The amount by which the consolidated yearly base period capital for the first excess profits tax taxable year of the affiliated group exceeds, whichever is greater, the consolidated yearly base period capital for the immediately preceding taxable year or the consolidated yearly base period capital for the second preceding taxable year, and

(ii) Fifty percent of the amount by which the consolidated yearly base period capital for such first excess profits tax taxable year or the consolidated yearly base period capital for the immediately preceding taxable year, whichever is lesser, exceeds the consolidated yearly base period capital for the second preceding taxable year.

(68) Consolidated yearly base period capital. The consolidated yearly base period capital for a taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) The consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the first day of such taxable year, and

(ii) An amount equal to 75 percent of the consolidated daily borrowed capital for such first day, reduced by the sum of—

(iii) The aggregate of the inadmissible assets of the several members of the affiliated group at the beginning of such first day minus 25 percent of the excess, if any, of such aggregate over the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of such first day,

(iv) Seventy-five percent of the consolidated controlled group indebtedness for such first day, and

(v) Seventy-five percent of the aggregate of the adjustments for interest on borrowed capital under section 435 (f) (5) of the several members of the group for such first day.

(69) Consolidated controlled group indebtedness. The consolidated controlled group indebtedness for any day shall be the aggregate of the indebtedness owed to each of the several members of the affiliated group by other corporations which are members on such day of the same controlled group, as defined in section 435 (g) (6), as such member of the affiliated group.

(70) Consolidated net capital addition. The consolidated net capital addition for the taxable year shall be—

(i) The excess, divided by the number of days in the taxable year, of the aggregate of the consolidated daily capital addition for each day of the taxable year over the aggregate of the consolidated daily capital reduction for each such day, reduced (but not below zero) by

(ii) The consolidated increase in inadmissible assets for the taxable year, less 25 percent of the excess, if any, of such consolidated increase in inadmissible assets over an amount computed under (i) without regard to section 435 (g) (3) (C), relating to borrowed capital.

(71) Consolidated net capital reduction. The consolidated net capital reduction for the taxable year shall be—

(i) The excess, divided by the number of days in the taxable year, of the aggregate of the consolidated daily capital reduction for each day of the taxable year over the aggregate of the consolidated daily capital addition for each such day, reduced (but not below zero) by

(ii) The consolidated decrease in inadmissible assets for the taxable year, less 25 percent of the excess, if any, of such consolidated decrease in inadmissible assets over an amount computed under (i) without regard to section 435 (g) (4) (C) and (E), relating to borrowed capital and loans to members of a controlled group.

(72) Consolidated daily capital addition. The consolidated daily capital addition for any day of the taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) The aggregate of the amounts of money and property paid in to the several members of the affiliated group for stock or as paid-in surplus or as a contribution to capital, after the beginning of such taxable year and prior to such day;

(ii) The amount, if any, by which the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the taxable year exceeds the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group; and

(iii) Seventy-five percent of the excess of the consolidated average borrowed capital for the taxable year over the consolidated daily borrowed capital for the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group.

(73) Consolidated daily capital reduction. The consolidated daily capital reduction for any day of the taxable year shall be the sum of—

(i) The aggregate of the distributions by the several members of the affiliated group to shareholders (other than members of the group) previously made during such taxable year which are not out of the earnings and profits of such taxable year;

(ii) The amount, if any, by which the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group exceeds the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the taxable year;

(iii) Seventy-five percent of the amount, if any, by which the consolidated daily borrowed capital for the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group exceeds the consolidated average borrowed capital for the taxable year;

(iv) The consolidated section 435 (g) (6) adjustment, relating to increase in certain inadmissible assets; and

(v) Seventy-five percent of the consolidated section 435 (g) (7) adjustment, relating to increase in certain loans to members of a controlled group.

(74) Consolidated average borrowed capital. The consolidated average borrowed capital for the taxable year shall be the aggregate of the consolidated daily borrowed capital for each day of the taxable year divided by the number of days in the taxable year.

(75) Consolidated decrease in inadmissible assets. The consolidated decrease in inadmissible assets shall be the excess of the consolidated original inadmissible assets over the consolidated average inadmissible assets for the taxable year.

(76) Consolidated section 435 (g) (6) adjustment. The consolidated section 435 (g) (6) adjustment for any day shall be whichever of the following amounts is the lesser:

(i) The excess of the consolidated controlled group stock for such day over the consolidated original controlled group stock; or

(ii) The excess of the aggregate of the inadmissible assets held by the several members of the group at the beginning of such day over the consolidated original inadmissible assets.

(77) Consolidated controlled group stock. The consolidated controlled group stock for any day of the taxable year shall be the aggregate of the adjusted basis of the stock held by the several members of the affiliated group at the beginning of such day which is stock in a corporation included in a controlled group (as defined in section 435 (g) (6)) which also includes a member of the affiliated group.

(78) Consolidated original controlled group stock. The consolidated original controlled group stock shall be the consolidated controlled group stock for the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group.

(79) Consolidated section 435 (g) (7) adjustment. The consolidated section 435 (g) (7) adjustment shall be the excess of the consolidated controlled group indebtedness for such day over the consolidated original controlled group indebtedness.

(80) Consolidated original controlled group indebtedness. The consolidated original controlled group indebtedness shall be the consolidated controlled group indebtedness for the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group.

(81) Consolidated alternative average base period net income. The consolidated alternative average base period net income shall be one-third of the aggregate of the consolidated alternative excess profits net income for each month in the consolidated alternative selected base period.

(82) Consolidated alternative selected base period. The consolidated alternative selected base period shall be—

(i) The 36 months in the consolidated base period remaining after eliminating the 12 consecutive months having the lowest aggregate consolidated alternative excess profits net income, or

(ii) The 36 consecutive months in the consolidated base period having the highest aggregate consolidated alternative excess profits net income, whichever produce the higher aggregate consolidated alternative excess profits net income.

(83) Consolidated alternative excess profits net income. The consolidated alternative excess profits net income for any month shall be an amount equal to the sum of—

(i) The combined excess profits net income for such month determined under section 433 (b) for the several affiliated corporations other than the affiliated corporations described in (ii) and other than the affiliated corporations to which (iii) is applicable for such month,

(ii) In the case of any member of the affiliated group to which section 442 (d), 443, 444, 445, or 446 is applicable, one-twelfth of the average base period net income separately computed under such section for such member, and

(iii) In the case of any member of the group (other than a member described in (ii)) to which section 442 (c) is applicable, and for which such month is a month identified under section 442 (c) (3), the substitute excess profits net income for such month separately computed under section 442 (c) for such member,

minus the combined deficits in excess profits net income for such month determined under section 433 (c) for the several affiliated corporations other than the corporations described in (ii) and other than the affiliated corporations to which (iii) is applicable for such month.

(84) Consolidated section 448 excess profits credit. The consolidated section 448 excess profits credit shall be the sum of—

(i) The tax imposed upon the affiliated group by sections 13, 14, 15, and 141 (c) for the taxable year, and

(ii) The excess of the consolidated section 448 (b) gross amount over the consolidated section 448 inadmissible asset adjustment.

(85) Consolidated section 448 (b) gross amount. The consolidated section 448 (b) gross amount shall be the excess of an amount determined by multiplying the applicable percentage prescribed by section 448 (c) (determined as if the affiliated group were a single corporation) by the sum of—

(i) The consolidated adjusted invested capital for the taxable year computed without regard to the consolidated net new capital addition and without regard to the consolidated average borrowed capital, and over the aggregate of the amount of the interest deduction of the several members of the group for the taxable year with respect to indebtedness included in the consolidated average borrowed capital.

(86) Consolidated section 448 inadmissible asset adjustment. The consolidated section 448 inadmissible asset adjustment shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the consolidated section 448 (b) gross amount as the aggregate inadmissible assets of the several affiliated corporations bear to the aggregate admissible and inadmissible assets of such corporations.

(87) Consolidated unused excess profits credit adjustment. The consolidated unused excess profits credit adjustment shall be an amount equal to the sum of the consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-overs and the consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-back to the taxable year.

(88) Consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-over. The consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-overs to the taxable year shall consist of—

(i) The consolidated unused excess profits credits, if any, for the five preceding taxable years (not including any taxable year ending prior to July 1, 1950) to the extent that the consolidated unused excess profits credit for any such preceding taxable year was not attributable to a corporation making a separate return, or joining in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, for the taxable year, and was not absorbed as a carry-over or carry-back by the consolidated or separate adjusted excess profits net income for preceding or intervening taxable years, and, with respect to an unused excess profits credit of a corporation for a taxable year for which a separate return was filed, or for which such corporation joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, but subject to the limitations prescribed in section 24.31 (b) (21),

(ii) The amount of the unused excess profits credits, if any, of such corporation for the five preceding taxable years (not including any taxable year ending prior to July 1, 1950) to the extent that the unused excess profits credit for any such preceding taxable year was not absorbed as a carry-over or carry-back by consolidated or separate adjusted excess profits net income for preceding or intervening taxable years.

(89) Consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-back. The consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-back to the taxable year shall consist of—

(i) The amount of the consolidated unused excess profits credit, if any, for the succeeding taxable year, to the extent not attributable to a corporation making a separate return, or joining in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, for the taxable year, and, with respect to an unused excess profits credit of a corporation which, for the succeeding taxable year, files a separate return or joins in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, but subject to the limitations prescribed in § 24.31 (b) (21),

(ii) The amount of the unused excess profits credit, if any, of such corporation for the succeeding taxable year.

(90) Consolidated unused excess profits credit. The consolidated unused excess profits credit for any taxable year ending after June 30, 1950, shall be an amount equal to the excess of the consolidated excess profits credit over the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for such taxable year, both computed on the basis of the consolidated excess profits credit applicable to such taxable year, and computed without the allowance of any consolidated net operating loss deduction for such taxable year, except that—

(i) In the case of a taxable year of the affiliated group of less than 12 months, such amount shall be reduced to an amount which is such part thereof as the number of days in the taxable year of the group is of the number of days in the 12 months period ending with the close of such taxable year;

(ii) In the case of a taxable year of the group beginning before July 1, 1950, and ending after June 30, 1950, such amount shall be reduced to an amount which is such part thereof as the number of days in such taxable year after June 30, 1950, is of the total number of days in such taxable year;

(iii) In the case of a taxable year of the group beginning before July 1, 1953, and ending after June 30, 1953, such amount shall be reduced to an amount which is such part thereof as the number of days in such taxable year before July 1, 1953, is of the total number of days in such taxable year; and

(iv) In the case of a taxable year for which the group is exempt from the excess profits tax, such amount shall be zero.

(b) Computations. In the case of affiliated corporations which make, or are required to make, a consolidated return, and except as otherwise provided in the regulations in this part—

(1) Net income. The net income of each corporation shall be computed in accordance with the provisions covering the determination of net income of separate corporations, except—

(i) There shall be eliminated unrealized profits and losses in transactions between members of the affiliated group and dividend distributions from one member of the group to another member of the group (referred to in these regulations as intercompany transactions);

(ii) No net operating loss deduction shall be taken into account;

(iii) No capital gains or losses shall be taken into account;

(iv) There shall be disregarded all gains and losses from involuntary conversions and from sales and exchanges of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j);

(v) In the computation of the deduction under section 23 (v), relating to amortizable bond premium, there shall be disregarded the bonds of one member of the group owned by another member of the group during the taxable year;

(vi) In the computation of the net income of a corporation for the taxable year in which it became the common parent corporation of the affiliated group filing a consolidated return, the aggregate deductions of such corporation for such year otherwise allowable in excess of the gross income of such corporation for such year shall be excluded to the extent that such excess is attributable to that portion of such year preceding the date upon which such corporation became the common parent corporation of the group. Any amount excluded under this subdivision shall, to the extent that it constitutes a net operating loss within the provisions of section 122 or a net capital loss within the provisions of section 117, be considered as a net operating loss or a net capital loss, as the case may be, separately sustained by such corporation and subject to the provisions of (a) (3) (ii) or (a) (9) (ii) of this section;

(vii) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the affiliated group subsequent to March 14, 1941, common parent corporation or subsidiary, as the case may be, allowable deductions shall be determined subject to the qualifications prescribed in subparagraph (11) of this paragraph; and (viii) No deduction under section 23 (q) with respect to charitable or other contributions shall be taken into account.

Intercompany profits and losses which have been realized by the group through final transactions with persons other than members of the group, and intercompany transactions which do not affect the consolidated net income, consolidated normal-tax net income, consolidated corporation surtax net income, or consolidated adjusted excess profits net income, shall not be eliminated. For the purpose of the regulations in this part, a transaction not involving a sale or exchange of a capital asset or of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j) shall not be considered an intercompany transaction if such transaction occurs in the regular course of the trade or business of the members of the group and if such members adopt, with the consent of the Commissioner and subject to such conditions as he deems proper, a consistent accounting practice of taking into account in the computation of consolidated net income the gains and losses reflected in such transactions. As used in this paragraph, the term "net income" includes the case in which the allowable deductions of a member (not including any net operating loss deduction) exceed its gross income.

(2) Other computations on separate basis. The various other computations required by the regulations in this part to be made by the several affiliated corporations shall be made in the case of each such corporation in the same manner and under the same conditions as if a separate return were to be filed, but with the following exceptions:

(i) Net income. The net income used in any such computation shall be the net income of the corporation determined in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(ii) Dividends received. In the computation of the dividends received, there shall be excluded all dividends received from other members of the affiliated group.

(iii) Capital gains and losses. Capital gains and losses, short-term capital gains and losses, long-term capital gains and losses, and the additional capital loss deduction authorized by section 204 (c) (5) shall be determined without regard to

(a) Gains or losses arising in intercompany transactions,

(b) Gains or losses from involuntary conversions and from sales or exchanges of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j),

(c) The net capital loss carry-overs provided in section 117 (e) (1), and,

(d) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the affiliated group subsequent to March 14, 1941, common parent corporation or subsidiary, as the case may be, capital losses to the extent disallowed pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (11) of this paragraph.

(iv) Net operating loss. In the computation of the net operating loss as defined, either in section 26 (c) (2) or in section 122 (a), the provisions of this section pertaining to the determination of net income shall apply.

(v) Dividends paid. In the computation of dividends paid, there shall be excluded all dividends paid by one member of the group to another.

(vi) Consent dividends credit. In the computation of the consent dividends credit, no amounts shall be included with respect to consents given by other members of the group.

(vii) Federal income tax. In the computation of the Federal income tax, there shall be used the consolidated tax, or a proportionate part thereof, if the tax payable is properly computed on the basis of the consolidated return.

(viii) Dividends paid by public utility. In the computation of dividends paid on the preferred stock of a public utility, there shall be excluded all dividends paid by such public utility to another member of the group.

(ix) Gains or losses under section 117 (j). Gains and losses from involuntary conversions and from sales or exchanges of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j) shall be determined without regard to—

(a) Gains or losses from intercompany transactions, and

(b) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the affiliated group subsequent to March 14, 1941, common parent corporation or subsidiary, as the case may be, such portion of any such loss as is disallowed pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (11) of this paragraph.

(x) Capital addition. In the computation of the capital addition under section 437 (d), there shall be disregarded money and property paid in during the taxable year for stock, or as paid-in surplus, or as a contribution to capital, by one member of the group to another member of the group.

(xi) Capital reduction. In the computation of the capital reduction under section 437 (e), there shall be disregarded distributions made during the taxable year by one member of the group to another member of the group.

(xii) Borrowed capital. In the computation of the average borrowed capital under section 439 (a), in the computation of the daily borrowed capital under section 439 (b), and in the computation of excluded borrowed capital under section 438 (f), there shall be excluded from borrowed capital the amount of any outstanding indebtedness of the corporation owing to another member of the affiliated group.

(xiii) Total assets for equity capital purposes. In the computation of the total assets for consolidated equity capital purposes, the following rules shall apply:

(a) In the case of a corporation owning stock of another member of the affiliated group, there shall be subtracted an amount equal to the adjusted basis of such stock for determining gain,

(b) In the case of a corporation the stock of which is held by other members of the group with a basis for equity capital purposes determined to be a cost basis, the adjusted basis of its assets attributable to the stock so held on the date on which such corporation became a member of the group (whether such date falls before, on, or after July 1, 1950, and whether such date falls within a consolidated or separate return period) shall be determined as if, on such date, the adjusted basis of its assets were equal to the fair market value of such assets as of such date. If the aggregate cost basis of the stock of such corporation held by other members of the group as of the date on which such corporation became a member of the group differs, plus or minus, from the aggregate fair market value of all assets of such corporation (other than goodwill) reduced by the aggregate of its liabilities as of such date, the difference, to the extent attributable to such stock, shall be considered as an intangible asset of such corporation, positive goodwill or negative goodwill, as the case may be, which shall be taken into account in determining total assets. The adjusted basis of any assets held by such corporation during the taxable year with a basis fixed, in whole or in part, by reference to the basis of other assets held by such corporation as of the date on which it became a member of the group shall be properly adjusted, for consolidated equity capital purposes, so as to reflect the unrealized appreciation or depreciation in the value of such other assets recognized for consolidated equity capital purposes as of such date.

(c) If additional stock of a corporation is acquired by other members of the group subsequent to the date on which the corporation became a member of the group and is held by such other members with a basis determined for consolidated equity capital purposes to be a cost basis, an adjustment similar to that prescribed in (b) shall be made in determining the adjusted basis of the assets of such corporation attributable to such stock as of the date on which such stock was acquired.

(d) In the case of assets subject to the provisions of (b) or (c) which are transferred, either in a consolidated or separate return period, from one member of the group to another member of the group in a transaction in which the basis to the transferee is determined, in whole or in part, by reference to the basis of such assets in the hands of the transferor, the basis determined and adjusted under (b) or (c) in the case of the transferor shall be given effect for consolidated equity capital purposes in the determination of the basis of such assets in the hands of the transferee.

(xiv) Net income and net operating loss for consolidated recent loss period. In computing the net income and net operating loss for the consolidated recent loss period—

(a) In the case of two or more members of the affiliated group (including any component corporation of any such member as defined in section 461) affiliated with each other within the meaning of section 141 during any of the years in the consolidated recent loss period, whether or not consolidated returns were filed for any of such years, there shall be excluded intercompany profits and losses resulting from transactions between such corporations to the extent that such profits and losses would otherwise be taken into account;

(b) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the group after the beginning of the consolidated recent loss period, there shall be excluded its net income and net operating losses for the period prior to the date on which it became a member of the group, to the extent attributable to its stock held with a cost basis on such date;

(c) In the case of a corporation, additional stock of which is acquired with a cost basis after the date on which such corporation became a member of the group and after the beginning of the consolidated recent loss period, there shall be excluded its net income and net operating losses for the period prior to the date of acquisition of such stock, to the extent attributable to such stock.

(xv) Money and property paid in for stock, etc., and excluded equity capital. In computing (for the purpose of the consolidated adjusted invested capital, the consolidated net new capital addition, and the consolidated net capital addition and reduction) the amount of money and property paid in for stock or as paid-in surplus or as a contribution to capital, and in the computation of excluded equity capital—

(a) There shall be disregarded any amount paid in by one member of the affiliated group to another member of the group;

(b) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the group after the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, there shall be disregarded the amount paid in prior to the date on which it became a member of the group, to the extent attributable to its stock held with a cost basis on such date;

(c) In the case of a corporation, additional stock of which is acquired with a cost basis after the date on which such corporation became a member of the group and after the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, there shall be disregarded the amount paid in prior to the date of the acquisition of such stock, to the extent attributable to such stock;

(d) There shall be disregarded any amount paid in which consists of the stock of a corporation which is already a member of the group; and

(e) For the purpose only of computing the consolidated net capital addition or reduction, if a corporation becomes a member of the group during the taxable year, and if, during the taxable year and on or before the date on which it became a member of the group, stock of such corporation was paid in to other members of the group, the amount so paid in shall be disregarded for each day after such date.

(xvi) Distributions of stock of members of affiliated group. For the purpose of computing the consolidated adjusted invested capital, the consolidated net new capital addition, and the consolidated net capital addition or reduction, a distribution of stock of a member of the group shall be disregarded if such distribution does not break the affiliation.

(xvii) Distributions prior to affiliation. For the purpose of computing the consolidated adjusted invested capital, the consolidated net new capital addition, and the consolidated net capital addition or reduction, in the case of a corporation which becomes a member of the group after the beginning of the taxable year, there shall be disregarded distributions made by such corporation during the taxable year and prior to the date such corporation became a member of the group, to the extent attributable to its stock held with a cost basis on such date.

(xviii) Admissible and inadmissible assets. In the computation of admissible and inadmissible assets—

(a) There shall be excluded all intercompany items;

(b) Inventories shall be computed pursuant to the provisions of § 24.39;

(c) Except for the purpose described in (d), such assets shall be determined under the rules applicable in determining total assets for consolidated equity capital purposes;

(d) For the purpose of computing the consolidated invested capital credit based upon the consolidated historical invested capital, proper adjustment shall be made with respect to any unrealized appreciation and depreciation in assets reflected in consolidated historical invested capital; and

(e) In determining the consolidated increase in inadmissible assets for the purpose of computing the consolidated net capital addition, the inadmissible assets of a corporation, a member of the affiliated group, for any day shall be decreased by the portion of the consolidated section 435 (g) (6) adjustment for such day attributable to such corporation.

(xix) Average invested capital. In the computation of average invested capital (which, under this section, may be a minus amount), the following rules shall apply:

(a) There shall be excluded any accumulated earnings and profits.

(c) Money or property paid in for stock or as paid-in surplus or as a contribution to capital during the taxable year by one member of the group to another member of the group shall be disregarded.

(d) With respect to the stock of another member of the affiliated group held with a basis for consolidated invested capital purposes determined to be a basis other than cost, there shall be subtracted from equity invested capital otherwise computed an amount equal to such basis adjusted by an amount equal to the adjustments proper under section 115 (1) for determining earnings and profits, except that no adjustment shall be made with respect to—

(1) Transactions referred to in (b) and (c), and

(2) Losses of the issuing corporation subsequent to the acquisition of such stock which losses were included in a consolidated income or excess profits tax return.

(e) In the case of a member of the affiliated group the stock of which is held by other members of such group with a basis for consolidated invested capital purposes determined to be a cost basis, there shall be excluded as of the date on which such corporation became a member of the group that portion of its equity invested capital attributable to the shares of stock so held; there shall also be excluded, as of the date of any subsequent acquisition, that portion of its equity invested capital attributable to shares of stock similarly acquired and held by other members of the group; no addition shall be made on account of money or property (not including stock of another member of the group held with a basis determined to be a basis other than cost) thereafter paid in for stock held by any other member of the group or as paid-in surplus or a contribution to capital paid in with respect to shares of stock subject to the provisions of this sentence; and no reduction shall be made on account of any distribution thereafter made to any other member of the group.

(f) With respect to distributions made in a consolidated income or excess profits tax return period prior to the taxable year by one member of the affiliated group to another member of the group, the average invested capital of the distributee shall not be increased by any amount in excess of the amount by which the average invested capital of the distributor or its earnings and profits, accumulated before March 1, 1913, were decreased.

(g) The average invested capital of a corporation which is a member of the affiliated group for only a part of the taxable year shall be its aggregate daily invested capital computed with the adjustments set forth in this section for each day of such taxable year during which it is a member of the group (excluding the day on which it became a member) divided by the number of days in the taxable year of the group.

(xx) Accumulated earnings and profits. In the computation of accumulated earnings and profits or the deficit in accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of the taxable year, the following rules shall apply:

(a) In the case of a member of the affiliated group the stock of which is held by other members of such group with a basis for consolidated invested capital purposes determined to be a cost basis, there shall be excluded as of the date on which such corporation became a member of the group that portion of its earnings and profits, or deficit in earnings and profits, previously accumulated and properly allocable to the shares of stock so held; there shall also be excluded, as of the date of any subsequent acquisition, any earnings and profits, or deficit in earnings and profits, previously accumulated and properly allocable to any shares of stock similarly acquired and held by other members of the group.

(b) There shall be excluded profits and losses unrealized by the affiliated group reflected in the opening inventory of the taxable year, whether or not a consolidated return was filed for the preceding taxable years, together with all other unrealized profits and losses reflected in transactions between members of the affiliated group in prior taxable years for which a return was made or was required on a consolidated basis, whether under section 141 or under the provisions of any prior income or excess profits tax law.

(c) With respect to distributions from such accumulated earnings and profits made during the taxable year by one member of the affiliated group to another member of the group, such accumulated earnings and profits of the distributee shall be increased in an amount equal to that by which such accumulated earnings and profits of the distributor are decreased.

(d) With respect to distributions in stock, as defined by section 453 (f) (1), made prior to the taxable year by one member of the affiliated group to another member of the group, the accumulated earnings and profits of the distributee shall not be increased in any amount in excess of that by which the sum of the average invested capital and the accumulated earnings and profits of the distributor is decreased.

(e) With respect to distributions made in a prior taxable year for which a return was made or was required on a consolidated basis, whether under section 141 or under the provisions of any prior income or excess profits tax law, by one member of the group to another member of the group, the accumulated earnings and profits of the distributee shall not be increased by any amount in excess of the amount by which either the average invested capital or the earnings and profits of the distributor were decreased.

(f) If the invested capital of the affiliated group is computed pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (xix) (e) of this subparagraph, proper adjustment shall be made with respect to the amount of any realizations prior to the beginning of the taxable year upon any unrealized appreciation or depreciation in assets previously reflected in consolidated historical invested capital.

(g) In the case of a corporation which is a member of the affiliated group for only a part of the taxable year, the accumulated earnings and profits or the deficit in accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of the taxable year shall be an amount equal to its accumulated earnings and profits or its deficit in accumulated earnings and profits as of the beginning of the taxable year of the group or the beginning of the day following the day on which it becomes a member of the group, as the case may be, multiplied by the number of days of such year during which it is a member of the group (excluding the day on which it becomes a member) and divided by the total number of days in such year.

(h) In the case of distributions from earnings and profits made by a member of the group with respect to stock held by another member of the group with a cost basis, there shall be subtracted from the earnings and profits of the distributee an amount equal to the aggregate of such distributions as were made between the date of acquisition of such stock and the date as of which the distributor became a member of the group.

(xxi) Equity invested capital. In the computation of equity invested capital (which, under this section, may be a minus amount), effect shall be given to the adjustments prescribed in subdivision (xix) of this subparagraph (relating to the computation of average invested capital) to the extent that such adjustments pertain to the computation of equity invested capital.

(xxii) Determination of excess profits net income under section 433 (b) and (c). In computing the excess profits net income under section 433 (b) or the deficit in excess profits net income under section 433 (c) of a corporation, the following rules shall apply:

(a) The excess profits net income under section 433 (b) for any month or the deficit in excess profits net income under section 433 (c) for any month shall be the excess profits net income under section 433 (b), or the deficit in excess profits net income under section 433 (c), as the case may be, for the taxable year of the corporation in which such month falls, divided by the number of full calendar months in such taxable year.

(b) If two or more members of the affiliated group (including any component corporation of any such member within the meaning of section 461) were affiliated with each other during any taxable year, whether or not a consolidated return was filed for such year, there shall be excluded intercompany profits and losses resulting from transactions between such corporations to the extent that such profits and losses would otherwise be taken into account.

(c) The amount of the adjustment under section 433 (b) (5), relating to repayment of processing taxes to vendees, shall be computed without regard to any repayment or credit to another member of the affiliated group.

(d) In the case of an affiliated group of life insurance companies determining the adjustment under section 433 (b) (14), there shall be computed a tentative adjustment as if such corporations were affiliated and were filing a consolidated return for such taxable year, and the adjustment of each corporation shall be the portion thereof attributable to such corporation.

(e) In the case of a corporation which is a member of the affiliated group for only a part of a taxable year for which the excess profits credit is being computed, the amount to be included with respect to the taxable year for which excess profits net income is being computed shall be limited to an amount which bears the same ratio to its excess profits net income or its deficit in excess profits net income for such year, as the case may be, as the number of days of the taxable year for which the credit is being computed during which it was a member of the group (excluding the day on which it becomes a member) bears to the total number of days in such taxable year.

(f) If the stock of a subsidiary corporation owned by other members of the group at any time during the taxable year for which the credit is being computed was acquired by such members, or by other members of the group, at any time on or after the first day of the taxable year for which excess profits net income is being computed, but only to the extent to which the consideration for such acquisition was not the issuance of the stock of the acquiring corporation (not including an acquisition from another member of the group which was affiliated with the acquiring corporation at the time of such acquisition, whether or not a consolidated return was filed for the year in which such acquisition occurred), or if the stock of another subsidiary owned at any time during the taxable year for which the credit is being computed was owned by such first subsidiary, the stock of which was so acquired, as of the date of such acquisition, there shall be excluded in the computation of the excess profits net income of each such subsidiary corporation, or of its deficit in excess profits net income, a proportionate part of the amount thereof otherwise computed, such proportionate part to be determined pursuant to the provisions of section 462 (j) (1), as if such subsidiaries were component corporations within the provisions of section 461 (b).

(xxiii) Weighted excess profits net income and weighted deficit in excess profits net income. The weighted excess profits net income and the weighted deficit in excess profits net income of a corporation for any month shall be the weighted excess profits net income, or the weighted deficit in excess profits net income, for the taxable year in which such month falls, divided by the number of full calendar months in such taxable year. The weighted excess profits net income and the weighted deficit in excess profits net income for any taxable year shall be the excess profits net income determined under section 433 (b), or the deficit in excess profits net income determined under section 433 (c), as the case may be, for such taxable year, reduced to an amount which is the same percentage thereof as the percentage, applicable to such taxable year, specified in section 435 (e) (2) (E).

(xxiv) Controlled group indebtedness. The indebtedness included in computing consolidated controlled group indebtedness for any day shall be determined under the following rules:

(a) The amount of such indebtedness shall be ascertained under the rules applicable in determining total assets for consolidated equity capital purposes;

(b) The indebtedness of one member of the affiliated group owed to another member of the group shall be disregarded; and

(c) There shall be included only indebtedness which constitutes daily borrowed capital for such day of the corporation owing such indebtedness.

(xxv) Stock in member of controlled group. For the purpose of determining the consolidated section 435 (g) (6) adjustment for any day, the adjusted basis of stock held by a member of an affiliated group in a corporation included in a controlled group (as defined in section 435 (g) (6)) which also includes a member of the affiliated group, shall be determined under the following rules:

(a) The adjusted basis of such stock shall be determined under the rules applicable in determining total assets for consolidated equity capital purposes; and

(xxvi) Average base period net income computed under section 442, 443, 444, 445, or 446. In computing the average base period net income of any member of the affiliated group under section 442, 443, 444, 445, or 446, the following rules shall apply:

(a) In computing total assets as of any day after December 1, 1950 (the date of introduction in the House of Representatives of the Excess Profits Tax Bill of 1950)—

(1) The total assets otherwise computed shall be reduced by an amount equal to—

(i) The cash, and

acquired from another member of the group after December 1, 1950, properly adjusted with respect to any money paid or property (other than stock or securities of a member of the group) exchanged for such cash or assets; and

(2) The total assets otherwise computed shall be reduced by the outstanding indebtedness incurred after December 1, 1950, to another member of the group, properly adjusted with respect to any such indebtedness incurred in the transactions described in (1).

(b) If total assets are determined for any day after December 1, 1950, the total interest paid or incurred by such member for any period including such day shall be determined without regard to the amount paid or incurred to another member of the group with respect to indebtedness which reduced such total assets under (a) (2).

(c) In determining total facilities for the purpose of applying section 444 to a member of the group, any facility held by such member on the last day of the consolidated base period which was acquired from another member of the group with a basis determined in whole or in part by reference to its basis in the hands of such other member shall be deemed to have been held by the member to which section 444 is applicable from the date of its acquisition by a member of the group.

(d) If the stock of a subsidiary corporation owned by other members of the group at any time during the taxable year for which the credit is being computed was acquired by such members, or by other members of the group, at any time on or after the first day of the consolidated base period, but only to the extent to which the consideration for such acquisition was not the issuance of the stock of the acquiring corporation (not including an acquisition from another member of the group which was affiliated with the acquiring corporation at the time of such acquisition, whether or not a consolidated return was filed for the year in which such acquisition occurred), or if the stock of another subsidiary owned at any time during the taxable year for which the credit is being computed was owned by such first subsidiary, the stock of which was so acquired, as of the date of such acquisition, there shall be excluded in the computation of the average base period net income under such section of each such subsidiary corporation, a proportionate part of the amount thereof otherwise computed, such proportionate part to be determined pursuant to the provisions of section 462 (j) (1), as if such subsidiaries were component corporations within the provisions of section 461 (b).

(e) For the purpose of such computations, if the taxable year of the member is different from the taxable year of the group, the taxable year of the group shall be used.

(xxvii) Base period capital addition and net capital addition or reduction if alternative average base period net income is used. In computing the base period capital addition or the net capital addition or reduction of a member of the group for the purpose of determining the consolidated base period capital addition or the consolidated net capital addition or reduction if the consolidated alternative average base period net income is used, the items involved in such computation shall be properly adjusted to reflect the amounts thereof which would be included in computing the consolidated base period capital addition or the consolidated net capital addition or reduction if such consolidated alternative average base period net income were not used. For the purpose of such computations, if the taxable year of the member is different from the taxable year of the group, the taxable year of the group shall be used.

(3) Limitations on net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs from separate return years. In no case shall there be included in the consolidated net operating loss deduction for the taxable year as consolidated net operating loss carry-overs under paragraph (a) (3) (ii) of this section (relating to the net operating losses sustained by a corporation in years for which separate returns were filed, or for which such corporation joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group), and as a consolidated net operating loss carry-back under paragraph (a) (4) (ii) of this section (relating to a net operating loss sustained by a corporation in the year subsequent to the last taxable year in respect of which its income is included in the consolidated return), an amount exceeding in the aggregate the net income of such corporation (computed with the exceptions and limitations provided in section 122 (d) (1), (2), (3), and (4)) included in the computation of the consolidated net income for the taxable year increased by its separate net capital gain and increased or decreased, as the case may be, with respect to its separate gains or losses from involuntary conversions and from sales or exchanges of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j).

(4) Minimum deduction involving carry-overs and carry-backs from separate return years. If a portion of the consolidated net operating loss deduction arises as a carry-over pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) (3) (ii) of this section (relating to net operating losses sustained by a corporation in years for which separate returns were filed, or for which such corporation joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group), or as a carry-back pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) (4) (ii) of this section (relating to a net operating loss sustained by a corporation in the year subsequent to the last taxable year in respect of which its income is included in the consolidated return), the consolidated net operating loss deduction shall not be less than the amount of such portion reduced by the amount, if any, by which the net income of such corporation (computed with the exceptions and limitations provided in section 122 (d) (1), (2), (3), and (4)) exceeds the normal-tax net income of such corporation (computed without any net operating loss deduction, but taking into account the additional capital loss deduction authorized by section 204 (c) (5)), or, in the case of two or more such corporations, the sum of such portions so reduced.

(5) Limitation on absorption of net operating loss carry-overs. In the computation of the consolidated net operating loss deduction for the taxable year, if there is involved a net operating loss sustained in a prior year by a corporation filing a separate return for such prior year, or joining in a consolidated return for such prior year filed by another affiliated group, together with a consolidated net income for a consolithere are involved net operating losses of two or more members of the group so separately sustained, no portion of the consolidated net operating loss, or, if dated return period of the group intervening between the year of the loss and the taxable year shall be taken into account more than once in giving effect to the provisions of paragraph (a) (3) (ii) of this section, relating to the computation of the consolidated net operating loss carry-overs originating in separate return years.

(6) Limitation on absorption of unused basic surtax credits. If, in the computation of the consolidated dividend carry-over for the second consolidated return period in respect of which the income of a corporation is included in the consolidated return of the group, there is involved a separate unused basic surtax credit of such corporation for the second preceding taxable year together with a consolidated unused basic surtax credit for the second preceding taxable year, or if, for the second consolidated return period in respect of which the income of two or more members of the group is included in the consolidated return of the group, there are involved the separate unused basic surtax credits of such corporations for the second preceding taxable year, no portion of the excess of the consolidated subchapter A net income over the consolidated basic surtax credit for the first preceding taxable year shall be taken into account more than once in giving effect to the provisions of paragraph (a) (26) (ii) and (iv) of this section (relating to the computation of that part of the consolidated dividend carry-over attributable to the unused basic surtax credits of the second preceding taxable year).

(7) Apportionment of consolidated net operating loss. If an affiliated group filing a consolidated return sustains a consolidated net operating loss within the provisions of section 26 (c), relating to the net operating loss credit, or within the provisions of section 122, relating to the net operating loss deduction, and if there are included as members of such group one or more corporations which made separate returns, or joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, either in the preceding taxable year or in a succeeding taxable year, the portion of such consolidated net operating loss attributable to such corporations severally shall be determined, such portion in the case of any such corporation being determined in an amount proportionate to the net losses (capital net losses and ordinary net losses alike) of the several affiliated corporations having net losses, to the extent that such losses were taken into account in the computation of the consolidated net operating loss.

(8) Apportionment of consolidated net capital loss. If an affiliated group filing a consolidated return sustains a consolidated net capital loss, and if there are included as members of such group one or more corporations which make separate returns, or join in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, in a succeeding taxable year, the portion of such consolidated net capital loss attributable to such corporations severally shall be determined, such portion in the case of any such corporation being an amount which bears the same ratio to the consolidated net capital loss which the net capital loss of such corporation bears to the aggregate of the net capital losses for the taxable year sustained by the several affiliated corporations having net capital losses.

(9) Apportionment of unused consolidated basic surtax credit. If an affiliated group filing a consolidated return has an unused consolidated basic surtax credit, and if there are included as members of such group one or more corporations which make separate returns, or join in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, in a succeeding taxable year, the portion of such unused consolidated basic surtax credit attributable to such corporations severally shall be determined for the purpose of the dividend carry-over, such portion in the case of any such corporation being determined in an amount proportionate to the dividends paid, the consent dividend credits, the several factors involved in the computation of the consolidated net operating loss credit, and the subchapter A net incomes of the several affiliated corporations, to the extent that such items were taken into account in the computation of the consolidated basic surtax credit and the consolidated subchapter A net income.

(10) Limitation on net capital loss carry-over from separate return year. In no case shall there be included in the computation of the consolidated net capital gain for the taxable year as a consolidated net capital loss carry-over under paragraph (a) (9) (ii) of this section (relating to net capital losses separately sustained) an amount exceeding in the aggregate net capital gains of such corporation (determined without regard to any net capital loss carry-over) included in the computation of the consolidated net capital gain for the taxable year increased with respect to its separate net gains from involuntary conversions and from sales or exchanges of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j).

(11) Qualifications on deductions where group membership changed after March 14, 1941. In the case of an affiliated group formed at any time subsequent to March 14, 1941, or having among its members in the taxable year one or more subsidiaries which became members of the group subsequent to March 14, 1941, the consolidated net income for the taxable year, and for prior and subsequent taxable years to the extent affected by carry-backs and carry-overs from the taxable year, shall be determined subject to the following qualifications:

(i) There shall be excluded in the case of the common parent corporation and in the case of any subsidiaries which were members of the group on March 14, 1941, those deductions from gross income otherwise allowable with respect to—

(a) Sales or exchanges of capital assets,

(b) Involuntary conversions and sales or exchanges of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j),

(c) Securities subject to the provisions of section 23 (g) (4) or section 23 (k) (5), or

(d) Debts subject to the provisions of section 23 (k) (1), to the extent that such deductions otherwise allowable exceed in the aggregate—

(e) In the case of capital losses, the excess of the aggregate capital gains over the aggregate capital losses of such corporations for the taxable year, or

(f) In the case of ordinary losses, the aggregate of the ordinary net income of such corporations for the taxable year, increased in an amount equal to any excess of aggregate capital gains over aggregate capital losses of such corporations, such capital gains and losses and such ordinary net income being determined pursuant to the provisions of the regulations in this part but without regard to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) (iv) and (2) (iii) (b) of this paragraph and without regard to the losses in question;

(ii) There shall be excluded in the case of a subsidiary corporation which became a member of the affiliated group subsequent to March 14, 1941, those deductions from gross income otherwise allowable with respect to—

(a) Sales or exchanges of capital assets,

(b) Involuntary conversions and sales or exchanges of property subject to the provisions of section 117 (j),

(c) Securities subject to the provisions of section 23 (g) (4) or section 23 (k) (5), or

(d) Debts subject to the provisions of section 23 (k) (1), to the extent that such deductions otherwise allowable are attributable to events preceding the date upon which such corporation became a member of the group, and

(e) Being capital losses, exceed—

(f) The capital gains reduced by all other capital losses of such corporation for the taxable year, in the case in which such corporation was not, on March 14, 1941, a member of an affiliated group within the meaning of section 141, or

(2) In case such corporation was a member of an affiliated group on March 14, 1941, an amount which, together with like losses computed subject to the provisions of the regulations in this part in the case of other members of the group during the taxable year which were affiliated with such corporation on March 14, 1941, within the meaning of section 141, is equal to the aggregate capital gains reduced by the aggregate of all other capital losses of such corporation and of such other members of the group, or

(f) Being ordinary losses, exceed—

(1) The ordinary net income of such corporation for the taxable year increased in an amount equal to any excess of capital gains over capital losses for the taxable year, in the case in which such corporation was not, on March 14, 1941, a member of an affiliated group within the meaning of section 141, or

(2) In case such corporation was a member of an affiliated group on March 14, 1941, an amount which, together with like losses computed subject to the provisions of the regulations in this part in the case of other members of the group during the taxable year which were affiliated with such corporation on March 14, 1941, within the meaning of section 141, is equal to the ordinary net income of such corporation for the taxable year increased by the aggregate of the ordinary net income and decreased by the aggregate of the ordinary net losses of other members of the affiliated group during the taxable year which were affiliated with such corporation on March 14, 1941, within the meaning of section 141, and increased further in an amount equal to any excess of aggregate capital gains over aggregate capital losses of such corporations, such capital gains and losses, and ordinary net income and net losses, as the case may be, being determined pursuant to the provisions of the regulations in this part but without regard to the provisions of subparagraphs (1) (iv) and (2) (iii) (b) of this paragraph (b) and without regard to the losses in question;

(iii) The portion of any loss otherwise allowable as a deduction for the taxable year which is disallowed pursuant to the provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph shall, to the extent that it constitutes a net capital loss within the provisions of section 117 or a net operating loss within the provisions of section 122, be considered as a net capital loss or a net operating loss, as the case may be, in respect of those members of the group by reference to which the amount of the deduction disallowed under subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph was determined, originating, for the purpose of the carry-back provisions, in a taxable year subsequent to the last taxable year in respect of which their income was included in a consolidated return, and, for the purpose of the carry-over provisions, in a taxable year prior to the first taxable year in respect of which their income was included in a consolidated return;

(iv) The provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph shall not apply with respect to the common parent corporation of an affiliated group formed subsequent to March 14, 1941, or to the common parent corporation or subsidiaries of a group in existence on March 14, 1941, acquiring new members subsequent to March 14, 1941, or with respect to subsidiaries becoming members of the group subsequent to March 14, 1941—

(a) If the group consists solely of the common parent corporation and one or more subsidiaries created, directly or indirectly, by the common parent corporation or by other members of the group;

(b) If, immediately after the corporation involved became a member of the group, common parent corporation or subsidiary, as the case may be, stock possessing at least 95 percent of the voting power of all classes of its stock then outstanding and at least 95 percent of each class of its nonvoting stock then outstanding is owned, directly or indirectly, by substantially the same interests by which such stock was owned on March 14, 1941;

(c) If the affiliated group involved was formed, or the new subsidiary became a member of the group, as an incident to an involuntary conversion or to a transfer made pursuant to an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Communications Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, or a similar regulatory body of State or Federal Government; or

(d) To the extent to which, upon consideration of the facts or circumstances presented by the particular case, the Commissioner determines that a consolidated net income computed with respect to the affiliated group but without regard to those subdivisions will not serve to distort the income tax liability of the group or of any of its members.

(e) If, upon consideration of the facts and circumstances presented by the particular case, the Commissioner determines that the general purpose of the provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) would be better served in a particular respect by adherence to a date subsequent to March 14, 1941, such subdivisions shall be administered in that respect as if the appropriate date determined by the Commissioner were substituted in such subdivisions in lieu of the date March 14, 1941.

(12) Basis of intercompany stockholdings. For the purpose of computing the consolidated excess profits credit for the taxable year, the following rules shall apply:

(i) Basis other than cost. Stock of one member of the affiliated group held by another member of the group at any time during the taxable year shall be determined to be stock held with a basis other than cost if—

(a) Such stock is held with a basis fixed by reference to the basis of other property previously held by the corporation, but not including—

(1) Stock acquired from another corporation in exchange for property previously held with a cost basis if, at the time of such acquisition or immediately thereafter—

(i) The acquiring corporation or its shareholders were in control of the corporation from which such stock was acquired, or

(ii) The corporation from which such stock was acquired or its shareholders were in control of the acquiring corporation; or

(2) Stock held at a lower level in a corporate chain of three or more affiliated corporations to the extent that the lower-level corporation is connected with the affiliated group through intercompany stockholding interests at a higher level in such chain acquired subsequent to the date of acquisition of such lower-level stock and held with a cost basis; or

(b) Such stock is held with a basis fixed by reference to its basis in the hands of a preceding owner, but not including—

(1) Stock acquired from another member of an affiliated group of corporations in a taxable year for which the acquiring corporation and the transferring corporation filed a consolidated income or excess profits tax return if, immediately prior to such acquisition—

(i) Such stock was held by the transferring corporation with a cost basis, or

(ii) The stock of the transferring corporation or of any other member of the affiliated group holding stock in the transferring corporation, directly or indirectly, was held by other members of the group with a cost basis, whether or not the stock transferred was held by the transferring corporation with a cost basis, but including stock so acquired which would have a basis other than cost if it had been acquired in an intercorporate liquidation described in (2) or in an exchange described in (3);

(2) Stock acquired in an intercorporate liquidation if, immediately prior to such liquidation—

(i) Such stock was held by the liquidated corporation with a cost basis, or

(ii) The stock of the liquidated corporation was held with a cost basis;

(3) Stock acquired from another member of a controlled group of corporations if, immediately prior to such acquisition—

(i) Such stock was held by the transferring corporation with a cost basis, or

(ii) The stock of the transferring corporation or of any other member of the controlled group holding stock in the transferring corporation, directly or indirectly, was held with a cost basis, whether or not the stock transferred was held by the transferring corporation with a cost basis, but including stock so acquired which would have a basis other than cost if it had been acquired in an intercorporate liquidation described in (2); or

(4) Stock held at a lower level in a corporate chain of three or more affiliated corporations to the extent that the lower-level corporation is connected with the affiliated group through intercompany stockholding interests at a higher level in such chain acquired subsequent to the date of acquisition of such lower-level stock and held with a cost basis.

(ii) Cost basis. Stock of one member of the affiliated group held by another member of the group at any time during the taxable year shall be determined to be stock held with a cost basis in all cases other than those in which the stock is determined to be stock held with a basis other than cost pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (i) of this subparagraph.

(iii) Intercompany stock transfers. In the case of stock of one member of the affiliated group held by another member of the group subject to the application of subdivision (i) (b) (1) (ii) of this subparagraph, relating to intercompany acquisitions during a consolidated return period, or (i) (b) (3) (ii), relating to acquisitions from another member of a controlled group of corporations, such stock shall have a basis for consolidated excess profits credit purposes in an amount equal to the basis which such stock would have in the hands of its present owner determined pursuant to the provisions of section 470 (a) and (b) or section 472 (c) (1) and (e) if such stock were acquired as the result of an intercorporate liquidation of the corporation transferring such stock and of each member of the group owning stock of the transferring corporation, directly or indirectly, through which such stock would have passed prior to its acquisition by its present owner.

(iv) Definitions. In determining whether stock of one member of the affiliated group held by another member of the group is held with a cost basis or a basis other than cost, the following definitions are applicable:

(a) The term "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation (except nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends).

(b) The term "controlled group" means one or more chains of corporations connected through stock ownership with a common parent corporation if stock possessing at least 80 percent of the voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 percent of each class of the nonvoting stock of each of the corporations (except the common parent corporation) is owned directly by one or more of the other corporations and the common parent corporation owns directly stock possessing at least 80 percent of the voting power of all classes of stock and at least 80 percent of each class of the nonvoting stock of at least one of the other corporations. As used in the preceding sentence, the term "stock" does not include nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends.

(c) The term "intercorporate liquidation" means the receipt by a corporation of property in complete liquidation of another corporation to which—

(1) The provisions of section 112 (b) (6), or the corresponding provisions of a prior revenue law, are applicable, including the case in which an election has been made pursuant to the last sentence of section 113 (a) (15) of the Revenue Act of 1936, as amended by section 808 of the Revenue Act of 1938, or

(2) A provision of law is applicable prescribing the nonrecognition of gain or loss, in whole or in part, upon such receipt, including a provision of the regulations applicable to a consolidated income or excess profits tax return, but not including the provisions of section 112 (b) (7) of the Revenue Act of 1938 relating to certain complete liquidations occurring during December 1938, the provisions of section 112 (b) (7) of the Internal Revenue Code relating to certain complete liquidations occurring during some one calendar month in 1944 or 1951, the provisions of section 112 (b) (9) relating to certain complete liquidations of railroad corporations, or the provisions of section 112 (b) (10) relating to reorganizations of corporations in certain receivership and bankruptcy proceedings, but only if none of such property so received is a stock or a security in a corporation the stock or securities of which are specified in the law applicable to the receipt of such property as stock or securities permitted to be received (or which would be permitted to be received if they were the sole consideration) without the recognition of gain.

(v) Rules applicable in determination of basis. In determining the total assets of a member of an affiliated group for consolidated equity capital purposes under subparagraph (2) (xiii) of this paragraph (b), or in determining the extent to which the equity invested capital of a subsidiary corporation is to be excluded under subparagraph (2) (xix) (e) of this paragraph (b), by reference to intercompany stockholding interests at a higher level in the corporate chain held with a cost basis (subparagraph (12) (i) (b) (4) of this paragraph (b)), and in adjusting the accumulated earnings and profits of a corporation the stock of which is held with a cost basis, either by reference to the date as of which such corporation became a member of the affiliated group or the date of any subsequent acquisition of its stock (subparagraph (2) (xx) (a) of this paragraph (b)), or by reference to realizations upon unrealized appreciation or depreciation of assets previously reflected in consolidated invested capital (subparagraph (2) (xx) (f) of this paragraph (b)), such determination and adjustment shall be made subject to the following rules:

(a) The determination and adjustment shall be made by reference to those acquisitions and holdings of stock held in the corporate chain with a cost basis, and by reference to those acquisitions and holdings only, which, considering the time of such acquisitions and the position in the corporate chain in which such holdings appear, reflect the ultimate cost acquisition and the resulting ownership, direct or indirect, by the group of those economic interests of the group underlying such stockholding acquisitions.

Example (1). Suppose that A acquired for cash in 1930 all of the stock of B; that P subsequently, in 1935, acquired for cash all of the stock of A; and that the P–A–B group files a consolidated return for 1951. P's cash acquisition and holding of the stock of A acquired in 1935 reflects the group acquisition and holding of the entire subsidiary chain. Every adjustment of earnings and profits prescribed by these regulations, and every determination made by reference to stock acquired and held with a cost basis, those in the cases of A and B alike, will be made with respect to the costs incurred in 1935 and with respect to that date. The cost of the stock of B incurred in 1930 is a matter of no significance in the computation of consolidated invested capital for the taxable year.

Example (2). Suppose a state of facts similar to that suggested in example (1), but varied to this extent: A acquired the stock of B in 1940 instead of 1930. This change in the order of acquisition renders the cash acquisition by A of the stock of B a matter of significance in the consolidated computation. The cash outlay incurred by P in 1935 did not serve to bring within the group that portion of the group enterprise reflected by the business and assets of B. The assets and the earnings and profits of B will be adjusted accordingly as of 1940 and by reference to the cost of its stock then incurred; those of A will be adjusted as of 1935 and by reference to 1935 costs.

Example (3). Suppose a state of facts similar to that suggested in example (1), but varied to this extent: A had acquired the stock of B with a basis other than cost. Adjustments to be made in the computation of consolidated equity capital, of equity invested capital, and of earnings and profits will be made precisely as in example (1), and for the same reasons, notwithstanding the character of A's stockholding interest in B. P holds the stock of B indirectly with a cost basis determined in character by reference to P's acquisition of the stock of A in 1935.

Example (4). Suppose a state of facts similar to that suggested in example (1), but varied to this extent: A had acquired the stock of B with a basis other than cost, and this acquisition was effected in 1940, instead of 1930, without breaking the affiliation between P and A. The stock of B acquired in 1940 is not to be considered as a part of the enterprise in respect of which P incurred costs in 1935. The higher-level holdings with a cost basis bear no significant relationship to the acquisition and holding by A of the stock of B. The stock of B is not to be considered to be held with a cost basis. No adjustment will be made in computing the earnings and profits of B.

Example (5). Suppose a state of facts similar to that suggested in example (1), but varied to this extent: P's acquisition of the stock of A in 1935 was made with a basis other than cost. B will be regarded for the purpose of the adjustments prescribed in subparagraph (2) (xiii) and (xix) (e) of this paragraph (b) as having become "a member of the group" as of 1930, the year in which its stock was acquired by A, regardless of the subsequent acquisition by P of the stock of A. The assets and the earnings and profits of B will be adjusted as of 1930, and by reference to the cost of its stock then incurred.

Example (6). If A had acquired the stock of B with a cost basis at a date subsequent to P's acquisition of the stock of A with a basis other than cost, the adjustment of B's assets and earnings and profits would be made by reference to the later date and by reference to the costs then incurred.

(b) The adjustment will be made by reference to the most recent acquisition of the required holdings of the stock of the corporation in the case of a corporation the stock of which was once held by other members of the affiliated group to the extent provided in section 141 (d), was later disposed of in whole or in part, and was subsequently reacquired.

(c) The adjustment will be made without regard to any exclusion of the corporation from the affiliated group in intervening years by reason of a loss of the voting control prescribed by section 141 (d) if such loss of voting control was attributable to the fact that stock which did not possess voting power at the time control was originally acquired later became entitled to vote.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in (f), if stock of the corporation held with a cost basis was acquired from another corporation which had held such stock with a cost basis, and if the cost basis with which such stock is held by the present owner is fixed by reference to the basis of such stock in the hands of such other corporation, the adjustment will be made as if the present owner had acquired such stock as of the date upon which such stock was acquired by such other corporation.

(e) If stock of the corporation held with a cost basis was acquired from another corporation in a liquidation subject to the provisions of section 112 (b) (6), or the corresponding provisions of a prior revenue law, and if the stock of the liquidated corporation was held by the acquiring corporation with a cost basis but the stock acquired was held by the liquidated corporation with a basis other than cost, the acquiring corporation shall be deemed to have acquired the stock received in the liquidation as of the date upon which it had acquired the stock of the liquidated corporation.

(f) If stock of the corporation held with a cost basis was acquired from another corporation in a liquidation subject to the provisions of section 112 (b) (6), or the corresponding provision of a prior revenue law, and if the stock so acquired was held by the liquidated corporation and the stock of the liquidated corporation was held by the acquiring corporation, both with a cost basis, the acquiring corporation shall be deemed to have acquired the stock received in the liquidation as of the date upon which such stock was acquired by the liquidated corporation, or as of the date upon which the acquiring corporation acquired the stock of the liquidated corporation with respect to which the distribution was made, whichever date was the later.

(g) If stock of the corporation held with a cost basis is deemed to be so held by virtue of the fact that the basis of such stock is fixed by reference to the cost basis of other stock in the hands of the present owner, such stock shall be deemed to have been acquired as of the date of acquisition of such other stock.

(h) If the basis of the stock of the corporation held by another member of the affiliated group was increased as the result of a statutory merger or consolidation of such corporation with another corporation, or as the result of a transaction having the effect of a statutory merger or consolidation, and if the stock of such other corporation was held by such member of the affiliated group with a cost basis, that portion of such member's stockholding interest in such corporation represented by the increase shall be deemed to have been acquired as of the date upon which such member acquired the stock of such other corporation.

Example. Suppose that P acquired all of the stock of A in 1930 with a basis other than cost in the amount of $10,000; that it acquired for $15,000 in cash in 1935 all of the stock of B; that it caused B to be merged into A in 1936 without the issuance by A of any additional shares of stock; and that the P-A group files a consolidated return for 1951. The $15,000 cost incurred by P in 1935 will be reflected in the increased basis with which P holds the stock of A. P will be deemed to have acquired for cash in 1935 a portion of its stockholding interest in A; the total assets of A for consolidated equity capital purposes will be adjusted accordingly; the earnings and profits of A, to the extent that they reflect the earnings and profits originally accumulated by B, will be adjusted as of 1935; and the earnings and profits of A will be further adjusted with respect to realizations by B and A upon the unrealized appreciation or depreciation in the assets of B as of 1935 reflected in the consolidated invested capital.

(13) Consolidated computations involving changes in membership—(i) Equity capital. For the purpose of computing the consolidated net new capital addition and the consolidated net capital addition or reduction—

(a) If the affiliated group at the beginning of the taxable year includes a corporation which was not a member of the group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, the consolidated equity capital for such first day shall include such portion of the equity capital of such corporation for such first day as is not attributable to the stock of such corporation held with a cost basis by other members of the group on the day on which such corporation became a member of the group, and the consolidated equity capital shall not include the stock in such corporation held on such first day with a basis other than cost;

(b) If the affiliated group at the beginning of the taxable year does not include a corporation which was a member of the group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, the consolidated equity capital for such first day shall be computed as if such corporation were not a member of the group.

(ii) Borrowed capital. The following rules shall apply with respect to borrowed capital:

(a) For the purpose of computing the consolidated daily new capital addition or reduction for any day of the taxable year—

(1) If the group includes for such day a corporation which was not a member of the group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, the borrowed capital for such first day shall include such portion of the borrowed capital of such corporation for such first day as does not consist of indebtedness owed to corporations which are members of the group on such day of the taxable year;

(2) If the group does not include for such day a corporation which was a member of the group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, the borrowed capital for such first day of the members of the group shall be computed as if such corporation were not a member of the group.

(b) For the purpose of computing the consolidated net capital addition or reduction for any taxable year, if any corporation is a member of the affiliated group for only part of the taxable year, the consolidated daily borrowed capital of the group for the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group shall be the consolidated daily borrowed capital for such day computed as if such corporation were not a member of the group for such day, increased or decreased, as the case may be, by such portion of the difference between the consolidated daily borrowed capital so computed and the consolidated daily borrowed capital computed as if such corporation were a member of the group for such first day, as the number of days during the taxable year during which such corporation is a member of the group is of the total number of days in the taxable year.

(iii) Capital addition or reduction. (a) If a corporation becomes a member of the group after the beginning of the taxable year of the group, proper adjustment shall be made in computing the consolidated adjusted invested capital and the consolidated net new capital addition by reflecting as property paid in to the members of the group in a transaction described in section 438 (e) or as a distribution by such members, as the case may be, on the date such corporation becomes a member of the group, the difference between the adjusted basis of the stock of such corporation held with a basis other than cost immediately after such corporation becomes a member of the group and the portion of the equity capital of such corporation as of the beginning of the taxable year of the group not attributable to stock held with a cost basis immediately after such corporation became a member of the group.

(b) If a member of the group holds during the taxable year stock in a corporation which ceases to be a member of the group during the taxable year, proper adjustment shall be made in computing the consolidated adjusted invested capital and the consolidated net new capital addition by reflecting as property paid in to such member in a transaction described in section 438 (e), or as a distribution by such member, as the case may be, on the date such corporation ceased to be a member of the group, the difference between the adjusted basis of stock held immediately before such corporation ceased to be a member of the group and—

(1) If such corporation was a member of the group at the beginning of the taxable year, an amount equal to the portion of the consolidated equity capital at the beginning of the taxable year attributable to such corporation, or

(2) If such corporation became a member of the group after the beginning of the taxable year, the amount with respect to such corporation deemed paid in to a member of the group during the taxable year for stock or as paid-in surplus or as a contribution to capital, properly adjusted in either case for capital changes with respect to such corporation occurring during the taxable year and prior to the date on which affiliation is broken.

(iv) Consolidated increase or decrease in inadmissible assets. For the purpose of computing the consolidated increase or decrease in inadmissible assets—

(a) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the group after the beginning of the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group and prior to the beginning of the taxable year, the consolidated original inadmissible assets shall include the inadmissible assets of such corporation on such first day (properly adjusted to reflect the adjusted basis recognized for consolidated equity capital purposes), and shall not include any stock in such corporation held by other members of the group;

(b) If the affiliated group at the beginning of the taxable year does not include a corporation which was a member of the group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, the consolidated original inadmissible assets for such first day shall be computed as if such corporation were not a member of the group;

(c) In the case of a corporation which is a member of the affiliated group for only part of the taxable year, the consolidated original inadmissible assets—

(1) Shall include such portion of the amount of the adjusted basis of the inadmissible assets of such corporation on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group (properly adjusted to reflect the adjusted basis of such assets recognized for consolidated equity capital purposes), and

(2) Shall not include such portion of the adjusted basis of the stock of such corporation held by other members of the group at the beginning of such first day, as the number of days during the taxable year during which such corporation is a member of the group is of the total number of days in the taxable year.

(v) Base period capital addition. For the purpose of computing the consolidated base period capital addition—

(a) If the affiliated group at the beginning of the taxable year includes a corporation which was not a member of the group on the first day of a taxable year for which consolidated yearly base period capital is computed (the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group or either one of the two taxable years preceding such first taxable year)—

(1) The consolidated equity capital shall include with respect to such corporation only such portion of the equity capital of such corporation for such first day as is not attributable to the stock of such corporation held with a cost basis by other members of the group on the day on which such corporation became a member of the group, and the consolidated equity capital shall not include the stock in such corporation held on such first day with a basis other than cost;

(2) The consolidated daily borrowed capital for such first day shall include such portion of the borrowed capital of such corporation for such first day as does not consist of indebtedness owed to other members of the group;

(3) The aggregate of the inadmissible assets of the group for such first day shall include the portion of the inadmissible assets (properly adjusted to reflect the adjusted basis recognized for consolidated equity capital purposes) of such corporation for such first day as does not consist of stock of other members of the group, and shall not include any stock of such corporation held by other members of the group;

(4) The consolidated controlled group indebtedness for such first day shall include the portion of the indebtedness (properly adjusted to reflect the adjusted basis recognized for consolidated equity capital purposes) described in section 435 (f) (4) owed to such corporation on such first day, which does not consist of indebtedness owed by other members of the affiliated group; and

(5) The aggregate of the adjustments for interest on borrowed capital under section 435 (f) (5) shall include such adjustment determined under section 435 (f) (5) for such corporation on such first day, computed without regard to any borrowed capital owed to another member of the group;

(b) If the affiliated group at the beginning of the taxable year does not include a corporation which was a member of the group on the first day of a taxable year for which yearly base period capital is computed, the consolidated equity capital, the consolidated daily borrowed capital, the aggregate of the inadmissible assets, the consolidated controlled group indebtedness, and the aggregate of the adjustments for interest on borrowed capital under section 435 (f) (5) for such first day shall be computed as if such corporation were not a member of the affiliated group; and

(c) If a corporation is a member of the affiliated group for only part of the taxable year, the consolidated equity capital, the consolidated daily borrowed capital, the aggregate of the inadmissible assets, the consolidated controlled group indebtedness, and the aggregate of the adjustments for interest on borrowed capital under section 435 (f) (5) for the first day of each taxable year for which yearly base period capital is computed shall be determined as if such corporation were not a member of the group, and each such item so determined shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by an amount which is such portion of the difference between such item so determined and such item determined as if (a) were applicable as the number of days in the taxable year during which such corporation is a member of the group is of the total number of days in the taxable year.

(vi) Section 435 (g) (6) inadmissible asset adjustment. For the purpose of computing the section 435 (g) (6) adjustment for any day—

(a) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the group after the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group and prior to such day, the consolidated original inadmissible assets shall include the inadmissible assets of such corporation for such first day (properly adjusted to reflect the adjusted basis recognized for consolidated equity capital purposes), and shall not include any stock in such corporation held by other members of the group; and

(b) If the affiliated group at the beginning of such day does not include a corporation which was a member of the group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, the consolidated original inadmissible assets for such first day shall be computed as if such corporation were not a member of the group.

(vii) Stock in member of controlled group. For the purpose of determining the consolidated section 435 (g) (6) adjustment for any day—

(a) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the affiliated group after the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group and prior to such day, the consolidated original controlled group stock—

(1) Shall not include any stock of such corporation held by other members of the affiliated group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, and

(2) Shall include the aggregate of the adjusted basis (properly adjusted to reflect the adjusted basis recognized for consolidated equity capital purposes) of the stock held by such corporation on such first day which was stock described in section 435 (g) (6) (A) of a member of a controlled group; and

(b) If the affiliated group for such day does not include a corporation which was a member of the group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, the consolidated original controlled group stock shall not include any amount with respect to stock held by such corporation, and the stock of such corporation held by other members of the affiliated group on such first day shall be taken into account in determining the consolidated original controlled group stock as if such corporation were not a member of the affiliated group.

(viii) Section 435 (g) (7) adjustment. For the purpose of computing the consolidated section 435 (g) (7) adjustment for any day—

(a) In the case of a corporation which became a member of the group after the beginning of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group and prior to such day, the consolidated original controlled group indebtedness shall include the indebtedness described in section 435 (g) (7) owed to such corporation on such first day (properly adjusted to reflect the adjusted basis of such indebtedness recognized for consolidated equity capital purposes), and shall not include any indebtedness described in section 435 (g) (7) owed by such corporation to any other member of the affiliated group; and

(b) If the affiliated group at the beginning of such day does not include a corporation which was a member of the group on the first day of the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group, the consolidated original section 435 (g) (7) indebtedness for such first day shall be computed as if such corporation were not a member of the affiliated group.

(ix) Additional adjustment. In computing an amount for which an adjustment is required by reason of the affiliated group including a corporation which was not a member of the group on a prior day or by reason of the group not including a corporation which was a member on a prior day, proper adjustment shall be made for the case in which—

(a) Such corporation was created on or after such prior day, directly or indirectly, by another member of the group in a transaction in which the bases of its assets are determined by reference to the bases of the assets in the hands of the other member of the group, or

(b) Such corporation was absorbed on or after such prior date by a member of the group in a transaction in which the bases of its assets became the bases of such assets in the hands of the transferee.

(14) Consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income. In computing the consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income, the following rules shall apply:

(i) In no case shall the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for any month be less than zero; and

(ii) The consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for any month during no part of which any member of the group was in existence shall be zero.

(15) Eligibility requirements for consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income. For the purpose of determining whether an affiliated group may compute its consolidated average base period net income by reference to the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income, the following rules shall apply:

(i) The group shall be eligible to use the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income computed under paragraph (a) (65) (i), (ii), or (iii) of this section, if at least one member of the affiliated group commenced business before the beginning of the consolidated base period, and if—

(a) The sum of the aggregate of the total assets of the several members of the affiliated group as of the beginning of the first day of the consolidated base period and the aggregate of the total assets as of such first day of any other corporation which was affiliated with a member of the group for the first taxable year of such member ending after June 30, 1950, if such other corporation commenced business prior to such first day, does not exceed $20,000,000; and either

(b) The aggregate of the total payroll (determined under section 435 (e) (4)) for the last half of the consolidated base period of those members of the group which had commenced business before the beginning of the consolidated base period is 130 percent or more of the aggregate of the total payroll of such members for the first half of the consolidated base period; or

(c) The aggregate of the gross receipts (determined under section 435 (e) (5)) for the last half of the consolidated base period of those members of the group which had commenced business before the beginning of the consolidated base period is 150 percent or more of the aggregate of the gross receipts of such members for the first half of the consolidated base period.

(ii) The group shall be eligible to use the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income computed under paragraph (a) (65) (i), (ii), or (iii) of this section if at least one member of the group commenced business before the beginning of the consolidated base period, and if—

(a) The aggregate of the net sales for the period beginning January 1, 1950, and ending June 30, 1950, of those members of the group which had commenced business before the beginning of the consolidated base period, equals or exceeds 75 percent of the average of the aggregate of the net sales for the calendar years 1946 and 1947 of such members of the group; and

(b) Forty percent or more of the aggregate of the net sales for the calendar year 1950 of those members of the group which had commenced business before the beginning of the consolidated base period is attributable to a product, or class of products (including any article in which such product or class of products is the principal component and including any article which is a component of such product or class of products), of a kind not generally available to the public at any time prior to January 1, 1946; and

(c) The aggregate of the net sales for the calendar year 1946 of the members described in (b) which is attributable to the product or class of products described in (b) is 5 percent or less of the aggregate of the net sales of such members so attributable for the calendar year 1949.

(iii) The group shall be eligible to use the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income computed under paragraph (a) (65) (iv) of this section if it is eligible to use the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income computed under paragraph (a) (65) (i), (ii), or (iii) of this section, solely by reason of (ii) of this subparagraph, and if the aggregate of the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for the 12 months in the calendar year 1949 is not more than 25 percent of the aggregate of the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income for the 12 months in the calendar year 1948, the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income being computed in each instance without regard to any member of the group which commenced business after the beginning of the consolidated base period.

(16) Computations under section 435 (e). For the purpose of computing the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income, and for the purpose of applying subparagraph (15) of this paragraph relating to eligibility requirements, the following rules shall apply:

(i) In computing the consolidated section 433 (b) excess profits net income or the consolidated weighted excess profits net income for any month,—

(a) There shall be excluded the excess profits net income, or the deficit in excess profits net income, as the case may be, of any member of the affiliated group which did not commence business before the beginning of the consolidated base period; and

(b) There shall be included an amount equal to one-twelfth of the amount which would be determined as the consolidated alternative average base period net income if computed with respect to the excess profits net income determined under section 433 (b), the deficit in excess profits net income determined under section 433 (c) or the average base period net income computed under section 445, as the case may be, of those members of the group only which commenced business after the beginning of the consolidated base period.

(ii) In computing as of the beginning of the consolidated base period, the aggregate of the total assets of the corporations described in subparagraph (15) (i) (A) of this paragraph—

(a) There shall be included the cash and property other than cash held by each such corporation for the purpose of the business;

(b) Such property shall be included in an amount equal to its adjusted basis for determining gain upon sale or exchange; and

(c) There shall be disregarded stock of one such corporation held by another such corporation.

(iii) The consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income shall not exceed the sum of—

(a) If those members of the affiliated group which were members of the group on June 30, 1950, would be eligible to use the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income on the basis of a computation limited to those members only, an amount which would be the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income or the consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income, whichever is higher, if computed with respect to the excess profits net income or deficit in excess profits net income of those members only;

(b) If those members of the group which were not members of the group on June 30, 1950, but which were affiliated with each other on that day, would be eligible to use the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income on the basis of a computation limited to those members only, an amount which would be the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income or the consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income, whichever is the higher, if computed with respect to the excess profits net income or deficit in excess profits net income of those members only;

(c) In the case of each member of the affiliated group which was not affiliated with any other member of the group on June 30, 1950, and which would be eligible to use the average base period net income computed under section 435 (e) if a separate return were filed, the average base period net income under section 435 (e) or the average base period net income under section 435 (d), whichever is the higher, computed separately for such member but subject to the rules provided in § 24.31 (b) (2); and

(d) In the case of those members of the group which commenced business after the beginning of the consolidated base period, an amount equal to the consolidated alternative average base period net income computed under (i) (b) of this subparagraph; and

(e) An amount which would be the consolidated section 435 (d) average base period net income if computed without regard to the excess profits net income or deficit in excess profits net income of any member of the group which is described in (a), (b), or (c) above.

(17) Computation of consolidated alternative average base period net income. For the purpose of determining the consolidated alternative average base period net income, the following rules shall apply:

(i) In the application of section 442 (c), 442 (d), 443, 444, or 446, in the case of those members of the affiliated group which commenced business before the beginning of the consolidated base period and which were affiliated with each other at the close of the consolidated base period and at all subsequent times involved in the application of such section—

(a) Such section shall be applied to all such members as a unit;

(b) All computations involved shall be made on the basis of the aggregate of the items separately determined for each such member; and

(c) Such section shall be considered applicable to such members only if such application results in a lower excess profits tax on the affiliated group for the taxable year.

Example. In the case of such members, the requirement of section 443 (a) (2) would be met as to all such members if the aggregate of the gross income or net income of such members attributable to new products or services of one or more of such members constitutes, respectively, more than 40 percent of the aggregate of the gross income, or 33 percent of the aggregate of the net income, separately computed for such members.

(ii) Section 442, 443, 444, 445, or 446 shall be considered applicable to any member of the affiliated group other than a member described in (i) only if such section would be applicable to such member if it filed a separate return, and only if the application of such section to such member results in a lower excess profits tax of the group for the taxable year.

(iii) Section 442, 443, 444, 445, or 446 shall not be considered applicable to the members of the group described in (i) or to any member of the group described in (ii) unless a proper application therefor is filed under section 447.

(iv) In the case of a corporation which is a member of the affiliated group for only a part of the taxable year for which the excess profits credit is being computed, and to which section 442, 443, 444, 445, or 446 is applicable, the amount to be included with respect to such corporation in computing the consolidated alternative average base period net income for the purpose of the consolidated excess profits credit for such taxable year shall be limited to an amount which bears the same ratio to the amount which would be included if such corporation were a member of the group throughout the taxable year as the number of days in the taxable year for which the credit is being computed during which it was a member of the group (excluding the day on which it became a member) bears to the total number of days in such taxable year.

(18) Base period capital addition. In the computation of the consolidated base period capital addition, the following rules shall apply:

(i) If the consolidated average base period net income is the consolidated alternative average base period net income, the consolidated base period capital addition shall be computed as if the affiliated group did not include those members for which amounts computed under sections 442 (d), 443, 444, 445, or 446 are included in the consolidated alternative average base period net income, or for which a substitute excess profits net income under section 442 (c) is included in the consolidated alternative excess profits net income for any month in the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group or in the two immediately preceding taxable years. The consolidated base period capital addition computed under the preceding sentence shall be increased by an amount equal to the base period capital addition separately computed under section 435 (f) (3) (C) for any member of the group for which a substitute excess profits net income computed under section 442 (c) (1) was included in the consolidated alternative excess profits net income for any month in the second taxable year preceding the first excess profits tax taxable year of the group.

(ii) If the consolidated average base period net income is the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income, the consolidated base period capital addition shall be computed as if the affiliated group included only those members which commenced business after the beginning of the consolidated base period, other than any such member for which an amount computed under section 445 is included in the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income.

(19) Net capital addition or reduction in case section 443 or 445 is applicable. If the consolidated average base period net income is the consolidated alternative average base period net income, the consolidated net capital addition or reduction shall be computed as if the affiliated group did not include those members for which amounts computed under section 443 or section 445 are included in computing the consolidated alternative average base period net income. If the consolidated average base period net income is the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income, the consolidated net capital addition or reduction shall be computed as if the group did not include those members for which amounts computed under section 445 are included in computing the consolidated section 435 (e) average base period net income. The consolidated net capital addition or reduction so computed in either instance shall be properly increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the net capital addition or reduction separately computed for each such member.

(20) Computations under section 448. In the computation of the consolidated section 448 excess profits credit, the consolidated section 448 gross credit, and the consolidated section 448 inadmissible asset adjustment, the following rules shall apply in the case of any member of the affiliated group described in section 448 (c) (1) (A), (c) (1) (B), (c) (2) or (c) (4), the corporate books of account of which are maintained in accordance with systems of accounts prescribed by an appropriate regulatory body or, if not so prescribed, are maintained in accordance with the uniform systems of accounts prescribed by the Federal Power Commission or the National Association of Railway and Utility Commissioners:

(i) The sum specified in paragraph (a) (85) of this section shall be computed without regard to any amount with respect to such member otherwise includible in such computation, and the sum so computed shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by an amount equal to—

(1) The average outstanding common and preferred capital stock accounts for its taxable year plus the capital surplus and earned surplus accounts (or minus any deficits therein) at the beginning of its taxable year as properly recorded on the corporate books of account of such member, and

(2) Its average borrowed capital of such member for the taxable year, minus

(b) The average for the taxable year of the amount, as properly recorded on the corporate books of account, of the stock of other members of the group held by such member.

(ii) For the purpose of computing the consolidated section 448 inadmissible asset adjustment, the amounts attributable to the assets of such member shall be determined according to the amounts properly recorded in its corporate books of account.

(iii) In the case of any such member which is a member of the group for only part of the taxable year, the amount referred to in (i) shall be reduced to an amount which is such part thereof as the number of days in the taxable year during which such corporation is a member of the group (excluding the day on which it became a member of the group) is of the total number of days in the taxable year.

(21) Limitation on separate carry-overs or carry-backs of unused excess profits credit. In no case shall there be included in the consolidated unused excess profits credit adjustment for the taxable year—

(i) As a consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-over under (a) (88) (ii) of this section, relating to the unused excess profits credit of a corporation for a year for which a separate return was filed or for which such corporation joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, and

(ii) As a consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-back under (a) (89) (ii) of this section, relating to the unused excess profits credit of a corporation for a year for which a separate return was filed or for which such corporation joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, an amount in excess of the portions thereof which could have been availed of by such corporation as unused excess profits credit carry-overs and as a carry-back if a separate return had been filed for such taxable year, but with its net income computed subject to the provisions of subparagraph (1) (i) of paragraph (b) of this section.

(22) Limitation on consolidated unused excess profits credit in case of liquidation, etc. If any member of the affiliated group distributes during the taxable year substantially all of its assets in liquidation or completes the conversion of substantially all of its assets into assets not held in good faith for the purpose of the business, appropriate adjustment shall be made in the computation of the consolidated unused excess profits credit for such taxable year in accordance with section 432 (c) upon the basis of the portion of the consolidated unused excess profits credit attributable to such corporation.

(23) Limitation on absorption of unused excess profits credit carry-overs. In the computation of the consolidated unused excess profits credit adjustment for the taxable year, if there is involved an unused excess profits credit for a prior year of a corporation filing a separate return for such prior year or joining in a consolidated return for such prior year filed by another affiliated group, together with a consolidated unused excess profits credit, or if there are involved such separate unused excess profits credits of two or more members of the group, no portion of the consolidated adjusted excess profits net income for a consolidated return period of the group intervening between the year of the unused excess profits credit and the taxable year shall be taken into account more than once in giving effect to the provisions of (a) (88) (ii) of this section, relating to the computation of the consolidated unused excess profits credit carry-overs originating in separate return years.

(24) Qualifications on excess profits credit where group membership changed after March 14, 1941. In the case of an affiliated group formed at any time subsequent to March 14, 1941, or having among its members one or more subsidiaries which became members of the group subsequent to March 14, 1941, the consolidated excess profits credit for the taxable year shall be determined subject to the following qualifications:

(i) The portion of the consolidated excess profits credit otherwise allowable with respect to the common parent corporation and with respect to any subsidiaries which were members of the group on March 14, 1941, shall not exceed—

(a) The portion of the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for the taxable year attributable to such common parent corporation, in the case of a group formed subsequent to March 14, 1941, or

(b) In the case of a group formed prior to March 15, 1941, but having among its members in the taxable year one or more subsidiaries which became members of the group subsequent to March 14, 1941, the aggregate of the portion of the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for the taxable year attributable to the common parent corporation and to the several subsidiary corporations which were members of the group on March 14, 1941.

(ii) The portion of the consolidated excess profits credit otherwise allowable with respect to a subsidiary corporation which became a member of the group subsequent to March 14, 1941, shall not exceed—

(a) The portion of the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for the taxable year attributable to such subsidiary corporation in the case in which such subsidiary corporation was not on March 14, 1941, a member of an affiliated group within the meaning of section 141, or

(b) If such subsidiary corporation was a member of an affiliated group on March 14, 1941, an amount which, together with that portion of the consolidated excess profits credit computed subject to the provisions of these regulations and attributable to other members of the group during the taxable year which were affiliated with such subsidiary corporation on March 14, 1941, within the meaning of section 141, does not exceed the aggregate of the portion of the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for the taxable year attributable to such subsidiary corporation and to such other members of the group.

(iii) The portion of the consolidated excess profits credit otherwise allowable for the taxable year which is disallowed pursuant to the provisions of (i) and (ii) shall be considered as an unused excess profits credit in respect of those members of the group by reference to which the amount of the credit disallowed under (i) and (ii) was determined, originating, for the purpose of the unused excess profits credit carry-back provisions, in a taxable year subsequent to the last taxable year in respect of which their income was included in a consolidated return, and, for the purpose of the unused excess profits credit carry-over provisions, in a taxable year prior to the first taxable year in respect of which their income was included in a consolidated return.

(iv) The provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) shall not apply with respect to the common parent corporation of an affiliated group formed subsequent to March 14, 1941, or to the common parent corporation or subsidiaries of a group in existence on March 14, 1941, acquiring new members subsequent to March 14, 1941, or with respect to subsidiaries becoming members of the group subsequent to March 14, 1941—

(a) If the group consists solely of the common parent corporation and one or more subsidiaries created, directly or indirectly, by the common parent corporation or by other members of the group;

(b) If, immediately after the corporation involved became a member of the group, common parent corporation or subsidiary, as the case may be, stock possessing at least 95 percent of the voting power of all classes of its stock then outstanding and at least 95 percent of each class of its nonvoting stock then outstanding is owned, directly or indirectly, by substantially the same interests by which such stock was owned on March 14, 1941;

(c) If the affiliated group involved was formed, or the new subsidiary became a member of the group, as an incident to an involuntary conversion or to a transfer made pursuant to an order of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Communications Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, or a similar regulatory body of State or Federal Government; or

(d) To the extent to which, upon consideration of the facts or circumstances presented by the particular case, the Commissioner determines that a consolidated excess profits credit computed with respect to the affiliated group but without regard to subdivisions (i) and (ii) will not serve to distort the excess profits tax liability of the group or of any of its members.

(e) If, upon consideration of the facts and circumstances presented by the particular case, the Commissioner determines that the general purpose of the provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) would be better served in a particular respect by adherence to a date subsequent to March 14, 1941, such subdivisions shall be administered in that respect as if the appropriate date determined by the Commissioner were substituted in such subdivisions in lieu of the date March 14, 1941. Ordinarily, under the preceding sentence, the provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) shall not apply with respect to the formation or expansion of an affiliated group occurring after December 31, 1946, and before July 1, 1950.

(25) Loss to group of investment in an affiliate. In the case of a loss to one or more members of an affiliated group sustained during the taxable year as the result of the worthlessness of the investment of such members in another affiliate, whether such investment was reflected in the stock, bonds, or open account advances to such other affiliate—

(i) Such losses shall be taken into account in the computation of consolidated net income for the year of the loss in an amount not greater in the aggregate than the excess of the consolidated net income for such year computed without regard to any such loss over that portion of such consolidated net income so computed attributable to such other affiliate; and

(ii) The portion of any such loss otherwise allowable as a deduction for the taxable year which is disallowed pursuant to the provisions of (i) shall be considered as a consolidated net operating loss to be taken into account as a consolidated carry-back to the preceding taxable year and as consolidated carry-overs to succeeding taxable years, but in an amount not greater for any such year than the excess of the consolidated net income for such year, computed without regard to such carry-back or carry-over, as the case may be, over that portion of such consolidated net income so computed for such year attributable to such other affiliate.

(26) Allocation of unused excess profits credit. If an affiliated group filing a consolidated return has a consolidated unused excess profits credit for the taxable year, and if there are included as members of such group one or more corporations which made separate returns, or joined in a consolidated return filed by another affiliated group, either for the preceding taxable year or for a succeeding taxable year, the portion of such consolidated unused excess profits credit attributable to such corporations severally shall be determined, such portion in the case of any such corporation being determined in an amount bearing the same ratio to the consolidated unused excess profits credit for the taxable year which the excess, if any, of that portion of the consolidated excess profits credit attributable to such corporation over that portion of the consolidated excess profits net income, if any, attributable to such corporation bears to the aggregate of such excesses in the case of the several affiliated corporations having such excesses for the taxable year.

(27) Consolidated normal tax net income for excess profits tax purposes. If there are involved in the computation of the consolidated normal tax net income, computed for normal tax purposes, net operating loss carry-overs, net short-term capital loss carry-overs, bases for determining gain or loss upon a sale or exchange, or other factors, in amounts different from the net operating loss carry-overs, net short-term capital loss carry-overs, bases for determining gain or loss upon a sale or exchange, or such other factors, determined for excess profits tax purposes, the consolidated normal tax net income, computed for the purpose of the excess profits tax, shall be used for excess profits tax purposes in lieu of the consolidated normal tax net income used in the computation of the normal tax.

(c) Statements and schedules for subsidiaries. The statement of gross income and deductions and the several schedules required by the instructions on the return must be prepared and filed by the common parent corporation in columnar form so that the details of the items of gross income, deductions, invested capital, and credits, for each member of the affiliated group, may be readily audited. Such statements and schedules shall include in columnar form a reconciliation of surplus for each such corporation, together with a reconciliation of the consolidated surplus. Consolidated balance sheets as of the beginning and close of the taxable year of the group, taken from the books of the members of the group, shall accompany the consolidated return prepared in a form similar to that required for reconciliation of surplus.

(d) Net operating loss deduction, net operating loss credit, and dividend carry-over before or after consolidated return period. The consolidated net operating loss (whether computed for the purpose of the deduction or the credit) of an affiliated group, or the unused consolidated basic surtax credit of such group, shall be used in computing the consolidated net operating loss deduction, the consolidated net operating loss credit, or the consolidated dividend carry-over, as the case may be, notwithstanding that one or more corporations, members of the group in the taxable year in which such loss or such unused basic surtax credit originates, make separate returns (or join in a consolidated return made by another affiliated group) for a subsequent taxable year (or, in the case of a carry-back computation, for the preceding taxable year), but only to the extent that such consolidated net operating loss or such unused consolidated basic surtax credit is not attributable to such corporations; and such portion of such consolidated net operating loss or such unused consolidated basic surtax credit as is attributable to the several corporations making separate returns (or joining in a consolidated return made by another affiliated group) for a subsequent taxable year (or, in the case of a carry-back computation, for the preceding taxable year) shall be used by such corporations severally as carry-overs, or as carry-backs, in such separate returns, or in such consolidated returns, of the other affiliated group. Any unused basic surtax credit of a corporation separately produced for a year prior to a taxable year in respect of which its income is included in the consolidated return of the group shall be used in computing the dividend carry-over of such corporation (or the consolidated dividend carry-over of another affiliated group of which it becomes a member) for a subsequent taxable year for which it makes a separate return or joins in a consolidated return of another group, but only to the extent that such unused basic surtax credit was not absorbed in the computation of the consolidated dividends paid credit for the intervening consolidated return period. Any net operating loss separately sustained by a corporation prior to a first taxable year in respect of which its income is included in the consolidated return of the group (or, in the year immediately following a consolidated return year) shall be used in computing the net operating loss deduction of such corporation (or the consolidated net operating loss deduction of another affiliated group of which it becomes a member) for a subsequent taxable year for which it makes a separate return or joins in a consolidated return of another group, but only to the extent that such net operating loss was not absorbed (either as a carry-over or as a carry-back) in the computation of the consolidated net operating loss deduction for consolidated return periods.

(e) Unused excess profits credit before or after consolidated return period. The consolidated unused excess profits credit of an affiliated group shall be used in computing the consolidated unused excess profits credit adjustment notwithstanding that one or more corporations, members of the group in the taxable year in which such unused excess profits credit originates, make separate returns (or join in a consolidated return made by another affiliated group) for a subsequent taxable year (or, in the case of a carry-back computation, for the preceding taxable year), but only to the extent that such consolidated unused excess profits credit is not attributable to such corporations; and such portion of such consolidated unused excess profits credit as is attributable to the several corporations making separate returns (or joining in a consolidated return made by another affiliated group) for a subsequent taxable year (or, in the case of a carry-back computation, for the preceding taxable year) shall be used by such corporations severally as carry-overs, or as carry-backs, in such separate returns, or in such consolidated return of the other affiliated group. Any unused excess profits credit of a corporation for a year prior to a taxable year in respect of which its income is included in the consolidated return of the group (or, for the year immediately following a consolidated return year) shall be used in computing the unused excess profits credit adjustment of such corporation (or the consolidated unused excess profits credit adjustment of another affiliated group of which it becomes a member) for a subsequent taxable year for which it makes a separate return or joins in a consolidated return of another group, but only to the extent that such unused excess profits credit was not absorbed (either as a carry-over or as a carry-back) in the computation of the consolidated unused excess profits credit adjustment for consolidated return periods.

(f) Taxable year of less than 12 months. Any period of less than 12 months for which either a separate return or a consolidated return is filed, under the provisions of § 24.13, shall be considered as a taxable year, and the excess profits net income or the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income for such year, as the case may be, shall be placed on an annual basis pursuant to the provisions of section 433 (a) (2).

§ 24.32 Method of computation of income for period of less than 12 months. If a corporation, during the taxable year of the group, becomes a member or ceases to be a member of an affiliated group which makes or is required to make a consolidated return for such year, the income of such corporation to be included in the consolidated return shall be computed on the basis of its income as shown by its books if the accounts are so kept that the income for the period during which it is a member of the group can be clearly and accurately determined. If the accounts are not so kept, the income to be included in the consolidated return shall be computed on the basis of that proportion of its income (subject to the elimination of items exempt from taxation and the addition of items not allowable as deductions) for the full period covered by its books which the number of days for which its income is included in the consolidated return bears to the number of days in the full period covered by its books; but, in the discretion of the Commissioner, there may be eliminated before the proration is made items of income or deduction clearly and accurately determined to be attributable to particular periods, and, after the proration is made, such eliminated items will be added to (if items of income) or deducted from (if deductible items) the income determined by proration for the period to which such items are applicable. The credits allowable under sections 13 and 15 of the Code shall be given for the period to which they are properly applicable under the facts in the case.

§ 24.33 Gain or loss from sale of stock, or bonds or other obligations. Gain or loss from the sale or other disposition (whether or not during a consolidated return period), by a corporation which during any period of time has been a member of an affiliated group which makes or is required to make a consolidated return, of any share of stock or any bond or other obligation issued or incurred by another corporation which during any part of such period was a member of the same group, shall be determined, and the extent to which such gain or loss shall be recognized and shall be taken into account shall also be determined, in the same manner, to the same extent, and upon the same conditions as though such corporations had never been affiliated (see sections 111 to 115, inclusive, and section 117, and the regulations thereunder), except—

(a) In the case of a disposition (by sale, or in complete or partial liquidation not involving cash in an amount in excess of the adjusted basis of both the stock and the bonds and other indebtedness liquidated, or otherwise) during a consolidated return period to another member of the group (see §§ 24.31 and 24.37);

(b) That the basis for determining the gain or loss, in the case of shares of stock, or in the case of bonds or other obligations, held during any part of a consolidated return period, shall be determined in accordance with §§ 24.34 and 24.35; and

(c) As provided in § 24.36 (imposing certain limitations upon losses otherwise allowable upon sales of stock, or bonds or other obligations).

§ 24.34 Sale of stock; basis for determining gain or loss—(a) Scope of section. This section prescribes the basis for determining the gain or loss upon any sale or other disposition (hereinafter referred to as "sale") by a corporation which is (or has been) a member of an affiliated group which makes (or has made) a consolidated return for any taxable year, of any share of stock issued by another member of such group (whether issued before or during the period that it was a member of the group and whether issued before, during, or after the taxable year 1929), and held by the selling corporation during any part of a period for which a consolidated return is made or required under these regulations. For the basis in the case of a sale of bonds, see § 24.35.

(b) Sales made while selling corporation is member of affiliated group. If the sale is made within a period during which the selling corporation is a member of the affiliated group, whether or not during a consolidated return period, and whether or not, as a result of such sale, the issuing corporation ceases to be a member of the group, the basis shall be determined as follows:

(1) The aggregate bases of all shares of stock of the issuing corporation held by each member of the affiliated group (exclusive of the issuing corporation) immediately prior to the sale, shall be determined separately for each member of the group, and adjusted in accordance with the Code, but without regard to any adjustment under the last sentence of section 113 (a) (11) relating to losses of the issuing corporation sustained by such corporation after it became a member of the group.

(2) From the combined aggregate bases as determined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, there shall be deducted the sum of—

(i) All losses of such issuing corporation sustained during taxable years for which consolidated income tax returns were made or were required (whether the taxable year 1929 or any prior or subsequent taxable year) after such corporation became a member of the affiliated group and prior to the sale of the stock to the extent that such losses could not have been availed of by such corporation as net loss or net operating loss in computing its net income for such taxable years if it had made a separate return for each of such years,

(ii) With respect to each of such taxable years for which consolidated returns were made or were required both for income and for excess profits tax purposes, the excess, if any, of all losses of such issuing corporation for such year, properly adjusted in the computation of consolidated excess profits net income or consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income, over the amount of such losses for such year computed under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph to the extent that such excess could not have been availed of by such corporation as a net operating loss in computing its excess profits net income for such taxable years if it had made a separate return for each of such years, and to the extent that such losses could not have been availed of by such corporation as a net operating loss in computing its excess profits net income for such taxable years if it had made a separate excess profits tax return for each of such years.

(iii) With respect to each of such taxable years for which consolidated returns were made or were required for excess profits tax purposes only, all losses of such issuing corporation for such year, properly adjusted in the computation of consolidated excess profits net income,

reduced by any losses of the issuing corporation apportioned under this section to its stock sold or otherwise disposed of in a prior transaction, disregarding any transaction between members of the affiliated group during a consolidated income or excess profits tax return period which did not constitute a partial liquidation of the issuing corporation. For any taxable year in which the group sustained a consolidated loss not availed of in prior or subsequent years as a deduction under net loss or net operating loss provisions, the amount deducted under this subparagraph shall be further reduced by an amount equal to that proportion of such consolidated loss which the loss of the issuing corporation for the year in which such loss was sustained bears to the aggregate losses of the members of the group for such year.

(3) The sum of the aggregate bases of all shares of stock, after making the deduction under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, shall then be apportioned among the members of the affiliated group which hold stock of the issuing corporation, by allocating to each such member that proportion of the sum of the aggregate bases so reduced which the aggregate basis of the stock in the issuing corporation held by such member bears to the sum of the aggregate bases.

(4) The aggregate basis as determined under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph for each member of the affiliated group shall then be equitably apportioned among the several classes of stock of the issuing corporation held by such member according to the circumstances of the case—ordinarily by allocating to each class of such stock that proportion of the aggregate basis which the basis of each class of such stock held by it at the time of the sale is to the sum of the bases of the several classes of such stock held by it.

(5) The basis of each share of stock of each class held by a member of the affiliated group shall then be determined by dividing the basis apportioned to such class under subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, by the total number of shares of such class held by it.

(c) Sales after selling corporation has ceased to be member of affiliated group. If the sale is made after the selling corporation has ceased to be a member of the affiliated group, such basis shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, except that—

(1) The aggregate basis (under paragraph (b) (1) of this section) shall be determined for all shares of the issuing corporation held by each member of the group immediately prior to the time the selling corporation ceased to be a member of the group (rather than immediately prior to the sale);

(2) The reduction (under paragraph (b) (2) of this section) with respect to losses apportioned to stock sold or otherwise disposed of in prior transactions shall be determined without regard to the transaction which terminated the affiliation and all subsequent transactions;

(3) The allocation (under paragraph (b) (3) of this section) shall be made to each member of the group which held stock of the issuing corporation immediately prior to the time the selling corporation ceased to be a member of the group (rather than to the members holding such stock at the time of the sale); and

(4) The basis of each share of stock held by the selling corporation (determined, as above, as of the time the selling corporation ceased to be a member of the group) shall then be adjusted in accordance with the Code (see, particularly, sections 111 to 115, inclusive) in order to determine the basis at the time of the sale.

(d) Definition of "loss," "consolidated loss," and "net loss" or "net operating loss". As used in this section, the term "loss" means the excess over the gross income of the issuing corporation of the sum of its allowable deductions (not including any net loss or net operating loss deduction) plus the proportionate part properly attributable to such corporation of the credits relating to interest on certain Government obligations and dividends received allowable in computing consolidated normal-tax net income, the consolidated special class net income, or consolidated net income subject to tax; the term "consolidated loss" means the excess of the sum of the losses, separately computed, over the sum of the normal-tax net income, the special class net income, or the net income subject to tax, separately computed, of the several members of the affiliated group, determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code, or the Revenue Act, and pursuant to the provisions of consolidated returns regulations, applicable to the period; and the term "net loss" or "net operating loss" means the net loss or net operating loss, as the case may be, determined in accordance with the provisions of the Code, or the Revenue Act, and pursuant to the provisions of consolidated returns regulations, applicable to the period.

§ 24.35 Sale of bonds or other obligations; basis for determining gain or loss. In the case of a sale or other disposition by a corporation, which is (or has been) a member of an affiliated group which makes (or has made) a consolidated income tax or excess profits tax return for any taxable year, of bonds or other obligations issued or incurred by another member of such group (whether or not issued or incurred while it was a member of the group and whether issued or incurred before, during, or after the taxable year 1929) and held by the selling corporation during any part of a period for which a consolidated return is made or required under these regulations, the basis of each bond or obligation, for determining the gain or loss upon such sale or other disposition, determined in accordance with the Code, but without regard to any adjustment under the last sentence of section 113 (a) (11), shall be decreased (except as otherwise provided in this section) by the excess, if any, of the aggregate of the deductions computed under paragraph (b) (2) or (c) of § 24.34 over the sum of the aggregate bases of the stock of the debtor corporation as computed under paragraph (b) (1) or (c) of § 24.34, as the case may be, held by the members of the group. The adjustment with respect to so much of such deductions as is based upon losses sustained during the taxable year 1929 and subsequent taxable years for which the last day prescribed by law for the filing of the return fell on or before March 1, 1945 (the date on which Treasury Decision 5441 was filed with the Division of the Federal Register), and availed of on consolidated returns filed for such years shall be made only in those cases in which the sales or other disposition of such bonds or other obligations resulted in a loss. See, also, § 24.40, relating to disallowance of loss upon intercompany bad debts.

§ 24.36 Limitation on allowable losses on sale of stock, or bonds or other obligations.—(a) General rule. No loss shall be allowed under § 24.33, § 24.34, or § 24.35 upon the sale or other disposition of stock or bonds or obligations to the extent that such loss is attributable to (1) transfers of assets within the affiliated group (by sale, gift, or otherwise) without consideration or at markedly fictitious values, during the period in which the corporations were affiliated (whether or not a consolidated return was made), or (2) a distribution during a period in which the corporations were affiliated of earnings or profits accumulated prior to the date upon which the distributing corporation became a member of the group.

(b) Qualification of general rule. Paragraph (a) of this section shall not be considered as in any way limiting the operation of the provisions of the Code relating to the basis for determining gain or loss upon the sale or other disposition of property (see sections 111 to 115, inclusive), but as being in amplification of and not in substitution for such provisions; subject, however, to this qualification: that to the extent that the transfers of assets referred to in paragraph (a) of this section are taken into account under the terms of the Code in making adjustments in the basis, such transfers will not be taken into account in denying losses under paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 24.37 Liquidations; recognition of gain or loss.—(a) During consolidated return period. (1) Gain or loss shall not be recognized upon a distribution during a consolidated return period, by a member of an affiliated group to another member of such group, in cancellation or redemption of all or any portion of its stock, except—

(i) Where such distribution is in complete liquidation and redemption of all of its stock (whether in one distribution or a series) and of its bonds and other indebtedness, if any, and falls without the provisions of section 112 (b) (6), and is the result of a bona fide termination of the business and operations of such member of the group, in which case the adjustments specified in §§ 24.34 and 24.35 shall be made, and § 24.36 shall be applicable; or

(ii) Where such a distribution without the provisions of section 112 (b) (6) is one made in cash in an amount in excess of the adjusted basis of the stock, and bonds and other indebtedness, in which case gain shall be recognized to the extent of such excess.

(2) When the business and operations of the liquidated member of the affiliated group are continued by another member of the group, it shall not be considered a bona fide termination of the business and operations of the liquidated member. With respect to the acquisition of its bonds by the issuing company, see § 24.41 (b).

(3) For the purpose of determining whether an affiliated corporation receiving property in a liquidating distribution qualifies under the provisions of section 112 (b) (6) (A), the aggregate amount of the stock of the liquidated corporation owned by the several members of the affiliated group on the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation and at all times subsequent thereto and prior to the receipt of the property in liquidation shall be considered as owned by the distributee.

(b) After consolidated return period. In case any such distribution is made after a consolidated return period, whether in complete or partial liquidation, except a complete liquidation within the provisions of section 112 (b) (6), with respect to stock and with respect to bonds, debentures, notes, certificates, and other indebtedness of the liquidated corporation acquired prior to or during any taxable year subsequent to 1928 for which a consolidated income or excess profits tax return was filed, the adjustments specified in §§ 24.34 and 24.35 shall be made, and § 24.36 will be applicable.

§ 24.38 Basis of property.—(a) General rule. Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section and except as otherwise provided in §§ 24.34 and 24.39, the basis during a consolidated return period for determining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property, or upon which exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion are to be allowed, shall be determined and adjusted in the same manner as if the corporations were not affiliated (see sections 111 to 115, inclusive), whether such property was acquired before or during a consolidated return period. Except as otherwise provided in § 24.39, such basis immediately after a consolidated return period (whether the affiliation has been broken or whether the privilege of making a consolidated return is not exercised) shall be the same as immediately prior to the close of such period.

(b) Intercompany transactions. The basis prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section shall not be affected by reason of a transfer during a consolidated return period, other than upon liquidation as provided in paragraph (c) of this section (whether by sale, gift, dividend, or otherwise) from a member of the affiliated group to another member of such group.

(c) Basis after liquidation. (1) Where property is acquired upon a distribution described in § 24.37 (a) in which gain or loss is recognized to the distributee, the basis of such property shall be its fair market value at date of acquisition.

(2) Where property is acquired upon a distribution in which gain or loss to the distributee is not recognized pursuant to the provisions of section 112 (b) (6), the basis of such property shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor.

(3) Where property is acquired upon a distribution (not a complete liquidation within the provisions of section 112 (b) (6)) in which gain or loss to the distributee is not recognized as provided in § 24.37 (a), the basis of such property shall be the same as the basis (determined in accordance with sections 111 to 115, inclusive, and §§ 24.34 and 24.35) of the stock and the bonds and other obligations exchanged therefor, adjusted for—

(i) The transfer of assets within the affiliated group by the distributing corporation (by sale, gift, or otherwise) without consideration or at markedly fictitious values, during the period for which the corporations were affiliated (whether or not a consolidated return was made);

(ii) Distributions during a period in which the corporations were affiliated of earnings or profits accumulated prior to the date upon which the distributing corporation became a member of the group; and

(iii) Cash received in the distribution.

(4) Where property was acquired upon a distribution in which gain or loss to the distributee was recognized pursuant to the provisions of section 112 (b) (7), or the corresponding provisions of the Revenue Act of 1938, the basis of such property shall be the same as the basis (determined in accordance with sections 111 to 115, inclusive, and § 24.34) of the stock exchange therefor, adjusted for—

(i) The transfer of assets within the affiliated group by the distributing corporation (by sale, gift, or otherwise) without consideration or at markedly fictitious values, during the period for which the corporations were affiliated (whether or not a consolidated return was made);

(ii) Distribution during a consolidated return period of earnings or profits accumulated prior to the date upon which the distributing corporation became a member of the group;

(iii) Cash received in the distribution; and

(iv) The amount of gain recognized to the distributee in the liquidation.

(d) Basis not affected by acquisition or sale of stock. Neither the acquisition of stock of a corporation nor its sale or other disposition shall affect the basis of the property of such corporation for determining gain or loss or upon which exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion are to be allowed.

§ 24.39 Inventories.—(a) Consolidated return for first year of affiliation. If the income of an affiliated corporation is included in a consolidated return for the period immediately following the date upon which such corporation became a member of the affiliated group, the value of its opening inventory to be used in computing the consolidated net income shall be the proper value of the closing inventory used in computing its net income for the preceding taxable year.

(b) Consolidated return after separate return by affiliates. If a corporation which is a member of the affiliated group for the first consolidated return period was a member of the group in the preceding taxable year, the value of its opening inventory to be used in computing the consolidated net income for the first consolidated return period shall be the proper value of the closing inventory used in computing its net income for the preceding taxable year decreased in the amount of profits or increased in the amount of losses reflected in such inventory which arose in transactions between members of the affiliated group and which have not been realized by the group through final transactions with persons other than members of the group.

(c) Separate returns made after consolidated returns. If a corporation which was a member of an affiliated group in a consolidated return period makes or is required to make a separate return for the succeeding taxable year, the value of its opening inventory to be used in computing its net income for such succeeding taxable year shall be the proper value of its closing inventory used in computing consolidated net income for the last consolidated return period increased in the amount of profits or decreased in the amount of losses eliminated in the computation of such inventory as profits or losses arising in transactions between members of the affiliated group, but in an amount not exceeding, in the case of profits, either the amount of profits arising from such intercompany transactions reflected in the closing inventory of such corporation for such succeeding taxable year or the amount of such intercompany profits eliminated from its opening inventory for its first consolidated return period pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, and not exceeding, in the case of losses, either the amount of losses arising from intercompany transactions reflected in the closing inventory for such corporation for such succeeding taxable year or the amount of such intercompany losses eliminated from its opening inventory for its first consolidated return period pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) Years in consolidated base period, etc. For each of the years in the consolidated recent loss period, in the consolidated base period, or in any other period involved in the computation of the consolidated average base period net income, proper adjustment with respect to unrealized profits or losses in transactions between members of the affiliated group (including any component corporation of any such member as defined in section 461) which were affiliated with each other during such year shall be made in the opening and closing inventories of each such affiliated corporation.

§ 24.40 Bad debts.—(a) Deduction during consolidated return period. No deduction shall be allowed during a consolidated return period to any member of the affiliated group on account of worthlessness in whole or in part of any obligation (including accounts receivable, bonds, notes, debts, and claims of whatsoever nature) of any other corporation which was a member of the group as of the last day of the taxable year or which was liquidated by the group during such year, except as a loss resulting from a bona fide termination of the business and operations of such other corporation, whether in liquidation or otherwise, in which case the loss shall be computed subject to the adjustments specified in § 24.35, and the provisions of § 24.36 shall be applicable.

(b) Limitation of allowance after consolidated return period. With respect to obligations (including accounts receivable) of a member of an affiliated group acquired in any way by another member of the group prior to or during any taxable year subsequent to 1928 for which a consolidated income or excess profits tax return was filed, the adjustments prescribed with respect to the allowance of losses upon the sale of bonds shall be applicable to the allowance of any bad debt deduction for any period subsequent to the consolidated return period. See § 24.35.

§ 24.41 Sale and retirement by corporation of its bonds.—(a) Issued at discount or premium. If a corporation which during any taxable year has been a member of an affiliated group which makes or is required to make a consolidated return, has issued its bonds at a discount or premium (whether or not during a consolidated return period), deduction will be allowed for the amortization of the discount, and income included for the amortization of the premium, in the same manner, to the same extent, and upon the same conditions as if the corporation had never been affiliated, except that no deduction for amortization of discount shall be allowed, and no income shall be included for amortization of premium, during a period for which a consolidated return is made, on bonds of one member of the group owned by another member of the group.

(b) Acquisition of bonds by issuing company. If a corporation which has been a member of an affiliated group which makes or is required to make a consolidated return, acquires its bonds (whether or not from another member of such group and whether or not during a consolidated return period), gain or loss shall be recognized in the same manner, to the same extent, and upon the same conditions as if the corporation had never been affiliated, except that, if such bonds are acquired from another member of the group during a consolidated return period, and in a transaction other than a distribution in a liquidation in which gain or loss to the distributee is recognized pursuant to § 24.37 (a), in determining the gain or loss to the issuing company from such acquisition, the basis thereof to such other member of the group shall be deemed the purchase price.

§ 24.42 Capital loss limitations and carry-over. (a) The provisions of sections 23 (g) and (k), 117 (d), (e), and (j), 122 (d), and 204 (c) (5), with respect to gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall be applied, in respect of such gains and losses sustained during a consolidated return period as if the affiliated group were the taxpayer.

(b) With respect to a net capital loss sustained by a corporation in a taxable year prior to the first consolidated return period in respect of which its income is included in a consolidated return, such loss (in an amount not in excess of the net capital gain of such corporation for succeeding consolidated return periods) shall, for the purposes of section 117 (e), relating to net capital loss carry-overs, be treated as if such net capital loss had been sustained by the affiliated group.

(c) A consolidated net capital loss of an affiliated group for a consolidated return period shall be considered as a consolidated short-term capital loss in subsequent consolidated return periods notwithstanding that one or more corporations, members of the group in the taxable year in which such loss was sustained, make separate returns for subsequent taxable years (or join in a consolidated return made by another affiliated group), but only to the extent that such consolidated net capital loss is not attributable to such corporations; and such portion of such consolidated net capital loss as is attributable to the several corporations making separate returns (or joining in a consolidated return made by another affiliated group) for a subsequent taxable year shall be considered as a short-term capital loss in such separate returns, or in such consolidated return of the other affiliated group, but only to the extent that such portion of such consolidated net capital loss was not absorbed in intervening taxable years by net capital gains, consolidated or separate, as the case may be. Any net capital loss sustained by a corporation prior to the first taxable year in respect of which its income is included in the consolidated return shall be considered as a short-term capital loss in the separate return of such corporation (or the consolidated return of another affiliated group of which it becomes a member) for a subsequent taxable year for which it makes a separate return or joins in a consolidated return of another group, but only to the extent that such net capital loss was not absorbed in intervening taxable years by net capital gains, consolidated or separate, as the case may be.

§ 24.43 Credit for foreign taxes. The credit allowed to an affiliated group for taxes paid or accrued during the consolidated return period to any foreign country or to any possession of the United States (under section 131) shall be computed and allowed as if the affiliated group were the taxpayer, and as if the aggregate taxes paid by the several members of the group and the credits allowed with respect to such payments were payments made by and credits allowed to the group.

§ 24.44 Methods of accounting.—(a) In general. All members of the affiliated group shall adopt that method of accounting which clearly reflects the consolidated net income. A method of accounting which does not treat with reasonable consistency all items of gross income and deductions of the various members of the group shall not be regarded as clearly reflecting the consolidated net income. For example, one member of the group will not be permitted to report items of income or deductions on the cash method of accounting, while another member of the same group reports the same or similar items on the accrual method. The provisions of this paragraph are subject to the exceptions stated in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Combination of methods. If the members of an affiliated group have established different methods of accounting, each member may retain such method with the consent of the Commissioner, provided that the consolidated net income and the consolidated section 433 (a) excess profits net income are clearly reflected: And provided further, That intercompany transactions affecting such consolidated items shall be eliminated, and adjustments on account of such transactions shall be made with reference to a uniform method of accounting to be selected by the members of the group with the consent of the Commissioner.

(c) Change to accrual method. In the case of a corporation which previously has reported its income (whether in a separate or a consolidated return) in accordance with a method other than the accrual method and is required under this section to report its income for the taxable year under the accrual method, items of income which accrued prior to the taxable year but were properly omitted in the determination of net income under the method of accounting formerly followed shall be included in the income for the taxable year of the change in accounting method, and items of income which were properly included in the determination of net income under the method of accounting formerly followed shall not be included in the income for the taxable year of the change or any subsequent year. In such a case, deductions which accrued prior to the taxable year but which were properly omitted in the determination of net income under the method of accounting formerly followed shall be allowed for the taxable year of the change in accounting method, and deductions which were properly included in the determination of net income under the method of accounting formerly followed shall not be allowed in the determination of net income for the taxable year of the change or any subsequent year.

In pursuance of the Internal Revenue Code, the foregoing regulations are hereby prescribed.

[SEAL] GEO. J. SCHOENEMAN,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Amendment 14]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

LEATHER CUT STOCK

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 14 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment adds leather cut stock to the list of commodities to which Ceiling Price Regulation 22 does not apply.

Leather cut stock consists of all items cut from tanned hides and skins. Included are outer soles, welting, counters, box toes, inner soles, lining, heel lifts, midsoles, and other such products. Most leather cut stock is used in the fabrication of shoes, although the business of manufacturing these items is conducted primarily as a separate enterprise. However, a good share of the production of welting and of outer and inner soles is by shoe manufacturers who either do their own tanning or purchase tanned hides for this use.

Depending upon their grade and quality, leather bends, bellies, shoulders and heads can be used to make the same or similar items of cut stock. The cost of these various leather parts will vary, however. As a further complicating factor entering into the pricing of these commodities, there are many varieties of most cut stock items. Cut sole varieties, for example, aggregate several hundred items, all or most of which may be produced by one manufacturer.

Already the experience of leather stock cutters who have attempted to price under CPR 22 shows that distortions of prices will result in many cases. The many varieties of leather that may be used and the great number of cut products that may be derived will often cause unrealistic prices when CPR 22 formulas are applied. Frequently, ceiling prices so determined would be unjustifiably above the present general level of prices in this industry. These distorted and high cut stock prices would be passed on to shoe manufacturers and eventually would be reflected in their ceiling prices, which are now established by CPR 41—Shoe Manufacturers' Regulation.

Ceiling prices for tanned and finished leather are still fixed by the General Ceiling Price Regulation, pending issuance of a tailored regulation. Such prices, of course, largely determine the price of leather cut stock. In view of this and of the complications and distortions which result from the application of CPR 22, as above noted, it has been concluded that leather cut stock should also remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulatio pending issuance of a tailored leather regulation.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is amended so that paragraph (o) of Appendix A reads as follows:

(o) Leather, tanned and finished, and leather cut stock.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective June 28, 1951.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Supplementary Regulation 8]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

SR 8—METHOD FOR DETERMINING CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN RUBBER PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Congress) Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

When CPR 22 was issued on April 25, 1951, it was pointed out in the Statement of Considerations that:

"Even in the administration of this regulation, supplementary regulations may be issued for particular industries so as to promote the objectives of the price stabilization program. For example, in appropriate cases it may be possible to announce a general labor cost increase factor, or a materials cost increase factor, or both, for application by an entire industry, or to specify a particular base period for the industry. These and similar techniques will permit the achievement of much of the goal of a uniform industry regulation even before the entire tailored regulation is ready for issuance. They will also afford a means of rectifying any wide disparities between the ceiling prices established for competing sellers of the same or similar commodities."

It was further provided in section 42 of CPR 22 that "The Director of Price Stabilization may issue supplementary regulations modifying or implementing this regulation as he deems appropriate."

This supplementary regulation is just such a regulation in that it provides that ceiling prices for each manufacturer of certain listed rubber products shall be his prices during a specified base period, adjusted by a specified industry-wide cost adjustment factor which takes into account certain changes in both materials and labor costs since the base period, and which has been calculated by the methods provided in CPR 22. In the cases of certain kinds of commodities the GCPR ceiling prices rather than the base period prices are multiplied by factors adjusted in accordance with the principles of SR 2 to CPR 22, to arrive at the new ceiling prices. These industry-wide price adjustments are not only consistent with the provisions of CPR 22 and its Statement of Considerations, but they have been adopted for a number of specific reasons. A large majority of rubber products are normally sold at standard list prices, less discounts. Under normal market conditions, a certain balance or equilibrium exists between competitors' prices. Some companies sell at a premium above average and others at lower levels. Such differences compensate for advantages enjoyed or lacked by individual competitors with respect to public acceptance of brands, service, quality of product, method of selling and other factors. Tires and tubes, rubber footwear, many mechanical goods such as belts and hose, heels and soles, rubber drug sundries, reclaimed rubber and other items follow this pricing pattern. This pricing method is not new, but has been developed in these industries over a period of many years. If all manufacturers adjust their prices, which had certain well established competitive relationships in the base period, by the same factor, their new ceilings will maintain that same normal relationship. Individual price adjustments based on individual calculations would tend to destroy or impair the established pattern. This pricing action thus continues the past pricing practices of these industries, in accordance with the tenor of Section 402g of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

Furthermore, the clarity of pricing resulting from the application of uniform increase factors will contribute to compliance and enforcement. In addition, this technique minimizes for many small companies the burden of compiling individual cost increase factors as required by CPR 22.

To arrive at the ceiling prices provided by this supplementary regulation, OPS made four important types of determinations:

Determination 1—The exact grouping of commodities to which any specific base period and adjustment factor would apply.

Determination 2—The selection for each grouping of the most representative of the four base periods permitted by CPR 22.

Determination 3—The calculation of cost increase factors for the groupings to reflect weighted average changes in cost from the base period to the cutoff date.

Determination 4—Whether to apply SR 2 to CPR 22 to the prices resulting from the above determination.

OPS made the first two determinations after receiving the advice and recommendations of the various rubber Industry Advisory Committees, with particular attention given to the specific differences of the various segments of the rubber industry. Then, with a view to making the third and fourth determinations, the manufacturers of rubber commodities were sent either OPS Public Form 15 or 16, depending on whether Method 2 or 4 under CPR 22 was found to be more suited in determining the materials cost adjustment for that group of commodities. These Forms 15 and 16 call for the same information as is required by OPS Public Form 8, and accordingly, manufacturers subject to this supplementary regulation are not required to file Form 8. Also, since all Forms 15 and 16 are received and analyzed by OPS before a uniform cost adjustment factor is approved and made effective under this regulation, there is no need for a 15 day waiting period such as is required by CPR 22 in cases where new ceiling prices exceed GCPR ceiling prices.

The uniform cost increase factors were generally calculated on the basis of information submitted by at least 50 percent of the subject manufacturers by number who represented at least 70 percent of the production of the commodities in each group. The figures were weighed according to 1950 net sales, or physical units, consideration being given both to the median and the weighted-mean increase. Where, after consultation with and on the recommendation of the Industry Advisory Committee, it was felt that there would be less disruption of the pricing structure by applying equivalent factors to GCPR prices, instead of the original factors to base period prices, the principles of SR 2 were applied.

As respects rubber footwear, reports were received from 11 of the 16 rubber footwear manufacturers in the U. S. representing over 90 percent of the waterproof rubber footwear and over 80 percent of fabric upper, rubber soled footwear, by volume of production. The weighted average cost increase factor for waterproof rubber footwear was found to be 23.43 percent and the median was 22.0 percent.

The cost adjustment factor of 1.22 based on the median cost increase was divided by 1.1884, the weighted average price increase between the pre-Korea base period and the GCPR base period, to give a price adjustment factor of 1.0266 as applied to GCPR prices. Although the cost adjustments and price increases were slightly different for fabric upper, rubber soled footwear, vulcanized as a unit, the price adjustment factor was almost identical, 1.0268. The IAC, however, unanimously recommended that the present GCPR prices be retained, i. e., that the factors 1.0266 and 1.0268 be reduced to 1.00, but without waiving any rights to claim full consideration of all ceiling price increases over the general GCPR price level to which they are entitled in any subsequent recalculation of their ceiling prices. In making this recommendation the IAC pointed out that the rubber footwear industry does not customarily issue new price lists where the average change is but 2 or 3 per cent from the existing list, nor are prices ordinarily changed at this time of year for such footwear. The retention of GCPR price levels under these circumstances would therefore be both in keeping with usual practices of this industry and consistent with the principles of CPR 22. Furthermore, holding the line at the GCPR level was done in view of the lower world market price of crude rubber which will be reflected to the manufacturers in the third quarter of 1951, according to an announcement made by GSA on June 21, 1951.

As respects heels and soles, calculations were made for five groups of commodities on the basis of 27 company returns, representing about 90 per cent of the production of approximately 40 producers. Increased allocations of high cost crude rubber by NPA in May, 1951 and the temporary shortage of synthetic rubber helped to contribute to a price adjustment ratio which was higher for rubber heels and soles than those calculated for rubber footwear and which was deemed to be but temporary. The ratios for high-styrene heels and soles were just over 1.00. The IAC unanimously agreed to follow the pattern established for the rubber footwear industry of accepting GCPR ceilings but not waiving any rights in subsequent recalculations to full consideration of their higher price adjustment ratios.

As respects rubber sundries, eight groups of commodities were established, six of which were adjusted to the GCPR level. Reports were filed by 21 firms producing over four-fifths of all such products. Again the industry advisory committee recommended that GCPR ceilings not be increased because the ratios above 1.00 were very small, because this was not the season to change prices, and because of the possible decline in the cost of natural rubber. In the case of rubber bands the industry average cost adjustment over pre-Korea prices amounted to 41.5 per cent. This, however, will, on the average, result in a roll back of GCPR prices by over ten per cent to the level in effect in August, 1950. In the case of erasers, on the other hand, with an industry average cost adjustment of only 9 per cent, present ceiling prices will be rolled forward since manufacturers, except on a few items, did not raise prices from pre-Korea to the GCPR base period.

As all calculations have been made by the individual rubber companies in accordance with the provisions of CPR 22 and its Supplementary Regulation No. 2, and as all calculations by the OPS are based on these company figures and are weighted by actual dollar sales or physical units of production, the ceiling prices established by this Supplementary Regulation are in line with the ceiling prices established by CPR 22.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the ceiling prices established by this supplementary regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950. So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the Defense Production Act of 1950, and to relevant factors of general applicability.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this regulation does.
2. How you figure your ceiling prices.
3. Reports.
4. Price Adjustment Table.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 4 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This supplementary regulation provides a method of computing ceiling prices for manufacturers of certain kinds of rubber products listed in section 4 of this supplementary regulation, by the application of either a specified cost increase factor to the prices in effect in one of the four specified base periods under Ceiling Price Regulation 22, or a specified factor adjusted in accordance with Supplementary Regulation 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 to ceiling prices in effect under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. If you are a manufacturer of any rubber product listed in section 4 of this supplementary regulation, you must compute your ceiling prices for such product under this supplementary regulation instead of under Ceiling Price Regulation 22. This supplementary regulation does not apply to rubber products normally produced and supplied only for military use. All provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 22, not inconsistent with this supplementary regulation, however, will continue to apply.

SEC. 2. How you figure your ceiling prices. Notwithstanding the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 22, if you are a manufacturer of rubber products of the kinds listed in section 4, except those normally produced and supplied only for military use, you shall determine your ceiling prices for such products as follows:

For each such product, you find the highest price you charged your largest buying class of purchaser during the "factor base period" specified in section 4 for that kind of rubber product, and multiply that price by the "factor" shown in section 4 for that kind of product.

You then determine your ceiling prices to your other classes of purchasers by applying your customary differentials last in effect before the end of the "original base period" specified in section 4 to the ceiling prices determined above for your largest buying class of purchaser. You must maintain conditions of sale which are at least as favorable to each class of purchaser as those you customarily had in effect during the "original base period."

If, for example, you use a price list with discounts from that list to your various classes of purchasers, and if your factor base period and your original base period are the same, or if your discounts and differentials to each of your classes of purchasers were the same in both periods, you multiply your price list and the net prices to each class of purchasers in the factor base period by the factor shown in the table in section 4. However, in other cases, you recalculate your new list and net prices in the following manner:

For each such product you first find the highest net price you charged your largest buying class of purchaser during the "factor base period" specified in section 4 for that kind of rubber product and multiply that net price by the factor shown in section 4 for that kind of product. This will give you your new net ceiling price to your largest buying class of purchaser. You then determine your new list price by applying to your new net ceiling price to your largest buying class of purchaser the percentage markup which your "original base period" list price bore to your "original base period" net price to your largest buying class of purchaser. You then determine your new net ceiling prices to your other classes of purchasers by applying to your new list price your customary discounts given to each such class of purchaser during the "original base period."

SEC. 3. Reports. (a) As to commodities subject to this supplementary regulation, you need not file Form 8 and you are not subject to the 15 day waiting period prescribed in sections 46 (b) and 48 (c) of Ceiling Price Regulation 22.

(b) Before accepting payment for any sale of products subject to this supplementary regulation, you must file with the Rubber Branch of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a complete list of your ceiling prices and discounts under this supplementary regulation, which list may be a printed price list. However, if you have already filed any of your ceiling prices and discounts with the Office of Price Stabilization, and this supplementary regulation does not change them, then as to such prices and discounts, you need only file a statement that the information required by this section has already been furnished, giving the date when such information was filed.

SEC. 4. Price adjustment table. The following facters are applicable only to those kinds of rubber products which are listed except those normally produced and supplied only for military use.

Kind of rubber product [1]	Factor base period	Factor [2]	Original base period
Rubber footwear vulcanized as a unit	Dec. 19, 1950, to Jan. 25, 1951.	1.00	Oct. 1, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1949.
Fabric upper, rubber-soled footwear, vulcanized as a unit	do	1.00	Do.
High styrene heels, soles, slabs, sheets sold in the shoe-factory trade.	do	1.00	Apr. 1, 1950, to June 24, 1950.
Rubber heels, soles, slabs, sheets sold in the shoe-factory trade.	do	1.00	Do.
High styrene heels, soles, slabs, sheets sold in the shoe-repair trade.	do	1.00	Do.
Rubber heels sold in the shoe-repair trade	do	1.00	Do.
Rubber soles, slabs, sheets sold in the shoe-repair trade	do	1.00	Do.
Rubber stationers' bands	Apr. 1, 1950, to June 24, 1950.	1.415	Do.
Rubber erasers	do	1.104	Do.
Molded rubber drug sundries [3]	Dec. 19, 1950, to Jan. 25, 1951.	1.00	Oct. 1, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1949.
Hand-made rubber drug sundries	do	1.00	Do.
Dipped rubber drug sundries and gloves except rubberized fabric and surgeons' gloves,[4]	do	1.00	Do.
Dipped rubber surgeons' gloves	do	1.00	Do.
Dipped rubberized fabric gloves	do	1.00	Do.
Rubber bathing caps, including molded, hand made, machine made, but not dipped.	do	1.00	Do.

[2] In the case of rubber bands or other rubber products, if instead of increasing your base period prices, you choose to decrease the quantity of your base period package pursuant to section 31 of CPR 22, then you divide the base period quantity by the applicable factor here to obtain the minimum quantity package permitted.
[3] Except nipples, pessaries and prophylactics.

Effective date. The effective date of this supplementary regulation is July 2, 1951.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Supplementary Regulation 9]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

SR 9—RETURNABLE CONTAINER COST ADJUSTMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 9 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Under section 10 of CPR 22, manufacturing material, for which a manufacturer may calculate changes in cost, is defined to include packaging material and containers other than returnable containers. Accordingly, manufacturers who in the base period and now sell on a returnable container basis may not include in their cost adjustments increased cost in connection with the use of returnable containers.

Returnable containers were not included in the term "manufacturing material" because it was thought that it would not be possible objectively to determine increased cost with respect to such containers in the same way as increased cost for non-returnable containers can be computed. It is recognized however, that the cost incident to the use of returnable containers is in the same category as cost of non-returnable containers and should be recognized to the same extent insofar as practicable. Accordingly, after consultation with various representatives of manufacturers who normally sell their products on a returnable container basis, a method for calculating increases between the base period and December 31, 1950 or March 15, 1951, as the case might be, in the cost of returnable containers has been devised which is incorporated in this supplementary regulation. This provision will put a manufacturer selling on a returnable container basis in substantially the same position insofar as CPR 22 is concerned as the manufacturer who sells on a non-returnable basis. The returnable container cost adjustment may be calculated and added to base period prices without the necessity of recomputing the other cost adjustment factors, so that manufacturers who have already made their calculations in whole or in part under CPR 22 will not be required to go over that work again in order to take advantage of this provision.

The manufacturer will calculate his returnable container cost adjustment as follows: He will first find the change, between the end of his base period and December 31, 1950, or March 15, 1951, as the case may be in the cost to him of a new container of the kind involved. He will then find the last factor which he was using in his base period cost records as representing the average number of trips of a container of that type and multiply this number by the number of units of the commodity being priced that is customarily packed in such container. The increase in the cost of a new container is then divided by this resulting figure which gives the manufacturer his returnable container cost adjustment per unit of the commodity being priced, which he may add to his ceiling price under section 3 of CPR 22 for sales in returnable containers of that type.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. Applicability of this regulation.
2. Calculation of returnable container cost adjustment.
3. Cost based on normal buying practices.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 3 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Applicability of this regulation. This regulation applies to you if, during your base period under CPR 22, you customarily sold products on a returnable container basis. Under this regulation, you may compute a returnable container cost adjustment which you may add to your ceiling price for sales in returnable containers as determined under section 3 of CPR 22.

SEC. 2. Calculation of returnable container cost adjustment. To calculate your returnable container cost adjustment, you do the following:

(a) Under section 3 of CPR 22, determine your ceiling price per unit of the commodity involved for sales in the returnable containers.

(b) Find the increase in net cost to you of a new container of the kind involved between the end of your base period and December 31, 1950, using the methods outlined in section 18 of CPR 22. If, however, the container involved is one of the commodities named in paragraph (b) and subsequent paragraphs in Appendix A of CPR 22, you may compute the increase in cost of such container up to March 15, 1951.

(c) Find the last factor which you were using in your base period cost records as representing the average number of trips your experience had indicated could be expected from returnable containers of the type involved, and multiply this number by the number of units of the product being priced that is customarily packed in such container.

(d) Divide the cost increase determined under paragraph (b) of this section by the resultant figure obtained under paragraph (c) of this section. The resulting amount is your returnable container cost adjustment per unit of the product being priced, which may be added to your ceiling price under section 3 of CPR 22 for sales in returnable containers of that type. You may not, however, use this section to add a returnable container cost adjustment to your ceiling prices after August 1, 1951.

Example: Under section 3 of CPR 22, you have computed a ceiling price of 60 cents per gallon of product A in returnable 55 gallon drums. Using the provisions of section 18 of CPR 22, you compute your net cost of a new drum to be $6.00 at the end of your base period and $8.00 on December 31, 1950. Your base period cost records used an experience cost factor of 15 as representing the average number of trips per drum and your normal loading of a 55 gallon drum was 54 gallons. You multiply 15 by 54, the number of gallons per drum, obtaining 810. You then divide the increase in the cost of a new drum, $2.00, by 810, thus obtaining $.00246 as the increase per gallon per trip in the cost of returnable containers. This is added to your ceiling price of 60 cents per gallon for sales in returnable containers. You may round this price so that it is expressed in the nearest fraction of a cent you normally employ, but only as permitted by section 25 of CPR 22.

SEC. 3. Costs based on normal buying practices. In making the computations in section 2 of this supplementary regulation, you must disregard any costs based upon a departure from your normal buying practices, such as a change in your source of supply from a manufacturer to a reseller or warehouseman, or from a domestic to a foreign source, or other departures from normal buying practices prohibited by section 18 of CPR 22.

Effective date. This supplementary regulation is effective July 2, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Supplementary Regulation 10]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

SR 10—POSTPONEMENT OF PRICE CALCULATIONS FOR CERTAIN RUBBER PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Congress) Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105) and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738) this supplementary regulation to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

By the terms of CPR 22, as amended, manufacturers calculate their ceiling prices by adding certain cost adjustments to their pre-Korea prices to arrive at a new ceiling price. It was intended that such ceiling price determinations be made on or before July 2, 1951. This supplementary regulation is to defer such price determinations for specified rubber products.

Certain mechanical rubber goods. This supplementary regulation permits manufacturers of certain molded, extruded and cut mechanical rubber goods to postpone, for a limited time, their ceiling price calculations under CPR 22 for any such item whose sales value during the second calendar quarter of 1951 amounted to less than $10,000.

The molded, extruded and cut goods branch of the mechanical rubber goods industry is composed of some 900 to 1,100 manufacturers each of whom makes hundreds or thousands of small parts for autos, appliances and machines. These items are sold on a specification, bid basis rather than as standard list price goods. Many of the smaller firms have limited accounting records. Several industry advisory committee and informal trade meetings have been held in an effort to devise ways and means of having members of this industry adapt their prices to CPR 22. As a result, OPS decided upon the following action:

1. Some important product lines made to a common specification by several manufacturers will have industry-wide cost adjustment factors prescribed by OPS before July 2, 1951 for use under a supplementary regulation to CPR 22. These lines are therefore excluded from this supplementary regulation.

2. Instructions have been issued under methods 3 or 4 of CPR 22 governing choice of products for grouping in product lines or categories which will enable some manufacturers to calculate their ceiling prices under CPR 22 for certain other lines with greater ease.

3. The balance of the products in this branch of the mechanical rubber goods industry may be divided into two categories: Miscellaneous items having relatively little sales value and miscellaneous items with relatively high sales value. Under this supplementary regulation, the relatively unimportant miscellaneous items will not have to be priced under CPR 22, pending the issuance of an easier price determining method which OPS is now formulating. For the purposes of this regulation, if a manufacturer's sales of an item were less than $10,000 in the second calendar quarter of 1951, it is presumed that the item is relatively unimportant.

These relatively unimportant items, made on a custom basis, and differing in specification between manufacturers, may continue to bear their General Ceiling Price Regulation ceiling prices, if the manufacturer so chooses. The Director recognizes however, that a manufacturer of these products may find that his General Ceiling Price Regulation ceiling does not reflect substantial cost increases sustained since pre-Korea. To avoid hardship in this type of case, this supplementary regulation makes the postponement of price ceiling calculations under CPR 22 optional for manufacturers of these relatively unimportant, miscellaneous, custom made mechanical rubber goods. It is estimated that only 10–15 percent of the sales of the mechanical rubber goods industry will be affected by this optional postponement provision. Preliminary evidence based on several Form 8 reports indicates that the temporary maintenance of GCPR prices for those manufacturers who will use this supplementary regulation will not, in general, result in a higher price level than that which would be determined under CPR 22.

Certain tires and tubes. This supplementary regulation also postpones the ceiling price calculations of CPR 22 for manufacturers of replacement tires and tubes and original equipment tires and tubes.

During the period between June 1950 and January 1951, prices for natural rubber rose from approximately 25¢ to 66¢ per pound, the price for GRS synthetic rubber rose from 18½¢ to 24½¢ per pound, that of GR–I butyl rubber rose from 18½¢ to 20¾¢ per pound, and there were indications of increases in labor and other material costs entering into the manufacture of tires and tubes. Following the increases in the cost of manufacturing tires and tubes, the prices of tires and tubes advanced by stages during the same period; the last price increase, for replacement tires and tubes, however, took place in late October and early November of 1950, and the last price increase for original equipment tires and tubes was announced December 19, 1950, to be effective January 1, 1951, in accordance with the normal industry practice of changing prices on a calendar quarter basis. At the time of these price changes in both replacement and original equipment tires and tubes the cost of the natural rubber being used averaged about 53¢ per pound, according to information submitted by the industry.

After the issuance of CPR 22, OPS, with the advice of, and after consultation with, the Tire and Tube Industry Advisory Committee, devised Form 15, a substitute for the Form 8 required under CPR 22. OPS requested and received individual reports on these Forms 15 as to cost increases sustained on certain designated key items, which are the best-selling items of the several tire and tube product lines. The sample included all 20 tire companies as well as two of the largest specialty tube companies.

These reports showed a substantial increase over pre-Korea base period prices, which would indicate a rise in individual GCPR ceiling prices averaging approximately 4.18 percent for replacement tires and tubes, and averaging approximately 5.95 percent for original equipment tires and tubes.

Within recent weeks, there has been a downward trend in the world rubber market. The General Services Administration of the U. S. Government, which buys and sells rubber, has announced a significant reduction in its sales price of natural rubber. Consequently, the cost data collected and evaluated, based upon the natural rubber price level of 66¢ in March 1951, will require revision to conform with the lower cost that will prevail in the immediate future.

The drop in the price of natural rubber is expected to be sufficient to offset the price increase otherwise indicated. The Director has concluded that to permit price increases for tires and tubes for but a short period appears undesirable and impractical.

The manufacturers' advisory committee agreed unanimously with these conclusions, and recommended that the ceiling prices fixed by CCPR be held until new calculations could be made. Practically the entire industry has agreed to cooperate with OPS in its effort to hold the line on rising prices. Consequently this order avoids the creation of a temporarily higher ceiling price for tires and tubes. When this postponement of calculation is ended by the revocation of this section of the regulation, ceiling prices will be determined pursuant to the provisions of CPR 22 unless by that time OPS has issued a "tailored" regulation covering such sales, in which case, ceiling prices will be governed by such "tailored" regulation.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this supplementary regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this regulation does.
2. Optional postponement of ceiling price calculations for manufacturers of certain molded, extruded and cut mechanical rubber goods.
3. Postponement of ceiling price calculations for certain tires and tubes.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 3 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Congress. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Congress E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This supplementary regulation gives manufacturers of certain specified rubber products the option of pricing under GCPR or CPR 22, and requires manufacturers of other specified products to price under GCPR. Such option or requirement is to be effective until the applicable section of this supplementary regulation is revoked, except where an additional alternative cutoff date is specified. Unless otherwise specified in this or other supplementary regulations to CPR 22, however, manufacturers of rubber products must price under CPR 22.

SEC. 2. Optional postponement of ceiling calculations for manufacturers of certain molded, extruded and cut mechanical rubber goods. (a) "Cut" mechanical rubber goods include those that are lathe cut, strip cut, hand cut, die cut, or made by other cutting processes.

(b) "Molded, extruded and cut mechanical rubber goods" as used in this section, does not include these product groups:

(1) Hydraulic brake cups and parts.
(2) Boots, hydraulic.
(3) Molded tires.
(4) Automobile floor mats (original equipment).
(5) Platens for typewriters and business machines.

(c) If you manufacture molded, extruded, or cut mechanical rubber goods items as defined in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and your sales during the second calendar quarter of 1951 for any one such item totaled less than $10,000, then as to such item instead of calculating your ceiling price under CPR 22 you may elect to continue your GCPR ceiling price until September 30, 1951, or until section 2 of this supplementary regulation is revoked, whichever is earlier.

SEC. 3. Postponement of ceiling price calculations for certain tires and tubes. If you are a manufacturer of original equipment tires or tubes, or replacement tires or tubes, as defined below, your ceiling prices for such items are your GCPR ceiling prices, notwithstanding the provisions of CPR 22, and shall continue to be so until this section is revoked.

"Original equipment tires and tubes" means new rubber tires and tubes sold for the original equipment of automobiles, trucks, buses, trailers, off-the-road equipment, farm implements, tractors, industrial equipment, airplanes, bicycles and motorcycles, and includes tires and tubes sold directly to any agency of the U. S. Government.

"Replacement tires and tubes" means new rubber tires and tubes sold for the replacement of the tires and tubes with which the vehicle was originally equipped, not including, however, such tires and tubes when sold to the brand owner thereof, and not including sales to U. S. Government agencies.

Effective date: The effective date of this supplementary regulation is July 2, 1951.

CPR 31—IMPORTS

NAVAL STORES 90

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment 4 to Ceiling Price Regulation 31 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The accompanying amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 31 is made necessary by the issuance of Ceiling Price Regulation 52 which establishes ceiling prices on all sales of gum rosin and gum turpentine other than import sales. Ceiling Price Regulation 31 excepts from its coverage certain commodities including naval stores as described in paragraph 90 of the current U. S. Tariff Schedule as published by the U. S. Tariff Commission.

The effect of this amendment is to bring sales of imported gum rosin and gum turpentine within the coverage of Ceiling Price Regulation 31.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Appendix A of Ceiling Price Regulation 31 is amended in the following respect:

Change "Naval Stores—90" to read:

Naval Stores 90
(Except gum rosin and gum turpentine)

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall be effective June 27, 1951.

CPR 24—SERVICES

SR 1—WHOLESALE DRY CLEANING, FINISHING AND DYEING IN THE NEW YORK CITY AREA

Due to clerical error, certain wholesale ceiling prices were incorrectly listed in Schedule A of Supplementary Regulation 1 to CPR 34 effective June 14, 1951 (16 F. R. 738). Accordingly, the following wholesale ceiling prices, per garment or item, as set forth in Schedule A, are corrected to read as follows:

1. $0.20 for "Men's White Suit" and "Men's Linen Suit" under "Sales to Commissioners, Cleaned Only".
2. $0.19 for "Children's Coats" under "Sales to Commissioners, Cleaned Only".
3. $0.22 for "Children's Coats" under "Sales to Commissioners, Finished Only".
4. $0.28 for "Ladies Suit" under "Sales to Outlets, Cleaned Only".
5. $0.35 for "Ladies Evening Gown" under "Sales to Outlets, Cleaned Only".
6. $0.35 for "Ladies Evening Gown (with train or pleated)" under "Sales to Outlets, Cleaned Only".

[Ceiling Price Regulation 52]

CPR 52—Gum Rosin and Gum Turpentine

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 52 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes ceiling prices for sales of gum rosin and gum turpentine produced in the United States. Ceiling Price Regulation 31 is being amended simultaneously to make it applicable to sales of imported gum rosin and gum turpentine. Sales by sellers who sell principally to individual consumers other than industrial, institutional or governmental consumers remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Sales for export and export sales will be governed by a ceiling price regulation on exports.

Gum rosin and gum turpentine are distilled from the crude gum which is exuded from the living pine tree. Both are products important to industry. Rosin is used in the manufacture of paper and paper size, chemicals and pharmaceuticals, ester gum and synthetic resins, paint, varnish and lacquer, soap, linoleum and floor covering, rubber and other products. Turpentine is an important paint thinner and solvent. The available stocks of rosin have shown a marked decline; the gathering of the current crop has been delayed by unseasonable weather since the first of the year. Past experience indicates that production losses attributable to a late start of the gathering season are not made up later on.

The General Ceiling Price Regulation froze the prices of gum rosin and gum turpentine during a period which is normally a non-producing period. As a result, many customary sellers were out of the market on some grades of rosin and a few had no supplies of any grade to offer. In consequence, the poorer grades of rosin were selling at abnormal prices in relation to other grades. As to turpentine, which was frozen under General Ceiling Price Regulation at about a 92¢ figure f. o. b. Southern producing points, there was a price break to a 75¢ level during the month of May. At the present time, heavy export inquiries exist for gum rosin, and a tailored regulation is necessary to correct the anomalous rosin price structure frozen by the General Ceiling Price Regulation and to secure a more realistic ceiling on turpentine in the light of current quotations than the 92¢ figure generally frozen under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

The price of crude gum is not subject to price control, and it is not feasible to control it because it is not a homogeneous commodity. Not only are there wide differences in the dirt and impurities contained in the gum delivered by farmers for which it is impossible to establish a uniform schedule of discounts, but the quality of the crude gum itself, in terms of quantitative content of the better grades of rosin, is a variable in the course of the producing season.

This regulation seeks to meet the present price problems of the industry by establishing uniform dollar and cents ceiling prices on the processor's sales, f. o. b. processing point. In recent years, the central processing plants have grown in importance as focal points for the gathering of crude pine gum from farmers and for the distribution of the resulting distilled gum rosin and gum turpentine. They have all but supplanted the individual farmer's stills. The processor's selling price for turpentine and rosin has been a major factor in determining the price which the farmer has received for his crude gum at the processing plant. The establishment of uniform ceiling prices at the processor's level corrects the price distortions frozen by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Also, the levels at which the prices are set make it possible for processors to pay a price sufficient to encourage the farmer to gather the vitally needed gum. The dollar and cents ceiling prices will enable the farmer to receive a price substantially above parity for his crude gum. The ceiling prices established are approximately at current levels.

A turpentine ceiling price of 80 cents per gallon at the processor's level is established. Rosin prices are established at $9.50 per 100 pounds for grade N. The differentials for the other grades are those obtained from the Department of Agriculture, based on the weighted average of sales on the Savannah market for 1950.

The dollar and cents ceilings at the processor's level establish a fixed base for the determination of resale prices by subsequent sellers in the industry. Each reseller, other than a retail seller who sells principally to individual consumers, is permitted his customary mark-up above the processor's dollar and cents ceilings in establishing his own ceiling prices. In this respect, a processor who also has a selling organization is permitted a mark-up as a dealer of gum rosin and gum turpentine over the ceilings established on the processing phase of his business. Dealers who acquire their supplies from sources other than a processor will add their mark-up to a cost of acquisition which in turn is based on the dollar and cents ceilings established at the processor's level. The mark-up is computed on the basis of sellers' margins during a base period April 1, 1950–July 31, 1950. The use of this period will give to sellers their normal margin which they enjoyed before the impact of the Korean emergency. Retail sellers who sell principally to individual consumers, other than industrial, institutional or governmental consumers, are left under the General Ceiling Price Regulation in order to minimize the number of different pricing rules applying to them.

Resellers must report their mark-up determinations to the Rubber, Chemicals & Drugs Division of the Office of Price Stabilization within 60 days after the effective date of the regulation. The Director of Price Stabilization may disapprove any mark-up if he finds it was wrongly computed or is otherwise out of line, or which does not represent the performance of a recognized distributive function. This latter is necessary to control the interjection into the distributive channels of middlemen who do not perform a recognized function in the trade.

Sellers who cannot compute their ceiling prices for any type of sale because they did not make such a sale during the base period, or for other reasons, may apply to the Director for the establishment of a ceiling price.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the ceiling prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950. So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization has given due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In formulating this regulation the Director of Price Stabilization has given careful consideration to the recommendations made by representatives of the industry, who convened as a regularly appointed industry advisory committee.

Authority: Sections 1 to 19 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

Section 1. What this regulation does. This regulation establishes ceiling prices for sales of gum rosin and gum turpentine, in the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia, except sales of such commodities which have been imported and sales made by a seller who sells principally to individual consumers other than industrial, institutional or governmental consumers.

This regulation does not establish ceiling prices on sales of crude pine gum.

Sec. 2. Relation to other ceiling price regulations. This regulation supersedes the General Ceiling Price Regulation with respect to all sales of gum rosin and gum turpentine covered by this regulation. GCPR remains applicable to sellers who sell principally to individual consumers other than industrial, institutional or governmental consumers. Ceiling Price Regulation 31, as amended, applies to sales of imported gum rosin and gum turpentine. A ceiling price regulation covering exports will apply to export sales and sales for export.

Sec. 3. Definitions. This regulation and the terms which appear in it shall be construed in the following manner, unless otherwise clearly required by the context:

Gum turpentine means gum spirits of turpentine obtained in the distillation of the oleoresin exuded from the living pine tree.

Gum rosin means the vitreous transparent or translucent mass remaining after the extraction of gum spirits of turpentine in the distillation of oleoresin exuded from the living pine tree.

Grade means the grade of gum rosin as established by the Naval Stores Act of 1923 (42 Stat. 1435; 7 USC, Sec. 91–99) and the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture issued thereunder.

Base period means the period from April 1, 1950 to July 31, 1950.

Processor means one who produces gum rosin and gum turpentine by the distillation of oleoresin exuded from the living pine tree.

Dealer means one who purchases gum rosin or gum turpentine for resale without changing its form and includes a processor dealer.

Processor dealer is one who, in addition to being a processor, also performs functions similar to those of a dealer in that he:

(1) Transfers the gum rosin or gum turpentine from his processing unit to his dealer unit, which unit performs the normal functions and assumes the normal risks of a dealer, or

(2) Buys gum rosin and gum turpentine for his own account from another processor for the purpose of resale, or

(3) Performs both functions (1) and (2).

A factor for gum rosin or gum turpentine is one who performs the functions of a factor as defined by the applicable state law.

Bags as used herein refers to bags of a size and type customarily used for sales of gum rosin.

Sec. 4. Processor's ceiling prices for gum rosin—(a) Sales in drugs. The ceiling prices for sales of gum rosin by a processor in drums from his stocks, drums included, are:

Ceiling price per 100 pounds net f. o. b. processor's yard (drums included)

Grade:
X	$9.79
WW	9.79
WG	9.60
N	9.50
M	9.49
K	9.49
I	9.48
H	9.48
G	9.47
F	9.43
E	9.22
B	9.08

(b) Sales in tank cars. The ceiling prices for sales of gum rosin in tank cars, f. o. b. processor's yard, are the prices established in paragraph (a) of this section, minus $0.25 per 100 pounds net weight.

(c) Sales in bags. The ceiling prices for sales of gum rosin in bags, f. o. b. processor's yard, are the prices established in paragraph (a) of this section, minus $0.10 per 100 pounds net weight.

(d) Loading charges. If a processor loads the gum rosin on cars he may add to the ceiling prices set forth above a loading charge not to exceed the prevailing loading charge made by him during the base period, as defined in section 3 of this regulation, to the same class of purchaser.

(e) Containers. No extra charge for containers may be made by a processor.

(f) Factorage charges. A factor's charges may not be added to the above ceiling prices.

Sec. 5. Processors' ceiling prices for gum turpentine—(a) Sales from storage tanks. The ceiling price for any domestic sale of gum turpentine by a processor from his storage tank in his yard is $.80 per 7.2 pound gallon.

(b) Sales in tank cars. The ceiling price for sales in tank cars is the processor's ceiling price of gum turpentine established in paragraph (a) of this section plus a loading charge as determined in paragraph (c) (3) of this section.

(c) Sales in drums. The ceiling price for sales in drums, drums included, is the processor's ceiling price of gum turpentine established in paragraph (a) of this section plus:

(1) The actual cost of the container from his normal source of supply.

(2) A filling charge not to exceed the prevailing filling charge customarily made by the processor during the base period, for filling the same type and size container for sale to the same class of purchaser.

(3) A loading charge not to exceed the prevailing loading charge made by him during the base period.

(d) Factorage charges. A factor's charge may not be added to the above ceiling prices.

Sec. 6. Dealers' ceiling prices for gum rosin and gum turpentine—(a) Sales in containers specified in sections 4 and 5 of this regulation—(1) Gum rosin or gum turpentine acquired from a processor. If you are a dealer, the ceiling price, f. o. b. your customary shipping point, for sales in containers specified in sections 4 and 5 of this regulation for gum rosin or gum turpentine which you acquired from a processor, is computed as follows:

(i) Determine from section 4 or 5 of this regulation the ceiling price for like sales by processors.

(ii) If you are a dealer other than a processor dealer, determine your intransportation charges, of the kind which you normally incurred during the base period, per unit of the commodity.

(iii) Determine your permitted percentage mark-up as provided in section 7 of this regulation.

(iv) Multiply the sum of (i) and (ii) by the percentage determined in (iii).

(v) Add (i), (ii), and (iv) and the result is your ceiling price.

(2) Gum rosin or gum turpentine acquired from a non-processor. If you are a dealer, your ceiling price, f. o. b. your customary base period shipping point, for sales in containers specified in sections 4 or 5 of this regulation, of gum rosin or gum turpentine acquired from a source other than a processor is your laid down cost for the product in the container being priced, plus a percentage of that amount equivalent to the permitted percentage mark-up calculated under section 7 of this regulation.

(b) Sales in containers other than those specified in sections 4 and 5 of this regulation—(1) Gum rosin or gum turpentine acquired from a processor. For gum rosin or gum turpentine which you acquire from a processor, your ceiling price on sales as a dealer in containers other than those specified in section 4 or 5 of this regulation is the price determined as follows:

(i) Determine the ceiling price for sales by processors of the gum rosin as established in section 4 (a) of this regulation, or of the gum turpentine, as established in section 5 (a) of this regulation.

(ii) If you are a dealer other than a processor dealer, determine your intransportation charges of the kind normally incurred by you during the base period, per unit of the commodity.

(iii) Determine your permitted percentage mark-up as provided in section 7 of this regulation.

(iv) Multiply the sum of (i) and (ii) by the percentage determined in (iii).

(v) Add (i), (ii) and (iv) and the result is your ceiling price.

(2) Gum rosin or gum turpentine acquired from a non-processor source. For gum rosin or gum turpentine which you acquire from a source other than a processor, your ceiling price, f. o. b. your customary base period shipping point, for sales by you as a dealer in containers other than those specified in sections 4 and 5 of this regulation, is your laid-down cost for the product plus your applicable permitted percentage mark-up, which you have calculated under section 7 of this regulation.

Sec. 7. Computation of dealers' permitted percentage mark-up. Your permitted percentage mark-up must be computed separately for each type of sale, e. g. quantity and container sizes, to each class of purchaser. You must also compute your mark-ups separately for gum rosin and gum turpentine. Your permitted percentage mark-up is computed as follows:

(a) If sales of gum rosin and gum turpentine were made during the base period:

(1) Determine from your records the dollar amount of your sales of gum rosin or gum turpentine, whichever commodity you are pricing, made by you during the base period for each type of sale and for each class of purchaser.

(2) Determine the laid-down cost of the number of units represented by your sales in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. If you are a processor dealer, the laid-down cost is the transfer price shown on your books. If you are not a processor dealer, the laid-down cost is the actual cost of the commodity delivered to your warehouse or plant.

(3) Subtract (2) from (1) and the result is your gross margin for the type of sale.

(4) Divide your gross margin (3) by your laid-down costs (2) and multiply by 100. The result is your permitted percentage mark-up for the type of sale. You must file a report of your mark-up as provided in section 8 of this regulation.

SEC. 8. Report of your permitted percentage mark-up. (a) Within 60 days after the effective date of this regulation, you must file a report with the Office of Price Stabilization, Rubber, Chemicals and Drugs Division, Washington 25, D. C., showing:

(1) Your name and address.

(2) The nature of your business.

(3) The types of sales made by you and classes of purchasers to which you sell.

(4) Your permitted percentage mark-ups as computed by you.

(5) How you computed those percentage mark-ups.

(b) The Director of Price Stabilization may modify or disapprove your permitted percentage mark-up if he finds any of the following:

(1) A mark-up was incorrectly computed.

(2) The mark-up is out of line with the prevailing mark-up for others performing substantially the same selling function.

(3) Your mark-up results in ceiling prices which are out of line with the ceiling prices established by this regulation.

(4) You do not perform a recognized distributive function in accordance with the usual practice of the trade.

SEC. 9. Application to Director for establishment of a ceiling price—(a) Application. If you cannot compute your ceiling price for any type of sale because you did not make such sale during the base period, or for any other reason, or if you cannot compute your permitted percentage mark-up, you may apply to the Director of Price Stabilization for the establishment of a ceiling price or an appropriate mark-up. Your application should be addressed to the Office of Price Stabilization, Rubber, Chemicals and Drugs Division, Washington 25, D. C. and should contain the following information:

(1) Your name and address.

(2) Why you cannot compute your ceiling price or mark-up under this regulation.

(3) The name and address of your most closely competitive seller.

(4) His ceiling price for the same type of sale which you propose to make.

(5) The ceiling price or mark-up which you believe should be established for your proposed sale, and why you believe it is in line with the ceiling prices established by this regulation.

(b) What you may do after you file your application. If your application shows that there is a seller closely competitive to you who has an established ceiling price for the type of sale you propose to make, you may, after 15 days from the date you file your application, sell at the ceiling price of your most closely competitive seller unless or until the Director of Price Stabilization requests further information from you or notifies you that your application has been disapproved. If there is no seller closely competitive to you who has a ceiling price established for the type of sale you propose to make, you may not make the type of sale you propose until a ceiling price has been established by the Director.

The Director of Price Stabilization may at any time disapprove a price reported by you, and may revoke or modify any order establishing a ceiling price, and may establish ceiling prices which he finds meets the requirements of this regulation and are in line with the prices established by this regulation.

SEC. 10. Multiple handling. For the purposes of this regulation, dealer mark-ups shall be allowed only when it can be established that the dealer performs a recognized distributive function in accordance with the usual practice of the trade.

SEC. 11. Recalculation of ceiling prices. If you are a dealer and your first receipts of gum rosin and gum turpentine after the effective date of this regulation are at prices below your supplier's ceiling prices, you are permitted to recalculate your ceiling prices whenever your replenishment costs increase, and your supplier certifies to you, in accordance with section 17, of this regulation that such increase is permitted by this regulation.

SEC. 12. Prohibitions. (a) After the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation, you shall not sell, and you shall not buy in the regular course of trade or business, any gum rosin or gum turpentine at prices higher than the ceiling prices established by or under this regulation.

(b) You shall not agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 13. Evasion. Any practice which results in obtaining indirectly a higher price than is permitted by this regulation is a violation of this regulation. Such practices include, but are not limited to, devices making use of commissions, arrangements, premiums, discounts, special privileges, tie-in agreements and trade understandings.

SEC. 14. Charges lower than ceiling prices. Lower prices than those established under this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 15. Petition for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Price Procedural Regulation 1, as revised.

SEC. 16. Adjustable pricing. Nothing in this regulation prohibits you from making a contract or from offering to sell gum rosin or gum turpentine at:

(a) The ceiling price in effect at the time of delivery, or

(b) A fixed price, or the ceiling price at the time of delivery, whichever is lower.

You may not, however, unless authorized by the Office of Price Stabilization, deliver or agree to deliver gum rosin or gum turpentine at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with any increases in your ceiling prices after delivery.

SEC. 17. Statement required on invoices. If you sell gum rosin or gum turpentine to one who is expected to resell it you must state on the invoice that the price charged is not in excess of the ceiling price permitted by this regulation.

SEC. 18. Commissions and brokers' fees. The ceiling prices established by this regulation shall not be increased by any charges for commissions or brokers' fees. If a sale is made through a broker or other agent acting for the buyer, the commission, fee, or other charge received by the broker or other agent, when added to the price paid to the seller, may not result in a sum exceeding the ceiling price established by this regulation.

SEC. 19. Records which you must keep. On and after the effective date of this regulation, the following records must be kept for a period of 2 years after such effective date or after the sale or purchase recorded whichever is later:

(a) Current records. If you sell gum rosin or gum turpentine, you must maintain and retain records of every sale made by you after the effective date of this regulation, showing the date of sale, the name and address of the purchaser, the commodity and quantity sold, and the price contracted for and received.

(b) Existing records. You must also retain your existing records of purchases and sales of gum rosin and gum turpentine made since June 1, 1950.

Effective date. This regulation shall be effective June 27, 1951.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 21—VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION AND EDUCATION

SUBPART A—REGISTRATION AND RESEARCH

REPAYMENT OF VALUE OF TRAINING SUPPLIES

A new § 21.114 is added to read as follows:

§ 21.114 Repayment of value of training supplies—Part VIII, Veterans Regulation Ia, as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12 note). (a) Supplies furnished a trainee are deemed released to him and should not be marked to indicate ownership by the United States. A trainee will not be required to repay the value of expendable supplies nor will he be required to pay the reasonable value of nonexpendable supplies in the event he fails to complete his course of education or training unless it be determined that his failure to do so was because of fault on his part and, in making such determination, the trainee will be given the benefit of any reasonable doubt. Determination of the presence or absence of fault will be made by the registration officer, and the findings will be filed in the R&E folder.

(b) In cases found to be meritorious, as defined in paragraph (d) of this section, even though the veteran is found to be at fault, the veteran will not be required to repay the Veterans' Administration for supplies furnished him at Veterans' Administration expense.

(c) The veteran will be deemed to be at fault if his training is discontinued:

(1) When he withdraws from the institution at the request of the institution; or

(2) When his course is discontinued by the Veterans' Administration because of unsatisfactory conduct or progress or both; or

(3) When the failure to complete the course is due to his negligence or misconduct; or

(4) When he voluntarily discontinues his training after pursuing training for less than 3 months or less than one-half of the prescribed duration of the course whichever be the lesser period.

(d) A case will be considered meritorious under paragraph (b) of this section even though the veteran may have been at fault if:

(1) The veteran since withdrawing from his course of training has reentered or is known to be in process of reentering the armed forces; or

(2) The veteran completed satisfactorily one-half or more of the term or period for which enrolled and during which supplies were issued; or

(3) The veteran certified that he retained the supplies furnished to him for use in connection with his employment; or

(4) The value of the supplies was less that $10; or

(5) The veteran dies while in a training status.

(e) When repayment is in order the veteran will be required to pay the value at which the nonexpendable supplies were issued to him less a percentage equivalent to the percentage of the term or period completed. For example, a veteran who discontinued training after completing one-third of a term during which supplies were issued would be required to repay two-thirds of the issue value. However, if no supplies were issued during such period he would not be required to repay any amount. Under no circumstances will supplies be accepted in lieu of repayment.

(f) The provisions of this section will apply equally to cases where training is discontinued on or after June 29, 1951, and to cases where training was discontinued prior to June 29, 1951, but a disposition of the case was not made under the regulations in this part in effect at that time.

(Sec. 2, 46 Stat. 1016, sec. 7, 48 Stat. 9, sec. 2, 57 Stat. 43, as amended, sec. 400, 58 Stat. 287, as amended; 38 U. S. C. 11a, 701, 707, ch. 12 note. Interpret or apply secs. 3, 4, 57 Stat. 43, as amended, secs. 300, 1500-1504, 1506, 1507, 58 Stat. 286, 300, as amended; 38 U. S. C. 693g, 697-697d, 697f, g. ch. 12 note)

The regulation is effective June 29, 1951.

[SEAL] O. W. CLARK,
Deputy Administrator.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Immigration and Naturalization Service

[8 CFR, Part 166]

ISSUANCE OF RESIDENT ALIENS' BORDER CROSSING IDENTIFICATION CARDS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

JUNE 15, 1951.

Pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003), notice is hereby given of the proposed issuance by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Attorney General, of the following rule relating to the issuance of resident aliens' border crossing identification cards. In accordance with subsection (b) of the said section 4, interested persons may submit to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Room 1063, Temporary Federal Office Building X, 19th and East Capitol Streets NE., Washington 25, D. C., written data, views and arguments relative to the substantive provisions of the proposed rule. Such representations may not be presented orally in any manner. All relevant material received within 20 days following the day of publication of this notice will be considered.

Section 166.1, Chapter I, Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations, is amended to read as follows:

§ 166.1 Resident alien's border crossing identification card; qualifications to obtain. A resident alien's border crossing identification card may be issued to any alien who, upon application therefor, submits satisfactory evidence that he (a) has been legally admitted to the United States for permanent residence and has not relinquished the status of a permanent resident, (b) has complied with the applicable provisions of the Alien Registration Act, 1940, as amended, and (c) has a legitimate purpose and reasonable need to make a temporary visit or visits to Canada or Mexico, with no single visit to exceed a period of six months: Provided, however, That no such card shall be issued, nor shall any such card previously issued be renewed, in any case in which there is reason to believe that probable grounds for exclusion from the United States would exist as to the applicant or holder, nor unless the applicant or holder is a person who is permitted to depart from the United States under the terms of laws, regulations, Executive orders, or other governmental restrictions regulating the departure of aliens from the United States in effect at the time application for such card or renewal thereof is made.

(Sec. 23, 39 Stat. 892, sec. 24, 43 Stat. 166, sec. 37, 54 Stat. 675; 8 U. S. C. 102, 222, 458)

ARGYLE R. MACKEY,
Commissioner,
Immigration and Naturalization.

Approved: June 22, 1951.

WHOLESALING, WAREHOUSING, AND OTHER DISTRIBUTION INDUSTRIES IN PUERTO RICO

MINIMUM WAGE RATES

On October 19, 1950, pursuant to section 5 (a) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, hereinafter called the act, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, by Administrative Order No. 403, appointed Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico, hereinafter called the Committee, and directed the Committee to investigate conditions in a number of industries in Puerto Rico specified and defined in the order, including the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries, and to recommend minimum wage rates for employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in such industries.

For purposes of investigating conditions in and recommending minimum wage rates for the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries in Puerto Rico, the Committee included three disinterested persons representing the public, a like number representing employers, and a like number representing employees in the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries, and was composed of residents of Puerto Rico and of the United States outside of Puerto Rico.

After investigating economic and competitive conditions in the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries in Puerto Rico, the Committee filed with the Administrator a report containing its recommendations for a minimum wage rate of 65 cents an hour to be paid to employees in the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries who are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

Pursuant to notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 27, 1951, and circulated to all interested persons, a public hearing upon the Committee's recommendations was held before Hearing Examiner E. West Parkinson, as presiding officer, in Washington, D. C., on April 24, 1951, at which all interested persons were given an opportunity to be heard. After the hearing was closed the record of the hearing was certified to the Administrator by the presiding officer.

Upon reviewing all the evidence adduced in this proceeding and after giving consideration to the provisions of the act, particularly sections 5 and 8 thereof, I have concluded that the recommendation of the Committee for a minimum wage rate in the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries in Puerto Rico, as defined, was made in accordance with law, is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Committee, will carry out the purposes of sections 5 and 8 of the act.

I have set forth my decision in a document entitled "Findings and Opinion of the Administrator in the Matter of the Recommendation of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico of a Minimum Wage Rate in the Wholesaling, Warehousing, and Other Distribution Industries in Puerto Rico," a copy of which may be had upon request addressed to the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C.

Accordingly, notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001) and the rules of practice governing this proceeding (16 F. R. 2684), that I propose to approve the recommendation of the Committee for the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries and to issue a wage order to read as set forth below to carry such recommendation into effect.

Within 15 days from publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, interested parties may submit written exceptions to the proposed action above described. Exceptions should be addressed to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C. They should be submitted in quadruplicate, and should include supporting reasons for any exceptions.

683.3 Notices of order.
683.4 Definition of the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries in Puerto Rico.

AUTHORITY: §§ 683.1 to 683.4 issued under section 8, 63 Stat. 915; 29 U. S. C. 208. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 63 Stat. 911; 29 U. S. C. 205.

§ 683.1 Approval of recommendation of industry committee. The Committee's recommendation is hereby approved.

§ 683.2 Wage rate. Wages at a rate of not less than 65 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

§ 683.3 Notices of order. Every employer employing any employees so engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries in Puerto Rico shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in each department of his establishment where such employees are working such notices of this order as shall be prescribed from time to time by the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor and shall give such other notice as the Division may prescribe.

§ 683.4 Definition of wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries in Puerto Rico. The wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries in Puerto Rico to which this part shall apply, is hereby defined as follows: The wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution of commodities including, but without limitation, the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution activities of jobbers, importers and exporters, manufacturers' sales branches and offices engaged in distributing products manufactured outside of Puerto Rico, industrial distributors, mail order and retail selling establishments, brokers and agents, and public warehouses: Provided, however, That the definition shall not include the activities of employees who are engaged in wholesaling, warehousing, or other distribution of products manufactured by their employer in Puerto Rico, or any activities covered by a wage order which has been issued for any other industry in Puerto Rico.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of June 1951.

IDAHO

ORDER PROVIDING FOR OPENING OF PUBLIC LANDS

JUNE 20, 1951.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Carey Act of August 18, 1894 (28 Stat. 422; 43 U. S. C. sec. 641), the State of Idaho found that the hereinafter-described lands are unsuitable for irrigation and reclamation, and accordingly reconveyed such lands to the United States:

BOISE MERIDIAN

T. 15 S., R. 32 E.,
Sec. 35, $E\frac{1}{2}SW\frac{1}{4}$.
T. 16 S., R. 32 E.,
Sec. 2, $SW\frac{1}{4}SE\frac{1}{4}$, $E\frac{1}{2}SW\frac{1}{4}$, lot 3 ($SE\frac{1}{4}NW\frac{1}{4}$);
Sec. 4, $SW\frac{1}{4}SE\frac{1}{4}$, $SE\frac{1}{4}SW\frac{1}{4}$;
Sec. 8, $SE\frac{1}{4}NE\frac{1}{4}$, $NE\frac{1}{4}SE\frac{1}{4}$;
Sec. 9, $NE\frac{1}{4}NW\frac{1}{4}$, $S\frac{1}{2}NW\frac{1}{4}$, $N\frac{1}{2}SW\frac{1}{4}$;
Sec. 22, $NW\frac{1}{4}NW\frac{1}{4}$.

The lands are not susceptible to practical irrigation.

No applications for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert-land, or any other nonmineral public-land laws, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

At 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279-284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land and Survey Office, Boise, Idaho, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Boise, Idaho.

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, Jr.,
Associate Director.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Secretary of the Interior.

[F. R. Doc. 51-7434; Filed, June 28, 1951; 8:57 a. m.]

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Office of the Secretary

SALE OF MINERAL INTERESTS; AREA DESIGNATIONS

Pursuant to authority contained in Public Law 760, 81st Congress (64 Stat. 769), the mineral interests covered by said act and located in (1) the counties listed by States in Schedule A set forth below, are hereby designated as areas in which mineral interests are to be sold for their fair market value, and (2) the counties listed by States in Schedule B set forth below, are hereby designated as areas in which mineral interests covered by a single application are to be sold for a consideration of $1.00.

The Acting Secretary's orders dated January 30, 1951, and February 19, 1951 (16 F. R. 1150, 1774) are hereby superseded.

Done at Washington, D. C. this 26th day of June 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

ECONOMIC STABILIZATION AGENCY

Office of Price Stabilization

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 101]

BENRUS WATCH COMPANY, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Benrus Watch Company, Inc., 200 Hudson Street, New York 13, New York, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of men's and women's wristwatches, pocket watches, watch bracelets, and women's watch and costume jewelry sets manufactured by Benrus Watch Company, Inc., 200 Hudson Street, New York 13, New York, having the brand name(s) "Benrus" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Benrus Watch Company, Inc., in its application dated April 19, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 1, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than the ceiling prices.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed by paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after August 2, 1951, Benrus Watch Company, Inc. must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after September 1, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 1, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1.
$_____ per _____{unit / dozen / etc.}	Terms {net / percent EOM. / etc.} $_____

Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, two copies of this notice must also be filed by the manufacturer with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the manufacturer had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the retailer is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective June 28, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Office of the Secretary

CERTIFICATION TO DIRECTOR OF DIVISION OF EMPLOYMENT AND SECURITY OF MINNESOTA REGARDING REDUCED RATES OF CONTRIBUTIONS

The Division of Employment and Security of the State of Minnesota having duly submitted to the Secretary of Labor, pursuant to the provisions of section 1602 (b) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, the Minnesota Employment and Security Law; and

The Secretary of Labor having considered the provisions of said law to determine whether or not reduced rates of contributions are allowable thereunder under conditions fulfilling the requirements of section 1602 of the Internal Revenue Code;

The Secretary of Labor hereby finds that:

(1) Said law provides for a pooled fund as defined in section 1602 (c) (2) of the Internal Revenue Code; and

(2) Reduced rates of contributions under said law to such pooled fund are allowable only in accordance with the provisions of section 1602 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Pursuant to the provisions of section 1602 (b) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, the Secretary of Labor hereby directs that the foregoing findings be certified to the Director of the Division of Employment and Security of the State of Minnesota.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of June, 1951.

MICHAEL J. GALVIN,
Acting Secretary of Labor.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1714]

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 25, 1951.

Take notice that on June 15, 1951, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal office at Kansas City, Missouri, filed an application in the alternative seeking (a) a disclaimer by the Commission of jurisdiction or (b) a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following described natural-gas facilities:

1. Approximately 3 miles of 6-inch lateral pipeline from Applicant's main line to Defiance, Ohio, town border.

2. Approximately 3 miles of 4-inch lateral pipeline from the town border station in (1) above to the General Motors plant in Defiance.

3. Main Line regulator station.

4. Town Border Station at Defiance, Ohio; (a) Measuring station for Glass Fibers; (b) Regulator station for General Motors; (c) Measuring station for Toledo Edison.

5. Measuring station at General Motors plant.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate the described facilities for the purpose of selling natural gas to Glass Fibers, Inc., and General Motors Corporation in accordance with the terms of industrial sales contracts executed by the parties, dated March 8 and January 18, 1951, respectively, and for the purpose of increasing the volumes of gas delivered to Toledo Edison for resale to ultimate consumers in Defiance, Ohio. Deliveries are not to exceed 3,000 Mcf daily to Glass Fibers and 2,500 Mcf daily to General Motors.

The application recites that the 6-inch lateral to be constructed by Applicant will be used for the delivery of natural gas to The Toledo Edison Company and for the delivery of gas to the named industries. Toledo Edison now serves Glass Fibers, and General Motors has no gas service. Applicant states Toledo Edison has no objection to Panhandle's taking over service to Glass Fibers and making the proposed deliveries to General Motors.

The estimated cost of the facilities proposed to be constructed is approximately $148,300 of which $104,430 will be incurred and financed from current funds of Applicant. Approximately 3-miles of 4-inch connecting pipeline will be constructed and operated by Applicant, but the construction cost will be borne by General Motors. Glass Fibers will construct and operate 1.4 miles of 6-inch pipeline extending from the Town Border Station to its plant site.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 13th day of July 1951. The application is on file with the Federal Power Commission for public inspection.

LEON M. FUQUAY,
Secretary.

[Docket No. G-1715]

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 25, 1951.

Take notice that on June 15, 1951, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal office at Kansas City, Missouri, filed an application in the alternative seeking (a) a disclaimer by the Commission of jurisdiction or (b) a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following described natural-gas facilities:

Physical connection, measuring and regulating station, and appurtenant facilities at the point of connection of the City of Jacksonville's proposed pipeline with Applicant's Jacksonville lateral.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate the described facilities for the purpose of making sales of natural gas to the City of Jacksonville, Illinois, on a "dump" basis in accordance with the terms of a contract with the City, dated February 15, 1951, of volumes not to exceed 1,000 Mcf daily, for a primary contract period of seven (7) years, at a price of 28 cents per Mcf, renegotiable as to price at the end of the third and fifth years of the said contract.

The application recites that Applicant will have available from time to time quantities of natural gas for sale on a "dump" basis, which the City is desirous of purchasing for use as fuel in its electric generating plant. The City will construct and operate approximately 4,112 feet of 4-inch I. D. pipeline from its electric generating plant to the measuring and regulating station to be constructed by Applicant on its existing 8-inch I. D. Jacksonville lateral.

The estimated cost of the facilities proposed to be constructed by Applicant is approximately $6,425, which will be financed out of current funds on hand.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 13th day of July 1951. The application is on file with the Federal Power Commission for public inspection.

Any interested person desiring the Commission to hold a hearing upon such application shall request the Commission in writing so to do within 15 days from the date of this notice. As provided by the general rules of practice of the Commission, Rule 73, persons other than applicants should fairly disclose their interest, and the position they intend to take at the hearing with respect to the application. Otherwise the Commission, in its discretion, may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in such application without further or formal hearing. If because of an emergency a grant of temporary relief is found to be necessary before the expiration of the 15-day period, a hearing, upon a request filed within that period, may be held subsequently.

By the Commission, Division 2.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

MIDWEST STOCK EXCHANGE ET AL.

SPECIAL OFFERING PLANS; EXTENDING TIME OF EFFECTIVENESS

The Securities and Exchange Commission acting pursuant to the Securities

Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 10 (b) and 23 (a) thereof and § 240.10b–2 (d) (Rule X-10B–2 (d)) thereunder, deeming it necessary for the exercise of the functions vested in it, and having due regard for the public interest and for the protection of investors, does hereby declare the special offering plans of the Midwest Stock Exchange, New York Curb Exchange, New York Stock Exchange, and San Francisco Stock Exchange as now effective, to continue to be effective indefinitely on condition that if at any time it appears to the Commission necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors so to do the Commission may suspend or terminate the effectiveness of any or all of said plans by sending at least ten days written notice to the particular exchange or exchanges.

The Commission for good cause finds that the notice and public procedure specified in section 4 (a) and (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act are unnecessary since the above special offering plans are the same plans as those heretofore declared effective for such Exchanges; and the Commission finds further that paragraph (d) of Rule X-10B–2 and the action taken have the effect of granting exemption and relieving restriction and that therefore this action may be and is hereby declared to be effective June 30, 1951.

MIDWEST STOCK EXCHANGE ET AL.

RECORD DISPOSAL PLANS

The Securities and Exchange Commission today announced that it had declared effective Plans filed on May 15, 1951, by the Midwest Stock Exchange, Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange, and San Francisco Stock Exchange, pursuant to § 240.17a–6 (Rule X-17A–6) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, for the disposal of the following material.

Midwest Stock Exchange. Applications, reports, and documents filed with the Exchange prior to January 1, 1946, pursuant to sections 12, 13, 14 and 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or the rules and regulations thereunder.

Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange. Applications, reports, and documents filed with the Exchange prior to January 1, 1946, pursuant to sections 12, 13 and 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or the rules and regulations thereunder.

San Francisco Stock Exchange. The following applications, reports and documents filed with the Exchange prior to January 1, 1946:

(1) Forms 1–J, 2–J, 15–AN, and AN–4 filed pursuant to section 12 of Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or the rules and regulations thereunder, and

(2) Reports filed pursuant to sections 13 and 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or the rules and regulations thereunder.

Each of the above Plans was declared effective on the condition that if at any time it appears to the Commission necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, the Commission may suspend or terminate the effectiveness of any of said Plans by sending at least 10 days' written notice to the particular Exchange.

Each of the Exchanges proposes to commence the disposition of the material specified as soon as practicable. The Plan of each Exchange also provides for the regular disposition of similar material which has been on file with said Exchange more than five years, as soon as practicable after January 1st of each year. Notice of the Commission's proposal to declare these Plans effective was published for comment in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 4607.

The purpose of the Plans is to alleviate the record storage problems of each of the Exchanges and to facilitate the availability of material filed with the Exchanges within five years. Information contained in the material to be disposed of by the Exchanges is on file with the Commission where it will continue to be available.

The text of the Commission's action follows:

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 17 (a), 23 (a) and 24 (b) thereof and § 240.17a–6 (Rule X-17A–6) thereunder, having due regard for the public interest and for the protection of investors, and deeming it necessary in the public interest for the protection of investors and for the exercise of the functions vested in it, does hereby declare effective the Plans filed on May 15, 1951 by the Midwest Stock Exchange, Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange, and San Francisco Stock Exchange, pursuant to Rule X-17A–6, on condition that if at any time it appears to the Commission necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors so to do, the Commission may suspend or terminate the effectiveness of any of said Plans by sending at least 10 days' written notice to the particular Exchange.

The Commission finds that Rule X-17A–6, and this action taken thereunder have the effect of granting exemption and relieving restriction, and that this action therefore may be and is hereby declared to be effective June 25, 1951.

By the Commission.

[File No. 70–2648]

DERBY GAS & ELECTRIC CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ISSUANCE OF DEBENTURES AND OF COMMON STOCK

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of June A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), by Derby Gas & Electric Corporation ("Derby"), a registered holding company. Applicant has designated sections 6 (a), 7 and 12 (b) of the act and Rules U-45 and U-50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than July 6, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after July 6, 1951, said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Derby, a Delaware corporation, has three operating subsidiaries, The Derby Gas and Electric Company, a Connecticut corporation ("Derby Subsidiary"), The Wallingford Gas Light Company, a Connecticut corporation ("Wallingford"), and The Danbury and Bethel Gas and Electric Light Company, a Connecticut corporation ("Danbury"). Derby proposes to issue and sell $900,000 aggregate principal amount of debentures and such number of shares of its common stock as may be necessary to raise the amount of approximately $275,000, the number of shares sold, however, in no event to equal such number as will cause the aggregate offering price to the public to exceed $300,000.

The debentures will be issued under an indenture supplemental to the Derby indenture to Manufacturers Trust Company, Trustee, dated as of July 1, 1947. It is expected that the additional debentures will be purchased by an institutional investor for investment. The details of the terms and conditions of such additional debentures and such supplemental indenture are presently subject to negotiation and will be supplied by amendment. Such amendment will include as exhibits copies of the purchase agreement and of the supplemental indenture.

The new debentures are expected to bear interest at the rate of approximately 3½ percent per annum, to be redeemable, and to mature July 1, 1957. It is anticipated that the supplemental indenture will provide for sinking fund payments of $9,000 per annum. The supplemental indenture may also provide for the payment of the entire $900,000 proceeds into a special fund from which Derby may draw, upon the basis of property additions since January 1, 1951.

The presently authorized capital stock of Derby consists of 400,000 shares of no par value common stock, of which 269,237 such shares are outstanding. In view of the present market value of Derby's common stock, it is expected that approximately $275,000 can be realized through the sale of approximately 12,500 additional shares of common stock.

According to the provisions of Derby's certificate of incorporation relating to preemptive rights, its stockholders will have no preemptive rights with respect to the shares of common stock proposed to be sold since such shares will be issued in accordance with a declaration that has become effective under the act.

It is proposed that approximately 12,500 shares of common stock of Derby which are the subject of this Declaration will be offered for sale to the public through an underwriter or underwriters pursuant to a negotiated transaction. The identity of the underwriter or underwriters as well as the number of shares to be sold, the price at which the shares are to be sold and the underwriting spread will be supplied by amendment.

All of the proceeds of the proposed sale of debentures and common stock of Derby will be applied toward the 1951 construction program of the Derby system, including the repayment of money which has already been borrowed from Manufacturers Trust Company and utilized for this purpose. At the date hereof Derby has borrowed $200,000 from Manufacturers Trust Company under an agreement providing for borrowing not in excess of $500,000 on short term notes. The total construction expenses are estimated to be $1,742,450. Of this amount $1,120,625 is for construction costs in connection with the electric service furnished by Derby's subsidiaries, $339,725 is in connection with the gas service furnished by Derby's subsidiaries and $282,100 is being spent in connection with the conversion of consumers' appliances to the use of natural gas, such latter amount not being a capital expense.

The funds for the 1951 construction program, other than the aforesaid $282,100 to be spent for conversion of consumers' appliances to the use of natural gas, will be donated by Derby to its subsidiaries as capital contributions. The $282,100 to be spent for conversion of consumers' appliances as aforesaid will be loaned by Derby to its subsidiary companies in the form of non-interest bearing, open-account advances. No notes or other evidences of indebtedness will be issued by the subsidiary companies. It is anticipated that the indebtedness will be liquidated by monthly payments made to Derby in amounts equal to the amounts at which the cost of the conversion of consumers' appliances is amortized over a period of years, as approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Connecticut.

The filing requests that the order of the Commission herein permitting effectiveness to the declaration become effective forthwith upon issuance thereof.

By the Commission.

ELIZABETH M. LAISE

In re: Estate of Elizabeth M. Laise, deceased. File No. D–28–10133; E. T. sec. 14426.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the domiciliary personal representatives, heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, legatees and distributees, names unknown, of Grete Ebeling, deceased, who there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of Germany are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That all right, title, interest and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of the persons identified in subparagraph 1 hereof, in and to the estate of Elizabeth M. Laise, deceased, is property payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

3. That such property is in the process of administration by H. David Zerman, Jacob Levine and Imgard Killinger, Co-executors and Co-trustees, acting under the judicial supervision of the County Court of Bergen County, Probate Division, New Jersey;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons identified in subparagraph 1 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on June 20, 1951.

[Vesting Order 18006]

SWISS BANK CORP.

In re: Accounts maintained in the name of Swiss Bank Corporation or Societe de Banque Suisse Zurich, Switzerland, and owned by persons whose names are unknown. F-63-2748.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: All property, rights and interests in the accounts identified in Exhibit A set forth below and by reference made a part hereof, together with

(a) Any other property, rights and interests which represent accumulations or accruals to, changes in form of, or substitutions for, any of the property, rights and interests in said identified accounts on October 2, 1950, and which are now held in other accounts being maintained as blocked or otherwise subject to the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or regulations, rulings, orders or instructions issued thereunder, and

(b) Any and all rights in, to and under any securities (including, without limitation, bonds, coupons, mortgage participation certificates, shares of stock, scrip and warrants) and any and all declared and unpaid dividends on any shares of stock in any of said accounts, excepting from the foregoing, however, all lawful liens and setoffs of the respective institutions in the United States with whom the aforesaid accounts are maintained, is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on June 5, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

SEC. 3. There are hereby transferred to the Panama Railroad Company all of the personnel on the rolls of The Panama Canal immediately prior to the effective date of this order with the exception of the Governor of The Panama Canal and of the personnel of the Civil Affairs Bureau, the courts, the Health Bureau, the Civil Intelligence Branch, and the Civil Defense unit.

SEC. 4. Nothing in this order shall be construed as effecting a transfer to the Panama Railroad Company of any of the right, title, or interest of the United States in or to the lands in the Canal Zone, or in or to any of the lands now owned by the United States and held by The Panama Canal as custodian in territory under the jurisdiction of the Republic of Panama.

SEC. 5. The transfers to the Panama Railroad Company made by this order shall, as provided by law, be deemed to have been accepted and assumed by the said company without the necessity of any act or acts on the part of the company except as otherwise stipulated in section 246 of title 2 of the Canal Zone Code, as added by the act of June 29, 1948, 62 Stat. 1076.

SEC. 6. In view of the transfers made by this order, and in effectuation of the purposes of the said act of September 26, 1950, there are hereby revoked (a) section 17 of Executive Order No. 1888 of February 2, 1914, and (b) the order of the Secretary of War designated as Canal Zone Order No. 4 of January 24, 1947, the provisions of which section and order relate to the assignment of, and rental rates for, quarters furnished employees, and the rates to be charged for supplies and services related to quarters.

SEC. 7. The transfers effected by this order are hereby made subject to the reservation that the President may hereafter make such adjustments or corrections in respect of such transfers as he may deem necessary or expedient.

SEC. 8. This order shall become effective on July 1, 1951.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter I—Production and Marketing Administration (Standards, Inspections, Marketing Practices), Department of Agriculture

PART 51—FRUITS, VEGETABLES AND OTHER PRODUCTS[1] (INSPECTION, CERTIFICATION AND STANDARDS)

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following amendments to the revised regulations (7 CFR Part 51) governing the inspection and certification of fruits, vegetables and other products are hereby promulgated, pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950), to become effective July 16, 1951.

This amendment increases certain inspection and certification fees by 20 percent to cover corresponding increases in the cost of rendering the service provided pursuant to the aforesaid regulations and, in accordance with said statutes, establishes such fees as will be reasonable and as nearly as may be cover the cost for the services rendered.

For the reasons hereinafter set forth, it is hereby found and determined that it is impractical and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule making procedure and that good cause exists for not postponing the effective time hereof until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.). The fees to be charged for the service are required by the statutes authorizing the service to be "reasonable and as nearly as may be to cover the cost for the service rendered." The determination of such cost depends upon facts wholly within the knowledge of the United States Department of Agriculture.

It has been determined that the fees prescribed herein must be charged in order to cover the cost of the service to be rendered, and such fees are reasonable.

It is in the public interest to enable all interested parties to avail themselves of the service without undue delay, and that the benefits to be derived should be provided as soon as practicable.

The provision in § 51.37 Basis for charges, and § 51.40 Fees for appeal inspections, are amended in the following manner:

1. In paragraph (a) of § 51.37 Basis for charges, delete the listed sums and insert, in lieu thereof, the indicated applicable sums:

Delete	Insert
15	18
6	7.20
4	4.80
12	14.40

2. In paragraph (b) of § 51.37 delete the sum "$10" and insert, in lieu thereof, the sum "$12."

3. In paragraph (c) of § 51.37 delete the sum "$3" and insert, in lieu thereof, the sum "$3.60."

4. In § 51.40 Fees for appeal inspections, delete the sum "$20" and insert, in lieu thereof, the sum "$24."

(Sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090, Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong.; 7 U. S. C. 1624)

PART 55—SAMPLING, GRADING, GRADE LABELING, AND SUPERVISION OF PACKAGING OF EGGS AND EGG PRODUCTS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

On June 20, 1951, a notice of a proposed amendment to the regulations governing the sampling, grading, grade labeling, and supervision of packaging of butter, cheese, and eggs (7 CFR Part 55) was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 5872). The amendment hereinafter promulgated is pursuant to authority contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950) and will become effective on July 1, 1951.

The provisions of the regulations (7 CFR Part 55) which apply to butter and cheese will be superseded as of July 1, 1951, and will be contained in Part 58 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Thereafter Part 55 will be applicable only to eggs and egg products. The currently effective provisions of the regulations applicable to eggs and egg products remain unchanged, with the exception of the revision of those sections which deal with the internal organization of the Administration which are changed to reflect the delegation of authority within the organization of the Production and Marketing Administration charged with the administration of the services provided in the aforesaid regulations, and the hourly rate for rendering service on an intermittent fee basis which has been raised from $3.00 to $3.60. The legislation authorizing the performance of these services provides that they be operated on a self-supporting basis and it has been determined that an hourly rate of $3.60 is necessary in order to defray the increased cost of rendering the service.

The Department finds that it is impracticable and unnecessary and contrary to public interest to give a 30 days' notice of the effective date of these regulations for the reasons that: (1) on July 1, 1951 the hourly rate for performing grading with respect to poultry will be raised from $3.00 to $3.60, and since the same personnel grade both poultry and eggs it is desirable that these regulations become effective at the same time to avoid inconsistency in the fees charged, (2) most of the provisions of this amendment relate to internal management and do not affect the operation of the program with respect to the services provided the industry, and (3) compliance with the provisions hereof will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be accomplished by the effective time hereinafter specified; and therefore the regulations here issued are to be effective July 1, 1951, after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The regulations are hereby amended as follows:

1. Revise definition (z) "National supervisor" in § 55.2 to read as follows:

(z) "National supervisor" means (1) the officer in charge of the egg grading service of the Administration and (2) such other employees of the Administration as may be designated by him.

2. Revise the provisions of § 55.33 Who may be licensed, to read as follows:

§55.33 Who may be licensed. Any person possessing proper qualifications, as determined by an examination for competency, may be licensed by the Secretary as a grader, inspector, sampler, or supervisor of packaging. Such examination shall be held at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by the Administrator. All licenses issued by the Secretary shall be countersigned by the officer in charge of the poultry grading and inspection service of the Administration. Any prospective licensee, other than a Federal or State employee, shall, prior to the granting of the license, procure and deliver to the Administration a surety bond, issued by such surety as may be approved by the Administrator, in the amount of $1,000 for the proper performance of the duties of such licensee under the act and this part.

3. Revise the provisions of § 55.34 Limited license may be issued, to read as follows:

§ 55.34 Limited license may be issued. To any person possessing proper qualifications, as determined by the Administrator, there may be issued a limited license by the Secretary to perform the following functions: (a) To candle and grade eggs on the basis of Official United States Standards of Quality of Individual Shell Eggs, issued by the Department on January 2, 1943, with respect to eggs purchased from producers or eggs to be packaged with official identification, and (b) to inspect liquid and frozen eggs that are produced under the supervision of an inspector. No person to whom a limited license is issued by the Secretary shall have the authority to issue any grading certificate; and all eggs (whether shell, liquid, or frozen) which are graded and inspected by any such person shall thereafter be check-graded and check-inspected by a grader or an inspector. All limited licenses, issued as aforesaid, shall be countersigned by the aforesaid officer in charge of the poultry grading and inspection service of the Administration.

4. Revise the provisions of § 55.35 Suspension of license, to read as follows:

§ 55.35 Suspension of license. Pending final action by the Secretary the aforesaid officer in charge of the poultry grading and inspection service may, whenever he deems such action necessary, suspend any license or limited license issued pursuant to this part, by giving notice of such suspension to the respective licensee or limited licensee, accompanied by a statement of the reasons therefor. Within seven days after the receipt of the aforesaid notice and statement of reasons by such licensee or limited licensee, he may file an appeal in writing, with the Secretary supported by any argument or evidence that he may wish to offer as to why his license or limited license should not be suspended or revoked. After the expiration of the aforesaid seven day period and consideration of such argument and evidence, the Secretary will take such action as he deems appropriate with respect to such suspension or revocation.

(5) Revise the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 55.39 On a fee basis, to read as follows:

§ 55.39 On a fee basis. (a) • • •

(b) In the event the aforesaid applicable rates are deemed by the Administrator to be inadequate fully to reimburse the Administration for all costs and others items paid or incurred by the Administration in connection with such service, the fees for such service shall not be based on the rates specified in § 55.44 to § 55.49, both inclusive, but shall be based on the time required to perform such service and the travel of each sampler, grader, inspector, and supervisor of packaging at the rate of $3.60 per hour for the time actually required.

(Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong.)

Issued in Washington, D. C., this 27th day of June 1951.

[SEAL] C. J. McCORMICK,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 70—GRADING AND INSPECTION OF POULTRY AND EDIBLE PRODUCTS THEREOF; AND UNITED STATES SPECIFICATIONS FOR CLASSES, STANDARDS, AND GRADES WITH RESPECT THERETO

SUBPART C—FORMS AND INSTRUCTIONS

On April 25, 1951, a notice of proposed instructions governing the administration of poultry inspection where a Federal-State service is desired was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 3535), under the authority of the regulations governing the grading and inspection of poultry and edible products thereof and United States specifications for classes, standards, and grades with respect thereto (7 CFR Part 70; 16 F. R. 5210). These regulations were promulgated pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950). Interested persons were given an opportunity to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the proposed instructions published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and the suggestions received have been given consideration.

The Administration finds that it is impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest to give a 30 days' notice of the effective date of these instructions for the reasons that (1) the industry is not directly affected by these instructions; (2) the aforesaid regulations become effective on July 1, 1951, and the instructions set forth herein are designed to implement the application of the service provided in the aforesaid regulations; (3) no preparation is necessary to comply with the provisions hereof; and (4) nothing would be gained by delaying the effective date of these instructions; therefore, the instructions here issued are to be effective July 1, 1951, after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The instructions are as follows:

§ 70.202 Instructions governing the administration of poultry inspection where a Federal-State service is desired—(a) Basis of providing Federal-State inspection service. Inspection service rendered pursuant to the regulations governing the grading and inspection of poultry and edible products thereof (7 CFR Part 70) may be furnished on a Federal basis or on a Federal-State basis as provided in this section. Inspection service in accordance with the regulations shall be furnished on a Federal basis in any State where arrangements have not been made with cooperating State agencies for service on a Federal-State basis. Inspection service shall be furnished on a Federal-State basis in any State in which the cooperating State agency makes a request, and becomes a party to a cooperative agreement which provides for such Federal-State service. Such cooperating parties within the State may be any responsible and qualified agency interested in promoting orderly marketing of poultry products.

(b) Supervision. All inspection service which is provided under the aforesaid regulations and cooperative agreements shall be technically and administratively supervised by the Production and Marketing Administration (hereafter referred to as PMA) through its national and regional supervisory organization. It shall be the responsibility of PMA to determine that the services rendered pursuant to any cooperative agreement under the regulations are conducted in a satisfactory manner, that the actual post-mortem inspection of poultry is adequate, and that uniform procedures and policies are followed in all plants in accordance with the requirements of the regulations. In a State where a Federal-State supervisor of inspection is provided, this supervisor shall be immediately responsible for the activities within the State. However, any supervisory official of PMA at a higher administrative level shall have the authority to observe independently of or in conjunction with the Federal-State supervisor, any particular station or the official activities of any particular inspector at any time he deems it advisable; and shall have the authority to supervise such activities as may be desirable and necessary. Supervisory direction should be applied through the Federal-State supervisor.

(c) Federal-State inspection service when provided, shall be subject to the following conditions—(1) Regulations. The regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture governing the grading and inspection of poultry and edible products thereof and instructions of the Administrator governing the inspection of products shall apply to both Federal-State inspection service and to Federal inspection service. PMA shall assume the responsibility for developing the regulations and any instructions issued pursuant thereto and for the supervision of inspection work carried on under the service.

(2) Qualifications of Federal-State supervisor. The Federal-State supervisor of inspection service shall meet the following qualifications.

(i) He shall have a veterinary degree from an accredited school.

(ii) He shall have such technical knowledge, experience, and administrative and supervisory ability as will qualify him for satisfactorily performing the duties of a Federal-State supervisor. These qualifications shall be checked by and be acceptable to PMA.

(iii) He shall have had experience in the Federal poultry inspection service or have successfully completed a course of training at an interne station which is under the supervision of the Federal poultry inspection service of PMA.

(iv) He shall be given a joint Federal-State or a full Federal appointment.

(v) He shall perform supervisory functions in a manner satisfactory to PMA. The Federal-State supervisor may at the discretion of PMA be removed from his position and replaced by another qualified employee whenever such action is in the best interests of PMA.

(3) Duties of the Federal-State supervisor. The Federal-State supervisor of inspection service shall be responsible for the supervision and proper conduct of inspection service within the State or States to which he is assigned. He may be assigned to supervise inspection service in a single State or in two or more adjoining States providing this is agreed to by PMA and the cooperating agencies in such States, except that a Federal-State supervisor shall not have more than 35 plants under his supervision. He shall examine each prospective State inspector and recommend acceptable applicants for a license. Such recommendation shall be in writing and be accompanied by a statement of the qualifications of the applicant. He shall be responsible for making surveys of plants applying for service within his State and present his recommendation for action on such applications in writing accompanied by appropriate supporting evidence to the Federal office of the inspection service. The assignment of State employed inspectors to plants shall be mutually agreeable to the State agency and PMA. Insofar as practicable inspectors will not be assigned to plants where they have been previously employed.

(4) Employment and licensing of State inspectors. (i) The cooperating State agency shall assume responsibility for recruitment and employment of State inspectors for plants under the Federal-State Service, and the salaries of such inspectors shall be paid by the State. Such inspectors may be employed only when licensed by PMA, and it shall be understood that PMA shall have the authority to withdraw such license at any time (and thus terminate the services of any such inspector) in accordance with the provisions of the regulations. The licensed State inspector shall not under any circumstance, while a licensed inspector, accept employment, money or remuneration of any kind from the company to which assigned.

(ii) Each prospective State inspector shall complete a period of training under the immediate supervision of a Federally employed training supervisor. The license issued to the prospective State inspector shall be a limited license authorizing him to perform inspection work only under the supervision of the inspector-in-charge of the station to to which he is assigned. A license authorizing the State inspector to serve as inspector-in-charge of a station may be issued when it has been determined by the officer-in-charge of the poultry grading and inspection service of PMA that the inspector is qualified for such a position.

(5) Duties of State-employed inspectors. The duties of the State-employed inspectors shall be the same as the duties of Federally-employed inspectors. Inspectors shall make proper, accurate and adequate post-mortem examinations of poultry carcasses and shall thoroughly familiarize themselves with and adhere to the inspection procedures and the applicable provisions of the Federal regulations governing inspection service.

(6) Replacement of Federal inspectors. When Federal-State inspection service is inaugurated in a State, and when such service will replace Federal inspection service furnished in the State at that time, the replacement of Federal inspectors by State inspectors shall not be carried out until satisfactory transfers of the Federal inspectors to plants out of the State can be accomplished by PMA.

(7) Collection of fees. Either the cooperating State agency or PMA, as agreed upon, may assume the responsibility for the collection of all fees for Federal-State inspection service in the State. The contract providing for Federal-State inspection service shall be between each firm under Federal-State inspection service and the agency responsible for the collection of fees, and each such contract, in either case, shall be approved or concurred in by PMA.

(8) Reimbursement of PMA by State cooperating agency. When the cooperating State agency assumes the responsibility for the collection of fees, it shall reimburse PMA from fees collected or from State appropriations, or both, for the following:

(i) An amount equal to that part of the Federal-State supervisor's salary paid by PMA.

(ii) An amount equal to salaries of any Federally employed inspectors who perform inspection service in any plant operating under Federal-State inspection service, such salary costs to cover the periods of such assignments.

(iii) An amount to cover accrued leave both annual and sick and travel costs incurred by persons referred to in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph, during periods such persons are performing Federal-State service.

(iv) An amount equal to 7 percent of the amounts referred to in subdivisions (i), (ii), and (iii) of this subparagraph.

(v) An amount sufficient to cover overhead in excess of that specified in subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph, general supervision and other costs and expenses incurred by the Administration in rendering the inspection service.

(9) Reimbursement of cooperating State agency by PMA. When PMA assumes the responsibility for the collection of fees, it shall reimburse the cooperating State agency for the salaries of the State inspectors, for periods during which such inspectors perform Federal-State inspection service, and for such annual and sick leave as may be authorized by the State, and agreed to by PMA.

(10) Additional provisions. The cooperating State agency shall, without cost to PMA, furnish office space, office furniture and equipment, heat, light, clerical assistance, and telephone service for use by the Federal-State supervisor.

PART 907—MILK IN MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

§ 907.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and certain proposed amendments to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional finding. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective on July 1, 1951. Such action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, will seriously impair the orderly marketing of milk in the Milwaukee marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers and producers, the public hearing having been held on May 22–24, 1951. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations or producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (April 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete § 907.50 (c) and substitute therefor the following:

(c) The price per hundredweight computed from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 4.24 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade AA (93-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the U. S. D. A. during the month: Provided, That if no price is reported for Grade AA (93-score) butter, the highest of the Grade A (92-score) butter prices for that day shall be used in lieu of the price for Grade AA (93-score) butter;

(2) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of carlot prices per pound for spray process nonfat dry milk solids, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the U. S. D. A.;

(3) From the sum of the results arrived at under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph subtract 75.2 cents.

2. Delete paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 907.51 and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Class I milk. The price for Class I milk shall be the basic formula price plus the following amounts as indicated: May and June $0.46; July through November, inclusive, $0.86; and all other months $0.66: Provided, That for each percent that the "current supply-demand ratio" computed pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section is greater or less than the applicable percentage contained in the schedule set forth in paragraph (e) (4) of this section, the Class I price differential computed prior to this proviso shall be increased or decreased, respectively, by the following amounts: May and June, $0.02; July through November, inclusive, $0.04; all other months $0.03: And provided further, That any adjustment made pursuant to the above proviso of this paragraph shall be limited to 16 cents in May and June; 30 cents in July through November, inclusive; and 24 cents in all other months; but in no event shall the Class I price differential computed pursuant to this paragraph be less than 46 cents.

(b) Class II milk. The price for Class II milk shall be the basic formula price plus the following amounts as indicated: May and June, $0.30; July through November, inclusive, $0.50; all other months, $0.40; Provided, That such amount for the month shall be adjusted by the amount of any adjustment made in the Class I price differential pursuant to the first proviso of paragraph (a) of this section; but in no event shall the Class II price differential computed pursuant to this paragraph be less than 40 cents in the months of July through November, inclusive, or less than 30 cents in all other months.

3. Add the following as § 907.51 (e):

(e) Supply-demand adjustment. On or before the last day of each month the market administrator shall make the following computations based upon the reported receipts and utilization of handlers as defined in the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, as computed by the market administrator under the latter order:

(1) Determine the total receipts of Grade A milk from all producers (including receipts from own farm production) for the most recent 6-month period and divide the result by 6;

(2) Determine the total pounds of Grade A milk actually utilized in Class I milk and Class II milk products during the most recent 6-month period and subtract therefrom (i) the amount of Class I and Class II milk disposed of in bulk outside the surplus milk manufacturing area, and (ii) the amount of Class II milk represented by frozen cream and plastic cream moving into storage during such 6-month period, and divide the result by 6;

(3) Divide the amount obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by the amount obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and round to the nearest full percent, which resulting percentage shall be known as the "current supply-demand ratio";

(4) Determine the number of percentage points that the current supply-demand ration is above or below the percentage for the corresponding 6 months' period appearing in the following schedule:

6-months included in supply-demand ratio computation	Percent	Month subject to adjustment
January through June	62	August.
February through July	62	September.
March through August	64	October.
April through September	67	November.
May through October	71	December.
June through November	76	January.
July through December	81	February.
August through January	79	March.
September through February	76	April.
October through March	72	May.
November through April	68	June.
December through May	64	July.

(5) In making the computations specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, the market administrator shall use the reported receipts and utilization of handlers of Grade A milk under both Orders 41 and 69 when it is necessary to use data for months prior to the effective date of this paragraph.

4. Delete § 907.91 (a) (2) and substitute therefor the following:

(2) The other order is that regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area and the Secretary determines that the quantity of Class I milk so disposed of by such person within the marketing area (§ 907.6) is greater than the quantity so disposed of within the marketing area defined in such other order. This subparagraph shall apply only with respect to milk received at the plant(s) of such person from which the Class I milk was so disposed of within the marketing area and milk received at each receiving station (§ 907.9) serving and Sup. 608c)

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of June 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of July 1951.

[SEAL] C. J. MCCORMICK,

AUTHORITY: §§ 924.1 to 924.102 issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c.

§ 924.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Detroit, Michigan, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(4) All milk and milk products, handled by handlers, as defined in this order, are in the current of interstate commerce or directly burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk or its products; and

(5) It is hereby found that the necessary expenses of the market administrator for the maintenance and functioning of such agency will require the payment by each handler, as his pro rata share of such expenses, 2 cents per hundredweight or such amount not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all producer milk (including such handler's own production) received during the month.

(b) Additional Findings. In view of the number of handlers involved, the widely scattered locations of their plants, and the fact that this order will constitute the original imposition of a regulatory program of this nature for the market, the provisions other than those relating to prices and payments to producers, should be put into effect prior to the effective date of the provisions relating to prices and payments to producers, in order that handlers may have opportunity to make necessary adjustments in their accounting and other operational procedures to conform with all provisions of the order. It is hereby found and determined, in view of the aforementioned facts and circumstances, that good reason exists for making § 924.1 through 924.15, 924.20 through 924.22 (e), 924.30 through 924.33, 924.40 through 924.47, 924.86, 924.120 through 924.123, and 924.130 and 924.131 effective August 1, 1951, and §§ 924.22 (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j), 924.50 through 924.53, 924.60 through 924.65, 924.70 through 924.72, 924.80 through 924.85, 924.87, 924.90, 924.91, 924.100 through 924.102, and 924.110 effective on September 1, 1951.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the milk covered by this order) of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by the aforesaid order which is marketed within the Detroit, Michigan, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and who, during March 1951, (said month having been determined to be a representative period), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Detroit, Michigan, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

DEFINITIONS

§ 924.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C., 601 et seq.).

§ 924.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, or any other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers or to perform the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 924.3 U. S. D. A. "U. S. D. A." means the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 924.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 924.5 Detroit, Michigan, marketing area. "Detroit, Michigan, marketing area," hereinafter referred to as the "marketing area," means all territory, including incorporated municipalities, within the outer boundaries of the townships of Burtchville, Grant, Greenwood, Kenockee, Wales, Clyde, Fort Gratiot, Kimball, Fort Huron, St. Clair, China, East China, Ira, Cottrellville and Clay in St. Clair County, the townships of Chesterfield, Sterling, Clinton, Harrison, Warren, Erin, and Lake in Macomb County, the townships of White Lake, Waterford, Pontiac, Avon, Commerce, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield, Troy, Novi, Farmington, Southfield, and Royal Oak in Oakland County, the townships of Ann Arbor, Superior and Ypsilanti in Washtenaw County, the townships of Ash and Berlin in Monroe County and all of Wayne County, all in the State of Michigan.

§ 924.6 Handler. "Handler" means:

(a) A person who operates a plant in which milk is pasteurized or packaged for distribution in the marketing area and from which Class I milk is disposed of during the month on a route(s) in the marketing area;

(b) A person who operates a plant other than one described in paragraph (a) of this section which is approved by the Department of Health of the City of Detroit, Ann Arbor, Pontiac or Port Huron for the handling of milk for consumption as Class I milk in the marketing area, except such a plant from which less than 10 percent of its dairy farm supply of milk is moved to a plant described in paragraph (a) of this section in each of the months of November and December of each year after 1950.

§ 924.7 Producer. "Producer" means a dairy farmer who produces milk which is received directly from the farm at a plant described in § 924.6 (except such plant as described in § 924.101) or is diverted for a handler's account from such a plant to a plant not described in § 924.6.

§ 924.8 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means a person who is a handler and who produces milk, but receives no milk from other producers or from a cooperative association.

§ 924.9 Producer milk. "Producer milk" means milk delivered by one or more producers.

§ 924.10 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat received by a handler in any form, other than that contained in producer milk.

§ 924.11 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association of producers, duly organized as such under the laws of any State which the Secretary determines:

(a) To be qualified under the standards set forth in the Act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act;"

(b) To have full authority in the sale of milk of its members; and

(c) To be engaged in making collective sales or marketing milk or its products for its members.

§ 924.12 Base. "Base" means a quantity of milk, expressed in pounds per day, determined for each producer as provided in § 924.70.

§ 924.13 Base milk. "Base milk" means milk delivered by a producer each month which is not in excess of his base multiplied by the number of days on which milk is delivered during the month, and all milk delivered by a producer prior to February 1, 1952.

§ 924.14 Excess milk. "Excess milk" means milk delivered by a producer each month in excess of his base milk.

§ 924.15 Route. "Route" means a delivery (other than to a handler) including a sale from a store of a Class I product to a wholesale or retail stop(s).

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 924.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this part shall be a market administrator, selected by the Secretary, who shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal by, the Secretary.

§ 924.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this part:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations;

(c) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions;

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 924.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this part, including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) Within 30 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, effective as of the date on which he enters upon such duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer its terms and provisions;

(c) Obtain a bond in a reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay, out of the funds provided by § 924.86:

(1) The cost of his bond and of the bonds of his employees,

(2) His own compensation, and

(3) All other expenses, except those incurred under § 924.87, necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided in this part, and, upon request by the Secretary, surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Publicly announce, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, within 10 days after the day upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not made (1) reports pursuant to §§ 924.30 and 924.31, or (2) payments pursuant to §§ 924.80 and 924.84.

(g) Calculate a base for each producer in accordance with § 924.70 and advise the producer and the handler receiving the milk of such base;

(h) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary and furnish such information and reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(i) Audit records of all handlers to verify the reports and payments required pursuant to the provisions of this part, and

(j) Publicly announce the prices determined for each month as follows:

(1) On or before the 5th day of each month, the minimum class prices for the preceding month computed pursuant to § 924.51 and 924.52, and the handler butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 924.53, and

(2) On or before the 11th day of each month the uniform price, the price for base milk and the price for excess milk for the preceding month, computed pursuant to §§ 924.62, 924.63, and 924.64, and the producer butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 924.82.

REPORTS, RECORDS, AND FACILITIES

§ 924.30 Monthly reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 5th working day of each month, each handler shall report to the market administrator for the preceding month, in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, the following with respect to (a) all producer milk received, (b) all skim milk and butterfat in any form received from other handlers, and (c) all other source milk (except any nonfluid milk product which is disposed of in the same form as received) received at a plant(s) described in § 924.6:

(1) The quantities of butterfat and skim milk contained in such receipts, and their sources;

(2) The utilization or disposition of such receipts; and

(3) Such other information with respect to such receipts and their utilization or disposition as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 924.31 Other reports. (a) Each producer-handler and each handler described in § 924.101 shall make reports at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(b) On or before the 20th day of each month each handler who received milk from producers shall report his producer payroll for the preceding month which shall show:

(1) The pounds of base milk and pounds of excess milk received from each producer, and the percentage of butterfat contained therein;

(2) The amount and date of payment to each producer (or to a cooperative association); and

(3) The nature and amount of each deduction or charge involved in the payments referred to in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

§ 924.32 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator during the usual hours of business, such accounts and records of all of his operations and such facilities as are necessary to verify reports, or to ascertain the correct information with respect to (a) the receipts and utilization or disposition of all skim milk and butterfat received, including all milk products received and disposed of in the same form; (b) the weights and tests for butterfat, skim milk and other contents of all milk and milk products handled; and (c) payments to producers and cooperative associations.

§ 924.33 Retention of records. All books and records required under this part to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That, if within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies a handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records until further written notification from the market administrator. The market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 924.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat received at a handler plant (a) in milk from producers or from a cooperative association (except as provided in § 924.43 (c)), (b) in any form from other handlers and (c) in other source milk required to be reported pursuant to § 924.30 shall be classified (separately as skim milk and butterfat) in the classes set forth in § 924.41.

§ 924.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 924.42 and 924.43 the classes of utilization shall be:

(a) Class I utilization shall be all skim milk and butterfat (1) disposed of for consumption in fluid form as milk, flavored milk, skim milk or buttermilk; and (2) not accounted for as Class II utilization.

(b) Class II utilization shall be all skim milk and butterfat (1) disposed of for fluid consumption as sterilized flavored milk drings or sweet or sour cream; or (2) used to produce ice cream or ice cream mix, cheese (including cottage cheese), dried whole milk, nonfat dry milk solids, evaporated or condensed whole or skim milk, sweetened or unsweetened disposed of in bulk or in hermetically sealed cans, butter, or livestock feed, or dumped; or (3) in shrinkage of producer milk up to 2 percent of receipts from producers; or (4) in shrinkage of other source milk.

§ 924.42 Shrinkage. (a) If producer milk is utilized in conjunction with other source milk, the shrinkage shall be allocated pro rata between the receipts of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk and other source milk.

(b) Producer milk transferred by a handler to another handler without first having been received for the purpose of weighing and testing in the transferrer handler's plant shall be included in the receipts at the plant of the transferee handler for the purpose of computing his shrinkage and shall be excluded at the plant of the transferrer handler in computing his shrinkage.

(c) Producer milk received at a plant from which a route is not operated in the marketing area and transferred in bulk from such plant to a plant from which a route is operated in the marketing area shall be subtracted from the producer milk receipts at the first plant and added to the producer milk receipts at the second plant in computing shrinkage.

§ 924.43 Transfers. (a) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of by a handler to another handler (except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, other than a handler described in § 924.101, in the form of milk or skim milk shall be Class I utilization, unless Class II utilization is indicated by both handlers in their reports submitted pursuant to § 924.30: Provided, That in no event shall the amount so classified in Class II be greater than the amount of producer milk used in such class by the transferee handler after allocating other source milk in his plant in series beginning with the lowest priced utilization.

(b) Skim milk and butterfat moved in the form of milk or skim milk by a handler to a person not a handler or to a handler described in § 924.101 shall be Class I utilization unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) Class II utilization is indicated by the handler in his report submitted pursuant to § 924.30, and a statement certifying to such Class II utilization is received by the market administrator from the operator of the plant to which such milk or skim milk is moved not later than the last day of the month following the month of such movement.

(2) The operator of such plant had actually used in the month of such movement an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat in Class II, or moved such amount to another plant not operated by a handler which meets the requirements of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph and utilized in the month an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat in Class II.

(3) The operator of the transferee plant maintains books and records which are made available if requested by the market administrator and which are adequate for the verification of such Class II utilization.

(c) Producer milk transferred in bulk from a plant operated by a cooperative association from which no milk is disposed of on a route(s) in the marketing area to a plant as described in § 924.6 (a), except a plant as described in § 924.101, shall be deducted before classification of producer milk at the plant of the transferor cooperative and shall be included in producer milk classified at the plant of the transferee handler.

§ 924.44 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification. All skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I utilization unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat proves to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

§ 924.45 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and obvious errors the monthly report submitted by each handler and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I and Class II utilization for such handler.

§ 924.46 Allocation of butterfat classified. The pounds of butterfat remaining after making the following computations shall be the pounds in each class allocated to milk received from producers.

(a) Subtract from the total pounds of butterfat in Class II utilization, the pounds of butterfat shrinkage allowed pursuant to § 924.41 (c) (3);

(b) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class, in series beginning with the lowest-priced utilization, the pounds of butterfat in other source milk;

(c) Subtract from the remaining pounds of butterfat in each class, the pounds of butterfat received from other handlers (except from a cooperative as set forth in § 924.43 (c)) in such classes pursuant to § 924.43 (a); and

(d) Add to the remaining pounds of butterfat in Class II utilization the pounds subtracted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section;

(e) If the remaining pounds of butterfat in all classes exceed the pounds of butterfat in milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of butterfat in each class in series, beginning with the lowest-priced utilization.

§ 924.47 Allocation of skim milk classified. Allocate the pounds of skim milk in each class to milk received from producers in a manner similar to that prescribed for butterfat in § 924.46.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 924.50 Basic formula price. The basic formula price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I utilization shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section.

(a) The average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the U. S. D. A.

(b) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the U. S. D. A. during the month; subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent thereof and multiply by 3.5.

(2) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the U. S. D. A., deduct 5.5 cents and then multiply by 8.2.

(c) The price per hundredweight resulting from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 6 the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily average wholesale selling prices per pound of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) at Chicago as reported by the U. S. D. A. for the month;

(2) Add an amount equal to 2.4 times the simple average as published by the U. S. D. A. of prices per pound of "Cheddars" on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, on the trading days that fall within the month.

(3) Divide by 7, add 30 percent thereof, and then multiply by 3.5.

(d) The average of the prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants for which prices have been reported to the market administrator:

Present Operator and Location

Kraft Cheese Co., Clare, Mich.
Fairmont Foods Co., Bad Axe, Mich.
Carnation Milk Co., Sheridan, Mich.
Grand Ledge Milk Co., Grand Ledge, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.

§ 924.51 Class I milk price. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the minimum price per hundredweight to be paid by each handler, f. o. b. his plant as described in § 924.6 for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from producers or from cooperative associations, during the month, which is classified as Class I utilization shall be the basic formula price plus $1.35.

(b) Beginning in the third month after this order becomes effective, the percentage which total receipts of producer milk by all handlers during the next two preceding months is of total Class I utilization of all handlers during such period shall be computed each month by the market administrator, and for the following month the Class I price shall be decreased 15 cents if such percentage is 7.5 percentage points or more above the average of the percentages for the corresponding months in the following schedule and increased 15 cents if such percentage is 7.5 percentage points or more below the average of the percentages for the corresponding months in such schedule and the Class I price shall be decreased or increased an additional 15 cents for each additional full 5 percentage points which such ratio of producer milk receipts to Class I utilization is above or below such average percentage: Provided, That when the price has been so decreased or increased it shall not be next increased or decreased, respectively, in the following month unless such percentage is ½ percentage point higher or lower, as the case may be, than the percentage at which such price change would otherwise be made.

Month	Percentages	Month	Percentages
January	122.5	July	149.8
February	126.5	August	145.5
March	134.1	September	140.6
April	144.3	October	131.0
May	159.3	November	123.4
June	167.5	December	125.9

§ 924.52 Class II milk price. The minimum price per hundredweight to be paid by each handler, f. o. b. his plant as described in § 924.6 for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from producers or from a cooperative association, during the month, which is classified as Class II utilization, shall be the higher of the prices as computed by the market administrator pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section:

(a) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) Multiply the average price per pound of butter as described in paragraph (b) (1) of § 924.50 by 1.2 and then by 3.5.

(2) From the simple average of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound of nonfat dry milk solids, spray and roller process, respectively, in barrels for human consumption f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the U. S. D. A., subtract 5.5 cents and then multiply by 8.2.

(b) The price per hundredweight as described in § 924.50 (d).

§ 924.53 Handler butterfat differential. There shall be added to or subtracted from, as the case may be, the prices of milk for each class as computed pursuant to §§ 924.51 and 924.52, for each one-tenth of one percent variation in the average butterfat test of the milk in each class above or below 3.5 percent the amounts determined as follows:

(a) Class I milk. Add 2 cents to the producer butterfat differential determined pursuant to § 924.82.

(b) Class II milk. Divide the amount computed pursuant to § 924.52 (a) (1) by the price computed pursuant to § 924.52 (a), multiply the price determined pursuant to § 924.52 (b) by the resulting percentage and then divide by 35 and round off to the nearest one tenth cent.

DETERMINATION OF PRICE TO PRODUCERS

§ 924.60 Computation of value of milk for each handler. (a) Subject to paragraph (c) of this section, the value of producer milk received during the month by each handler shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator by multiplying by the applicable class price adjusted pursuant to § 924.53 the total combined hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat received in producer milk allocated to each class pursuant to §§ 924.46 and 924.47, adding together the resulting amounts, and if such handler has a utilization greater than has been accounted for as received from all sources, add an amount computed by multiplying any such excess utilization classified pursuant to § 924.46 (c) and § 924.47 by the applicable class prices.

(b) Each handler who has other source milk allocated to Class I pursuant to § 924.46 and § 924.47 shall pay to the producer equalization fund each month an amount computed by multiplying the hundredweight of milk so allocated by the difference between the Class I and Class II prices for the month adjusted by the butterfat differentials provided in § 924.53 to the butterfat test of such other source milk.

(c) A handler who receives milk from producers (1) at a plant located outside the marketing area and more than 34 miles by shortest highway distance from the Detroit City Hall and from which no milk is disposed of on a route in the marketing area or (2) at a plant which is located outside the marketing area and more than 34 miles by shortest highway distance from the boundary of the marketing area and from which milk is disposed of on a route in the marketing area shall receive a credit with respect to producer milk disposed of as Class I utilization other than to a handler, and with respect to producer milk moved in bulk from such plant to a plant from which milk is disposed of on a route in the marketing area, computed on the weight of milk so moved which is not in excess of the amount of such milk classified as Class I utilization in the plant to which such milk is moved (pro rating to such milk the utilization of all producer milk received at such plant) at the rate for the applicable zone as determined by the market administrator, as follows:

Zone No.	Shortest road distance from Detroit City Hall	Rate per hundredweight
1	More than 34 miles but not more than 49 miles	$0.14
2	More than 49 miles but not more than 57 miles	.15
3	More than 57 miles but not more than 65 miles	.16
4	More than 65 miles but not more than 73 miles	.17
5	More than 73 miles but not more than 81 miles	.18
6	More than 81 miles but not more than 89 miles	.19
7	More than 89 miles but not more than 97 miles	.20
8	More than 97 miles	.21

§ 924.61 Computation of the 3.5 percent value of all producer milk. For each month, the market administrator shall compute the 3.5 percent value of producer milk by:

(a) Combining into one total the individual values of milk of all handlers, computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 924.60;

(b) Adding the aggregate value of all allowable producer location adjustments computed at the rates for the appropriate zones as provided in § 924.81;

(c) Adding or subtracting any charges or credits pursuant to § 924.90 (a) or (b);

(d) Adding, if the weighted average butterfat test of all producer milk represented in paragraph (a) of this section is less than 3.5 percent, or subtracting if the weighted average butterfat test of such milk is more than 3.5 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the total pounds of butterfat represented by the difference of such average butterfat test from 3.5 percent by the butterfat differential provided in § 924.82 multiplied by 10;

(e) Adding not less than one-half of the unobligated balance in the producer-equalization fund.

§ 924.62 Uniform price. For each month the uniform price shall be computed by:

(a) Dividing the amount computed pursuant to § 924.61 by the hundredweight of milk received from producers represented by the values included in § 937.61 (a); and

(b) Subtracting not less than 4 cents or more than 5 cents.

§ 924.63 Excess milk price. For each month the excess milk price shall be determined by adding 17 cents to the Class II price determined pursuant to § 924.52.

§ 924.64 Computation of uniform price for base milk. (a) Multiply the total pounds of excess milk and milk to be paid for at the excess milk price pursuant to § 924.70 (b) for the month by the excess milk price.

(b) Multiply the total amount of milk to be paid for at the uniform price pursuant to § 924.70 (b) by the uniform price for the month.

(c) Subtract the total values arrived at in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section from the total 3.5 percent value of all producer milk arrived at in § 924.61;

(d) Divide the resultant value by the total hundredweight of base milk and milk to be paid for at the base price pursuant to § 924.70 (b); and

(e) Subtract not less than four cents nor more than five cents. The resultant hundredweight price shall be the uniform price of base milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received at plants described in § 924.6.

§ 924.65 Notification. On or before the 11th day after the end of each month the market administrator shall notify each handler of:

(a) The amounts and values of his milk in each class and the total of such amounts and values;

(b) The base of any producer delivering milk to the handler which was not used in making payments for the previous month;

(c) The amount due such handler from the producer-equalization fund or the amount to be paid by such handler to the producer-equalization fund, as the case may be; and

(d) The totals of the minimum amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to §§ 924.80, 924.84, 924.86, 924.87, and 924.90.

BASE RULES

§ 924.70 Determination of base. (a) A producer who delivered milk on at least 122 days during the period August 1 through December 31, inclusive, of any year after 1950 shall have a base computed by the market administrator to be applicable, subject to § 924.72, for the 12 months' period beginning the following February 1, equal to his daily average milk deliveries from the date on which milk was first delivered in the period to the end of such August 1–December 31 period: Provided, That a producer who had a base previous to August 1 and whose average of daily deliveries for the August 1–December 31 period is less than such base shall have a base computed by subtracting from his previous base any amount by which 90 percent of his previous base exceeds such average of daily deliveries.

(b) A producer who has no base shall be paid during the first three full months he is a producer the uniform price in each of the months of August through December and in other months, in the price applicable to base milk for the following percentages of his milk deliveries and the price applicable to excess milk for the remainder of his deliveries: 75 percent for January and February, 70 percent for March, 60 percent for April and July and 40 percent for May and June. At the conclusion of the first three full months' delivery, a base shall be established in the following manner: Multiply the total deliveries in the months of August through December by .8, in January and February by .75, in March by .7, in April and July by .6, and in May and June by .4. Add the amounts so computed and divide by the number of days in which milk was delivered during the three months.

(c) From the effective date of this order until bases are established pursuant to this section, producers and cooperative associations shall be paid the uniform price for all milk delivered.

§ 924.71 Application of bases. (a) A base shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account milk was delivered during the base period, and upon death may be transferred to a member or members of the deceased producer's immediate family.

(b) Bases may be transferred under the following conditions upon written notice by the holder of the base to the market administrator on or before the last day of the month that such base is to be transferred:

(1) Upon retirement or entry into military service of a producer, the entire base may be transferred to a member or members of his immediate family.

(2) Bases may be held jointly and if such joint holding is terminated the base may be transferred as specified in writing to the market administrator by the joint holders to a person or persons who maintain a dairy herd or herds on the same farm.

(c) A producer who does not deliver milk to a handler for 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base.

§ 924.72 Establishing a new base. A producer with a base, by notifying the market administrator that he relinquishes such base, may establish a new base pursuant to § 924.70 (b) once during the 12-month period ending December 31, the period for establishing a new base to begin the first day of the month in which such notification is received by the market administrator.

PAYMENT FOR MILK

§ 924.80 Time and method of payment. On or before the 15th day after the end of each month each handler who received milk from producers or from a cooperative association shall pay for milk received during such month to each producer, or to a cooperative association for milk received from such association or from producers for the account of such association, the uniform price as provided in § 924.70 (b) and (c) or the base price for base milk and for milk to be paid for at the base price pursuant to § 924.70 (b) and milk transferred pursuant to § 924.43 (c), and the excess price for excess milk and milk to be paid for at the excess price pursuant to § 924.70 (b), adjusted by the butterfat differential pursuant to § 924.82 and any location adjustment pursuant to § 924.81: Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such month pursuant to § 924.85, he shall not be deemed to be in violation of this section if he reduces uniformly to all producers and cooperative associations his payments per hundredweight by a total amount not in excess of the reduction in payments due from the market administrator; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment uniformly to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this section next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

§ 924.81 Location adjustments to producers. In making payments to producers or cooperative associations pursuant to § 924.80 a handler may deduct with respect to all milk received by him from producers at a plant located outside the marketing area and more than 34 miles by shortest highway distance from the Detroit City Hall, as determined by the market administrator, and if milk is distributed from such plant on a route(s) in the marketing area, also located more than 34 miles by the shortest highway distance from the boundary of the marketing area, the amount per hundredweight applicable to the zone in which such plant is located as set forth in § 924.60 (c).

§ 924.82 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 924.80, the base price and excess price or the uniform price shall be increased or decreased for each one-tenth of one percent of butterfat content in the milk received from each producer or a cooperative association above or below 3.5 percent, as the case may be, by a butterfat differential of 7 cents when the average price of butter as described in § 924.50 (b) (1) is 60 cents, which differential shall be increased one-half cent for each full 5 cents variance in such price of butter above 60 cents and decreased one-half cent for each full 5-cent variance in such price of butter below 64.99 cents.

§ 924.83 Producer equalization fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund, known as the "producer-equalization fund" into which he shall deposit all payments received pursuant to § 924.84 and out of which he shall make all payments pursuant to § 924.85.

§ 924.84 Payments to the producer-equalization fund. On or before the 13th day after the end of each month, each handler

(a) whose value of milk is required to be computed pursuant to § 924.60 (a) shall pay to the market administrator any amount by which such value for such month (in the case of a cooperative association which is a handler plus the value of any milk transferred as provided in § 924.43 (c) at the price for base milk for the month adjusted pursuant to § 924.82) is greater than the minimum amount required to be paid by him pursuant to § 924.80, and

(b) who is required to make payment pursuant to § 924.60 (b) shall pay such amount to the market administrator.

§ 924.85 Payment out of the producer-equalization fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall pay to each handler any amount by which the value of milk for such handler for the month pursuant to § 924.60 (a) (in the case of a cooperative association which is a handler plus the value of any milk transferred as provided in § 924.43 (c) at the price for base milk for the month adjusted pursuant to § 924.82) is less than the total minimum amount required to be paid by him pursuant to § 924.80, less any unpaid obligations of such handler to the market administrator pursuant to § 924.84: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-equalization fund is insufficient to make all payments to all such handlers pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds become available.

§ 924.86 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this part, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 13th day after the end of each month two cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding two cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all receipts within the month of milk from producers, including milk of such handler's own production.

§ 924.87 Marketing services. (a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments pursuant to § 924.80 for milk received from each producer (including milk of such handler's own production) at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producer is a member, shall deduct five cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding five cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, and, on or before the 13th day after the end of each month, shall pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk received from producers and to provide producers with market information, such services to be performed by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) In the case of producers whose milk is received at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producers are members, and for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services described in paragraph (a) of this section, as determined by the Secretary, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from payments required pursuant to § 924.80 as may be authorized by such producers, and pay such deductions on or before the 13th day after the end of the month to the cooperative association rendering such services of which such producers are members.

ADJUSTMENT OF ACCOUNTS

§ 924.90 Payments. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses adjustments to be made, for any reason, which result in moneys due:

(a) To the market administrator from such handler,

(b) To such handler from the market administrator, or

(c) To any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any such amount due; and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payment set forth in the provision under which such error occurred, following the 5th day after such notice.

§ 924.91 Overdue accounts. Any unpaid obligation of a handler or of the market administrator pursuant to §§ 924.84, 924.85, 924.86, 924.87, and 924.90 shall be increased one-half of one percent on the first day of the month next following the due date of such obligation and on the first day of each month thereafter until such obligation is paid.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 924.100 Milk caused to be delivered by cooperative associations. Milk referred to in this part as received from producers by a handler shall include milk of producers caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association.

§ 924.101 Handler exemption. A handler who operates a plant located outside the marketing area from which class I milk is disposed of on a route(s) within the marketing area but from which the disposition of Class I milk on all routes operating wholly or partly within the marketing area averages less than 600 pounds per day for the month, and from which no milk is transferred to other handlers, or a handler whom the Secretary finds is subject, during the delivery period, to another Federal order, and whose disposition of Class I milk in the other Federal marketing area exceeds that in the Detroit marketing area, shall be exempted for such month from all provisions of this part except §§ 924.31, 924.32 and 924.33.

§ 924.102 Producer-handler exemption. A producer-handler shall be exempt from all provisions of this part except §§ 924.31, 924.32, 924.33 and 924.60 (b).

TERMINATION OF OBLIGATIONS

§ 924.110 Termination of obligations. (a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this part shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the month during which the market administrator receives the handler's report of utilization of the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to a cooperative association, the name of such producers or association, or, if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books or records required by this order to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the month following the month during which such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representative.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or wilful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate two years after the end of the month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 924.120 Effective time. The provisions of this part, or of any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated.

§ 924.121 When suspended or terminated. The secretary shall, whenever he finds that this part, or any provision thereof, obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, terminate or suspend the operation of this part or any such provision thereof.

§ 924.122 Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any of all provisions of this part, there are any obligations thereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 924.123 Liquidation. Under the suspension or termination of the provisions of this part, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers, in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 924.130 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 924.131 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this part, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid the application of such provision, and of the remaining provisions of this part, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 28th day of June 1951. Sections 924.1 through 924.15, 924.20 through 924.22 (e), 924.30 through 924.33, 924.40 through 924.47, 924.86, 924.120 through 924.123 and 924.130 and 924.131 shall be effective on and after the 1st day of August 1951, and §§ 924.22 (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j), 924.50 through 924.53, 924.60 through 924.65, 924.70 through 924.72, 924.80 through 924.85, 924.87, 924.90, 924.91, 924.100 through 924.102, and 924.110 shall be effective on and after the first day of September 1951.

[Bartlett Pear Order 1]

PART 936—FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS, AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

REGULATION BY GRADES AND SIZES

§ 936.383 Bartlett Pear Order 1—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Bartlett Pear Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of Bartlett pears, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this regulation is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than July 5, 1951. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, Bartlett pears must await the development of the crop and adequate information thereon was not available to the Bartlett pear Commodity Committee until June 20, 1951; recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such pears was made at the meeting of said committee on June 20, 1951, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such pears, at which time the recommendation and supporting information was submitted to the Department; shipments of the current crop of such pears are expected to begin on or about July 5, 1951; and this section should be applicable to all shipments of such pears in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., July 5, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., December 1, 1951, no shipper shall ship any box or container of Bartlett pears unless:

(i) Such pears are well matured and grade, except with respect to shape and damage by hail, at least U. S. Combination Grade: Provided, That not less than seventy (70) percent by count of the pears contained in such box or container, grade not less than U. S. No. 1 except that of the foregoing percentage not more than fifteen (15) percent may be damaged by hail: And provided further, That while the pears in such box or container need not be fairly well formed, they shall not be seriously misshapen; and

(ii) Such pears are of a size not smaller than the size known commercially as size 180.

(2) Each shipper, prior to making each shipment of Bartlett pears, shall, during the period set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, have the pears included in each such shipment inspected by a duly authorized representative of the Federal State Inspection Service, heretofore designated by the Bartlett Pear Commodity Committee and hereby approved; and each such shipper shall submit promptly, or cause to be submitted promptly, to the Bartlett Pear Commodity Committee Federal-State shipping point inspection certificates stating the grades and sizes of the Bartlett pears contained in each such shipment: Provided, That, in case the following conditions exist in connection with any such shipment:

(i) A written request for inspection is made to the Federal-State Inspection Service not later than 5:00 p. m. of the day before the fruit will be available for inspection;

(ii) The shipper designates in such request the date and hours when the fruit will be available for inspection; and

(iii) The Federal-State Inspection Service furnished the shipper with a signed statement that it is not practicable, under such conditions, for the Federal-State Inspection Service to make the inspection within the necessary time;

the shipper, by submitting or causing to be submitted promptly such signed statement to the Bartlett Pear Commodity Committee, may make the particular shipment without inspection, but such shipper shall comply with all other provisions of this regulation applicable to such shipment.

(c) Definitions. (1) Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

(2) "Size known commercially as size 180" means a size Bartlett pear that will pack a standard pear box, packed in accordance with the specifications of a standard pack, with five tiers, each tier having six rows with six pears in each row, and with the twenty smallest pears weighing not less than five pounds.

(3) "Standard pear box" means the container so designated in § 828.3 of the Agricultural Code of California.

(4) "U. S. No. 1," "U. S. Combination Grade," "fairly well formed," "seriously misshapen," and "standard pack" shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for Pears (summer and fall), 7 CFR 51.331.

(5) "Pears are well matured" means that the pears meet the maturity standards for Bartlett pears prescribed in section 804 of the Agricultural Code of California: Provided, That (i) if the inspection is on the basis of the average pressure test, it does not exceed 21 pounds; (ii) if the inspection is on the basis of the soluble solids, it is not less than 14 percent; and (iii) if the inspection is on the basis of color, the pears show a distinctly yellowish-green color: Provided further, That pears which have equivalent maturity, as determined by the Federal-State Inspection Service, may be passed as well matured.

AUTHORITY: §§ 941.0 to 941.100, inclusive, issued under Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c.

§ 941.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(4) All milk and milk products handled by handlers, as defined herein, are in the current of interstate commerce or directly burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk and its products.

(5) It is hereby found that the necessary expense of the market administrator for the maintenance and functioning of such agency will require the payment by each handler as his pro rata share of such expenses, an amount not exceeding 2¢ per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all milk received by such handler during each delivery period from producers, from his own farm production and as other source milk allocated to Class I milk and Class II milk.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found that good cause exists for making this order, as amended, effective not later than July 1, 1951. This action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order, as amended, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers—the public hearing having been held January 22–31, 1951, and the decision having been executed by the Secretary on June 13, 1951. Reasonable time under the circumstances, has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (see section 4 (c), Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative association of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the milk covered by this order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by this order, as amended, which is marketed within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of approval of its issuance, and who, during the determined representative period (February 1951), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

DEFINITIONS

§ 941.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.)

§ 941.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or such other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers and to perform the duties of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 941.3 Chicago, Illinois, marketing area. "Chicago, Illinois, marketing area", called the "marketing area" in this subpart means the territory lying within the townships of Warren, Waukegan, Libertyville, Shields, Vernon, West Deerfield, Deerfield, and the city of Barrington, in Lake County; Cook and Du Page Counties; the townships of Dundee, Elgin, St. Charles, Geneva, Batavia, and Aurora in Kane County; the townships of Wheatland, Du Page, Plainfield, Lockport, Homer, Troy, Joliet, New Lenox, and Frankfort in Will County, all in the State of Illinois; and the townships of North, Calumet and Hobart in Lake County, Indiana.

§ 941.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 941.5 Dairy Farmer. "Dairy farmer" means any person who produces milk.

§ 941.6 Pool plant. "Pool plant" means any plant which meets the requirements of § 941.66.

§ 941.7 Producer. "Producer" means a dairy farmer whose milk is

(a) Received at a pool plant directly from the farm where produced, or

(b) Qualified, upon satisfactory proof furnished to the market administrator, to be received at a pool plant and is caused by a handler to be delivered during part or all of the months of December through July, inclusive, for his account to a nonpool plant. Milk caused to be delivered pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to have been received at the pool plant from which diverted.

§ 941.8 Handler. "Handler" means any person who, on his own behalf or on behalf of others:

(a) Operates a pool plant;

(b) Processes or packages any Class I milk product, part or all of which is disposed of in the marketing area for consumption in fluid form;

(c) Processes or packages any Class II milk product which any health authority having jurisdiction in any portion of the marketing area requires to be made from approved milk, part or all of which is disposed of in the marketing area, or

(d) In a brokerage capacity, engages in buying milk, in bulk, from a person named in paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this section.

§ 941.9 Regulated plant. "Regulated plant" means a pool plant or a plant where any Class I milk product or Class II milk product (which any health authority having jurisdiction in any portion of the marketing area requires to be made from approved milk) is processed or packaged, all or part of which is disposed of in the marketing area.

§ 941.10 Market administrator. "Market administrator" means the agency which is described in § 941.20 for the administration of this subpart.

§ 941.11 Delivery period. "Delivery period" means the current marketing period from the first to the last day of each month, both inclusive.

§ 941.12 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative association of producers which the Secretary determines to have its entire activities under the control of its members, and to have and to be exercising full authority in the sale of milk of its members.

§ 941.13 Frozen cream. "Frozen cream" means cream which is held in an approved cold storage warehouse at an average temperature below zero degrees Fahrenheit for seven (7) consecutive days, as shown by charts of a recording thermometer.

§ 941.14 Grade A milk. "Grade A milk" means milk in fluid form labeled Grade A milk and milk from which milk in fluid form labeled Grade A may be obtained.

§ 941.15 Grade B milk. "Grade B milk" means milk other than Grade A milk.

§ 941.16 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means any milk or milk products (except those milk products covered by the Class III milk, Class III (a), or Class IV milk definitions which are not reused in another product) received by handlers from sources other than (a) producers, (b) pool plants of other handlers, or (c) plants where milk is priced under a marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for any other milk marketing area.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 941.20 Selection, removal and bond. The agency for the administration of this subpart shall be a market administrator who shall be a person selected and subject to removal by the Secretary. The market administrator shall, within 45 days following the date upon which he enters upon his duties, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary.

§ 941.21 Compensation. The market administrator shall be entitled to such reasonable compensation as shall be determined by the Secretary.

§ 941.22 Powers. The market administrator shall have the power to:

(a) Administer the terms and provisions of this subpart;

(b) Report to the Secretary complaints of violations of this subpart;

(c) Make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions of this subpart; and

(d) Recommend to the Secretary amendments to this subpart.

§ 941.23 Duties. The market administrator, in addition to the duties described in this subpart, shall:

(a) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this subpart;

(b) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary at any and all times;

(c) Furnish such information and such verified reports as the Secretary may request;

(d) Obtain a bond with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(e) Publicly disclose, after reasonable notice, the name of any person who has not made reports pursuant to § 941.30, or made payments required by §§ 941.80 through 941.84, 941.86, 941.87 and 941.88 (b);

(f) Prepare and disseminate, for the benefit of producers, consumers, and handlers, such statistics and information concerning the operation of this subpart as do not reveal confidential information;

(g) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer the terms and provisions of this subpart; and

(h) Pay, out of the funds received pursuant to § 941.86, the cost of his bond and of the bonds of such of his employees as handle funds entrusted to the market administrator, his own compensation, and all other expenses, except those incurred under § 941.87, which will necessarily be incurred by him for the maintenance and functioning of his office and the performance of his duties.

§ 941.24 Announcement of prices. The market administrator shall compute and publicly announce prices as follows:

(a) Not later than the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, the prices for all classes of milk pursuant to § 941.52 and the differential pursuant to § 941.82.

(b) Not later than the 14th day after the end of each delivery period, the uniform prices computed pursuant to § 941.71.

REPORTS OF HANDLERS

§ 941.30 Submission of reports. Each handler shall report to the market administrator, in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(a) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period:

(1) The pounds and butterfat test of and the butterfat pounds in milk and milk products received from producers (including his own farm production), from other handlers, from plants under other Federal marketing agreements and orders, and as other source milk; and

(2) The utilization of all receipts of milk and milk products for the delivery period.

(b) On or before the 25th day after the end of each delivery period, his producer payroll, which shall show for each producer:

(1) The total delivery of milk with the average butterfat test thereof,

(2) The net amount of payment to such producer made pursuant to § 941.80 (b),

(3) Any deduction and charges made by the handler, and

(4) Such other information with respect thereto as the market administrator may request.

§ 941.31 Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose disposition of milk such handler claims classification, and by such investigation as the market administrator deems necessary. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of milk and, during the usual hours of business, shall make available to the market administrator such records and facilities as will enable him to:

(a) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk required to be reported pursuant to § 941.30 and, in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(b) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(c) Verify the payments to producers and to associations of producers as prescribed in §§ 941.80 and 941.88 (b).

§ 941.32 Retention of records. All books and records required under this subpart to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION OF MILK

§ 941.40 Basis of Classification. All milk and milk products received by a handler (including his own farm production) shall be reported by the handler in the classes set forth in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That

(a) Any milk moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form from a regulated plant to a plant at which the handling of milk is subject to pricing and payment under any marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for any other fluid milk marketing area shall be classified as Class I milk, and any milk so moved as cream in fluid form shall be classified as Class II milk. If satisfactory proof is furnished to the market administrator that such milk, skim milk, or cream was in excess of the total amount used in Class I milk or Class II milk, respectively (as defined in § 941.41), at the latter plant, such excess shall be classified according to its utilization. If this paragraph is applicable, then paragraphs (b), (c), (d) and (e) of this section do not apply.

(b) Any milk moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form from a regulated plant to any plant located outside the following area (hereinafter referred to as "surplus milk manufacturing area") shall be classified as Class I milk, any milk so moved as cream in fluid form, frozen cream, other cream frozen, plastic cream, powdered cream, or any cream product in fluid form, including any bulk condensed or evaporated milk product containing more than 12 percent butterfat, shall be classified as Class II milk, and any milk so moved as any other milk product containing butterfat shall be classified according to the form in which it leaves the plant of shipment: the State of Wisconsin; the counties of Stark, Marshall, Woodford, Livingston, Ford, Iroquois, Jo Daviess, Stephenson, Winnebago, Boone, McHenry, Lake, Carroll, Ogle, De Kalb, Kane, Cook, Du Page, Whiteside, Lee, Rock Island, Henry, Bureau, Putnam, La Salle, Kendall, Grundy, Will, Kankakee, Peoria, McLean, Champaign, and Shelby, in the State of Illinois; the counties of Benton, White, Cass, Miami, Howard, Carroll, Tippecanoe, Tipton, Clinton, Fountain, Warren, Parke, Vermillion, Vigo, Sullivan, Lake, Newton, Porter, Jasper, La Porte, Starke, Pulaski, St. Joseph, Marshall, Fulton, Kosciusko, Wabash, and Elkhart, in the State of Indiana: the counties of Ottawa, Kent, Allegan, Barry, Calhoun, St. Joseph, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Cass and Berrien, in the State of Michigan, and the county of Van Wert in the State of Ohio.

(c) Any milk moved as milk, skim milk, or cream in fluid form from a regulated plant to the establishment of a commercial food or drug processor located within the surplus milk manufacturing area or to an unregulated milk plant so located, which milk plant manufactured during the delivery period butter, cheese, evaporated milk, condensed milk or skim milk, whole milk powder, nonfat dry milk solids, casein or ice cream powder shall be classified under § 941.41 according to its utilization at the latter plant or establishment, as shown by adequate daily records: Provided, That (1) If in such unregulated plant or establishment, such receipts from a regulated plant are commingled with its other receipts, the receipts of the regulated milk or skim milk shall be allocated, according to such daily records, to the available quantity of Class III (a) milk, Class III milk, Class IV milk, Class II milk, and Class I milk, in that sequence; and any such receipts of regulated cream shall be allocated to Class IV milk, Class III milk, Class III (a) milk, Class II milk, and Class I milk, in that sequence; and (2) If such unregulated plant or establishment does not make available to the market administrator adequate utilization records on a daily basis, but does make available to the market administrator adequate utilization records on a monthly basis, the milk or skim milk received from a regulated plant shall be allocated to the available quantity of Class I milk, Class II milk, Class III milk, Class III (a) milk and Class IV milk, in that sequence; and the cream received from a regulated plant shall be allocated to the available quantities of Class II milk, Class III milk, Class III (a) milk, Class IV milk, and Class I milk, in that sequence.

(d) Any milk moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form from a regulated plant to any unregulated plant located within the surplus milk manufacturing area which did not manufacture any of the products named in paragraph (c) of this section during the delivery period shall be classified as Class I milk, and any milk so moved as cream in fluid form shall be classified as Class II milk.

(e) Any milk moved from a regulated plant to a regulated plant of another handler shall be reported as Class I milk if moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form, and shall be reported as Class II milk if moved as cream in fluid form, unless utilization in another class is indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 10th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transfer was made, but in no event shall the amount so reported in any class exceed the total used in such class by the receiving handler.

§ 941.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 941.40, 941.42, 941.43, 941.44, and 941.45, the classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all milk and milk products (1) Disposed of in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drink, (2) Disposed of in fluid or frozen form as concentrated milk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drinks, not sterilized and not otherwise specified under paragraph (c) of this section, and (3) Not accounted for (i) under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, and (ii) as Class II milk, Class III milk, Class III (a) milk, and Class IV milk, except that this definition shall not include milk disposed of in bulk as any product mentioned in subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph to bakeries, soup companies, and candy manufacturing establishments in their capacity as such.

(b) Class II milk shall be all milk and milk products the butterfat from which is contained in sweet or sour cream, any cream product in fluid form having more than 6 percent butterfat, butter cream, filled cream, frozen cream, plastic cream, powdered cream, eggnog, yogurt, ice cream, ice cream mix (liquid or powder), cottage cheese, and any other milk product of composition and texture similar to any of the products named in this paragraph, except that this definition shall not include butterfat:

(1) In cream or cream products in fluid form, powdered cream, filled cream, and cottage cheese disposed of in bulk to bakeries, soup companies, and candy manufacturing establishments in their capacity as such; and

(2) Derived from Grade B milk and used in frozen cream, plastic cream, ice cream, and ice cream mix (liquid or powder) if such use is not in violation of the applicable health requirements.

(c) Class III milk shall be all milk and milk products the butterfat from which is contained in:

(1) Condensed milk or skim milk (sweetened or unsweetened) disposed of to commercial food processors, sweetened condensed milk in hermetically sealed cans, evaporated milk, whole milk powder, and nonfat dry milk solids (the products specified in this subparagraph are referred to hereinafter as Class III (a) milk);

(2) Any other product not included in Class I milk, Class II milk, or Class IV milk;

(3) Products disposed of in bulk to bakeries, soup companies and candy manufacturing establishments pursuant to the exceptions in paragraphs (a) and (b) (1) of this section; and

(4) Frozen cream, plastic cream, ice cream, and ice cream mix (liquid or powder) referred to in the exception in paragraph (b) (2) of this section.

(d) Class IV milk shall be all milk and milk products the butterfat from which is:

(1) Contained in butter, cheese (except cottage cheese), inventory variations, and products lost in transit by a handler; and

(2) Actual shrinkage, but in an amount not to exceed one-half percent of the total pounds of butterfat received directly from producers plus 1½ percent of the total pounds of butterfat in bulk milk, skim milk, and cream in fluid form received at a regulated plant from all sources which were not disposed of in bulk to a regulated plant of another handler: Provided, That such shrinkage shall be allowed in this class only if records of utilization satisfactory to the market administrator are available.

§ 941.42 Responsibility of handlers. In establishing classification the responsibility of handlers shall be as follows: Any milk received from producers shall be classified as Class I milk unless the handler who receives such milk directly from producers proves to the satisfaction of the market administrator that such milk should be classified in another class without regard to whether such milk has been used or disposed of (whether in original or other form) by such handler(s), or by any unregulated plant(s).

§ 941.43 Correction of classification and reclassification. (a) The classification of any milk or milk product shall be corrected by the market administrator if upon his audit it is found that such classification was reported incorrectly or incompletely by the handler.

(b) Any milk or milk product reported by a handler as having been used or disposed of in any class which is found by the market administrator to have been reused or redisposed of (whether in original or other form) in a different class by such handler, by any other handler, or by the first unregulated plant or establishment located within the surplus milk manufacturing area where used in processing milk, milk products, other food products or drugs shall be reclassified by the market administrator in accordance with such latter use or disposition: Provided, That any classification made pursuant to § 941.40 (a), (b), (c) or (d) shall not be subject to reclassification.

(c) If, in the application of paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, the ultimate use or disposition of the affected milk or milk product was at a plant or establishment receiving milk or milk products from more than one handler, the market administrator may assign the change, or correction, in classification to the major supplying handler(s), but not to an extent greater than the amount received from such supplying handler(s).

(d) If the application of paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section discloses a higher classification than that reported pursuant to § 941.30 (a) with respect to milk or milk products received by a handler from a cooperative association, the market administrator shall notify the receiving handler of such change and of the amount of money involved and such handler within five days thereafter shall pay such amount to the cooperative association.

§ 941.44 Computation of milk in each class. For each delivery period, each handler, with respect to all milk and milk products received by him (including his own farm production), shall compute, in the manner and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, the amounts in each class, as follows:

(a) Determine the total pounds of milk and milk products received from producers (including such handler's own farm production), from other handlers, from plants under other Federal marketing agreements or orders, and as other source milk, and add together the resulting amounts;

(b) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: Multiply by their respective average butterfat tests the weights of milk and milk products received from producers (including such handler's own farm production), from other handlers, from plants under other Federal marketing agreements or orders, and as other source milk, and add together the resulting amounts;

(c) Determine the total pounds of Class I milk as follows:

(1) Convert to pounds on the basis of 2.15 pounds per quart (in case of nonconcentrated flavored milk and flavored milk drinks 2 pounds per quart) the volume disposed of in each of the several items of Class I milk, except in the case of converting milk, flavored milk or flavored milk drinks in concentrated form such conversion shall apply to the volume of milk used in the production of the concentrated product rather than to the volume of finished product.

(2) Multiply each of the resulting amounts by its average butterfat test (in the case of flavored milk and flavored milk drinks the test to be used shall be the average fat test of the finished product if the handler's production records do not show the amount of butterfat contained therein); and add the results so obtained.

(3) If the total pounds of butterfat so computed when added to the sum of the pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraphs (d) (2), (e) (2), and (f) (7) of this section are less than the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, divide the difference by .035; and

(4) Add together the results obtained pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (3) of this paragraph;

(d) Determine the total pounds of Class II milk as follows:

(1) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several items of Class II milk by its average butterfat test;

(2) Add together the resulting amounts; and

(3) Divide the result obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by .035;

(e) Determine the total pounds of Class III milk (with Class III (a) milk items computed separately) as follows:

(1) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several items of Class III milk by its average butterfat test;

(2) Add together the resulting amounts; and

(3) Divide the result obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by .035;

(f) Determine the total pounds in Class IV milk as follows:

(1) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several items of Class IV milk (other than inventory variation) by its average butterfat test;

(2) Determine the difference in pounds of butterfat contained in inventories at the beginning and end of the delivery period;

(3) Add together the pounds of butterfat obtained in subparagraph (1) and (2) of this paragraph;

(4) Add to the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraphs (c) (2), (d) (2), and (e) (2) of this section to the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph;

(5) Subtract the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (4) of this paragraph from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, and the difference is the pounds of butterfat in actual shrinkage unless such difference is a minus quantity, in which case the butterfat shrinkage is zero for purposes of all computations required by this section;

(6) Determine the maximum number of pounds of butterfat shrinkage in Class IV milk by multiplying by 1½ percent the pounds of butterfat in bulk milk, skim milk, or cream in fluid form received at a regulated plant from all sources which were not disposed of in bulk to other handlers, and adding such amount to the result obtained by multiplying by ½ percent the pounds of butterfat received directly from producers: Provided, That the pounds determined pursuant to this subparagraph shall be zero if records of utilization satisfactory to the market administrator are not available;

(7) Add to the amount computed pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph the smaller of the amount determined pursuant to subparagraphs (5) and (6) of this paragraph;

(8) Divide the pounds of butterfat obtained in subparagraph (7) of this paragraph by .035; and

(g) Determine the pounds of overrun as follows: In the event the pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (f) (4) of this section are greater than the pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, subtract the smaller amount from the larger amount and divide the result by .035.

§ 941.45 Allocation of classified milk. The pounds remaining in each class after making the following computations shall be the pounds of producer milk in such class:

(a) Subtract pro rata from the pounds in each class, the pounds of milk received from the handler's own farm production;

(b) Subtract from the remaining pounds in each class, the pounds of milk and milk products received from other handlers and assigned to such class (§ 941.40 (e));

(c) Subtract from the remaining pounds in each class, the pounds of milk equivalent of frozen cream or any other product (not including inventory variation) that has been classified in an earlier delivery period and used in such class in the current delivery period;

(d) Subtract from the remaining pounds in each class, the pounds of milk and milk products received from a handler or plant under another Federal milk marketing agreement or order on the basis of classification which is comparable to the class of utilization of such milk or milk product under the marketing agreement or order covering the transferor handler or plant;

(e) Subtract, in the case of other source milk received in the form of a product named in Class III milk, Class III (a) milk or Class IV milk, the pounds of such other source milk used as Class I milk and Class II milk, respectively, from the remaining pounds in the class of use;

(f) Subtract for the delivery periods of December through July, inclusive, from the remaining pounds in each class (except the pounds in inventory variation and shrinkage) in series beginning with the lowest-priced class, the pounds of other source milk not deducted pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section;

(g) Subtract for the delivery periods of August through November, inclusive, pro rata from the remaining pounds in Classes II, III, III (a) and IV (except the pounds in inventory variation and shrinkage) the pounds of other source milk received in products other than milk in fluid form and those items deducted pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section;

(h) Subtract, for the delivery periods of August through November, inclusive, pro rata from the remaining pounds in each class (except the pounds in inventory variation and shrinkage) the pounds of other source milk received as milk in fluid form;

(i) Subtract from the remaining pounds in each class in series beginning with the lowest-priced class, the pounds of overrun;

(j) If deductions have been made pursuant to paragraphs (e), (f), (g) or (h) of this section, and the remaining amount of Class I milk plus the 18 percent cream equivalent of butterfat remaining in the pounds in Class II, III, III (a), and IV milk are greater than the amount of milk received from producers, deduct the difference from the remaining amount of Class I milk; and

(k) In the event the total pounds remaining in the several classes is greater, or less, than the pounds of milk received from producers (excluding the handler's own farm production) reconciliation shall be effected by respectively deducting such differences from, or adding such differences to, the class to which the lowest announced price is applicable.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 941.50 Basic formula price. The basic formula price to be used in computing the prices for Class I milk and Class II milk for each delivery period shall be the higher of the prices for Class III milk and Class IV milk as computed by the market administrator pursuant to paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 941.52 for the delivery period next preceding.

§ 941.51 Supply and demand ratio. On or before the last day of each delivery period the market administrator shall make the following computations based upon information obtained from handler's reported receipts and utilization:

(a) Determine the total receipts of Grade A milk from all producers (including receipts from own farm production) for the most recent 6-month period and divide the result by 6;

(b) Determine the total pounds of Grade A milk actually utilized in Class I milk and Class II milk products during the most recent 6-month period and subtract therefrom (1) The amount of Class I and Class II milk disposed of in bulk outside the surplus milk manufacturing area, and (2) The amount of Class II milk represented by frozen cream and plastic cream moving into storage during such 6-month period, and divide the result by 6;

(c) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (b) of this section by the amount obtained in paragraph (a) of this section and round to the nearest full percent, which resulting percentage shall be known as the "current supply-demand ratio";

(d) Determine the number of percentage points that the current supply-demand ratio is above or below the percentage for the corresponding 6-months' period appearing in the following schedule:

6-months included in supply-demand ratio computation	Percent	Delivery period subject to adjustment
January through June	62	August.
February through July	62	September.
March through August	64	October.
April through September	67	November.
May through October	71	December.
June through November	76	January.
July through December	81	February.
August through January	79	March.
September through February	76	April.
October through March	72	May.
November through April	68	June.
December through May	64	July.

(e) In making the computation specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the market administrator shall use the reported receipts and utilization of handlers of Grade A milk under both Orders 41 and 69 when it is necessary to use data for delivery periods prior to the effective date of this section.

§ 941.52 Class prices. Subject to the appropriate location adjustment credits, as set forth in § 941.53, each handler, at the time and in the manner set forth in § 941.80, shall pay per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period from producers or from cooperative associations, not less than the prices set forth below in this section:

(a) Class I milk. (1) The price for Grade A Class I milk, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be the basic formula price plus the following amount for the delivery periods indicated: May and June, $0.50; July, August, September, October, and November, $0.90; all others, $0.70: Provided, That for each percent that the current supply-demand ratio is greater or less than the applicable percentage contained in the schedule in § 941.51 (d), the Class I price differential shall be increased or decreased, respectively, by the following amounts for the delivery periods indicated: May and June, $0.02; July, August, September, October, and November, $0.04; all others, $0.03: And provided further, That any adjustment made pursuant to the above proviso in this subparagraph shall be limited to $0.16 for the delivery periods of May and June; $0.30 for the delivery periods of July through November; and $0.24 for all other delivery periods; but in no event shall the Class I price differential computed pursuant to this subparagraph be less than $0.50.

(2) The price for Grade B Class I milk, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be the price for Grade A Class I milk less $0.10.

(3) Grade A or Grade B Class I milk moved in bulk to any place outside the surplus milk manufacturing area during any of the delivery periods of September, October or November shall be classified separately and its price shall be $0.70 higher than the prices otherwise computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2), respectively, of this paragraph.

(b) Class II milk. (1) The price for Grade A Class II milk, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be the basic formula price plus the following amount for the delivery periods indicated: May and June, $0.30; July, August, September, October and November, $0.50; all others, $0.40: Provided, That such amount for the delivery period shall be adjusted by the amount of any adjustment made in the Class I price differential pursuant to the first proviso of paragraph (a) (1), but in no event shall the Class II price differential computed pursuant to this subparagraph be less than $0.40 for the delivery periods of July through November or less than $0.30 for all other delivery periods.

(2) The price for Grade B Class II milk, except as set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be the price for Grade A Class II milk less $0.10.

(3) Grade A or Grade B Class II milk moved in bulk to any place outside the surplus milk manufacturing area during any of the delivery periods of September, October or November shall be classified separately and its price shall be $0.70 higher than the price otherwise computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2), respectively, of this paragraph.

(c) Class III milk. The price per hundredweight for Class III milk shall be the highest of the prices resulting from the respective formulas set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph and in paragraph (d) of this section: Provided, That the price resulting from the formula set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall apply at all times to Class III (a) milk.

(1) The average of the prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for such delivery period to farmers for milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat delivered during such delivery period at each of the following listed manufacturing plants or places for which prices are reported to the United States Department of Agriculture or to the market administrator.

White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(2) The price per hundredweight computed from the following formula:

(i) Multiply the simple average as computed by the market administrator, of the daily average wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture during the delivery period, by 6;

(ii) Add 2.4 times the simple average, as published by the United States Department of Agriculture, of the prices determined per pound of "Cheddars" on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, for the trading days that fall within the month;

(iii) Divide by 7;

(iv) Add 30 percent thereof; and

(v) Multiply by 3.5.

(d) Class IV Milk. The price per hundredweight for Class IV milk shall be that computed from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 4.24 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade AA (93-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture, during the delivery period: Provided, That if no price is reported for Grade AA (93-score) butter, the highest of the prices reported for Grade A (92-score) butter for that day shall be used in lieu of the price for Grade AA (93-score) butter;

(2) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of carlot prices per pound for spray process nonfat dry milk solids, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding delivery period through the 25th day of the current delivery period, by the United States Department of Agriculture; and

(3) From the sum of the results arrived at under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph subtract 75.2 cents.

§ 941.53 Location adjustment credits to handlers. (a) The location adjustment credit with respect to that portion of milk received directly from producers at a pool plant (1) Which is moved as milk or skim milk in fluid form from such pool plant to a regulated plant which is located less than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, or (2) which is classified as Class I milk but did not move in the manner described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph or in paragraph (b) (1) of this section, shall be 2 cents per hundredweight for each 15 miles or fraction thereof that such plant shipping is located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, but not to exceed a total credit of 42 cents per hundredweight: Provided, That there shall be no location adjustment credit with respect to Class I milk pursuant to § 941.41 (a) (3).

(b) The location adjustment credit with respect to that portion of milk received directly from producers at a pool plant (1) Which is moved as cream in fluid form from such pool plant to a regulated plant engaged in the processing of any Class I milk or Class II milk product which is located less than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, or (2) Which is classified as Class II milk but did not move in the manner described in subparagraph (a) (1) of this section or in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, shall be ascertained by dividing the pounds of butterfat contained therein by 0.36 and applying to the result the applicable rate per hundredweight specified in the following table:

Distance from the pool plant to the City Hall in Chicago:	Cents per hundredweight
0 to 70 miles (zone 1)	0
70.1 to 85 miles (zone 2)	5
85.1 to 115 miles (zones 3 and 4)	10
115.1 to 160 miles (zones 5, 6, and 7)	20
160.1 to 220 miles (zones 8, 9, 10, and 11)	30
220.1 to 250 miles (zones 12 and 13)	35
250.1 to 310 miles (zones 14, 15, 16, and 17)	40
310.1 and over (zones 18 and over)	50

(c) The burden rests upon the handler who receives the milk from producers to prove to the market administrator that the conditions required for the receiving of location adjustment credits have been fulfilled.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 941.60 Handlers who are also producers. No provision of this subject shall apply to a handler whose sole sources of supply are receipts from his own production and from other handlers, except that such handlers shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

§ 941.61 Payment for other source milk. In the event a handler uses other source milk for purposes which violate the requirements of an applicable health authority in the marketing area or other source milk originating from a plant under suspension pursuant to § 941.67, and such other source milk is allocated to Class I milk or Class II milk pursuant to § 941.45 (e), (f), (g), or (h) the market administrator is computing the net pool obligation for such handler pursuant to § 971.70 shall add an amount determined by multiplying the pounds of other source milk so allocated to Class I milk or Class II milk by the difference between the value at the appropriate class price and the value at the lowest announced price per hundredweight applicable for the delivery period.

§ 941.62 Payment for overrun. The market administrator, in computing the net pool obligation for each handler pursuant to § 941.70 shall add an amount determined by multiplying the pounds of overrun pursuant to § 941.44 (g) by the appropriate price pursuant to its allocation in § 941.45 (i): Provided, That if the handler did not receive milk directly from producers, an amount obtained by multiplying the quantity of overrun by the lowest announced price per hundredweight shall be subtracted from the amount obtained above in this section.

§ 941.63 Butterfat in skim milk. A handler may claim, for classification purposes pursuant to §§ 941.40 through 941.45 butterfat in skim milk disposed of to others or used in the manufacture of milk products by including the butterfat content of such skim milk in his report for the delivery period filed pursuant to § 941.30 (a) or by giving prior notification to the market administrator of his desire to do so. In the event that a handler does not have adequate records of the butterfat content of such skim milk, the market administrator shall use 0.06 percent as the butterfat content per hundredweight of such skim milk: Provided, That if the handler desires to discontinue accounting for butterfat in skim milk, or after discontinuing the accounting therefor desires to again account for the same, he may do so by notifying the market administrator in writing at least 30 days prior to the first day of the delivery period during which such change shall become effective.

§ 941.64 Separate classification of Grade A milk and Grade B milk. (a) Subject to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, Grade A milk and Grade B milk shall be separately classified.

(b) All milk received from producers at a plant from which any Grade A milk is disposed of shall be deemed to be Grade A milk unless such milk is identified and handled in accordance with the conditions set forth in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) In the case of milk received from producers at a plant which a health authority having jurisdiction in any portion of the marketing area has approved for receiving, processing, and distributing both Grade A milk and Grade B milk and the Grade A milk is received from producers specifically designated by such health authority as qualified to produce such milk, the market administrator shall determine the classification of Grade A milk and Grade B milk, respectively, in the following manner:

(1) If the handler operating such a plant maintains adequate accounts and records of quantities of each grade of milk and practices complete segregation of Grade A milk and Grade B milk receipts, the market administrator, in applying §§ 941.40 through 941.45, shall determine separate classification for Grade A milk and Grade B milk in such plant.

(2) In the event adequate records are not maintained or complete segregation is not practiced, the receipts of Grade A milk shall be allocated to the available quantity of Class I milk, Class II milk, Class III milk, Class III (a), and Class IV milk, in that sequence.

§ 941.65 Determination of Mileages. All mileages relating to location adjustment credits to handlers pursuant to § 941.53, location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 941.81, and payment for milk pursuant to § 941.80, shall be computed by the market administrator by rail or highway distance, whichever is shorter: Provided, That the rail distance shall be the sum of the following:

(a) The highway distance between the handler's plant and the railroad loading point (but not to exceed 25 miles);

(b) The rail distance by the most direct single rail line between the loading point and the rail terminal in Chicago; and

(c) The highway distance between the appropriate rail terminal and the City Hall in Chicago.

Mileage shall be subject to redetermination at all times and in the event a handler requests a redetermination of the mileage pertaining to any plant, the market administrator shall notify the handler of his findings within 30 days after receipt of such request.

Any financial obligations resulting from a change in mileage shall not be retroactive for any period prior to the redetermination announced by the market administrator.

§ 941.66 Pool plant. "Pool plant" means any plant which receives milk from dairy farmers and which:

(a) Processes and packages any Class I milk product specified in § 941.41 (a) (1), all or a part of which is disposed of in the marketing area for consumption in fluid form, or;

(b) Is approved by the Board of Health for receiving milk which may be disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk in Chicago, Illinois, and which is not the type of plant described in paragraph (a) of this section and is not under suspension as a pool plant pursuant to § 941.67; or

(c) Is not approved by the Board of Health of Chicago, Illinois, and which ships during the delivery period at least 50 percent of the butterfat received from dairy farmers as milk or cream in fluid form to a plant(s) described in paragraph (a) of this section. Any plant which fulfills this requirement for each of the months of September, October and November of the same year shall be a pool plant until September 1 of the following year: Provided, That the milk received at the plant continues to be qualified under the applicable health requirements as a source of milk for the plants supplied by it during said months: Provided further, That the plant operator does not notify the market administrator that the plant should be withdrawn from the pool; in the event such notification is given, the plant will no longer be a pool plant, starting with the beginning of the delivery period following receipt of the notification by the market administrator, except during delivery period(s) in which the condition set forth in the first sentence of this paragraph is fulfilled: And provided further, That any plant which shipped, as verified by the market administrator, at least 50 percent of the butterfat received from dairy farmers during September, October and November 1950 as milk or cream in fluid form to a plant(s) where the handling of milk was regulated pursuant to Federal order 41 or 69 (regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, and Suburban Chicago, Illinois, marketing areas) shall be a pool plant from the effective date of this order until September 1, 1951, if the plant operator notifies the market administrator in writing of his desire to have such status.

§ 941.67 Suspension of pool plants. (a) Any plant described in § 941.66 (b) shall be suspended automatically as a pool plant, such suspension to be effective during each of the delivery periods of February through July inclusive of the next succeeding year, unless:

(1) At least 50 percent of the butterfat in milk received from dairy farmers at such plant during each of the delivery periods of September, October and November is (i) Shipped as milk or cream in fluid form to a plant(s) which processes and packages Class I milk or Class II milk, all or part of which is disposed of in the marketing area, or (ii) Disposed of from such plant as Class I milk or Class II milk within the surplus milk manufacturing area other than to a regulated plant; or

(2) Such plant gives notice to the market administrator in writing not later than the 10th day of the delivery period in each of the delivery periods of September, October, and November that it is able and willing to ship as milk or cream in fluid form to any plant(s) which processes and packages Class I milk or Class II milk all or part of which is disposed of in the marketing area, at prices and terms therein stated, a specified amount of milk or cream in fluid form during the remaining portion of the delivery period covered by said notice, which together with such amount as it has disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk within the surplus milk manufacturing area (including shipments to any such plant(s) in said delivery period), shall be not less than 50 percent of the butterfat received by it from dairy farmers during the preceding delivery period. Upon receipt of said notice, the market administrator shall forthwith make the offer and terms thereof public by transmitting the same to all handlers.

(b) The market administrator shall maintain at his office a list of plants (including plant location and name of operator) suspended pursuant to this section which shall be made available to any interested person upon request.

(c) Any milk or milk product received at a regulated plant from a plant during any period of suspension pursuant to this section shall be other source milk.

§ 941.68 Milk under more than one Federal order. (a) Milk or any milk product disposed of within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area (other than to a regulated plant) as any item of Class I milk or Class II milk from a plant receiving milk subject to the class price provisions of a marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for another marketing area shall not be subject to the class price provisions or to §§ 941.80 through 941.88, except that if the price per hundredweight for the class of utilization under the other subpart is less than the price per hundredweight of the applicable class of utilization under this order with respect to such item(s) (each price to be adjusted to 3.5 percent butterfat content and by any applicable location differential), an amount of money representing the difference in such prices multiplied by the quantity (in the case of Class II milk items the 3.5 percent milk equivalent of butterfat) so disposed of within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area shall be paid to the market administrator by the handler operating such plant on or before the 16th day after the delivery period for deposit in the producer settlement fund (§ 941.83).

(b) Milk received from producers at a pool plant shall be exempt from the class price provisions and §§ 941.80 through 941.88 if (1) The Secretary determines that the quantity of Class I milk, as defined in § 941.41 (a), disposed of from such plant to any outlet(s), other than a milk processing or milk distributing plant, in a marketing area defined in a marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for another marketing area is greater than the quantity of Class I milk disposed of from such plant within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, and (2) the milk at such plant would be subject to the class price and payment provisions of the other marketing agreement or order upon being made exempt from this subpart.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 941.70 Net pool obligation(s) of handlers. On or before the 14th day of each delivery period the market administrator shall examine for mathematical correctness and obvious errors the report of receipts and utilization submitted by each handler for the preceding delivery period and shall make such corrections as such examination shall indicate to be appropriate. A separate net pool obligation for Grade A milk and Grade B milk received from producers shall be computed for each handler (based upon his reports as corrected), as follows:

(a) Multiply the producer milk in each class by the applicable class price and add together the resulting amounts;

(b) Add the amount of any payments required to be made pursuant to §§ 941.61 and 941.62;

(c) Subtract all location adjustment credits computed pursuant to § 941.53; and

(d) Subtract 6 cents per hundredweight on all milk received from producers at a regulated plant located within the marketing area.

§ 941.71 Computation of uniform prices. The market administrator shall compute separate uniform prices per hundredweight of Grade A milk and Grade B milk for each delivery period. Each computation shall be made in the following manner:

(a) Combine into one total the net pool obligation of all handlers computed pursuant to § 941.70;

(b) Add the aggregate of all allowable location adjustments computed pursuant to § 941.81;

(c) Add an amount representing the unobligated cash balance in the applicable producer-settlement fund on hand at the close of business on the last day of the delivery period;

(d) Divide the result by the total hundredweight of producer milk of all handlers whose net pool obligations are included pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; and

(e) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents as a producer-settlement fund reserve. The result shall be the uniform price per hundredweight (for the grade of milk involved) of milk containing 3.5 percent of butterfat received from producers at pool plants located more than 55 miles but not more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, Illinois.

PAYMENTS

§ 941.80 Time and method of payment for producer milk. (a) On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall pay to each cooperative association which is also a handler for milk received from it during the delivery period not less than the total value of such milk computed by multiplying the pounds of such milk in each class by the applicable class price subject to the location adjustment credit pursuant to § 941.53 and to a butterfat differential computed as in § 941.82, plus 4 cents per hundredweight if the milk was received from producers at a pool plant located within the marketing area and 2 cents if received at a pool plant located outside the marketing area and not more than 55 miles from the City Hall in Chicago.

(b) On or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall pay to each producer per hundredweight of milk received from him during such delivery period not less than the uniform price, subject to the location adjustment and butterfat differential provided by §§ 941.81 and 941.82: Provided, That if the milk was received from such producer at a pool plant located within the marketing area, an additional payment of 10 cents per hundredweight of such milk shall be made, and if the milk was received from such producer at a pool plant located outside the marketing area but not more than 55 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, an additional payment of 2 cents per hundredweight of such milk shall be made.

§ 941.81 Location adjustments to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 941.80 (b), each handler shall deduct per hundredweight of milk received from producers at a pool plant located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, 2 cents for each 15 miles, or fraction thereof, greater than 70 miles.

§ 941.82 Butterfat differential on producer milk. For each one-tenth of 1 percent above or below 3.5 percent in average butterfat content of milk delivered by any producer during any delivery period, the uniform price paid to such producer shall be plus or minus, as the case may be, an amount computed as follows: To the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which the milk was received, add 20 percent, divide the result obtained by 10, and adjust to the nearest one-tenth cent.

§ 941.83 Producer-settlement funds. The market administrator shall establish and maintain separate funds known as "Producer-Settlement Funds" for Grade A milk and Grade B milk, respectively, into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to § 941.84 (including any adjustments thereto pursuant to § 941.88 (b) (1) and § 941.68; and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to § 941.85 (including any adjustments thereto pursuant to § 941.88 (b) (2)). Immediately after computing the uniform prices for each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the amount(s) by which each handler's net pool obligation(s) is greater or less than the sum obtained by multiplying such handler's producer milk by the applicable uniform price for Grade A milk or Grade B milk, subject to the location adjustment pursuant to § 941.81, and shall enter such amount(s) on such handler's account(s) as a pool debit or pool credit, as the case may be, and shall render such handler a transcript of his account(s).

§ 941.84 Payments to the producer-settlement funds. On or before the 16th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make full payment to the market administrator for deposit in the appropriate producer-settlement fund of any pool debit balance(s) shown on the account(s) rendered, pursuant to § 941.83, for such delivery period.

§ 941.85 Payments out of the producer-settlement funds. On or before the 17th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler from the appropriate producer-settlement fund the pool credit balance(s) shown on the account(s) rendered, pursuant to § 941.83, for such delivery period, less any unpaid obligations of the handler, pursuant to §§ 941.84, 941.86, 941.87 (a), and 941.88 (b) (1). If at such time the balance(s) in the appropriate producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this section, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. A handler, who, on the 18th day of the month, has not received such payments in full from the market administrator shall not be deemed to be in violation of § 941.80 (b), if he reduces his total payments for milk delivered by producers during the preceding delivery period by not more than the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to § 941.80 (b) next following that on which such balance of payment was received from the market administrator.

§ 941.86 Expense of administration. As his prorata share of the expense of administration hereof each handler shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, an amount not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all milk received by him during such delivery period from producers, from his own farm production, and as other source milk allocated to Class I milk and Class II milk pursuant to § 941.45 (f), (g) and (h): Provided, That each handler which is a cooperative association shall pay such prorata share of expense of administration only on that milk of producers actually received at a pool plant of such cooperative association or caused to be delivered by such cooperative association to an unregulated plant.

§ 941.87 Marketing services. (a) In making payments to producers pursuant to § 941.80 (b), each handler, with respect to all milk received from each producer during each delivery period, at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producer is a member, shall, except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, deduct an amount not exceeding 3 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, and shall, on or before the 18th day after the end of such delivery period, pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator for verification of weights, samples, and tests of milk received from such producers and in providing for market information to such producers. The market administrator may contract with an association or associations of producers for the furnishing of the whole or any part of such services to, or with respect to, the milk received from such producers.

(b) In the case of producers whose milk is received at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producers are members and for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, make such deductions from payments made pursuant to § 941.80 (b) as may be authorized by such producers, and pay over on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period such deductions to the associations rendering such service of which such producers are members.

§ 941.88 Adjustment of accounts. (a) Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, records, or accounts discloses adjustments to be made, for any reason, which result in moneys due (1) the market administrator from such handler, (2) such handler from the market administrator, or (3) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any such amount due.

(b) Payments resulting from adjustments pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section shall be made on or before the next date for making payments to producers following notification by the market administrator or within 5 days following notification by the market administrator if payment is due (1) the market administrator from a handler, (2) a handler from the market administrator, or (3) any cooperative association which is a handler from another handler.

§ 941.89 Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this subpart for the payment of money irrespective of when such obligation arose, except an obligation involved in an action instituted prior to August 1, 1949, under section 9c (15) (A) of the act or before a court.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this subpart shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this subpart, to make available to the market administrator or his representative all books and records required by this subpart to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this subpart to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this subpart shall terminate two years after the end of the month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION OF ORDER

§ 941.90 Effective time. The provisions of this subpart, or any amendment to this subpart, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to § 941.91.

§ 941.91 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this subpart or any provision of this subpart whenever he finds that this subpart or any provision of this subpart obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This subpart shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 941.92 Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this subpart, there are any obligations arising under this subpart, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(a) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall:

(1) Continue in such capacity until removed by the Secretary;

(2) From time to time account for all receipts and disbursements, and when so directed by the Secretary deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator or such person, to such person, as the Secretary shall direct; and

(3) If so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

§ 941.93 Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this subpart, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions of this subpart, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 941.100 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States, or name any bureau or division of the United States Department of Agriculture to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of June 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of July, 1951.

[SEAL] C. J. McCORMICK,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

[Lemon Reg. 389]

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.496 Lemon Regulation 389—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the state of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on June 27, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., July 1, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., July 8, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 600 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c)

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA OR IN ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 966.524 Orange Regulation 378—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Order No. 66, as amended (7 CFR Part 966; 14 F. R. 3614), regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of oranges, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Orange Administrative Committee on June 28, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) Subject to the size requirements in Orange Regulation 372, as amended (7 CFR 966.518; 16 F. R. 4678, 5652), the quantity of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., July 1, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., July 8, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

PART 967—MILK IN SOUTH BEND-LA PORTE, IND., MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK

§ 967.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than July 1, 1951, this order amending the said order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers—the public hearing having been held February 15–16, 1951, and the decision having been executed by the Secretary on June 21, 1951. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (see sec. 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative association of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the said order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of approval of its issuance, and who, during the determined representative period (March 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete §§ 967.8 and 967.9 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.8 Approved plant. "Approved plant" means a milk plant which is approved by the health authorities of any of the following municipalities: South Bend, Mishawaka, La Porte, or Michigan City, Indiana, for the processing and distribution of milk for consumption in fluid form and from which a route is operated wholly or partially within the marketing area.

§ 967.9 Producer. "Producer" means any person except a producer-handler, who produces milk (other than milk exempt pursuant to § 967.60) which is received at an approved plant, provided such milk is eligible for consumption as milk in fluid form within the marketing area under the approval or certification of one or more of the health authorities referred to in § 967.8. This definition shall include any such person who is regularly classified as a producer but whose milk is caused to be temporarily diverted by a handler from an approved plant to a plant not an approved plant.

2. Delete § 967.12 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.12 Route. "Route" means a delivery (including a sale at a plant store) of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1) to a wholesale or retail stop other than a milk processing or distributing plant.

3. Delete in § 967.22 (i) (1) the cross-reference "§ 967.5" and substitute therefor the cross-reference "§ 967.51."

4. Delete §§ 967.40 through 967.46, inclusive, and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat, in any form, received within the delivery period by a handler, in producer milk, in other source milk and from another handler shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 967.41 to 967.46, inclusive.

§ 967.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 967.43 and 967.44, the skim milk and butterfat described in § 967.40 shall be classified by the market administrator on the basis of the following classes:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat (1) disposed of (except as provided in paragraph (b) (1) of this section) in the form of milk, skim milk, flavored milk, flavored milk drink, and buttermilk; (2) disposed of as cream (sweet or sour) and as any fluid mixture of cream and milk (or skim milk) containing not less than 6 percent butterfat (but not including ice cream or other frozen dessert mixes disposed of to a commercial processor, or any mixture disposed of in containers or dispensers under pressure for the purpose of dispensing a whipped or aerated product); (3) disposed of in fluid or frozen form as concentrated milk, flavored milk, and flavored milk drink not sterilized and not otherwise specified under paragraph (b) of this section, and as eggnog; (4) in shrinkage of receipts of producer milk computed pursuant to § 967.42 which is in excess of 2 percent of such receipts; and (5) not specifically accounted for as any item named in this paragraph or as Class II milk.

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat (1) disposed of in bulk in the form of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, and cream to any manufacturer of candy, soup or bakery products and used in such products; (2) in condensed milk or skim milk (sweetened or unsweetened) disposed of to commercial food processors; (3) disposed of (or used to produce, in the case of ice cream and frozen desserts and mixes (liquid or powdered) for such products, and aerated cream products) as sweetened condensed milk in hermetically sealed cans, evaporated milk, cottage cheese, ice cream, ice cream mix, other frozen desserts and mixes, storage cream, butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk solids; (4) dumped or disposed of for livestock feed as skim milk (including that in whole milk dumped), flavored milk, flavored milk drink and buttermilk; (5) disposed of as a milk product other than any of those specified in paragraph (a) (1) and in subparagraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) of this paragraph; (6) contained in monthly inventory variations; (7) in actual shrinkage of receipts of producer milk computed pursuant to § 967.42 but not in excess of 2 percent of such receipts; and (8) in actual shrinkage of other source milk computed pursuant to § 967.42.

§ 967.42 Shrinkage. The market administrator shall determine the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in producer milk and in other source milk in the following manner:

(a) Compute the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, for each handler; and

(b) Prorate the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section between that in producer milk and in other source milk.

§ 967.43 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (a) All skim milk and butterfat shall be Class I milk, unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat proves to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

(b) Any skim milk or butterfat classified (except that transferred to a producer-handler) in one class shall be reclassified if used or reused by such handler or by another handler in another class.

§ 967.44 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler either by transfer or diversion shall be classified:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to another handler (except a producer-handler) in the form of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2), or (3) unless utilization as Class II milk is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 9th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transaction occurred: Provided, That skim milk or butterfat so assigned to a particular class shall be limited to the amount thereof remaining in such class in the plant of the transferee handler after the subtraction of other source milk pursuant to § 967.46, and any excess of such skim milk or butterfat, respectively, shall be assigned to the other class;

(b) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to a producer-handler in the form of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2), or (3);

(c) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to a plant not an approved plant in the form of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2), or (3), unless (1) the transferor handler claims Class II milk on the basis of utilization mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both the receiver and transferor handler on or before the 8th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transaction occurred, (2) the receiver maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at his plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification, and (3) in such receiver's plant there actually had been used during such delivery period in the use indicated in such statement, not less than an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat derived by him from milk or cream: Provided, That if upon inspection of such receiver's records of such plant, there had not been used in such indicated use an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat so derived, the remaining pounds shall be classified as Class I milk.

§ 967.45 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the delivery period report submitted by each handler and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk and Class II milk for such handler.

§ 967.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. The pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, remaining in each class after the following computations shall be the pounds in each class allocated to producer milk;

(a) Subtract, respectively, from the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in other source milk which is disposed of as Class I milk in bottles on a route outside the marketing area: Provided, That the health authority having jurisdiction over the plant from which such distribution is made has granted approval for receiving and processing for fluid distribution both approved milk and other source milk in such plant, the handler maintains adequate accounts and records of, and practices complete segregation of, producer milk and other source milk used in his Class I milk operations, and that such other source milk is disposed of on a route on which no producer milk is disposed of as Class I milk;

(b) Subtract, respectively, from the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk (to the extent Class I milk is available) the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in other source milk which is (1) received in consumer packages as any item specified in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2) or (3) from a plant where milk is subject to the class price provisions of a Federal marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for another fluid milk marketing area, and (2) disposed of without repackaging;

(c) Subtract, respectively, from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class (other than the pounds in inventory variations and plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat pursuant to § 967.41 (b) (7)), in series beginning with Class II milk, the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in other source milk excluding that subtracted pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section:

(d) Subtract, respectively, from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class the pounds of skim milk and butterfat received from other handlers and assigned to such class pursuant to § 967.44; and

(e) Subtract, respectively, from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class in series beginning with Class II milk, the pounds by which such pounds of skim milk and butterfat in all classes exceed, respectively, the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat received in milk from producers.

5. Delete §§ 967.50 through 967.53, inclusive, and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.50 Basic formula price. The basic formula price to be used in computing the price of Class I milk for the delivery period shall be the highest of the prices computed by the market administrator for the delivery period immediately preceding pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section:

(a) Compute the arithmetical average of the basic (or field) prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices are reported to the market administrator or to the Department by the companies listed below:

Present Operator and Location

Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.

Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(b) Compute a price per hundredweight as follows:

(1) Multiply the simple average of the daily average wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the delivery period, by 6;

(2) Add 2.4 times the simple average, as published by the Department, of the prices determined per pound of "Cheddars" on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, for the trading days that fall within the month;

(3) Divide by seven, add 30 percent thereof, and multiply by 3.5;

(c) Compute a price per hundredweight by adding together the amounts resulting pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph;

(1) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of carlot prices per pound for spray process nonfat dry milk solids, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding delivery period through the 25th day of the current delivery period by the Department, and from the result thus obtained deduct 64.2 cents;

(2) Multiply by 4.24 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade AA (93-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the Department during the delivery period: Provided, That if no price is reported for Grade AA (93-score) butter, the highest of the Grade A (92-score) butter prices for that day shall be used in lieu of the price for Grade AA (93-score) butter, and from the result thus obtained deduct 11 cents.

§ 967.51 Class I milk prices. The minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for skim milk and butterfat in producer milk received and classified as Class I milk for each delivery period shall be computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) Add to the basic formula price (3.5 percent milk) the following amount for the delivery period indicated: May and June $0.60; July through November, inclusive, $1.00; and all others $0.80: Provided, That for each percent that the most recent "current supply-demand ratio" computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section is greater or less than the applicable-percentage contained in the schedule set forth in paragraph (d) (4) of this section, the Class I price differential computed prior to this proviso shall be increased or decreased, respectively, by the following amounts for the delivery period indicated: May and June, $0.02; July, August, September, October and November, $0.04; all others $0.03: And provided further, That any adjustment made pursuant to the above proviso in this paragraph shall be limited to 16 cents for the delivery periods of May and June; 30 cents for the delivery periods of July through November; and 24 cents for all other delivery periods; but in no event shall the Class I price differential computed pursuant to this paragraph be less than 60 cents.

(b) Add together the amount computed pursuant to § 967.50 (c) (2) and any amount per hundredweight by which (on a 3.5 percent butterfat basis) the effective basic formula price pursuant to § 967.50 is higher than the price computed pursuant to § 967.50 (c), divide such sum by 0.035, and then add thereto the following amount for the delivery period indicated: May and June, $8.25; July through November, inclusive, $13.75; and all others, $11.00: Provided, That such amount for the delivery period indicated shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the amount per hundredweight resulting from the provisos of paragraph (a) of this section divided by 0.035. The resulting amount shall be the price of butterfat in Class I milk.

(c) Subtract from the price computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section the amount computed in paragraph (b) of this section times 0.035, and divide the remainder by 0.965. The resulting amount shall be the price of skim milk in Class I milk.

(d) On or before the last day of each delivery period the market administrator shall make the following computations based upon the reported receipts and utilization of handlers as defined in the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, as computed by the market administrator under the latter order:

(1) Determine the total receipts of Grade A milk from all producers (including receipts from own farm production) for the most recent 6-month period and divide the result by 6;

(2) Determine the total pounds of Grade A milk actually utilized in Class I milk and Class II milk products during the most recent 6-month period and subtract therefrom (i) the amount of Class I and Class II milk disposed of in bulk outside the surplus milk manufacturing area, and (ii) the amount of Class II milk represented by frozen cream and plastic cream moving into storage during such 6-month period, and divide the result by 6;

(3) Divide the amount obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by the amount obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and round to the nearest full percent, which resulting percentage shall be known as the "current supply-demand ratio";

(4) Determine the number of percentage points that the current supply-demand ratio is above or below the percentage for the corresponding 6-month period appearing in the following schedule:

6-months included in supply-demand ratio computation	Percent	Delivery period subject to adjustment
January through June	62	August.
February through July	62	September.
March through August	64	October.
April through September	67	November.
May through October	71	December.
June through November	76	January.
July through December	81	February
August through January	79	March
September through February	76	April.
October through March	72	May.
November through April	68	June.
December through May	64	July.

(5) In making the computations specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, the market administrator shall use the reported receipts and utilization of handlers of Grade A milk under both Orders 41 and 69 when it is necessary to use data for delivery periods prior to the effective date of this paragraph.

§ 967.52 Class II milk prices. The minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for skim milk and butterfat in producer milk received and classified as Class II milk for each delivery period shall be computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) The price of butterfat in Class II milk shall be the producer butterfat differential computed for such delivery period pursuant to § 967.81 times 1000.

(b) The price of skim milk in Class II milk shall be computed by subtracting the hundredweight price of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section times 0.035, from the price determined pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, and divide the remainder by 0.965.

(c) Compute the arithmetical average of the basic (or field) prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or the Department by the companies listed below:

Present Operator and Location

Goshen Milk Condensing Co., Goshen, Ind.
Litchfield Creamery Co., Warsaw, Ind.
New Paris Creamery Co., New Paris, Ind.

6. Delete from § 967.60 the words "and Class II."

7. Delete from § 967.70 the phrase "from the various classes"; delete also from such section the cross-reference "§ 967.46 (d)" and substitute therefor "§ 967.46 (e)."

8. Delete § 967.80 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.80 Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payments as follows:

(a) On or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, to each producer, except producers for whom payment is made to a cooperative association pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, at not less than the uniform price for such delivery period pursuant to § 967.71 adjusted by the producer butterfat differential pursuant to § 967.81, for all milk received from such producer during such delivery period and less payment to such producer made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section: Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such delivery period pursuant to § 967.84, he may reduce such payments uniformly per hundredweight for all producers by an amount not in excess of the per hundredweight reduction in payment from the market administrator: And provided further, That such handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

(b) On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, to a cooperative association with respect to milk caused to be delivered from producers' farms to such handler by such association for its account during such delivery period, not less than the value of skim milk and butterfat in such milk computed at the minimum class prices, less payments to such association made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section. For the purpose of determining the classification of skim milk and butterfat in such milk, such skim milk and butterfat shall be ratably apportioned among the quantities of skim and butterfat in such handler's Class I milk and Class II milk allocated to producer milk pursuant to § 967.46.

(c) On or before the 4th day after the end of such delivery period, each handler shall pay to each producer, or to a cooperative association authorized to collect payment, not less than the uniform price for 3.5 percent milk last announced by the market administrator, for milk received from such producer or caused to be delivered to such handler by such cooperative association during the first 15 days of such delivery period: Provided, That in the event any producer or cooperative association discontinues shipping to such handler during any delivery period, such partial payments shall not be made and full payment for all milk received from such producer or cooperative association during such delivery period shall be made on the 18th day after the end of such delivery period pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of June 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of July 1951.

PART 975—MILK IN CLEVELAND, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

ORDER, AMENDING THE ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK

§ 975.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.) and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), public hearings were held upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area; and a decision was made with respect to amendments by the Secretary on June 20, 1951. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing, and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesale milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary to make effective promptly the present amendments to the said order, as amended, to reflect current marketing conditions, and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Any further delay in the effective date of this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will seriously threaten the supply of milk for the Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area and will disrupt orderly marketing. The changes affected by this order, amending the order, as amended, do not require of persons affected substantial or extensive preparation prior to the effective date. In view of the foregoing, it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this order for 30 days after its publication (section 4 (c), Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1003 (c)).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the milk covered by this order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, further amending the said order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order further amending the said order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (March 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete § 975.30 (b) and substitute therefor the following:

(b) A plant other than a plant named in paragraph (a) of this section which either was a qualified pool plant on December 31, 1950, or has become a pool plant pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

2. Insert following the word "under" in the first sentence of § 975.32 the following: "§ 975.30 (b) or (c) under."

3. Delete § 975.51 (a) (1) and substiture therefor the following:

(1) Disposed of for fluid consumption as milk, skim milk, buttermilk (except for livestock feed), flavored milk or flavored milk drinks, sweet or sour cream, or eggnog, or used to produce concentrated milk disposed of for fluid consumption;

4. Delete § 975.51 (b) and substitute therefor the following:

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat in frozen cream or used to produce any milk product not specified in Class I milk or Class III milk and containing 8 percent or more of butterfat; ice cream, imitation ice cream, and other frozen desserts and mixes for such products (liquid or powdered); or cottage cheese.

5. Redesignate paragraphs (e) and (f) of § 975.56 as paragraphs (d) and (e) respectively, and delete paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) and substitute therefor the following:

(b) For the delivery periods of October, November, December and January, if the total pounds of butterfat received from producers and pool plants is less than 110 percent of the total pounds of butterfat classified as Class I milk, not including reconstituted skim milk or Class I milk transferred to pool plants or nonpool plants, subtract pro rata from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class the pounds of butterfat received in other source milk.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class in series beginning with the lowest priced utilization the pounds of butterfat received in other source milk.

6. Delete § 975.61 (a) and (b) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Add to the basic formula price the following amount for the delivery period indicated:

Delivery period:	Amount
May and June	$0.85
March, April, July and August	1.10
All others	1.50

Provided, That with respect to Class I milk in sweet or sour cream for fluid consumption, the amount added to the basic formula price shall be the amount set forth above in this paragraph less 45 cents.

(b) The price of butterfat shall be the amount obtained in paragraph (a) of this section multiplied by 20.

7. Delete § 975.71 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 975.71 Location adjustments to handlers. With respect to the actual weight of any product named in Class I and Class II which is (a) moved directly to the marketing area from a pool plant located outside the marketing area; and (b) disposed of outside the marketing area as Class I or Class II milk from a pool plant so located there shall be deducted in the computation of the handler's pool value with respect to such amounts moved or disposed of from plants located more than 60 miles but not more than 75 miles by shortest highway distance from the Public Square, Cleveland, Ohio, as determined by the market administrator, 15 cents per hundredweight, from plants located as so determined more than 75 miles but not more than 90 miles, 17 cents per hundredweight and an additional 1 cent for each additional 15 mile zone: Provided, That such adjustment shall be limited to an amount of the specified items so moved which could be derived from the milk received from producers at such plants.

8. Delete § 975.72 (b) and substitute therefor the following:

(b) For each delivery period, the pool value pursuant to § 975.70 for each handler who operates a pool plant designated pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 975.30 which received within such delivery period less than 50 percent of its total receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers or from other pool plants shall be increased by an amount computed by multiplying the amount of skim milk and butterfat in other source milk received which is classified as Class I milk by the difference betwen the price for skim milk and for butterfat in Class I milk and the highest price for skim milk and for butterfat, respectively, in Class III milk.

9. Insert "(b)" following the figure "975.81" in paragraph (c) of § 975.73.

10. Delete § 975.81 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 975.81 Location adjustments to producers. In making payments pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 975.80, a handler may deduct, with respect to all milk received from producers at a plant outside the marketing area and located, as determined by the market administrator, by shortest highway distance from the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio:

(a) More than 30 miles but not more than 60 miles, an amount not to exceed 13 cents; and

(b) More than 60 miles but not more than 75 miles, an amount not to exceed 15 cents, more than 75 miles but not more than 90 miles, an amount not to exceed 17 cents, and an additional 1 cent for each additional 15 mile zone.

11. Insert following the figure "975.80" in paragraph (a) of § 975.84 the following: "before subtracting any location adjustment pursuant to § 975.81 (a)."

12. Insert following the figure "975.80" in § 975.85 the following: "before subtracting any location adjustment pursuant to § 975.81 (a)."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 28th day of June, 1951, to be effective on and after the first day of July 1951.

PART 991—MILK IN ROCKFORD-FREEPORT, ILL., MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK

§ 991.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Rockford-Freeport, Illinois, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than July 1, 1951, this order amending the said order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions, and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Rockford-Freeport, Illinois, marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers—the public hearing having been held May 25, 1951, and the decision having been executed by the Secretary on June 21, 1951. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (see section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative association of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the Rockford-Freeport, Illinois, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, amending the said order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of approval of its issuance, and who, during the determined representative period (April 1951) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Rockford-Freeport, Illinois, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete in § 991.22 (d) the cross-reference "§ 991.82" and substitute therefor "§ 991.85".

2. Delete in § 991.22 (d) (3) the cross-reference "§ 991.83" and substitute therefor "§ 991.86".

3. Delete § 991.22 (f) (3) and substitute therefor the following:

(3) made the payments required under §§ 991.80, 991.81, 991.83, 991.85, or 991.86;

4. Delete § 991.41 (a) (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Disposed of (except as provided in paragraph (c) (4) of this section) (i) in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, and flavored milk drinks, and (ii) in fluid or frozen form as concentrated milk, flavored milk, and flavored milk drink not sterilized; or

5. Delete § 991.46 (a) (2) and renumber subparagraphs (3) and (4) of § 991.46 (a) as subparagraphs (5) and (6), respectively, of such paragraph.

6. Add the following as subparagraphs (2), (3) and (4) of § 991.46 (a):

(2) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk in Class I milk (to the extent available), the pounds of skim milk in other source milk received during September through December, inclusive, in bulk as milk or skim milk in fluid form from a plant where milk is priced under the class price provisions of a marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for another fluid milk marketing area;

(3) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk in Class II milk (to the extent available), the pounds of skim milk in other source milk received during September through December, inclusive, in bulk as cream in fluid form from a plant as described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph;

(4) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with the lowest priced available use, the pounds of skim milk in other source milk not otherwise subtracted pursuant to subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph.

7. Delete paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 991.50 and substitute therefor the following:

(b) The price per hundredweight computed from the following formula:

(1) Multiply the simple average of the daily average wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the delivery period, by 6;

(2) Add 2.4 times the simple average, as published by the Department, of the prices determined per pound of "Cheddars" on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, for the trading days that fall within the month;

(3) Divide by 7, add 30 percent thereof, and multiply by 3.5;

(c) The price per hundredweight computed as follows:

(1) Multiply by 4.24 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade AA (93-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the Department during the delivery period: Provided, That if no price is reported for Grade AA (93-score) butter, the highest of the Grade A (92-score) butter prices for that day shall be used in lieu of the price for Grade AA (93-score) butter;

(2) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of carlot prices per pound for spray process nonfat dry milk solids, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding delivery period through the 25th day of the current delivery period by the Department;

(3) From the sum of the results arrived at under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, subtract 75.2 cents.

8. Delete §§ 991.51 and 991.52 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 991.51 Class I milk prices. (a) Subject to the provisions of § 991.54, the minimum price per hundredweight, on a 3.5 percent butterfat content basis, to be paid by each handler at his plant, for Grade A producer milk received and classified as Class I milk, shall be the basic formula price as determined pursuant to § 991.50 for the preceding delivery period, plus the following amounts as indicated: May and June, $0.48; July through November, inclusive, $0.88; and all other delivery periods, $0.68: Provided, That for each percent that the "current supply-demand ratio" computed pursuant to § 991.55 is greater or less than the applicable percentage contained in the schedule set forth in paragraph (d) of such section, the Class I price differential computed prior to this proviso shall be increased or decreased, respectively, by the following amounts: May and June, $0.02; July through November, inclusive, $0.04; all other delivery periods, $0.03: And provided further, That any adjustment made pursuant to the above proviso of this section shall be limited to 16 cents in May and June; 30 cents in July through November, inclusive; and 24 cents in all other delivery periods; but in no event shall the Class I price differential computed pursuant to this paragraph be less than 48 cents.

(b) The minimum price per hundredweight for non-Grade A producer milk received and classified as Class I milk shall be the price computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, less 10 cents.

§ 991.52 Class II milk prices. (a) Subject to the provisions of § 991.54, the minimum price per hundredweight, on a 3.5 percent butterfat content basis, to be paid by each handler at his plant, for Grade A producer milk received and classified as Class II milk, shall be the basic formula price as determined pursuant to § 991.50 for the preceding delivery period, plus the following amounts as indicated: May and June, $0.30; July through November, inclusive, $0.50; all other delivery periods, $0.40: Provided, That such amount for the delivery period shall be adjusted by the amount of any adjustment made in the Class I price differential pursuant to the first proviso of § 991.51; but in no event shall the Class II price differential computed pursuant to this paragraph be less than 40 cents in the delivery periods of July through November, inclusive, or less than 30 cents in all other delivery periods.

(b) The minimum price per hundredweight for non-Grade A producer milk received and classified as Class II milk shall be the price computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, less 10 cents.

9. Add the following as § 991.55:

§ 991.55 Supply-demand adjustment. On or before the last day of each delivery period the market administrator shall make the following computations based upon the reported receipts and utilization of handlers as defined in the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, as computed by the market administrator under the latter order:

(a) Determine the total receipts of Grade A milk from all producers (including receipts from own farm production) for the most recent 6-month period and divide the result by 6;

(b) Determine the total pounds of Grade A milk actually utilized in Class I milk and Class II milk products during the most recent 6-month period and subtract therefrom (1) the amount of Class I and Class II milk disposed of in bulk outside the surplus milk manufacturing area, and (2) the amount of Class II milk represented by frozen cream and plastic cream moving into storage during such 6-month period, and divide the result by 6;

(c) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (b) by the amount obtained in paragraph (a) of this section and round to the nearest full percent, which resulting percentage shall be known as the "current supply-demand ratio";

(d) Determine the number of percentage points that the current supply-demand ratio is above or below the percentage for the corresponding 6-months' period appearing in the following schedule.

6-months included in supply-demand ratio computation	Percent	Delivery-period subject to adjustment
January through June	62	August.
February through July	62	September.
March through August	64	October.
April through September	67	November.
May through October	71	December.
June through November	76	January.
July through December	81	February.
August through January	79	March.
September through February	76	April.
October through March	72	May.
November through April	68	June.
December through May	64	July.

(e) In making the computations specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the market administrator shall use the reported receipts and utilization of handlers of Grade A milk under both Orders 41 and 69 when it is necessary to use data for delivery periods prior to the effective date of this section.

10. Delete in § 991.60 the cross reference "991.84" and substitute therefor "991.87".

11. Add the word "and" at the end of § 991.61 (b).

12. Delete the word "and" from § 991.61 (c) and replace the semi-colon (;) with a period (.).

13. Delete § 991.61 (d) in its entirety.

14. Add the following as § 991.62.

§ 991.62 Pricing and payment for Grade A and non-Grade A producer milk. Grade A and non-Grade A producer milk shall be classified separately under the procedure established in §§ 991.40 through 991.46, inclusive. The values of such respective types of milk shall be computed separately under the provisions of § 991.70 and separate uniform prices shall be computed pursuant to the procedure described in § 991.71. Separate producer-settlement funds shall be established and operated pursuant to §§ 991.82 through 991.84.

15. Delete §§ 991.70 through 991.72 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 991.70 Computation of value of producer milk. The value of producer milk received during each delivery period by each handler shall be computed by the market administrator by multiplying the pounds in each class pursuant to § 991.46, by the applicable class prices, adding together the resulting amounts, and adding the amounts computed as follows: Multiply the pounds subtracted from the various classes pursuant to § 991.46 (a) (6) and § 991.46 (b) by the respective applicable class prices.

§ 991.71 Computation of uniform price. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the "uniform price" per hundredweight for producer milk (3.5 percent butterfat content) as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 991.70 for all handlers who made the reports pursuant to § 991.30 except those in default of payments required pursuant to § 991.83 for the preceding delivery period;

(b) Subtract, if the weighted average butterfat test of producer milk is greater than 3.5 percent, or add, if such butterfat test is less than 3.5 percent, an amount computed by: Multiplying the amount by which such weighted average butterfat test differs from 3.5 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 991.81 and multiplying the resulting amount by the hundredweight of such milk;

(c) Add an amount representing the cash balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund less the amount of unpaid obligations to handlers pursuant to §§ 991.84 and 991.87;

(d) Divide by the hundredweight of producer milk; and

(e) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents (adjusting to the nearest cent) from the amount computed under paragraph (d) of this section.

§ 991.72 Notification to handlers. On or before the 11th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall mail to each handler at his last known address, a statement showing (a) the amount and value of his milk in each class and the totals thereof; (b) the applicable minimum class prices and uniform price; (c) the amount owed by him to, or the amount due him from, the producer-settlement fund, pursuant to § 991.83 or § 991.84; and (d) the amounts to be paid by him pursuant to §§ 991.80, 991.85, 991.86 and 991.87.

16. Delete §§ 991.80 through 991.84 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 991.80 Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payments as follows:

(a) On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, to each producer, except producers for whom payment is made to a cooperative association pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, at not less than the uniform price for such delivery period pursuant to § 991.71 adjusted by the producer butterfat differential pursuant to § 991.81, for all milk received from such producer during such delivery period: Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such delivery period pursuant to § 991.84, he may reduce such payments uniformly per hundredweight for all producers by an amount not in excess of the per hundredweight reduction in payment from the market administrator: And provided further, That such handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

(b) On or before the 13th day after the end of each delivery period, to a cooperative association with respect to milk caused to be delivered from producers' farms to such handler by such association for its account during such delivery period, not less than the value of such milk computed at the uniform price, adjusted by the producer butterfat differential pursuant to § 991.81.

§ 991.81 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 991.80 there shall be added to, or subtracted from, the uniform price, for each one-tenth of one percent of butterfat content in such producer milk above or below 3.5 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the average of the daily wholesale prices per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago during the delivery period as reported by the Department, by 0.12 and rounding to the nearest tenth of a cent.

§ 991.82 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit payments made by handlers pursuant to § 991.83 and payments related thereto pursuant to § 991.87 and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to § 991.84 and payments related thereto pursuant to § 991.87.

§ 991.83 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 13th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator the amount by which the value of producer milk received by such handler during such delivery period pursuant to § 991.70 is greater than the total of amounts to be paid pursuant to § 991.80.

§ 991.84 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler the amount by which the value of producer milk received by such handler during such delivery period pursuant to § 991.70 is less than the total of amounts to be paid pursuant to §§ 991.83, 991.85, 991.86 and 991.87: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this section, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly per hundredweight such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available.

§ 991.85 Expense of administration. As his prorata share of the expenses incurred pursuant to § 991.22 (d) each handler shall pay the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, 4 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary from time to time may prescribe, with respect to producer milk (including such handler's own production) and other source milk (excluding that subject to administrative expense under another Federal marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act) received during the delivery period.

§ 991.86 Marketing services. (a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler for each delivery period shall deduct 5¢ per hundredweight or such lesser amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary from the payments made to each producer pursuant to § 991.80, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to check weights, samples and tests of producer milk received by handlers and to provide producers with market information, such services to be performed by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section but for whom such cooperative association does not receive payment for milk, each handler shall make in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section such deductions from the payment to be made to such producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between such cooperative association and such producers and on or before the 13th day after the end of such delivery period pay every such deduction to the cooperative association rendering such services.

§ 991.87 Adjustments of accounts. (a) Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses errors resulting in moneys due (1) the market administrator from such handler, (2) such handler from the market administrator, or (3) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any such amount due; and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payment set forth in the provision under which such error occurred following the 5th day after such notice.

(b) An unpaid obligation of a handler shall bear interest at the rate of one-half of one percent per month, such interest to accrue on the 1st day of the month next following the due date of such obligation and on the first day of each month thereafter until such obligation is paid.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of June 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of July 1951.

Gross, Individually and as Officers of Wispese Inc., a Corporation

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the amended and supplemental complaint of the Commission, the answer filed by certain of the respondents, testimony and other evidence introduced before a trial examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, recommended decision of the trial examiner, and briefs filed in support of and in opposition to the amended and supplemental complaint; and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

I. It is ordered, That respondent Wispese Inc., a corporation, and its officers, agents, representatives, and employees, and respondent Arthur R. Lewis, individually and as an officer of Wispese Inc., and trading as a co-partner under the name Vawne Foundations, or under any other name, and his agents, representatives, and employees, and respondents Jean L. Gross (formerly known as Jean Lewis) and Harold B. Gross, individually and as officers of Wispese Inc., and their agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, or distribution of wearing apparel in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(a) Using the term "full-fashioned" or any other expression of similar import containing the word "fashioned" to designate, describe or refer to girdles which have not been shaped in the knitting by a narrowing process involving the transfer of loops or stitches from one needle to another during the dropping of needles in such knitting operation;

(b) Advertising, offering for sale, or selling garments composed in whole or in part of rayon made to resemble silk, or having the appearance and feel of silk, without clearly disclosing such rayon content or representing in any other manner that garments containing no silk are composed in whole or in part of silk.

II. It is ordered, That respondent Arthur R. Lewis, individually and trading as a co-partner under the name of Vawne Foundations or under any other name, and his agents, representatives, and employees, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, or distribution of girdles in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

That girdles not shaped in the knitting by a narrowing process involving the transfer of loops or stitches from one needle to another during the dropping of needles in such knitting operation are manufactured or shaped by the same process by which full-fashioned stockings are made.

III. It is further ordered, That this proceeding be, and the same hereby is, dismissed as to respondent Ben A. Hensler, deceased.

IV. It is further ordered, That the charges of this proceeding as they relate to the issue as to whether respondents' products function effectively as girdles be, and the same hereby are, dismissed.

V. It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

Issued: April 13, 1951.

By the Commission.

PART 201—SEAM BINDING INDUSTRY

PROMULGATION OF TRADE PRACTICE RULES

Due proceedings having been held under the trade practice conference procedure in pursuance of the act of Congress approved September 26, 1941, as amended (Federal Trade Commission Act), and other provisions of law administered by the Commission;

It is now ordered, That the trade practice rules of Group I as hereinafter set forth, which have been approved by the Commission in this proceeding, be promulgated as of June 30, 1951.

Statement by the Commission. Trade practice rules for the Seam Binding Industry, as hereinafter set forth, are promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission under the trade practice conference procedure.

Members of the industry are the persons, firms, corporations and organizations engaged in manufacturing, distributing or marketing "seam binding" as such term is delineated in the definition preceding the rules.

The rules are directed to the elimination and prevention of unfair trade practices to the end that the industry, the trade and the public may be protected from the harmful effects of such competitive methods, and that the conduct of business throughout the industry may be effectively maintained on a high plane of free and fair competition.

Proceedings leading to the establishment of rules were instituted upon application made on behalf of industry members. A general industry conference was held in New York City at which proposals for rules were submitted for the consideration of the Commission. Thereafter, proposed rules in appropriate form were released and made available and public notice given of hearing thereon, whereby all interested or affected parties were afforded opportunity to present their views, including such pertinent information, suggestions or objections respecting the proposed rules as they desired to offer. Following such hearing, and upon consideration of the entire matter, final action was taken by the Commission whereby it approved the trade practice rules hereinafter appearing.

Such rules become operative thirty (30) days from the date of promulgation.

These rules promulgated by the Commission are designed to foster and promote the maintenance of fair competitive conditions in the interest of protecting industry, trade, and the public. It is to this end, and to the exclusion of any act or practice which suppresses competition, restrains trade, fixes or controls price through combination or agreement, or which otherwise injures, destroys, or prevents competition, that the rules are to be applied.

Sec.
201.0 Definition of "seam binding."

GROUP I

201.1 Misrepresentation and misbranding.
201.2 Identification and disclosure of fiber or material content.
201.3 Disclosure of yardage.
201.4 Deception respecting type of edge.
201.5 Deception as to origin.
201.6 Selling below cost.
201.7 False invoicing.
201.8 Consignment distribution.
201.9 Combination or coercion to fix prices, suppress competition, or restrain trade.
201.10 Prohibited discrimination.
201.11 Aiding or abetting use of unfair trade practices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 201.0 to 201.11 issued under sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45.

§ 201.0 Definition of "Seam Binding". As used in this part, the term "seam binding" shall be understood as embracing any narrow fabric (other than bias binding) having a woven, cut, or other kind of edge, and which is of the type used in the manufacture of wearing apparel to prevent ravelling or fraying at seams and hems.

General statement. The unfair trade practices embraced in the rules in this part are considered to be unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, or other illegal practices, prohibited under laws administered by the Federal Trade Commission; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use, by any person, partnership, corporation, or other organization subject to its jurisdiction, of such unlawful practices in commerce.

GROUP I

§ 201.1 Misrepresentation and misbranding. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to use, or cause or promote the use of, any trade promotional literature, advertising matter, guarantee, mark, brand, label, designation, or other form of representation, however disseminated or published, which has the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers with respect to the grade, quality, freedom from imperfections, color-fastness, washability, fiber or material content, yardage, size, origin, fabrication, type of edge, manufacture, finishing, or distribution of any seam binding, or which is false, misleading, or deceptive in any other material respect. [Rule 1]

§ 201.2 Identification and disclosure of fiber or material content. (a) In the sale, offering for sale, or distribution of seam binding, it is an unfair trade practice to misrepresent or deceptively conceal the fiber or material content of any such product.

(b) Seam binding containing rayon, silk, or linen shall be identified as to its fiber and material content in labels, invoices, and advertisements, in accordance with the requirements of trade practice rules heretofore promulgated by the Commission for the rayon industry, silk industry, and linen industry: Provided, That seam binding containing, purporting to contain, or in any way represented as containing wool, reprocessed wool, or reused wool, shall be labeled in accordance with the requirements of the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939 and the rules and regulations issued thereunder.

NOTE: A copy of the above-mentioned trade practice rules, and of the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939 and the rules and regulations issued thereunder, may be obtained from the Commission by any industry member making request therefor.

[Rule 2]

§ 201.3 Disclosure of yardage. In order that purchasers may not be deceived as to the yardage of seam binding and that misrepresentation and deceptive concealment in respect thereto may be avoided and prevented, the minimum yardage of the article should be clearly and nondeceptively marked on the product or on the disks, spools, bolts, cards, or other form of immediate packaging of the product; and the sale, offer for sale, or distribution of any seam binding not so marked, with the tendency and capacity or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice.

NOTE: In cutting seam binding in the greige or after finishing, adequate allowance should be made for any subsequent shrinkage or contraction of such products, to the end that purchasers may be assured the full yardage represented.

[Rule 3]

§ 201.4 Deception respecting type of edge. To the end that misunderstanding, confusion, misrepresentation, and deception respecting the type of edge on seam binding may be avoided and prevented, clear, legible, and nondeceptive disclosure of the type of edge on such binding should be made on each disk, spool, bolt, card, or other form of immediate packaging thereof, by tag, label, stamp, or mark so affixed as to ensure that it will remain thereon until such binding reaches the ultimate user; and it is an unfair trade practice to misrepresent the type of edge on seam binding, or to cause any seam binding to be offered for sale, sold, or distributed, without making adequate, nondeceptive disclosure of the type of edge thereon, where failure to make such disclosure has the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers.

The following are illustrative examples of the type of disclosure provided for in this section:

"CUT EDGE SEAM BINDING" or
"SEAM BINDING, CUT FUSED EDGE"
or
"WOVEN EDGE SEAM BINDING"

[Rule 4]

§ 201.5 Deception as to origin. With respect to any seam binding which has been imported from a foreign country into the United States in the greige or other unfinished state, or in a finished or semi-finished state, it is an unfair trade practice:

(a) To offer for sale, sell, or distribute any such seam binding under marks, stamps, brands, labels, or representations which have the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public into the belief (1) that such seam binding was woven or fabricated in the United States, when such is not the fact; or (2) that it was dyed, finished, redyed, or refinished elsewhere than in the United States, when such is not true; or

(b) To offer for sale, sell, or distribute any such seam binding without the same being marked, stamped, branded, or labeled so as to indicate clearly and nondeceptively (1) the country of origin of the seam binding, or (2) that such seam binding was woven or fabricated in said country and was dyed or finished or redyed or refinished in the United States, as the case may be, where the failure, refusal, or omission to so mark, stamp, brand, or label such seam binding has the capacity and tendency or effect of thereby promoting, abetting, or effectuating the marketing of such products under conditions which are misleading or deceptive to purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public.

NOTE: Nothing in this section shall be construed as relieving any member of the industry or other party of the necessity of complying with requirements of the customs laws or regulations, or other applicable provisions of law or regulations, relating to the marking of imported articles.

[Rule 5]

§ 201.6 Selling below cost. The practice of selling seam binding at a price less than the cost thereof to the seller, with the purpose or intent, and where the effect may be, to injure, suppress, or stifle competition or tend to create a monopoly in the production or sale of such products, is an unfair trade practice. As used in this section, the term "cost" means the total cost to the seller, including the costs of acquisition, processing, preparation for marketing, sale, and delivery.

This section is not to be construed as prohibiting all sales below cost, but only such selling below the seller's cost as is resorted to and pursued as a monopolistic practice with the wrongful intent referred to and where the effect may be unreasonably to restrain trade, tend to create a monopoly, or substantially lessen competition.

All elements recognized by good accounting practice as proper elements of such cost shall be included in determining cost under this section. The costs referred to in the section are actual costs of the respective seller and not some other figure or average costs in the industry determined by an industry cost survey or otherwise. [Rule 6]

§ 201.7 False invoicing. Withholding from or inserting in invoices or sales slips any statements or information by reason of which omission or insertion a false record is made, wholly or in part, of the transactions represented on the face of such invoices or sales slips, with the capacity and tendency or effect of thereby misleading or deceiving purchasers, prospective purchasers, or the consuming public, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 7]

§ 201.8 Consignment distribution. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to employ the practice of shipping seam binding on consignment or pretended consignment for the purpose and with the effect of artificially clogging or closing trade outlets and unduly restricting competitors' use of said trade outlets in getting their products to consumers through regular channels of distribution, thereby injuring, destroying, or preventing competition, or tending to create a monopoly or unreasonably to restrain trade. Nothing in this section shall be construed as restricting or preventing consignment shipping or marketing of seam binding in good faith where suppression of competition, restraint of trade, or undue interference with competitors' use of the usual channels of distribution, is not effected; nor shall anything in this section be construed to authorize any agreement, understanding, or common course of action by and between industry members to mutually conform or restrict their practice of shipping goods on consignment with the intent or effect of lessening competition. [Rule 8]

§ 201.9 Combination or coercion to fix prices, suppress competition, or restrain trade. It is an unfair trade practice for a member of the industry:

(a) To use, directly or indirectly, any form of threat, intimidation, or coercion against any member of the industry or other person unlawfully to fix, maintain, or enhance prices, suppress competition, or restrain trade; or

(b) To enter into or take part in, directly or indirectly, any agreement, understanding, combination, conspiracy, or concerted action with one or more members of the industry, or with one or more other persons, unlawfully to fix, maintain, or enhance prices, suppress competition, or restrain trade. [Rule 9]

§ 201.10 Prohibited discrimination—(a) Prohibited discriminatory prices, or rebates, refunds, discounts, credits, etc., which effect unlawful price discrimination. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[1] in the course of such commerce, to grant or allow, secretly or openly, directly or indirectly, any rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential, where such rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential, effects a discrimination in price between different purchasers of goods of like grade and quality, where either or any of the purchases involved therein are in commerce,[1] and where the effect thereof may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce,[1] or to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any person who either grants or knowingly receives the benefit of such discrimination, or with customers of either of them: Provided, however,

(1) That the goods involved in any such transaction are sold for use, consumption, or resale within any place under the jurisdiction of the United States;

(2) That nothing contained in this part shall prevent differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such commodities are to such purchasers sold or delivered;

(3) That nothing contained in this part shall prevent persons engaged in selling goods, wares, or merchandise in commerce[1] from selecting their own customers in bona fide transactions and not in restraint of trade;

(4) That nothing contained in this part shall prevent price changes from time to time where made in response to changing conditions affecting the market for or the marketability of the goods concerned, such as but not limited to obsolescence of seasonal goods, distress sales under court process, or sales in good faith in discontinuance of business in the goods concerned.

(b) Prohibited brokerage and commissions. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[1] in the course of such commerce, to pay or grant, or to receive or accept, anything of value as a commission, brokerage, or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof, except for services rendered in connection with the sale or purchase of goods, wares, or merchandise, either to the other party to such transaction or to an agent, representative, or other intermediary therein where such intermediary is acting in fact for or in behalf, or is subject to the direct or indirect control, of any party to such transaction other than the person by whom such compensation is so granted or paid.

(c) Prohibited advertising or promotional allowances, etc. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce[1] to pay or contract for the payment of advertising or promotional allowances or any other thing of value to or for the benefit of a customer of such member in the course of such commerce as compensation or in consideration for any services or facilities furnished by or through such customer in connection with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of any products or commodities manufactured, sold, or offered for sale by such member, unless such payment or consideration is available on proportionally equal terms to all other customers competing in the distribution of such products or commodities.

(d) Prohibited discriminatory services or facilities. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce[1] to discriminate in favor of one purchaser against another purchaser or purchasers of a commodity bought for resale, with or without processing, by contracting to furnish or furnishing, or by contributing to the furnishing of, any services or facilities connected with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of such commodity so purchased upon terms not accorded to all competing purchasers on proportionally equal terms.

(e) Inducing or receiving an illegal discrimination in price. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[1] in the course of such commerce, knowingly to induce or receive a discrimination in price which is prohibited by the foregoing provisions of this section.

(f) Exemptions. The inhibitions of this section shall not apply to purchases of their supplies for their own use by schools, colleges, universities, public libraries, churches, hospitals, and charitable institutions not operated for profit.

NOTE: In complaint proceedings charging discrimination in price or services or facilities furnished, and upon proof having been made of such discrimination, the burden of rebutting the prima-facie case thus made by showing justification shall be upon the person charged; and unless justification shall be affirmatively shown, the Commission is authorized to issue an order terminating the discrimination: Provided, however, That nothing herein shall prevent a seller rebutting the prima-facie case thus made by showing that his lower price or the furnishing of services or facilities to any purchaser or purchasers was made in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor, or the services or facilities furnished by a competitor—(See sec. 2 (b) Clayton Act.)

[Rule 10]

§ 201.11 Aiding or abetting use of unfair trade practices. It is an unfair trade practice for any person, firm, or corporation to aid, abet, coerce, or induce another, directly or indirectly, to use or promote the use of any unfair trade practice specified in this part [Rule 11]

PART 22—DRAWBACK

MERCHANDISE NOT CONFORMING TO SAMPLE OR SPECIFICATIONS

In order to simplify the handling of applications for the exportation of merchandise not conforming to sample or specifications pursuant to the provisions of section 313 (c), Tariff Act of 1930, it has been found desirable that such applications should be accepted from either the importer of record or the actual owner although an owner's declaration may have been timely filed. For this reason the first sentence of § 22.36 (b), Customs Regulations of 1943 (19 CFR 22.36 (b)), as amended by T. D. 52464, 15 F. R. 2515, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

§ 22.36 Application; samples and specifications. • • •

(b) All applications for the exportation of merchandise not conforming to sample or specifications shall be executed in the name of the importer of record, unless another person has been named in the entry as the actual owner and the declaration of such owner has been timely filed, in which case the application may be filed in the name of either such owner or the importer of record.

TITLE 25—INDIANS

Chapter I—Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior

PART 130—OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

SAN CARLOS INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, ARIZONA

On June 1, 1951 (16 F. R. 5134) there was published a notice of intention to amend § 130.63 (25 CFR Part 130) to increase the annual rate of assessments for the operation and maintenance of the Joint Works part of the San Carlos Indian Irrigation Project, Arizona, (the works serving the Indian and non-Indian lands) from 80¢ per acre to $1.20 per acre, for the 100,000 acres of project lands. Interested persons desiring to participate in formulating the amendment could do so by filing written statements or data with the Area Director of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, with headquarters at Phoenix, Arizona, not later than June 16, 1951. Within the time allowed objections were filed with the Director by the San Carlos Irrigation and Drainage District. The District proposed to eliminate certain items included in the estimated costs for operation, maintenance and equipment purposes amounting to a total of $15,600. After reviewing the figures and eliminating certain items included in the estimates and bearing in mind the substantial increase in costs of operating and maintaining the Joint Works since 1948 when the amount of such costs then estimated at $80,000 annually was fixed, I have concluded that the total amount of the estimated assessment should be $115,000 or $1.15 per acre annually, effective for the fiscal year 1953 and thereafter until further notice.

§ 130.63 Assessments, joint works. (a) Pursuant to the act of Congress approved June 7, 1924 (43 Stat. 476) and supplementary acts, and the repayment contracts of June 8, 1931, as amended, between the United States and the San Carlos irrigation and drainage district, and in accordance with applicable provisions of the order of the Secretary of the Interior of June 15, 1938 (§§ 130.69a to 130.69m), the cost of the operation and maintenance of the Joint Works of the San Carlos Indian irrigation project for the fiscal year 1953 is estimated to be $115,000 and the rate of assessment for the said fiscal year and subsequent years until further order, is hereby fixed at $1.15 for each acre of land.

The foregoing changes are to become effective for the fiscal year 1953 and continue thereafter until further notice; the assessment for that part payable by the San Carlos irrigation and drainage district being due in advance of such fiscal year on March 1; for that part payable for the 50,000 acres of Indian land will be as provided in §§ 130.110 to 130.116, inclusive.

(Secs. 1, 3, 36 Stat. 270, 272, as amended; 25 U. S. C. 385)

D. S. MYER,
Commissioner.

PART 130—OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

SAN CARLOS INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, ARIZONA

JUNE 26, 1951.

On June 1, 1951 (16 F. R. 5134) there was published a notice of intention to amend § 130.110 (25 CFR Part 130) to increase the annual rate of assessments for the operation and maintenance of the Indians' interest in the Joint Works part of the San Carlos Indian Irrigation Project, Arizona (the works serving the Indian and non-Indian lands) from 80¢ per acre to $1.20 per acre, for the 100,000 acres of project lands. Interested persons desiring to participate in formulating the amendment could do so by filing written statements or data with the Area Director of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, with headquarters at Phoenix, Arizona, not later than June 16, 1951. Within the time allowed objections were filed with the Director by the Pima Indian Tribal Council on behalf of the Indian landowners. They proposed the elimination of certain items included in the estimated costs for operation, maintenance and equipment purposes amounting to a total of $20,100. After reviewing the figures and eliminating certain items included in the estimates and bearing in mind the substantial increase in costs of operating and maintaining the Joint Works since 1948 when the amount of such costs then estimated at $80,000 annually was fixed, I have concluded that the total amount of the estimated assessment should be $115,000 or $1.15 per acre annually, effective for the fiscal year 1953 and thereafter until further notice.

Accordingly § 130.110 (25 CFR Part 130) is hereby amended to increase the basic per acre rate for the Indian lands from $3.50 to $3.85 which rate includes the Indians' share of the cost of operation of the Joint Works, to read as follows:

§ 130.110 Basic charge. Pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of the act of March 3, 1905 (33 Stat. 1081) as amended and supplemented by the acts of August 24, 1912 (37 Stat. 522), August 1, 1914 (38 Stat. 583, 25 U. S. C. 385), section 5 of the act of June 7, 1924 (43 Stat. 476), March 7, 1928 (45 Stat. 210, Title 25 U. S. C. 387), and the act of August 9, 1937 (50 Stat. 577), as amended by the act of May 9, 1938 (52 Stat. 291-305), and in accordance with the public notice issued on December 1, 1932, operation and maintenance charges are assessable against the 50,000 acres of tribal lands and trust patent Indian lands of the San Carlos Indian irrigation project within the boundaries of the Pima Indian Reservation, Arizona, and the basic rate assessed for the calendar year 1953 and the subsequent years unless changed by further order, is hereby fixed at $3.85 per acre. Such rate shall entitle each acre of land to have delivered for use thereon two (2) acre-feet of water per acre or its proportionate share of the available water supply.

The foregoing changes are to become effective for the fiscal year 1953 and continue thereafter until further notice; the assessment for the 50,000 acres of Indian land will be payable as provided in §§ 130.111 to 130.116, inclusive.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Amendment 8]

CPR 7—RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN CONSUMER GOODS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment 8 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1872) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The accompanying amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 adds various categories of merchandise to the coverage of that regulation. These categories cover toys, Christmas decorations, and also hand knitting yarn and crochet thread, laces and trimmings, and ribbons. The economic considerations leading to the promulgation of the regulation are equally applicable to the regulation with this extended coverage; those considerations are set forth in the statement of considerations accompanying Ceiling Price Regulation 7 issued February 27, 1951.

Not only will many retailers be required to file supplemental charts, but in addition, some retailers who formerly were not covered by the regulation or who had an option to remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation because their volume of sales was, without the new categories, sufficiently low to permit them to elect General Ceiling Price Regulation coverage, will now be required to file pricing charts under the regulation.

As a list date for Hand Knitting Yarn and Crochet Thread, Laces and Trimmings, and Ribbons, June 23, 1951 has been selected.

Because of the seasonal character of toys and Christmas decorations, it is not possible to use a recent "list date" in the preparation of pricing charts for those articles. Use of a recent list date would not presently be feasible because currently many retail stores do not stock toys, or at least carry an unrepresentative stock. To use a single list date during the peak of the toy season (before Christmas) would also not be feasible, since it would be difficult, if not impossible, for retailers to reconstruct the prices and markups of merchandise offered for sale on any single remote date. A more practical way to enable the retailer to prepare a pricing chart representative of his customary markup practice is to allow him to use invoices received during the period in which toy stocks customarily are built up for Christmas selling and the selling prices based on those invoices. Accordingly, the retailer is permitted to compile his charts for the toy categories by listing all merchandise offered for sale based on invoices received between October 1 and December 10, 1950.

In addition, the accompanying amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 allows a retailer to handle each "classification" in Category 908 and Category 919 as a separate category. It has been brought to the attention of the Office of Price Stabilization that many retailers use markups for some of the classifications in Categories 908 and 919 that differ considerably from the markup of the entire category. Accordingly, the Director of Price Stabilization has allowed retail establishments to use this modified method of chart preparation for these categories.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3 (a) (2) is amended by substituting for the phrase "Categories 101 through 895" the phrase "Categories 101 through 607; 610 through 620; 701 through 895;"

2. Section 3 (a) (3) is amended by changing the comma at the end thereof to a semicolon and by adding thereto the following: "1050 through 1070,"

3. Section 5 (a) is amended by inserting after the "(a)," following the section heading, the subparagraph designation "(1)" and by adding a new subparagraph (2) to read as follows:

(2) Whenever new categories are added to this regulation after June 30, 1951, you may begin to use the applicable pricing rules after you file your chart, but you must begin to use the applicable pricing rules not later than 3 months after the effective date of the amendment which adds the new categories (unless you are a mail order establishment subject to paragraph (b) of this section).

4. Section 11 is amended by adding new paragraphs (d) and (e) to read as follows:

(d) If you are a seller who has already filed a pricing chart, and by the addition of categories to this regulation you are required to file a chart for the new categories, you must prepare two copies of a supplemental chart for the new categories in accordance with this regulation, numbering the pages as if they followed the last page of the chart already filed. One copy of the supplemental chart must be kept for your use and for inspection by the OPS and the other must be filed with your OPS office[2] within 3 months after the effective date of the amendment which adds the categories.[2a]

(e) If by the addition of categories to this regulation you are for the first time a seller subject to this regulation, you must prepare two copies of a list date pricing chart for all categories in accordance with this regulation. One copy of the chart must be kept for your use and for inspection by the OPS and the other must be filed with your OPS office[2] within 3 months after the effective date of the amendment which adds the categories.[2a]

5. A new footnote 2a is added to read as follows:

[2a] For Categories 1050 through 1070 a special method for preparing charts and determining what articles were offered on the list date is provided in section 7 of Supplementary Regulation 2.

6. Section 12 is amended by inserting the paragraph designation "(a)" after the section heading and adding a new paragraph (b) to read as follows:

(b) If by the addition of new categories after June 30, 1951, you become subject to the regulation as to any categories, you may not offer, sell or deliver any article covered by any categories for which you are required to or elect to file a chart unless you file that chart within 3 months after the effective date of the amendment which adds the categories. On and after 30 days from the last date for filing that chart you may not offer, sell, or deliver any article in the categories covered by that chart unless you have received from the OPS an acknowledgment of the filing of that chart.

7. Section 13 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Your list date or list dates. Your list date is February 24, 1951, except:

(1) It is March 31, 1951 for Categories 860 to 895; 901 to 924; and 940 to 985, or for all categories (other than Categories 610 through 620 and 1050 through 1070) if you first became subject to or first elected to become subject to the regulation between April 10, 1951 and June 30, 1951;

(2) It is June 23, 1951 for Categories 610 through 620 or for all categories (except Categories 1050 through 1070) if you first become subject to or first elect to become subject to the regulation on or after June 30, 1951.

(3) It is December 10, 1950 for Categories 1050 through 1070.[2a]

In the event you were not open for business on the appropriate list date, except where your list date is December 10, 1950, your list date is the most recent date in 1951 before that date on which you were open for business and offered for sale any article covered by the regulation.

8. Section 15 is amended by adding the following paragraph at the end thereof:

For the purpose of listing categories, you may list as a separate category or amend your chart to list as a separate category each of the separate descriptive classifications in Categories 908 and 919 (for example, 908-4—Cleaning Supplies; 919-2—Closet Shop Accessories). If you treat any descriptive classification in Category 908 or in Category 919 as a separate category, you must so treat each classification within the category.

9. Section 22 (a) is amended by inserting after the heading "Amendment by seller" the subparagraph designation "(1)" and by adding a new subparagraph (2) to read as follows:

(2) Whenever under a provision of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 added to this regulation after May 30, 1951, you are required or permitted to amend your chart, you must file the amendment to your chart with your OPS office on or before the thirtieth day following the effective date of that provision. You must attach to the amendment a statement which will designate under what provision you are filing.

Example of statement. This amendment is filed pursuant to Amendment 8 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7, effective June 30, 1951. This amendment allows retailers to handle each classification in Category 908 and Category 919 as a separate category.

You must, when you amend your chart, pursuant to this subparagraph, use the amendment to your chart in fixing ceiling prices after the date you file the amendment to your chart. You may not offer, sell, or deliver any article covered by the amendment to your chart after thirty days from the date you file your amendment unless you have received an acknowledgment from your OPS office of receipt of the amendment.

10. Section 39 (c) is amended by substituting for the date "February 24, 1951" the phrase "your list date."

11. Section 51 is amended by adding after the introductory sentence the following new sentence:

If, however, you become subject to the regulation after June 30, 1951, as to particular categories, you may not offer or sell any article in those categories after the last date for filing your chart, unless it is marked or tagged in accordance with this section.

12. Section 52 (a) (2) is amended by substituting for the phrase "not later than May 30" the phrase: "not later than the date you are required to begin using the pricing rules under section 5 (a) of this regulation;"

13. Section 52 (b) (1) is amended by substituting for the phrase "On and after February 27, 1951" the phrase "On and after the effective date of the regulation or any amendment applicable to you."

14. Section 52 (b) (2) is amended by substituting for the phrase "on or after February 27, 1951" the phrase "on or after the effective date of the regulation or any amendment applicable to you."

15. Appendix B is amended as follows:

a. The title to paragraph (B) following the text for Category 410 is amended to read as follows:

(B) Categories of Household Textile Commodities, Drapery Hardware, Certain Yard Goods, Hand Knitting Yarn and Crochet Thread, Laces and Trimmings, and Ribbons.

b. A new subparagraph (3) and new Categories 610, 615, and 620 are added to paragraph (B) following the text of Category 607 to read as follows:

(3) Hand Knitting Yarn and Crochet Thread, Laces and Trimmings, and Ribbons.

Category 610—Hand Knitting Yarn and Crochet Thread.

Category 615—Laces and Trimmings.

Examples of articles included are:

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Amendment 9]

CPR 7—RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN CONSUMER GOODS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS, IN-LINE MARKUPS AND MISCELLANEOUS ADDITIONS TO APPENDICES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 812), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 9 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1872) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The accompanying amendment changes from June 30, 1951 to July 31, 1951, the date until which retailers may continue to offer, sell, or deliver any article covered by this regulation without receipt of an acknowledgment from the Office of Price Stabilization for the filing of price charts pursuant to Ceiling Price Regulation 7. The tremendous number of charts filed by retailers pursuant to this regulation at a time when the staff of Office of Price Stabilization is still undermanned has made it necessary to extend the time for this office to acknowledge the filing of these charts.

Section 39 of the regulation provides a method of determining ceiling prices for sellers who cannot price under other sections of the regulation. It has come to the attention of the Office of Price Stabilization that certain classes of retailers which determine ceiling prices pursuant to section 39 normally operate on markups lower than those set forth in Appendix E; hence, in order to permit OPS to require such sellers to continue to operate on markups lower than those set forth in Appendix E, it is necessary to amend section 39 so that the OPS may establish for such sellers markups in line with the markups for sellers of the same class.

Appendices C, D, E, and F have been expanded to include Categories 211A, 510, 1009A, 1010A, and 1011A which were included in Appendix B of the original Ceiling Price Regulation 7. The data for inclusion of these categories in the aforementioned appendices were incomplete at the time of issuance of the original regulation. With the compilation of the necessary data, these categories are now added to the appendices.

This amendment also makes certain corrections and clarifications and minor changes in the text of Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

1. Section 12 is amended by changing the date "June 30, 1951" as it appears in the second sentence thereof, to "July 31, 1951."

2. In section 39 (a) (1) delete the first clause reading as follows: "If you have never priced an article under this section," and change the following word "you" to "You."

3. A new subparagraph (3) is added to section 39 (a) to read as follows:

(3) Reduction of Appendix E markups. If you use Appendix E markups, your OPS office may, by order, reduce your markups to bring your markups into line with markups for sellers of the same class.

4. In Appendix C, following Categories 509, 1009, 1010 and 1011, insert Categories 510, 1009A, 1010A, and 1011A, respectively, and their comparable categories. The appropriate comparable categories for the newly inserted categories are listed below:

Categories you are pricing	Comparable categories
	First	Second	Third
510	509
1009A	1011
1010A	1011	1010	1008
1011A	1012	1013	1021

5. Appendix D is amended in the following respects:

a. Insert between the lines for Categories 211 and 212, the following:

211A—26.9, 40.2, 43.4, 46.7, 50.0, 53.3, 56.5, 59.8, 63.1, 66.4, 69.6, 72.9, 76.2, 79.4, 82.7, 86.0, 89.3, 92.5, 95.8, 99.1, 102.4, 105.6, 108.9.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Amendment 4 to Supplementary Regulation 1]

CPR 7—RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN CONSUMER GOODS

SR 1—SPECIAL PRICING METHODS FOR CERTAIN CHAIN STORES AND MAIL ORDER ESTABLISHMENTS

ALTERNATIVE METHOD OF CHART PREPARATION

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment 4 to Supplementary Regulation 1 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1895) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment modifies the method of chart preparation as to chains of stores which centrally determine uniform prices for articles added to the coverage of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by an amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 issued simultaneously herewith. This amendment to Supplementary Regulation 1 is required in order to permit certain chain stores to consider as offered for sale on the "list date" these additional articles which they charged to their outlets within specified periods of time.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is amended in the following respects:

The first sentence in paragraph (b) of section 2 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Alternative method of chart preparation. A group of outlets of a chain which elects to do so may prepare list date pricing charts for its uniformly priced categories as if its members were offering for sale on the list date each different article, style, model, or lot number covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 7 which it charged to them:

(1) Between December 1, 1950 and February 27, 1951 (where the list date is February 24, 1951);

(2) Between January 1, 1951 and March 31, 1951 (where the list date is March 31, 1951);

(3) Between March 1, 1951 and May 31, 1951 (where the list date is May 31, 1951);

(4) Between October 1, 1950 and December 10, 1950 (where the list date is December 10, 1950).

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective June 30, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

EXTENSION OF TIME

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 812), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment 5 to Supplementary Regulation 1 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1895) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment changes from June 30, 1951 to July 31, 1951 the date after which the purchase offices of chain stores are prohibited from stating on their invoices to retail outlets a net price for any article exceeding "net costs" without first receiving an acknowledgment of the filing of a statement of customary service charges pursuant to section 6 of this supplementary regulation. This amendment reflects a concurrent action in an amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 which changes from June 30, 1950 to July 31, 1950 the date beyond which no seller may offer, sell, or deliver any article covered by the regulation unless he has received an acknowledgment of his pricing chart.

Supplementary Regulation 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is amended in the following respects:

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

1. Section 6 (c) (3) is amended by changing the date "June 30, 1951" to "July 31, 1951."

2. Section 6 (d) is amended by changing the date "June 30, 1951" to "July 31, 1951."

TOYS, ATHLETIC TOYS, GAMES AND CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment 2 to Supplementary Regulation 2 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1897) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment reflects action taken in an amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 issued simultaneously herewith. The grounds for changes in chart preparation required by this amendment for toys, games, and Christmas decorations are stated in the concurrently issued amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is amended in the following respects:

1. The caption of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Supplementary Regulation 2, is amended to read as set forth above (Alternative and Special Methods for Preparing List Date Pricing Charts and Pricing).

2. Following the text of section 6, add the following new section 7.

SEC. 7. Special method for preparing charts for Categories 1050 through 1070. If you prepare a chart for Categories 1050 through 1070, and price under Ceiling Price Regulation 7, you must apply all the provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (other than Sections 16 (a) and 17 (a)), except:

(a) You must prepare your list date pricing chart for Categories 1050 through 1070 as if you were offering for sale on the list date (December 10, 1950) each different article, style, model or lot number covered by these categories for which you received an invoice in the period October 1 through December 10, 1950.

(b) In Column 2 of your chart, you list each different "net cost" shown on the invoice last received in the period October 1 through December 10, 1950 at which you bought any article in that category in that period. In order that markups on your chart may as nearly as possible reflect your normal markups, if your last invoice was received after November 15, 1950 and your offering price after receipt of that invoice was unchanged from the initial offering price based on the next to the last invoice which you had received for that article, you may list the net cost on the next to the last invoice. "Net cost" is defined in section 31 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

(c) In Column 3, opposite each cost listed in Column 2, list as offering prices each different price at which you offered any article in that category, having that net cost. You list as the "price at which you offered" an article the initial offering price of the article based on the last invoice you received for the article in the period October 1 through December 10, 1950.

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

EXEMPTION OF FISH AND RELATED COMMODITIES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 13 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

There has been some confusion in the trade as to when fish is and is not considered a manufactured product for purposes of CPR 22. Consequently, many in the fish industry have not been able to determine definitely whether or not their ceiling prices are to be calculated under CPR 22. To clarify matters, Appendix A is here amended to state specifically what types of fish and related commodities are excluded from coverage. It is now clearly stated that all fish, shellfish, seafood, and all products thereof are excluded from CPR 22, except fish, shellfish, seafood, or products thereof which have been sterilized in hermetically sealed containers. Canned salmon, however, is excluded at this time from coverage by CPR 22 because a tailored regulation covering this product will be issued in the near future.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Subparagraph (24) is added to paragraph (c) of Appendix A to read as follows:

(24) All salmon and salmon products, in any form; and all other fish, shellfish, seafood, and the products thereof, except when sterilized in hermetically sealed containers.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 24, Amendment 3]

CPR 24—CEILING PRICES OF BEEF SOLD AT WHOLESALE

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Economic Stabilization Agency General Order 2 (16 F. R. 738), Delegation of Authority by the Secretary of Agriculture to the Economic Stabilization Agency with respect to the Allocation of Meat (16 F. R. 1272) and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order 5 (16 F. R. 1273) this amendment 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 24 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The accompanying amendment to CPR 24 makes several substantive changes as well as certain clarifications of a minor nature.

(1) When the ceiling price for imported cured boneless processing beef was originally established in Amendment 2 to CPR 24, the authorization to take the wholesaler's addition was inadvertently omitted. Accordingly, this amendment authorizes wholesalers to add the wholesaler's mark-up on sales of imported cured boneless processing beef.

(2) Historically, packers have not sold substantial quantities of fabricated beef cuts to hotel supply houses or combination distributors. Ordinarily, these hotel and restaurant suppliers purchased sides, quarters, and wholesale cuts of beef and performed the fabrication work themselves. However, the industry advisory group representing this segment of the industry recommended that hotel and restaurant suppliers be authorized to sell fabricated cuts to each other, and for that reason CPR 24 permitted the interchange among all sellers of both wholesale cuts and fabricated cuts.

After CPR 24 became effective, some hotel supply houses found it difficult to purchase the larger, unfabricated cuts since their suppliers found it more profitable to sell them fabricated cuts. This had the effect of raising the price which hotel supply houses and combination distributors had to pay for their beef. To restore normal business practices and to prevent evasions of this regulation, this amendment prohibits the sale of fabricated cuts by a packer or packer branch house to anyone other than purveyors of meals, ship suppliers, and peddler truck operators.

Peddler truck operators have normally bought and resold some fabricated beef cuts to small purveyors of meals. When CPR 24 was originally issued, no provision was made authorizing the sale of fabricated beef cuts to peddlers. This amendment permits the resumption of this customary trade practice, defines the method of determining the ceiling prices for sales to peddlers, and sets up a schedule of ceiling prices for sales of fabricated beef cuts by peddler truck operators. If packers and wholesalers do not have to incur the expense of selling fabricated cuts directly to purveyors of meals, they can effect a substantial saving in their operating expense. Therefore, this amendment provides that the ceiling prices for sales of fabricated cuts to peddlers will be 3 percent below the ceiling prices on sales of fabricated cuts by packers and wholesalers to purveyors of meals. The peddler truck operators will be permitted to sell fabricated cuts at the ceilings fixed for sales by combination distributors, and, consequently, they will have a 6 percent margin on this type of sale. This is in line with the margin normally enjoyed by this segment of the industry.

(3) The Department of Defense has asked that a ceiling price be established for tenderloins meeting military specifications. Accordingly, a new price for tenderloins meeting military specifications is established in Schedule III (sec. 22).

(4) CPR 24 originally allowed an addition of $1.50 per cwt. on kosher forequarters derived from cattle slaughtered in Zone 4a. This allowance was to compensate for the tissue shrink incurred in bringing live cattle to Zone 4a slaughter plants from midwest markets. No addition for kosher boneless processing beef derived from this cattle was permitted because a considerable quantity of the lower grade cattle suitable for the production of processing beef was available in Zone 4a. However, it has been ascertained that a substantial number is also normally brought from the midwest. Therefore, it is necessary to provide an addition on kosher boneless beef to compensate for the transit shrink on that portion of the cattle slaughtered in Zone 4a which are brought in from the midwest. Accordingly, an addition of $1.00 per cwt. is authorized on kosher processing beef derived from cattle slaughtered in Zone 4a.

(5) This amendment corrects a typographical error in the ceiling price for non-kosher brains, and makes changes in the ceiling prices for kosher hanging tenders, kosher lungs, and kosher melts in accordance with the recommendations of industry members.

(6) This amendment sets up three distinct grades of beef tongues in line with the customary practice in the trade. CPR 24 fixed only one price for beef tongues because it was felt that sellers would recognize the normal differential which traditionally existed in the trade and that they would discount the lower grades of tongues. However, since CPR 24 was issued, practically all tongues have sold at the ceiling price for top grade tongues. Consequently, this amendment defines the three different types of beef tongues in accordance with the standards which were in general use in the industry and prescribes the ceiling prices for each of the three types.

(7) Some confusion has arisen concerning the applicability of the zone differential for variety meats in Zones 2 and 2a, since in most instances it is impracticable to determine the grade of cattle from which the particular type of variety meat was obtained. This amendment specifically provides that the zone differential for variety meats will be the same as for prime and choice beef.

(8) The definition of wholesaler in the regulation excluded those affiliated with slaughtering plants. It has come to the attention of the Director of Price Stabilization that this denial of the wholesaler's addition to all slaughterer affiliates has caused considerable hardship and threatens the existence of many customary wholesaler operations. The fact of affiliation alone does not necessarily produce economies and differences in methods of operation sufficient to justify the denial of a wholesaler's margin. A more significant basis for determining the need for a wholesaler's mark-up is the source of supply from which the affiliated operator obtains his beef. For example, if a person sells only non-kosher products purchased from others, it seems reasonable that he should be classified as a wholesaler even though he is affiliated with a slaughterer handling only kosher products. Although in this and other cases, an affiliated wholesaler may have customarily procured a substantial part of his meat from sources other than the slaughtering affiliate, CPR 24 as originally issued prevented him from securing any portion of the wholesaler's addition.

After careful consideration of the problem, the Director finds that those persons who customarily purchased a substantial percentage of their total supplies for resale from independent nonaffiliated sources should be entitled to receive the wholesaler's addition on the supplies customarily and currently received from independent sources. This amendment therefore grants to those businesses, which could not qualify as wholesalers solely because of affiliation with slaughtering plants, an addition on their purchases of beef for resale from independent sources.

In order to prevent circumvention by means of cross sales between two or more unaffiliated slaughterers, the regulation precludes the use of the wholesaler's mark-up where the seller makes any sales of carcasses or wholesale cuts to a slaughterer or a person affiliated with a slaughterer. Those sellers who obtain part of their supply from affiliated sources and part from unaffiliated sources will be entitled to add the regular mark-up on that portion of their supply derived from unaffiliated sources so long as the beef items are readily distinguishable from those products derived from affiliated sources. To preserve historic patterns, provision is made that this addition cannot be taken on a greater volume than the volume purchased for resale in the last quarter of 1950 from independent sources. As an added measure of precaution, these sellers will be required to submit quarterly reports to the Regional Office showing the total quantity of beef purchased from unaffiliated sources as well as the total quantity of such beef products on which the wholesaler's mark-up was charged.

Whenever a wholesaler who has slaughtering affiliations sells beef procured from unaffiliated sources, he must indicate separately on each invoice of sale the name of the unaffiliated supplier from whom the meat was obtained.

Also, this amendment corrects the wholesaler's addition with respect to sales of variety meats to purveyors of meals. It was not intended that the addition apply on these sales since the variety meat schedule already contains a special price to purveyors of meals for all sellers including adequate compensation for wholesalers. CPR 24 is corrected, therefore, to eliminate the addition on these sales.

(9) The allowance of 35 cents per cwt. for wrapping beef carcasses and wholesale cuts was intended to cover the cost of wrapping beef in a combination krinkle kraft paper and stockinette covering. Many sellers have added the 35 cents per cwt. wrapping charge even though they merely covered the meat with a piece of plain wrapping paper which costs only a few cents. In order to effectuate the intention of the regulation, this amendment specifically defines the type of wrapping for which the addition may be charged.

(10) Since the issuance of CPR 24, many complaints have been received about the shipping container allowances in section 45. Historically, very few wholesale cuts were actually shipped in returnable containers or sacks. Immediately after the issuance of the regulation, wholesalers and others were unable to buy wholesale cuts, etc. without paying for the returnable containers or sacks. This amendment therefore eliminates the additions for returnable containers and sacks and thereby restores normal industry practices.

(11) A combination distributor was originally defined in CPR 24 as a seller who during 1950 sold at least 25 percent of its volume to purveyors of meals. No distinction was made between affiliated and unaffiliated combination distributors. It was reported that some packer branch houses could qualify as combination distributors and thereby derive an extra $2.00 per cwt. on all sales of primal cuts to retailers as well as to purveyors of meals. This would have given the packers who had this type of branch house a decided advantage over packers who did not operate in this manner. In order to eliminate this unfair advantage, the regulation was amended to provide that sellers who were affiliated with packers could qualify as combination distributors only if they had sold at least 70 percent of their 1950 volume to purveyors of meals.

Under the amended regulation, some of the packer-owned selling establishments qualified as combination distributors. These distributors continued their sales to retailers and obtained the $2.00 mark-up. Prior to CPR 24, these sellers had customarily purchased ribs and loins for sale to the hotel and restaurant trade, but under the regulation these sellers began to purchase quarters and sides of beef for sale to the retail trade and to take over part of the functions of the packer branch houses in order to obtain the higher mark-up. If this practice were to continue, it would be possible for the packers who owned these establishments to channel a substantial portion of their beef through these affiliates and thereby derive an extra $2.00 per cwt. on their sales to retailers. Moreover, while the amended regulation eliminated certain packer branch houses from the category of combination distributors, it had the effect of disqualifying certain selling establishments which were customarily combination distributors.

Accordingly, the term "combination distributor" is redefined as a selling establishment which during 1950 sold at least 25 percent of its volume to purveyors of meals, and no distinction is made as between affiliated and unaffiliated establishments. However, the combination distributors are separated into two classes for pricing purposes. The unaffiliated combination distributor is permitted to add the $2.00 per cwt. to the prices in sections 20 and 22 on sales to all buyers of primal cuts and boneless cuts, while the affiliated combination distributor is permitted to add the $2.00 only when the cuts priced in sections 20 and 22 are sold to purveyors of meals.

(12) This amendment redefines "wholesaler" to permit a person who has made a substantial investment in a plant or in equipment prior to February 9, 1951, but who had not commenced operations prior to that date, to apply for classification as a wholesaler.

(13) The definition of Zone 1 is amended to exclude the municipality of St. Louis and the County of St. Louis. This puts the City of St. Louis in Zone 4 as was originally intended.

CONCLUSION

In formulating this amendment, the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted with industry representatives as far as practicable and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment, the provisions of this amendment are generally fair and equitable and necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable, the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability. To the extent that this amendment compels changes in business practices, such changes are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of this regulation.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 24 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 4 (b) (2), as amended, is amended by eliminating the period at the end thereof and adding the following: "except the wholesaler's addition in section 42 of this regulation."

2. Section 21 is amended as follows:

a. Section 21 (b) is amended by deleting the first sentence thereof and substituting therefor the following:

(b) For sales of fabricated beef cuts by a peddler truck seller or a combination distributor to purveyors of meals. • • •

b. Section 21 (c) is amended by deleting the first sentence thereof and substituting therefor the following:

(c) For sales of fabricated beef cuts by packing or slaughtering plants, packer branch houses and wholesalers to purveyors of meals and to ship suppliers, and for sales of fabricated beef cuts by wholesalers to hotel supply houses and combination distributors. • • •

c. A new paragraph (d) is added to section 21 to read as follows:

(d) Your ceiling price for sales of fabricated beef cuts to peddler truck sellers shall be 97 percent of the prices listed in paragraph (c) of this section rounded to the nearest ten cents, plus any of the applicable additions and adjustments permitted by paragraph (c).

d. Section 8 (b) (3) is deleted and the following substituted therefor:

(3) Selling or invoicing fabricated beef cuts to buyers other than purveyors of meals, hotel supply houses, combination distributors, ship suppliers or peddler truck sellers.

3. a. Section 22, as amended, is amended by adding within the table captioned "Schedule III" immediately below the line beginning "17. Shank meat" a new line and prices for columns (2) through (8), consecutively, reading as follows:

18. Tenderloins (military specifications) 103.50, 104.20, 104.90, 105.60, 106.30, 107.00, 107.70.

b. Appendix 3 (a), as amended, is amended by adding, immediately following Appendix 3 (a) (17) the following:

(18) Tenderloins (military specifications) means tenderloins trimmed according to military specifications, weighing not less than 4 pounds, packaged in 50 pound V 3 S boxes or in 50 to 100 pound wirebound or solid fibre boxes. They shall be packaged in the presence of an official inspector designated by the U. S. Army or Navy or other U. S. Government Agency.

4. Section 23 is amended by adding at the end of footnote 1 to Schedule IV the following sentence:

To the prices designated in columns 2 and 4, you may add $1.00 per cwt. where the beef is derived from cattle slaughtered in Zone 4a.

5. Section 26 is amended as follows:

a. In the line beginning "1. Brains," delete "$7.00" and substitute in lieu thereof "$17.00"; delete "$9.00" and substitute in lieu thereof "$19.00."

b. In the line beginning "3. Hanging tender," delete "62.00" and substitute in lieu thereof "55.00."

c. In the lines beginning "10. Lungs" and "11. Melts," delete "18.00" and substitute in lieu thereof "13.00."

6. a. Section 26 is amended by deleting item "15. Tongues" and the prices provided therefor and substituting the following:

Item	Non-kosher	Kosher	Sales to purveyors of meals
15 (a). Tongues (type No. 1)	37.00	50.00	45.00
15 (b). Tongues (type No. 2)	33.00	45.00	40.00
15 (c). Tongues (type No. 3)	30.00	35.00	33.00

b. Appendix 6 (a) 15 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following paragraphs:

Tongues are divided into the following classifications:

(i) Type No. 1 tongue means a tongue weighing not less than three pounds, of firm consistency without yellow fat or black skin, having no surface bruise or blood clot and no hair sore cut larger than one inch, or, if it has such hair sore cut, has no side knife cuts.

(ii) Type No. 2 tongue means a tongue weighing not less than three pounds, of firm consistency without yellow fat, having no surface bruise or blood clot, but not otherwise meeting the definition of Tongue (Type No. 1).

(iii) Type No. 3 tongue means any beef tongue not qualifying as a Type No. 1 or a Type No. 2 tongue.

7. Section 40 (b) and (c) are amended by inserting in each after the phrase "For beef graded prime or choice" the words "and for the beef variety meats and by-products listed in section 26 of this regulation."

8. Section 42 is deleted and the following substituted therefor:

SEC. 42. Addition 3. Wholesaler's addition. On the sale of any beef product (not obtained through custom slaughtering):

(a) (1) To retailers, you may add $2.25 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedules I, III, VII, and section 4 (b) (2) of this regulation, or

(2) To purveyors of meals, you may add $2.25 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedule I, III, and section 4 (b) (2), or

(3) To another wholesaler, you may add $0.75 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedules I, III, VII, and section 4 (b) (2), or

(4) To other buyers, you may add $1.25 per cwt. to the prices specified in Schedules I, III, VII, and section 4 (b) (2).

You may not add this wholesaler's selling addition unless you are a wholesaler as defined in section 50, and unless you have filed with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Stabilization a signed statement containing the following:

(i) Your name.

(ii) The address of your selling establishment.

(iii) The date that you began doing business as a wholesaler.

(iv) The type or types of customers to whom you regularly and customarily sell your product.

(b) Addition for certain affiliated wholesalers. (1) If you do not qualify as a wholesaler, only by reason of the fact that you do not meet the requirements of section 50 (u) (2) of this regulation, you may add the appropriate wholesaler's addition on sales of those beef products you buy for resale from unaffiliated sources, Provided:

(i) The product is readily distinguishable as having been purchased for resale (i. e., it bears the registration number required by section 3 (f) or 4 (f) of Distribution Regulation 1 or any wrapping or packaging bearing the name or identification of the non-affiliated slaughterer from whom you bought);

(ii) The name of the person from whom you bought for resale is stated on your invoice. (If the item is a wrapped or packaged item, the name of the person whose identification appears on the package or wrapper must be shown.)

(iii) After July 1, 1951, you do not sell any beef carcasses or wholesale cuts to any slaughterer, packer, packer's branch house, or any person affiliated therewith;

(iv) You do not, during any calendar quarter beginning on or after July 1, 1951, take the addition on a greater volume, by weight, of beef than you obtained from unaffiliated sources and resold during the last quarter of 1950;

(v) You file with your Regional Office, on or before August 1, 1951, a statement showing the volume by weight of beef you obtained from unaffiliated sources and resold during the last quarter of 1950;

(vi) You file with your Regional Office, on or before October 15, 1951, and on or before the 15th day following the end of each calendar quarter ending on or after December 31, 1951, a statement showing, for the calendar quarter ended prior to the reporting date:

(a) The total volume by weight of beef obtained for resale from unaffiliated sources, and

(b) The total volume by weight of beef sold on which the wholesaler's addition was charged.

9. Section 44 is deleted and the following is substituted therefor:

SEC. 44. Addition 5. Wrapping. If you completely wrap any beef carcass or wholesale cut both in krinkle kraft paper and in a stockinette, you may add to the price specified in Schedule I an amount equal to the cost of such wrapping, but such addition shall not be in excess of 35¢ per cwt.

10. Section 45 is amended by:

a. Deleting the line "All returnable containers $0.50" and the line "Sacks—0.50".

b. Inserting "$" before the numbers "1.80" on the line beginning "5/15 Lbs. Wood."

11. a. Section 50 (g) (2), as amended, is amended by deleting "70 percent" where it appears therein and substituting therefor "25 percent."

b. Section 20 (a) and (b) are amended by deleting (4) under "Special Adjustments" and substituting therefor the following:

(4) If you are a combination distributor not affiliated with a slaughterer you may add $2.00 per cwt. to the prices listed above, and if you are a combination distributor affiliated with a slaughterer you may add $2.00 per cwt. to the prices listed above on sales to purveyors of meals only.

c. Section 22 is amended by deleting (2) under "Special Additions" and substituting therefor the following:

(2) If you are a combination distributor not affiliated with a slaughterer you may add $2.00 per cwt. to the prices listed above, and if you are a combination distributor affiliated with a slaughterer you may add $2.00 per cwt. to the prices listed above on sales to purveyors of meals only.

12. Section 50 (u) (4) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "If, however, you have not operated in this manner at any time between January 1, 1950, and April 30, 1951, but you have made a substantial investment in plant or equipment prior to February 9, 1951, you may file an application with the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., requesting that you be qualified as a wholesaler. Your application shall state the nature and extent of your investment in plant or equipment and when such investment was made. If the Director finds that you have made such an investment prior to February 9, 1951, he may, by order, qualify you as a wholesaler under the appropriate provision of this section.

13. Appendix 1 (a) is amended by deleting the words "The entire State of Missouri, except St. Louis County"; and substituting therefor the following: "The entire State of Missouri, except the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County."

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective July 5, 1951.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 50]

CPR 50—CEILING PRICES FOR PETROLEUM PRODUCTS SOLD IN THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Congress), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 50 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Article II of this regulation establishes specific ceiling prices at retail for kerosene imported in steel drums and sold in the Virgin Islands of The United States.

Kerosene is an important cost-of-living commodity in the Virgin Islands, where it constitutes one of the principal fuels used. It is entirely imported and is shipped in steel drums of 53–54 gallon capacity. The absense of natural gas in these islands has necessitated the use of kerosene for fueling cooking stoves and illuminating lamps in the rural areas. Its importance as a fuel is established by the fact that during the calendar year 1950, over 500,000 gallons were imported.

At the time of issuance of Ceiling Price Regulation 13, which is a cost-plus method of pricing petroleum products, and is applicable to the territories and possessions, it was recognized that it was of a temporary nature, pending the issuance of tailored type regulations to fit the specific needs of the territories. Kerosene is the first petroleum product to be removed from under CPR–13 for the establishment of uniform ceilings at retail.

An analysis of costs and selling prices of this commodity disclosed that the establishment of uniform dollars-and-cents ceiling prices at retail is feasible. Kerosene prices have not increased significantly as a result of the Korean hostilities.

A retail ceiling of 29 cents per gallon has been established for sales of kerosene imported in steel drums and sold in the island of St. Croix, and of 30 cents per gallon in St. Thomas to reflect additional transportation costs and a sales tax. Retailers in St. John have been allowed the customary differential of $0.01 per gallon above the St. Thomas retail level to cover further costs of transportation. The ceiling price represents the same average dollars-and-cents markup over direct cost as that in effect before the Korean hostilites.

Article II of the regulation standardizes the treatment of sellers in the different zones in the Virgin Islands, gives guidance to the consuming public, and provides a simple, more enforceable pricing method than is embodied in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 13.

In the formulation of this regulation special circumstances have rendered impractical consultation with official advisory committees, including trade association representatives; however, the provisions of this regulation incorporate the recommendations of persons representing substantial segments of the trade.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR OF PRICE STABILIZATION

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the ceiling prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

As far as practicable, the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prevailing prices during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive, and to relevant factors of applicability.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation establishes retail ceiling prices for kerosene sold at retail in the Virgin Islands of the United States.

SEC. 2. Applicability. The provisions of this regulation are applicable to the Virgin Islands of the United States.

SEC. 3. Evasion. Any practice which results in obtaining indirectly a higher price than is permitted by this regulation is a violation of this regulation. Such practices include, but are not limited to, devices making use of commissions, services, cross-sales, transportation arrangements, premiums, discounts, special privileges, tie-in agreements and trade undertakings.

ARTICLE II—KEROSENE

SEC. 11. Ceiling prices for kerosene imported in steel drums. Ceiling prices of kerosene sold at retail in the Virgin Islands of the United States shall be

Commodity	Quantity	St. Croix	St. Thomas	St. John
Kerosene	Gallon	$0.29	$0.30	$0.31
	Quart	.08	.08	.08
	⅕ quart	.07	.07	.07
	Two ⅕ quarts	.13	.13	.13

SEC. 12. Records. Every person selling kerosene at retail shall preserve and keep available for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization, for a period two years, accurate records of each purchase of kerosene in steel drums made by the seller, the date thereof, the name and address of the wholesaler, the price paid at wholesale, and the quantity purchased.

SEC. 13. Posting requirements. On and after the date the sale of kerosene becomes subject to this regulation, every person offering to sell such kerosene at retail shall mark the ceiling price of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public. The ceiling prices shall be posted at the place in the establishment where such kerosene is offered for sale. The ceiling prices shall be indicated in the form:

Ceiling prices:
$____ per gallon.
$____ per quart.
$____ per ⅕ quart.
$____ per two ⅕ quarts.

SEC. 14. Definitions. When used in this article the terms:

"Kerosene" means a mixture of hydrocarbons obtained from petroleum and boiling between arbitrary limits of temperature.

"Seller at retail" means any person who sells kerosene to an ultimate consumer.

"One gallon" is equivalent to 128 fluid ounces.

"One quart" is equivalent to 32 fluid ounces.

"One ⅕ quart" is equivalent to 25.6 fluid ounces.

Effective date: This regulation shall become effective July 5, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with Federal Report Act of 1942.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 51]

CPR 51—FOOD PRODUCTS SOLD IN PUERTO RICO

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Congress), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 51 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes ceiling prices for food products sold in Puerto Rico. Article 2 of this regulation establishes ceiling prices for fish sold in Puerto Rico. Section 2.1 of this regulation establishes ceiling prices for sales of salted codfish at all levels of distribution.

Salted codfish is the most important source of protein in the diet of the low-income class of Puerto Rico. In recent years the island's average annual importation of codfish has approximated 33,297,200 pounds. Most of the island's supply of codfish comes from the province of Newfoundland in Canada. Puerto Rico is the most important single market for the codfish of the province of Newfoundland. The island purchases are about 20 percent of the total production of Newfoundland. Importations from Newfoundland represent about 95 percent of total importations of codfish. Other sources of supply have been Norway, St. Pierre de Miquelon and Faeroes Islands.

Codfish has been under price control since 1942 when the first regulation of the OPA was issued. At the expiration of Federal Price Control after World War II, the General Supplies Administration of Puerto Rico continued price control of codfish. The General Ceiling Price Regulation established the prices of codfish under the Office of Price Stabilization. On March 7, 1951, this regulation was superseded by CPR–9. The pricing technique of CPR–9 eliminated the uniform dollars-and-cents ceiling prices of codfish established under the previous Federal and Insular price regulations. In the codfish trade there are bound to be large numbers of sellers with varying dollars-and-cents markups. Enforcement becomes difficult because the purchaser does not know whether he is being overcharged unless an investigation is made of the markups of the seller. This regulation returns a commodity highly demanded by the low-income class of the island to specific ceiling prices.

Two basic types of salted codfish are customarily imported into Puerto Rico, namely: "Shore" and "Labrador". There has been a price differential in these types. Importers' selling price differential has ranged from a pre-Korean (February to June, 1950) average of 89 cents per hundredweight to $1.90 in April, 1951. Regardless of the price differential at the importers' level, both types of salted codfish have been sold generally at one price at the retail level. It has been a practice in the trade at the import and wholesale level, in sales to one purchaser of both types of codfish, to sell at one averaged price. Following this practice, the regulation fixes one price for both types of codfish at the different levels of distribution. Different ceilings for each type would create difficulties in enforcing the regulation.

The prices in this regulation are designed to maintain a generally fair and equitable margin for all sellers of salted codfish in relation to the margin existing before the Korean conflict. An analysis of historical prices and markups relationship indicates that the ceilings fixed are generally in line with the pre-Korean prices and markups.

A special provision is established in the regulation requiring all sellers of codfish, except at retail level, to supply the purchaser with a statement of the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation at time of each delivery. The regulation also requires that retailers post the ceiling price of salted codfish in a manner plainly visible to the purchasing public. These requirements will aid in the enforcement of the regulation.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR OF PRICE STABILIZATION

In formulating this section of the regulation, the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted extensively with industry representatives and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment, the provisions of this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950. The provisions of this ceiling price regulation and their effect upon business practices, cost practices, or means or aids to distribution in the industry have been considered. It is believed that no changes in such practices or methods have been effected. To the extent, however, that the provisions of the regulation may operate to compel changes in such practices or methods, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of the regulation and to effectuate the policies of the act.

So far as practicable, the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

ARTICLE 1—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1.1 What this regulation does. This regulation establishes ceiling prices for certain articles of food at various levels of distribution. These new ceiling prices, after the effective date of this regulation, will supersede the ceiling prices established under any other price regulations or orders heretofore issued by the Office of Price Stabilization.

SEC. 1.2 Applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply only to the Territory of Puerto Rico.

SEC. 1.3 Compliance with this regulation required—(a) Prohibition against selling or delivery of commodities listed at prices above the ceiling. On and after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business any commodity covered by this regulation at prices higher than the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do anything prohibited in this section.

(b) Less than ceiling prices. Prices lower than the ceiling prices may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 1.4 Evasion. The ceiling prices established by this regulation shall not be evaded either by direct or indirect methods in connection with the purchase, sale, delivery or transfer of included commodities alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation or any other charge, or discount, premium or other privileges or by tie-in agreement or other trade understanding, or by a change in the quality of the product or otherwise, except when such change in quality takes place in compliance with a regulation issued by an agency of the United States or the Government of Puerto Rico.

SEC. 1.5 (a) Notification to retailers. On and after the effective date of this regulation every person selling the commodities listed herein, except at retail, shall with each delivery supply the purchaser with a statement of the ceiling prices of the commodities at time of delivery as follows: "The Office of Price Stabilization has established fixed ceiling prices for this commodity at $____ on sales to wholesalers; at $____ on sales at wholesale; and at $____ on sales at retail".

(b) Posting. On and after the effective date of this regulation every person offering to sell the listed commodities at retail shall mark the ceiling prices of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public. The ceiling price may be marked on the commodity itself or may be posted at the place in the establishment where the commodity is offered for sale. The ceiling price and selling price shall be indicated in the form of "Ceiling price $____", or "Our ceiling $____", and "Our selling price $____".

SEC. 1.6 Sales slips and receipts. Every seller at retail of the commodities listed herein, who has customarily given purchasers sales slips or receipts, shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser, every seller of such commodity, regardless of previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the quantity and description of the commodity, and the price received for it.

SEC. 1.7 Records. If you purchase or sell listed commodities at the wholesale level, in the course of trade or business, you must preserve and keep available for inspection by the Director of Price Stabilization for a period of two years, complete and accurate records for each purchase and sale. These records must include: (1) The date of the sale or purchase; (2) the name and address of the seller or purchaser; (3) the price paid or received; (4) a description of the commodities sold or purchased; (5) the quantity sold or purchased.

SEC. 1.8 Enforcement. Any person who violates any provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for damage provided by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 1.9 Petitions for amendment. If you wish to have this regulation amended you may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation 1.

SEC. 1.10 Price for more or less than unit specified. The ceiling price for a quantity of a commodity which constitutes a fraction or multiple of the unit in terms of which a commodity is priced in this regulation, shall be proportionately computed unless otherwise provided hereafter.

SEC. 1.11 Definitions and explanations. (a) "Person". This term includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group of persons, or legal successors or representatives of the foregoing, and the United States or any other government or its political subdivisions or agencies.

(b) "Records". This term means books of account, sales lists, sales slips, orders, vouchers, contracts, receipts, invoices, bills of lading, and other papers and documents.

(c) "Sales at retail", and "Retailer". Sale at retail means a sale to an ultimate consumer. A seller who in the regular course of trade or business makes sales at retail is a retailer.

(d) "Sale at wholesale", and "wholesaler". Sale at wholesale means a sale by a person who buys a commodity and resells it to any person other than an ultimate consumer and includes any sale to the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions, any religious, educational or charitable institution for the sick, deaf, blind, disabled, aged, or insane, or any school, hospital, library, commercial or industrial user, or any agent of the foregoing. A seller who in the regular course of trade or business makes sales at wholesale is a wholesaler.

(e) "Sales to wholesalers". This term means a sale by the first distributor or importer of a commodity to a wholesaler.

(f) "You". The program "you", as used in this regulation, indicates the person subject to the regulation.

(g) "Listed commodity". This term means any commodity the ceiling price of which is fixed by this regulation.

ARTICLE 2—FISH

SEC. 2.1 Salted codfish—(a) Definition. "Salted codfish". This term refers to the varieties of codfish, whether dried or semi-dried, known as: "Shore", commonly called "amarillo"; "Labrador", commonly called "blanco"; and "Pollock", commonly called "pesca".

(b) Ceiling prices. Ceiling prices for salted codfish are established as follows:

Salted codfish:
Sales to wholesaler_ $16.30 (Per 100 lbs.)
Sales at wholesale_ $17.20 (Per 100 lbs.)
Sales at retail____ $0.20 (Per lb.)

Effective date: This regulation shall become effective July 5, 1951.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Amendment 2 to Supplementary Regulation 13]

GCPR, SR 13—COKE, COAL CHEMICALS AND COKE OVEN GAS

EXTENSION OF EXPIRATION DATE

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738) this Amendment 2 to Supplementary Regulation 13 (16 F. R. 809) to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Supplementary Regulation 13 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation would expire, by its own terms, at midnight June 30, 1951. In setting this expiration date it was expected that a permanent regulation would have been prepared and issued on or before that date to replace the present temporary regulation. It was also deemed necessary to conduct surveys of the various segments of the industry covered by the regulation prior to the preparation of a permanent regulation. Although a survey of part of the industry has been completed, the survey of the entire industry is not yet completed. Until this is done, a permanent regulation will not be prepared or issued.

It is deemed necessary therefore that the present regulation be extended for a period of three months to provide adequate time for completion of the industry surveys and the preparation of a permanent regulation, which will undoubtedly involve meetings of the industry advisory committees representing the various segments of the Coke, Coal Chemicals and Coke Oven Gas industry. The amendment extends the expiration date to midnight, September 30, 1951. It also amends section 3 (c) to provide that the producers shall not exceed their 1950 gross margin during the period from February 1, 1951, to September 30, 1951, inclusive.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 13 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation as amended, is further amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Nothing in this supplementary regulation shall authorize or permit a producer to increase his operating margin per ton of raw material carbonized for the period February 1, 1951, to midnight, September 30, 1951, inclusive, above his operating margin during the base period January 1 to December 31, 1950, inclusive.

2. The last paragraph of the regulation is amended to read:

Expiration date. This supplementary regulation and its amendments to the General Ceiling Price Regulation shall expire at midnight, September 30, 1951.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment 2 to Supplementary Regulation 13 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation shall become effective June 30, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 53]

CPR 53—LEAD SCRAP MATERIALS, SECONDARY LEAD, AND ANTIMONIAL LEAD

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), E. O. 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 53 is issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for battery lead scrap and other lead scrap materials, secondary lead, and primary and secondary antimonial lead. It also establishes ceiling prices which any person may charge for brokerage services rendered in connection with the sale of scrap battery lead plates.

With the exception of primary antimonial lead, the commodities covered by this regulation constitute the raw materials and products of the secondary lead industry. Primary antimonial lead is a by-product of the smelting of primary lead and has been included in this regulation because it is marketed in the same channels as lead scrap and secondary lead.

The operation by which lead scrap is restored to a form in which the metal can be used is relatively simple, consisting principally of melting and casting in customary shapes. Battery lead scrap, obtained mainly from obsolescent storage batteries, contains both lead and antimony and is processed to produce secondary antimonial lead which is used principally in the manufacture of new storage batteries. Currently, about 80% of the total antimonial lead produced in the United States is secondary material. Other lead scrap materials, comprised of waste generated in industrial operations and of obsolescent products containing lead, are processed into secondary lead of various grades. In all, about half of the total tonnage of lead produced in the United States comes from secondary services.

Under ordinary circumstances, secondary lead (other than antimonial lead) containing not less than 99.85% lead sells at about the same price as primary lead (poorer grades sell at differentials based upon their lower lead content) while the lead scrap materials from which such secondary lead is produced sell at somewhat lower prices with the differentials varying in response to changes in demand. The prices for both primary and secondary antimonial lead ordinarily reflect the value of their lead and antimony content, measured in terms of the prevailing prices for new metal and scrap battery lead plates sell at a price which reflects the current price for secondary antimonial lead less a charge to cover the cost of smelting. Although there was some fluctuation in the price level and price relationships of those commodities in the pre-Korea period, the changes were slight and the pattern described above generally prevailed.

The outbreak of hostilities in Korea and the inauguration of our defens program, however, resulted in price movements which completely upset the normal price relationships of the secondary lead industry. The prices of all secondary lead and lead scrap rose disproportionately to the price of primary metal and during the base period of the General Ceiling Price Regulation (December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951) some sellers were obtaining 21 cents or more a pound for secondary lead while primary lead was selling generally for 17 cents a pound. The same chaotic conditions existed in the case of antimonial lead with substantial quantities being sold at a price well above the new metal value of the lead and antimony content. The lead scrap market also reflected this confusion with some scrap being sold at prices as high as, or even higher than, the prices for primary lead.

These abnormal price relationships, now reflected in the ceiling prices established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation, have resulted in serious distortion in the normal flow of scrap, in resort to various evasive practices on the part of both buyers and sellers, and in serious hardship to some consumers. These conditions constitute a serious threat to the stabilization program and to the continued output of needed civilian items and materials and equipment essential to our defense program.

The ceiling prices established by this regulation are designed to correct this situation by rolling back the prices for the commodities covered to levels which in general will restore the relationships, on the basis of current ceiling prices for primary metals, which prevailed during periods of active but not abnormal demand. Thus the new ceiling price for secondary lead containing not less than 99.85 percent lead is 17 cents per pound while the ceiling prices for poorer grades reflect their lower value in terms of lead content. The new ceiling prices of 15.25 cents per pound for lead scrap, other than battery lead scrap is considered high enough to encourage collection of such material and yet leave a sufficient margin (1.75 cents per pound) to cover the costs of smelting.

The ceiling prices for antimonial lead have been established on the basis of 17 cents a pound for lead content and 51 cents per pound for antimonial content. The value of 51 cents per pound for antimony is within the range of ceiling prices for this metal under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. The new ceiling price for scrap battery lead plates, the most important grade of battery lead scrap, is 17 cents per pound of combined lead and antimony content less a smelting charge of 2 cents per pound of scrap. This charge was established after consultation with representatives of the industry and in the opinion of the Director it provides an adequate margin for the smelting operations involved. The ceiling price for used storage batteries sold as scrap has been established at a level which will permit profitable operations by persons who buy such batteries and recover the scrap battery lead plates contained therein.

In accordance with industry practice, this regulation establishes ceiling prices for deliveries of secondary lead and antimonial lead, in specified base quantities with additions for deliveries in lesser quantities designed to cover the extra costs involved in handling such smaller lots. Since some consumers ordinarily purchase scrap battery lead plates through brokers, the regulation permits such brokers to charge, under specified conditions, the average commission per pound which they received during the period May 24 to June 24, 1950. Brokers who were not in business during that period are required to apply to the Office of Price Stabilization for the establishment of a commission.

This regulation also permits, for 14 days, deliveries of lead scrap at a price in excess of ceiling prices in order to carry out contracts entered into before issuance of the regulation. Such deliveries may be made, however, only if the material so delivered was acquired by the seller at prices in excess of the ceiling and if before the issuance date it had been received by or was in transit to the seller. Similarly, the regulation permits, for 28 days and subject to certain conditions, deliveries by smelters of secondary lead and secondary antimonial lead at prices in excess of the ceiling in order to allow such persons to work out their high cost scrap inventories. The periods allowed for contract completion were determined upon after consideration of the relevant factors affecting the movement and marketing of lead scrap and the secondary commodities processed therefrom, and in the opinion of the Director they are adequate to prevent undue loss to sellers because of the ceiling price rollbacks accomplished by this regulation.

It is believed that the ceiling prices established in this regulation will restore the normal price relationships which prevailed in the industry, will remove the factors which have distorted the movement of commodities covered and will alleviate the hardship which some buyers have suffered. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this ceiling price regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable, the Director has given due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

In formulating this ceiling price regulation, the Director consulted with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable under existing circumstances, and has given full consideration to their recommendations.

The provisions of this ceiling price regulation and their effect upon business practices, cost practices, or means or aids to distribution in the industry have been considered. It is believed that no changes in such practices or methods have been effected. To the extent, however, that the provisions of this regulation may compel changes in such practices or methods, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of the regulation and to effectuate the policies of the act.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Coverage of this regulation—(a) Commodities and services covered. This regulation establishes ceiling prices for battery lead scrap, other lead scrap materials, secondary lead, and primary and secondary antimonial lead. It also covers brokerage services rendered in connection with the sale of scrap battery lead plates.

(b) Persons covered. This regulation applies to the following persons: (1) Any person who sells battery lead scrap or other lead scrap materials;

(2) Any smelter who sells secondary lead or primary and secondary antimonial lead;

(3) Any person who acts as a broker in connection with the sale of scrap battery lead plates to a smelter;

(4) Any importer or exporter of the commodities covered by this regulation; and

(5) Any person, who in the regular course of trade or business, buys any of the commodities or services covered by this regulation.

(c) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies in the 48 States of the United States, its Territories and Possessions, and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2. Prohibitions—(a) Against transactions above ceiling prices. Regardless of any contract or other obligation (except as provided in section 3) on and after the effective date of this regulation no person covered by this regulation shall sell or deliver, or buy or receive in the regular course of trade or business, any of the commodities and services covered by this regulation at a price in excess of the applicable ceiling price. No person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing.

Lower prices than those set forth in the regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

(b) Against tie-in transactions. No person covered by this regulation shall sell any of the commodities covered by this regulation on condition (1) that the buyer purchase from any person any product or service, or (2) that the buyer sell to any person any product or service.

No person who buys any commodity covered by this regulation in the regular course of trade or business shall participate in any such tie-in transaction.

(c) Against evasion. No person shall evade or circumvent the provisions of this regulation by direct or indirect methods in connection with the sale, purchase, delivery, or transfer of the commodities covered by this regulation, either alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation charge, discount, premium, or privilege, or by up-grading, trade understanding or otherwise.

SEC. 3. Permission to carry out certain contracts. (a) Regardless of any other provisions of this regulation, until July 13, 1951, any person other than a smelter may deliver battery lead scrap and other lead scrap materials at a price in excess of the ceiling price established herein in order to carry out any contract entered into before June 29, 1951, if the material so delivered was purchased at a price in excess of the ceiling price established herein and if before June 29, 1951, it was received by, or was in transit to, the person making delivery.

(b) Regardless of any other provision of this regulation, until July 27, 1951, any smelter may deliver secondary lead or secondary antimonial lead at a price in excess of the ceiling price established herein in order to carry out any contract entered into before June 29, 1951; Provided, That:

(1) Before June 29, 1951, the smelter bought or contracted to buy, lead scrap materials at prices in excess of the ceiling prices established herein and such scrap materials were received by, or were in transit to, the smelter before July 13, 1951; and

(2) The quantity of secondary lead or secondary antimonial lead delivered by the smelter after June 28, 1951, pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph (b) does not exceed the recoverable metallic content of the lead scrap materials which were secured by, or were in transit to the smelter, before July 13, 1951, and for which the smelter paid prices in excess of the ceiling prices established in this regulation.

SEC. 4. General pricing provisions—(a) Pricing basis. Sections 5, 6, and 7 set forth ceiling prices for the commodities covered by this regulation. These ceiling prices apply f. o. b. point of shipment, but the delivered price (price f. o. b. point of shipment plus transportation costs paid by the buyer) may not exceed the ceiling delivered prices set forth in section 8.

(b) Sales on a "where is" basis. When any commodity covered by this regulation is sold on a "where is" basis, the applicable ceiling price in sections 5, 6, or 7 must be reduced by an amount no less than the cost to the buyer of loading such commodity on the conveyance in which it is transported to the buyer's receiving point.

(c) Mixed shipments. When two or more of the commodities covered by this regulation having different ceiling prices are shipped in one vehicle, the ceiling price for the entire shipment is the lowest ceiling price applicable to any commodity contained therein unless each commodity is invoiced separately and is so loaded in the vehicle that it can be readily distinguished and separately weighed.

(d) Determination of ceiling price on the basis of quantity. Sections 5 and 7 set forth different ceiling prices for different quantities of material. The ceiling price applicable to a particular sale shall be determined on the basis of the total quantity of the commodity delivered by the seller within a period of three calendar days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays) from one or more points of shipment to (1) a public carrier for transportation to the buyer's receiving point, (2) to the buyer at his receiving point in a conveyance owned controlled by the buyer. The amount of material delivered during any calendar day may be counted only once in determining the applicable ceiling price.

In determining the ceiling price applicable to a delivery or series of deliveries only the weight of the commodity involved shall be counted, and the weight of containers, dunnage, and other tare shall be disregarded.

SEC. 5. Ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for battery lead scrap. (a) The ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for battery lead scrap is the applicable price set forth in Table A below. Special provisions for the payment of brokerage commissions in connection with certain transactions are set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

TABLE A

Commodity	Price
	15,000 pounds or more	Less than 15,000 pounds
Battery lead plates	17 cents per pound of lead and antimony content less a smelting charge of 2 cents per pound of material.	17 cents per pound of lead and antimony content less a smelting charge of 2.25 cents per pound of material.
Used storage batteries (in boxes) drained of liquid.	6.60 cents per pound	6.40 cents per pound.

Payment shall be made on the basis of weight of material determined at the buyer's plant. Determination of the applicable price for storage batteries shall be made on the basis of weight after the boxes have been drained.

Unless otherwise specified in Table A, payment for battery lead plates shall be computed on the basis of combined antimony and lead content determined by sample assay made by the buyer at his plant. Such assay must satisfy the following requirements: A chemical assay shall be made of the metal and dross derived from the sample; the sample shall be selected from the shipment in a manner consistent with the established practice of the trade and shall be of a size not smaller than is consistent with such practice; the assay in every other respect shall be performed in a manner consistent with the purpose of determining accurately the lead and antimony content of the shipment of battery lead plates; and a part of the sample shall be retained by the buyer in an air-tight sealed container for sixty days after sampling.

(b) Brokerage commissions. (1) In addition to the ceiling prices set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, any person who acts as a broker in connection with the purchase of scrap battery lead plates for a smelter may charge a commission determined in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph if all of the following conditions are complied with: the broker contracts in writing with a smelter to have delivered to the smelter not less than 300 tons of battery lead plates within a 30 day period; complete delivery under the contract is made within a period of 30 days; the material is delivered directly to the smelter from a source other than the broker's warehouse, plant, or yard; the material delivered is not owned by the broker or by any seller in which broker has a substantial financial interest, either directly or indirectly; the seller does not hold such interest in the broker; the commission is shown as a separate item in billing or invoicing; the broker does not divide or split the commission with any other person; the broker supplies the seller, or sellers, with a copy of the smelter's weight and assay report; and the contract is fully performed before the commission or any portion thereof is paid.

(2) The commission shall not exceed the average commission per ton of battery lead plates received by the broker during the period May 24, to June 24, 1950. If the broker did not receive any commission during such period, the commission shall be the amount established by the Office of Price Stabilization upon application by the broker.

Any such application shall be filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. and shall contain the following information: the broker's name and address; the name and address of the smelter with whom he has a contract; and a copy of such contract. Any commission established by the Office of Price Stabilization pursuant to such application will be in line with the commission otherwise established in this sub-paragraph and shall apply to all subsequent similar transactions by the broker.

SEC. 6. Ceiling prices, f. o. b. point of shipment, for other lead scrap materials. The ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for any quantity of soft lead scrap, hard lead scrap, battery lugs, cable lead scrap, or the lead content of lead covered cable scrap is 15.25 cents per pound.

SEC. 7. Ceiling prices, f. o. b. point of shipment, for secondary lead and antimonial lead. The ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for secondary lead and antimonial lead is the applicable price set forth in paragraph (a) of this section. Certain premiums for special shapes and packing may be charged in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(a) The ceiling price for quantities of 40,000 pounds or more is the applicable price in Table B. When deliveries in lesser quantities are made, the following amounts may be charged in addition to the applicable price in Table B:

(1) For deliveries of from 2,000 pounds to 39,999 pounds, an amount per pound determined by subtracting the quantity delivered from 40,000, dividing the result by 1,000, rounding this figure to the next highest unit, and multiplying by 0.02 cent.

Example. Assume a delivery of 28,600 pounds. 28,600 subtracted from 40,000 equals 11,400. 11,400 divided by 1,000 equals 11.4. Rounding to the next highest unit gives a figure of 12. 12 times 0.02 cent equal 0.24 cent, the amount which may be added to the applicable price in Table D.

(2) For deliveries of less than 2,000 pounds, 0.76 cent per pound plus an amount determined by subtracting the quality delivered from 2,000, dividing the result by 100, rounding this figure to the next highest unit, and multiplying by 0.05 cent.

Example. Assume a delivery of 1,520 pounds. 1,520 subtracted from 2,000 equals 480. 480 divided by 100 equals 4.8. Rounding to the next highest unit gives a figure of 5. 5 times 0.05 cent equals 0.25 cent. 0.25 cent added to 0.76 cent equal 1.01 cents, the amount which may be added to the applicable price in Table B.

TABLE B

Description	Prices
Secondary pig lead:
Containing not less than 99.85 percent lead.	17 cents per pound of material.
Containing 98.0 to 99.849 percent lead	16¾ cents per pound of material.
Containing less than 98.0 percent lead	15¼ cents per pound of material.
Antimonial lead prepared to buyer's specifications.	51 cents per pound of antimony content plus 17 cents per pound of lead content.
Crude antimonial lead	51 cents per pound of antimony content plus 17 cents per pound of lead content minus ¾ cent per pound of material.

(b) Premiums for special shapes and packing. In addition to the applicable ceiling price set forth in paragraph (a), of this section, premiums for special shapes and special packing may be charged in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph.

(1) The premium for special shapes or special packing listed in Table C is the applicable amount set forth in that table.

TABLE C

Description	Premiums
Small, sectional or linked ingots weighing 10 pounds or less.	1.25 cents per pound of material.
Bagging	20 cents per 100 pounds.
Boxing	50 cents per 100 pounds.
Strapping	50 cents per ton.
Strapping and palletizing.	85 cents per ton.

(2) The premium for sales by a smelter of secondary lead or antimonial lead in special shapes other than those listed in Table C shall be the premium established by the Office of Price Stabilization upon application by the smelter. Any such application shall be filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. and shall contain the following information: the name and address of the smelter; a description of the shape for which a premium is requested; a description of the special purpose for which the shape is used; a statement of the costs involved in making such shape; if such shape was made before the date of issuance of this regulation, a statement of the premium received on the last sale prior to such date; and the premium requested.

Any premium established by the Office of Price Stabilization pursuant to any such application will be in line with the premium for special shapes established in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

Any smelter who files an application pursuant to this sub-paragraph may charge the premium requested provided that he furnishes the buyer with a copy of his application and agrees with the buyer that he will refund the amount, if any, by which the premium charged exceeds the premium established by the Office of Price Stabilization.

SEC. 8. Ceiling delivered prices. When any of the commodities covered by this regulation is sold on a delivered basis, the ceiling price shall be the applicable price, f. o. b. point of shipment, determined in accordance with sections 5, 6, or 7 plus whichever of the following charges is applicable:

(a) When delivery is made to the buyer's receiving point by way of a public (common or contract) carrier, an amount not in excess of the actual charge (including transportation taxes) made by such carrier;

(b) When delivery is made to the buyer's receiving point by a vehicle owned or controlled by the seller, an amount not in excess of the lowest published and applicable common carrier charge (not including transportation taxes) for transporting the commodity being priced from the point or points of shipment to the buyer's receiving point.

SEC. 9. Definitions. When used in this regulation, the term:

(a) "Antomonial lead" includes both primary and secondary antimonial lead, and means any lead-antimony alloy containing not less than 98% antimony and lead combined, not less than ¼% antimony, and not more than ½% tin.

(b) "Antimonial lead prepared to buyer's specifications" means antimonial lead having an antimony content equivalent to that specified by the buyer and which may be used by the buyer without further alloying or refining.

(c) "Battery lead scrap" means scrap battery lead plates and used storage batteries in boxes. It does not include used storage batteries sold for re-use.

(d) "Crude antimonial lead" means antimonial lead having an antimony content which does not permit its use by the buyer without further alloying or refining.

(e) "Exporter" means a person who last sells any commodity covered by this regulation which is transported, after such sale, from a point in the United States, its Territories, or Possessions to a point outside thereof.

(f) "Importer" means a person who first sells any commodity covered by this regulation which is transported, either before or after such sale, from a point outside of the United States, its Territories, or Possessions to a point inside thereof.

(g) "Other lead scrap materials" means scrap materials the principal metallic content of which is lead and which contain other metals only as impurities.

(h) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representation of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government or any of its political subdivisions or any agency of the foregoing.

(i) "Point of shipment" means the point from which the material is loaded on a conveyance for shipment to the buyer's receiving point. In the case of any commodity covered by this regulation sold by an importer and delivered into the continental United States, its Territories, or Possessions by water, the point of shipment shall be deemed to be the place within the continental United States, its Territories, or Possessions where the material is loaded on a conveyance for transportation directly to the buyer. In the case of any commodity covered by this regulation sold by an importer and transported directly to the buyer overland from Mexico or Canada, the point of shipment shall be deemed to be the freight station in the United States at or nearest the point on the boundary between the United States and Mexico or Canada, as the case may be, at which the shipment first enters the United States.

(j) "Scrap" or "scrap materials" includes all materials which are the waste or by-product of any kind of metal working, as well as materials which have been discarded on account of obsolescence, failure, or any other reason.

(k) "Secondary lead" means lead more than 50% of the lead content of which is obtained from scrap material.

(l) "Smelter" means any person, including a battery manufacturer, who melts or smelts battery lead scrap or other lead scrap materials. It also includes any person who makes pigs, ingots, linked ingots, sectional ingots, or billets of lead or antimonial lead.

SEC. 10. Excise, sales, and similar taxes. Any person may collect, in addition to the ceiling price established by this regulation, any excise, sales, or similar tax imposed upon him by reason of his sale of the commodities covered by this regulation if he is not prohibited by law from making such collection and if he states separately from his selling price the amount of the tax collected.

SEC. 11. Record-keeping requirements. (a) Every person selling or purchasing any commodity covered by this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization, for a period of two years, complete and accurate records of each such sale or purchase showing: The date thereof; the name and address of the seller and the buyer; the quantity of each grade of the commodity sold or purchased; the price charged or paid, f. o. b. point of shipment for each such grade; the premiums, if any, charged or paid; the point or points of shipment and the buyer's receiving point; and the disposition of transportation charges;

(b) Every person rendering a brokerage service covered by this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization, for a period of two years, complete and accurate records of each transaction for which such service is rendered, showing: the date thereof; the name and address of the person for whom such service is rendered; the terms of the contract under which the brokerage service is rendered; the name and address of the seller or sellers of the scrap battery lead plates; and the price charged and quantity delivered by each seller.

SEC. 12. Penalties. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for damages provided by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 13. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provisions of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation 1.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on June 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

JUNE 29, 1951.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-34 as amended June 28, 1951]

M-34—SOLE LEATHER

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of the order, there was consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration was given to their recommendations. In the formulation of this order as amended June 28, 1951, however, consultation with industry representatives was rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-34 (as amended March 8, 1951) by amending paragraph (c) of section 4, by adding a new paragraph designated "(e)" in section 4, and by amending section 5.

NPA Order M-34 as amended reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Restrictions on tanning of sole leather.
4. Restrictions on cutting hides and on cutting and sale of sole leather.
5. Restrictions on sales, deliveries, and use of cut stock.
6. Limitation for acceptance of rated orders.
7. NPA assistance in placing rated orders and disposing of inventories of midsoles and innersoles.
8. Applications for adjustment or exception.
9. Records.
10. Audit and inspection.
11. Reports.
12. Communications.
13. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order applies particularly to tanners, cutters, and any person who owns or possesses sole leather whole stock, midsoles of military weight and quality, or innersoles of military weight and quality. It does not apply to any person whose use of sole leather is confined exclusively to the repairing of shoes for the general public. The purpose of this order is to insure the production of military grade midsoles and innersoles in quantities necessary to meet military requirements. This order prescribes how sole leather must be processed and cut; prohibits the cutting of sole leather unless so cut as to produce the quantities of military grade midsoles and innersoles set forth in Schedule A at the end of this order, which schedule is hereby made a part of this order; and restricts the sale, delivery, processing, or other use of all such soles cut after the effective date of this order, to the filling of orders for military shoes. This order further provides for equitable distribution of rated orders among all sole cutters in order to make possible maximum production of such soles and to reduce to a minimum disruption of normal distribution. In addition, it calls for monthly reports by every sole cutter on the quantities of sole leather cut. This order supplements NPA Reg. 2, but only those provisions of Reg. 2 which are inconsistent with this order are superseded, and all other provisions of Reg. 2 continue to apply to the sole leather industry.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes agencies of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Sole leather" means vegetable tanned sole leather commercially known as "manufacturers'" type.

(c) "Midsoles of military weight and quality" means men's cut soles of 7 to 8 iron, inclusive, of fine, semifine, imperfect fine, and No. 1 scratch grade or as otherwise required by the applicable specifications for military shoes.

(d) "Innersoles of military weight and quality" means men's soles of 5½ to 7½ iron, inclusive, first quality, full grain leather with strong fiber, of quality adapted to innersole use.

(e) "Whole stock" means sole leather sides, backs, bends, crops, strips, shoulders, bellies, and belly centers.

(f) "Sole cutter" means any person who produces outer soles, midsoles, innersoles, blocks, squares, strips, or taps from sole leather, including an independent cutter, a tanner cutter, a packer-tanner cutter, a shoe manufacturer cutter, and a tanner-shoe manufacturer cutter. Such term does not include a person whose use of sole leather is confined exclusively to the repairing of shoes for the general public.

(g) "Military shoes" means shoes required to fill orders for the United States Department of Defense and the United States Coast Guard.

(h) "Put into process" with respect to midsoles and innersoles means the first step taken in the preparation of such cut stock for shoe making or for attachments to shoes or shoe uppers.

(i) "NPA" means National Production Authority.

(j) All trade terms shall have their usual trade significance unless otherwise specified in this order.

SEC. 3. Restrictions on tanning of sole leather. No person shall process sole leather except in accordance with the requirements of Federal Specification KK-L-261C, including any emergency alternate specifications, or amendments thereof.

SEC. 4. Restrictions on cutting hides and on cutting and sale of sole leather. (a) No person shall cut bellies from cattle hides processed for sole leather (excluding stags and bulls) except in accordance with standard practice, but bellies weighing 3 pounds or more when finished shall not be cut to measure less than 6 inches across the navel when finished.

(b) No persons shall cut shoulders from cattle hides processed for sole leather (excluding stags and bulls) except in a line running perpendicularly to line of backbone at a point within the limits of the break in the foreflank.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, no sole cutter shall cut any whole stock unless such cutting will produce at least the quantities of midsoles of military weight and quality and innersoles of military weight and quality set forth in Schedule A at the end of this order. Counters meeting military specifications may be cut in substitution for innersoles but only to the extent necessary to meet orders for military shoes and in the ratio set forth in said Schedule A. All such midsoles and innersoles shall be cut on Army size dies or commercial patterns fitting the Munson last currently used for the Department of the Army, in sizes and widths to fit the sizes of shoes bought on U. S. Army tariffs as issued, or shall be cut in accordance with the shoe order schedules of the Department of the Navy or the United States Marine Corps. In the absence of such tariffs or schedules, the cut stock to which this order applies shall be of sizes meeting normal commercial cut stock casing practices.

(d) No person shall sell or deliver whole stock to any person other than a sole cutter or a person engaged in the business of selling and delivering whole stock to sole cutters exclusively.

(e) Commencing June 28, 1951, the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section shall not apply to any sole cutter who cut, during each of the months of March and April 1951, less than the designated number of each of the whole stock parts, as follows:

2,500 bends.
2,500 backs and crops, collectively.
5,000 bellies and belly centers, collectively.
5,000 single shoulders.

For the purpose of this paragraph, backs and crops collectively shall be deemed to be a whole stock part, and bellies and belly centers collectively shall be deemed to be a whole stock part.

SEC. 5. Restrictions on sales, deliveries, and use of cut stock. No sole cutter shall, after the effective date of this order, sell, deliver, put into process, or otherwise use any midsoles of military weight and quality or innersoles of military weight and quality which are cut pursuant to section 4 of this order, except to fill DO rated orders for military shoes: Provided, however, That commencing June 28, 1951, this section shall not apply to any sole cutter described in paragraph (e) of section 4 who is not a manufacturer of military shoes.

SEC. 6. Limitation for acceptance of rated orders. Unless otherwise specifically directed by NPA, no sole cutter shall be required to accept DO rated orders for midsoles of military weight and quality or innersoles of military weight and quality for shipment in any one month in excess of his scheduled production of such midsoles or innersoles in that month, in accordance with the provisions of this order.

SEC. 7. NPA assistance in placing rated orders and disposing of inventories of midsoles and innersoles. Any person who is unable to place a rated order for midsoles of military weight and quality or innersoles of military weight and quality due to a limitation imposed by section 6 of this order should apply to NPA, Ref.: Order M-34, specifying the sole cutters who refused to accept the order. NPA will arrange to assist him in locating sources of supply. A sole cutter may at any time apply to NPA for assistance in disposing of his inventories of midsoles and innersoles which may be accumulated as a result of this order. Provision is made for such requests in the form referred to in section 11 of this order.

SEC. 8. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file with NPA a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interests of national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment which claim that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each such request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 9. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 10. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

SEC. 11. Reports. (a) Every sole cutter shall, on or before the tenth day of each month, commencing March 10, 1951, file with NPA a report on Form NPAF-28, setting forth the number of pieces of sole leather cut and all other information required by such form. The first of such reports shall cover the period from the effective date of this order to and including February 28, 1951. Thereafter each such report shall cover the calendar month immediately preceding the month in which such report is required to be filed.

(b) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such other reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139f).

SEC. 12. Communications. All communications and reports concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-34.

SEC. 13. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on June 28, 1951.

Schedule A

From each day's cutting of whole stock (1) the total number of pairs of midsoles of military weight and quality shall be at least equal to the total number of pieces of the respective whole stock part (listed in Column A) cut that day, multiplied by the number of pairs, if any, in Column B set opposite the name of such respective whole stock part, and (2) the total number of pairs of innersoles of military weight and quality shall be at least equal to the total number of pieces of such respective whole stock part cut that day, multiplied by the number of pairs, if any, in Column C, or, in the case of belly and belly center parts, multiplied by the maximum possible number of pairs, as follows:

Column A	Column B	Column C
Whole stock part	Pairs of midsoles per piece cut	Pairs of innersoles per piece cut [1]
Bend, any weight [2]	1½	1 (5½ to 7½ iron, inclusive).
Crop, any weight	1½	3 (6 to 7½ iron, inclusive).
Back, any weight	1½	3 (6 to 7½ iron, inclusive).
Belly	0	Maximum possible (5½ to 7½ iron, inclusive).
Belly center	0	Maximum possible (5½ to 7½ iron, inclusive).
Single shoulder	0	2 (6 to 7½ iron, inclusive).

[1] Subject to the provisions of section 4 of Order M-34 (of which this schedule is a part), counters may be cut in substitution for innersoles to the extent required by military orders in the ratio of two pairs of counters to one pair of innersoles.

[2] Includes bend strips, blocks, or squares on the basis of ten pounds equals one bend.

[NPA Order M-68 as amended July 1, 1951]

M-68—PASSENGER CARS

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. In the formulation of this order as amended, however, consultation with industry representatives was found impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

NPA Order M-68 is hereby amended by substituting the following new sections and paragraphs for the corresponding sections and paragraphs as contained in the original order: Section 1; paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 2; paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 3; paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 4; section 5; and section 8. This amendment adds aluminum castings and aluminum forgings to the materials controlled in passenger car manufacture. As so amended, NPA Order M-68 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Authorized use of controlled materials, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings.
4. Adjustment of average car usage.
5. Continued conservation of materials.
6. Use of secondary aluminum.
7. Rated orders.
8. Other orders or regulations.
9. Applications for adjustment or exception.
10. Records and reports.

Sec.
11. Communications.
12. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 12 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve materials required for the national defense. It limits the use of controlled materials, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, in the manufacture of passenger cars, but it does not limit by number the units of passenger cars which may be manufactured.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Manufacture" means to put into process, machine, fabricate, or otherwise alter controlled materials (as defined in paragraph (e) of this section), aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, by physical or chemical means.

(b) "Component parts" means parts which have been processed and which have lost their identity as controlled materials.

(c) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons.

(d) "Passenger car" means any passenger vehicle (including a station wagon or a taxicab) manufactured in the United States having a seating capacity of less than 11 persons which is propelled by an internal combustion engine.

(e) "Controlled materials" means steel, copper, and aluminum in the forms and shapes indicated in schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(f) "Percentage of industry" means the percentage set forth in schedule A of this order for each person engaged in the manufacture of passenger cars.

(g) "Industry volume" means 1,200,000 passenger cars.

(h) "Average car usage" means the weight of each controlled material, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, used by a person in the manufacture of passenger cars during the month of January 1950, divided by the number of passenger cars manufactured by him during that month, and adjusted as provided in section 4 of this order.

(i) "NPA" means National Production Authority.

SEC. 3. Authorized use of controlled materials, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings. (a) No person shall use in the manufacture of passenger cars during the third calendar quarter of 1951 a quantity by weight of each controlled material, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, in excess of the authorized quantity of each such material, aluminum castings, and forgings, which he shall determine as follows: He shall multiply the industry volume by his percentage of industry, and multiply the result thus obtained by his average car usage of each controlled material, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings.

(b) The monthly use of any controlled material, aluminum castings, or aluminum forgings shall not exceed 40 percent of his authorized use thereof for purposes of the third calendar quarter of 1951.

SEC. 4. Adjustment of average car usage. A person engaged in the manufacture of passenger cars who changes his method of manufacture during the third calendar quarter of 1951 by purchasing a greater or lesser proportion of component parts per passenger car than he purchased during the month of January 1950, shall make one of the following adjustments in order to compute his average car usage:

(a) If he purchases a greater proportion of component parts, he shall deduct from his average car usage of each controlled material, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, the quantity by weight of each controlled material, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, which was used in the manufacture of the additional components so purchased per passenger car; or

(b) If he purchases a lesser proportion of component parts, he shall add to his average car usage of each controlled material, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, the quantity by weight of each controlled material, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, which he uses in the manufacture of component parts per passenger car which he no longer purchases.

SEC. 5. Continued conservation of materials. No person engaged in the manufacture of passenger cars who, after January 1950, made changes in the specifications thereof pursuant to or as a result of orders and regulations of NPA in order to conserve materials required for the national defense, shall, during the third calendar quarter of 1951, use a greater proportion of materials so conserved than he used on June 1, 1951. The quantity by weight of each controlled material, aluminum castings, or aluminum forgings, conserved by him as a result of changes made in specifications since January 1, 1950, shall be deducted from his average car usage of the controlled material, aluminum castings, or aluminum forgings subject to such conservation, and the quantity by weight of the substituted controlled material, aluminum castings, or aluminum forgings, if any, shall be added to such average car usage.

SEC. 6. Use of secondary aluminum. No person engaged in the manufacture of passenger cars shall use aluminum in the manufacture of passenger car engine pistons for passenger cars unless the aluminum therefor is produced from remelted aluminum scrap, and no person engaged in the manufacture of passenger cars shall purchase from another person passenger car engine pistons made of aluminum not produced from remelted aluminum scrap.

SEC. 7. Rated orders. The manufacture of passenger cars to fill orders that are rated under NPA Reg. 2, as amended, shall be subject to the limitations of this order: Provided, however, That where such limitations will delay or prevent the filling of such rated orders, applications may be made for adjustment or exception pursuant to section 9 of this order.

SEC. 8. Other orders or regulations. The provisions of this order do not authorize the use of any materials where such use in the manufacture of any product is prohibited by any other order or regulation of NPA, but any person may use controlled materials, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings to the extent provided in this order in the manufacture of passenger cars, regardless of the limitations on the rate of use of such materials, castings, and forgings as stated in any other order or regulation of NPA. Orders or regulations which limit the rate of use of materials other than controlled materials, aluminum castings, and aluminum forgings, remain applicable and in full force and effect. The provisions of this order are subject to the provisions of other orders of NPA which limit the specifications of a product as to material content or which control the distribution of any material, part, or product by allocation.

SEC. 9. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 10. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his files, for at least 2 years, records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method, nor does it require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided the system assures an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 11. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the Motor Vehicle Division, National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–68.

SEC. 12. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on July 1, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

Chapter XVI—Production and Marketing Administration, Department of Agriculture

[Defense Food Order No. 3]

DFO–3—AGRICULTURAL IMPORTS

RESTRICTIONS

It is hereby found and determined that the provisions of this order are necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense; and this order is, therefore, made effective pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), and delegations of authority thereunder. Consultation with industry representatives in the formulation of this order has been rendered impracticable. All of the items subject to this import order are presently included among the items subject to similar controls under the Agriculture-Import Order (14 F. R. 3701, 4660; 16 F. R. 1113). The Agriculture-Import Order is being terminated at the close of June 30, 1951, with the expiration of the statutory authority pursuant to which it was issued. It is essential that import controls over the items covered by this Defense Food Order be continued effective July 1, 1951, with no gap intervening between the effective date of this order and the termination date of the Agriculture-Import Order. Accordingly, consultation with industry repesentatives has been omitted.

This order imposes import controls over flaxseed, flaxseed screenings, linseed oil, rice and rice products. Flaxseed, flaxseed screenings and linseed oil are important industrial commodities and rice and rice products are basic food commodities. It is necessary to restrict importations of these commodities into the United States in the interests of the national defense in order to prevent the diversion to the United States of the supplies of these commodities needed by other countries associated with this country in the present international emergency and the consequent disruption of the economies of those countries, particularly since such importations are not needed by this country. The order is also necessary to assure that shipping, storage, and other facilities required for national defense purposes will not be employed uselessly in handling imports of these commodities into the United States and consequent increased exports. Importation of the commodities listed, moreover, would discourage domestic production thereof and could result in dependence of the United States on foreign sources of supply in times of emergency. It is essential therefore to control imports of the specified commodities to promote the national defense.

16. Effect on liability of removal of food from order.
17. Effective date.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 17 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply E. O. 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), E. O. 10200 (16 F. R. 61).

SECTION 1. Definitions. (a) "Consignee" means the person to whom a food is consigned at the time of importation.

(b) "Administrator" means the Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, and any other officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture authorized to act in his stead.

(c) "Director" means the Director of the Fats and Oils Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, and any other officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture authorized to act in his stead.

(d) "Food" means an item or commodity listed from time to time in Appendix A.

(e) "Appendix A" means Appendix A to this order as from time to time amended.

(f) "Governing date" means the date as shown in Appendix A when such food becomes subject to this order.

(g) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or any territory or possession of the United States from any foreign country. It includes shipments into a free port, free zone, or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands and shipments in bond into the continental United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands for transshipment into Canada, Mexico, or any other foreign country.

(h) "In transit" means that food (1) is afloat, (2) has had an on-board ocean bill of lading actually issued with respect to it, or (3) has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, or any territory or possession of the United States.

(i) "Owner" means any person who has any property interest in food except a person whose interest is held solely as a security for the payment of money.

(j) "Person" includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of the foregoing. It also includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

SEC. 2. Restrictions on imports. No person, except as authorized in writing by the Director, shall import, purchase for import, receive or offer to receive on consignment for import, or make any contract or other arrangement for the importing of any food listed in Appendix A after the governing date. The foregoing restrictions shall apply to the importation of any food listed in Appendix A regardless of the existence on the governing date or thereafter of any contract or other arrangement for the importation of such food. In the issuance of authorizations, the Director shall act in accordance with the standards and guides set forth in section 8.

SEC. 3. Applications for authorizations. Any person desiring such authorization, whether owner, purchaser, seller, or consignee of the food to be imported, or agent of any of them, may make application therefor by letter or telegram or on Form WFO–63–2, Form PMA–551, or such other form as may be issued for this purpose by the Director, addressed to the Fats and Oils Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Defense Food Order No. 3 (Agricultural Imports). Unless otherwise expressly permitted, such authorization shall apply only to the particular food and shipment mentioned therein and to the persons and their agents concerned with such shipment. Such authorizations shall not be assignable or transferable either in whole or in part, except as authorized in writing by the Director.

SEC. 4. Restrictions on financing. No bank or other person shall participate, by financing or otherwise, in any arrangement which such bank or person knows or has reason to know involves the importation after the governing date of any food subject to this order, unless such bank or person either has received a copy of the authorization by the Director under the provisions of section 3 or is satisfied from known facts that the proposed transaction comes within the exceptions set forth in section 5.

SEC. 5. Exceptions. Unless otherwise directed by the Director the restrictions set forth in this order shall not apply:

(a) To any United States Governmental department, agency, or corporation, or any agent acting for any such department, agency, or corporation; or

(b) To food of which any United States Governmental department, agency, or corporation is the owner at the time of importation; or

(c) To food which on the governing date was covered by an authorization issued under the Agriculture-Import Order (14 F. R. 3701, 4660; 16 F. R. 1113) provided such food is imported in strict compliance with such authorization; or

(d) To food added to Appendix A by the Administrator after the effective date of this order, which on the governing date was in transit; or

(e) To food consigned or imported as a sample where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $25.00; or

(f) To food consigned as a gift or imported for personal use where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $100.00; or

(g) To food shipped into the United States in transit from one point in Mexico to another point in Mexico, or from one point in Canada to another point in Canada; or

(h) To inter-island shipments of food between Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands; or

(i) To imports of food from the continental United States into Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands or any territory or possession of the United States.

This order shall not affect any other regulations now or hereafter issued by any governmental authority covering shipments of food from the continental United States to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, or to any territory or possession of the United States.

SEC. 6. Restrictions after importation. Unless otherwise provided by the terms of the authorization (or amendments thereof) issued pursuant to section 3, any food which is imported in accordance with the provisions of this order after the governing date, may be sold, delivered, processed, consumed, purchased, or received without restriction under this order; but all such transactions shall be subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations, orders, and directions of the United States Department of Agriculture which now or hereafter may be in effect with respect to such food.

SEC. 7. Changes of commodities listed in Appendix A. The Administrator may from time to time add commodities to or remove commodities from Appendix A.

SEC. 8. Standards and guides. In the issuance of authorizations, and in the addition of commodities to and the removal of commodities from Appendix A, the following standards and guides will be applied:

(a) In the addition of commodities to and the removal of commodities from Appendix A, the Administrator will be satisfied that the exercise of import controls with respect to the commodities listed in Appendix A is necessary or approprite to promote the national defense.

(b) In the issuance of authorizations, the Director shall allocate the authorizations granted by him on a fair and equitable basis among different groups of applicants and among applicants within the same group.

SEC. 9. Records and reports. (a) No food which is imported after the governing date, including food imported by or for the account of any United States Governmental department, agency, or corporation, shall be entered through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose, whether for consumption, for warehouse, in transit, in bond, for re-export, for appraisal, or otherwise, unless the person making the entry shall file in duplicate with the entry Form WFO–63–1, Form PMA–550, or such other form as may be issued for this purpose by the Director. The filing of such form a second time shall not be required upon any subsequent entry of such food in the same importation through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose; nor shall the filing of such form be required upon the withdrawal of any food from bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs, regardless of the date when such food was first transported into the continental United States. Both copies of such form shall be transmitted by the Collector of Customs to the Director, Fats and Oils Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Defense Food Order No. 3 (Agricultural Imports).

(b) The Director shall be entitled to obtain such information from, and require such reports and the keeping of such records by, any person as may be necessary or appropriate, in the Director's discretion, in the enforcement or administration of the provisions of this order.

SEC. 10. Audits and inspections. The Director shall be entitled to make such audit and inspection of the books, records, and other writings, premises, and stocks of imported foods of any person, and to make such investigations as may be necessary or appropriate, in the Director's discretion, in the enforcement or administration of the provisions of this order.

SEC. 11. Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless instructions to the contrary are issued by the Director, be addressed to the Fats and Oils Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Defense Food Order No. 3 (Agricultural Imports).

SEC. 12. Revocations. Any import authorization issued hereunder may be revoked at any time by the Director. Such revocation shall not affect food in transit at the time of revocation.

SEC. 13. Petitions for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional or unreasonable hardship on him may file a petition for relief with the Director. Petitions shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor. The Director may take such action with reference to the petition as he deems appropriate. If the petitioner is dissatisfied with the action taken by the Director on the petition, he may obtain, by requesting the Director therefor, a review of such action by the Administrator. After said review, the Administrator may take such action as he deems appropriate, which action shall be final.

SEC. 14. Delegation of authority. The administration of this order and the powers vested in the Administrator, insofar as such powers relate to the administration of this order, are hereby delegated to the Director. The Director is authorized to redelegate any or all of the authority vested in him by this order to any officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture.

SEC. 15. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order is guilty of a crime, and may be prosecuted under any and all applicable laws. Civil action may also be instituted to enforce any liability or duty created by, or to enjoin any violation of, any provision of this order or requirement pursuant hereto. The Director may direct the disposition and use of any food which is imported without authorization as required by this order.

SEC. 16. Effects on liability of removal of food from order. The removal of any food from Appendix A shall not be construed to affect in any way any liability for violations of this order which accrued or were incurred prior to the date of removal.

SEC. 17. Effective date. This order shall be effective July 1, 1951.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by, and subsequent reporting and record-keeping requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 29th day of June 1951.

[SEAL] HAROLD K. HILL,
Acting Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration.

Chapter I—Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency

Subchapter E—Fellowships, Internships, Training

PART 61—FELLOWSHIPS

PART 63—NATIONAL HEART INSTITUTE TRAINEESHIPS

TERMINATION OF FELLOWSHIPS AND TRAINEESHIP

1. Section 61.13 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 61.13 Termination of fellowships. Upon the recommendation of a Fellowship Board, the Surgeon General may terminate an appointment before its expiration date on the request of the fellow, or because of unsatisfactory performance, unfitness, or inability to carry out the purposes of the fellowship. The Surgeon General may also terminate an appointment upon the recommendation of the Federal Security Agency Board of Inquiry on Employee Loyalty and upon its finding, made in accordance with the Agency's procedures adopted pursuant to Executive Order 9835, as amended by Executive Order 10241, that, on all the evidence, there is a reasonable doubt, where the fellow is a citizen of the United States, as to his loyalty to the Government of the United States or, where not such a citizen, that he has furnished a false statement or has failed to comply with any required assurances regarding his non-advocacy of, or his non-membership in any organization and advocates, the overthrow of such Government by force or violence. Such procedures shall include those for summary suspension pending a hearing and, with respect to regular fellows, a right of appeal to the Surgeon General in lieu of the appeal to the Federal Security Administrator but not the right of appeal to the Loyalty Review Board.

2. Section 63.7 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 63.7 Termination of traineeship. The Surgeon General may terminate any traineeship prior to the date it would otherwise expire either on request of the trainee or because of unsatisfactory performance, unfitness or inability to carry out the purposes of the traineeship. The Surgeon General may also terminate a traineeship upon the recommendation of the Federal Security Agency Board of Inquiry on Employee Loyalty and upon its finding, made in accordance with the Agency's procedures adopted pursuant to Executive Order 9835 as amended by Executive Order 10241, that, on all the evidence, there is reasonable doubt, where the trainee is a citizen of the United States, as to his loyalty to the Government of the United States, or where not such a citizen, that he has furnished a false statement or has failed to comply with any required assurances regarding his non-advocacy of, or his non-membership in any organization that advocates, the overthrow of such Government by force or violence. Such procedures shall include those for summary suspension pending a hearing and a right of appeal to the Surgeon General in lieu of the appeal to the Federal Security Administrator but shall not include the right of appeal to the Loyalty Review Board.

Effective date. The foregoing amendments shall be effective upon date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[P. & S. Docket No. 435]

MARKET AGENCIES AT DENVER UNION STOCK YARDS

NOTICE OF PETITION REGARDING SCHEDULED RATES AND CHARGES

Pursuant to the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U. S. C. 181 et seq.), an order was issued on June 12, 1950 (9 A. D. 703) prescribing respondents' rates for the period beginning July 1, 1950 and ending September 30, 1951.

By petition filed on June 13, 1951, respondents have requested permission to file and establish the schedule of rates and charges attached to and made a part of the petition (Tariff No. 14). The rates set out in the proposed tariff are as follows:

ARTICLE 2—SELLING, RESELLING AND BUYING CHARGES

SECTION A

Cattle:	Per head
Consignments of 1 head and 1 head only	$1.30
Consignments of more than 1 head:
First 5 head in each consignment	1.10
Next 10 head in each consignment	1.05
Each head over 15 in each consignment	1.00

NOTE: Maximum charges on a consignment of cattle arriving by rail shall not exceed an amount equal to $33 multiplied by the number of cars in which the consignment arrives at the market.

SECTION B

Calves:	Per head
Consignments of 1 head and 1 head only	$0.75
Consignments of more than 1 head:
First 5 head in each consignment	.65
Next 10 head in each consignment	.60
Each head over 15 in each consignment	.50

NOTE: Maximum charges on a consignment of calves arriving by rail shall not exceed an amount equal to $33 multiplied by the number of single-deck cars in which the consignment arrives plus $44 multiplied by the number of double-deck cars in which the consignment arrives at the market.

SECTION C

Bulls:	Per head
Sold for slaughter or as feeders, irrespective of the mode of arrival or departure	$1.75

SECTION D

Hogs: (irrespective of the mode of arrival or departure):	Per head
Consignments of 1 head and 1 head only	$0.55
Consignments of more than 1 head:
First 10 head in each consignment	.45
Next 15 head in each consignment	.40
Each head over 25 in each consignment	.30

ARTICLE 2—SELLING, RESELLING AND BUYING CHARGES—Continued

SECTION E

Sheep:	Per head

Ewes for breeding purposes (1 year and over)	1.00

SECTION G

On all carloads of livestock that are put through the auction sales ring during Stock Show Week, one and only one regular selling commission shall be charged by the market agency, provided the carload is of the same ownership and same identity.

SECTION H

Any sale of livestock made at the auction sales ring during stock show week shall be contingent and not final until the buyer of said livestock has made satisfactory settlement or arrangements with the market agency handling the said livestock. But in the event that the market agency has issued release or releases to the buyer of the livestock then all liability for payment of said livestock to the owner or owners must be assumed and made by the market agency.

ARTICLE 3—EXTRA SERVICE CHARGES

The following extra service charges are applicable to all species:

SECTION A

When a buyer who has purchased livestock from a commission firm requests any service and/or assistance, and/or elects to have the firm place billing order or orders and service is actually rendered, one-fourth of the regular buying commission shall be charged for such service. This service charge shall not be assessed to purchasers of registered or purebred cattle bought for breeding purposes during the week of the stock show, or when regular buying commission is charged.

SECTION B

When livestock bought from other firms by the purchaser himself is paid for and/or picked up and/or billed out or any other assistance is rendered in the purchase of the stock, one-half the regular buying commission shall be charged to the buyer.

SECTION C

For each additional weight draft over 3, on account of sales classification (not to exceed $3 on any one owner): $0.25.

No extra draft charges shall be made on a purchase order.

For each additional check, each additional account of sales, each proceeds deposited or bank credit, over 2: $0.05.

SECTION D

When buys are made to complete a purchase order from more than two agencies and/or dealers, a charge of 50 cents shall be made for each additional agency and/or dealer in excess of two.

SECTION E

On all livestock passing through the sales ring of the Denver Union Stockyards at the feeder auction sales there shall be collected in addition to the regular selling commission the following auctioneer's fee:

Cattle or calves: $0.50 for each head.

Cattle or calves: $5 for each carload.

(Lots of 10 head or more to be assessed at the carload rate.)

Any number of head of cattle in excess of 35 head arriving other than by rail an additional auctioneer's fee of 15 cents per head shall be charged.

Any number of head of calves in excess of 60 head arriving other than by rail an additional auctioneer's fee of 10 cents per head shall be charged.

For the purpose of the auctioneer's fee a maximum of 35 head of cattle shall be considered a carload.

For the purpose of the auctioneer's fee a maximum of 60 head of calves shall be considered a carload.

The definition of cattle and calves as set forth under Article 1 shall be applicable at these feeder auction sales.

The rate of auctioneer's fees set forth above shall be applicable only to auction sales of feeder cattle or calves held other than during Stock Show Week.

If authorized, the modifications will produce additional revenues for the respondents and increase the cost of marketing to the shippers. Accordingly, it appears that this public notice should be given of the filing of the petition and its contents in order that all interested persons may have an opportunity to be heard in the matter.

All interested persons who desire to be heard upon the matter requested in said petition shall notify the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 15 days from the date of publication of this notice.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of June 1951.

[SEAL] KATHERINE L. MASON,
Hearing Clerk.

[7 CFR, Part 52]

PROCESSED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, PROCESSED PRODUCTS THEREOF, AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCESSED FOOD PRODUCTS[1]

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Consideration is being given to the adoption of the proposed regulations set forth below in lieu of the existing regulations and requirements for Plants Operating under Continuous Inspection on a Contract Basis (7 CFR Part 52), pursuant to the authority contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759; 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950) and the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.).

The proposed changes concern the increasing of fees for inspection services due to increased costs incurred by the Administration in the performance of the services provided in the aforesaid Regulations. A proposed revision is made in the sampling rates for officially drawn samples to accord with more efficient inspection and other minor changes.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the proposed revision of the regulations, shall file the same, in duplicate, with the Chief, Processed Products Standardization and Inspection Division, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 10 days after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The relevant data, views, and arguments so presented will be considered in the final formulation and adoption of the revised regulations.

§ 52.1 Administration of regulations. The Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, is charged with the administration of the regulations in this part except that he may delegate any or all of such functions to any officer or employee of the Production and Marketing Administration of the Department, in his discretion.

DEFINITIONS

§ 52.2 Meaning of words. Words in the regulations in this part in the singular form shall be deemed to import the plural and vice versa, as the case may demand.

§ 52.3 Terms defined. For the purpose of the regulations in this part unless the context otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Act" means the following provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and of the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759; 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950), or any other act of Congress conferring similar authority:

AGRICULTURAL MARKETING ACT OF 1946

* * * To inspect, certify, and identify the class, quality, quantity, and condition of agricultural products when shipped or received in interstate commerce, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe, including assessment and collection of such fees as will be reasonable and as nearly as may be to cover the cost of the service rendered, to the end that agricultural products may be marketed to the best advantage, that trading may be facilitated, and that consumers may be able to obtain the quality product which they desire, except that no person shall be required to use the service authorized by this subsection. * * *

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE APPROPRIATION ACT, 1950

Market inspection of farm products. For the investigation and certification, in one or more jurisdictions, to shippers and other interested parties of the class, quality, and condition of any agricultural commodity or food product, whether raw, dried, canned, or otherwise processed, and any product containing an agricultural commodity or derivative thereof when offered for interstate shipment or when received at such important central markets as the Secretary may from time to time designate, or at points which may be conveniently reached therefrom under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, including payment of such fees as will be reasonable and as nearly as may be to cover the cost for the services rendered. * * *

Marketing farm products. For acquiring and diffusing among the people of the United States useful information relative to the needed supplies, standardization, classification, grading, preparation for market, handling, transportation, storage, and marketing of farm and food products, including the demonstration and promotion of the use of uniform standards of classification of American farm and food products throughout the world * * *

(x "Unofficially drawn sample" means any sample that has been selected by any person other than an inspector or licensed sampler, or any other person not authorized by the Administrator pursuant to the regulations in this part.

(y) "Plant" means the premises, buildings, structures, and equipment (including, but not being limited to, machines, utensils, and fixtures) employed or used with respect to the manufacture or production of processed products.

INSPECTION SERVICE

§ 52.4 Where inspection service is offered. Inspection service may be furnished wherever any inspector or licensed sampler is available and the facilities and conditions are satisfactory for the conduct of such service.

§ 52.5 Who may obtain inspection service. An application for inspection service may be made by any interested party, including, but not limited, to, the United States and any instrumentality or agency thereof, any State, county, municipality, or common carrier, and any authorized agent in behalf of the foregoing.

§ 52.6 How to make application. An application for inspection service may be made to the office of inspection or to any inspector, at or nearest the place where the service is desired; and an up-to-date list of the Standardization and Inspection Field Offices of the Department may be obtained upon request to the Administrator. Satisfactory proof that the applicant is an interested party, and satisfactory proof of the authority of any person applying for inspection service, shall be furnished.

§ 52.7 Information required in connection with application. Application for inspection service shall be made in the English language and may be made orally (in person or by telephone), in writing, or by telegraph. If an application for inspection service is made orally, such application shall be confirmed promptly in writing. In connection with each application for inspection service, there shall be furnished such information as may be necessary to perform an inspection on the processed product for which application for inspection is made, including but not limited to, the name of the product, name and address of the packer or plant where such product was packed, the location of the product, its lot or car number, codes or other identification marks, the number of containers, the type and size of the containers, the interest of the applicant in the product, whether the lot has been inspected previously to the application by any Federal agency and the purpose for which inspection is desired.

§ 52.8 Filing of application. An application for inspection service shall be regarded as filed only when made in accordance with the regulations in this part.

§ 52.9 Record of filing time. A record showing the date and hour when each application for inspection or for an appeal inspection is received shall be maintained.

§ 52.10 When application may be rejected. An application for inspection service may be rejected by the Administrator (a) for non-compliance by the applicant with the regulations in this part, or (b) when it appears that to perform the inspection service would not be to the best interests of the Government. Such applicant shall be promptly notified of the reason for such rejection.

§ 52.11 When application may be withdrawn. An application for inspection service may be withdrawn by the applicant at any time before the inspection is performed: Provided, That, the applicant shall pay any travel expenses, telephone, telegraph or other expenses which have been incurred by the inspection service in connection with such application.

§ 52.12 Disposition of inspected sample. Any processed product sample that has been used for inspection may be returned to the applicant, at his request and expense; otherwise it shall be destroyed, or disposed of to a charitable institution.

§ 52.13 Basis of inspection. Inspection service shall be performed on the basis of the appropriate U. S. Standards for grades of processed products, Federal or Quartermaster Corps specifications, written buyer and seller contract specifications or any written specification by an applicant which is approved by the Administrator.

§ 52.14 Order of inspection service. Inspection service shall be performed, insofar as practicable, in the order in which applications therefor are made except that precedence may be given to any such applications which are made by the United States (including, but not being limited to, any instrumentality or agency thereof) and to any application for an appeal inspection.

§ 52.15 Postponing inspection service. If the inspector determines that it is not possible accurately to ascertain the quality or condition of a processed product immediately after processing because the product has not reached equilibrium in color, sirup density, or drained weight, or for any other substantial reason, he may postpone inspection service for such period as may be necessary.

§ 52.16 Financial interest of inspector. No inspector shall inspect any processed product in which he is directly or indirectly financially interested.

§ 52.17 Forms of certificates. Inspection certificates, certificates of sampling or loading, and other memoranda concerning inspection service shall be issued on forms approved by the Administrator.

§ 52.18 Issuance of certificates. (a) An inspection certificate may be issued only by an inspector: Provided, That, another employee of the inspection service may sign any such certificate covering any processed product inspected by an inspector when given power of attorney by such inspector and authorized by the Administrator, to affix the inspector's signature to an inspection certificate which has been prepared in accordance with the facts set forth in the notes, made by the inspector, in connection with the inspection.

(b) A certificate of loading shall be issued and signed by the inspector or licensed sampler authorized to check the loading of a specific lot of processed products: Provided, That, another employee of the inspection service may sign such certificate of loading covering any processed product check loaded by an inspector or licensed sampler when given power of attorney by such inspector or licensed sampler and authorized by the Administrator to affix the inspector's or licensed sampler's signature to a certificate of loading which has been prepared in accordance with the facts set forth in the notes made by the inspector or licensed sampler in connection with the checkloading of a specific lot of processed products.

§ 52.19 Issuance of corrected certificates. A corrected inspection certificate may be issued by the inspector who issued the original certificate after distribution of a certificate if errors, such as incorrect dates, code marks, grade statements, lot or car numbers, container sizes, net or drained weights, quantities, or errors in any other pertinent information require the issuance of a corrected certificate. Whenever a corrected certificate is issued, such certificate shall supersede the inspection certificate which was issued in error and the superseded certificate shall become null and void after the issuance of the corrected certificate.

§ 52.20 Issuance of an inspection report in lieu of an inspection certificate. A letter report in lieu of an inspection certificate may be issued by an inspector when such action appears to be more suitable than an inspection certificate: Provided, That, the issuance of such report is approved by the Administrator.

§ 52.21 Disposition of inspection certificates. The original of any inspection certificate, issued under the regulations in this part, and not to exceed four copies thereof, if requested prior to issuance, shall be delivered or mailed promptly to the applicant, or person designated by the applicant. All other copies shall be filed in such manner as the Administrator may designate. Additional copies of any such certificates may be supplied to any interested party as provided in § 52.50.

§ 52.22 Report of inspection results prior to issuance of formal report. Upon request of any interested party, the results of an inspection may be telegraphed or telephoned to him, or to any other person designated by him, at his expense.

APPEAL INSPECTION

§ 52.23 When appeal inspection may be requested. An application for an appeal inspection may be made by any interested party who is dissatisfied with the results of an inspection as stated in an inspection certificate, if the lot of processed products can be positively identified by the inspection service as the lot from which officially drawn samples were previously inspected. Such application shall be made within thirty (30) days following the day on which the previous inspection was performed, except upon approval by the Administrator the time within which an application for appeal inspection may be made may be extended.

§ 52.24 Where to file for an appeal inspection and information required. (a) Application for an appeal inspection may be filed with:

(1) The inspector who issued the inspection certificate on which the appeal covering the processed product is requested; or

(2) The inspector in charge of the office of inspection at or nearest the place where the processed product is located.

(b) The application for appeal inspection shall state the location of the lot of processed products and the reasons for the appeal; and date and serial number of the certificate covering inspection of the processed product on which the appeal is requested, and such application may be accompanied by a copy of the previous inspection certificate and any other information that may facilitate inspection. Such application may be made orally (in person or by telephone), in writing, or by telegraph. If made orally, written confirmation shall be made promptly.

§ 52.25 When an application for an appeal inspection may be withdrawn. An application for appeal inspection may be withdrawn by the applicant at any time before the appeal inspection is performed: Provided, That, the applicant shall pay any travel expenses, telephone, telegraph, or other expenses which have been incurred by the inspection service in connection with such application.

§ 52.26 When appeal inspection may be refused. An application for an appeal inspection may be refused if:

(a) The reasons for the appeal inspection are frivolous or not substantial;

(b) The quality or condition of the processed product has undergone a material change since the inspection covering the processed product on which the appeal inspection is requested;

(c) The lot in question is not, or cannot be made accessible for the selection of officially drawn samples;

(d) The lot relative to which appeal inspection is requested cannot be positively identified by the inspector as the lot from which officially drawn samples were previously inspected; or

(e) There is noncompliance with the regulations in this part. Such applicant shall be notified promptly of the reason for such refusal.

§ 52.27 Who shall perform appeal inspection. An appeal inspection shall be performed by an inspector or inspectors (other than the one from whose inspection the appeal is requested) authorized for this purpose by the Administrator and, whenever practical, such appeal inspection shall be conducted jointly by two such inspectors: Provided, That, the inspector who made the inspection on which the appeal is requested may be authorized to draw the samples when another inspector or licensed sampler is not available in the area where the product is located.

§ 52.28 Appeal inspection certificate. After an appeal inspection has been completed, an appeal inspection certificate shall be issued showing the results of such appeal inspection; and such certificate shall supersede the inspection certificate previously issued for the processed product involved. Each appeal inspection certificate shall clearly identify the number and date of the inspection certificate which it supersedes. The superseded certificate shall become null and void upon the issuance of the appeal inspection certificate and shall no longer represent the quality or condition of the processed product described therein. The inspector or inspectors issuing an appeal inspection certificate shall forward notice of such issuance to such persons as he considers necessary to prevent misuse of the superseded certificate if the original and all copies of such superseded certificates have not previously been delivered to the inspector or inspectors issuing the appeal inspection certificate. The provisions in the regulations in this part concerning forms of certificates, issuance of certificates, and disposition of certificates shall apply to appeal inspection certificates, except that copies of such appeal inspection certificates shall be furnished all interested parties who received copies of the superseded certificate.

LICENSING OF SAMPLERS AND INSPECTORS

§ 52.29 Who may become licensed sampler. Any person possessing qualifications as determined by an examination for competency, given by the Administrator, may be licensed as a licensed sampler to draw samples for the purpose of inspection under the regulations in this part. Such a license shall bear the printed signature of the Secretary and shall be countersigned by an authorized employee of the Department. Licensed samplers shall have no authority to inspect processed products under the regulations in this part except as to condition of the containers in a lot. A licensed sampler shall perform his duties pursuant to these regulations as directed by the Administrator.

§ 52.30 Application to become a licensed sampler. Application to become a licensed sampler shall be made to the Administrator on forms furnished for that purpose. Each such application shall be executed and signed by the applicant in his own handwriting, and the information contained therein shall be verified by him under oath or affirmation administered by a notary public, and the application shall contain or be accompanied by:

(a) Satisfactory evidence that he has passed his twenty-first birthday;

(b) A statement showing his present and previous occupations, together with names of all employers for whom he has worked with periods of service during the last ten years previous to the date of his application;

(c) A statement that, in his capacity as a licensed sampler, he will not draw samples from any lot of processed products with respect to which he or his employer is an interested party;

(d) A statement by the applicant that he agrees to comply with all terms and conditions of the regulations in this part relating to duties of licensed samplers; and

(e) Such other information as may be required by the aforesaid Administrator.

§ 52.31 Inspectors. Inspections will ordinarily be performed by employees under the Administrator who are employed as Federal Government employees for that purpose. However, any person employed under any joint Federal-State inspection service arrangement may be licensed, if otherwise qualified, by the Secretary to make inspections in accordance with this part on such processed products as may be specified in his license. Such license shall be issued only in a case where the Administrator is satisfied that the particular person is qualified to perform adequately the inspection service for which such person is to be licensed. Each such license shall bear the printed signature of the Secretary and shall be countersigned by an authorized employee of the Department. An inspector shall perform his duties pursuant to the regulations in this part as directed by the Administrator.

§ 52.32 Suspension or revocation of license of licensed sampler or licensed inspector. Pending final action by the Secretary, the Administrator may, whenever he deems such action necessary, suspend the license of any licensed sampler, or licensed inspector, issued pursuant to the regulations in this part, by giving notice of such suspension to the respective licensee, accompanied by a statement of the reasons therefor. Within seven days after the receipt of the aforesaid notice and statement of reasons by such licensee, he may file an appeal, in writing, with the Secretary supported by any argument or evidence that he may wish to offer as to why his license should not be suspended or revoked. After the expiration of the aforesaid seven days period and consideration of such argument and evidence, the Secretary shall take such action as he deems appropriate with respect to such suspension or revocation.

§ 52.33 Surrender of license. Upon termination of his services as a licensed sampler or licensed inspector, or suspension or revocation of his license, such licensee shall surrender his license immediately to the office of inspection serving the area in which he is located. These same provisions shall apply in a case of an expired license.

SAMPLING

§ 52.34 How samples are drawn by inspectors or licensed samplers. An inspector or a licensed sampler shall select samples, upon request, from designated lots of processed products which are so placed as to permit thorough and proper sampling in accordance with the regulations in this part. Such person shall, unless otherwise directed by the Administrator, select samples of such products at random, and from various locations in each lot in such manner and number, not inconsistent with the regulations in this part, as to secure representative samples of the lot. Samples drawn for inspection shall be furnished by the applicant at no cost to the Department.

§ 52.35 Accessibility for sampling. Each applicant shall cause the processed products for which inspection is requested to be made accessible for proper sampling. Failure to make any lot accessible for proper sampling shall be sufficient cause for postponing inspection service until such time as such lot is made accessible for proper sampling.

§ 52.36 How officially drawn samples are to be identified. Officially drawn samples shall be marked by the inspector or licensed sampler so such samples can be properly identified for inspection.

§ 52.37 How samples are to be shipped. Unless otherwise directed by the Administrator, samples which are to be shipped to any office of inspection shall be forwarded to the office of inspection serving the area in which the processed products from which the samples were drawn is located. Such samples shall be shipped in a manner to avoid, if possible, any material change in the quality or condition of the sample of the processed product. All transportation charges in connection with such shipments of samples shall be at the expense of the applicant and wherever practicable, such charges shall be prepaid by him.

§ 52.38 Sampling rates for officially drawn samples. Unless otherwise directed by the Administrator, each inspector and each licensed sampler shall select from each lot not less than the number of samples indicated in the following applicable tables except as may be required otherwise by the provisions in § 52.34.

TABLE I.—CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES AND CANNED FRUIT AND VEGETABLE PRODUCTS, INCLUDING TOMATO PRODUCTS, AND SUCH PRODUCTS AS PEANUT BUTTER, PICKLES, RELISHES, MARMALADES, HONEY, MAPLE SYRUP, FRUIT PULPS AND JAMS, EXCEPT SINGLE-STRENGTH AND CONCENTRATED CITRUS JUICES AND GRAPE JUICES AND FRUIT JELLIES AND VINEGAR

Size and type of container	Rate of Sampling [1]
	From lots containing 1 to 2,000 cases	From lots containing 2,001 to 5,000 cases	From lots exceeding 5,000 cases
Any type of container of less volume than a No. 300 size can (300 x 407). Any type of container of a volume equal to that of a No. 300 size can (300 x 407) or greater but not exceeding that of a No. 3 cylinder size can (404 x 700). Any type of container of a volume exceeding that of a No. 3 cylinder size can (404 x 700) but not exceeding that of a No. 12 size can (603 x 812).	1 container for each 4,000 containers or fraction thereof. 1 container for each 2,000 containers or fraction thereof. 1 container for each 1,000 containers or fraction thereof.	1 container for each 4,800 containers or fraction thereof. 1 container for each 2,400 containers or fraction thereof. 1 container for each 1,200 containers or fraction thereof.	1 container for each 6,000 containers or fraction thereof. 1 container for each 4,000 containers or fraction thereof. 1 container for each 1,500 containers or fraction thereof.
	From lots containing 200 containers or less	From lots containing 201 to 500 containers	From lots exceeding 500 containers
Any type of container of a volume exceeding that of a No. 12 size can (603 x 812) but not containing more than 60 pounds of the product.	1 approximate 8-ounce sample from each 4 percent of the containers.	1 approximate 8-ounce sample from each of 3 percent of the containers.	1 approximate 8-ounce sample from each 2 percent of the containers.
	From lots containing 100 containers or less	From lots containing 101 to 200 containers	From lots exceeding 200 containers
Any type of container containing more than 60 pounds of the product.	1 approximate 32-ounce sample from each 10 percent of the containers.	1 approximate 32-ounce sample from each 7 percent of the containers.	1 approximate 32-ounce sample from each 5 percent of the containers.

[1] These are minimum rates and in no case where lots consist of more than 1 container shall less than 2 samples be drawn from any 1 lot.

[1] In no case, shall the total of all the samples drawn yield less than 25 ounces of dates; 100 figs or 200 fig slices; or 56 ounces of other dried fruit.

[2] When lot consists of 500 pounds or less, draw 4 approximately equal samples, except that when the lot consists of less than 4 shipping containers, a sample shall be drawn from each shipping container.

TABLE VI—DEHYDRATED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Size and type of container	Rate of sampling [1]
Any type of container of 5 pounds or less net weight. Any type of container in excess of 5 pounds, net weight.	1 container for each 2,400 containers or fraction thereof. One 20-ounce (approximate weight) sample for each 4,000 pounds or fraction thereof.

[1] These are minimum rates and in no case where lots consist of more than 1 container shall less than 2 samples be drawn from any 1 lot.

TABLE VII—PROCESSED PRODUCTS NOT SPECIFICALLY LISTED IN ANY TABLE CONTAINED IN THIS SECTION

Size and type of container	Rate of sampling [1]
Any type of container irrespective of its size or volume capacity.	At a rate that will represent the lot as may be determined by the inspector.

[1] These are minimum rates and in no case where lots consist of more than 1 container shall less than 2 samples be drawn from any 1 lot.

§ 52.39 Issuance of certificate of sampling. Each inspector and each licensed sampler shall prepare and sign a certificate of sampling to cover the samples drawn by the respective person, except that an inspector who inspects the samples which he has drawn need not prepare a sampling certificate. One copy of each certificate of sampling prepared shall be retained by the inspector or licensed sampler (as the case may be) and the original and all other copies thereof shall be disposed of in accordance with the instructions of the Administrator.

§ 52.40 Identification of lots sampled. Each lot from which officially drawn samples are selected shall be marked in such manner as may be prescribed by the Administrator, if such lots do not otherwise possess suitable identification.

FEES AND CHARGES

§ 52.41 Payment of fees and charges. Fees and charges for any inspection service shall be paid by the interested party making the application for such service, in accordance with the applicable provisions of the regulations in this part, and, if so required by the person in charge of the office of inspection serving the area where the services are to be performed, such fees and charges shall be paid in advance. All fees and charges for any inspection service performed pursuant to the regulations in this part shall be paid by check, draft, or money order payable to the Treasurer of the United States and remitted to the office of inspection serving the area in which the services are performed, within ten (10) days from the date of billing, unless otherwise specified in a contract between the applicant and the Administrator, in which latter event the contract provisions shall apply.

§ 52.42 Schedule of fees. (a) Unless otherwise provided for in a written agreement between the applicant and the Administrator, the fees to be charged and collected for any inspection service performed under the regulations in this part at the request of the United States, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, shall be at the rate of three (3) dollars and sixty (60) cents per hour.

(b) Unless otherwise provided in the regulations in this part, the fees to be charged and collected for any inspection service performed under the regulations in this part shall be based on the applicable rates specified in this section as follows: [1]

(1) Canned fruits and vegetables and canned fruit and vegetable products and other canned processed products, such as peanut butter, pickles, relishes, jams, jellies, marmalades, honey, maple syrup and concentrates packed 6 or more cans per case but not exceeding 48 cans per case.

Each sample	$3.60

(5) Other processed products. The fee to be charged and collected for the inspection of any processed product not included in subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph shall be at the rate of $3.60 per hour for the time consumed by the inspector in making the inspection, including the time consumed in sampling by the inspector or licensed sampler: Provided, however, That fees for sampling time will not be assessed by the office of inspection when such fees have been assessed and collected directly from the applicant by a licensed sampler.

§ 52.43 Fees to be charged and collected for sampling when performed by a licensed sampler. Such sampling fees as are specifically prescribed by the Administrator in connection with the licensing of the particular sampler (which fees are to be prescribed in the light of the sampling work to be performed by such sampler and other pertinent factors) may be assessed and collected by such licensed sampler directly from the applicant: Provided, That, if such licensed sampler is an employee of a State, the appropriate authority of that State may make the collection, or they may be assessed and collected by the office of inspection serving the area where the services are performed.

§ 52.44 Inspection fees when charges for sampling have been collected by a licensed sampler. For each lot of processed products from which samples have been drawn by a licensed sampler and with respect to which the sampling fee has been collected by the licensed sampler, the fee to be charged for the inspection shall be 75 percent of the fee provided in this part applicable to the respective processed product: Provided, That, if the fee charged for the inspection service is based on the hourly rate of charge, the fee shall be at the rate of three (3) dollars and sixty (60) cents per hour prescribed in this part.

§ 52.45 Inspection fees when charges for sampling have not been collected by a licensed sampler. For each lot of processed products from which samples have been drawn by a licensed sampler, and with respect to which the sampling fee has not been collected by the licensed sampler, the fee to be charged for the inspection shall be 75 percent of the fee as prescribed in this part, plus a reasonable charge to cover the cost of sampling as may be determined by the Administrator: Provided, That, if the fee charged is based on the hourly rate, the fee shall be at the rate of three (3) dollars and sixty (60) cents per hour prescribed in this part, plus a reasonable charge to cover the cost of sampling, as determined by the Administrator.

§ 52.46 Fee for appeal inspection. The fee to be charged for an appeal inspection shall be at the rates prescribed in this part for other inspection services: Provided, That, if the result of any appeal inspection made for any applicant, other than the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, discloses that a material error was made in the inspection on which the appeal is made, no inspection fee shall be assessed.

§ 52.47 Charges for micro, chemical and certain other special analyses. (a) The following charges shall be made for micro, chemical and certain other special analyses which may be requested by the applicant or required by the inspector to determine the quality or condition of the processed product: [1]

Type of analysis	For first analysis	For each additional analysis
Micro, chemical, and certain other special analyses

Total solids (by refrac.)	2.40	1.20

§ 52.48 When charges are to be based on hourly rate not otherwise provided for in this part. When inspection services or related services are rendered and formal certificates are not issued or when the services rendered are such that charges based upon the foregoing sections would be inadequate or inequitable, charges may be based on the time consumed by the inspector in performance of such inspection service at the rate of three (3) dollars and sixty (60) cents per hour.

§ 52.49 Fees for score sheets. If the applicant for inspection service requests score sheets showing in detail the inspection of each container or sample inspected and listed thereon, such score sheets may be furnished by the inspector in charge of the office of inspection serving the area where the inspection was performed; and such applicant shall be charged at the rate of fifty cents for each twelve samples, or fraction thereof, inspected and listed on such score sheets.

[1] When these analyses are made in connection with an inspection to determine the quality or condition of the product no fee shall be charged for the analyses.

§ 52.50. Fees for additional copies of inspection certificates. Additional copies of any inspection certificate other than those provided for in § 52.21, may be supplied to any interested party upon payment of a fee of $1.50 for each set of three (3) or fewer copies.

§ 52.51 Travel and other expenses. Charges may be made to cover cost of travel and other expenses incurred by the inspection service in connection with the performance of any inspection service, including travel and other expenses incurred in connection with any appeal inspection.

§ 52.52 Charges for inspection service on a contract basis. Irrespective of fees and charges prescribed in foregoing sections, the Administrator may enter into contracts with applicants to perform inspection service pursuant to the regulations in this part and other requirements as prescribed by the Administrator in such contract, and the charges for such inspection service provided in such contracts shall be on such basis as will reimburse the Production and Marketing Administration of the Department for the full cost of rendering such inspection service including an appropriate overhead charge to cover as nearly as practicable administrative overhead expenses as may be determined by the Administrator.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 52.53 Fraud or misrepresentation. Any wilful misrepresentation or any deceptive or fradulent practice found to be made or committed by any person in connection with:

(a) The making or filing of an application for any inspection service;

(b) The submission of samples for inspection;

(c) The use of any inspection report or any inspection certificate, or appeal inspection certificate issued under the regulations in this part;

(d) The use of the words "Packed under continuous inspection of the U. S. Department of Agriculture," any legend signifying that the product has been officially inspected, any statement of grade or words of similar import in the labeling or advertising of any processed product;

(e) The use of a facsimile form which simulates in whole or in part any official U. S. certificate for the purpose of purporting to evidence the U. S. grade of any processed product; or

(f) Any wilful violation of the regulations in this part or supplementary rules or instructions issued by the Administrator, may be deemed sufficient cause for debarring such person from any or all benefits of the act.

§ 52.54 Political activity. All inspectors and licensed samplers are forbidden, during the period of their respective appointments or licenses, to take an active part in political management or in political campaigns. Political activities in city, county, State, or national elections, whether primary or regular, or in behalf of any party or candidate, or any measure to be voted upon, are prohibited. This applies to all appointees or licensees, including, but not being limited to, temporary and cooperative employees and employees on leave of absence with or without pay. Wilful violation of this section will constitute grounds for dismissal in the case of appointees and revocation of licenses in the case of licensees.

§ 52.55 Interfering with an inspector or licensed sampler. Any further benefits of the act may be denied any applicant or other interested party who either personally or through an agent or representative interferes with or obstructs, by intimidation, threats, assault, or in any other manner, an inspector or licensed sampler in the performance of his duties.

§ 52.56 Compliance with other laws. None of the requirements in the regulations in this part shall excuse failure to comply with any Federal, State, county, or municipal laws applicable to the operation of food processing establishments and to processed food products.

52.57 Identification. Each inspector and licensed sampler shall have in his possession at all times and present upon request, while on duty, the means of identification furnished by the Department to such person.

REQUIREMENTS FOR PLANTS OPERATING UNDER CONTINUOUS INSPECTION ON A CONTRACT BASIS [1]

§ 52.81 Plant survey. (a) Prior to the inauguration of continuous inspection service on a contract basis, the Administrator will make, or cause to be made, a survey and inspection of the plant where such service is to be performed to determine whether the plant and methods of operation are suitable and adequate for the performance of such service in accordance with:

(1) These regulations, including, but not limited to, the requirements contained in §§ 52.81 through 52.87; and

(2) The terms and provisions of the contract pursuant to which the service is to be performed.

§ 52.82 Premises. The premises of the plant shall be free from conditions objectionable to food processing operations; and such conditions include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) Strong offensive odors;

(b) Litter, waste, and refuse (e. g., garbage, viner refuse, and damaged containers) within the immediate vicinity of the plant buildings or structures;

(c) Excessively dusty roads, yards, or parking lots; and

(d) Poorly drained areas.

§ 52.83 Buildings and structures. The plant buildings and structures shall be properly constructed and maintained in a sanitary condition, including, but not being limited to, the following requirements:

(a) There shall be sufficient light (1) consistent with the use to which the particular portion of the building is devoted and (2) to permit efficient cleaning. Belts and tables on which picking, sorting, or trimming operations are carried on shall be provided with sufficient nonglaring light to insure adequacy of the respective operation.

(b) If practicable, there shall be sufficient ventilation in each room and compartment thereof to prevent excessive condensation of moisture and to insure sanitary and suitable processing and operating conditions. If such ventilation does not prevent excessive condensation, the Administrator may require that suitable facilities be provided to prevent the condensate from coming in contact with equipment used in processing operations and with any ingredient used in the manufacture or production of a processed product.

(c) There shall be an efficient waste disposal and plumbing system. All drains and gutters shall be properly installed with approved traps and vents, and shall be maintained in good repair and in proper working order.

(d) There shall be an ample supply of both hot and cold water; and the water shall be of safe and sanitary quality with adequate facilities for its (1) distribution throughout the plant, and (2) protection against contamination and pollution.

(e) Roofs shall be weather-tight. The walls, ceilings, partitions, posts, doors, and other parts of all buildings and structures shall be of such materials, construction, and finish as to permit their efficient and thorough cleaning. The floors shall be constructed of tile, cement, or other equally impervious material and shall be free from openings or rough surfaces which would interfere with maintaining the floors in a clean condition.

(f) Each room and each compartment in which any processed products are handled, processed, or stored (1) shall be so designed and constructed as to insure processing and operating conditions of a clean and orderly character; (2) shall be free from objectionable odors and vapors; and (3) shall be maintained in a clean and sanitary condition.

(g) Every practical precaution shall be taken to exclude dogs, cats, and vermin (including, but not being limited to, rodents and insects) from the rooms in which processed products are being prepared or handled and from any rooms in which ingredients (including, but not being limited to, salt, sugar, spices, flour, syrup, and raw fruits and vegetables) are handled or stored. Screens, or other devices, adequate to prevent the passage of insects shall, where practical, be provided for all outside doors and openings. The use of poisonous cleansing agents, insecticides, bactericides, or rodent poisons shall not be permitted except under such precautions and restrictions as will prevent any possibility of their contamination of the processed product.

§ 52.84 Facilities. Each plant shall be equipped with adequate sanitary facilities and accommodations, including, but not being limited to, the following:

(a) There shall be a sufficient number of adequately lighted toilet rooms, ample in size, and conveniently located. Such rooms shall not open directly into rooms or compartments in which processed products are being manufactured or produced, or handled. Toilet rooms shall be adequately screened and equipped with self-closing doors and shall have independent outside ventilation.

(b) Lavatory accommodations (including, but not being limited to, running water, single service towels, and soap) shall be placed at such locations in or near toilet rooms and in the manufacturing or processing rooms or compartments as may be necessary to assure the cleanliness of each person handling ingredients used in the manufacture or production of processed products.

(c) Containers intended for use as containers for processed products shall not be used for any other purpose.

(d) No product or material which creates an objectionable condition shall be processed, handled, or stored in any room, compartment, or place where any processed product is manufactured, processed, or handled.

(e) Suitable facilities for cleaning (e. g., brooms, brushes, mops, clean cloths, hose, nozzles, soaps, detergent, sprayers, and steam pressure hose and guns) shall be provided at convenient locations throughout the plant.

§ 52.85 Equipment. All equipment used for receiving, washing, segregating, picking, processing, packaging, or storing any processed products or any ingredients used in the manufacture or production thereof, shall be of such design, material, and construction as will:

(a) Enable the examination, segregation, preparation, packaging and other processing operations applicable to processed products, in an efficient, clean, and sanitary manner, and

(b) Permit easy access to all parts to insure thorough cleaning and effective bactericidal treatment. Insofar as is practicable, all such equipment shall be made of corrosion-resistant material that will not adversely affect the processed product by chemical action or physical contact. Such equipment shall be kept in good repair and sanitary condition.

§ 52.86 Operations and operating procedures. (a) All operations in the receiving, transporting, holding, segregating, preparing, processing, packaging and storing of processed products and ingredients, used as aforesaid, shall be strictly in accord with clean and sanitary methods and shall be conducted as rapidly as practicable and at temperatures that will not tend to cause (1) any material increase in bacterial or other micro-organic content, or (2) any deterioration or contamination of such processed products or ingredients thereof. Mechanical adjustments or practices which may cause contamination of foods by oil, dust, paint, scale, fumes, grinding materials, decomposed food, filth, chemicals, or other foreign materials shall not be conducted during any manufacturing or processing operation.

(b) All processed products and ingredients thereof shall be subjected to continuous inspection throughout each manufacturing or processing operation. All processed products which are not manufactured or prepared in accordance with the requirements contained in §§ 52.80 through 52.87 or are not fit for human food shall be removed and segregated prior to any further processing operation.

(c) All ingredients used in the manufacture or processing of any processed product shall be clean and fit for human food.

(d) The methods and procedures employed in the receiving, segregating, handling, transporting, and processing of ingredients in the plant shall be adequate to result in a satisfactory processed product. Such methods and procedures include, but are not limited to the following requirements:

(1) Containers, utensils, pans, and buckets used for the storage or transporting of partially processed food ingredients shall not be nested unless rewashed before each use;

(2) Containers which are used for holding partially processed food ingredients shall not be stacked in such manner as to permit contamination of the partially processed food ingredients;

(3) Packages or containers for processed products shall be clean when being filled with such products; and all reasonable precautions shall be taken to avoid soiling or contaminating the surface of any package or container liner which is, or will be, in direct contact with such products. If, to assure a satisfactory finished product, changes in methods and procedures are required by the Administrator, such changes shall be effectuated as soon as practicable.

§ 52.87 Personnel, health. In addition to such other requirements as may be prescribed by the Administrator with respect to persons in any room or compartment where exposed ingredients are prepared, processed, or otherwise handled, the following shall be compiled with:

(a) No person affected with any communicable disease (including, but not being limited to, tuberculosis) in a transmissible stage shall be permitted;

(b) Infections or cuts shall be covered with rubber gloves or other suitable covering;

(c) Clean, suitable clothing shall be worn;

(d) Hands shall be washed immediately prior to starting work and each resumption of work after each absence from the work station;

(e) Spitting, and the use of tobacco are prohibited; and

(f) All necessary precautions shall be taken to prevent the contamination of processed products and ingredients thereof with any foreign substance (including, but not being limited to, perspiration, hair, cosmetics, and medicaments).

[7 CFR Part 160]

REGULATIONS AND FEE SCHEDULE CONCERNING NAVAL STORES AND RELATED COMMODITIES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given in accordance with section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that there is under consideration in the Department of Agriculture a proposal to amend the regulations for the enforcement of the Naval Stores Act (7 CFR 160.1–160.100) and the schedule of fees for inspection of naval stores and related commodities (7 CFR 160.201–160.204), and to adopt regulations for the inspection of such related commodities upon request pursuant to section 4 of the Naval Stores Act (7 U. S. C. 94) and sections 203 and 205 of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (7 U. S. C. 1622 and 1624), as follows:

1. Section 160.1 (e) would be amended to read:

(e) "Licensed inspector": A person licensed by the Secretary upon recommendation of an accredited processor to act as an official inspector with respect to naval stores produced at an eligible processing plant of such processor.

2. Section 160.1 (f) would be amended to read:

(f) "Eligible processing plant": A plant which on examination by the Secretary has been found to be designed, operated, and staffed so as to permit proper samplings and inspections of the naval stores produced thereat, and where a substantial proportion of the output comes from oleoresin obtained from trees growing on land not owned or leased by the processor himself, or from oleoresin contained within felled trees or stumps removed from such land.

3. Section 160.1 (j) defining "Regulations" would be deleted and a new § 160.1 (j) would be inserted in lieu thereof to read:

(j) "Cooperative agreement": A written agreement between the Department and any person specifying the conditions under which special inspection personnel may be designated and procedures established, not otherwise available under existing inspection programs, in order to make possible a continuous, day-by-day inspection of naval stores for such person, or to provide facilities for carrying out experimental studies on authentic naval stores related to the inspection and marketing thereof.

4. Section 160.1 would be further amended by adding thereto a new paragraph (r) to read:

(r) "Person": Any individual, partnership, association, corporation, firm, company, joint stock company, society, or agency.

5. Section 160.3 would be amended to read:

§ 160.3 Rosin defined. Except as provided in § 160.6, rosin is the vitreous, well-strained, transparent, solid resin which (a) remains after the volatile terpene oils are distilled from (1) the oleoresin collected from living trees or (2) the oleoresin extracted from wood; or (b) remains after distillation of the fatty acids from tall oil recovered from wood in the course of its chemical disintegration to produce cellulose. In addition to the free resin acids, rosin may contain relatively small proportions of fatty acids, resin esters and other esters, unsaponifiable resenes, and non-resinous foreign matter.

6. Section 160.4 would be amended to read:

§ 160.4 Kinds of rosin. (a) Rosin within the meaning of the act and the regulations in this part shall be designated as "gum rosin", "wood rosin", or "tall oil rosin", as the case may be.

(b) The designation "gum rosin" shall refer to the kind of rosin remaining after the distillation of gum spirits of turpentine from the oleoresin (gum) obtained from living pine trees.

(c) The designation of "wood rosin" shall refer to the kind of rosin recovered after the distillation of the volatile oil from the oleoresin within or extracted from pine wood by any suitable chemical or physical process, followed by any necessary further refinement.

(d) The designation "tall oil rosin" shall refer to the kind of rosin remaining after the removal of the fatty acids from tall oil by fractional distillation, and having the characteristic form and appearance and other physical and chemical properties normal for other kinds of rosin.

7. The center heading "Administration" preceding § 160.6, and § 160.6 itself, would be deleted, § 160.15 would be redesignated as § 160.6, and the center heading "Standards For Spirits of Turpentine" preceding § 160.7 would be deleted.

8. Section 160.7 would be amended to read:

§ 160.7 Kinds of turpentine. Spirits of turpentine within the meaning of the act and the regulations in this part shall be designated as "gum spirits of turpentine", "steam distilled wood turpentine", "destructively distilled wood turpentine", or "sulphate wood turpentine", as the case may be.

9. A center heading "General" would be inserted preceding § 160.12 and the center heading "Standards And Grades For Rosin" preceding § 160.13 would be deleted.

10. Section 160.13 would be amended to read:

§ 160.13 Standards for rosin. The Official Naval Stores Standards of the United States for rosin consist of the standards for grades exemplified by the rosin types authorized by the act, and such other standards of identity and grade as are provided in the act or by the Secretary thereunder.

11. A center heading "administration" would be inserted following § 160.14 and a new § 160.15 would be inserted to read:

§ 160.15 Authority. The Secretary has delegated to the Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration of the Department authority to take all actions necessary or appropriate in the administration of the act and the provisions in this part, subject to limitations contained therein and under the general supervision of the Secretary. This authority has been redelegated by the Administrator to the Director of the Tobacco Branch of the Administration, and by him to the Chief of the Naval Stores Division of the Branch.

12. Section 160.30 would be amended to read:

§ 160.30 Containers to remain intact. The results of any analysis, classification, or grading of naval stores will be certifiable only if the containers of the naval stores remain intact as sampled until the analysis, classification, or grading has been completed and the results reported, except when the container is a tank car subject to demurrage.

13. Section 160.31 would be amended to read:

§ 160.31 Contents of containers to be declared. Prior to inspection at the request of the producer, containers of naval stores, other than tank cars, shall have marked thereon a declaration by such producer of the kind or identity of the product in accordance with the standard of identity provided therefor by or under the act.

14. Sections 160.32 and 160.33 would be deleted and a new § 160.32 would be inserted to read:

§ 160.32 Time and manner of sampling. Except when batch sampling is authorized at an eligible processing plant using licensed inspectors, samples of naval stores to be used for official inspection and certification shall be taken direct from the commercial containers of such naval stores by or under the immediate supervision of the inspector at the time of inspection.

15. Sections 160.34–160.38 would be redesignated, respectively, as §§ 160.33–160.37.

16. Section 160.39 would be redesignated as § 160.38 and amended to read:

§ 160.38 Prior marks to be removed. Any mark, appearing on a container to be used for naval stores, relating to the kind, classification, grade, certification, or method of inspection of naval stores shall be removed by the user whenever the marking does not in all respects describe the kind, classification, grade, certification, and method of inspection of the naval stores to be placed therein.

17. Sections 160.40–160.44 would be redesignated, respectively, as §§ 160.39–160.43.

18. Section 160.45 would be redesignated as § 160.44 and amended to read:

§ 160.44 Licensed inspector to be disinterested. In so far as possible, no person who determines or controls sales policies or methods of distribution or the selling prices of the naval stores processed at an eligible processing plant shall be licensed as an inspector at such plant.

19. Section 160.46 would be redesignated as § 160.45.

20. Section 160.47 would be redesignated as §160.46 and amended to read:

§ 160.46 Conditions governing licensed inspection. The work of official inspectors performed by licensed inspectors shall be supervised and reviewed by authorized representatives of the Secretary, who shall issue to such licensed inspectors recommendations and instructions for taking samples; marking and maintaining the identity of containers; preparing, issuing, and disposing of certificates; the keeping of adequate records of inspection; and such other inspection and certification procedures as may be necessary in carrying out the licensed inspection. The handling, sampling, grading, marking and certification of naval stores at an eligible processing plant by a licensed inspector shall be conducted in accordance with such instructions and the regulations and standards in this part.

21. A new § 160.47 would be added to read:

§ 160.47 Identification of containers. Containers of naval stores inspected, classified, graded, and certified by a licensed inspector at an eligible processing plant shall be marked to show the name and location or other acceptable identification of the plant, and the legend "U. S. Graded" or "U. S. Inspected", and in the case of rosin, the batch number indicating the date of production.

22. The first sentence in § 160.62 would be amended to read: "A certificate as provided for by section 4 of the act shall be issued in duplicate to the interested person on naval stores examined at his request, and upon request additional copies may be obtained from the inspector."

23. The first sentence in § 160.64 would be amended to read: "A certificate shall not be issued for naval stores of which the samples were not taken by or under the direction of an official inspector direct from the containers in which the naval stores are placed for shipment, or which have not been packed, sampled, marked, and identified as required by the regulations in this part, or for any material which does not conform with the standard provided therefor by the act or by the Secretary thereunder."

24. Section 160.67 would be amended by inserting the word "classification" after the word "sampling".

25. Sections 160.71 and 160.72 would be deleted, and corresponding provisions would be added to the schedule of fees in §§ 160.205 and 160.206.

26. Sections 160.73–160.84 would be redesignated, respectively, as §§ 160.71–160.82.

27. Section 160.85 would be redesignated as § 160.83 and the proviso therein would be amended by deleting the phrase "may be" and substituting therefor the word "is".

28. Sections 160.86–160.100 would be redesignated, respectively, as §§ 160.84–160.98.

29. References made in present §§ 160.43, 160.57, 160.77, 160.78, 160.79 and 160.99 to other sections redesignated by the proposed amendment would be changed to conform with such redesignations.

30. After § 160.100 a new heading would be added to read "Related Naval Stores Commodities," and a new § 160.150 would be added thereunder, as follows:

§ 160.150 Request inspection of related naval stores commodities. Inspection and certification of the class, quality, quantity and condition of pinene, dipentene, pine oil, other terpene oils, pine tar, pine pitch, tarene, tall oil, B wood resin, and other miscellaneous resins, shipped or received in interstate commerce, may be obtained upon request of any interested person and the payment of fees prescribed in §§ 160.201–160.206, inclusive. Such inspection and certification will be conducted in accordance with such provisions in this part as the Secretary determines are applicable.

31. Section 160.201 would be amended to read:

§ 160.201 Fees payable to the United States for inspecting and certifying grades and weights of naval stores and related commodities. (a) Inspection and certification by licensed inspectors at eligible processing plants.

(1) Turpentine:
For barrel or drum	$0.05
Per tank car	2.00
(2) Rosin:
Per drum	$0.03
Per bag of 100 pounds	.006
Per tank car	2.00

(b) Inspection and certification by regularly employed inspectors of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

(1) Turpentine:
Per barrel or drum	$0.09
Per tank car	4.00
Per bulk lot delivered from storage into tank car or tank steamer	See note.

NOTE: The fee to be charged for inspection of turpentine loaded from bulk storage will depend on the location of point of loading, and perhaps on other conditions. An approximation of the probable charges, in writing, will be furnished on request to any interested person, after receipt of application supplying the necessary information.

(2) Rosin:
(i) At approved warehouse or concentration yard:
Grading and weighing, per drum	$0.10
Weighing of rosin previously certified as to grade at another point, per drum	.05
(ii) At country stills:
Grading only, per drum:
Up to 400 drums in a lot	$0.10
All over 400 drums	.05
Weighing, extra, per drum	.05
(iii) At eligible processing plant, on call:
Grading by batch samples:
Per drum	$0.07
Per bag	.015
(3) Related naval stores commodities:
(i) Pine oil and other related terpene hydrocarbon oils, per drum	$0.09
(ii) Pine tars, tarene, pitch, resins and tall oils, per drum	.07

32. Section 160.202 would be amended to read:

§ 160.202 Fees payable to the United States for laboratory analysis and testing of naval stores and related commodities. (a) Turpentine, pine oil, and related terpene hydrocarbon oils.

(1) Comprehensive and involved analysis and tests to determine purity, specification conformance, or related chemical and physical properties:
Single sample	$18.00
Each additional sample, same kind at same time	10.00
(2) Limited laboratory testing as to kind, grade, or physical condition related to relative quality of the material:
Each sample tested	$3.00

(b) Rosin, and related naval stores commodities not included in paragraph (a) of this section.

Single sample	$15.00–$25.00
Each additional sample, same kind at same time	10.00– 20.00

NOTE: The type of work required and time spent on such work usually varies widely with the material and purposes of the tests. In general, the interested person requesting such tests shall be notified of the probable cost thereof, and his authority to proceed obtained before the work is undertaken.

33. Section 160.203 would be amended to read:

§ 160.203 Permit fees for eligible processing plants under licensed inspection.

Initial permit fee	$10.00
Annual renewal permit fee	10.00

The renewal permit fee shall be reduced to $5.00 when the inspection fees paid by the processor aggregate $100 or more during the preceding fiscal year ended June thirtieth, and shall be waived when such fees aggregate $200 or more during such fiscal year. Such reduced permit fee shall apply only in case the processor has made continued use of the licensed inspection service.

34. A new § 160.205 would be added to read:

§ 160.205 Charges for laboratory examination. For laboratory work involved in the examination, analysis, classification, or grading of naval stores or any samples thereof, when the charges for such service, computed in accordance with established fees, do not compensate the United States for the full cost of the services rendered, or when no fee rate has been provided, then in lieu thereof the person requesting such service shall pay for such laboratory work an amount computed at the rate of $30.00 per eight hour day or $4.00 per hour for fractional part of a day less than 4 hours. The person requesting such service will be advised as to the approximate cost of doing the work covered by the request, and his authority to proceed shall be obtained before analysis or other examination is made.

35. A new § 160.206 would be added to read:

§ 160.206 Charges for other inspection work. Whenever in complying with a request for examination, inspection, classification or grading of naval stores an inspector must make a special trip or deviate from his regular schedule of travel, and the charges to be collected for such services, when computed in accordance with established inspection fees, are insufficient to cover the full cost of the services rendered, then the person requesting such services shall pay such full cost, including allowances for time spent in collecting and preparing samples, obtaining identification records, travel, or other necessary work, and in addition any official travel and subsistence expense incurred in connection therewith. The charge for time shall be computed at the rate of $24.00 per eight hour day or $3.50 per hour for fractional part of a day less than 4 hours.

The United States standards for opaque rosin, FF rosin, and sulphate wood turpentine, the modification of the United States standards for rosin grades, and the United States standard for tall oil rosin, heretofore promulgated under the act, would be set forth respectively in §§160.301, 160.302, 160.303, 160.304, and 160.305 of this part.

The heading for Part 160 of Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations, would be redesignated as: "Part 160—Regulations and Standards for Naval Stores and Related Commodities".

Any interested person who wishes to submit written data, views or arguments concerning the proposed amendments may do so by filing them with the Director of the Tobacco Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, 25, D. C. on or before July 20, 1951.

IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN WASHINGTON

NOTICE OF PROPOSED BUDGET AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Agriculture is considering the approval of the budget and rate of assessment hereinafter set forth, which were recommended by the State of Washington Potato Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 113 and Order No. 92 (7 CFR Part 992), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the State of Washington, issued under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

Consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto, which are filed in triplicate with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days following publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposals are as follows:

§ 992.203 Budget of expenses and rate of assessment. (a) The expenses necessary to be incurred by the State of Washington Potato Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 113 and Order No. 92, to enable such committee to carry out its functions pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, during the fiscal year ending May 31, 1952, will amount to $23,985;

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler who first ships potatoes shall be one-half of one cent ($0.005) per hundredweight, of potatoes handled by him as the first handler thereof during said fiscal year; and

(c) The terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 113 and Order No. 92 (7 CFR Part 992).

CANE SUGAR INDUSTRY IN LOUISIANA

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO PETITION FOR REVIEW

In the matter of the application to include the extraction and processing of calcium aconitate within that portion of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana and has been determined to be of a seasonal nature pursuant to section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

On November 16, 1939, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division issued a determination (4 F. R. 4615) that the portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana, is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (section 7 (b) (3), 52 Stat. 1063; 29 U. S. C. 207 (b) (3)) and the regulations contained in this part.

The aforesaid determination was amended by the Administrator on July 13, 1944 (9 F. R. 8175) to include the dehydrating of bagasse within the definition of the branch of the industry and further amended on September 7, 1945 (10 F. R. 11643) to include certain sugar refining operations.

On January 11, 1951, the Administrator gave notice that an application had been filed requesting that the aforesaid determination be further amended to include certain operations involving the extraction and processing of calcium aconitate from "B" molasses and that a public hearing would be held on January 26, 1951, before Nathan Rubinstein, an authorized representative of the Administrator who was authorized to receive evidence and hear argument for the purpose of determining: "Whether the aforesaid determination of November 16, 1939 (4 F. R. 4615) as amended shall be further amended to include the extraction and processing of calcium aconitate from "B" molasses, and if so, subject to what conditions and limitations."

Following such hearing, the representative of the Administrator duly made his findings of fact and determined as follows:

(1) That portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana, which was found to be of a seasonal nature under the determination of November 16, 1939 as amended July 13, 1944 to include the dehydrating of bagasse, and further amended September 7, 1945 to include certain sugar refining operations, now also engages in the extraction of calcium aconitate from "B" molasses and in the subsequent drying of calcium aconitate.

(2) The extraction from "B" molasses and the subsequent drying of calcium aconitate takes place during the same season as the operations included in the industry heretofore determined to be of a seasonal nature, is dependent upon the sugarcane grinding operations, and does not lengthen the operating season for that industry. The industry, including the calcium aconitate operations, operates during a regularly, annually recurring part of the year, and ceases operations because, owing to climate or other natural conditions, the raw materials become unavailable during the remainder of the year.

(3) The industry, including the extraction from "B" molasses and the subsequent drying of calcium aconitate, is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3)) of the Fair Labor Standards Act and the regulations issued thereunder.

(4) The determination of November 16, 1939, as amended, should be further amended to include the following operations when performed in Louisiana on the premises of a sugarcane processing mill while the sugarcane is being processed: the extraction of calcium aconitate from "B" molasses produced from sugarcane ground on the premises, including the drying of the cake, the handling, sacking, and storage of the aconitate, and any operations necessary and incident to the foregoing, including the placing of the product in storage or transportation facilities on or near the premises.

As amended, the determination will apply to: the unloading of sugarcane at the mill; the processing of sugarcane into sugar, syrup and molasses; and the following operations when performed on the premises of a sugarcane processing mill while the sugarcane is being processed; the immediate refining, as one of a connected series of operations, of raw sugar produced from sugarcane ground on the premises; the refining, by the introduction into such series of operations, of raw sugar which has been produced during the same grinding season in other Louisiana cane processing plants of the employer, except in establishments where the refined sugar made from such transferred raw sugar constitutes half or more of the refined sugar produced during the cane processing season, or where purchased raw sugar, or raw sugar produced outside of Louisiana is refined during the cane processing season; the burning, removing from the premises, or dehydrating of bagasse resulting from the processing of sugarcane; the extraction of calcium aconitate from "B" molasses, including the drying of the cake; the handling, baling, bagging, packing and storing of the sugar, syrup, molasses, bagasse, or calcium aconitate, and any operations necessary and incident to the foregoing, including the placing of these products in storage or transportation facilities on or near the premises.

The petition is granted in accordance with the above finding.

The aforesaid findings and determination were duly filed with the Administrator on June 25, 1951 at the National Offices of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor Building, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. C., and are available for examination by all interested parties.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to § 526.7 of the regulations that any person aggrieved by the said determination may within 15 days after the date this notice appears in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file a petition with the Administrator at the National Office of the Wage and Hour Division requesting that he review the action of the said representative upon the record of the hearing. Such petition shall set forth the grounds upon which the petition for review is based. If no petition for review is filed within the 15 days, the findings and determination of the authorized representative of the Administrator will become final and the exemption for the branch of the industry as redefined in the said findings and determination will become effective 30 days after publication of notice to that effect in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of June, 1951.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator, Wage and Hour Division.

Office of the Secretary

UNDER SECRETARY OF COMMERCE FOR TRANSPORTATION

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO ADMINISTRATION OF TRANSPORTATION ACTIVITIES

Paragraph 3 of the material appearing under the above heading (15 F. R. 8739, as amended by 16 F. R. 1130) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

3. Delegation of authority. (a) The Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation shall perform the functions and exercise the powers, authority and discretion conferred on the Secretary of Commerce by Executive Orders 10161 and 10200 (and Defense Production Administration Delegation 1), and Executive Order 10219 with respect to air transportation, and intercoastal, coastwise and overseas shipping, including the use thereof.

(b) The authority hereby delegated to the Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation under subsection (a) above, which he is hereafter authorized to redelegate, includes the authority vested in the Secretary of Commerce under sections 902 and 903 of Executive Order 10161 and section 6b of Executive Order 10200, including the authority with respect to subpoena.

(c) The Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation also shall perform the functions and exercise the powers, authority and discretion vested directly in the Secretary of Commerce as a claimant under DPA Administration Order 1 of May 24, 1951.

(d) The Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation shall perform the functions with reference to processing of applications under NPA Order M-4 (Construction), as amended, and exercise the powers, authority and discretion vested in the Secretary of Commerce with reference to those functions as set forth in NPA Delegation No. 14 of June 7, 1951, but subject to all provisions and limitations of such authority contained in said delegation.

(e) The functions and other authority delegated hereby may be redelegated by the Under Secretary of Commerce for Transportation to officers and agencies of the Department of Commerce, with or without authority for further redelegation.

(f) The material appearing at 15 F. R. 8090-8091, which designated claimant agencies to present requirements to the Secretary of Commerce with respect to materials and facilities placed under his jurisdiction by Executive Order 10161 of September 9, 1950, is revoked.

(g) All other orders, regulations, rulings, certificates, directives, and other actions hitherto issued or taken under 15 F. R. 8739, as amended and supplemented (16 F. R. 1130 and 16 F. R. 2553), shall remain in effect until hereafter amended or revoked under proper authority.

(h) Except for subparagraph (d), this notice is effective May 24, 1951. Subparagraph (d) is effective June 7, 1951.

National Production Authority

[NPA Delegation 1 as amended June 30, 1951]

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO ALLOTMENTS OF CONTROLLED MATERIAL

1. Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, Executive Orders 10161 and 10200, and Defense Production Administration Delegation 1, the Secretary of Defense is hereby delegated the authority (with power of redelegation) to make allotments of controlled material, to apply or assign to others the right to apply DO ratings and allotment numbers and symbols, as the case may be, with respect to contracts and purchase orders to meet authorized programs for which the Department of Defense is claimant under Defense Production Administration Order No. 1, and to meet such other programs as the National Production Authority may designate.

2. The Secretary of Defense is also hereby delegated authority (with power of redelegation) to assign to the following persons, with respect to the orders indicated, the right to apply DO ratings and allotment numbers and symbols:

(a) Certain prime or subcontractors on orders for delivery of production equipment specifically required to support authorized procurement programs of the Department of Defense or its delegate agencies.

(b) Certain contractors on orders for delivery of construction equipment for use on construction outside of the United States (48 States and the District of Columbia).

3. The authority herein delegated shall be exercised within the limits of such program determinations or other quantitative restrictions as may be established, and in accordance with such instructions, conditions, record-keeping and reporting requirements, and policy directives, as may be issued from time to time by the National Production Authority. The exercise of this authority shall also conform to the terms of the regulations and orders of the National Production Authority and to such priorities and allocations policy directives as may be issued by the Munitions Board to implement policies and procedures issued by the National Production Authority.

4. In making allotments of controlled material and in applying DO ratings and allotment numbers and symbols, as the case may be, the certification prescribed by the appropriate regulation or order of the National Production Authority shall be used. In assigning to others the right to exercise this authority, the following certification shall be used: "By authority of the National Production Authority, the right is hereby assigned to (description of scope of assignment)." This certification shall be authenticated with the signature of an authorized official of the Department of Defense or its delegate agency.

5. This authority shall not be used for (a) direct procurement or contractors' purchase of construction equipment for use in the United States (48 States and the District of Columbia); (b) civilian type items for resale in Military Exchanges, or packaging for such items other than packaging for export of such items; or (c) material purchased from exclusively retail establishments, except in emergency situations and then only for small amounts to prevent imminent stoppage.

This amended delegation shall take effect on June 30, 1951.

ADMINISTRATOR OF PETROLEUM ADMINISTRATION FOR DEFENSE

DELEGATION OF FURTHER AUTHORITY AS TO CERTAIN MATERIALS

1. In addition to the authority conferred by NPA Delegation 13, there is hereby delegated to the Administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, or any official of the Petroleum Administration for Defense duly authorized by him, authority to reschedule deliveries of controlled materials which are for delivery for use in petroleum or gas operations and which are represented by delivery orders placed upon and accepted by mills: Provided, however, That such authority (a) shall be applicable only to effect delivery of orders on which priorities assistance is or may be made available pursuant to orders in the M-46 series; and (b) shall be applicable only to the extent that such rescheduling of deliveries requires no change in production schedules.

2. The exercise of this authority shall conform to the terms of the regulations and orders of the National Production Authority.

This supplement shall take effect on June 30, 1951.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Regs. 5, Serial No. SR-364]

OPERATION BY TRANSOCEAN AIR LINES OF CERTAIN AIRCRAFT IN TRUST TERRITORY OF THE PACIFIC ISLANDS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of June 1951.

On July 1, 1951, the Department of the Interior will assume the duty of administering the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, including the islands of Saipan, Yap, Koror, Truk, Ponape, Kwajalein, and Majuro. At the present time the administration of these islands is in the Department of the Navy, which has maintained air transport communications with Naval aircraft among the various islands and between these islands and Guam. As a part of the transfer of the civil administration, the Departments of the Navy and Interior are desirous of establishing on or before the date of transfer a civilian operation which will replace the airlift heretofore furnished by the Navy in government aircraft. To this end the Department of the Navy has entered into a contract with Transocean Air Lines, the principal provisions of which include the transfer to Transocean of four PBY-5A aircraft, the undertaking by Transocean Air Lines to furnish service thereunder by the carriage of passengers, property and mail as may be directed by the High Commissioner of the Trust Territory, and the payment to Transocean on an aircraft mile basis.

The four PBY Amphibians turned over to Transocean Air Lines pursuant to this contract are eligible for airworthiness certificates issued pursuant to Part 3 of the Civil Air Regulations with a maximum allowable gross weight of 28,000 pounds. The Department of the Navy, joined by representatives of the Department of the Interior, has now requested that this gross weight limitation be raised from 28,000 to 30,000 pounds, because of the fact that a gross weight of 28,000 pounds would permit little or no pay-load over the longest over-water leg of the proposed operation. In addition to this waiver of the Civil Air Regulations concerning gross weight limits, the Department of the Navy and the Director of the Office of Territories in the Department of the Interior have requested that certain operating rules relative to the conduct of operations of these aircraft be modified in certain respects.

The Board believes that the importance of maintaining air communications to and within the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, the fact that no other type of aircraft appears to be practicable in conducting the operations, the fact that the operation is basically governmental in nature and will not be open to members of the general public, and the fact that most of the landing areas utilized will be sea level airports or seadromes, with few en route obstructions are all factors which indicate that a relaxation of otherwise applicable safety rules would be reasonable and in the public interest.

Because Transocean Air Lines is the only carrier affected by this Special Civil Air Regulation and because it has requested the relief herein granted, public notice and procedure hereon are unnecessary, and since it relieves the said carrier from restriction the Board finds that good cause exists to make this regulation effective immediately.

In consideration of the foregoing the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby makes and promulgates a Special Civil Air Regulation effective immediately to read as follows:

1. Notwithstanding any provision of the Civil Air Regulations to the contrary, but subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, the airworthiness certificates of four certain PBY Amphibian Flying Boats transferred to Transocean Air Lines pursuant to contract with United States Navy (No. N600s-d-12210) may be amended, or new airworthiness certificates may be issued in their stead, such new or amended certificates to provide for an allowable gross weight of 30,000 pounds for each aircraft; and the air carrier operating certificate of the said carrier may likewise be amended to the extent necessary to permit it to operate such aircraft between Guam—Saipan.

Guam—Yap.
Yap—Koror.
Truk—Guam.
Truk—Ponape.
Majuro—Kwajalein.
Kwajalein—Ponape.
Ponape—Majuro.

(a) The airworthiness certificates referred to herein may be amended, or other certificates issued, only if full compliance with the provisions of Part 3 of the Civil Air Regulations is shown on the basis of 28,000 pounds maximum take-off weight.

(b) Each such amended airworthiness certificate or new airworthiness certificate shall bear the following legend—"This certificate is issued (or amended) pursuant to the provisions of Special Civil Air Regulation SR-364. To the extent it authorizes a maximum take-off weight in excess of 28,000 pounds, it is valid only for non-common carrier operations conducted by Transocean Air Lines between points in the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands and between such islands and Guam."

(c) The air carrier operating certificate shall be amended only to the extent necessary to permit the use of the said PBY-5a aircraft in operations conducted pursuant to the said contract between Transocean Air Lines and the Department of the Navy.

(d) In conducting the operations specified above, Transcean Air Lines shall do so in accordance with the provisions of Part 42 of the Civil Air Regulations: Provided, That any provision of such part which would require any alteration or addition to the structure or component of the said PBY-5a aircraft certificated in accordance with this Special Civil Air Regulation or which would materially hinder Transocean Air Lines in performing its obligations under the said contract is hereby expressly waived.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply secs. 601, 604, 52 Stat. 1007, 1010, 49 U. S. C. 551, 554)

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. 9148, 9995]

HARDING COLLEGE, AND EDITH WOOD SWEEZY

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas, Docket No. 9148, File No. BP-6740; Edith Wood Sweezy, Searcy, Arkansas, Docket No. 9995, File No. BP-6908; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of June 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications, each requesting a permit to construct a new standard broadcast station to operate on frequency 1450 kilocycles, with 250 watts power, unlimited time at Searcy, Arkansas;

It appearing that applicant, Harding College, is legally qualified to operate the proposed station;

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding commencing at 10:00 a. m. on August 6, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the technical, financial and other qualifications of applicant, Harding College, to construct and operate its proposed station and the legal, technical, financial and other qualifications of applicant, Edith Wood Sweezy, to construct and operate her proposed station with particular reference to the terms of the agreement between Edith Wood Sweezy and one Earl Butler with regard to the acquisition of an interest in the proposed station by the said Earl Butler.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed stations and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference with any existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable intereference, each with the other, or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed stations would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

7. To determine on a comparative basis which, if either, of the applications in this consolidated proceeding should be granted.

[Docket 9993]

MACKINAC RADIO SERVICE

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUE

In the matter of E. M. Tellefson, d/b as Mackinac Radio Service, Mackinac Island, Michigan; Docket No. 9993, File No. 1551-F1-R-F, application for renewal of license for public coastal telegraph station WHQ.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of June 1951;

The Commission, having under consideration the application of E. M. Tellefson, d/b as Mackinac Radio Service, filed January 25, 1951, for renewal of license for station WHQ at Mackinac Island, Michigan; and

It appearing that, by order dated September 28, 1949, in connection with the proceedings in Docket No. 9433, the licensee was made a party respondent to the proceedings therein and was directed to file a statement regarding his acceptance and delivery practices but that said licensee did not respond to such order nor appear at the hearing therein; and

It further appearing that, on July 5 and August 28, 1950, respectively, official communications were sent to the licensee requesting information with respect to the operation of station WHQ, but that, to date no reply thereto has been received; and

It further appearing that said licensee may have, from time to time, discontinued, reduced or impaired service to a community or part of a community, through station WHQ, without complying with the provisions of Part 63 of the Commission's Rules and section 214 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to the provisions of section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled application is designated for hearing at the offices of the Commission at Washington, D. C., commencing at 10:00 a. m. on August 20, 1951, upon the following issues:

(1) To determine whether the licensee has discontinued, reduced or impaired service to a community or part of a community, through station WHQ, in violation of the provisions of Part 63 of the Commission's Rules and Section 214 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

(2) To determine whether the licensee has misrepresented to the Commission, in the instant application for renewal of license, the facts and circumstances relating to the operation of station WHQ.

(3) To determine the facts and circumstances with respect to the failure of the licensee to furnish a statement with respect to his acceptance and delivery practices, and to appear in the proceedings, as required by the Commission's order of September 28, 1949, in Docket No. 9433.

(4) To determine the facts and circumstances with respect to the failure of the licensee to respond to the Commission's official communications dated July 5 and August 28, 1950, respectively.

(5) To determine the need for a public coastal telegraph station at Mackinac Island.

(6) To determine whether the licensee is qualified to be a radio station licensee in the subject service.

(7) To determine whether the public interest, convenience, or necessity would be served by a grant of the instant application for renewal of license.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1720]

MONTANA-DAKOTA UTILITIES CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 26, 1951.

Take notice that Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. (Applicant), a Delaware corporation, of 831 Second Avenue South, Minneapolis 2, Minnesota, filed on June 18, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of approximately 44,500 feet of 4-inch natural gas transmission line extending from its Worland Compressor plant in Washakie County, Wyoming, to the pipeline of the General Petroleum Corporation in Washakie County, Wyoming.

The application states that the proposed 4-inch line will be operated as a part of its natural-gas utility system and will make available to Applicant additional gas reserves from the "Slick Creek Unit" and the "Sand Creek Unit" of the General Petroleum Corporation. Applicant does not contemplate serving any additional towns by virtue of the proposed construction.

The estimated total over-all capital cost of the proposed construction is $85,663.00, which will be financed out of current assets.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 16th day of July 1951. The application is on file with the Federal Power Commission for public inspection.

[Project No. 2084]

NIAGARA MOHAWK POWER CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR LICENSE

JUNE 26, 1951.

Public notice is hereby given that Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation, of Syracuse, New York, has filed application under the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791a-825r) for license for proposed hydroelectric Project No. 2084 comprising 5 developments on the Raquette River, New York, at sites downstream from Carry Falls, known respectively as Stark, Blake Falls, Rainbow Falls, Five Falls, and South Colton. Each development will consist principally of a dam, a reservoir, a powerhouse, penstock, substation, and a transmission line. The combined installed horsepower capacity of the 5 developments would be 123,300 horsepower.

Any protest against the approval of this application or request for hearing thereon, with the reason for such protest or request and the name and address of the party or parties so protesting or requesting should be submitted on or before August 9, 1951, to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

[Docket Nos. G-1308 and G-1676]

SOUTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

ORDER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDING AND FIXING DATE OF HEARING

On April 4, 1951, Southern Natural Gas Company (Applicant) filed a petition, supplemented on June 4, 1951, to amend the order entered on May 18, 1950, at Docket No. G-1308, stating that it did not propose to construct the lateral transmission pipe lines to serve the communities of Hogansville and Grantville, Georgia, and Childersburg, Alabama, all as authorized in said order of May 18, 1950. Applicant requested an amendment to said order authorizing Applicant to construct measuring facilities on Applicant's existing system for the delivery of natural gas to these communities which would construct the necessary lateral transmission pipe lines.

On April 23, 1951, Southern Natural Gas Company (Applicant) filed an application, amended on May 14 and June 1, 1951, at Docket No. G-1676 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural-gas pipe-line facilities, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully described in such application, as amended, on file with the Commission and open to public inspection, public notice thereof having been given, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 8, 1951 (16 F. R. 4263).

The Commission finds: It would be in the public interest to consolidate for purposes of hearing the proceeding on the petition to amend at Docket No. G-1308 with the proceeding on the application for a certificate at Docket No. G-1676.

The Commission orders:

(A) The proceedings on the petition to amend at Docket No. G-1308 and on the application for a certificate at Docket No. G-1676 be and the same are hereby consolidated for purposes of hearing.

(B) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a public hearing be held commencing on August 6, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented in these proceedings, as heretofore consolidated.

(C) Interested State commissions may participate, as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: June 26, 1951.

[Docket No. G-1685]

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

On May 9, 1951, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation, (Applicant) a Delaware corporation with offices at 2100 Niels Esperson Building, Houston 2, Texas, filed an application pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act seeking authorization to construct and operate an auxiliary pipeline crossing the Delaware River at a point near Marcus Hook, Pennsylvania.

Temporary authorization was granted on May 31, 1951.

The Commission finds: This proceeding is a proper one for disposition under the provisions of § 1.32 (b) (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, Applicant having requested that its application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by the aforesaid rule for non-contested proceedings, and no request to be heard, protest, or petition having been filed subsequent to the giving of due notice of the filing of the application, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 23, 1951 (16 F. R. 4819).

The Commission orders: (A) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing be held on July 17, 1951 at 9:45 a. m. (e. d. s. t.), in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, forthwith dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

(B) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of Issuance: June 26, 1951.

[Rev. S. O. 562, King's I. C. C. Order 48]

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD CO.

REROUTING OR DIVERSION OF TRAFFIC

In the opinion of Homer C. King, Agent, the Union Pacific Railroad Company, because of washouts, is unable to transport traffic routed over its lines in Kansas: It is ordered, That:

(a) Rerouting Union Pacific Railroad Company traffic: The Union Pacific Railroad Company is hereby authorized and directed to reroute or divert traffic moving on its lines in Kansas, routed via its lines, over any available route to expedite the movement; the billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained: The railroad desiring to divert or reroute traffic under this order shall confer with the proper transportation officer of the railroad or railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, and shall receive the concurrence of such other railroads before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers: Each carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic by said Agent is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date: This order shall become effective at 1:00 p. m., June 23, 1951.

(g) Expiration date: This order shall expire at 11:59 p. m., July 23, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annuled.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement.

Issued at Washington, D. C., June 23, 1951.

ARKANSAS NATURAL GAS CORP. AND ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS CO.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE OF PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF PROMISSORY NOTES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of June A. D. 1951.

Arkansas Natural Gas Corporation ("Arkansas Natural"), a registered holding company and its subsidiary, Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company ("Arkansas Louisiana"), having filed a joint declaration and an amendment thereto with this Commission pursuant to sections 6, 7 and 12 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), and Rule U-45 thereunder with respect to the following transactions:

Arkansas Louisiana has made certain loans from the Guaranty Trust Company of New York ("Bank") pursuant to a Loan Agreement dated October 15, 1947, and a Supplement thereto dated September 15, 1949. At present, the amounts owed the Bank under such agreements aggregate $23,000,000, evidenced by a 2¼ percent installment promissory note in the principal amount of $7,500,000 (payable in installments of $625,000 each, beginning October 15, 1951, and ending April 15, 1957), 2¾ percent promissory notes in the principal amount of $13,000,000 due September 15, 1952, and 2½ percent promissory notes in the principal amount of $2,500,000 due October 15, 1957.

Arkansas Louisiana proposes to enter into a Second Supplemental Bank Loan Agreement with the Bank pursuant to which it proposes to borrow additional sums not to exceed $4,000,000 on or prior to September 15, 1951. Such borrowings are to be evidenced by promissory notes to be issued by Arkansas Louisiana bearing interest at the rate of 2¾ percent per annum and maturing on September 15, 1952. In consideration of the commitment of the Bank to extend such credit, Arkansas Louisiana will pay the Bank a commitment fee computed at the rate of ½ of 1 percent per annum from April 1, 1951, the date of the Second Supplemental Agreement, on the daily average unused amount which the Bank is obligated to lend. The other terms and conditions of the Second Supplemental Agreement are substantially the same as those contained in the Loan Agreement dated October 15, 1947, as amended by the Supplemental Agreement dated September 15, 1949.

Arkansas Louisiana represents that it will use proceeds from the proposed borrowings for construction expenditures made, and to be made, during the calendar year 1951, estimated in the amount of $8,562,000.

It is proposed that, upon the execution of the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, Arkansas Natural, Arkansas Louisiana and Bank will execute a Second Supplemental Subordination Agreement supplementing the Subordination Agreement of October 15, 1947, and the amendment thereto of September 15, 1949, executed in connection with the original Loan Agreement and the Supplemental Loan Agreement, providing for the subordination of the 4¼ percent Sinking Fund Debenture due 1955 of Arkansas Louisiana in the principal amount of $6,500,000 held by Arkansas Natural to the payment of principal and interest on the notes proposed to be issued under the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement and to appropriately note the subordination by legend to be placed on the Debenture.

The filing states that fees and expenses in connection with the proposed transactions, exclusive of commitment fees, are estimated at $7,000, of which $5,000 is for legal fees.

Declarants request that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Said declaration having been filed on June 1, 1951, and an amendment having been filed on June 6, 1951, notice of filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed in Rule U-23 under said act and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said declaration, as amended, that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations thereunder have been satisfied, that there is no basis for adverse findings, that the estimated fees and expenses are not unreasonable, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors or consumers to permit said declaration, as amended, to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 of the applicable provisions of the act and subject to the terms and conditions of Rule U-24, that said declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2933

TERMINATION OF COSTA RICAN TRADE AGREEMENT PROCLAMATION

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

1 WHEREAS (pursuant to the authority vested in the President by the Constitution and the statutes, including section 350 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by section 1 of the act of June 12, 1934 (ch. 474, 48 Stat. 943)) the President of the United States of America entered into a trade agreement with the President of the Republic of Costa Rica on November 28, 1936 (50 Stat., Pt. 2, 1583);

2. WHEREAS by Proclamation of July 3, 1937 (50 Stat., Pt. 2, 1582), the President proclaimed the said trade agreement specified in the first recital of this proclamation, effective on and after August 2, 1937;

3. WHEREAS the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Republic of Costa Rica entered into an agreement on April 3, 1951, providing that the said trade agreement shall cease to be in force on and after June 1, 1951; and

4. WHEREAS section 350 (a) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, authorize the President to terminate in whole or in part any proclamation carrying out a trade agreement entered into under such section:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, acting under the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the statutes, including the said section 350 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, do proclaim that the said proclamation of July 3, 1937, is hereby terminated as of the close of May 31, 1951.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 28th day of June, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] fifty-one, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-fifth.

HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

DEAN ACHESON,
Secretary of State.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10264

TRANSFER OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF AMERICAN SAMOA FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY TO THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR

WHEREAS the Island of Tutuila of the Samoan group and all other islands of the group east of longitude 171 degrees west of Greenwich, known as American Samoa, were placed under the control of the Department of the Navy by Executive Order No. 125-A of February 19, 1900; and

WHEREAS the joint resolution of February 20, 1929, 45 Stat. 1253, provides that until the Congress shall provide for the government of such islands all civil, judicial, and military powers shall be vested in such person or persons and shall be exercised in such manner as the President of the United States may direct; and

WHEREAS a committee composed of the Secretaries of State, War, the Navy, and the Interior recommended on June 18, 1947, that administrative responsibility for American Samoa be transferred to a civilian agency of the Government at the earliest practicable date as determined by the President; and

WHEREAS plans for the orderly transfer of administrative responsibility for American Samoa from the Secretary of the Navy to the Secretary of the Interior are embodied in a memorandum of understanding between the Department of the Navy and the Department of the Interior, approved by me on September 23, 1949, and it is the view of the two departments, as expressed in that memorandum, that such transfer should take effect on or about July 1, 1951; and

WHEREAS the transfer of administration of American Samoa from the

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the said joint resolution of February 20, 1929, and as President of the United States, it is ordered as follows:

1. The administration of American Samoa is hereby transferred from the Secretary of the Navy to the Secretary of the Interior, such transfer to become effective on July 1, 1951.

2. The Department of the Navy and the Department of the Interior shall proceed with the plans for the transfer of administration of American Samoa as embodied in the above-mentioned memorandum of understanding between the two departments.

3. When the transfer of administration made by this order becomes effective, the Secretary of the Interior shall take such action as may be necessary and appropriate, and in harmony with applicable law, for the administration of civil government in American Samoa.

4. The executive departments and agencies of the Government are authorized and directed to cooperate with the Departments of the Navy and Interior in the effectuation of the provisions of this order.

5. The said Executive order of February 19, 1900, is revoked, effective July 1, 1951.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10265

TRANSFER OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TRUST TERRITORY OF THE PACIFIC ISLANDS FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY TO THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR

WHEREAS the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands (hereinafter referred to as the trust territory) was placed under the trusteeship system established by the Charter of the United Nations by means of a trusteeship agreement approved by the Security Council of the United Nations on April 2, 1947, and by the United States Government on July 18, 1947, after due constitutional process; and

WHEREAS the United States, under the terms of the trusteeship agreement, was designated as the administering authority of the trust territory, and has assumed obligations for the government thereof; and

WHEREAS Executive Order No. 9875 of July 18, 1947, delegated authority and responsibility for the civil administration of the trust territory to the Secretary of the Navy on an interim basis; and

WHEREAS a committee of the Secretaries of State, War, the Navy, and the Interior recommended on June 18, 1947, that administrative responsibility for the trust territory be transferred to a civilian agency of the Government at the earliest practicable date; and

WHEREAS plans for the orderly transfer of administrative responsibility for the trust territory from the Secretary of the Navy to the Secretary of the Interior are embodied in a memorandum of understanding between the Department of the Navy and the Department of the Interior, approved by me on September 23, 1949, and it is the view of the two departments, as expressed in that memorandum, that such transfer should take effect on July 1, 1951; and

WHEREAS the transfer of administration of the trust territory from the Secretary of the Navy to the Secretary of the Interior, effective July 1, 1951, appears to be in the public interest:

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States, it is ordered as follows:

1. The administration of the trust territory is hereby transferred from the Secretary of the Navy to the Secretary of the Interior, such transfer to become effective on July 1, 1951.

2. The Department of the Navy and the Department of the Interior shall proceed with the plans for the transfer of administration of the trust territory as embodied in the above-mentioned memorandum of understanding between the two departments.

3. When the transfer of administration made by this order becomes effective, the Secretary of the Interior shall take such action as may be necessary and appropriate, and in harmony with applicable law, for the administration of civil government in the trust territory and shall, subject to such policies as the President may from time to time prescribe and, when appropriate, in collaboration with other departments or agencies of the Government, carry out the obligations assumed by the United States as the administering authority of the trust territory under the terms of the trusteeship agreement approved by the United States on July 18, 1947, and under the Charter of the United Nations: Provided, however, that the authority to specify parts or all of the trust territory as closed for security reasons and to determine the extent to which Articles 87 and 88 of the Charter of the United Nations shall be applicable to such closed areas, in accordance with Article 13 of the trusteeship agreement, shall be exercised by the President: And provided further, that the Secretary of the Interior shall keep the Secretary of State currently informed of activities in the trust territory affecting the foreign policy of the United States and shall consult the Secretary of State on questions of policy concerning the trust territory which relate to the foreign policy of the United States, and that all relations between departments or agencies of the Government and appropriate organs of the United Nations with respect to the trust territory shall be conducted through the Secretary of State.

4. The executive departments and agencies of the Government are authorized and directed to cooperate with the Departments of the Navy and Interior in the effectuation of the provisions of this order.

5. The said Executive Order No. 9875 of July 18, 1947, is revoked, effective July 1, 1951.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10266

SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE OFFICER PERSONNEL ACT OF 1947, AS AMENDED, WHICH RELATE TO OFFICERS OF THE NAVY AND MARINE CORPS

By virtue of the authority vested in me by sections 301 and 426 (c) of the Officer Personnel Act of 1947, as amended, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. Except as provided in paragraph 2 hereof, the operation of those provisions of Title III of the Officer Personnel Act of 1947, as amended, which relate to the distribution in grades, promotion by selection, temporary promotion, and discharge on second failure of selection for promotion, of officers of the grades of lieutenant, lieutenant (junior grade), and ensign of the Navy, and of corresponding grades of the Marine Corps, are hereby suspended for the duration of the national emergency proclaimed by Proclamation No. 2914 of December 16, 1950.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph 1 hereof, (a) the operation of those provisions of Title III of the Officer Personnel Act of 1947, as amended, which relate to the promotion of officers of the grades of lieutenant and lieutenant (junior grade) of the Navy, and of corresponding grades of the Marine Corps, shall not be regarded as suspended in the case of any officer whose name is on this date on a promotion list as the result of selection for promotion pursuant to the said act, as amended, and (b) the operation of those provisions of Title III of the said act which relate to discharge on second failure of selection for promotion of officers of the said grades shall not be regarded as suspended in the case of any officer subject to discharge on June 30, 1951, under such provisions if the officer requests such discharge.

AUTHORITY: §§ 930.0 to 930.96 issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 74 S. C. and Sup., 608c.

§ 930.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations set forth in this subpart are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth in this subpart.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.) and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Toledo, Ohio, on June 1, 1950, reopened on November 30, 1950, upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the milk covered by this order, as amended of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, further amending the said order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order further amending the said order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (March 1951), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

DEFINITIONS

§ 930.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C., 1940 ed, 601 et seq.).

§ 930.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or such other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers or to perform the duties of the said Secretary.

§ 930.3 Department of Agriculture. "Department of Agriculture" means the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 930.4 Person. "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 930.5 Toledo, Ohio, marketing area. "Toledo, Ohio, marketing area," called the "marketing area" in this subpart means the territory within the corporate limits of the cities of Toledo, Ohio, and Monroe, Michigan, and the towns and villages of Ottawa Hills, Maumee, Sylvania, Harbor View and Trilby in Lucas County, Ohio, and the village of Rossford in Wood County, Ohio, and the territory within the boundaries of the townships of Monclova, Springfield, Adams, Sylvania, Washington, Jerusalem and Oregon in Lucas County, Ohio, and Perrysburg, Ross and Lake in Wood County, Ohio, and Whiteford, Bedford, Erie, La Salle, Monroe, and Frenchtown in Monroe County, Michigan.

§ 930.6 Fluid milk plant. "Fluid milk plant" means a plant or other facilities used in the preparation or processing of milk for sale or disposition in the marketing area as Class I milk all, or a portion, of which is so sold or disposed of on the premises or from such plant (or facilities) to a wholesale or retail stop(s) other than a plant of a handler or nonhandler.

§ 930.7 Producer. "Producer" means any person who produces milk received (a) at a fluid milk plant, or (b) at any other plant by diversion from a fluid milk plant on the account of a handler or a cooperative association: Provided, That the person producing milk holds a dairy farm inspection permit issued by the appropriate health authority of the community for which the milk is produced, if such community requires such permit for milk for disposition as Class I milk therein.

§ 930.8 Handler. "Handler" means (a) any person who operates a fluid milk plant, or (b) any association of producers with respect to producer milk diverted by it from a fluid milk plant to any plant of a nonhandler for the account of such association.

§ 930.9 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means a person who is a handler and who produces milk, but receives no milk from other producers.

§ 930.10 Producer milk. "Producer milk" means milk produced by one or more producers under the conditions set forth in § 930.7.

§ 930.11 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat in any form received from a source other than a producer or handler (who is not a producer-handler), except any nonfluid milk product so received which is disposed of in the same form.

§ 930.12 Nonhandler. "Nonhandler" means any person who is not a handler, but who operates a milk manufacturing or processing plant.

§ 930.13 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association of producers which the Secretary determines, after application by the association: (a) To be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act"; (b) to have full authority in the sale of milk of its members and to be engaged in making collective sales or marketing milk or its product for its members; and (c) to have all of its activities under the control of its members.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 930.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this subpart shall be a market administrator selected by the Secretary, who shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal by the secretary.

§ 930.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this subpart:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations;

(c) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions; and

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 930.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this subpart, including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) Within 30 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond effective as of the date on which he enters upon such duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer its terms and provisions;

(c) Obtain a bond in a reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay, out of the funds provided by § 930.73:

(1) The cost of his bond and of the bonds of his employees,

(2) His own compensation, and

(3) All other expenses, except those incurred under § 930.74, necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this subpart, and, upon request by the Secretary, surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Publicly announce, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, within 10 days after the day upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not made (1) reports pursuant to § 930.30, or (2) payments pursuant to §§ 930.70, 930.73, 930.74, 930.75, and 930.77;

(g) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary and furnish such information and reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(h) Audit records of all handlers to verify the reports and payments required pursuant to the provisions of this subpart; and

(i) Publicly announce, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the prices determined for each delivery period as follows:

(1) On or before the 5th day after the end of such delivery period, the minimum class prices and the butterfat differential for each class computed pursuant to § 930.50, and § 930.52 and

(2) On or before the 12th day after the end of such delivery period the uniform price computed pursuant to § 930.61 and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 930.72.

(j) Upon request, supply on or before the 10th day after the end of each month to each cooperative association with respect to each producer specified in § 930.70 (a) the amounts of milk received, the average butterfat tests thereof, the amounts of authorized deductions and such other information necessary to carry out the provisions and intent of § 930.70.

REPORTS, RECORDS, AND FACILITIES

§ 930.30 Monthly reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 5th day after the end of each month, each handler, except a producer-handler, shall report to the market administrator in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator the following information with respect to all milk received from producers, all milk, skim milk, cream, and milk products received from other handlers, all other source milk received during the month at his fluid milk plant(s), and milk diverted pursuant to § 930.7 (b):

(a) The quantities of butterfat and skim milk contained in such receipts, and their sources;

(b) The utilization of such receipts; and

(c) Such other information with respect to such receipts and utilization as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 930.31 Other reports. Each handler shall report to the market administrator in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator (except that each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request) on or before the 20th day after the end of each month his producer pay roll for the month, which shall show (a) the pounds of milk and the percentages of butterfat contained therein received from each producer; (b) the amounts and dates of payments to each producer or cooperative association; and (c) the nature and amount of each deduction or charge involved in the payments referred to in paragraph (b) of this section.

§ 930.32 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain, and make available to the market administrator during the usual hours of business, such accounts and records of all of his operations and such facilities as, in the opinion of the market administrator, are necessary to verify reports, or to ascertain the correct information with respect to (a) the receipts and utilization of all skim milk and butterfat received, including all milk products received and disposed of in the same form; (b) the weights and tests for butterfat and for other contents of all milk and milk products handled; and (c) payments to producers and cooperative associations.

§ 930.33 Retention of records. All books and records required under this subpart to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That, if within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies a handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records until further written notification from the market administrator. The market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 930.40 Basis of classification. All (a) producer milk received by a handler, (b) skim milk and butterfat in any form received by a handler from other handlers, and (c) other source milk received by a handler at a fluid milk plant, shall be classified in the classes set forth in § 930.41.

§ 930.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 930.42, 930.43, 930.44, 930.45, 930.46 and 930.47, the classes of utilization shall be:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat disposed of in fluid form as (1) milk; skim milk or buttermilk, except for livestock feed; or flavored milk or flavored milk drink; and (2) all skim milk and butterfat not accounted for as Class II milk or Class III milk.

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat disposed of as sweet or sour cream; any cream product in fluid form which contains less than the minimum butterfat required for fluid cream; or eggnog.

(c) Class III milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat accounted for (1) as used to produce a product other than those specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section; (2) as actual plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat received in producer milk, but not to exceed 2 percent of such receipts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, and (3) as actual plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in other source milk received: Provided, That if producer milk is utilized as milk, skim milk, or cream in conjunction with other source milk, the shrinkage allocated to producer milk shall be computed pro rata according to the proportions of the volumes of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, received from such sources to their total.

§ 930.42 Interhandler and nonhandler transfers. (a) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of by a handler to another handler in the form of milk or skim milk shall be Class I milk, and skim milk and butterfat so disposed of in the form of cream shall be Class II milk, unless utilization in another class is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 5th day after the end of the month within which such transfer was made: Provided, That in no event shall the amount so reported be greater than the amount used in such class by the receiving handler.

(b) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of in the form of milk or skim milk by a handler to a nonhandler's plant located less than 100 miles from the City Hall at Toledo, Ohio, by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator, shall be Class I milk, and skim milk and butterfat so disposed of in the form of cream shall be Class II milk, unless (1) utilization is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both the handler and nonhandler on or before the 5th day after the end of the month within which such transfer was made, and (2) the nonhandler maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at his plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the verification of such mutually indicated utilization.

(c) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of in the form of milk or skim milk by a handler to a nonhandler's plant located 100 miles or more from the City Hall at Toledo, by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator, shall be Class I milk, and skim milk and butterfat so disposed of in the form of cream shall be Class II milk.

§ 930.43 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (a) All skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat proves to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

(b) Any skim milk or butterfat classified in one class shall be reclassified if used or reused by such handler or by another handler in another class.

§ 930.44 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for obvious errors the monthly report submitted by each handler and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk for such handler.

§ 930.45 Allocation of butterfat classified. The pounds of butterfat remaining after making the following computations shall be the pounds in each class allocated to producer milk:

(a) Subtract from the total pounds of butterfat in Class III milk the total pounds of butterfat shrinkage pursuant to subparagraphs (2) and (3) of paragraph (c) of this section;

(b) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class the pounds of butterfat received from other handlers and used in such class;

(c) Determine the pounds of butterfat in other source milk to be prorated pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section as the smallest of the following amounts:

(1) The pounds of butterfat in other source milk received in the form of milk or skim milk,

(2) The difference by which the pounds of butterfat received in producer milk are less than 1.2 times the pounds of butterfat in the handler's Class I milk, not including that disposed of to other fluid milk plants, and

(3) The total pounds of butterfat in other source milk less the amount of the butterfat shrinkage on other source milk subtracted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section;

(d) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class, in series beginning with the lowest-priced utilization, the pounds of butterfat in other source milk other than (1) butterfat shrinkage in other source milk subtracted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section and (2) butterfat in other source milk determined pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section;

(e) Subtract pro rata from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class, the pounds of butterfat in other source milk determined pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section; and

(f) Add to the pounds of butterfat remaining in Class III milk the pounds of butterfat shrinkage in producer milk subtracted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; or if the remaining pounds of butterfat in all classes exceed the pounds of butterfat in milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of butterfat in each class in series beginning with the lowest-priced utilization.

§ 930.46 Allocation of skim milk classified. Allocate the pounds of skim milk in each class to producer milk in a manner similar to that prescribed for butterfat in § 930.45.

§ 930.47 Determination of producer milk in each class. Add the pounds of butterfat and pounds of skim milk allocated to producer milk in each class, respectively, as computed pursuant to §§ 930.45 and 930.46 and determine the percentage of butterfat in each class.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 930.50 Class prices. Subject to the provisions of §§ 930.52 and 930.53, each handler shall pay not less than the following prices per hundredweight, on the basis of 3.5 percent butterfat content, for producer milk received.

(a) Class I milk price. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, add to the basic formula price the following amount for the delivery period indicated:

Delivery period:	Amount
May and June	$0.75
March, April, July, August	1.60
All others	1.20

(2) For the second delivery period following any period of 12 consecutive months in which the total receipts of milk from producers by all handlers exceed 135 percent of the total Class I utilization of all handlers, and continuing until the beginning of the second delivery period following any period of 12 consecutive months in which such milk receipts are less than 125 percent of such utilization, add to the basic formula price the following amount for the delivery period indicated:

Delivery period:	Amount
May and June	$0.75
March, April, July, August	.95
All others	1.05

(b) Class II milk price. The Class II milk price for each delivery period shall be the Class I milk price for such delivery period less 30 cents.

(c) Class III milk price. The Class III milk price shall be the average (computed to the nearest tenth of a cent) of the basic (or field) prices per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following locations for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department of Agriculture on or before the 5th day after the end of the month by the companies indicated below:

Company and Location

Pet Milk Co., Wauseon, Ohio.
Pet Milk Co., Delta, Ohio.
Defiance Milk Products Co., Defiance, Ohio.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.

§ 930.51 Basic formula price. The basic formula price per hundredweight (computed to the nearest tenth of a cent) to be used in determining the class prices pursuant to § 930.50 shall be the highest of the prices per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content computed pursuant to paragraph (c) of § 930.50, or to paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section.

(a) The average of the basic (or field) prices reported to have been paid or to be paid per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department of Agriculture on or before the 5th day after the end of the month by the companies indicated below:

Companies and Location

Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(b) The price per hundredweight computed as follows:

(1) Multiply by six the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month;

(2) Add an amount equal to 2.4 times the arithmetical average of the weekly prevailing price per pound of "Twins" during the month on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin: Provided, That if the price of "Twins" is not quoted on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange the weekly prevailing price per pound of "Cheddars" shall be used; and

(3) Divide by seven, and add 30 percent thereof, and then multiply by 3.5.

(c) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) From the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month subtract three cents, add 20 percent thereof, and then multiply by 3.5; and

(2) From the arithmetical average of the carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids (not including that specifically designated animal feed), spray and roller process, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published by the Department of Agriculture during the month, deduct 5.5 cents, multiply by 8.5, and then multiply by 0.965, except that if such agency does not publish such prices f. o. b. manufacturing plants, there shall be used for the purpose of this computation the arithmetical average of the carlot prices thereof delivered at Chicago, Illinois, as published weekly by such agency during the month; and in the latter event the figure "7.5" shall be substituted for "5.5" in the above formula.

§ 930.52 Butterfat differentials to handlers. If the weighted average butterfat test of that portion of producer milk which is classified, respectively, in any class of utilization for a handler, pursuant to § 930.47, is more or less than 3.5 percent, there shall be added to, or subtracted from, as the case may be, the price for such class of utilization, for each one-tenth of one percent that such weighted average butterfat test is above or below, respectively, 3.5 percent, a butterfat differential (computed to the nearest tenth of a cent), calculated for each class of utilization as follows:

(a) Class I milk. Multiply by 1.3 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month, and divide the result by 10;

(b) Class II milk. Multiply by 1.25 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month, and divide the result by 10; and

(c) Class III milk. Multiply by 1.2 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month, and divide the result by 10.

§ 930.53 Emergency price provisions. Whenever the provisions of this subpart require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining minimum class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy, or other similar payment, being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk, or product, associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of such subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price, or if the specified price is not reported or published and the Secretary determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to or comparable with the price specified.

HANDLER'S OBLIGATION AND UNIFORM PRICE

§ 930.60 Value of milk. The value of producer milk of each handler for each month shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator by multiplying by the respective class prices pursuant to § 930.50, the amounts in each class computed pursuant to § 930.47, and adding together such amounts: Provided, That if a handler, after the subtraction of other source milk and receipts from other handlers, has disposed of skim milk or butterfat in excess of the skim milk or butterfat which on the basis of his report for the month pursuant to § 930.30, has been credited to his producers as having been received from them, there shall be added an amount computed by multiplying the pounds in each class as subtracted pursuant to § 930.45 (f) and § 930.46 by the applicable class prices.

§ 930.61 Uniform price. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute for each handler a "uniform price" per hundredweight, on the basis of 3.5 percent butterfat content, for producer milk received by such handler as follows:

(a) From the value of milk computed for such handler pursuant to § 930.60, deduct, if the weighted average butterfat test of all producer milk received by him is greater than 3.5 percent, or add, if the weighted average butterfat test of such milk is less than 3.5 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the total pounds of butterfat represented by the variance of such weighted average butterfat test from 3.5 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 930.72 and multiplied by 10;

(b) Add or subtract, as the case may be, the amount necessary to correct errors in classification for previous delivery periods as disclosed by audit of the market administrator;

(c) Adjust the resulting amount by the sum of money used in adjusting the uniform price, pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section, for the previous month to the nearest cent;

(d) Divide the result by the total hundredweight of producer milk represented by the value computed pursuant to § 930.60; and

(e) Adjust the resulting figure to the nearest cent.

§ 930.62 Notification. On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall mail to each handler, at his last known address, a statement showing:

(a) The amount and value of his producer milk in each class;

(b) The uniform price for such handler pursuant to § 930.61 and the butterfat differentials computed pursuant to § 930.72; and

(c) The totals of the amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to §§ 930.73, 930.74, and 930.75.

PAYMENTS

§ 930.70 Time and method of final payment. (a) On or before the 13th day after the end of each month, each handler shall, upon request, pay to a cooperative association with respect to milk of producers for which it has received written authorization to collect payment a total amount not less than the sum of the individual amounts otherwise payable to such producers pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) On or before the 15th day after the end of each month, each handler shall pay each producer (other than those specified in paragraph (a) of this section) for milk received from him during such month, at not less than the uniform price for such handler adjusted by the butterfat differential pursuant to § 930.72 less the amount of payment made pursuant to § 930.71.

§ 930.71 Partial payments. (a) On or before the last day of each month, each handler shall, upon request, pay to a cooperative association with respect to milk received during the first 15 days of the month from producers specified in paragraph (a) of this section, a total amount not less than the sum of the individual amounts for such producers, computed at not less than the uniform price for such handler for the preceding month.

(b) On or before the last day of each month each handler shall pay to each producer (other than those specified in paragraph (a) of this section) for milk received from him during the first fifteen (15) days of the month at not less than fifty cents (50 cents) under the uniform price for such handler for the preceding month: Provided, That in the event a producer discontinues shipping to the market during the month, such partial payments shall not be made and full payment for all milk received from such producer during the month shall be made pursuant to the provisions of § 930.70.

§ 930.72 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 930.70 the uniform price for each handler shall be adjusted for each one-tenth of one percent of butterfat content in the milk of each producer above or below 3.5 percent, as the case may be, by a butterfat differential (computed to the nearest multiple of one-half cent) calculated as follows: Multiply by 1.2 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month and divide the result by 10.

§ 930.73 Expense of administration. As his prorata share of expense incurred pursuant to § 930.22 (d), each handler shall pay the market administrator, on or before the 15th day after the end of each month, 2 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe with respect to receipts, during the month, of (a) milk from producers (including such handler's own production), and (b) other source milk received at a fluid milk plant and classified as Class I milk or Class II milk.

§ 930.74 Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in § 930.75, each handler, in making payments to producers pursuant to § 930.70, with respect to all milk received from each producer (except milk of such handler's own production) at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producer is a member, shall deduct 4 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe; and on or before the 15th day after the end of such month, shall pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk of such producers and to provide such producers with market information, such services to be performed by the market administrator, or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

§ 930.75 Cooperative association. In the case of producers whose milk is received at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producers are members, and for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services described in § 930.74, as determined by the market administrator, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deductions specified in § 930.74, such deductions from payments required pursuant to § 930.70 as may be authorized by such producers, and pay such deductions on or before the 15th day after the end of such month to the cooperative association rendering such services of which such producers are members.

§ 930.76 Reports to cooperatives. Upon request the market administrator is authorized to report to any cooperative association qualifying under § 930.75 for each month the amount of butterfat shortage or overage in member milk found in any handler's plant, as revealed by the records of the market administrator. For the purpose of this report, the butterfat shortage or overage on member milk shall be determined as the percentage of total butterfat shortage or overage which total receipts of butterfat in member milk is of the total receipts of butterfat in the plant.

§ 930.77 Errors in payments. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from such handler, or such handler from the market administrator pursant to §§ 930.73 or 930.74, or (b) any producer or cooperative association from such handler pursuant to § 930.70, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any such amount due; and said payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payment set forth in the provision under which such error occurred, following the 5th day after such notice.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 930.80 Milk subject to other Federal orders. (a) Milk received at a plant of a handler other than from producers the handling of which the Secretary determines to be subject to the pricing and payment provisions of any other Federal milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for any fluid milk marketing area shall be considered as other source milk.

(b) Milk distributed as described in § 930.6 directly from a plant at which the handling of such milk is subject to the pricing and payment provisions of any other Federal milk marketing agreement or order shall not be subject to any of the provisions of this subpart except §§ 930.30, 930.31, 930.32 and 930.33.

(c) The value of milk disposed of by a handler as Class I milk within the marketing area of any other Federal milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act, which milk is not subject to the pricing and payment provisions of such agreement or order, shall be computed pursuant to § 930.60 at the Class I price provided in such other agreement or order adjusted pursuant to any applicable location adjustments, if such Class I price is higher than the Class I price provided in this subpart.

§ 930.81 Milk caused to be delivered by cooperative associations. Milk referred to in this subpart as received from producers by a handler shall include milk of producers caused to be delivered directly from the farm to the fluid milk plant of such handler by a cooperative association which is authorized to collect payment for such milk.

§ 930.82 Diverted milk. (a) Producer milk diverted by an operator of a fluid milk plant from such plant to a nonhandler's plant shall be deemed to have been received by the fluid milk plant from which such milk was diverted.

(b) Producer milk diverted by a cooperative association from a fluid milk plant to a nonhandler's plant shall be deemed to have been received by such association.

§ 930.83 Producer-handlers. Sections 930.40, 930.50, 930.60, 930.70, 930.73, 930.74, and 930.77 shall not apply to the milk of a producer-handler.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 930.90 Termination of obligations. (a) The obligations of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this subpart shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c), terminate two years after the last day of the month during which the market administrator receives the handler's report of utilization of the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to a cooperative association, the name of such producers or association, or, if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this subpart, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books or records required by this subpart to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a), notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the month following the month during which such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representative.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this subpart to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or wilful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this subpart shall terminate two years after the end of the month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

§ 930.91 Effective time. The provisions of this subpart, or of any amendment to this subpart, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated.

§ 930.92 When suspended or terminated. The Secretary shall, whenever he finds that this subpart, or any provision thereof, obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, terminate or suspend the operation of this subpart or any such provision thereof.

§ 930.93 Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this subpart, there are any obligations thereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 930.94 Liquidation. Upon the suspension of the provisions of this subpart, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 930.95 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 930.96 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this subpart, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision, and of the remaining provisions of this subpart, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 28th day of June 1951, to be effective on and after the first day of September 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 9—ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

Chapter I—Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter F—Animal Breeds

[BAI Order 379, Amdt. 16]

PART 151—RECOGNITION OF BREEDS AND BOOKS OF RECORD OF PUREBRED ANIMALS

HOGS

On May 2, 1951, a notice of rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 3841) regarding the proposed recognition by the Secretary of Agriculture of the Wessex Saddleback Section of the book of record of purebred hogs entitled "Herd Book of the National Pig Breeders' Association."

After due consideration of all relevant material presented in connection with the notice, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in him by section 201, paragraph 1606 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. and Sup. III, sec. 1201, par. 1606) hereby recognizes the Wessex Saddleback Section of the said book of record, and hereby amends § 151.10, Chapter I, Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations, as amended, by adding to the subdivision of paragraph (a) of said section relating to hogs, the name "Wessex Saddleback" to the list of breeds in the said herd book which are currently so recognized, as follows:

Hogs

Name of breed	Book of record	By whom published
Berkshire Large White Middle White Tamworth Wessex Saddleback	Herd Book of the National Pig Breeders' Association.	National Pig Breeders' Association, A. R. Bennett, Secretary, Victoria House, Southampton Row, London, W. C. 1, England.

(Sec. 201, Par. 1606, 48 Stat. 673 as amended; 19 U. S. C. and Sup. 1201, Par. 1606)

The foregoing amendment shall become effective on the 2d day of August 1951.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of June 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 10—ATOMIC ENERGY

Chapter I—Atomic Energy Commission

[Domestic Uranium Program Circular 6]

PART 60—DOMESTIC URANIUM PROGRAM

BONUS FOR INITIAL PRODUCTION OF URANIUM ORES FROM DOMESTIC MINES

§ 60.6 Bonus for initial production of uranium ores from new domestic mines—(a) What this section does. This section provides for bonus payments for initial and certain other production of uranium-bearing ores. It is intended to encourage and assist the development of new sources of domestic uranium production in the interest of the common defense and security.

(b) Production bonus established. The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission will pay a bonus under the conditons set forth in this section for delivery to a Commission ore-buying station or a qualified uranium mill (hereafter called station or mill) of uranium ores from an eligible mining property up to the maximum quantities specified in this section.

(c) Term of this section. This section will apply to deliveries made under its terms between March 1, 1951, and February 28, 1954, inclusive.

(d) Payment of the bonus. Bonus payments will be computed on the following basis:

Ores assaying less than 0.10 percent U_3O_8: no payment.

Ores assaying 0.10 percent U_3O_8 and more, as follows:

U_3O_8 assay:	Payment per pound of U_3O_8
0.10 percent	$1.50
0.11 percent	1.70
0.12 percent	1.90
0.13 percent	2.10
0.14 percent	2.30
0.15 percent	2.50
0.16 percent	2.70
0.17 percent	2.90
0.18 percent	3.10
0.19 percent	3.30
0.20 percent and more	3.50

Fractional parts of a pound will be paid for on a pro rata basis to the nearest cent. Assays will be adjusted to the nearest 0.01 percent for purposes of payment. Weights are avoirdupois dry weights. Bonus payments made under this section will be in addition to any other payments for delivery of the ore. They will be paid directly by the Commission and not by the station or mill.

(e) Maximum quantity of uranium ores for which bonus payments will be made. Subject to the conditions of this section, bonus payments will be made on deliveries of uranium ore from an eligible mining property to a station or mill until bonus payments have been made on 10,000 pounds of contained uranium oxide less the number of pounds, if any, accepted by stations or mills (or any other uranium ore processing plants) from that mining property between April 9, 1948 and February 28, 1951, inclusive.

(f) Ores for which bonus payments will be made. Ores for which bonus payments will be made must have been delivered to and paid for by either a station or mill. However, in special cases, bonus payments may be made for ores which have been accepted by the station or mill but for which payment is still pending. Bonus payments will not be made for ores which a station or mill refuses to accept. The weights and final assays made to ascertain the amount of payment due from the station or mill shall be used to determine the amount of bonus payments under this section.

(g) Which mining properties are eligible. In order for a mining property to be eligible for bonus payments under this section,

(1) As required by paragraph (e) of this section, the total quantity of uranium oxide as contained in ore accepted by stations or mills (or any other uranium ore processing plants) from that property between April 9, 1948 and February 28, 1951, inclusive, must have been less than 10,000 pounds; and

(2) The property must be within the United States, its territories, possessions or the Canal Zone; and

(3) The property must be certified by the Commission as eligible using the following criteria as guides:

(i) Purpose of the bonus. The purpose of the bonus is to encourage and assist the development of new sources of domestic uranium production.

(ii) Character of mining property. The mining property may consist of a placer or lode location, or if not covered by location, a tract which the Commission finds to be comparable or otherwise appropriate. However, an entire holding consisting of contiguous locations or tracts will be regarded as only a single eligible unit of mining property if the locations or tracts are held in common in the manner set forth in the following paragraph.

(iii) Title or interest of the holder of the property. The title or interest in the mining property should be one of ownership or lawful possession of mining rights. This type of holding will generally be that of an owner or leaser (lessee). It is recognized that there are various arrangements such as split check leases, piece rate contracts and the like whereby persons either as employees or independent contractors conduct mining operations on designated areas of property held by another who also supplies certain of the mining services or equipment or both and who receives in return a percentage of the proceeds of the ore produced. In the case of such arrangements, the person who grants the right to conduct these mining operations will be considered as the holder of the mining property although others perform mining operations on it.

(iv) Minimum size of mining property. The mining property, if it is made up of a location or locations, should contain at least 15 acres. The minimum size of lands on Indian reservations will be established by the Commission after consultation with the Bureau of Indian Affairs of the Department of Interior. The minimum size of other mining properties will be established by the Commission in individual cases in the light of the purpose of the bonus.

(v) Subdivision or consolidation of property. Since the division of existing mining properties into smaller units might have the effect of increasing bonus payments without advancing the purpose of the bonus program, division of a single unit of mining property on or after March 1, 1951, will not be recognized in determining its eligibility for bonus payments under this section. In addition, consolidation or merger of contiguous mining properties on or after March 1, 1951, will not affect the eligibility of the separate properties for bonus payments.

(vi) Special cases. Since the above criteria are merely guides to assist the Commission in its decisions, areas which fail to meet all of the criteria may be certified by the Commission as eligible in special cases where it is determined that the deviations are not substantial or that their disqualification would cause serious inequities. In determining whether or not serious inequities would result, the physical characteristics and location of the deposit may be a factor. Under appropriate circumstances, a segment of a certified property may itself be certified as eligible. On the other hand, technical compliance with all the above criteria will not necessarily make a property eligible.

Properties leased to private operators by the Commission will not be eligible for bonus payments except under special circumstances and as provided for in the lease.

(h) Determination by the Commission. The Commission expressly reserves the right to decide the amount of any bonus payments to be made, whether the property should be certified as an eligible mining property, the person to whom the bonus should be paid and whether for any reason a bonus is not payable. These decisions shall rest in the sole discretion of the Commission and shall be final and conclusive. The Commission further reserves the right to establish procedures to carry out the bonus program. Any bonus payments made hereunder with respect to particular ores shall be the only such bonus payments made for those ores. The Commission will not consider any other application for bonus payments on those ores.

(i) Application for certification. Applications for certification of a property as eligible should be made to:

U. S. Atomic Energy Commission,
Colorado Raw Materials Office,
P. O. Box 270,
Grand Junction, Colorado.

The application should include a description of the mining property indicating its size, location, ownership, interest of the applicant and public recording. There should also be included a statement by the applicant that to the best of his knowledge the total quantity of uranium oxide contained in ore accepted by stations or mills (or any other uranium ore processing plants) from that property between April 9, 1948, and February 28, 1951, inclusive, was less than 10,000 pounds. A form prescribed by the Commission and obtainable at a station or mill should be used for supplying the above information. Certification by the Commission will be a prerequisite to payment of the bonus, but after certification, payments will be made for ores which are delivered before certification and which meet the requirements of this section. Normally certification will not be made before uranium deposits have been discovered on the property, but the Commission may issue certifications prior to discovery in special cases. The Commission reserves the right to revoke a certification if it determines that its issuance was based on fraud, misrepresentation or mistake or if the requirements of this section are not complied with. The Commission may require such information and right to make such inspections of the mining property as it finds necessary for the purpose of determining its eligibility for bonus payments and the amounts to be paid.

NOTE: Misrepresentation or falsification of facts in an application for certification or for bonus payments may subject the offender to criminal penalties under pertinent provisions of the United States Code including section 1001 of Title 18. Any such offenses also will disqualify the offender from receiving bonus payments.

(j) Application for bonus payment. Application for a bonus payment should be made on a prescribed form (obtainable at a station or mill) at intervals not more frequent than once a month during a period when ore deliveries from the property are believed to meet the requirements of this section. Applications may be addressed as follows:

U. S. Atomic Energy Commission,
Colorado Raw Materials Office,
P. O. Box 270,
Grand Junction, Colorado.

In addition to the application, the Commission may require such other information as it finds necessary.

(k) Who may apply for bonus payments. The person (other than a royalty payee or the like) who has lawfully received payment from a station or mill for the delivery of ore from a certified mining property may apply for bonus payments under this section. However, in special cases, the applications of persons whose ores have been accepted by the station or mill but for which payment is still pending will be considered.

(l) Mill processing ores from its own mines. In the event that an operator of a mill processes in the mill ores which it obtains from mining properties operated by it, the Commission will pay the bonus under the conditions set forth in this section to the same extent as if the mining properties were operated by another person who delivered ore to the mill and received payment for it from the mill. In such case, however, the weights and assays used to fix the amount of payment due as a bonus under this section shall be determined in accordance with practices satisfactory to the Commission.

(m) Definitions. As used in this section,

(1) "Commission" means the Atomic Energy Commission created by the Atomic Energy Act of 1946, or its duly authorized representative.

(2) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, firm, association, trust, estate, public or private institution, group, or combination thereof. The term "person" shall not include the U. S. or any agency thereof or any officer or employee of the Commission.

(n) Commission ore-buying stations and qualified uranium mills. (1) Stations. The following are Commission ore-buying stations (that is, ore-buying stations operated on behalf of the Commission):

American Smelting & Refining Co., Monticello, Utah.
American Smelting & Refining Co., Marysvale, Utah.

(2) Mills. The following are qualified uranium mills:

United States Vanadium Company, Uravan, Colo.
United States Vanadium Company, Rifle, Colo.
Climax Uranium Co., Grand Junction, Colo.
Vanadium Corporation of America, Durango, Colo.
Vanadium Corporation of America, Naturita, Colo.
Vanadium Corporation of America, Hite, Utah.
Vitro Chemical Co., 600 West 33d St. South, Salt Lake City, Utah.

(3) Modifications. These lists may be modified from time to time by public announcement of the Commission.

(o) Inquiries and communications. Inquiries about this section and all other communications should be addressed as follows:

U. S. Atomic Energy Commission,
Colorado Raw Materials Office,
P. O. Box 270,
Grand Junction, Colo.

(p) Records, rules and regulations. The Commission may require applicants for bonus payments under this section to keep for Commission inspection such records concerning production and deliveries of uranium ores for which application is made as it finds proper and may issue such additional rules and regulations relating to bonus payments as it finds necessary or desirable.

[Cease and desist order, the Miami Margarine Company et al., Docket 5353, April 19, 1951]

In the Matter of The Miami Margarine Company, a Corporation, and The Ralph H. Jones Company, a Corporation

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the respondents' answer thereto, testimony and other evidence in support of and in opposition to the allegations of the complaint introduced before trial examiners of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, the recommended decision of a substitute trial examiner duly designated by the Commission for the purpose of preparing and submitting his recommended decision upon the record, the trial examiner previously designated being unavailable (briefs having been waived and oral argument not having been requested), and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondent, the Miami Margarine Company, a corporation, and The Ralph H. Jones Company, a corporation, and their respective officers, representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of Nu-Maid margarine, or any other product of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Disseminating, or causing to be disseminated, any advertisement, by means of the United States mails, or by any means in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, which advertisement represents, directly or by implication:

(a) That the said product is the only margarine product suitable for table use.

(b) That a margarine product is not suitable for table use unless it is labeled "Table-Grade".

(c) That the said product, because of its Vitamin A content, provides the user thereof with increased pep, energy, vitality, vigor, strength or endurance.

(d) That Vitamin A is properly characterized as the "pep-up" vitamin, or that Vitamin A provides the user thereof with increased pep, energy, vitality, vigor, strength or endurance.

(e) That the said product has any therapeutic value in the treatment of digestive troubles.

2. Disseminating, or causing to be disseminated, any advertisement, by any means, for the purpose of inducing, or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of such product, which advertisement contains any of the representations prohibited in the preceding paragraph 1 (a), (b), (c), (d) and (e).

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with it.

Issued: April 19, 1951.

By the Commission.

TITLE 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

Chapter I—Bureau of Customs, Department of the Treasury

[T. D. 52759]

PART 10—ARTICLES CONDITIONALLY FREE, SUBJECT TO A REDUCED RATE, ETC.

PROFESSIONAL EQUIPMENT AND TOOLS OF TRADE

Sections 10.31 and 10.36, Customs Regulations of 1943, relating to the entry under 6-months' bond of professional equipment and tools of trade imported for his own use by a nonresident sojourning temporarily in the United States, amended.

In order to facilitate the entry and clearance of professional equipment and tools of trade imported for his own use by a nonresident sojourning temporarily in the United States, it is desired that such articles be examined and passed by an inspector at the place of arrival on a baggage declaration under section 308 (9), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, without the requirement of surety on the bond filed or a cash deposit in lieu of surety.

Provision should be made, however, for the denial of the privileges accorded by § 10.36 to any nonresident who, through fraud or culpable negligence, has failed to meet the requirement of his bond.

In order to accomplish the foregoing, §§ 10.31 and 10.36, Customs Regulations of 1943 (19 CFR 10.31 and 10.36), as amended, are hereby further amended as follows:

1. Section 10.31 (c) is amended by deleting "of the tariff act" in the last sentence and inserting in lieu thereof "or 308 (9) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended,"

(Sec. 308, 46 Stat. 690, as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1308)

2. Section 10.36 is amended by changing the period at the end of the headnote thereof to a semicolon and adding thereto "professional equipment and tools of trade" and paragraphs (a) and (c) are amended to read as follows:

(a) Samples accompanying a commercial traveler who presents an adequate descriptive list or a certified invoice and professional equipment and tools of trade imported in his baggage for his own use by a nonresident sojourning temporarily in the United States may be entered on the importer's baggage declaration in lieu of formal entry and examination and may be passed under section 308 (3) or 308 (9), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, at the place of arrival in the same manner as other passengers' baggage. The examination may be made by an inspector who is qualified, in the opinion of the collector, to determine the amount of the bond required by § 10.31 (c) to be filed in support of the entry. If the articles are a commercial traveler's samples and exceed $500 in value, a certified invoice or a descriptive list certified by an American consul shall be furnished.

* * * * *

(c) The privilege of clearance of commercial travelers' samples or professional equipment or tools of trade imported for his own use by a nonresident sojourning temporarily in the United States on a baggage declaration under bond without surety or cash deposit shall not be accorded to a commercial traveler or such nonresident who, through fraud or culpable negligence, has failed to comply with the provisions of such a bond in connection with a prior arrival. Such a commercial traveler or nonresident shall be required to file a formal entry under section 308 (3) or 308 (9), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, with a bond supported by a surety or cash deposit in lieu of surety.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Amdt. 1 to Supplementary Regulation 10]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

SR 10—POSTPONEMENT OF PRICE CALCULATIONS FOR CERTAIN RUBBER PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), Amendment 1 to SR 10 to CPR 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment adds 3 sections to SR 10 to CPR 22 postponing the effective date of CPR 22 as to all manufacturers of certain mechanical rubber goods, tire repair materials and reclaimed rubber. In the first two groups the manufacturers concerned have filed OPS Public Form 15 or 16 showing their cost adjustment factors calculated under CPR 22. The Office of Price Stabilization is now in the process of analyzing the data submitted so as to develop industry-wide cost adjustment factors such as were set forth in SR 8 to CPR 22. The processing of these figures will not be entirely completed by July 2, 1951, and so this amendment extends the effective date of CPR 22 for 4 weeks or until the factors are issued by OPS.

As to reclaimed rubber, OPS is preparing a tailored regulation covering this industry which will be issued shortly. It would be undesirable to require manufacturers to make calculations under CPR 22 which would be operative only until such tailored regulation is issued, since such regulation will eliminate many of these calculations. Therefore, this amendment directs that manufacturers of reclaimed rubber retain their present GCPR ceiling prices until the tailored regulation is issued.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Supplementary Regulation 10 to CPR 22 is amended by adding the following sections:

SEC. 4. Postponement of ceiling price calculations for manufacturers of certain mechanical rubber goods.—If you are a manufacturer of the following listed mechanical rubber goods, as defined below, your ceiling prices for such items are your GCPR ceiling prices, notwithstanding the provisions of CPR 22, and shall continue to be so until July 30, 1951, or until this section is revoked, whichever is earlier.

a. Hard rubber parts: This group is limited to ground rods, sheets, ground tubes, pipes, fittings, and smoking pipe bits.

b. Battery parts: This group is limited to storage battery containers, automotive; storage battery cover parts, automotive; composition storage battery containers.

c. Latex foam rubber: This group is limited to head pillows, mattresses, solid uncored slabs, cored slabs, molded shaped cushions, small shapes such as shoulder pads and arm rests, automotive seat topper pads for original equipment.

d. Chemically blown sponge: This group is limited to slab sheets, continuous rolls, cut stock, windlace roe, weatherstripping, arm rests and pads, and miscellaneous molded parts.

e. Tank linings and rubber covered rolls: This group is limited to rubber linings for tanks, tank cars, pipes and fittings. Also paper and steel mill rolls.

f. Graphic arts: This group is limited to engravers' gums, unvulcanized printers' gums, offset blankets, and newspaper blankets.

g. Mats and matting: This group is limited to corrugated rubber, cloth inserted, cloth one side, switchboard, and stair treads.

h. Hydraulic brake cups and parts and boots.

i. Automotive mats—original equipment.

j. Typewriter platens.

k. Molded tires—zero pressure: This group is limited to toy tires, small lawn mowers tires, and industrial and agricultural tires.

SEC. 5. Postponement of ceiling price calculations for manufacturers of tire repair materials. If you are a manufacturer of tire repair materials, your ceiling prices for such items are your GCPR ceiling prices, notwithstanding the provisions of CPR 22, and shall continue to be so until July 30, 1951 or until this section is revoked, whichever is earlier.

SEC. 6. Postponement of ceiling price calculations for manufacturers of reclaimed rubber. (a) If you are a manufacturer of reclaimed rubber, as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, your ceiling prices for such items are your GCPR ceiling prices, notwithstanding the provisions of CPR 22, and shall continue to be so until this section is revoked.

(b) Reclaimed rubber means all kinds, grades and qualities of the rubber material recovered from any vulcanized scrap rubber products.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Sup.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective July 2, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Supplementary Regulation 12]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

SR 12—EXTENSION OF EFFECTIVE DATE FOR PARTICULAR COMMODITIES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 12 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This supplementary regulation extends at the option of the manufacturer, the effective date of Ceiling Price Regulation 22 for various commodities. These are commodities for which the Office of Price Stabilization expects to issue shortly regulations incorporating new pricing techniques of a substantially different character which it is believed are better suited to the particular commodities concerned than those presently provided by CPR 22. Unless the effective date of CPR 22 is extended, manufacturers of commodities likely to be covered by these specially tailored regulations might be required to compute their ceiling prices twice on a substantially different basis. To avoid imposing this double burden, it has been decided to extend the effective date of CPR 22 so as to permit the final development and issuance of these regulations. Manufacturers affected by this supplementary regulation will continue to sell at their present ceiling prices, determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. However, any manufacturer who has completed his calculations under CPR 22 and desires to come under it for the interim period is free to do so.

An extension of the effective date is also provided for certain other commodities, principally watches with imported movements, concerning which there has been considerable misunderstanding as to whether they were covered by CPR 22. Because doubts as to whether these commodities were "manufactured commodities" have only recently been resolved, many manufacturers have been unaware of their obligation to comply with the price computations required by CPR 22.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this supplementary regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

In formulating this supplementary regulation, the Director has consulted with industry representatives to the extent practicable under existing circumstances and has given consideration to their recommendations.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. Optional postponement of effective date of CPR 22.—(a) Optional period. Notwithstanding any provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 22, you may, until further action by the Director of Price Stabilization elect not to use Ceiling Price Regulation 22 as to any of the commodities listed in paragraph (b) of this section and to continue to use as to these commodities ceiling prices determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. You may not, however, continue to use ceiling prices determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation for any commodities covered by a numbered regulation or supplementary regulation which becomes effective on or after the date of issuance of this supplementary regulation.

(b) Commodities covered by this supplementary regulation.

1. Bolts, nuts, screws and rivets.
2. Refractories.
3. Metallic collapsible tubes, used as containers for dentrifices, pharmaceutical products, cosmetics, etc.
4. Metal or alloyed wire and cable, whether bare, solid or stranded, braided or knitted, covered or insulated.
5. Plumbing and drainage specialties except "plumbing fixture trim". Plumbing and drainage specialties are items specifically designed to meet local or national plumbing code requirements, as, for example:
   - Closet bends.
   - Clean out ferrules.
   - Back water valves (ball or flap.)
   - Floor drains.
   - Roof drains.
   - Shower drains.
   - Stock base fittings.
   - Santific tees.

Bell traps.
Vent caps.
Ferrules.
Closet flanges.
Drum traps.
Sink traps (cast iron only).
Conductor bends.
Back pressure flow valves and sewer valves.
Roof drains sumps.
Urinal drains.
Solder nipples.
Sisson or insertable joints.
Solder bushings.
Metal body interceptors for grease, gasoline, oil, hair, sediment and plaster.

6. Builders hardware, including the following:
Awning hardware including awning pulleys.
Bright wire hardware.
Builders hardware, including miscellaneous shelf hardware.
Cabinet hardware and locks.
Carded builders hardware.
Casket and casket shell hardware.
Garage hardware.
Key blanks.
Lavatory stall hardware.
Locks and lock sets.
Mail boxes (rural and residential).
Overhead door hardware.
Sash hardware, including sash pulleys.
Screen and screen door hardware, including grills and guards.
Show case hardware.
Window guards.
Butts and butt hinges.
Padlocks.
Checking floor hinges and liquid door closers.
Fire exit bolts.
Unit locks.
Night latches and dead locks.
Door holding devices.
Luggage locks and hardware.
Spring hinges.
Sash balances.
Upward acting doors and hardware.
Strap and tee hinges.
Screw hooks and straps.
Screw bolts and straps and hasps.

7. The following fittings and valves made from any metal or plastic, except cast iron soil pipe fittings or cast iron pressure pipe fittings:
Grease and oil pressure valves and fittings except automotive valves and valves covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 30.
Fittings, pipe and tubing, except conduit fittings.
Hose fittings, except garden hose fittings.
Nipples.
Sprinkler system fittings and valves, fire and lawn, except fittings and valves for portable lawn sprinklers.
Valves, automatic and manually operated, except tire valves, automotive valves and valves covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 30.

8. Ice.

9. Custom molded plastic products and custom fabricated plastic products: The term "custom molded plastic products" includes but is not limited to articles produced by injection molding, extrusion, compression molding, plunger molding, transfer molding, monofilament extrusion and blow molding. The term "custom fabricated plastic products" is limited to products fabricated from plastic sheets, rods, tubes and laminates. Both custom molded and custom fabricated plastic products are products made to one customer's specifications and sold only to that customer. The term "plastic" means any of the natural or synthetic organic materials made from cellulose, proteins, hydrocarbons or resins which can be molded under heat with or without pressure, under pressure alone, extruded, cast or fabricated into various shapes. Plastic does not include crude or synthetic rubber or balata.

10. Petroleum products: This term includes products derived from crude petroleum or natural gas, except for the following products: carbon black; resinous, viscous or elastic polymers; chemicals, such as styrone, synthesized from petroleum or natural gas hydrocarbons; and manufactured specialty products, such as candles, containing a major portion of petroleum derivatives but produced primarily by non-petroleum industries.

11. Watches cased in the United States containing imported movements. (Watches with both imported cases and imported movements are not under CPR 22 but are covered by CPR 31, Imports.)

12. Popcorn.

13. Plain shelled peanuts: This term means shelled peanuts that have not been further processed and that have not been packed in consumer-size packages.

14. Agricultural insecticides, fungicides and herbicides: This term includes dusts, spray materials, fumigants, poison baits and similar commodities used for the preparation of controlling insects on plants, trees, seeds, bulbs, crops, poultry and farm animals; for controlling fungus diseases of plants, trees, seeds, bulbs and crops; similar commodities used for the purpose of controlling weeds and other obnoxious plant growth in connection with crops and commercial plantings; and nutritional sprays.

15. Printing inks: This term means solutions or suspensions of dye stuffs or pigments designed for use in typographic, planeographic, intaglio, or silk screen processes that do not include materials used primarily to color or decorate woven factories nor materials, commonly called "inks", such as writing fluids, ball pen inks, drawing inks, stamp pad inks, show card inks, and stencil inks which are customarily applied by processes other than printing.

16. Mattresses and matching box springs customarily sold at identical prices.

17. Anti-freeze.

18. All soaps, cleansers, and synthetic detergents (and the products thereof), other than those covered by CPR 10.

19. The following printing products: Bound blank books; loose leaf binders, covers and fillers; index tabs, etc.; greeting cards, tags, seals and related products; social stationary, including announcements, invitations, calling cards, and the like; tablets, pads and related products; commercial paper supplies including forms, blotters, labels and the like; wallpaper; and the products of photo-engraving, typesetting, electrotyping, stereotyping and plate making.

CPR 30—MACHINERY AND RELATED MANUFACTURED GOODS

SR 3—OPTIONAL POSTPONEMENT OF EFFECTIVE DATE FOR MANUFACTURERS OF CERTAIN COMMODITIES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 30 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This supplementary regulation extends, at the option of the manufacturer, the effective date of Ceiling Price Regulation 30 insofar as it applies to insulated electrical wire and cable and fabricated structural shapes, plates and related products.

The Office of Price Stabilization has under consideration regulations specially designed for the commodities affected by this action, but it appears that work thereon cannot be completed before July 2, 1951, the effective date of Ceiling Price Regulation 30. As presently contemplated these regulations will include pricing techniques differing from those set forth in Ceiling Price Regulation 30 and manufacturers might be required to compute their ceiling prices twice within a relatively short period of time unless they are relieved of the necessity of complying with that regulation. In order to avoid this burden, it has been determined to extend the effective date of Ceiling Price Regulation 30 for a sufficient period to permit decision on the specific regulations. Manufacturers affected by this action will continue, if they elect not to comply with Ceiling Price Regulation 30, to determine their ceiling prices under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. Optional postponement of effective date of CPR 30.—(a) Optional period. Notwithstanding any provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 30, you may, until further action by the Director of Price Stabilization, elect not to use Ceiling Price Regulation 30 as to any of the commodities listed in paragraph (b) of this section and to continue to use as to those commodities ceiling prices determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(b) This supplementary regulation applies to you if you are a manufacturer of any of the following commodities:

(1) Insulated electrical wire and cable.

(2) Fabricated structural shapes, plates, and related products. This term includes products which are (i) fabricated from ferrous or nonferrous structural shapes, plates, bars, sheet, pipe mill products, and/or tubing; (ii) custom engineered; and (iii) custom fabricated to the buyer's specifications. The term does not include any products which are standardized and manufactured on a production line basis.

Effective date. This Supplementary Regulation 3 shall become effective June 29, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 54]

CPR 54—ALUMINUM SCRAP AND SECONDARY ALUMINUM INGOT

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 54 is issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes ceiling prices for aluminum scrap and secondary aluminum ingot.

Aluminum scrap is an important source of metal ultimately utilized in a wide variety of products important to the defense program as well as to the civilian economy. Primary aluminum producers use scrap to blend with their supplies of primary metal. The producers of secondary aluminum ingot, however, depend on scrap as their principal raw material, using primary metal only as a means of obtaining ingot with the desired combination of metals. About twenty-five percent of the total aluminum production in the United States is derived from scrap materials.

The outbreak of hostilities in Korea and the inauguration of our defense program sharply increased the demand for aluminum and upset the price relationships which ordinarily prevail in the industry. In the period between June 24, 1950, and January 26, 1951, the date of issuance of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, the prices of secondary aluminum ingot and aluminum scrap rose more sharply than the prices for primary metal and during the base period of that regulation (December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, inclusive) the prevailing price of primary aluminum ingot was about 20 cents per pound while secondary ingot was being sold at prices ranging between 30 to 35 cents per pound and scrap was being sold at 25 cents per pound. These abnormal relationships, reflected in the ceiling prices established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation have resulted in distortion in the movement of secondary aluminum ingot and aluminum scrap and have caused some hardship to consumers of these materials. These circumstances, and the accompanying confusion among buyers and sellers, constitute a serious threat to the output of essential military and civilian products and are an impediment to the allocation program for aluminum.

The ceiling prices established in this regulation are designed to correct this situation by rolling back the prices of secondary aluminum ingot and aluminum scrap to levels which reflect the value of their metallic content in terms of the ceiling prices prevailing for primary aluminum. Thus the new ceiling prices for grades of secondary ingots having the same alloy designation as grades of primary ingot are the same as the ceiling prices for the latter products established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation and the ceiling prices for other grades of secondary ingot have been established at corresponding levels in terms of the relative value of their metallic content. The ceiling prices for the various grades of aluminum scrap have been established at levels below the prices of secondary ingot which, in the opinion of the Director, will provide an adequate margin for the operations of the smelters and will encourage the collection and segregation of vitally needed scrap materials.

Although there does not appear to have been any established trade practice in the marketing of aluminum scrap insofar as quantity premiums are concerned, it does appear that sellers ordinarily are able to obtain some premium in connection with the sale of relatively large lots of such material. In recognition of this fact and in order to encourage the accumulation and distribution of needed scrap, this regulation provides for quantity premiums by establishing different levels of ceiling prices on the basis of four quantity brackets with the level of prices increasing as the quantity delivered increases.

The regulation applies to all persons who sell aluminum scrap and provides no premium for inter-dealer sales. Although some representatives of dealers in aluminum scrap have urged that such a premium be established, in effect, by permitting a dealer to charge, on sales to persons other than a consumer, the ceiling price applicable to the highest quantity bracket regardless of the quantity actually sold, it has been determined that such a provision would to some extent distort the normal flow of aluminum scrap and would not be consistent with the objectives of the stabilization program. It appears that smelters of secondary aluminum ingot, the principal consumers of aluminum scrap, ordinarily buy a substantial portion of their scrap in relatively small quantities from dealers of industrial generators of such material. The proposal mentioned above would permit any dealer to outbid a smelter for such small lots, and the latter thus would be unable to obtain material from his usual sources of supply.

This regulation also permits, for 15 days, deliveries of aluminum scrap at a price in excess of ceiling prices in order to carry out contracts entered into before issuance of the regulation. Such deliveries may be made, however, only if the material so delivered was acquired by the seller at prices in excess of the ceiling and if before the issuance date it had been received by or was in transit to the seller. Similarly, the regulation permits, for 45 days and subject to certain conditions, deliveries of secondary aluminum ingot at prices in excess of the ceiling in order to allow smelters to work out their high cost scrap inventories. The periods allowed for contract completion were determined upon after consideration of the relevant factors affecting the movement and marketing of aluminum scrap and the secondary aluminum ingot processed therefrom, and in the opinion of the Director they are adequate to prevent undue loss to sellers because of the ceiling price rollbacks accomplished by this regulation.

It is believed that the ceiling prices established in this regulation will restore the normal price relationships which prevailed in the industry, will remove the factors which have distorted the movement of commodities covered and will alleviate the hardship which some buyers have suffered. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the provisions of this ceiling price regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable, the Director has given due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

In formulating this ceiling price regulation, the Director consulted with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable under existing circumstances, and has given full consideration to their recommendations.

The provisions of this ceiling price regulation and their effect upon business practices, cost practices, or means or aids to distribution in the industry have been considered. It is believed that no changes in such practices or methods have been effected. To the extent, however, that the provisions of this regulation may compel changes in such practices or methods, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of the regulation and to effectuate the policies of the act.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 11 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Coverage of this regulation.—(a) Commodities covered. This regulation establishes ceiling prices for aluminum scrap and secondary aluminum ingot.

(b) Persons covered. This regulation applies to any person who sells the commodities covered by this regulation, including importers and exporters. It also applies to any person who buys such commodities in the regular course of trade or business.

(c) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies in the 48 States of the United States, its Territories and Possessions, and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2. Prohibitions.—(a) Against transactions above ceiling prices. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, except as provided in section 3 of this regulation, on and after the effective date of this regulation no person shall sell or deliver, or buy or receive in the regular course of trade or business, any aluminum scrap or secondary aluminum ingot at a price in excess of the applicable ceiling price set forth in this regulation. No person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing.

Lower prices than those set forth in this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

(b) Against tie-in transactions. No person, unless otherwise permitted by this subparagraph, shall sell any of the commodities covered by this regulation on condition (1) that the buyer purchase from any person any product or service, or (2) that the buyer sell to any person any product or service. No person who buys any of the commodities covered by this regulation shall participate in any such tie-in transactions. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to prohibit any person from entering into toll or conversion agreements.

(c) Against evasion. No person shall evade or circumvent the provisions of this regulation by direct or indirect methods in connection with the sale, purchase, delivery, or transfer of the commodities covered by this regulation, alone or in conjunction with any other product, or by way of any commission, service, or transportation charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by up-grading, trade understanding or otherwise.

SEC. 3. Permission to carry out certain contracts. (a) Regardless of any other provisions of this regulation, until July 14, 1951, any person may deliver aluminum scrap covered by this regulation at a price in excess of the ceiling price established herein in order to carry out any contract entered into before June 29, 1951, if the material so delivered was purchased at a price in excess of the ceiling price established herein, and if before June 29, 1951, it was received by or was in transit to the person making delivery.

(b) Regardless of any other provision of this regulation, until August 13, 1951, any seller may deliver secondary aluminum ingot at a price in excess of the ceiling price established herein in order to carry out any contract entered in before June 29, 1951, provided that:

(1) Before June 29, 1951, the seller bought or contracted to buy aluminum scrap or secondary aluminum ingot at prices in excess of the ceiling prices established herein and such scrap materials or ingot were received by, or were in transit to, the seller before July 14, 1951; and

(2) The quantity of secondary aluminum ingot delivered by the seller after June 28, 1951 pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph does not exceed the weight of the aluminum scrap or secondary aluminum ingot which were received by, or were in transit to the seller, before July 14, 1951, and for which the seller paid prices in excess of the ceiling prices established in this regulation.

SEC. 4. General pricing provisions for aluminum scrap.—(a) Pricing basis. Section 5 of this regulation sets forth ceiling prices for aluminum scrap. Except for wrecked aircraft and irony aluminum, these prices apply f. o. b. point of shipment, but the delivered cost to the buyer may not exceed the ceiling delivered price set forth in section 6 of this regulation. The ceiling prices set forth in section 5 of this regulation for wrecked aircraft and irony aluminum apply on a delivered basis.

(b) Standards of cleanness and freedom from contaminating material. The ceiling prices established for each kind and grade of aluminum scrap apply to material which meets the applicable standard for cleanness and freedom from contamination set forth in Circular NF–50, "Standard Classification for Nonferrous Metals" issued by the National Association of Waste Material Dealers, Inc. and effective as of April 1, 1950.

(c) Determination of quantity bracket. (1) This regulation sets forth different ceiling prices, per pound, for aluminum scrap on the basis of different quantity brackets. The quantity bracket applicable to any sale shall be determined on the basis of the total weight of aluminum scrap delivered by the seller within a period of three calendar days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) from one or more points of shipment to (i) a public carrier (common or contract) for transportation to the buyer, (ii) to the buyer at his receiving point by a conveyance owned or controlled by the seller, or (iii) upon a conveyance owned or controlled by the buyer. The amount of aluminum scrap delivered during any one calendar day may be counted only once in determining the quantity bracket.

(2) For the purpose of determining the applicable quantity bracket, the weight of any delivery or series of deliveries shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:

(i) If aluminum scrap is delivered by a public carrier (common or contract), the weight to be used shall be the weight certified or accepted by such carrier; or

(ii) If aluminum scrap is delivered by a conveyance owned or controlled by the seller or buyer, the weight to be used shall be determined at the buyer's receiving point.

(d) Computation of total charge. The total amount which may be charged for a sale of aluminum scrap shall be the applicable ceiling price per pound for each kind or grade sold multiplied by the weight of each such kind or grade. The weight to be used in computing such total charge shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) Borings and turnings. When the quantity of borings or turnings delivered by the seller during a period of three calendar days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) is 2,000 pounds or more, the weight to be used is the actual clean dry weight as determined by the first consumer. When the quantity so delivered is less than 2,000 pounds, the clean dry weight may be estimated.

(2) Wrecked aircraft and irony aluminum. The weight to be used shall be the weight of the aluminum alloy recovered by the buyer making the first melt of the quantity used in determining the applicable quantity bracket in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section. When the seller and buyer so agree, such weight may be determined on the basis of a melt of a representative sample amounting to at least 20 percent of such quantity. When such quantity amounts to less than 10,000 pounds, the weight of recoverable aluminum alloy as estimated by the buyer may be used.

(3) All other aluminum scrap. If the material is delivered by a public carrier the weight to be used shall be the weight certified or accepted by such carrier. If the material is delivered by a vehicle owned or controlled by the seller or buyer, the weight to be used shall be determined at the buyer's receiving point.

(e) Mixed shipments. When grades of aluminum scrap having different ceiling prices under the provisions of this regulation are shipped in one vehcile, the ceiling price for the entire shipment shall be the ceiling price applicable to the lowest priced grade contained therein unless each grade is invoiced separately and is so loaded in the vehicle that it can be readily distinguished and separately weighed.

SEC. 5. Ceiling prices, f. o. b. point of shipment for aluminum scrap other than wrecked aircraft and irony aluminum; ceiling delivered prices for wrecked aircraft and irony aluminum scrap—(a) Listed grades of aluminum scrap except reusable aluminum scrap. (1) The ceiling price for each kind or grade of aluminum scrap listed in Table A is the applicable price set forth in that table. The prices in Table A for all grades other than wrecked aircraft and irony aluminum scrap apply f. o. b. shipping point. The prices in Table A for wrecked aircraft and irony aluminum scrap apply on a delivered basis.

Certain preparation premiums may be charged in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) Preparation premiums. In addition to the price determined in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the premiums set forth in Table B may be charged when aluminum scrap is prepared as specified therein. No preparation premiums other than those set forth in Table B may be charged.

TABLE B

Preparation	Premium per pound (cents)
Baling of clippings, clean cable, foil, light weight extrusions, utensils, or old sheet aluminum	½
Briquetting of clippings, clean cable, foil, or light weight extrusions	1

(b) Certain reusable aluminum scrap. The ceiling price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for sheet remnants and other aluminum scrap materials which are segregated to meet the buyer's specifications, are suitable in their existing condition for further fabrication without remelting, and are sold for such use, is 22 cents per pound.

SEC. 6. Ceiling delivered prices for aluminum scrap other than wrecked aircraft and irony aluminum. The ceiling delivered price for aluminum, scrap, other than wrecked aircraft or irony aluminum, is the applicable price determined in accordance with sections 4 and 5 of this regulation plus a charge for transportation determined in accordance with the provisions of this section. If aluminum scrap is transported from the point of shipment to the buyer's receiving point by a public carrier (common or contract) and the buyer pays the charge made by such carrier, the applicable price determined in accordance with Sections 4 and 5 must be reduced by the amount by which the charge so paid exceeds the charge permitted by this Section.

If the actual clean dry weight of borings and turnings as determined by the first consumer establishes that such borings and turnings contained oil, water, or other forms of contamination in excess of 25 percent of the weight used in determining the applicable quantity bracket, the transportation charge set forth herein shall be reduced by the transportation charge applicable to the weight of the oil, water, or other forms of contamination in excess of 25 percent.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, when the point of shipment and the buyer's receiving point are located in the same switching district and aluminum scrap is delivered in a vehicle, or vehicles, owned or controlled by the seller, the transportation charge may not exceed ¼ cent per pound of scrap.

(b) When a delivery or series of deliveries which qualify for a price in the 20,000 or 40,000 pound bracket (as set forth in Table A) are made by a public carrier (common or contract), the charge for transportation may not exceed the applicable published public carrier charge based on the carload, if delivery is made by railroad, or truckload, if delivery is made by truck, rates (including transportation taxes) for transporting the quantity of aluminum scrap being priced from the point, or points, of shipment to the buyer's receiving point. In the case of a series of deliveries, the applicable published public carrier charge shall be determined on the basis of carload or truckload rates even though separate deliveries are made in less than carload or truckload quantities and such charge shall be prorated over the quantities contained in each delivery. When a single shipment of 50,000 pounds or more is made in one railroad car and the published minimum carload rate is in excess of 50,000 pounds, a charge equal to the actual transportation cost (including transportation taxes) may be made.

(c) When a delivery or series of deliveries which qualify for a price in the 20,000 or 40,000 pound bracket (as set forth in Table A) are made in a vehicle, or vehicles, owned or controlled by the seller, the charge for transportation may not exceed the lowest published common carrier charge (not including transportation taxes) based on carload or truckload rates for transporting the quantity being priced from the point, or points, of shipment to the buyer's receiving point. In the case of a delivery or series of deliveries, the lowest published public carrier charge shall be based on the carload or truckload rates even though separate deliveries are made in less than carload or truckload quantities and such charge shall be prorated over the quantity contained in each delivery.

(d) When a delivery or series of deliveries which qualify for a price in a quantity bracket under the 20,000 pound bracket (as set forth in Table A) are made by a public carrier (common or contract), the charge for transportation may not exceed the actual transportation cost (including transportation taxes).

(e) When a delivery or series of deliveries which qualify for a price in a quantity bracket under the 20,000 pound bracket (as set forth in Table A) are made in a vehicle, or vehicles, owned or controlled by the seller, the transportation charge may not exceed the lowest published and applicable common carrier charge (not including transportation taxes) for transporting the quantity being priced from the point, or points of shipment to the buyer's receiving point. In the case of a series of deliveries the lowest published and applicable common carrier charge shall be determined on the basis of the total quantity being priced even though separate deliveries are made in lesser quantities and such charge shall be prorated over the quantity contained in each delivery.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, when aluminum scrap is shipped from a point in the Territories or Possessions of the United States to a buyer's receiving point in the continental United States, the charge for transportation is the actual cost (including dock handling charges) for transporting the material from the Territory or Possession from which it is shipped to the buyer's receiving point.

SEC. 7. Ceiling price for secondary aluminum ingot.—(a) Listed grades. (1) The ceiling delivered price for each kind of secondary aluminum ingot listed in Table C is the applicable price set forth in that table.

The prices in Table C apply when a total quantity of 10,000 pounds or more of one or more kinds of secondary aluminum ingot are sold at one time for shipment to one receiving point or are delivered at one time to one receiving point. Premiums for smaller quantities and special shapes may be charged in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

When the buyer's receiving point is located outside of the continental United States, the point of delivery is at the dock at the port of exit, or in the case of shipment overland to Mexico or Canada, the point of delivery is the freight station at or nearest the point of exit from the United States.

(2) Premiums for special shapes and quantity. In addition to the ceiling price determined in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the premium for special shapes or for quantity set forth in table D may be charged when applicable. No premiums other than those set forth in table D may be charged.

The applicable premium for quantity shall be determined on the basis of the total quantity of one or more kinds of secondary aluminum ingot sold at one time for shipment to one receiving point or delivered at one time to one receiving point, whichever is larger.

Pigiets—3 ounces or less	1
Quantity Premiums:
2,000 to 9,999 pounds	½
500 to 1,999 pounds	1
Less than 500 pounds	2

(b) Unlisted grades. The ceiling price for a kind or grade of secondary aluminum ingot not listed in Table C is the sum of the current delivered cost of the scrap and other constituent metals to the seller plus the margin which the seller received for the same kind of ingot delivered during the base period December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, inclusive.

When the seller delivers a kind of ingot not delivered during such base period, the ceiling price for such ingot is the sum of the current delivered cost of the scrap and other constituent metals to the seller plus the margin which the seller received for the most closely comparable kind of ingot delivered during such base period.

The current delivered cost of constituent metals may not exceed the ceiling price established in the applicable regulation issued by the Office of Price Stabilization. The margin which may be added to such cost must be determined by subtracting from the price received for the same kind of ingot delivered during the base period, the delivered cost of scrap and other constituent metals used in producing such ingot.

The ceiling prices determined in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph shall reflect the seller's customary price differentials, including discounts, allowances, premiums and extras, based upon differences in quantity, in classes or location of purchasers, or in terms and conditions of sale or delivery.

SEC. 8. Definitions. When used in this regulation the term:

(a) "Aluminum scrap" includes the kinds and grades of material listed in section 6 of this regulation.

(b) "Al" means aluminum.

(c) "Cu" means copper.

(d) "Fe" means iron.

(e) "Mg" means magnesium.

(f) "Pb" means lead.

(g) "Zn" means zinc.

(h) "Borings and turnings" does not include grindings, sweeping, buffings, and dirt.

(i) "Buyer's receiving point" means that aluminum scrap or secondary aluminum ingot has arrived at the buyer's plant, warehouse, or yard and is ready for unloading.

(j) "Consumer" includes any person whose business consists, in whole or in part of smelting, refining, melting, or otherwise processing scrap into a form other than scrap, exclusive of sweated pig and ingot. Any parent or subsidiary of a consumer and any person owned, operated, affiliated with, under common control with, or otherwise controlled by a consumer, and any person owned, operated, or otherwise controlled by an officer, director, partner, or proprietor of a consumer shall also be considered to be a consumer for the purposes of this Regulation.

(k) "Exporter" means a person who last sells any of the commodities covered by this regulation, which is transported from a point in the United States, its Territories and Possessions, to a point outside thereof.

(l) "Hardener" is an intermediate alloy which is not suitable for direct use without combination with other materials and which is designed to facilitate the introduction of one or more of the constituent metals into other alloys.

(m) "Importer" means a person who first sells any of the commodities covered by this regulation, which is transported, either before or after such sale, from a point outside the United States, its Territories and Possessions, to a point inside thereof.

(n) "Mixed plant scrap" means plant scrap which does not meet the definition of segregated plant scrap.

(o) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government or any of its political sub-divisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

(p) "Plant scrap" means plant scrap which is generated in the course of manufacture or fabrication. It includes new materials, or parts which are rejected or discarded because of defectiveness, materials damaged in processing, materials which are a part of surplus or idle inventory, or otherwise unfit for use.

(q) "Point of shipment" means the point from which any commodity covered by this regulation is loaded on a conveyance for shipment directly to the buyer's receiving point. In the case of any commodity covered by this regulation sold by an importer and delivered by water into the Continental United States, its Territories or Possessions, the point of shipment means the place within the United States, its Territories or Possessions, where the commodity is loaded on a conveyance for transportation directly to the buyer's receiving point. In the case of any commodity covered by this regulation sold by an importer and transported to the buyer overland from Mexico or Canada, the point of shipment means the freight station in the United States at or nearest the point at which the material first enters the United States.

(r) "Scrap" or "scrap materials" means aluminum scrap which is the waste or by-product of any kind of metal working or processing, or which has been discarded on account of obsolescence, failure, or other reason. It also includes sweated pig or ingot.

(s) "Secondary aluminum ingot" means all ingots, alloys, and hardeners containing 50 percent or more aluminum by weight, and of which 50 percent or more is obtained from scrap materials.

(t) "Segregated plant scrap" means plant scrap which consists of one alloy only, which may be so identified without the necessity of other than routine examination by a processor, and which is suitable for reprocessing into aluminum of the original alloy specifications.

(u) "Solids" means plant scrap which is generated by shearing, clipping, cutting, blanking, or similar process. It includes defective, rejected, and discarded wrought aluminum parts, castings, gates, sprues, risers, or similar foundry scrap.

(v) "Wrecked aircraft" means aluminum scrap (not including engines or engine parts) recovered from the wreckage of aircraft, obsolete aircraft, and from rejected airframes containing foreign materials after all possible non-aluminum parts have been removed.

SEC. 9. Excise, sales, and similar taxes. Any person may collect, in addition to the ceiling price established by this regulation, any excise, sales, or similar tax imposed upon him by reason of his sale of zinc scrap if he is not prohibited by law from making such collection and if he states separately from his selling price the amount of the tax collected.

SEC. 10. Penalties. Persons violating any of the provisions of this regulation shall be subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 11. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation No. 1, Revised.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective June 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Overriding Regulation 13]

GOR 13—CONTINUATION OF CEILING PRICES IN EFFECT ON JUNE 30, 1951, FOR COMMODITIES OR SERVICES COVERED BY SPECIFIED MANUFACTURERS' REGULATIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), as amended, Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this General Overriding Regulation No. 13 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 22 and companion regulations provided for a number of rollbacks to become effective after June 30, 1951. These rollbacks, however, are prohibited by the Joint Resolution enacted into law on June 30, 1951, which extended the Defense Production Act until July 31, 1951. That resolution provides that the authority of the Defense Production Act "shall not be exercised during the period June 30, 1951, to July 31, 1951, inclusive, to place into effect, or permit to become effective, a price ceiling for any material or service lower than the ceiling in effect for such material or service on the date of the enactment of this resolution."

This resolution was adopted as a temporary limitation, pending further consideration by Congress, following the passage of the Senate bill (S. 1717) limiting the authority for rollbacks in ceiling prices. The Senate Banking and Currency Committee, in reporting that bill expressed the intention that the limitation on rollbacks be accompanied in administration by a restriction, where practicable, of future rollforwards above the January 24–February 24, 1951, level. (Sen. Rep. 470, 82d Cong., 1st Sess. p. 18.) The debate in the House of Representatives indicates the general intention that the Resolution operate to preserve the status quo, pending further Congressional consideration. (97 Cong. Rec. pp. 7666–7, 7669, 7674, 7677)

The Director of Price Stabilization is of the opinion that pending further clarification and study manufacturers' ceiling prices should be kept at their existing level. The effect of this general overriding regulation is to eliminate all requirements for rollbacks after June 30, 1951 and to freeze price ceiling provisions in effect on June 30, 1951.

Sellers of commodities subject to CPR 22 and the companion regulations who have put those price ceiling regulations into effect on or before June 30, 1951, as to any commodity or service, continue to price under those regulations for that commodity or service. Otherwise the seller continues to apply the GCPR, except in the case of wool yarn and fabrics where he applies CPR 18.

Sellers who have not yet filed their reports under the regulations in question need not do so until further action by the OPS. This provision does not countermand reports already on file. But whether such reports containing proposed increases in ceiling prices became effective on June 30, 1951, may depend on the waiting provisions of the regulation. Under CPR 22, reports of ceiling price increases received by OPS after June 14, 1951, will not have the effect of establishing a ceiling price in effect on June 30, 1951, since the 15-day period after date of receipt will not have expired on or before June 30, 1951. Ceiling prices for commodities covered by such filings will, therefore, remain at their GCPR level.

Special circumstances have rendered impracticable consultation with industry representatives prior to the issuance of this regulation.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. Coverage.
2. What this regulation does.
3. Commodities or services first dealt in after June 30, 1951.
4. Reports not required.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 4 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., as amended. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., as amended; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. Coverage. This General Overriding Regulation applies to you if you are subject to any of the following price ceiling regulations or regulations supplementary thereto:

CPR 18—Manufacturers' Prices for Wool Yarns and Fabrics.

CPR 18—Revision 1—Manufacturers' Prices for Wool Yarns and Fabrics.

CPR 22—Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation.

CPR 30—Machinery and Related Manufactured Goods.

CPR 37—Primary Cotton Textile Manufacturers' Regulation.

CPR 41—Shoe Manufacturers' Regulation.

CPR 45—Apparel Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation.

SEC. 2. What this regulation does. (a) If any of the price ceiling regulations listed in section 1 of this regulation was in effect as to you on June 30, 1951, for any commodity or service, your ceiling price for that commodity or service shall continue to be determined under that regulation. Otherwise, you shall compute your ceiling price for the commodity or service under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, or under CPR 18 in the case of wool yarns and fabrics.

(b) Even though you filed a report, under a regulation listed in section 1 of this regulation, of a proposed ceiling price with respect to a commodity or service, that regulation was not in effect as to you on June 30, 1951, for that commodity or service, if the requisite waiting period had not expired, or if the proposed ceiling price was not properly determined under the applicable regulation.

SEC. 3. Commodities or services first dealt in after June 30, 1951. If a commodity or service was not offered for sale, sold or delivered by you on or before June 30, 1951, you shall apply this section, and shall determine the ceiling price under the regulation applicable to the commodity or service which will yield ceiling prices most nearly in line with your ceiling prices in effect on June 30, 1951, for your related commodities or services. In the event you were not in business prior to June 30, 1951, you may use either the General Ceiling Price Regulation or the applicable regulation listed in Section 1 of this regulation to determine your ceiling prices.

SEC. 4. Reports not required. You need not after June 30, 1951, file any reports under any of the regulations listed in Section 1 except as to the extent that the regulation is applicable to you after June 30, 1951, and except for reports required in connection with prices established under section 3 of this regulation.

Effective date. The provisions of this General Overriding Regulation are effective July 1, 1951, and shall continue in effect until further notice.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, Jr.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF REGULATION

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. The purpose of this regulation is to establish specific ceiling prices for certain fats and oils. These ceiling prices supersede those established for such fats and oils by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. The regulation also allows written contracts for the sale of such fats and oils legally entered into prior to the effective date of this regulation to be carried out at the contract price.

SEC. 2. Applicability. The provisions of this regulation are applicable to the United States, its Territories and possessions and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. Exceptions. If prior to March 12, 1951, as to commodities covered in sections 21 to 28 inclusive, you entered, consistently with any outstanding ceiling price regulation, into a written contract for the sale of fats and oils for which ceiling prices are provided by this regulation, you may carry out the contract according to its terms.

[Section 3 substituted by Amdt. 2]

ARTICLE II—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 11. Prohibitions. After the date of this regulation you shall not sell, and you shall not buy in the regular course of business or trade, at a price exceeding the ceiling price established by this regulation, any fats or oils for which a ceiling price or a method for computing a ceiling price is set forth in this regulation.

SEC. 12. Evasion. You shall not evade or circumvent the provisions of this regulation by direct or indirect methods in connection with the purchase, sale, delivery, or transfer of fats or oils, or by way of premium, commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or by tying-agreement, trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 13. Enforcement. If you violate any provision of this regulation, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 14. Records. If you sell fats or oils for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation, you must preserve and keep available for examination by the Director of Price Stabilization for a period of two years, accurate records of each sale. These records must include:

(a) The date of the sale;
(b) The name of the purchaser;
(c) The price paid or received;
(d) The grade, quality, and amount sold.

SEC. 15. Petitions for amendment. If you wish to have this regulation amended, you may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the Provisions of Price Procedural Regulation 1, Revised, 16 F. R. 4974.

SEC. 16. Definitions. Terms used in this regulation shall, unless defined herein, or unless the context requires a different meaning, have the same meaning as when used in the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

Fats and Oils. The term "fats and oils" as used in this regulation means oil of the raw, crude, and refined fats and oils, their byproducts and derivatives, and greases, except "essential oils," mineral oils, butter, cocoa butter and poultry fat.

Hydrogenated shortening. The term "hydrogenated shortening" means a shortening which is (1) made from vegetable oils or (2) made from a mixture of vegetable oils and animal fats, each of which has been hydrogenated to some extent. It must conform with the following specifications:

No free oils: The shortening must contain no free oils.

Suspended matter: The shortening must be free from any appreciable amount of suspended matter.

Taste and odor: The shortening must be free from rancidity, foreign odor, and sourness.

Moisture: The moisture must not exceed 0.3 percent (Vacuum Oven Method, Official Agricultural Chemists Association, 6th ed., 1940, p. 423).

Smoke point: The shortening must withstand a temperature of 400 degrees F. without smoking except that shortening containing mono and diglycerides shall be exempted from this specification.

Stability: The stability of the shortening must be not less than three hours (Active Oxygen Method; King, Roschen and Irwin; Oil and Soap, 10, 105, June, 1933).

Plasticity: The shortening must remain solid and be plastic and workable at a temperature within the range from 70 degrees F. to 90 degrees F.

F. F. A.: The F. F. A. must not exceed 0.12 percent (Method, Official Agricultural Chemists Association, 6th ed., 1940, p. 436).

Iodine number: The iodine number must not exceed 80 (Hanus Method, Official Agricultural Chemists Association, 6th ed., 1940, p. 429).

[Definition of "hydrogenated shortening" added by Amdt. 1]

Inedible greases. The term "inedible greases" as used in this regulation means those greases obtained by rendering fats from hogs. Also, the lower grades of rendered fats, such as those obtained from catch basin skimmings, are termed "greases" regardless of whether the source of the original raw material was from cattle, sheep, or hogs. In general, tallows are firmer in texture than greases, ranging in titre or hardness from 40° to 45° C., while greases range from 34° to 39.9° titre.

[Definition of "inedible greases" added by Amdt. 2.]

Inedible tallows. The term "inedible tallows" as used in this regulation means those tallows obtained from the rendering of fats from animals, such as cattle and sheep, as are not considered suitable for human consumption.

[Definition of "inedible tallows" added by Amdt. 2.]

North. The term "North" includes the following States: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Washington, D. C., West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming.

[Definition of "North" added by Amdt. 1.]

Oil-bearing raw materials and waste animal fat. The term "oil-bearing raw materials and waste animal fat" means those materials whose principal use is in the rendering of inedible tallow and greases. It includes, but is not limited to, butcher shop fats; suet and trimmings; breast fats or rattles; offal; bones, except packer steamed dry bones, prairie bones or dry imported bones; cooked grease, clear, rough or mixed; and interceptor or trap grease.

[Definition of "oil-bearing raw materials and waste animal fat" added by Amdt. 9.]

Pacific Coast. The term "Pacific Coast" includes the following States: Washington, Oregon, California, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Arizona.

[Definition of "Pacific Coast" added by Amdt. 1.]

Refined fats and oils. The term "refined fats and oils" as used in this regulation means those fats and oils which have been cleaned, deodorized, or purified by settling, straining, filtering, distilling, treating with chemicals, or by any other means, and which at the conclusion of the refining process do not contain any added substance other than is necessary as a preservative.

Rendering. "Rendering" as used in this regulation means the process of separating the oil content from the solid materials in fatty animal tissues.

[Definition of "rendering" added by Amdt. 2.]

South. The term "South" includes the following States: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico.

[Definition of "South" added by Amdt. 1.]

Standard shortening. The term "standard shortening" means a shortening which is (1) made from hardened vegetable oil or (2) made from a mixture of vegetable oil and animal fat and/or hardened marine animal oils. It must conform with the following specifications:

Suspended matter: The shortening must be free from any appreciable amount of suspended matter.

Taste and odor: The shortening must be free from rancidity, foreign odor, and sourness.

Moisture: The moisture must not exceed 0.3 percent (Vacuum Oven Method, Official Agricultural Chemists Association, 6th ed., 1940, p. 423).

Smoke point: The shortening must withstand a temperature of 400 degrees F. without smoking

Stability: The stability of the shortening must be not less than three hours (Active Oxygen Method; King, Roschen and Irwin; Oil and Soap, 10, 105, June 1933).

Plasticity: The shortening must remain solid, and be plastic and workable at a temperature within the range from 70 degrees F. to 90 degrees F.

F. F. A.: The F. F. A. must not exceed 0.3 percent (Method, Official Agricultural Chemists Association, 6th ed., 1940, p. 436).

[Definition of "standard shortening" added by Amdt. 1]

ARTICLE III—CEILING PRICES

[Paragraph (b) amended by Amdt. 1]

(1) Differentials for other delivery points. The customary differentials above or below these delivered prices shall apply to all other destinations.

(2) Differentials for other types of bulk containers. The customary differentials for other types of bulk containers, including tank wagons or drums when shipped on a refining-in-transit rate shall apply.

[Subparagraph (2) substituted by Amdt. 1]

(3) Differentials for other grades. The customary differentials for grade above or below these prices for basic grades shall continue to apply.

(4) Adjustments for premium quality. If you have customarily charged a premium over the market price for a grade of refined cottonseed oil, you may apply in writing to the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for an adjustment in your ceiling price for such premium quality oil. This application shall contain all pertinent information describing the quality characteristics of the particular grade of oil and documentary evidence that you have customarily charged the premium. After March 1, 1951, you may not charge the premium price without the written approval of the Director of Price Stabilization. Until March 1, 1951, you may charge your customary premium over the applicable ceiling prices in section 21 (b) of this regulation.

(5) Alternative method of pricing bleachable prime summer yellow. Any refiner shall have the alternative privilege of selling bleachable prime summer yellow f. o. b. his refinery, and his ceiling price shall be determined by adding two cents per pound to the ceiling price of crude cottonseed oil, as determined by section 21 (a) of this regulation, plus the amount of freight paid on the crude oil in bringing such oil to the refinery, such amount of freight to be supported by inbound freight bill on the crude oil, surrendered for the purpose of determining the balance of outbound freight to final destination for the refined oil.

[Subparagraph (5) added by Amdt. 3]

(c) Cottonseed oil futures contracts. The ceiling prices for cottonseed oil futures contracts traded on the New York Produce Exchange and on the New Orleans Cotton Exchange shall be 26.40 cents per pound and 25.95 cents per pound, respectively.

SEC. 22. Sellers of crude soybean oil. Your ceiling price for sale of soybean oil shall be as follows:

(a) Crude soybean oil. In tank cars, in cents per pound, as follows:

	F. o. b. mill
California, Oregon, Washington	21⅝.
Arizona	21⅛.
Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas.	20½.
Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota.	20⅜.
Delaware, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Virginia, Wisconsin.	20½ cents plus freight from Decatur, Illinois, to New York, N. Y., minus freight from point of sale to New York, N. Y.: Provided, That in no case shall your ceiling be less than 20½ cents.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Amdt. 1]

(1) These crude soybean oil ceiling prices shall be adjusted on a 7 percent refining loss basis as provided in Rule 102 of the 1950–51 Rules of the National Soybean Processors Association.

(2) Where (i) crude soybean oil is sold and delivered to a buyer to whom it may be shipped for no more than a switching charge, and (ii) where prior to January 1, 1951, it was customary for such oil to take a premium when sold by a seller in that locality to a buyer located within that locality's switching limits, the ceiling price shall be the prices set forth above, plus the premium that customarily prevailed in that locality on such sales prior to January 1, 1951.

(b) Crude soybean oil futures. The ceiling price for crude soybean oil futures contracts traded on the New York Produce Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade shall be 20.50 cents per pound.

(c) Refined soybean oil. Your ceiling price for sales of refined soybean oil shall be, in cents per pound, as follows:

For sales f. o. b. Decatur, Ill.
Refined unbleached and undeodorized soybean oil for edible use	22.00
Once refined industrial soybean oil for inedible use	22.25
Once refined bleached industrial soybean oil for inedible use	22.75
Deodorized and bleached soybean oil	23.45
Soybean salad oil	23.55
Hydrogenated margarine soybean oil	24.20
High titre undeodorized hydrogenated soybean oil in bags	25.60

For sales at any other place. Wherever refining-in-transit freight rates apply from Decatur, Ill., through refinery location to final destination, your ceiling price shall be the f. o. b. Decatur, Ill., price plus refining-in-transit freight from Decatur, Ill., through refinery location to final destination.

Wherever refining-in-transit rates do not apply from Decatur, Ill., through refinery location to final destination, your ceiling price shall be the f. o. b. Decatur, Ill., price plus inbound freight from Decatur, Ill., and actual outbound freight from refinery location to final destination.

(1) Differentials for other grades. The customary differentials for grades above or below these prices for basic grades shall continue to apply.

(2) Differentials for other types of bulk containers. The customary differentials for other types of bulk containers, including tank wagons or drums when shipped on a refining-in-transit rate, shall continue to apply.

(3) Adjustments for premium quality. If you are an individual seller of refined soybean oil and have customarily charged a premium over the market price for a grade of such oil, you may apply in writing to the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for an adjustment in your ceiling price for such premium quality oil. This application shall contain all pertinent information describing the quality characteristics of the particular grade of oil and documentary evidence that you have customarily charged the premium. After March 1, 1951, you may not charge the premium price without the written approval of the Director of Price Stabilization. Until March 1, 1951, you may charge your customary premium over the applicable ceiling prices in Section 21 (b) of this regulation.

[Paragraph c amended by Amdt. 1]

SEC. 23. Sellers of corn oil. Your ceiling price for sale of corn oil shall be as follows:

(a) Crude corn oil. In tank cars, in cents per pound, as follows:

F. o. b. all mills in U. S., except Geneva, N. Y. and Wilkes-Barre, Pa.	24½
F. o. b. Geneva, N. Y., and Wilkes-Barre, Pa.	25

(b) Refined corn oil. In tank cars, in cents per pound, as follows:

Corn salad oil, basis f. o. b. Midwestern Refineries	27½

(1) Differentials for other types of bulk containers. The customary differentials for other types of bulk containers shall continue to prevail.

(2) Differentials for other grades. The customary differentials for grade above or below these prices for basis grades shall continue to apply.

[Sec. 23 amended by Amdt. 1]

24/pints (per case)	9.77	9.23	9.43

(g) Salad or cooking oil (made from soybean oil). The delivered ceiling prices of The Glidden Co.'s (Durkee Famous Foods) "Capitano", The Procter and Gamble Co.'s "Atlas", C. F. Simonin's Sons, Inc.'s "Sayola", A. E. Staley Manufacturing Co.'s "Edsoy", Swift and Co.'s "Imperial", Spencer Kellog and Sons, Inc.'s "Spensoy", all other brands of salad and cooking oil (made from soybean oil) manufactured or distributed by the processors of these brands and all other brands of salad and cooking oil (made from soybean oil) manufactured or distributed by processors not named above but customarily sold in the same price range as the brands mentioned, shall be the following prices:

	North and South	Pacific Coast
	Cents	Cents
Drums (per pound)	28.25	28.25
	Dollars	Dollars
1/5 gallons (per case)	11.35	11.50
6/1 gallons (per case)	13.85	13.95

(h) Differentials—(1) Quantity differentials for shortenings. The delivered ceiling prices of hydrogenated and standard shortenings are the prices for hydrogenated and standard shortenings when shipped in quantity to which the lowest price is applied in the processor's published price lists. For other quantities, the customary differentials shall apply.

(2) Quantity differentials for salad and cooking oils. The delivered ceiling prices of salad and cooking oils are the prices when shipped in the quantities named in the processor's published price lists. When salad and cooking oils are shipped in carload lots on which a refining-in-transit privilege is applicable, the customary discount (if any) from the delivered ceiling prices established in this section shall continue to apply. For other quantities the customary differentials shall apply.

(3) Container. When hydrogenated and standard shortening and salad and cooking oils are sold in containers of different sizes from the container sizes named in this section, the customary differentials for size of container shall apply.

(4) Cash discounts. The delivered ceiling prices of hydrogenated and standard shortenings and salad and cooking oils established in this section are the delivered ceiling prices before cash discounts. The customary discount for receipt of payment within the period specified in the processor's published price lists shall apply.

(5) Area. The delivered ceiling prices of hydrogenated and standard shortenings and salad and cooking oils established are base prices for the three areas named (North, South, and Pacific Coast). The customary differentials which have applied over base prices to some points within as well as to Territories and Possessions of the United States shall apply.

(i) Ceiling prices for defense agencies. A processor selling to a Defense Agency of the United States Government, or its agent, may charge a premium of not more than 2 cents per pound over the ceiling prices established by this section for shortening containing 100% cottonseed oil.

(j) Branch houses and car routes for sales of shortening. Where a processor sells standard or hydrogenated shortenings through a branch house or car route owned by the processor or owned by a corporation more than 50 percent of whose stock is owned or controlled by the processor, to a purchaser other than (1) a jobber, or (2) a wholesaler, or (3) a purchaser who buys a carload lot or that quantity to which the lowest price is applied in the processor's published price lists, the processor's delivered ceiling price on such sales shall be 106 percent of the delivered ceiling price permitted him in this section.

(k) Branch houses and car routes for salad and cooking oil. Where the processor sells salad or cooking oil through a branch house or car route owned by the processor or owned by a corporation more than 50 percent of whose stock is owned or controlled by the processor, to a purchaser other than (1) a jobber, or (2) a wholesaler, or (3) a purchaser who buys a carload lot or that quantity to which the lowest price is applied in the processor's published price lists, the processor's delivered ceiling price on such sales shall be 110 percent of the delivered ceiling price permitted him in this section.

(l) Delivered ceiling prices of other brands. The delivered ceiling price of a brand of standard or hydrogenated shortening or of salad or cooking oil, the delivered ceiling price of which is not established in paragraphs (a) through (g) of this section shall be determined by applying the customary differential above or below the price of one of the brands named.

(m) Applications for adjustment. If the processor of a brand of shortening, or of a brand of salad and cooking oil has no ceiling price because there is no customary differential, or feels that his ceiling price is unduly low, he may file an application for adjustment with the Office of Price Stabilization. Such application should set forth in detail the reasons why the applicant believes his brand should be permitted to sell at the delivered ceiling price requested by the applicant in his application, or why there is no customary price relationship between the applicant's brand and one of the brands named.

[Section 24 added by Amdt. 1]

SEC. 25. Sellers of tallows and greases. The ceiling prices of inedible tallows and greases shall be as follows:

Tallows and greases. F. o. b., loaded on cars or trucks, at point of shipment:

[1] Iodine value shall not be less than 70.
[2] Maximum titre.

(a) Materials of less than 40 titre shall be deemed greases and shall be priced only on the basis of the ceiling prices set forth above for greases; and materials of more than 39.9 titre shall be deemed tallows and shall be priced only on the basis of the ceiling prices set forth above for tallows:

(b) When prime and choice tallows are sold as "bleachable" the ceiling prices specified for those grades shall apply: Provided, That premiums may be paid if the tallow, on the basis of a refining and bleaching test in accordance with the official American Oil Chemists' Society methods, performed by the buyer after receipt meets specifications as follows:

Grade	Lovibond color through a 5¼ inch column	Allowable premium cents per pound
Choice	2.0 Red	¼
Prime	2.0 Red	¾
Prime	2.5 Red	¾

[Paragraph (b) added by Amdt. 4]

(c) Each type or grade of tallow or grease must be designated by the name customarily applied to it by the trade, and must be priced on the basis of the specifications prescribed in this section for such type or grade.

(d) The usual or normal differentials for grades, with specifications other than those listed above, shall continue to apply.

(e) When any of the above-named tallows or greases are sold in drums, barrels, or tierces at buyer's request, the ceiling prices for such tallows or greases shall be the prices set forth above, plus the differentials hereinafter set forth for the type of container in which the tallows or greases are shipped:

Container	Differentials to be added in cents per pound
Returnable drums, barrels or tierces	¾
Nonreturnable drums, barrels or tierces	1½

[Paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) redesignated by Amdt. 4]

(f) When tallows and greases are shipped in less than carload lots, the usual or normal premium shall continue to apply.

[Paragraph (f) added by Amdt. 4]

(g) When edible tallow shown in the table of this section is sold in smaller size containers than drums, barrels and tierces, your customary differentials shall apply.

[Paragraph (g) added by Amdt. 4]
[Sec. 25 added by Amdt. 2]

SEC. 26. Imported tallows and greases. The ceiling prices of imported tallows and greases, with duties and taxes paid, f. o. b. port of entry, shall be the ceiling prices set forth in section 25 of this regulation.

[Sec. 26 added by Amdt. 2]

SEC. 27. Exported tallows and greases. The ceiling prices for exported tallows and greases listed in section 25 of this regulation shall be the ceiling prices listed in such section plus the cost of additional expenses for preparing such tallows and greases for export. These additional costs shall include: sampling, analysis, stenciling of drums, surveying, cartage, lighterage and pumping to vessels deep tanks. These additional costs may not exceed a total of one quarter of one cent per pound.

[Sec. 27 added by Amdt. 2]

SEC. 28. Fat-bearing and oil-bearing animal waste materials (a) Ceiling prices for fat-bearing or oil-bearing animal waste materials are the highest prices at which such materials were delivered to a purchaser of the same class during the period from November 7 to December 7, 1950, inclusive. If such materials were not delivered during this period, the ceiling price shall be the highest price at which such materials were offered for delivery during this period to a purchaser of the same class. This offer must have been in writing. If no such materials were offered for delivery or dealt in during the above period, the ceiling prices for such materials shall be those of the seller's most closely competitive seller of the same class selling the same materials to the same class of purchaser.

(b) As an alternative to the method provided in paragraph (a) of this section, agencies of the United States Government, or any separate selling units of such agencies, who during the period from November 7 to December 7, 1950, inclusive, sold any of the waste materials covered by this section on the basis of fixed term contracts entered into with buyers of such materials prior to November 7, 1950, may determine their ceiling prices for future sales by adopting those of their most closely competitive seller.

[Sec. 28 added by Amdt. 2, substituted by Amdt. 8]

SEC. 29. Vegetable oil soapstocks—(a) Ceiling prices of raw soapstocks. The ceiling prices of the following raw soapstocks, delivered in tank cars or tank wagons, shall be the following prices:

RAW SOAPSTOCKS—BASIS 50 PERCENT T. F. A.:

[Cents per pound]

	New York	Chicago and Cincinnati	Los Angeles and San Francisco
Domestic vegetable oil soapstocks (foots) including but not necessarily limited to cottonseed, soya, corn, peanut or any mixture thereof	6.125	6	6

(1) Where any of the above soapstocks (foots) are delivered to other destinations, the ceiling price shall be the price set forth above for the city nearest the point to which the soapstock is delivered, plus or minus the usual normal differential that prevailed prior to January 1, 1951, between the point to which the soapstock is delivered and the nearest city named in the above schedule.

(2) The usual or normal differentials for grade, above or below the listed grades, shall continue to apply.

(b) Ceiling prices of acidulated soapstocks. The ceiling prices of acidulated soapstocks, delivered in tank cars or tank wagons shall be the following prices:

ACIDULATED SOAPSTOCKS—BASIS 95 PERCENT T. F. A.

	New York	Chicago and Cincinnati	Los Angeles and San Francisco
Domestic vegetable oil acidulated soapstock including but not necessarily limited to cottonseed, soya, corn, peanut or any mixture thereof	12.625	12.5	12.5

(1) Where any of the above acidulated soapstocks are delivered to other destinations, the ceiling price shall be the price set forth above for the city nearest the point to which the acidulated soapstock is delivered, plus or minus the usual or normal differential that prevailed prior to price control between the point to which the acidulated soapstock is delivered and the nearest city named in the above schedule.

(2) The usual or normal differentials for grade, above or below the listed grades, shall continue to apply.

(3) The usual or normal differential for type of container shall continue to apply.

(4) The terms "domestic vegetable oil soapstock" and "domestic vegetable oil acidulated soapstock" mean soapstocks derived from fats and oils not enumerated in section 14 of General Ceiling Price Regulation.

[Sec. 29 added by Amdt. 6]

SEC. 30. Sellers of fish oils. The ceiling prices of fish oils shall be as follows:

(a) Fish oils: Loaded on buyers' tank cars, tank trucks, or barge:

	Cents per pound
Menhaden oil, crude, f. o. b. producer's plant, Atlantic and Gulf Coasts	16
Sardine oil, crude, f. o. b. producer's plant, Atlantic Coast	16
Sardine oil, crude, f. o. b. producer's plant, Pacific Coast	16
Pilchard oil, crude, f. o. b. producer's plant, Pacific Coast	16
Herring oil, crude, f. o. b., Seattle	16
Herring oil, crude, f. o. b. producer's plant, Atlantic Coast	16
Crude tuna oil, mackerel oil, red fish oil, seal oil, hairyback fish oil, bottom fish oil, or other fish body oils produced by the reduction of the whole fish or the offal of such fish, f. o. b. plant of production	16

(b) If you import any of the oils specified in paragraph (a) of this section, your ceiling prices for the sale of such fish oils shall be the above ceiling prices, f. o. b. port of entry. These ceiling prices include all import duties and taxes.

(c) The usual and customary differentials for grades above or below these prices for basic grades shall continue to apply.

(d) The usual or customary differentials for types of conveyance or container shall continue to apply.

(e) Sales contracts for the grade and type of fish oil to be delivered, after the effective date of this amendment may be performed only at a price that does not exceed the ceiling prices set forth in paragraph (a) of this section.

(f) If you are a seller of fish oils to be sold at any of the price differentials specified in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, you must file, within thirty days from the effective date of this order, with the Fats and Oils Branch, Food and Restaurant Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a schedule of prices which will indicate the customary differentials from the ceiling price of crude oil which you intend to apply in accordance with paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section.

(g) If you have customarily charged a premium for sales of fish oil to be used as a carrying medium for vitamins, you may apply in writing to the Fats and Oils Branch, Food and Restaurant Division, OPS, Washington, D. C., for an adjustment in your ceiling price for such sales. This application must be filed in duplicate and contain all pertinent information indicating the name and address of the buyer; documentary evidence that you have customarily charged the premium; and the proposed selling price for which you are seeking adjustment.

[Sec. 30 added by Amdt. 7]

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Regulation 3 as Amended June 29, 1951]

REG. 3—OPERATIONS OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEMS BETWEEN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES

This regulation as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 and to implement the provisions of The Statement of Principles for Economic Cooperation issued by the Governments of the United States and Canada, dated October 26, 1950.

This amendment effects NPA Reg. 3, as amended June 15, 1951, by amending sections 2, 4, and 6; deleting section 7; adding new sections 7 and 8; and renumbering sections 8 and 9 to be 9 and 10.

As so amended, NPA Reg. 3 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this regulation does.
2. Definitions.
3. Rated orders from the United States under the United States defense program placed with Canadian suppliers.
4. Canadian orders for materials placed with United States suppliers.
5. Certifications by Canadian purchasers to suppliers in the United States.
6. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, and industrial expansion and capital equipment assistance to persons located in Canada.
7. Status of orders rated DO-47.
8. Relation to other regulations and orders of NPA.
9. Communications.
10. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 9 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. In order that the control, priorities, and allocations systems of the two countries be comparable in effect, and in order to coordinate the defense economies of the two countries, this regulation describes how and to what extent contracts or orders in support of the United States defense program or the Canadian Defence Program may have the benefits of the priorities system of the United States. Instructions have been issued by the Canadian Government under appropriate Canadian legislation to provide for priority assistance in obtaining essential Canadian materials and services for the United States defense program.

SEC. 2. Definitions. For the purposes of this regulation: (a) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes specifically Canadian distributors and importers as well as any agency of the United States Government or any other government.

(b) "Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies" means MRO as defined in NPA Reg. 4.

(c) "Minor capital additions" means minor capital additions as defined in NPA Reg. 4.

(d) "Controlled materials" means steel, copper, and aluminum in the forms and shapes specified in Schedule 1 of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(e) "Materials" means any raw, in-process, or manufactured commodity, equipment, component, accessory, part, or product of any kind.

SEC. 3. Rated orders from the United States under the United States defense program placed with Canadian suppliers. (a) If a rated order from a person in the United States, under NPA Reg. 2, is placed with a supplier located in Canada, either directly or through extension, the Canadian supplier may extend the rating received by him in order to acquire materials in the United States, to the extent permitted by the provisions of section 5 of NPA Reg. 2, and subject to the restrictions of section 6, NPA Reg. 2.

(b) A person located in Canada extending the rating to a supplier located in the United States, pursuant to this section, shall mark on his purchase order the prefix DO and the two-digit designation appearing on the rated order received by him, and shall affix thereto the additional statement to read as follows:

Certified under NPA Reg. 3.

Such certification shall be signed by him in the manner prescribed in section 8, NPA Reg. 2.

(c) If a supplier located in Canada requires priority assistance to obtain materials of Canadian origin to fill a rated order under the United States defense program, received by him from the United States, application should be made by him to the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, for appropriate action.

SEC. 4. Canadian orders for materials placed with United States suppliers. (a) Any Canadian Government Department, Corporation, or person charged with procurement under the Canadian Defence Program, or other approved purpose, placing a delivery order calling for delivery of materials to such person located in Canada by persons located in the United States, may make application through the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Reg. 3, for authority to apply to such delivery orders an allotment number to obtain controlled materials or a DO rating with allotment number to obtain products and materials other than controlled materials. All delivery orders to which allotment numbers or DO ratings shall be applied under the provisions of this regulation, shall have equal standing with delivery orders placed by persons in the United States, to which allotment numbers or ratings have been applied under NPA Reg. 2 or any NPA CMP Regulation.

(b) Any person who has been authorized pursuant to section 4 (a) of this regulation to apply allotment numbers or DO ratings to delivery orders shall, in accordance with such authorization and unless otherwise specifically provided by NPA, use (1) the allotment number G–6 on delivery orders for controlled materials for use in construction, (2) the allotment number G–7 on delivery orders for controlled materials for all other uses, (3) the rating DO–G6 for products and materials other than controlled materials for use in construction, and (4) the rating DO–G7 on delivery orders for products and materials other than controlled materials for all other uses. Such delivery orders shall also contain a certification in the following form: "Certified under NPA Reg. 3". Such certification shall be signed in manner prescribed in section 8 of NPA Reg. 2.

SEC. 5. Certifications by Canadian purchasers to suppliers in the United States. Certifications under sections 3 (b), 4 (b), and 6 (a) of this regulation constitute a representation to the supplier in the United States, to the National Production Authority, and to the Canadian Director of Priorities, Department of Defense Production, that the person signing such certification is either extending a rating received by him from a purchaser in the United States under the provisions of NPA Reg. 2, or is extending a rating specifically authorized by the National Production Authority under this regulation, which rating was applied for the purposes authorized.

SEC. 6. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, and industrial expansion and capital equipment assistance to persons located in Canada—(a) MRO assistance. Any person located in Canada who, without priorities assistance, cannot obtain MRO and minor capital additions from United States sources, and who requires an allotment number to obtain controlled materials or a DO rating to obtain products and materials other than controlled materials from a United States supplier, may make application through the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., for a quota and the right to apply such allotment number or rating to such requirements under arrangements made by the Department of Defence Production and NPA giving a comparable effect to the provisions of this regulation in respect to Canadian requirements. No such authorization will be issued by NPA unless the application therefor is approved by the said Priorities Division. Unless NPA shall otherwise provide, the allotment number G–7 shall be used on all delivery orders for controlled materials and the DO rating DO–G7 shall be used on all delivery orders for products and materials other than controlled materials placed pursuant to this section. In either case the delivery order shall also contain the certification specified in section 4 (b) of this regulation. No DO rating or allotment number shall be placed pursuant to this section on delivery orders to obtain items or materials specified in Table I or II of NPA Reg. 4, or Schedule I or II of CMP Regulation No. 5, when issued.

(b) Industrial expansion and capital equipment assistance. Under arrangements made with the Canadian Department of Defence Production, if a person located in Canada receives either a DO rated order from a person located in the United States, or an order for Canadian Defence or other approved purpose, and cannot fill such order without assistance in obtaining materials from the United States for plant improvement, expansion, or construction or obtaining machine tools or other items which he will carry as capital equipment, such Canadian supplier may apply to the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, for priorities assistance. Such request for assistance will be examined by the Priorities Division, and if approved by it, may be forwarded to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Reg. 3, for action. Ratings for items included in this category may be applied only when so approved by NPA.

SEC. 7. Status of orders rated DO–47. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 4 (c) of CMP Regulation No. 3, a delivery order for MRO or minor capital additions calling for delivery of controlled materials in the third calendar quarter of 1951 placed prior to the effective date of this amendment in accordance with the provisions of this regulation and bearing the rating DO–47 shall constitute an authorized controlled material order bearing the allotment number G–7 for the purposes of all CMP regulations and this regulation.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 5 (c) of CMP Regulation No. 3, a delivery order for MRO or minor capital additions requiring products and materials other than controlled materials calling for delivery in the third calendar quarter of 1951 placed prior to the effective date of this amendment in accordance with the provisions of this regulation and bearing the rating DO–47 shall constitute a rated order with the allotment number G–7 for the purpose of all CMP regulations.

(c) A delivery order for MRO or minor capital additions calling for delivery after the third calendar quarter of 1951, and placed prior to the effective date of this amendment but in accordance with the provisions of this regulation prior to this amendment, and bearing the rating DO–47, must be converted into an authorized controlled material order or into a rated order with the allotment number G–7, as the case may be, in accordance with the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 3. In the absence of such conversion on or before August 15, 1951, the order shall constitute an unrated order.

(d) Rated orders placed prior to June 15, 1951, which bear the rating "DO–47" and the certification "Certified under NPA Reg. 4," and calling for delivery in the third calendar quarter of 1951, shall have the same force and effect as if certified under this regulation.

SEC. 8. Relation to other regulations and orders of NPA. All of the provisions of NPA Reg. 2 apply to all persons affected by the provisions of this regulation except to the extent that such provisions are inconsistent, in which event the provisions of this regulation prevail. All of the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 3 as to status of delivery orders shall apply to orders bearing an allotment number or DO rating pursuant to this regulation.

SEC. 9. Communications. All communications from persons located in Canada concerning this regulation shall be addressed to the Priorities Division, Department of Defence Production, Ottawa, Canada, and, where necessary, forwarded by that Division to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Reg. 3.

SEC. 10. Violations. Certain provisions of this regulation may be subject to the penalties pursuant to regulations and orders issued under the Canadian Defence Production Act and the Canadian Emergency Powers Act.

This regulation as amended shall take effect on June 29, 1951.

[NPA Order M–7, Revocation]

M–7—ALUMINUM FOR CIVILIAN USE

NPA Order M–7, as amended June 1, 1951, is revoked, effective July 1, 1951. The provisions of NPA Order M–7 have been incorporated in NPA Order M–47A to limit use in the third quarter, 1951, of aluminum in certain consumer durable goods and related products. The use of aluminum in most other items in the third quarter, 1951, will be regulated by the issuance of CMP allotments.

This revocation does not affect any liabilities incurred for violation of NPA Order M–7, as amended from time to time, or for violation of any adjustments, exceptions, directions, directives, or other actions of the National Production Authority under it.

[NPA Order M–11 as Amended July 1, 1951]

M–11—COPPER AND COPPER-BASE ALLOYS

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected in advance of the issuance of this order as amended has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action and because the order affects a large number of different trades and industries.

NPA Order M–11 is amended in the following respects: §§ 29.1 through 29.14 are redesignated as sections 1 through 14, and the following new sections and paragraphs are substituted for the old sections and paragraphs: Section 1; paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of section 2; the first sentence of section 3; section 4; paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of section 5; section 6; paragraph (a) of section 7; paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of section 8; and section 10. In addition, paragraph (c) of section 7 has been redesignated as paragraph (d), and a new paragraph (c) added; and the heading of section 7 has been changed. As so amended, NPA Order M–11 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Copper and copper-base alloy forms and products to which this order applies.
3. Required shipment dates.
4. Rejection of authorized controlled material orders or rated orders.
5. Limitation for acceptance of authorized controlled material orders or rated orders.
6. Total tonnage limitations for acceptance of controlled material orders and rated orders.
7. Effect of authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for unalloyed copper and copper-base alloy ingot.
8. Distributors, jobbers, and warehousers.
9. Scheduled programs.
10. NPA assistance in placing authorized controlled material orders or rated orders.
11. Applications for adjustment or exception.
12. Communications.
13. Reports.
14. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 14 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order applies particularly to producers, sellers, and owners of refined copper and copper-base alloy ingot; producers of brass mill products, copper wire mill products, foundry copper products, and copper-base alloy products; and to distributors, jobbers, and warehousers, of copper and copper-base alloy controlled materials; and provides rules for placing, accepting, and scheduling authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for copper and copper-base alloy. The purpose is to make possible the maximum production of copper and copper-base alloy by reducing to a minimum disruption of normal distribution and by providing equitable distribution of authorized controlled material orders and rated orders upon all copper and copper-base alloy producers and fabricators and all distributors, jobbers, and warehousers of copper and copper-base alloy. It supplements NPA Reg. 2 and CMP Regulations Nos. 1 and 3, but only those provisions of such regulations which are inconsistent with this order are superseded, and all the provisions of those regulations continue to apply to the copper industry.

SEC. 2. Copper and copper-base alloy forms and products to which this order applies. This order applies to the following forms and products of copper and copper-base alloy:

(a) Unalloyed copper. (It includes electrolytic copper, fire refined copper, and all unalloyed copper in any form including scrap.)

(b) Copper-base alloy. Any alloy, the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40 percent of the total weight of the alloy. (It includes fired or demilitarized cartridge cases and artillery cases and all copper-base alloys as specified above in any form, including scrap.)

(c) Brass mill products. Brass mill products, for the purpose of this order, means copper and copper-base alloys in the following forms: sheet, plate, and strip in flat lengths or coils; rod, bar, shapes, and wire, except copper wire mill products; and seamless tube and pipe. Straightening, threading, chamfering and cutting to width and length, and reduction in gage, do not constitute changes in form of brass mill products except as determined by NPA. The following related products which have been produced by a change in form of brass mill products are not included in the definition of brass mill products:

Circles.
Discs.
Cups.
Blanks and segments.
Forgings.
Welding rod, 3 feet or less in length.
Rotating bands.
Tube and nipples—welded, brazed, or mechanically seamed.
Formed flashings.
Engravers' copper.

Allotments for the purpose of producing such related products shall be in terms of the estimated weight of the brass mill product from which such related product is made.

(d) Copper wire mill products. Copper wire mill products means bare wire, insulated wire and cable whatever the outer protective coverings may be, and uninsulated wire and cable, where the conductors are made from copper, copper-base alloy, or copper-clad steel, containing over 20 percent copper by weight. All copper wire mill products should be measured in terms of pounds of copper content.

(e) Foundry copper products and copper-base alloy products. Cast copper and copper-base alloy shapes or forms suitable for ultimate use without remelting, rolling, drawing, extruding, or forging. (The process of casting includes the removal of gates, risers, and sprues, and sandblasting, tumbling, and dipping, but does not include any further machining or processing.)

SEC. 3. Required shipment dates. An authorized controlled material order or a rated order for copper or copper-base alloy in any of the forms listed in section 2 of this order must specify shipment on a particular date or during a particular month which in no case may be earlier than required by the person placing the order. The producer of copper and copper-base alloy in any of the forms listed in section 2 of this order must schedule the order for shipment within the requested month as close to the required shipment date as is practicable considering the need for maximum production.

SEC. 4. Rejection of authorized controlled material orders or rated orders. Producers of copper and copper-base alloy controlled materials in the forms listed in section 2 of this order need not accept an authorized controlled material order or a rated order which is received less than the number of days prior to the first day of the month in which shipment is requested as set forth in Schedule 3 of CMP Regulation No. 1 unless specifically directed to accept the order by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 5. Limitations for acceptance of authorized controlled material orders or rated orders. Subject to the tonnage limitations stated in section 6 of this order, or unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority:

(a) No producer of brass mill products shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for shipment in any one month in excess of the following percentages of his scheduled monthly production of the products listed below:

	Percent
Unalloyed products:
Plate, sheet, and strip	60
Rod, bar, wire, shape	90
Seamless copper tube (non-standard)	55
Alloy products:
Plate, sheet, strip	75
Rod, bar, wire	80
Fourdrinier wire	100
Seamless tube	50
Standardized products:
S. P. S. pipe and type B tube	20
Copper water tube	55
Copper refrigeration and automotive tube	55
Beryllium copper products:
Sheet and strip plate	90
Rod, bar, wire	90
Tubing	50

(b) No producer of copper wire mill products shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for any type or size range of a wire mill product listed in paragraph (d) of section 2 of this order for shipment in any one month in excess of 80 percent of his scheduled monthly production of the same product.

(c) No producer of foundry copper products or copper-base alloy products shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for shipment in any one month in excess of the following percentages of his scheduled monthly production of the products listed below:

	Percent
Beryllium copper castings	90
All other castings	75

SEC. 6. Total tonnage limitations for acceptance of controlled material orders and rated orders. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no producer of brass mill products, copper wire mill products, foundry copper products, or copper-base alloy products, shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for shipment in any one month of a total tonnage in excess of 75 percent of his scheduled monthly production of such products.

SEC. 7. Effect of authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for unalloyed copper and copper-base alloy ingot. (a) No producer, seller, or owner, of unalloyed copper shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders or rated orders from any producer of brass mill products, copper wire mill products, foundry copper products, or copper-based alloy products, or from any ingot maker or other user of unalloyed copper, unless the buyer presents a copy of a specific authorization from the National Production Authority covering such authorized controlled material order or rated order.

(b) No producer, seller, or owner of copper-base alloy ingot shall be required to accept rated orders from any producer of brass mill products, foundry copper products, or copper-base alloy products, or from any other user of copper-base alloy ingot, unless the buyer presents a copy of a specific authorization from the National Production Authority covering such rated order.

(c) No producer of brass mill products, copper wire mill products, foundry copper products, or copper-base alloy products shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders or rated orders from any other producer of brass mill products, copper wire mill products, foundry copper products, or copper-base alloy products.

(d) Nothing in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section shall interfere with the acceptance of unrated orders for unalloyed copper or copper-base alloy ingot.

SEC. 8. Distributors, jobbers, and warehousers. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority:

(a) No distributor or jobber of brass mill products shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for shipment in any one month for a total tonnage in excess of 75 percent of his average monthly shipments by products (including shipments made by others for his account) during the first 3 months of 1951.

(b) No distributor or wholesaler of copper wire mill products shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for shipment in any one month of total poundage (copper content) of such products in excess of 75 percent of his total shipments from this warehouse stocks during the preceding monthly inventory period.

(c) No distributor or jobber of foundry copper or copper-base alloy products shall be required to accept authorized controlled material orders and rated orders for shipment in any one month of a total tonnage of such products in excess of 75 percent of his total shipments from his warehouse stocks during the preceding monthly inventory period.

SEC. 9. Scheduled programs. The National Production Authority will from time to time approve scheduled programs calling for production and delivery of copper and copper-base alloy for stated purposes over specified periods of time. Upon approval of major programs of this type, supplements to this order will be issued distributing such programs and specifying the manner in which they are to be carried out by the copper industry. Thereafter, directives will be issued to individual concerns establishing schedules for their participation in such programs. Such directives shall be complied with by the recipients in accordance with the terms thereof, unless otherwise directed by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 10. NPA assistance in placing authorized controlled material orders or rated orders. Any person who is unable to place an authorized controlled material order or rated order for copper or copper-base alloy due to the limitations imposed by sections 5, 6, or 8 of this order should apply to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-11, specifying the producers, fabricators, distributors, warehousers, or jobbers, who refused to accept the order. The National Production Authority will arrange to assist him in locating sources of supply.

SEC. 11. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 12. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-11.

SEC. 13. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 14. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

This order as amended shall take effect on July 1, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

[F. R. Doc. 51-7737; Filed, July 2, 1951; 11:56 a. m.]

[NPA Order M-8, as Amended July 1, 1951]

M-8—TIN

This order which amends and supersedes NPA Order M-8, dated April 2, 1951, is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with industry representatives in advance of the issuance of this order as amended has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action and the fact that the amendment affects a large number of different trades and industries.

NPA Order M-8 is amended by substituting new paragraphs and sections in place of the old paragraphs and sections of the order, as follows: paragraph (f) of section 2; section 5; section 6; paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 7; and subparagraphs (5) and (9) of paragraph (b) of section 8; and by effecting a number of other relatively minor clarifying changes. As so amended, NPA Order M-8 reads as follows:

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 17 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order amends and supersedes NPA Order M-8. The purpose of this order is to describe how tin remaining after allowing for the requirements of national defense may be distributed and used in the civilian economy. It restricts the use of pig tin in manufacture, processing, and construction. It prohibits all uses of pig tin, secondary tin, and certain tin-bearing products not expressly set forth in the attached Schedules I through VII. In addition, many of the permissible uses included in the Schedules I through VII are prohibited in connection with the manufacture of the items or for the purposes set forth in List A. The order also sets forth limitations on inventories of pig tin and alloys and other materials containing tin, and explains the conditions under which reports are required in connection with the production, distribution, importation, use, and inventories of pig tin. In addition, it covers the conditions under which reporting is required in connection with the customs entry of tin importation. It is the intent of this order that other materials which are not in short supply will be substituted for tin and alloys and other materials containing tin wherever possible. It prohibits the private importation of pig tin and places pig tin under allocation by prohibiting, subject to limited exceptions, any deliveries not covered by allocation authorizations to be issued monthly by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 2 Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Base period" means the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

(c) "Manufacture" means to melt, put into process, machine, fabricate, cast, roll, turn, spin, coat, extrude, or otherwise alter pig tin, alloys containing tin, or other materials containing tin, by physical or chemical means and includes the use of tin and alloys and other materials containing tin in plating, and in chemical compounding and processing. It does not include the use of tin contained in any "in process" materials or any other materials not actually to be incorporated into the items to be manufactured, such "in process" materials and other materials being included under paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section.

(d) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a building, machine, piece of equipment, or facility in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of a building, piece of equipment, or facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts, or the like: Provided, however, Neither maintenance nor repair includes the improvement of any such item with material of a better kind, quality, or design.

(e) "Operating supplies" means any tin or alloy or other material containing tin normally carried by a person as operating supplies according to established accounting practice and not included in his finished product, except that materials included in such product which are normally chargeable to operating expense may be treated as operating supplies.

(f) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from areas outside the continental United States, including territories and possessions. It includes shipments into foreign-trade zones, customs bonded warehouses, and customs custody, except when such shipments are merely in transit through the continental United States, to destinations outside the continental United States, as shown by the bills of lading or other shipping documents. However, if any such material in transit is halted or diverted to a destination in the continental United States or subjected to processing or manufacture in the continental United States, it becomes an "import" for the purposes of this order.

(g) "Pig tin" means metal containing 95 percent or more by weight of the element tin, in shapes current in the trade, including anodes, small bars, and ingots, but excluding the products specifically listed in Section IV of report Form NPAF-7.

(h) "Secondary tin" means any alloy, produced from scrap, which contains less than 95 percent but not less than 1.5 percent by weight of the element tin.

(i) For the purpose of the reporting requirements relating to imports stated in section 14 (b) of this order, "tin" means pig tin and tin in any raw semi-finished, or scrap form, and any alloys, compounds, or other materials containing tin (where tin is of chief value) in any raw, semi-finished, or scrap form. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

Babbitt metal and solder	6506.100
Alloys and combinations of lead, not in chief value lead (including lead, antimony, and white metal)	6506.900
Type metal	6507.000
Tin bars, blocks, pigs, grained or granulated	6551.300
Tin metallic scrap (except alloyed scrap)	6551.500
Tin alloys, chief value tin n. s. p. f. (including alloyed scrap)	6551.900
Tin dross, skimmings, and residues	6740.170
Tin foil less than 0.006 inch thick	6790.710
Tin powder, flitters, and metallics	6790.720
Tin bichloride, tin tetrachloride, and other chemical compounds, mixtures, and salts, tin chief value (including tin oxide)	6380.920

NOTE: The numbers listed in the second column are commodity numbers taken from Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Imports into the United States, issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce (August 1, 1950 edition).

(j) "Copper-base alloy" for the purpose of this order means any alloy containing tin in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40 percent of the total weight of the alloy.

(k) "Scrap" means all materials or objects which are the waste or by-products of industrial fabrication or which have been discarded for obsolescence, failure, or other reason, and which contain tin or alloys or other materials containing tin in a form making such scrap suitable for industrial use.

(l) "Soldering" means joining with solder. This term does not include dipping or solder-coating in which the joining operation is not performed simultaneously with such dipping or coating. (For dipping or coating see Schedule IV and Schedule VII, item 13).

(m) "Implements of war" means combat end-products, complete for tactical operations (including, but not limited to aircraft, ammunition, armaments, weapons, ships, tanks, military vehicles, and radio and radar equipment), and any parts, assemblies, or materials to be incorporated in any of these items. This term does not include facilities or equipment used to manufacture the items described above nor does it include any "in process" or any other materials not actually to be incorporated into the items described above.

SEC. 3. Application of order. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 10, this order applies to all persons who produce tin or alloys or other materials containing tin, or who use tin or alloys or other materials containing tin, in manufacture, processing, or construction, or for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies. In addition, the reporting provisions stated in section 14 of this order apply to persons who produce, distribute, or hold in their possession pig tin, or who import tin.

SEC. 4. Restrictions on use of pig tin and alloys and other materials containing tin. Subject to the exemption in section 10 of this order, or unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority:

(a) No person shall use pig tin for any purpose where secondary tin can be used.

(b) No person shall use any pig tin, secondary tin, solder, babbitt, copper-base alloy, or other alloy containing 1.5 percent or more tin, or other materials containing 1.5 percent or more tin, in the manufacture, treatment, installation, or construction of any item or product, or in any process, or for any purpose, except those set forth in the attached schedules and to the extent permitted thereby. Uses not expressly authorized by said schedules are prohibited.

(c) No person shall use tin in any form specified in paragraph (b) in the manufacture of any item or in any process set forth in List A, even though such use might otherwise be permissible under paragraph (b): Provided, however, That this prohibition will not apply to the use of solder for joining purposes to the extent permitted in attached Schedule II.

(d) In addition to the restrictions set forth in the attached schedules, no person shall use: (1) In the manufacture of any product or for any purpose as to which the attached schedules limit tin content, any alloys or other materials having a tin content greater than that being used by such person in such manufacture or for such purpose on January 27, 1951; (2) in the coating of any item, a heavier coating in terms of tin content than that being used by such person for such purpose on January 27, 1951; or (3) any metal to which pig tin has been added to produce any product or perform any process for which the use of pig tin is not permitted in the schedules.

SEC. 5. Limitations on use of pig tin. Subject to the limitations in section 4 of this order, or unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, during the calendar quarter commencing July 1, 1951, no person shall use in the manufacture, processing, installation, construction, or treating of any item or product a total quantity by weight of pig tin in excess of 90 percent of his average monthly use of pig tin for such purposes during the base period except as permitted in the attached schedule: Provided, however, That such use in any one month shall not exceed 40 percent of the permitted quarterly use.

SEC. 6. Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no person shall use for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies during the calendar quarter commencing July 1, 1951, or any calendar quarter thereafter, a quantity by weight of pig tin in excess of 100 percent of his average quarterly use of pig tin for such purposes during the base period: Provided, however, That his use of pig tin for such purposes shall be in accordance with, and only to the extent permitted in, the attached schedules, and that no pig tin shall be used for such purposes where secondary tin can be used.

SEC. 7. Allocation of pig tin. (a) No person shall deliver pig tin or accept delivery of pig tin for any purpose in any month except in accordance with the terms of an allocation authorization issued for such month by the National Production Authority. An allocation authorizaiton will be sent by the National Production Authority to the appropriate supplier and the purchaser will be notified of the issuance thereof. The authorization will permit the supplier to make delivery pursuant to the purchaser's order within the limitations of the authorization. The National Production Authority may specifically direct the purposes for which a person may use pig tin in the manufacture, processing, installation, treating, or construction of any item or product, whether or not such pig tin has been directly allocated to such person. A person who has received pig tin pursuant to an allocation for the purpose of resale may dispose of such pig tin only by resale. The issuance of an allocation authorization by the National Production Authority shall not dispense with the necessity of complying with the requirements of section 8 of this order with regard to certification.

(b) An application for an allocation authorization must be filed with the National Production Authority by the proposed purchaser on Form NPAF-7 not later than the twentieth day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is sought, and such application shall separately indicate the quantity of pig tin requested for use and the quantity requested for resale.

(c) No person shall deliver any pig tin if he knows, or has reason to believe, that the person requesting delivery is not permitted to receive it under this order or will use it for purposes not permitted by this order.

(d) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall not apply to any: (1) delivery of pig tin to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or the General Services Administration for the stockpile of strategic materials; (2) delivery of pig tin pursuant to specific directives of the National Production Authority; (3) delivery of pig tin to any person whose total receipts during the month in which such delivery occurs are and by such delivery will remain less than 6,000 pounds, and who has not received an allocation authorization for pig tin for that month, and who furnishes to the supplier a signed certification in substantially the following form:

The undersigned certifies, subject to the penalties of Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, that receipt of this shipment of pig tin in the month requested is permitted by NPA Order M-8; that no allocation authorization for pig tin for that month has been issued to the undersigned by the National Production Authority; that his total receipt of pig tin in that month, including that covered by this order, will not exceed 6,000 pounds; and that the pig tin herein ordered will be used only for the purposes permitted by NPA Order M-8 (Schedule _____, Item _____) as follows: [1]

(Specify end use)

Any person who furnishes the foregoing certification shall not be required to furnish, with respect to pig tin, the certification required by section 8 of this order.

SEC. 8. Certification. (a) No person shall sell or deliver and no person shall purchase or accept delivery of any pig tin, secondary tin, solder, babbitt, or any other alloys or materials containing 1.5 percent or more tin (excluding ores and concentrates) until the purchaser has furnished a signed certification in substantially the following form:

The undersigned certifies, subject to the penalties of Title 18, U. S. Code (Crimes), section 1001, that the tin or tin product herein ordered will be used only for the purposes permitted by NPA Order M-8 (Schedule____, item____) as follows: [1]

(Specify end use)

This certification constitutes a representation by the purchaser to the seller and to the National Production Authority that the tin or tin-bearing products or materials delivered will be used either for the purpose or purposes set forth in the attached schedules or for "implements of war," or for resale without change in form (other than packaging), and that such use is not prohibited by other applicable orders or regulations of the National Production Authority.

(b) This certification shall not be required in connection with the delivery of: (1) tin to the General Services Administration for the stockpile of strategic materials; (2) tin or tin-bearing items or products pursuant to a specific authorization of the National Production Authority; (3) solder in lots not exceeding 2 pounds, if in wire form, solid or cored, not over 3/32 inch in diameter, and containing no more than 40 percent tin by weight; (4) solder in lots not exceeding 5 pounds, if in any other form and

[1] In cases coming within the exemption stated in section 10, substitute the phrase "implements of war" for the reference to Schedule and item. Where the tin or tin products are purchased for resale without change in form (other than packaging), substitute the phrase "for resale upon proper certification."

containing not more than 35 percent tin by weight; (5) babbitt for bearing purposes containing 10 percent or less tin; (6) babbitt for bearing purposes of any specifications in lots of 5 pounds or less; (7) printing plates and type metal containing tin for use by the printing, publishing, and related services industries; (8) liquor-finished wire; or (9) copper-base alloy scrap containing not more than 6 percent tin by weight when delivered to a scrap dealer, brass mill, or smelter, such scrap when delivered to any other person and all other scrap containing 1.5 percent or more tin by weight may be delivered only upon proper certification by the purchaser.

(c) No person giving a certification under this section may receive, use, or dispose of the materials obtained upon such certification contrary to its terms.

SEC. 9. Defense orders for items containing tin. Notwithstanding the provisions of NPA Reg. 2 which establishes a priorities system, rated orders calling for items containing tin are subject to the provisions of sections 4, 5, 6, and 8 of this order unless within the exemption provided in section 10 or unless otherwise directed by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 10. Exemption. The restrictions of section 4 of this order shall not apply to the manufacture of "implements of war" produced for the Department of Defense, Atomic Energy Commission, United States Coast Guard, and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, provided that the use of tin contrary to these restrictions is required either by the latest applicable specifications or drawings, or by letter or contract issued by any such government agency for which the "implements of war" are being produced.

SEC. 11. Inventories. In addition to the inventory provisions of NPA Reg. 1, it is considered that a more exact requirement applying to users of pig tin or alloys or other materials containing tin (excluding ores and concentrates) is necessary.

(a) No person obtaining any such materials for use in manufacture, processing, or construction, or for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, shall receive or accept delivery of a quantity of the materials listed in Column A below from domestic sources, if his inventory of such materials is, or by such receipt would become, more than the smallest quantity which will be required by his scheduled method and rate of operation to be put into use for such purposes during the next succeeding period specified in the corresponding section of Column B below, or (except for pig tin) in excess of a "practicable minimum working inventory" as defined in NPA Reg. 1, whichever is less:

Column A	Column B
1. Pig tin for tin plate	1. 120 days
2. Pig tin for all other uses	2. 60 days
3. Lead-base alloys	3. 45 days
4. All other materials and alloys containing 1.5 percent or more tin	4. 60 days

For the purpose of this section, any such materials in which only minor changes or alterations have been effected shall be included in inventory.

(b) Section 10.11 of NPA Reg. 1, entitled "Imported materials" will continue to apply. The other provisions of that regulation will continue to apply except as modified by this section.

(c) No scrap dealer shall accept delivery of any form of scrap defined in section 2 of this order, unless, during the 60 days immediately preceding the date of such acceptance, he shall have made delivery or otherwise disposed of scrap to an amount at least equal in weight to his scrap inventory on the date of such acceptance, exclusive of the delivery to be accepted.

SEC. 12. Export certificates. Any purchaser of an item included in the attached schedules who intends to export such item from the United States, its territories or possessions, or from Canada, shall include in the certification required under section 8 of this order the words "for export" as well as the number of the export license applicable to such item. No item may be produced for export unless its manufacture is permitted under the provisions of section 4 of this order.

SEC. 13. Importation of pig tin. Commencing on the effective date of this order, no person other than the Reconstruction Finance Corporation acting for and in behalf of the General Services Administration, shall import into the United States, its territories or possessions, any quantity of pig tin in bars, blocks, pigs, grain or granulated (Item 6551.300 Statistical Classification of Imports into the United States, dated August 1, 1950), except as specifically authorized in writing by the National Production Authority: Provided, however, That this prohibition shall not apply to any private importation pursuant to a contract executed prior to the effective date of this order, which is reported to and approved by the National Production Authority on or before March 20, 1951. The report of such contracts shall be by letter in duplicate addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C. (Ref: M-8), stating the date of execution of the contract, the parties thereto, the approximate date or dates of arrival, and the quantity and brand or brands of the material to be imported.

SEC. 14. Reports and records. (a) Reports on pig tin. (1) Any person using 1,000 pounds or more of pig tin in any calendar month must complete and file report Form NPAF-7 with the National Production Authority on or before the twentieth day of November 1950, and on or before the twentieth day of each succeeding month with respect to such use during the preceding month.

(2) Any person who on any day of any calendar month has in his possession or under his control 1,000 pounds or more of pig tin must complete and file report Form NPAF-7 with the National Production Authority on or before the twentieth day of November 1950, and on or before the twentieth day of each succeeding month with respect to such possession or control on the last day of the preceding month.

(3) Any person who produces, imports, or distributes any pig tin must report his production, entries, receipts, deliveries, inventories, balance of entries, and all other transactions in pig tin either by completing and filing report Form NPAF-7, or by letter in triplicate with the National Production Authority, on or before the 20th day of November 1950, with respect to all such operations and transactions during October 1950, and on or before the tenth of December and on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month with respect to all such operations and transactions during the preceding month.

(b) Reports on Customs Entry. No tin including, without limitation, tin imported by or for the account of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, U. S. Commercial Company, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, shall be entered through the United States Collectors of Customs, unless the person making the entry shall complete and file, with the Collector of Customs, Form NPAF-8. The filing of such form a second time shall not be required upon any subsequent entry of the same material through the United States Collectors of Customs; nor shall the filing of such form a second time be required upon the withdrawal of such material from bonded custody of the United States Collectors of Customs, regardless of the date when such material was first transported into the continental United States. Form NPAF-8 will be transmitted by the Collectors of Customs to the National Production Authority.

(c) Records. (1) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(2) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(3) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such other reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

(d) Submission of reports. All reports required by this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–8, together with such number of copies as may be specified in the report form.

SEC. 15. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, that any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 16. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–8.

SEC. 17. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority, or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order, as amended, shall take effect, except as otherwise specifically stated, on July 1, 1951.

1. Advertising specialties.
2. Art objects.
3. Britannia metal, pewter metal, or other similar tin-bearing alloys.
4. Buckles.
5. Buttons.
6. Chimes and bells.
7. Coated paper.
8. Emblems and insignia.
9. Fasteners as follows: book match clips and staples, paper clips, spiral binders, office staples, and paper fasteners.
10. Jewelry.
11. Novelty souvenirs and trophies.
12. Ornaments and ornamental fittings.
13. Hollowware.
14. Plating and coating for decorative purposes.
15. Powder for decorative purposes.
16. Refrigerator trays or shelves (all types).
17. Seals and labels.
18. Slot, game, and vending machines.
19. Tablets, markers, and memorials.
20. Tin oxide (except for the purposes and to the extent set forth in Schedule VI).
21. Toys and games.
22. Zinc galvanizing.
23. All other ornamental or decorative purposes.

SCHEDULES

(See section 4)

SCHEDULE I—BRASS AND BRONZE

A. CAST COPPER-BASE ALLOYS

Alloys containing 3.5 percent or more by weight of tin may be cast for the following purposes only	Maximum permissible tin content of alloys (percent by weight)
(1) Piston rings for locomotives and for airbrake equipment	(1) 20.
(2) Bridge trunnion bearings, bridge bearing plates, railroad and bridge turntable bearing discs, mill stand screw down nuts.	(2) 18.
(3) Jack nuts, feed nuts, and elevating nuts	(3) 14.
(4) High ratio worm gears, fire engine pump gears, thrust washers or discs, machine tool spindle bearings.	(4) 12.
(5) Hydraulic pump bodies and ends for gear pumps, grinder spindle sleeve bearings, step bearings, internal parts of industrial centrifugal pumps and injectors, collector rings, bearings, bushings, and chemical process valves.	(5) 10.
(6) Bearings produced by the process of powder metallurgy	(6) 10.
(7) Steam industrial and aircraft valves, fittings, and specialties.	(7) 6.5.
(8) All other castings	(8) 6.

B. WROUGHT ALLOYS

(1) Telephone drop wire, condenser tubes, engine beater bars, jordan bars, ductor blades, four dinier wire, and screen plates.	(1) 8.
(2) Manufacture of discs and diaphragms for industrial control instruments, bronze welding rods, and rifle nuts in air hammers.	(2) 10.
(3) For use as bearings, spectacle wire, and functional parts in all other items (except items in List A).	(3) 5.5.
(4) All other (except items in List A)	(4) 2.

C. COPPER NICKEL ALLOYS

(1) Seats, discs, and bearing surfaces of steam and industrial valves.	(1) 13.

SCHEDULE II—SOLDERS

Pig or secondary tin may be used to make solder to be used for the following purposes only. (See definition of "soldering" in section 2. Solder coating is covered by Schedule IV, and item 13, Schedule VII.)	Maximum permissible tin content of solder (percent by weight)
(1) For soldering side seams in the manufacture of cans made with either lock or lap side seams with a combination of lock or lap seams.	(1) 5.
(2) For soldering end seams of all solder seam cans	(2) 26.
(3) For the sealing of milk cans	(3) 21.
(4) For a filler or smoother for automobile or truck bodies or fenders or for similar purposes.	(4) 20.
(5) Radiators	(5)
(i) All cellular type radiators (average per radiator)	(i) 21.
(ii) All fin and tube type radiators for military and civilian use (average per radiator).	(ii) 30.
(iii) Wire solder not over 5/32 inch in diameter for the hand repair of radiators	(iii) 40.
(6) For all soldering on the following: railroad car and truck refrigeration; refrigeration equipment inside refrigeration compartments; aluminum refrigeration condensers; aircraft motors; diesel and electric generators; electric-traction motors; generators for railroads, street cars, mine locomotives, railway locomotives, and busses (including the dipping of commutator segments).	(6) Unlimited.
(7) Electrical precision instruments; meters, recording and indicating; dairy equipment; food processing equipment; and hospital and sterilizing equipment.	(7) 50.
(8) Tin-zinc solders for soldering aluminum foil condensers, and tin-lead solders for soldering printed circuits.	(8) 60.
(9) For other hand soldering operations done either with a soldering iron or with a torch and wiping.	(9) 40.
(10) For any other soldering operations	(10) 35.

SCHEDULE III—BABBITT

Pig or secondary tin may be used to make babbitt metal or alloys used as babbitt, cast or plated, for the following purposes only:	Maximum permissible tin content of babbitt (percent by weight)
(1) For manufacture, repair, maintenance, or replacement of multivane crosshead linings in locomotives or for lining aluminum crossheads, and for bonding of precision bearings and all bearings included under items (2) and (3) below.	(1) Unlimited.
(2) For manufacture, repair, maintenance, or replacement of connecting rods or main engine bearings for trucks, tractors, bulldozers, or busses.	(2) 90.
(3) For manufacture, repair, maintenance, or replacement of Diesel engines; turbines; locomotive connecting rod or coupling rod bearings; irrigation water pumping engines and equipment; industrial engines, generators, and motors; compressors; pumps; vessels or other ship facilities; electric locomotives; electric traction motor and generator bearings; stone crusher bearings; saw mill, planing mill, paper mill machinery, and roll neck bearings 8 inches in diameter or larger.	(3) 90.
(4) For any other bearing purpose	(4) 10.

SCHEDULE IV—PLATING AND COATING

Pig tin or alloys containing tin may be used to plate or coat solely for protective or functional purposes in the following items only	Permitted use of pig tin or alloys containing tin
(1) Dairy equipment:	(1)
(i) New fluid milk shipping containers.	(i) Plg tin may be used only when and to the extent specifically authorized in writing by the NPA.
(ii) All other dairy equipment including the retinning of fluid milk shipping containers.	(ii) Plate, coat, or retin.
(2) Equipment for preparing and handling food, including kitchen utensils, galley and mess equipment.	(2) Coat or retin only such parts as are designed to come in actual contact with food.
(3) Cutlery and flatware.	(3) Plate or coat.
(4) Copper or brass pipe and fittings:	(4)
(i) Tubing or fittings to dispense beverages or distilled water.	(i) Coat.
(ii) Tubing or fittings used as refrigeration tubing or in contact with beverages or drinking water in beverage or drinking water equipment.	(ii) Electro tin or chemically tin.
(5) Snap fasteners and hooks and eyes	(5) Tin or tin chemicals may be used for barrel plating or chemical plating.
(6) Copper and copper-base alloy wire and strip:	(6)
(i) Wire—0.032 inch nominal diameter or finer.	(i) Coat.
(ii) Wire—larger than 0.032 inch nominal diameter.	(ii) Coat with alloy containing not more than 12 percent tin by weight.
(iii) Strip—0.0250 inch thick or thinner where solderable coating is required for electrical connection.	(iii) Coat. Coating limited to 0.0001 inch in thickness.
(iv) Strip—where solderable coating is required for radiators and heat exchangers.	(iv) Coat with an alloy containing not more than 15 percent tin by weight.

Pig tin or alloys containing tin may be used to plate or coat solely for protective or functional purposes in the following items only	Permitted use of pig tin or alloys containing tin
(7) Steel wire, for following purposes:	(7) Coat for purposes indicated.
(i) Liquor finishing process of fine steel bright wire.
(ii) Armature binding wire and wire for all electrical equipment and aircraft parts including aircraft wire and cable.
(iii) Wire having ultimate tensile strength of 100,000 pounds per square inch for manufacture of stranded cable (not including picture wire, fishing leaders, and like items) but including musical instrument strings.
(iv) Spring steel wire for use as springs where prime function of the wire is a spring and alternative coatings cannot be used (this does not include wire for spiral binding and like applications).
(v) Wire for use in manufacture of equipment for the production of textiles.
(vi) Wire for manufacture of pin tickets and tag wire in direct contact with garments and other textiles and including dry cleaning and laundry tag use, for pin type card holders and brake retraid.
(vii) Beekeepers' wire for comb construction.
(viii) Wire for packaging or marking food where wire comes into actual contact with edible portions of the food.
(ix) Bookbinders' wire or preformed staple wire to be used in foot or power operated stitching machines using wire in coils or spools or preformed staples for the following:	(7) Coat for purposes indicated.
(a) Stitching of magazines, books, booklets, and pamphlets, other than those used solely for advertising purposes.
(b) Preformed containers for dairy products and other foods and for pull-up tabs for bottles and tubs only where the wire comes into direct contact with the food.
(x) Stitching wire and wire for staples to be used in hand, foot, or power operated stitching machines using wire in coils or spools or preformed staples for the following:
(a) Attaching tabs and tickets to garments, other textiles, leather and imitation leather, and sheet plastics, and for attaching these items to other items or materials:
(b) Stitching and stapling in industrial manufacturing operations where tinned stitching wire or staples are required for penetration and alternative coatings cannot be used (this does not include wire for office staples, staples for tea bags, book matches, or box and carton construction).

B. TIN OXIDE

Production	Permitted use
Pig tin cannot be used to make tin oxide except when and to the extent that manufacture is specifically authorized in writing by NPA.	(1) For the production of green, pink, yellow, and red colors in amounts in any one month not in excess of 50 percent of the average monthly use for such purposes during the base period. (2) For the production of earthenware plumbing fixtures. (3) Laboratory agents and medicinals.

SCHEDULE VII—MISCELLANEOUS

Items	Permitted use
(1) Aluminum alloys containing tin where tin content does not exceed 7 percent by weight.	(1) For any purpose except to make items included in List A.
(2) Tin pipe, sheet tin and fittings to repair or maintain beverage dispensing units and their parts, including soda fountain carbon dioxide tanks.	(2) May be made from pig or secondary tin provided the purchaser returns to the supplier a quantity of scrap tin with the same tin content as that supplied.
(3) Tin pipe or tubes	(3) Where required, for conducting chemically pure distilled water.
(4) Bolster metal	(4) In the manufacture of surgical instruments if the tin content of the bolster metal does not exceed 35 percent of tin by weight. For all other cutlery, if the tin content of the bolster metal does not exceed 10 percent of tin by weight and provided such bolster metal is produced from secondary tin only.
(5) Pipe organs for religious and educational institutions.	(5) May be manufactured, rebuilt, or repaired with secondary tin taken from the inventories of organ builders or acquired from old organs.
(6) Dental amalgam alloys	(6) No restriction on tin content.
(7) Detonators and blasting caps (including electric blasting caps).	(7) Pig or secondary tin may be used to make the detonators and blasting caps and all necessary parts and accessories.
(8) Collapsible tubes	(8) Pig or secondary tin may be used in accordance with the specification limits stated in NPA Order M-27.
(9) Printing plates and type metal containing tin.	(9) May be made for use by the printing, publishing, and related services industries without certification.
(10) Terne metal	(10) Terne metal containing not more than 15 percent of tin may be produced if made from secondary tin only.
(11) Fusible alloys and dry pipe seat rings	(11)—
(i) Dry pipe seat rings	(i) Pig or secondary tin may be used to the extent required to meet performance specifications.
(ii) Fusible alloys for safety purposes only.	(ii) Pig or secondary tin may be used to the extent required to meet minimum code requirements with respect to the operation of the product in which the alloy is to be contained.
(12) Linings for chromium plating tanks and lead anodes for chromium plating.	(12) Lead-base alloys containing not more than 4 percent tin may be used if the alloys are derived from secondary tin only.

Pig tin or alloys containing tin may be used to plate or coat solely for protective or functional purposes in the following items only	Permitted use of pig tin alloys containing tin
(8) Tin plate and terneplate	(8) Pig or secondary tin may be used to coat tin plate only when and to the extent specifically authorized in writing by the NPA. Only secondary tin may be used to produce terne metal for coating terneplate. Terne metal containing not more than 15 percent tin may be used for coating short ternes and roofing ternes. Terne metal containing not more than 10 percent tin may be used for coating all other long ternes. All uses of tin plate and terneplate shall be in accordance with the specification limits stated in NPA Order M-24.
(9) Sheet (other than tin plate, terneplate, or tin mill black plate), tubing, wire, foundry chaplets, etc.	(9) Lead-base alloys containing not more than 7 percent of tin, may be used to coat, if the alloys are derived from secondary tin only.
(10) Steel-bearing shells	(10) Pig or secondary tin may be used to electro-tin to a thickness not exceeding 0.00006 inch.
(11) Electrotype shells	(11) Pig or secondary tin may be used to electro-plate, electrotype shells only where such installations were operating on or before January 27, 1951.

SCHEDULE V—FOIL

Pig or secondary tin may be used to make foil for the following purposes only	Maximum permissible tin content of foil (percent by weight)
(1) Electrotypers foil	(1) 30.
(2) Soft babbitt for the preparation of industrial metallic packing.	(2) 1½.
(3) Condenser foil or dimensions 0.00035 inch by 1 inch or less.	(3) 50.
(4) Condenser foil for all other condensers	(4) 15.
(5) Foil for aircraft magnetos	(5) 50.
(6) Cap liner foil for packing medicinal, pharmaceutical, and biological preparations containing chloroform or other highly volatile chemicals; and preparations containing an equivalent alcohol content in excess of 50 percent, and for which other types of liners cannot be used.	(6) Unlimited.
(7) Dental foil	(7) Unlimited.
(8) Lead-base foil for burglar alarm systems	(8) 4½.

SCHEDULE VI—TIN CHEMICALS AND TIN OXIDE

A. TIN CHEMICALS

Types of tin chemicals	Permitted use
(1) Pig tin or tin chemicals (excluding tin oxide).	(1) May be used only as or for: Laboratory reagents, medicinals, or plating (to the extent permitted in other schedules).
(2) Tin chemicals (excluding tin oxide) produced from secondary tin-bearing drosses, residues, or scrap metal, having a tin content not over 10 percent and an impurity content too high for use in the production of other items permitted in the attached schedules.	(2) May be used for any purpose except to make items included in List A.

Items	Permitted use
(13) Bismuth alloys. Pig or secondary tin may be used for the production of bismuth alloys.	(13) (a) for items permitted by both Order M-48 and the schedules attached to Order M-8; the tin content is limited to that set forth in the schedules for the particular item and use. (b) For all other items permitted by Order M-48 and not included in the schedules attached to Order M-8, the tin content is limited to the minimum required for the particular use under Order M-48.
(14) Clutch and brake facings when produced by the process of powder metallurgy.	(14) Not more than 10 percent by weight of tin powder.
(15) Carbon brushes when produced by the process of powder metallurgy.	(15) Tin powder up to 12 percent of the copper content by weight.
(16) Hammer metal, die proofing metal, and filling and sealing metal.	(16) Lead-base alloys containing not more than 5 percent tin may be used if the alloys are derived from secondary tin only.

[NPA Order M-14 as Amended March 31, 1951, Amendment 1]

M-14—NICKEL

EXTENSION OF RESTRICTION ON CONSUMPTION

This amendment of June 29, 1951, to NPA Order M-14 is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-14 as amended March 31, 1951, as follows:

It amends section 5 of NPA Order M-14 by extending, through the third calendar quarter of 1951, the restriction on the consumption of nickel.

Section 5 is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5. Use of nickel. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 8 of this order, or unless specifically directed in writing by the National Production Authority, no person shall consume in production or processing during the first, second, or third calendar quarters of 1951 a quantity of nickel (as defined in paragraph (a) of section 3 of this order) by weight in excess of 65 percent of his average quarterly consumption of nickel for such purposes during the base period: Provided, however, That his consumption in any one month shall not exceed 40 percent of the permitted use during the quarter.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

This amendment shall take effect on June 29, 1951.

[NPA Order M-46, Supplement 1]

M-46—PRIORITIES ASSISTANCE FOR THE PETROLEUM AND GAS INDUSTRIES IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA

SUPP. 1—AUTHORIZATION OF ALLOTMENT SYMBOLS AND RULES PERTAINING TO USE

This supplement to NPA Order M-46 is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Sec.
1. The allotment number.
2. Present assistance in NPA Order M 46.
3. What this supplement does.

ALLOTMENT NUMBERS

4. Authorization of allotment numbers.
4. Explanation of allotment numbers.
6. Use of non-controlled materials.
7. Use with specially assigned rating.

LIMITATIONS ON USE

8. Applicability of NPA Order M-46.
9. Restrictions and revalidation.
10. Current validity.
11. Effective time.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 11 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

PURPOSE AND SCOPE

SECTION 1. The allotment number. In order to get controlled material under the Controlled Materials Plan, it is necessary to identify quantities of controlled materials which may have been authorized. This identification is called an allotment number. Section 11 of CMP Regulation No. 1 describes these allotment numbers. The use of allotment numbers by individual operators must, however, be authorized either pursuant to the orders under which the operator is working or directly by a Claimant Agent. Accordingly, CMP Regulation No. 1 does not of itself make allotment numbers available and some additional means of doing this must be provided.

SEC. 2. Present assistance in NPA Order M-46. Order M-46 makes priorities assistance available to the petroleum and gas industries. At the time of its issuance, as amended, on June 1, 1951, no allotment numbers had been made available to the Petroleum Administration for Defense for use by petroleum or gas operators. The only assistance made available in that order was therefore the assistance of a DO rating.

SEC. 3. What this supplement does. Allotment numbers have now been assigned to petroleum and gas programs. It is therefore possible now to make them available to operators in the petroleum and gas industries. This supplement is accordingly issued for that purpose.

ALLOTMENT NUMBERS

SEC. 4. Authorization of allotment numbers. The following allotment numbers are hereby made available to an operator as defined in NPA Order M-46:

(a) H-9 may be used only to obtain MRO material;

(b) H-2 may be used only to secure material for use in a production operation;

(c) H-1 may be used only to secure material for use in a construction operation.

SEC. 5. Explanation of allotment numbers. (a) In using the numbers to secure delivery of controlled material, the operator must designate on his delivery order the calendar quarter in which he has been authorized to accept delivery of the controlled material. He does this by an abbreviation, the first number of which stands for the calendar quarter in which delivery is to be made, the letter of which stands for the word "quarter", and the last number for the year. Thus, a complete symbol for use on delivery orders for MRO material for delivery in the fourth quarter of 1951 would look like:

H-9-4Q51.

(b) A complete symbol covering delivery of oil country tubular goods in the fourth quarter would consist of the symbol H-2, followed by a dash and the letters 4Q51. The allotment number would therefore be:

H-2-4Q51.

If the operator had been authorized to get MRO materials for the third quarter, and the material was a controlled material, his allotment number would be H-9-3Q51. If the operator had been authorized to get controlled material in the first quarter of 1952 for use in a refining installation (construction operation), his allotment number would be H-1-1Q52.

SEC. 6. Use of non-controlled materials. To get materials which are not controlled material but for which priorities assistance may be or may have been authorized, the operator may use and apply the rating "DO", plus the proper allotment number indicated above. Thus, if he wanted MRO material and was authorized to use priorities assistance pursuant to NPA Order M–46, he would identify the order as follows:

DO–H–9.

The symbol DO–H–9 must be used in place of the DO–97 symbol set forth in section 3 of NPA Order M–46. For material which is not controlled material but which is for use in a production operation, the operator must use the symbol DO–H–2 in place of the symbol DO–48. For material which is not a controlled material but which is for use in a construction operation, the operator must use the symbol DO–H–1 in place of the symbol DO–48.

SEC. 7. Use with specially assigned rating. Certain materials have in the past been rated by special action of NPA. The ratings thus assigned may be different from those presently assigned by NPA Order M–46. For example, an operator may previously have been authorized to use the rating DO–46 to get controlled material or fabricated items for a refining installation. In such circumstances, the operator may use the appropriate allotment number identified above for either controlled material or fabricated items which may have been authorized.

LIMITATIONS ON USE

SEC. 8. Applicability of NPA Order M–46. In using any of these symbols, the operator will be bound by all other requirements of NPA Order M–46. The authority contained in this supplement merely relates to revised allotment numbers and rating symbols and the substitution of these for those presently available in Order M–46. Thus, where DO–97 may not be used to obtain material (see Schedule D of Order M–46) the symbol H–9 or DO–H–9 may not be used.

SEC. 9. Restrictions and revalidation. (a) In using an allotment number to get controlled material, the operator may not use it for more than the quantity for which he has been authorized. Moreover, the operator may use the number only to get deliveries of controlled material during the calendar quarter in which he has been authorized to accept deliveries.

(b) If, as to authorizations granted prior to the date of this supplement, no calendar quarter has been specified, the operator may not use the allotment number for controlled material until he has obtained from the Petroleum Administration for Defense specific authority to use the number for deliveries during a particular calendar quarter. He may obtain this authority by filing with the Petroleum Administration for Defense 2 copies of his delivery order for controlled material, together with an explanatory statement as to his need for the controlled material during the quarter requested and what will happen if delivery is not timely made. The request should be filed with the Petroleum Administration for Defense, Attention: Materials Division, Ref: Supp. 1 to M–46.

(c) If an operator, who has been granted an allotment and who has used the allotment number for deliveries of controlled material during the third calendar quarter of 1951, does not receive the material in that quarter, his allotment and allotment number for that quarter expire. He must, therefore, request a revalidation of the allotment and use of the appropriate allotment number before he may accept delivery of controlled material, bearing that allotment number, in the fourth or any succeeding quarter. He makes this request by filing two copies of his delivery order for the controlled material with the Petroleum Administration for Defense, Attention: Materials Division, Ref: Supp. 1 to M–46. He should accompany these delivery orders with an explanatory letter telling the Petroleum Administration for Defense what he wants and why he wants it.

SEC. 10. Current validity. Allotment numbers for controlled material are not valid for deliveries from controlled material producers earlier than September 1951. Accordingly, the allotment number hereby made available should not be placed upon orders for controlled material, even though they be rated, which are to be fulfilled by controlled material producers prior to September. For material other than that to be obtained from controlled material producers, the allotment number, together with the DO rating, may be placed upon delivery orders for deliveries prior to September.

SEC. 11. Effective time. All outstanding delivery orders previously rated pursuant to NPA Order M–46, or specially rated for deliveries to operators in the petroleum and gas industries may be identified after the effective date of this supplement by the numbers and symbols authorized hereby, subject to the other provisions of the supplement.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this supplement have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139 F).

This supplement shall take effect on June 29, 1951.

[Amendment No. 1 to NPA Order M–62]

M–62—HORSEHIDES, HORSEHIDE PARTS, GOATSKINS, CABRETTAS, SHEEPSKINS, SHEARLINGS, AND KANGAROO SKINS

This amendment is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense, and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this amendment consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M–62 by amending section 1 to refer to the extended period of time, and by amending paragraph (a) of section 5 to extend to July 31, 1951, the processing period specified therein, and to increase the percentage to 300 percent for the established period.

NPA Order M–62 is hereby amended as follows:

(1) In the next to the last sentence of section 1 the date "June 30, 1951" is changed to "July 31, 1951."

(2) In the first sentence of paragraph (a) of section 5, the date "June 30, 1951" is changed to "July 31, 1951," and the percentage "200" is changed to "300."

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61)

This amendment shall take effect on June 29, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

[NPA Order M–73]

M–73—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR, AND OPERATING SUPPLIES FOR RAIL TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 12 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order provides a uniform procedure under which rail transportation systems may obtain their requirements for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, and minor capital additions, to the extent provided in quotas of controlled materials and products or materials other than controlled materials issued quarterly by the National Production Authority after a review of such requirements as reported to the National Production Authority on Form NPAF–105.

SEC. 2. Definitions. For purposes of this order:

(a) "Rail transportation system" means a domestic common carrier railroad, a terminal railroad, a switching railroad, a private car line company, a rapid transit system (including a subway and elevated railroad), and a street railway system (including a trolley coach system).

(b) "Operator" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in the business of transporting passengers or property over a rail transportation system.

(c) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(d) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue any plant, facility, or equipment in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of any plant, facility, or equipment to sound working condition when it has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts, or the like. "Maintenance" and "repair" include the replacement of any equipment (other than motive power and rolling stock) regardless of its accounting classification, but neither "maintenance" nor "repair" includes additions to plant or improvement of any plant, facility, or equipment by replacing materials or products which are in sound working condition. In routine maintenance, repair, and operations, the application of a superior part or a part of superior quality shall not be considered a capital addition, although under established accounting practices such application results in a charge to a capital account.

(e) "Operating supplies" means controlled materials and products or materials other than controlled materials used or consumed in the course of operations of a rail transportation system, except in maintenance, repair, and capital additions. Neither the term "operating supplies" nor any other provision of this order includes or applies to any item contained in List A of NPA Reg. 2.

(f) "MRO" means maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, as defined in this section, but does not include minor capital additions.

(g) "Minor capital additions" means any improvement or addition where the total cost of materials or products required does not exceed $750 for any one complete capital addition. The term "one complete capital addition" includes all items entering into the improvement or addition as part of a single project or plan whether or not installed or completed at the same time, and the cost of all such items is to be included in figuring the total cost of the addition. No capital addition shall be subdivided for the purpose of bringing it or any part of it within the foregoing definitions.

(h) "Controlled materials" means steel, copper, and aluminum, in the forms and shapes indicated in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(i) "Authorized controlled material order" means any delivery order for any controlled material (as distinct from a product containing controlled material) which is placed pursuant to a quota of controlled materials as provided in this order.

(j) "Delivery order" means any purchase order, contract, shipping, or other instruction, calling for delivery of any material or product on a particular date or dates or within specified periods of time.

(k) "NPA" means National Production Authority.

SEC. 3. Applications for quotas—(a) Quotas of controlled materials. (1) An operator of a rail transportation system may file an application with NPA on Form NPAF–105 for a quarterly quota of such controlled materials as he may require for MRO and minor capital additions. Form NPAF–105 shall contain the applicant's total quarterly requirements for such materials, in the manner prescribed therein, and shall be filed with NPA 60 days prior to the beginning of the calendar quarter in which delivery is required, but for purposes of the third calendar quarter of 1951, where time will not permit filing in this manner, an application shall be filed not later than July 5, 1951.

(2) Where NPA has approved an application wholly or in part, the quota issued to the applicant by NPA will specify the quantities of controlled materials with respect to which he may place authorized controlled material orders for delivery during the calendar quarter in which the quota is valid.

(3) After July 15, 1951, no operator of a rail transportation system shall order, with or without the use of the allotment symbol assigned in section 4 of this order, controlled materials for MRO or minor capital additions in the absence of the issuance by NPA of a quota covering such materials, except that NPA may from time to time issue advance quotas of controlled materials.

(4) No orders for controlled materials shall be placed by an operator of a rail transportation system pursuant to NPA Reg. 4, after July 15, 1951, except as provided in section 7 of this order. Where controlled materials have been ordered prior to the effective date of this order for delivery after June 30, 1951, with or without the use of a DO rating, an operator of a rail transportation system shall include them in the requirements reported on Form NPAF–105 for the calendar quarter in which delivery is scheduled to take place. Upon receipt of a quota of controlled materials issued pursuant to this order, any such delivery order may be converted into an authorized controlled material order in the manner provided in section 4 of CMP Regulation No. 3.

(5) A delivery order for controlled materials calling for delivery after June 30, 1951, which has been converted into an authorized controlled material order, shall be scheduled for delivery on the original delivery date, unless the operator who placed such order agrees to a different delivery date.

(b) Quotas of products or materials other than controlled materials. (1) An operator of a rail transportation system may also include on Form NPAF–105 the products or materials other than controlled materials which he requires each calendar quarter for MRO and minor capital additions. Such requirements shall be stated on the Form NPAF–105 used to report his quarterly requirements for controlled materials as provided in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) of this section and shall be filed in the manner therein specified.

(2) After July 15, 1951, no operator of a rail transportation system shall order, with or without the use of the rating assigned in section 4 of this order, products or materials other than controlled materials for MRO or minor capital additions in the absence of the issuance by NPA of a quota covering such products or materials, except that NPA may from time to time issue advance quotas of products or materials other than controlled materials.

(3) No delivery orders for products or materials other than controlled materials shall be placed by an operator of a rail transportation system pursuant to NPA Reg. 4 after July 15, 1951, except as provided in section 7 of this order. Products or materials other than controlled materials ordered for MRO or minor capital additions prior to the effective date of this order for delivery after June 30, 1951, with or without the use of a rating, shall be included in the requirements reported on Form NPAF–105 for the calendar quarter in which delivery is scheduled to take place. Upon receipt of a quota of products or materials other than controlled materials issued by NPA pursuant to this order, any delivery order so placed may be converted into a delivery order bearing the DO rating assigned in this order in the manner provided in section 5 of CMP Regulation No. 3, subject to the limitations specified in paragraph (c) of section 4 of this order.

(4) A delivery order for products or materials other than controlled materials calling for delivery after June 30, 1951, which has been converted into a delivery order bearing the DO rating assigned in this order, shall be scheduled for delivery on the original delivery date, unless the operator who placed such order agrees to a different delivery date.

SEC. 4. Delivery orders—(a) Authorized controlled material orders. Each operator of a rail transportation system who receives a quota of controlled materials pursuant to this order may place delivery orders for controlled materials not exceeding the quantities specified in the quota. He shall place on each such order, or on a separate piece of paper attached thereto, the allotment symbol "U–3," together with the abbreviated designation of the calendar quarter and year for which the quota is valid, such as "U–3–3Q51." Each delivery order shall bear the following certification: "Certified under NPA Order M–73." Such an order shall constitute an authorized controlled material order within the meaning of CMP regulations issued by NPA when signed as provided in section 8 of NPA Reg. 2. The certification shall serve as a representation to the supplier and to NPA that the operator of the rail transportation system is authorized under the provisions of this order to obtain the controlled materials covered by the authorized controlled material order.

(b) Orders for products or materials other than controlled materials. Each operator of a rail transportation system who receives a quota covering products or materials other than controlled materials shall place on each delivery order therefor the rating "DO–U3" together with the words "Certified under NPA Order M–73." Such certification shall be signed as provided in section 8 of NPA Reg. 2. This certification shall constitute a representation to the supplier and to NPA that the operator of the transportation system is authorized under the provisions of this order to obtain the products or materials other than controlled materials covered by the delivery order.

(c) Limitation on use of allotment symbol and rating. Neither the allotment symbol assigned in paragraph (a) of this section nor the rating assigned in paragraph (b) of this section shall be applied or extended to obtain any item listed in either Table I or II of NPA Reg. 4 or Table I or II of CMP Regulation No. 5, when issued, except that an operator of a rail transportation system may obtain such items in any calendar quarter without the use of such symbol or rating to the extent provided in a quota issued by NPA pursuant to this order for purposes of that calendar quarter: Provided, however, That the limitations of this paragraph do not apply to rails, tie plates, track spikes, splice, rail joints, frogs, and switches.

SEC. 5. Effect on U. S. Freight Car Program. (a) For purposes of the fourth calendar quarter of 1951, and subsequent calendar quarters, every operator of a rail transportation system who has participated in the U. S. Freight Car Program shall include his requirements of controlled materials and products or materials other than controlled materials for the maintenance and repair of freight cars in Form NPAF–105 as provided in section 3 of this order. Requirements for maintenance and repair of freight cars already reported and authorized under the U. S. Freight Car Program for the third calendar quarter of 1951 shall be resubmitted on a separate copy of Form NPAF–105, and shall not be included in the MRO requirements reported in accordance with section 3 of this order for that quarter. Materials or products required for the construction of new freight cars shall not be so reported, however, and to this extent the U. S. Freight Car Program remains unaffected by the provisions of this order.

(b) An operator of a transportation system who has participated in the U. S. Freight Car Program is not required by this section to rerate or cancel delivery orders bearing the DO–38 rating which were placed pursuant to an authorization issued by NPA, regardless of their delivery dates, but he may convert such orders in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) or (b) of section 4 of this order, whichever paragraph is applicable. After receipt from NPA of a quota of controlled materials and products or materials other than controlled materials, no operator of a rail transportation system shall apply the DO–38P rating to obtain products or materials for MRO purposes.

SEC. 6. Exceptions due to emergency conditions. An operator of a rail transportation system may at any time use the allotment symbol or the allotment symbol and rating assigned in section 4 of this order, whichever is applicable, to order for delivery controlled materials and products or materials other than controlled materials necessary for the maintenance or repair of property or equipment damaged or destroyed by extraordinary cause, such as explosion, fire, sabotage, acts of the public enemy, flood, storm, or similar emergency condition: Provided, however, That if an operator of a rail transportation system exceeds a quota issued by NPA for any quarter by virtue of placing a delivery order for any such purpose, the quantities of controlled materials or the amounts of products or materials other than controlled materials so ordered shall be reported to NPA within 10 calendar days on Form NPAF–105, which shall be accompanied by a statement of the reasons therefor.

SEC. 7. Transportation systems whose requirements are less than $25,000 per quarter. An operator of a rail transportation system whose aggregate requirements for MRO and minor capital additions for any calendar quarter are not in excess of $25,000 shall be subject to NPA Reg. 4, unless he elects to operate under the provisions of this order. In the event that an operator makes such an election, he shall so notify NPA in writing within 30 calendar days of the effective date of this order, in which case he shall be subject to the provisions of this order. In the absence of an election within the time prescribed, he shall comply with the provisions of NPA Reg. 4 for all purposes.

SEC. 8. Inventory limitations. Nothing in this order shall be deemed to authorize an operator of a rail transportation system to order or receive any controlled materials or products or materials other than controlled materials if acceptance thereof would increase his inventory above a practicable working minimum as provided in CMP Regulation No. 2 or NPA Reg. 1, whichever is applicable, or the limit fixed in any other applicable order or regulation of NPA, whichever is less. This does not prevent an operator from maintaining minimum stocks of controlled materials and products or materials other than controlled materials for emergency use or from acquiring reasonable stocks of printed matter or ties and lumber for seasoning in accordance with the provisions of this order. In addition, an operator may resell products or materials:

(a) To any other operator;

(b) To another person when such products or materials are to be physically incorporated in repairs of equipment which is used in the maintenance, repair, or operations of the operator's own property: Provided, however, That such products or materials could have been used by the operator in making his own repairs without violation of any of the provisions of this order;

(c) To the operator's own rail transportation system subsidiaries, or for the maintenance of track or equipment not owned but customarily maintained by the operator or his subsidiaries.

SEC. 9. Applications for adjustment or exception. An operator of any rail transportation system affected by any provision of this order may file with NPA a request for adjustment or exception on the ground that the controlled materials or products or materials other than controlled materials included in a quota for use in any quarter are insufficient, than a specified provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon such a rail transportation system not suffered generally by similar systems, or that its enforcement against such a system would not be in the interest of national defense or in the public interest. If the relief sought is an increase in a quota for any calendar quarter, the request shall contain the following information:

(a) Statement of the quota with respect to which the adjustment or exception is requested.

(b) Statement of the additional controlled materials or products or materials other than controlled materials requested to be included in the quota.

(c) Detailed statement of necessity for larger quota.

(d) Statement of services rendered, such as ton-miles and passenger-miles, commencing with the first calendar quarter of 1950.

(e) Any additional information which may be pertinent to proper evaluation of the application.

SEC. 10. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his files, for at least 2 years, records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method, nor does it require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided the system provides an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 11. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–73.

SEC. 12. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall take effect on June 28, 1951.

[NPA Order M–25 as Amended July 1, 1951]

M–25—CANS

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order and certain amendments hereto, including this amendment, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected by the issuance of this order as amended has been rendered impracticable by the fact that the amendment to this order affects a very substantial number of different trades and industries.

This amendment affects NPA Order M–25 as follows: It establishes quotas and limitations on cans made wholly of black plate; it establishes new quotas of cans which may be accepted and used by packers; it amends certain manufacturing and delivery preferences for cans and establishes certain new preferences; it further limits products which may be packed in cans by amending Schedule I; and it makes provision for the third quarter of 1951 and succeeding quarters. This order as hereby amended includes all provisions affecting cans (as herein defined) except Direction 1 to NPA Order M–25, as amended May 1, 1951.

As so amended NPA Order M–25 reads as follows:

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 14 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order places restrictions upon the acceptance of, the delivery of, and the uses of cans. Schedule I sets out required plate specifications which vary according to the products packed. NPA Order M–24 permits the use of tin plate and terneplate for cans in accordance with the terms of this order. NPA Order M–8 sets forth specifications for solder that may be used in the manufacture of cans.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Can" means any unused container made in whole or in part of tin plate, terneplate, or black plate, which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container which has a closure or fitting, made in whole or in part of tin plate, terneplate, or black plate, but does not include a glass container having such a closure or fitting. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers, nor does it include crown closures for cone-topped cans.

(b) "Tin plate" means steel sheets coated with tin, and includes "primes," "seconds," and all other forms of tin plate, except waste and waste-waste.

(c) "Terneplate" means steel sheets coated with terne metal, and includes "primes" and "seconds." The term does not include terneplate, waste-waste, or terneplate waste. "Terne metal" means the lead-tin alloy used as the coating for terneplate, but does not include lead recovered from secondary sources which contains less than 1.5 percent residual tin.

(d) "SCMT" means special coated manufacturers' terneplate.

(e) "Waste" means scrap tin plate and terneplate (including strips and circles) produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing cans, and tin plate and terneplate strips produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing tin plate and terneplate. The term also includes tin plate and terneplate parts recovered from used cans.

(f) "Waste-waste" means hot-dipped or electrolytic tin-coated steel sheets or steel sheets coated with terne metal which have been rejected during processing by the producer because of imperfections which disqualify such sheets from sale as primes or seconds.

(g) "Black plate" means steel sheets (other than tin plate or terneplate) 29-gage (128 pounds) or lighter. The term includes can manufacturing quality black plate (CMQ), "black plate rejects," chemically treated black plate (CTB), waste-waste, and waste.

(h) "Packer" means any person who either (1) purchases empty cans and fills such cans in packing any product or (2) purchases empty cans and has them filled for his account by another party, but who controls sale and distribution of the finished product after packing.

(i) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

SEC. 3. Restrictions on use of cans. Subject to the exceptions set forth in section 9 of this order, no packer shall purchase, accept delivery of, or use cans for any purpose other than for packing, in accordance with the can specifications and quota limitations set out in Schedule I appearing at the end of this order, a product listed in Schedule I.

SEC. 4. Other restrictions. No person shall manufacture, sell, or deliver cans which he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted or used in violation of the terms of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority (hereinafter called "NPA"). No person shall sell or deliver cans which he knows or has reason to believe will be exported outside of the continental limits of the United States, its territories and possessions (unless such export is to Canada), except as permitted under paragraph (h) of section 9 of this order.

SEC. 5. Restrictions on amount of cans that may be accepted. No person shall accept delivery of any cans at a time when his inventory thereof exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, a practicable minimum working inventory (as defined in § 10.4 of NPA Reg. 1) of cans required by him for packing products listed in Schedule I of this order in accordance with the quota and material limitations set forth in Schedule I.

SEC. 6. Restrictions on amount of cans that may be used for packing. (a) This order, by previous amendments, required a packer, commencing with the second quarter of 1951, to choose as his base year either the calendar year 1949 or the calendar year 1950. Such requirement continues to apply to all packers. Any packer who has so chosen his base year for computing his permissible can quotas for a calendar quarter, and any packer who has not heretofore chosen but hereafter chooses a base year for such purpose, must predicate all computations required by paragraph (b) of this section, for the third calendar quarter of 1951 and succeeding quarters, on his base year so chosen.

(b) Commencing with the third calendar quarter of the year 1951 and each succeeding calendar quarter thereafter, until otherwise ordered by NPA, no packer may use cans for packing any particular product listed in Schedule I of this order in excess of an amount of cans determined by applying the percentage listed in Column (3) of Schedule I opposite a particular product to the amount of cans which he used for packing that particular product during the corresponding quarter of his selected base year. "The amount of cans," as the phrase is used in the preceding sentence and elsewhere in this order when applied to the corresponding quarter of his base year, means the total area of tin plate, terneplate, and black plate used in the manufacture of such cans. Where the word "unlimited" appears in Column (3) of Schedule I opposite a particular product, a packer may use the specified cans in an unlimited quantity to pack that particular product, subject to the inventory restriction contained in section 5 of this order. If a packer used less than the limited amount of cans permitted for packing a particular product during the first or second quarters of 1951, he may use the unused amount for packing that particular product at any time during the balance of the calendar year 1951. If a packer uses less than the limited amount of cans permitted for packing a particular product during the third calendar quarter of 1951, he may use the unused amount for packing that particular product during the balance of the calendar year 1951. No packer may assign, transfer, or surrender, to or for the benefit of any other person, his permissible can quota for any calendar quarter or any part or parts of such quota.

(c) In certain instances Column (3) of Schedule I of this order authorizes one quota if a particultar product is packed in cans of larger size or sizes and a different quota if such product is packed in cans of smaller size or sizes. In such instances, the packer's base period usage for packing that product in cans of larger size or sizes determines his permitted base for packing such product in such larger size or sizes during the third quarter of 1951 and thereafter, and his base-period usage for packing such product in cans of smaller size or sizes determines his permitted base for packing such product in such smaller size or sizes during the third quarter of 1951 and thereafter. In any such instance, a packer, for packing such product, may increase his permitted base of cans of a larger size or sizes by that area of tin plate, terneplate, and black plate by which he decreases his permitted base of cans of a smaller size or sizes for packing such product, but he may not increase his permitted base of cans of a smaller size or sizes for packing such product by decreasing the area of tin plate, terneplate, and black plate used by him for cans of a larger size or sizes for packing such product.

SEC. 7. Standards for adjustments. In any case where the provisions of section 6 of this order may be subject to adjustment because of any of the reasons set forth in Direction 1 to NPA Order M-25, as amended May 1, 1951, or as from time to time hereafter amended, determinations of adjustments may be made by the packer in accordance with the standards and subject to the conditions stated in said Direction 1.

SEC. 8. Manufacturing and delivery preferences. (a) So far as practicable, every can manufacturer shall schedule his operations (including his ordering of tin plate, terneplate, and black plate) so as to permit delivery of cans in the quantities and at the times he reasonably anticipates will be required. Where he is unable to schedule all orders for cans for delivery at the times required, he shall schedule his operations and select the orders to be placed in his production schedule according to the following preferences:

(1) All DO rated orders and any other orders under NPA directives;

(2) Requirements for cans to pack products designated with the letter A in column (2) of Schedule I;

(3) Requirements for cans to pack products designated with the letter B in Column (2) of Schedule I.

(b) A can manufacturer must not fill orders for cans with preference B designations if by doing so he will make himself unable to meet deliveries which he reasonably anticipates will be required for cans with preference A designation. If, after filling all reasonably anticipated requirements for cans with preference A designations, a can manufacturer is unable to fill all his requirements for cans with preference B designations, he must equally distribute such shortage against all requirements for cans with preference B designations.

SEC. 9. Exceptions. (a) The can material specifications set out in Schedule I of this order do not apply to the use of any cans which were in the inventory of a packer or in the inventory of a can manufacturer or in process of manufacture on January 27, 1951, or to tin plate or terneplate which was either in process at a tin mill, or in the inventory of a tin mill for the account of a can manufacturer, or in the inventory of a can manufacturer on January 27, 1951. It is the intent of this section that any tin plate or terneplate intended for use in the manufacture of cans in inventory or in process on January 27, 1951, as aforesaid, shall be used notwithstanding the can material specifications of this order. However, the restrictions of section 6 of this order are not excepted by this paragraph.

(b) Any person who purchases cans for packing and not for resale and whose total use of cans for packing all products in any calendar year requires less than 250 base boxes of tin plate, terneplate, and black plate shall be exempt from the use limitations of section 6 of this order but not from the can material specifications of Schedule I. This exemption does not apply to any person who buys empty cans or parts thereof and sells such cans or parts thereof to a packer.

(c) The use limitations of section 6 of this order and the can material specifications in Schedule I do not apply to cans used to pack any product in home canning, community canning, or institutional (meaning such institutions as prisons, reform schools, and insane asylums) canning where the product is not to be sold. This exemption also applies to cans for packing laboratory samples and control samples, but not to cans for packing samples distributed for the purpose of advertising or for promoting the sale of a product, nor to any cans used for packing products which are later repacked and sold.

(d) Orders having a DO rating are exempt from the restrictions in sections 5 and 6 of this order on the amount of cans that may be accepted and used.

(e) The use of cans for packing any product which is required to be packed in cans, set aside and reserved for purchase by any authorized Government agency is exempt from the use limitations of this order, but not from the can material specifications in Schedule I: Provided, however, That if the can material specifications of Schedule I require that any product be packed in cans made in whole or in part of 0.25 tin plate, any No. 10 cans and any part or parts thereof, used for packing any such product or products which are so reserved and set aside, may be made of 0.50 tin plate.

(f) The can material specifications set out in Schedule I of this order shall not apply to orders having a DO rating requiring the packing of products in accordance with Military Specifications of the Department of Defense for use outside the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia by the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard. The can material specifications set out in Schedule I shall apply, however, to all other orders having a DO rating.

(g) The restrictions of this order shall not apply to military requirements for cans of a special design or style not normally produced or used commercially, nor to cans for emergency rations and supplies for lifeboats.

(h) The provisions of this order shall not apply to the sale or delivery of cans where the person selling or delivering the same has received a validated export license therefor from the Office of International Trade, or has received from another person a certificate signed manually. This certificate shall be by letter in substantially the following form, the inapplicable words stricken therefrom, and shall be filed with each purchase order with the person selling or delivering to such other person cans for export:

To _____ Seller:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that (he has received a certification from another person that) the Office of International Trade has issued to (him) (such other person) validated export license No. _____ for export shipment of all of the items included in the attached purchase order, and that all purchases from you of items included in the said purchase order and the acceptance of the same will be in compliance with the said validated export license.

In cases of export to those countries where the Office of International Trade does not require an export license, no certificate shall be required until such time as an export license is required by the Office of International Trade.

SEC. 10. Certification of delivery of cans. No manufacturer, jobber, or distributor shall sell or deliver cans unless he has received from the purchaser a certificate signed manually. This certificate shall be by letter in substantially the following form and, once filed by a purchaser with a manufacturer, jobber, or distributor, covers all future deliveries of cans from the manufacturer, jobber, or distributor to that purchaser:

To _____, manufacturer, jobber, or distributor:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that he is familiar with Order M-25 of the National Production Authority, and that all purchases from you of items regulated by that order, and the acceptance and use of the same by the undersigned, will be in compliance with said order, and any amendments thereto.

SEC. 11. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, that any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, submitted on Form NPAF-38 in triplicate, and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor. Form NPAF-38 must be executed as therein required.

SEC. 12. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 13. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Containers and Packaging Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-25.

SEC. 14. Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Schedule I is hereto attached and made a part of this order.

This order as amended shall take effect on July 1, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

No. 128——6

SCHEDULE I—CAN SPECIFICATIONS

Columns 4 and 5 specify the weight of tin-coating per base box of tin plate and terneplate which may be used for the parts of cans for the products listed in Column (1). Any packer may also use for packing a listed product black plate cans or cans with a tin-coating lighter than that specified for that product. Wherever 0.25 pound electrolytic tin plate is specified, SCMT may be used. Tin plate menders arising in the production of electrolytic tin plate may be used only where hot-dipped tin plate is permitted in this schedule. When only a figure is given in Columns (4) and (5), this means that tin plate may be used for the part, and the figure given indicates the maximum weight of tin-coating on each base box of plate. Electrolytic 0.25 pound tin plate may be used in place of black plate in that part of a can which, after filling, is required to be hermetically closed by soldering, or that part of a can to which a nozzle is required to be attached by soldering: Provided, however, That the total area of 0.25 pound electrolytic tin plate used in such parts is limited to not more than the total area of plate used in such parts for packing a particular product during the corresponding period of 1949 or 1950.

[NPA Order M-66 as Amended June 30, 1951]

M-66—Artificial Graphite and Carbon Electrodes

This order is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order as amended there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-66 by amending paragraph (a) of section 5 and adding new paragraphs (d) and (e) to section 5.

NPA Order M-66 as amended reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Application of this order.
3. Relation to other regulations.
4. Definitions.
5. Restrictions on delivery or use.
6. Exceptions from allocation requirements.
7. Inventory limitations.
8. Reports.
9. Audit and inspection.
10. Applications for adjustment or exception.
11. Communications.
12. Violations.

Authority: Sections 1 to 12 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

Section 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve and provide for the distribution of the limited supply of artificial graphite products and carbon electrodes so as best to serve the interests of national defense and essential civilian production. This order establishes limits on inventory and brings artificial graphite and carbon electrodes under allocation by prohibiting, subject to a limited exception, any deliveries or acceptance of deliveries not covered by allocation authorizations to be issued quarterly by the National Production Authority. Provision is thus made whereby the supply remaining after defense requirements are met may be equitably distributed through normal channels for essential civilian uses and with due regard for the needs of new and small businesses.

Sec. 2. Application of this order. This order applies to the delivery and receipt of artificial graphite and of carbon electrodes in the electrothermic, electrolytic, and special metallurgical and chemical fields.

Sec. 3. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this order supersede all NPA regulations and orders to the extent that they are inconsistent herewith, but in all other respects such regulations and orders remain applicable to artificial graphite and carbon electrodes. The National Production Authority may from time to time issues special directives as to deliverics of artificial graphite and carbon electrodes and, unless otherwise provided therein, such directives will prevail over the provisions of this order.

Sec. 4. Definitions. For purposes of this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes agencies of the United States or any other government. In the case of any person as herein defined who operates more than one plant at different locations, the word "person" shall mean each such separate operation.

(b) "Artificial graphite" means: (1) Solid graphite electrodes, plain or threaded, for use in electric arc or resistor furnaces; (2) solid graphite anodes, plain, machined, or treated, for use in electrolytic cells; and (3) solid graphite shapes (round, square, or rectangular), unmachined and not otherwise processed by the producer, for use in metallurgical, chemical, or electronic applications.

(c) "Carbon electrodes" means that product produced in a baking furnace from a mixture of calcined anthracite coal and pitch or other suitable binders and includes graphite nipples.

Sec. 5. Restrictions on delivery or use. (a) On and after August 1, 1951, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of any artificial graphite or of any carbon electrodes, whether on rated or unrated orders, except in accordance with the terms of an allocation authorization issued by the National Production Authority on Form NPAF-97.

(b) Application for an allocation authorization must be filed with the National Production Authority by the purchaser on Form NPAF-97 not later than the 10th day of the month preceding the calendar quarter in which delivery is sought. Such application shall be in quadruplicate and must furnish all information required by the form.

(c) An authorization allocation (Form NPAF-97) will be sent by the National Production Authority to the appropriate supplier(s) specifying the amount authorized to be delivered to the applicant during the quarter period and the applicant will be notified of the issuance thereof. The authorization will permit the supplier to make delivery to the extent of the purchaser's orders within the limit of the authorization. In placing his orders the purchaser shall specify the date and the serial number of the applicable allocation authorization.

(d) The amount of any allocation authorization issued by the National Production Authority for the third calendar quarter of 1951 shall be reduced by the amounts actually shipped to the applicant prior to the receipt by the supplier of the allocation authorization.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 5 of CMP Regulation No. 3, rated orders for artificial graphite and carbon electrodes calling for delivery in July 1951 shall have the same status as DO rated orders with an allotment number or symbol calling for delivery of such material in July 1951.

Sec. 6. Exceptions from allocation requirements. The provisions of section 5 of this order shall not apply to:

(a) Deliveries of graphite electrodes of less than 1-inch cross section.

(b) Deliveries of artificial graphite or of carbon electrodes to any person whose total receipts of artificial graphite and carbon electrodes from all sources during the current quarter are not thereby made to exceed 500 pounds and who so certifies to his supplier in substantially the following words on his order:

> The undersigned certifies to the supplier and to the National Production Authority that receipt of the material hereby ordered in the quarter requested will not bring his total receipts of artificial graphite and carbon electrodes during that quarter above 500 pounds.

Sec. 7. Inventory limitations—(a) Artificial graphite anodes. No person, notwithstanding any allocation made to him, shall accept delivery of artificial graphite anodes, at a time when his inventory of such products exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, 20 weeks' minimum requirements at his then scheduled rate and method of operation.

(b) Other artificial graphite and carbon electrodes. No person shall accept delivery of any artificial graphite other than anodes or of any carbon electrodes, whether or not an allocation has been made to him at a time when his inventory of such material exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, 4 weeks' minimum requirements at his then scheduled rate and method of operation: Provided, however, That a pool car buyer located west of the Mississippi River shall not accept delivery of such materials at a time when his inventory thereof exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, 8 weeks' minimum requirements at his then scheduled rate and method of operation.

Sec. 8. Reports. (a) Subject to the exceptions contained in section 6 of this order, every person who produces, ships, owns, or consumes any artificial graphite or any carbon electrodes during any calendar month commencing with May 1951 shall report to the National Production Authority on Form NPAF-97 on or before the 10th day of the following month. However, if any such person applies on such form for an allocation of artificial graphite products or carbon electrodes for delivery during the succeeding quarter, his application will also serve as the report required by this section for the preceding month.

(b) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require subject to the provisions of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139F.)

Note: All record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act.

Sec. 9. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the NPA.

Sec. 10. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that any provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

Sec. 11. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-66.

Sec. 12. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

This order as amended shall take effect on June 30, 1951.

National Production Authority,
Manly Fleischmann,
Administrator.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

Part 4—Dependents and Beneficiaries Claims

Death Compensation, Pension and Burial Allowance

A new § 4.454 is added to read as follows:

§ 4.454 Death compensation, pension and burial allowance based on service rendered on or after June 27, 1950. For the purpose of effectuating the provisions of Public Law 28, 82d Congress (act of May 11, 1951), the following instructions are issued.

(a) Cases affected. The act authorizes the payment of certain death benefits based on service rendered on or after June 27, 1950, and prior to such future date as may be determined by Presidential proclamation or by concurrent resolution of the Congress. This includes the payment of death compensation under the rating criteria and at the rates provided by Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12); and, in those cases where death occurred after separation from service, the payment of death pension under the provisions of Public Law 312, 78th Congress, as amended, and the statutory burial allowance. In determining entitlement, the provisions of existing laws and regulations which are applicable in claims based on World War II service are for application.

(b) Effective date. Compensation and pension which is authorized solely by virtue of this act shall be payable from the day following the date of the veteran's death provided claim is filed within 1 year from that date, otherwise from the date of filing claim, but in no event prior to May 11, 1951. A claim pending on May 11, 1951, will be considered a claim under this act.

(c) Current awards. In awards of death compensation approved on and after May 11, 1951, the rates provided under Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, will be applied for periods on and after May 11, 1951. In awards of death pension which are otherwise payable for periods on and after May 11, 1951, the rates provided under the act of June 28, 1934, as amended, will be applied.

(d) Rating considerations. Effective May 11, 1951, all rating criteria applicable to Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, will be applicable to active service rendered on or after June 27, 1950, during the period contemplated by Public Law 28, 82d Congress. By virtue of Public Law 28, the provisions of section 4, Public Law 312, 78th Congress, as amended, are applicable effective May 11, 1951, to active service on or after June 27, 1950, and in determinations as to existence of disability at death under the latter law, the provisions of § 4.178 are controlling.

(e) Burial allowance. Under the act the statutory burial allowance provided by Veterans Regulation 9 (a), as amended, may be payable based on service of any person who served on or after June 27, 1950, and who dies or has died after separation from such service under conditions other than dishonorable. In reviewing XC-folders under this section, consideration will be given to the possibility of entitlement to the statutory burial allowance in those cases where the veteran died after separation from service. If no award of burial allowance has been authorized and there is no legal bar, VA Form 8–530 will be forwarded to prospective claimants by use of Form Letter 8–3. In those cases where death occurred prior to May 11, 1951, the time limit for filing claim is not extended. (Instruction 2, Public Law 28, 82d Congress)

(Sec. 5, 43 Stat. 608, as amended, sec. 2, 46 Stat. 1016, sec. 7, 48 Stat. 9; 38 U. S. C. 11a, 426, 707)

This regulation is effective July 3, 1951.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR Part 51]

SHELLED WHITE SPANISH PEANUTS

U. S. STANDARDS

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance of United States Standards for Shelled White Spanish Peanuts under the authority contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved Sept. 6, 1950) and the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621, et seq.) to supersede United States Standards for Shelled White Spanish Peanuts issued August 15, 1939. The standards are proposed to become effective during September 1951.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed standards should file the same with M. W. Baker, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., on the thirtieth (30) day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

§ 51.319 Standards for shelled white Spanish peanuts — (a) Grades — (1) U. S. No. 1. U. S. No. 1 consists of shelled white Spanish peanuts which are whole and free from small shriveled, noticeably discolored, damaged or unshelled peanuts, and are free from foreign material.

(i) In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling, the following tolerances, by weight, shall be permitted in this grade:

(a) 1 percent for other varieties of peanuts;

(b) 2 percent for split or broken kernals;

(c) 2 percent for small shriveled kernels;

(d) 1 percent for damaged or unshelled kernels;

(e) 1 percent additional for kernels which are damaged by spotted flesh, but are not otherwise damaged;

(f) 1.25 percent for kernels with noticeably discolored skins, including not more than 0.25 percent (twenty-five one-hundredths) for kernels with badly discolored skins; and,

(g) 0.1 percent (one-tenth) for foreign material.

(2) U. S. No. 2[1] U. S. No. 2 consists of shelled white Spanish peanuts which may be split or broken, but which will not pass through a screen having $^{19}/_{64}$ inch round perforations, and which are free from damaged or unshelled peanuts, and foreign material.

(i) In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, the following tolerances, by weight, shall be permitted in this grade:

(a) 1 percent for other varieties of peanuts;

(b) 6 percent for peanuts or pieces of peanuts which pass through a screen having $^{19}/_{64}$ inch round openings;

(c) 2.5 percent for damaged or unshelled kernels; and,

(d) 0.25 percent (twenty-five one-hundredths) for foreign material.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Small shriveled" means peanuts which are distinctly shriveled and which will pass through a screen having $^{15}/_{64}$ inch by $^{3}/_{4}$ inch perforations.

(2) "Foreign material" means sticks, stones, dirt, shells, portions of vines or any material other than peanut kernels.

(3) "Split peanuts" means the separated halves of peanut kernels.

(4) "Unshelled" peanuts are kernels from which the shell has not been removed.

(5) "Damaged peanuts" means:

(i) Peanuts which are rancid or decayed;

(ii) Moldy peanuts;

(iii) Peanuts showing sprouts extending more than $^{1}/_{8}$ inch from the tip of the kernel;

(iv) Dirty peanuts when the surface is distinctly dirty;

(v) Worm or insect injured peanuts when the insect or frass is present on the kernel or the insect has eaten a distinctly noticeable depression into the kernel;

(vi) Peanuts showing a dark yellow, brownish or darker surface discoloration of one-fourth or more of the kernel under the skin;

(vii) Peanuts showing yellow or brown discolored spots penetrating the kernel when the appearance of the flesh is materially affected; and,

(viii) Any defect which materially affects the edible quality of the kernel.

(6) "Noticeably discolored" means peanuts with more than 25 percent of the skin affected by dark brown, dark gray or dark blue discoloration, or lesser areas covered by darker discoloration having an equally objectionable appearance. Peanuts with a naturally pink, red or purple skin color or with an over-all skin color somewhat darker than kernels in the lot, shall not be classed as noticeably discolored.

(7) "Badly discolored" means peanuts with more than 50 percent of the skin affected by black or very dark discoloration of a blue, gray or brown color.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of June 1951.

GRADES OF FROZEN DICED CARROTS

U. S. STANDARDS[1]

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance, as herein proposed, of United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Diced Carrots, pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621, et seq.) and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950). These standards, if made effective, will be the first issued by the Department of Grade Standards for this product.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed standards should file the same, in duplicate, with the Chief, Processed Products Standardization and Inspection Division, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

§ 52.218 Frozen diced carrots. Frozen diced carrots is the product prepared from the root of the carrot plant (Daucus carota) by washing, sorting, peeling, trimming, and blanching, and is then frozen and maintained at temperatures necessary for the preservation of the product.

(a) Style of frozen diced carrots. "Diced carrots" means frozen carrots consisting of units produced by cutting whole carrots into cubes having edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less.

(b) Grades of frozen diced carrots. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of frozen diced carrots that possess a good flavor and odor; that possess a good color; that are practically free from defects; that are tender; and that are of such quality with respect to size and shape as to score not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(2) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Extra Standard" is the quality of frozen diced carrots that possess a reasonably good flavor and odor; that possess a reasonably good color; that are reasonably free from defects; that are reasonably tender; that are reasonably uniform in size and shape; and that score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "Substandard" is the quality of frozen diced carrots that fails to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard.

(c) Ascertaining the grade. (1) The grade of frozen diced carrots may be ascertained by considering, in conjunction with the requirements of the respective grade, the respective ratings for the factors of color, uniformity of size and shape, absence of defects, and texture.

(2) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given each such factor is:

Factors:	Points
(i) Color	25
(ii) Uniformity of size and shape	15
(iii) Absence of defects	30
(iv) Texture	30
Total score	100

(3) The score for the factors of color, uniformity of size and shape, and absence of defects in frozen diced carrots is determined immediately after thawing so that the product is substantially free from ice crystals and can be handled as individual units. A representative sample of the product is cooked for examination with respect to texture and for flavor and odor.

(4) "Good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking has a good characteristic, normal flavor and odor and is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(5) "Reasonably good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking may be lacking in good flavor and odor but is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(d) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "12 to 15 points" means 12, 13, 14, or 15 points).

(1) Color. (i) Frozen diced carrots that possess a good color may be given a score of 21 to 25 points. "Good color" means that the frozen diced carrots possess an orange-yellow color that is bright and typical of frozen carrots.

(ii) If the frozen diced carrots possess a reasonably good color, a score of 18 to 20 points may be given. Frozen diced carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" means that the frozen diced carrots possess the typical color of frozen carrots and such color may be slightly dull but not off color.

(iii) Frozen diced carrots that are off color for any reason or that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 17 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Uniformity of size and shape. (i) Frozen diced carrots that are practically uniform in size and shape may be given a score of 12 to 15 points. "Practically uniform in size and shape" means that the units are practically uniform in size and shape with edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less; and the aggregate weight of all units of irregular shape which are noticeably smaller than one-half the volume of an average size cube and of all noticeably large and large irregular shaped units does not exceed 12 percent of the weight of all the units.

(ii) If the frozen diced carrots are reasonably uniform in size and shape a score of 8 to 11 points may be given. "Reasonably uniform in size and shape" means that the units are reasonably uniform in size and shape with edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less; and the aggregate weight of all units of irregular shape which are noticeably smaller than one-half the volume of an average size cube and of all noticeably large and large irregular shaped units does not exceed 25 percent of the weight of all the units.

(iii) Frozen diced carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 7 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(3) Absence of defects. (i) The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from defective units. Defective units are units damaged by mechanical injury, unpeeled units, units blemished by brown or black internal or external discoloration, pathological injury or insect injury and units blemished by other means.

(a) "Damaged by mechanical injury" means crushed, broken or cracked units, units with excessively frayed edges and surfaces, excessively trimmed units, or damaged by other means.

(b) "Unpeeled unit" means any unit possessing an unpeeled area greater than the area of a circle ¼ inch in diameter.

(c) "Blemished" means any unit blemished to the extent that the appearance or eating quality is seriously affected.

(ii) Frozen diced carrots that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 26 to 30 points. "Practically free from defects" means that the aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 10 percent of the weight of all the units, and of such 10 percent not more than one-half thereof or 5 percent, by weight, of all the units may consist of blemished units.

[1] The requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(iii) Frozen diced carrots that are reasonably free from defects may be given a score of 22 to 25 points. Frozen diced carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that the aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 16 percent of the weight of all the units, and of such 16 percent not more than one-half thereof or 8 percent, by weight, of all the units may consist of blemished units.

(iv) Frozen diced carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 21 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(4) Texture. (i) The factor of texture refers to the tenderness of the carrots, and the degree of freedom from stringy or coarse fibers.

(ii) Frozen diced carrots that possess a tender texture may be given a score of 26 to 30 points. "Tender texture" means that the carrots are tender, not fibrous, and possess a uniform character.

(iii) If the frozen diced carrots possess a reasonably tender texture, a score of 22 to 25 points may be given. Frozen diced carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably tender texture" means that the carrots are reasonably tender, may be variable in character but not tough or hard, and may possess a few stringy or coarse fibers.

(iv) Frozen diced carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 21 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(e) Tolerance for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of frozen diced carrots, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of all containers, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers comprising the sample fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores, and with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, must be within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

Federal Maritime Board

[Docket No. 711]

ALASKA STEAMSHIP CO.; INCREASED RATES

NOTICE OF HEARING

Pursuant to order herein dated May 18, 1951, as amended by orders dated June 8, 1951, and June 27, 1951, notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held in this proceeding at Seattle, Washington, on September 10, 1951, at 10 o'clock a. m., P. d. s. t., before Examiner F. J. Horan. Notice of hearing room and of any further hearings to be scheduled will be duly served upon parties hereto.

The purpose of the hearing, which will be held pursuant to sections 3 and 4 of the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933, as amended, and sections 16, 18, and 22 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended, is:

(A) To afford respondent Alaska Steamship Company an opportunity to submit evidence in support of the justness, reasonableness, and nonprejudicialness of the rates and fares in question.

(B) To afford protestant Territory of Alaska an opportunity to submit evidence in support of its allegations (1) that the rates and fares in question are unjust and unreasonable; (2) that said rates are unduly preferential of so-called 'industry" traffic such as canned salmon, and unduly prejudicial to so-called "town" traffic; and (3) that respondent's practices in scheduling, loading, and unloading its vessels contribute to the alleged unlawfulness of said rates.

(C) To afford interveners an opportunity to present evidence pertinent to the issues stated above.

(D) To afford the Federal Maritime Board and all parties the opportunity to present any additional evidence material to the issues in this proceeding.

Under section 22 of the Shipping Act, 1916, any person may file with the Board a sworn complaint setting forth any violation of that act by a common carrier by water and asking reparation for the injury, if any, caused thereby. Any such complaint within the issues set forth above, if promptly filed, will be consolidated for hearing and disposition with this proceeding.

Dated: June 27, 1951.

MEMBER LINES OF U. S. ATLANTIC AND GULF/HAITI CONFERENCE

NOTICE OF AGREEMENT FILED FOR APPROVAL

Notice is hereby given that the following described agreement has been filed with the Board for approval pursuant to section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended.

Agreement 5590–5 (Revised), between the member lines of the United States Atlantic and Gulf/Haiti Conference, modifies the Rules and Regulations attached to and made a part of the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 5590) to provide that member lines may equalize actual insurance differentials on cargo by reason of flag, overage or undersize disability of vessel or vessels or for other good and sufficient reasons, when authorized by unanimous agreement of the member lines. As presently worded the Rules and Regulations prohibit the equalization of marine insurance.

Interested parties may inspect this agreement and obtain copies thereof at the Regulation Office, Federal Maritime Board, Washington, D. C., and may submit, within 20 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, written statements with reference to this agreement and their position as to approval, disapproval, or modification, together with request for hearing should such hearing be desired.

ECONOMIC STABILIZATION AGENCY

Office of Price Stabilization

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 5, Amdt. 1]

COOPERS, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. Special Order 5, under section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, issued on April 25, 1951, established ceiling prices for sales at retail of men's and boys' underwear manufactured by Coopers, Incorporated, under the brand name "Jockey." The special order required the manufacturer to mark each article listed in the special order with the retail ceiling price fixed under the special order, or to attach to each article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. Applicant was required to comply with this preticketing provision on and after July 1, 1951.

Coopers, Incorporated, has filed an application for an extension of time in which to meet this preticketing requirement. The application points out that the applicant's prices as a manufacturer will be determined under Ceiling Price Regulation 45, issued on June 14, 1951, and that if its items are now pretic keted with prices determined under General Ceiling Price Regulation, it may be necessary to preticket with new prices after completing the computations required by Ceiling Price Regulation 45. Applicant would then be required to open thousands of cartons, remove old price labels, and affix new labels reflecting prices determined under Ceiling Price Regulation 45.

Under the special circumstances set forth by the applicant, the Director has determined that the requested amendment be granted.

Amendatory provisions. Special Order 5 under Ceiling Price Regulation 7, section 43, is amended in the following respects:

1. In paragraph 4, substitute for the date "July 1, 1951," the date "August 15, 1951."

2. In paragraph 4, substitute for the date "August 1, 1951," the date "September 15, 1951," and following the sentence in which this appears add the following sentence: "Prior to September 15, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order."

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective on June 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 102]

ROSE BROTHERS, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Rose Brothers, Inc., 275-7th Avenue, New York, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of men's suits and slacks manufactured by Rose Brothers, Inc., having the brand name(s) "Surretwill", "Krisp-Spun", and "Airgora-Spun", shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Rose Brothers, Inc., in its application dated April 16, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 4, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than the ceiling prices.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed by paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after August 3, 1951, Rose Brothers, Inc., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after September 4, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 4, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$----- per -----{unit / dozen / etc.	Terms {net / percent EOM. / etc.
	$-----

Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, two copies of this notice must also be filed by the manufacturer with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the manufacturer had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the retailer is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective June 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 103]

DORA MILES CO.

CEILING PRICE AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, The Dora Miles Company, Branford, Connecticut, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of corsets and bras manufactured by the Dora Miles Company, Branford, Connecticut, having the brand name(s) "Dora Miles", shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by the Dora Miles Company, in its application dated March 29, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 4, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than the ceiling prices.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed by paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after August 3, 1951, the Dora Miles Company, must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after September 4, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 4, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$----- per -----{unit / dozen / etc.	Terms {net / percent EOM. / etc.
	$-----

Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, two copies of this notice must also be filed by the manufacturer with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the manufacturer had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the retailer is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective June 29, 1951.

ENGER-KRESS CO.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Enger-Kress Company, West Bend, Wisconsin, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of billfolds, purses, pocket secretaries, dial-a-key and key cases manufactured by Enger-Kress Company, West Bend, Wisconsin, having the brand name(s) "Enger-Kress," shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Enger-Kress Company, in its application dated April 11, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 4, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than the ceiling prices.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed by paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after August 3, 1951, Enger-Kress Company, must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after September 4, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 4, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

(Column 1) Our price to retailers	(Column 2) Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$----- per -----{unit / dozen / etc.	Terms {net / percent EOM, / etc.
	$--------

Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, two copies of this notice must also be filed by the manufacturer with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the manufacturer had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the retailer is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective June 29, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 105]

COBLENTZ BAG CO., INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Coblentz Bag Company, Inc., 30 East 33d Street, New York 16, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of women's handbags manufactured by Coblentz Bag Company, Inc., 30 East 33d Street, New York 16, N. Y., having the brand name "Coblentz", shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Coblentz Bag Company, Inc., in its application dated April 2, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 24, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than the ceiling prices.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed by paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after August 3, 1951, Coblentz Bag Company, Inc. must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after September 4, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 4, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

(Column 1) Our price to retailers	(Column 2) Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$----- per -----{unit / dozen / etc.	Terms {net / percent EOM, / etc.
	$--------

Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, two copies of this notice must also be filed by the manufacturer with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the manufacturer had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the retailer is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective June 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 106]

TRIFARI, KRUSSMAN & FISHEL, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of consideration. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Trifari, Krussman & Fishel, Inc., 16 East 40th Street, New York 16, New York, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of costume jewelry manufactured by Trifari, Krussman & Fishel, Inc., 16 E. 40th Street, New York 16, New York, having the brand name(s) "Trifari", shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Trifari, Krussman & Fishel, Inc., in its application dated April 24, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. (and supplemented and amended in the manufacturer's application dated May 17, 1951).

A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 4, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than the ceiling prices.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed by paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after August 3, 1951, Trifari, Krussman & Fishel, Inc., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after September 4, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 4, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$----- per -----{unit / dozen / etc.	Terms {net / percent EOM. / etc.
	$--------

Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, two copies of this notice must also be filed by the manufacturer with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the manufacturer had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the retailer is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective June 29, 1951.

BURLINGTON MILLS CORP.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Burlington Mills Corporation, c/o Burlington Mills Corporation of New York, Hosiery Division, Room 6000, Empire State Building, New York 1, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of women's hosiery manufactured by Burlington Mills Corporation, c/o Burlington Mills Corporation of New York, Hosiery Division, Room 6000, Empire State Building, New York 1, N. Y., having the brand name(s) "Bur-Mil Cameo", shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Burlington Mills Corporation, in its application dated April 17, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 4, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. On and after September 4, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 4, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereof (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 109]

SALMANSON & CO., INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Salmanson & Co., Inc., 1107 Broadway, New York 10, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of unpainted furniture manufactured by Salmanson & Co., Inc., 1107 Broadway, New York 10, N. Y., having the brand name(s) "Aristo-Bilt", shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Salmanson & Co., Inc., in its application dated March 30, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 4, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than the ceiling prices.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed by paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after August 3, 1951, Salmanson & Co., Inc., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after September 4, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 4, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$..... per .....{unit / dozen / etc.	Terms {net / percent EOM. / etc. $.....

Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, two copies of this notice must also be filed by the manufacturer with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the manufacturer had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the retailer is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective June 29, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 110]

HAT CORP. OF AMERICA

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Hat Corporation of America, 417 Fifth Ave., New York 16, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales at retail of men's and woman's hats manufactured by Hat Corporation of America, 417 Fifth Ave., New York 16, N. Y., having the brand name(s) "Dobbs", "Crofut and Knapp", "Knapp-Felt", "Berg", "Cavanagh", "Knox", "Brown", "Dunlap", "Roxford", "Croxley", "Chalfonte", and "Bagatelle", shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Hat Corporation of America, in its application dated April 16, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Office of Price Stabilization with the FEDERAL REGISTER as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than September 4, 1951, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than the ceiling prices.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed by paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after August 3, 1951, Hat Corporation of America, must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after September 4, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to September 4, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, the applicant named in this special order must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall also be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of this special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. The manufacturer shall annex to the special order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this special order and the coresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this special order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$..... per .....{unit / dozen / etc.	Terms {net / percent EOM / etc. $.....

Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, two copies of this notice must also be filed by the manufacturer with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within 2 months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the manufacturer had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the retailer is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective June 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Project No. 739]

APPALACHIAN ELECTRIC POWER CO.

ORDER FIXING DATE FOR HEARING

JUNE 26, 1951.

Under date of August 24, 1944, Appalachian Electric Power Company, Licensee of Project No. 739, pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act and the license issued thereunder for Project No. 739, filed its statement of claimed actual legitimate original cost for that project, as of June 30, 1944, in the amount of $10,725,721.15. That amount was increased to $10,734,587.20, as of December 31, 1946, by Licensee's filing of claimed changes in project plant, accounts for the period July 1, 1944, through December 31, 1946.

Upon completion of a field examination of the project and the claimed cost by the Commission's staff, and after conferences between the staff and Licensee's representatives on certain items and amounts questioned by the staff, Licensee, on March 2, 1950, filed a revised claim in the amount of $10,231,045.74 as of December 31, 1946.

On July 20, 1950, the Commission's staff's report on the revised claim was duly served upon Licensee. In that report the staff recommended that $9,644,927.15 be allowed as actual legitimate original cost of the project as of December 31, 1946, and that $586,118.59 be disallowed. On September 20, 1950, Licensee filed a "Protest to Staff Report" in which it excepted to the staff's recommended disallowance of $586,118.59.

Subsequently, by letter dated May 3, 1951, Licensee requested the Commission to determine on the basis of the staff report and Licensee's protest that the $586,118.59 is a part of the actual legitimate original cost, asserting that such decision would make it "wholly unnecessary to have an elaborate record covering all possible arguments and contentions or for either the (Licensee) or the Commission's staff to undertake the considerable work and expense incident to the making of such a record—whether by stipulation or otherwise." Licensee, however, indicated that it would not accept a decision based on the staff report and protest which was adverse to its contentions on the $586,118.59, but would "feel it necessary to have the protection of a complete record covering every possible phase of the matter and supporting every possible contention."

The Commission finds: It is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of the Federal Power Act that a hearing be held on the issues presented by the staff report and Licensee's protest with respect to the actual legitimate original cost of Project No. 739, as of December 31, 1946, in order that the issues thereby presented may be determined upon a complete record.

The Commission orders: A hearing be held commencing August 20, 1951, in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., on the issues presented by the staff report and Licensee's protest with respect to the actual legitimate original cost of Project No. 739, as of December 31, 1946, and at that hearing, as provided by the Federal Power Act, the burden of proof to justify the inclusion of $586,118.59, or any part thereof, as part of the actual legitimate original cost of Project No. 739, shall be on the Licensee.

Date of issuance: June 27, 1951.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

[Docket No. G-1692]

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA GAS CO. AND SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS CO. OF CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 26, 1951.

Take notice that Southern California Gas Company and Southern Counties Gas Company of California (Applicants), California corporations, address 810 South Flower Street, Los Angeles, California, filed on May 24, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation as tenants in common of certain transmission pipeline facilities hereinafter described.

This application is for authorization to construct, and operate in case of emergency a by pass pipeline for that segment of the Texas to Los Angeles, California, 30-inch diameter pipeline which crosses the Colorado River on a suspension bridge that is owned by Applicants. The purpose of this emergency bypass river crossing is to maintain uninterrupted gas service in case the original 30-inch pipeline which crosses the Colorado River is destroyed by enemy action or by any other unforeseen action. The project has been endorsed by the Director for Civilian Defense for California. The proposed bypass pipeline across the Colorado River will be suspended from an existing highway bridge and consist of a 16-inch O. D. pipe with 20-inch pipelines approaching such bridge crossing. The facilities to be owned and operated by Applicants will consist of those located on the California side to the center of the Colorado River. The El Paso Natural Gas Company will own and operate that portion of the integrated emergency facilities extending from the Arizona side of the Colorado River to the center of the bridge.

The estimated cost of the proposed facilities to Applicants is $43,725, which will be financed from current sources of funds.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 16th day of July 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[Docket No. G-1693, G-1473, G-1649]

TEXAS EASTERN TRANSMISSION CORPORATION ET AL.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING AND CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS

JUNE 26, 1951.

In the matters of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, Docket No. G-1693; Alabama - Tennessee Natural Gas Company, Docket No. G-1473; Tennessee Gas Company, Docket No. G-1649.

On May 25, 1951, Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, (Texas Eastern) a Delaware corporation, with its principal office at Texas Eastern Building, Shreveport, Louisiana, filed an application in Docket No. G-1693 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the sale of approximately 91,882 Mcf of natural gas which was left unallocated and unsold in the proceeding in Docket No. G-1012 where the capacity to transport such gas was authorized.

On September 5, 1950, Alabama-Tennessee Natural Gas Company, (Alabama-Tennessee) a Delaware corporation, with offices at Florence, Alabama, filed an application pursuant to section 7 (a) of the Natural Gas Act for an order directing Texas Eastern to establish physical connection of its facilities and the facilities of Alabama-Tennessee and to deliver to the latter a supply of natural gas (up to approximately 20,000 Mcf per day) to meet demands of its present and future customers for additional supplies of natural gas.

On April 2, 1951, Tennessee Gas Company (Tennessee Gas) a Tennessee corporation with offices at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, filed an application for an order pursuant to section 7 (a) directing Texas Eastern to sell and deliver natural gas to it for distribution in Murfreesboro, Tennessee, where Tennessee Gas is now distributing manufactured gas.

The Commission finds: Orderly procedure requires that the proceedings in Docket Nos. G-1693, G-1473, and G-1649 be consolidated for purpose of hearing.

The Commission orders:

(A) The proceedings in Docket Nos. G-1693, G-1473, and G-1649 be and they are hereby consolidated for purposes of hearing.

(B) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing be held commencing on July 24, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by such application.

(C) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: June 27, 1951.

[Docket No. G-1722]

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 27, 1951.

Take notice that on June 20, 1951, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal office at Kansas City, Missouri, filed an application in the alternative seeking (a) a disclaimer by the Commission of its jurisdiction or (b) a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following described natural-gas facilities:

Physical connection, measuring and regulating station, and appurtenant facilities at the point of connection of the proposed pipeline to be constructed by The Alsey Brick & Tile Company, Alsey, Illinois, with Applicant's main line north of Alsey, Illinois.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate the described facilities for the purpose of making sales of natural gas to The Alsey Brick & Tile Company, on an interruptible basis in accordance with the terms of an industrial gas contract dated March 12, 1951, of volumes of natural gas not to exceed 1,500 Mcf daily, for use as fuel in the periodic kilns and dryers of buyers plant at Alsey, Illinois, for a primary contract period of three (3) years, at a price of 30 cents per Mcf.

The application recites that Applicant will have available sufficient quantities of natural gas at the agreed point of delivery to provide the contemplated interruptible service; that the proposed sale to The Alsey Brick & Tile Company is not a sale of natural gas for resale within the meaning of section 1 (b) of the Natural Gas Act; and that the only facilities proposed to be installed are measuring and regulating facilities incidental to such direct sale. The Alsey Brick & Tile Company will construct and operate 0.58 mile of 3-inch service pipeline from its plant to the measuring and regulating station to be constructed by Applicant as described above.

The estimated cost of the facilities proposed to be constructed by Applicant is aprpoximately $7,525, which will be paid for out of current funds on hand.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 16th day of July 1951. The application is on file with the Federal Power Commission for public inspection.

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 27, 1951.

Take notice that on June 20, 1951, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal office at Kansas City, Missouri, filed an application in the alternative seeking (a) a disclaimer by the Commission of its jurisdiction or (b) a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following described natural-gas facilities:

Physical connection, measuring and regulating station, and appurtenant facilities at the point of connection of a connecting service line to be constructed by Clay City Pipe Company near Montezuma, Indiana, with Applicant's main line in Vermillion County, Indiana.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate the described facilities for the purpose of making sales of natural gas to Clay City Pipe Company, on an interruptible basis in accordance with the terms of an industrial gas contract dated March 12, 1951, of volumes of natural gas not to exceed 1500 Mcf daily, for use as fuel in boilers, dryers and kilns in its plant near Montezuma, Indiana, for a primary contract period of three (3) years, at a price of 30 cents per Mcf for the first two (2) years and 32 cents per Mcf for the third year.

The application recites that Applicant will have available sufficient quantities of gas at the agreed point of delivery to provide the contemplated interruptible service; that the proposed sale and service to Clay City Pipe Company is not a sale of natural gas for resale within the meaning of section 1 (b) of the Natural Gas Act, and that the only facilities proposed to be installed are measuring and regulating facilities incidental to such direct sale. The Clay City Pipe Company will construct and operate 0.80 mile of 3-inch service pipeline from its plant to the measuring and regulating station to be constructed by Applicant as described above.

The estimated cost of the facilities proposed to be constructed by Applicant is approximately $7,525, which will be paid for from current funds on hand.

[4th Sec. Application 26211]

GRAIN BETWEEN KANSAS POINTS

APPLICATION FOR RELIEF

JUNE 28, 1951.

The Commission is in receipt of the above-entitled and numbered application for relief from the long-and-short-haul provision of section 4 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Filed by: L. E. Kipp, Agent, for Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company and St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company.

Commodities involved: Grain, grain products, and seeds, carloads.

Between: Points in Kansas.

Grounds for relief: Circuitous routes and competition with rail carriers.

Schedules filed containing proposed rates: L. E. Kipp's tariff I. C. C. No. A-3786, Supp. 8.

Any interested person desiring the Commission to hold a hearing upon such application shall request the Commission in writing so to do within 15 days from the date of this notice. As provided by the general rules of practice of the Commission, Rule 73, persons other than applicants should fairly disclose their interest, and the position they intend to take at the hearing with respect to the application. Otherwise the Commission, in its discretion, may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in such application without further or formal hearing. If because of an emergency a grant of temporary relief is found to be necessary before the expiration of the 15-day period, a hearing, upon a request filed within that period, may be held subsequently.

By the Commission, Division 2.

[Rev. S. O. 562, King's I. C. C. Order 49]

BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD CO.

REROUTING OR DIVERSION OF TRAFFIC

In the opinion of Homer C. King, Agent, certain railroad carriers operating in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, because of strike at Publicker Industries, Incorporated, are unable to dump all cars of coal routed over their lines at their facilities at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, thereby causing congestion in the Philadelphia area: It is ordered, that:

(a) Rerouting of traffic. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is hereby authorized and directed to reroute or divert to the Reading Company for dumping at Port Richmond coal piers, the number of cars of coal on hand originally consigned to Publicker Industries, Incorporated, which the latter railroad will accept and dump for the B & O account. Billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained. The railroad named, desiring to divert or reroute traffic over the line or lines of another carrier under this order, shall confer with the proper transportation officer of the railroad or railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, and shall receive the concurrence of such other railroads before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers. The carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:01 p. m., June 26, 1951.

(e) Expiration date. This order shall expire at 11:59 p. m., July 7, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled.

It is further ordered, that this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., June 26, 1951.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 54-184]

UNITED CORP.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER APPROVING PLAN

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of June A. D. 1951.

On June 15, 1951, we issued our findings and opinion with respect to a plan filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by The United Corporation ("United"), a registered holding company.[1] We found that such plan, which was proposed as a means of effecting compliance with section 11 (b) of the act and with our order of August 14, 1943, issued thereunder, could be approved by us as necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby if it were amended in certain respects as set forth in said Findings and Opinion.

United has filed amendments to its plan which are designed to conform with the views set forth in our findings and opinion. The principal changes relate to the terms of the offer to be made to stockholders of United who desire to withdraw from the company prior to completion of its transformation into an investment company. The plan as amended provides that holders of less than 100 shares of United common stock may, during a 14-day period beginning on the 15th day after the issuance of our order herein or as soon as practicable thereafter, surrender their shares for cash in an amount equal to the average net asset value of such stock based on the average of the closing market prices of United's portfolio on the days during the term of the offer on which the New York Stock Exchange is open. Holders of 100 or more shares of United common stock will be offered the opportunity, during such 14-day withdrawal period, to exchange their United common stock for Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation ("Niagara Mohawk") common stock having an average market value, based on the closing prices over said period, equal to 97 percent of the average net asset value computed as indicated above of the United stock surrendered. No fractional shares of Niagara Mohawk common stock are to be issued, and in lieu thereof cash will be paid equal to the average net asset value during the exchange period of the United common stock remaining after full shares are allocated. We shall reserve jurisdiction with respect to the material to be sent to the stockholders covering these transactions and our order herein will also be conditioned on United's publishing, during each day of the withdrawal period, the indicated cash payment and exchange rate under the withdrawal offers on the basis of the pertinent cumulative averages for the expired portion of the withdrawal period.

The amendments filed also remove the requirement, contained in the plan as earlier filed, that notice be given to the company of any intended exercise of cumulative voting privileges; provide that United's Certificate of Incorporation as well as its By-Laws shall be amended so that at all stockholders' meetings the quorum requisite for the transaction of business shall consist of the holders of 50 percent of the outstanding stock rather than of 25 percent as at present; and contain other minor changes consistent with our prior findings and opinion. In addition, the amendments provide that United's reduction of its holdings of voting stock of The United Gas Improvement Company to not in excess of 4.9 percent may be effected either through sales on the New York Stock Exchange or through acceptance of an exchange offer made by that company and approved by us since the issuance of our previous findings herein.[2]

The plan as amended requests that this Commission through its counsel seek enforcement of the parts of the plan which deal with the cancellation of United's outstanding option warrants and with the amendment of United's Certificate of Incorporation and By-Laws. No enforcement has been requested with respect to the other parts of the plan, including the voluntary withdrawal offers which, as noted, are to be made on the 15th day after the issuance of our order herein, or as soon as practicable thereafter. In view of the possibility of appeals from the parts of the plan as to which enforcement has not been requested and of the development of problems with respect to the availability in the appropriate forum of the record in the proceedings before us, we shall defer applying for court enforcement for the time being.

Having considered the aforesaid amendments in the light of our findings and opinion of June 15, 1951, and finding that as so amended United's plan is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and is fair and equitable to the persons affected by it;

It is ordered: On the basis of the record herein and the said findings and opinion and this memorandum opinion, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act and other applicable provisions of the act, that United's plan as amended be and it hereby is approved subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24 of the general rules and regulations promulgated under the act and to the following additional terms and conditions:

1. The order entered herein shall not be operative to authorize the consummation of the provisions of the plan as amended relating to the cancellation of United's option warrants or to the amendment of United's Certificate of Incorporation or By-Laws until an appropriate United States District Court shall, upon application thereto, enter an order enforcing said provisions.

2. United shall publish, during each day of the period that the withdrawal offers under the plan are open for acceptance, the indicated cash payment and exchange rate under the offers on the basis of the pertinent cumulative average prices and values for the expired portion of the withdrawal period.

3. Jurisdiction be and it hereby is specifically reserved with respect to the following matters:

a. The examination and approval of all material to be sent to stockholders of United dealing with the plan as amended and the withdrawal offers thereunder.

b. The modification, if consummation of the plan is delayed and such action should appear necessary, of the provisions of the plan limiting acceptance of the withdrawal offers to United stockholders of record and the shares held by them at the close of business on both the date of our order herein and the day preceding the effective date of the offers.

c. The reconsideration of the provision of the exchange offer limiting the total number of shares of Niagara Mohawk common stock to be exchanged to 700,000 shares, in the event of acceptances of the exchange offer in an amount which would require substantial prorating of Niagara Mohawk common stock.

d. The examination of the need for, and approval of, any loan by United pursuant to the provision of the plan relating to the borrowing of not in excess of $4,000,000 as may be necessary to make the cash payments required under the withdrawal offers.

e. The determination of the reasonableness and appropriate allocation of all fees and expenses and other remuneration incurred or to be incurred in connection with the plan as amended, and the transactions incident thereto.

It is further ordered, That the proposed sale by United of all of its holdings of the common stock of South Jersey Gas Company be, and the same hereby is, exempted from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by Rule U-24, and subject to our further order, to be issued after the detailed results of United's negotiations with private purchasers, including all offers made and the price to be paid to United by the purchaser making the offer sought to be accepted by United, have been set forth in the record and a showing has been made that competitive conditions were maintained.

It is further ordered, That United be and it hereby is directed to mail as soon as practicable to each of its common stockholders of record this date a copy of our findings and opinion of June 15, 1951, and a copy of this memorandum opinion and order.

It is further ordered and recited, that in accordance with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, including sections 371 and 1808 (f) thereof, said exchanges and transactions, namely,

(1) The acquisition by United of its common stock for cash from holders of 99 shares or less of such common stock, and the surrender by such holders of such common stock,

(2) The acquisition by United from holders of 100 shares or more of its common stock, and the surrender by such holders, of common stock of United in exchange for Niagara Mohawk common stock,

(3) The sales, if any, by United of additional common stock of Niagara Mohawk in an amount sufficient to reduce its holdings of voting stock of that corporation to not in excess of 4.9 percent,

(4) The sale by United of all of its holdings of the common stock of South Jersey Gas Company, and

(5) The sale by United of sufficient shares of the common stock of The Columbia Gas System, Inc. and of the capital stock of The United Gas Improvement Company to reduce its holdings of the voting stock of each of those companies to not in excess of 4.9 percent, all pursuant to the plan as amended, are necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act.

ELECTRIC BOND AND SHARE CO. AND NATIONAL POWER & LIGHT CO.

ORDER APPROVING PLAN, AND GRANTING APPLICATION WITH RESPECT TO SALE OF SECURITIES, AND MODIFICATION OF DISSOLUTION ORDER, AND TERMINATION OF REGISTRATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of June A. D. 1951.

Electric Bond and Share Company ("Bond and Share"), a registered holding company, and its registered holding company subsidiary, National Power & Light Company ("National"), having filed a joint application pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for approval of a plan proposing (a) the sale by Bond and Share to Phoenix Industries Corporation ("Phoenix") of its holdings of 2,540,450 shares (46.5%) of the common stock of National at a price of 45 cents per share, and in further consideration of Phoenix offering to purchase the publicly held stock of National at the same price (subject to payment of transfer taxes); (b) modification of the Commission's order of August 23, 1941 (9 S. E. C. 978) directing the dissolution of National; and (c) entry of an order under section 5 (d) of the act terminating the registration of National as a registered holding company; and

A public hearing having been held on the proposed plan after appropriate notice, and the Commission having considered the record and having this day entered its findings and opinion approving said plan; having found that the proposed transactions meet the applicable statutory standards; and

The Commission finding that upon consummation of the sale of National stock by Bond and Share to Phoenix, National will cease to be a holding company, and the Commission also finding it appropriate to modify the order of dissolution directed to National for the reasons set forth in said findings and opinion:

Bond and Share having requested that the order of the Commission in so far as it relates to the transactions of Bond and Share, conform to the requirements of section 1808 (f) and supplement R of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and contain the findings therein specified:

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 11 (e) and the other applicable sections of the act that the said plan and the transactions therein proposed are approved and authorized effective forthwith, except as noted below:

It is further ordered, That effective upon consummation of the sale by Bond and Share to Phoenix of the former's holdings of the National stock:

(a) The dissolution order of August 23, 1941, directed to National be, and the same hereby is, modified so as to permit the continued existence of National; and

(b) Pursuant to section 5 (d) of the act National will have ceased to be a holding company, and the registration of that company will cease to be in effect.

It is further ordered and recited, That the sale by Bond and Share to Phoenix of the 2,540,450 shares of common stock of National owned by Bond and Share, and the transactions related thereto, are necessary or appropriate to the simplification of the holding company system of Bond and Share, and necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act, within the meaning and requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, including section 1808 (f) and Supplement R thereof.

ALLENTOWN-BETHLEHEM GAS CO.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of June A. D. 1951.

Allentown-Bethlehem Gas Company ("Allentown"), a gas utility subsidiary company of The United Gas Improvement Company, a registered holding company, having filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-50 promulgated under the Act regarding the following transactions:

Allentown proposes to issue and sell for $1,500,000 in cash, $1,500,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds due 1976. Such bonds are to be issued under and secured by the first mortgage dated April 1, 1924, of Allentown to Fidelity Trust Company, Trustee (under which Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company is Successor Trustee) and the various indentures supplemental thereto, including specifically a supplemental indenture to be dated as of June 1, 1951, to be entered into between Allentown and said Trustee. The application, as amended, states that the proceeds from the sale of such bonds will be used by Allentown to repay short-term bank loans totaling $515,000; to repay the balance of certain advances made by The United Gas Improvement Company, presently totaling $595,000; and to apply the remaining amount, after expenses, toward Allentown's 1951 construction program estimated to cost in the aggregate $1,238,770.

The Commission, on May 17, 1951, having issued its order granting the request of Allentown for an exception from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 with respect to the sale of the bonds, after a public hearing, but having reserved jurisdiction with respect to the terms of the proposed bonds and all other aspects of the proposed transaction; and

Allentown having invited sealed bids for the purchase, as a whole, of its proposed bonds from eleven separate prospective purchasers and having filed an amendment stating that an agreement has been entered into for the sale of said bonds at the principal amount, providing an interest rate of 3.348 percent and representing the lower cost of money to the Company of two bids received, to the following institutions in the principal amounts indicated:

The Philadelphia Saving Fund Society, Philadelphia, Pa	$600,000
The Dollar Savings Bank, Pittsburgh, Pa	400,000
The Beneficial Saving Fund Society of Philadelphia	300,000
The Trustees of the University of Pensylvania, Philadelphia, Pa	200,000

Applicant having further stated that the proposed purchasers will acquire such bonds for their own account for investment and not for resale or distribution and having requested that the

[1] The United Corporation, — S. E. C. —, Holding Company Act Release No. 10614.

[2] The United Gas Improvement Company, S. E. C. — (1951), Holding Company Act Release No. 10624. United's acceptance of that exchange offer was approved by us in The United Corporation, Holding Company Act Release No. 10626. With respect to any Niagara Mohawk common stock in excess of 4.9 percent of the outstanding voting stock of that company which may still be held by United after the consummation of the exchange offer, the plan as amended provides that sale of such excess shall be made on the New York Stock Exchange and shall be pursuant to an effective registration statement filed under the Securities Act of 1933 if this Commission should determine that such registration is required.

Commission's order granting the application, as amended, be effective upon issuance; and

The Company having estimated the total expenses of the proposed transtion to be $6,000; and

The Commission having examined said amendments and finding that the proposed issue and sale of bonds have been expressly authorized by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, which is the regulatory Commission of the State in which the Company is organized and doing business, and further finding no basis for the imposition of terms and conditions with respect to the issue and sale of said bonds other than those contained in Rule U-24, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the application, as amended, be granted, effective forthwith;

It is ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to the issue and sale of said bonds, the result of negotiations, and other matters in connection with the proposed transactions be, and the same hereby is, released and that the application, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted, effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

ELECTRIC ENERGY, INC., ET AL.

ORDER PERMITTING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF MAXIMUM OF PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS AND GRANTING REQUEST FOR EXEMPTION FROM COMPETITIVE BIDDING REQUIREMENTS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of June 1951.

In the matter of Electric Energy, Inc., Middle South Utilities, Inc., Union Electric Company of Missouri; File No. 70-2647.

Middle South Utilities, Inc. ("Middle South"), a registered holding company, Union Electric Company of Missouri ("Union Electric"), a registered holding company and a public utility company, and Electric Energy Inc. ("Electric Energy"), a public utility subsidiary of Middle South and Union Electric, have filed a joint application-declaration and amendments thereto, pursuant to sections 6, 7 and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act"), regarding (i) the issuance and sale by Electric Energy to two insurance companies of a maximum of $100,000,000 principal amount of 3 percent First Mortgage Sinking Fund Bonds, due December 1, 1979, and (ii) the execution by all the applicants-declarants of certain related contracts. Electric Energy has requested that said issuance and sale of bonds be exempted from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 promulgated under the act.

Said joint application-declaration, as amended, having been duly filed and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said joint application-declaration, as amended, within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission having considered the record in the matter and having filed this day its memorandum opinion herein and finding for the reasons set forth in said memorandum opinion that it is appropriate to grant the application and permit the declaration to become effective, and to grant the requested exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 that said joint application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective, and that the issuance and sale of bonds by Electric Energy be, and the same hereby is, exempted from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, all subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and subject to the further conditions that this order, our prior opinion herein, as well as any contracts or relationships then existing will not be pleaded in any proceedings commenced in connection with the reserved issues under section 10 of the act.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and the same hereby is, reserved over all fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions.

By the Commission.
